

A Killer 51

Chapter 51: I quit you, hum.

Since the eldest lady of the Tang company went to find a security guard personally spread among the employees of the Tang company, the security room in Li Tian's dormitory and parking lot has become the focus of attention.

Everyone wants to see what kind of a cowboy character is that dare to provoke the eldest lady of the Tang company, and dare to quarrel with her.

Now Li Tian just wore a security outfit to work and stood guard, and he attracted a group of white-collar workers from the Tang company to look at him and discuss something.

Those girls in professional skirts are as beautiful as fairies, tight-fitting small suits, plus professional short skirts, black stockings, and high heels. They are not too tempting.

It is a pity that Li Tian has no time to admire such beauties. He is still standing guard as a rock.

"That's the security guard?"

"Well, it seems to be, it's just him quarreling with Missy."

"Is it handsome?"

"What's the use of being handsome, men can't eat with a face, right? Would you marry a security guard who doesn't know anything but a good-looking face?" said another girl with a round face and a light dress. With.

Another tall girl next to her frowned slightly: "That's what you said."

"It's a pity, it's just a security..."

"How could Miss Tang quarrel with a low-level security guard?" the tall girl in front of her asked inexplicably.

The round-faced woman next to her shook her head, "I don't know."

"Could it be that Miss Tang has something to do with this security guard?" The tall girl said with her bright eyes blinking.

"My God, how could it be..."

"He's just a security guard. Even if Miss Tang takes the slant, she can't find such a person? Besides, can our chairman agree?"

...

These people were all talking there, but Li Tian pretended not to see anything. He didn't care about it. It didn't matter whether it was to be the focus of the crowd's purpose or to make others laugh.

Li Tian, who was standing alone in the security room, stood guard like that.

He turned a deaf ear to the discussion of those employees of the Down company.

The employees of those companies could only come out to take a look during the lunch break, and when it was time to go to work, they all ran into the office to continue working.

And just after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a red LotusCars drove outside the plaza of Tang's enterprise.

There is no doubt that the one who drove this beautiful red LotusCars was of course Tang Feifei, the eldest of the Tang company.

Today, she changed into a simple outfit, a more casual red APA sportswear, giving people a fresh and natural feeling. After getting off the car, Tang Feifei walked towards the security room.

Standing in the parking lot, Li Tian turned his head and saw Tang Feifei.

Suddenly depressed, I wondered why this girl came again,

Li Tian, who was depressed, heard Tang Feifei's voice coming over.

"Hey, Li, come out for me."

With Feifei's voice coming, Li Tianguo really slowly walked out of the security room, wearing a rustic security clothing, after coming out, looking at Tang Feifei.

"What do you want to do again?" Li Tian said coldly to Feifei.

"What do I want to do? You even asked me because you wronged me." Feifei said angrily.

Li Tian didn't want to quarrel with her and said, "Whether I wronged you or what happened to you, Miss, I beg you, don't bother me, who are you? Miss Qianjin, what about me? A pauper, a rustic security guard, are you as knowledgeable as someone like me?" Li Tiandao said.

"You..." Feifei was stunned.

"Miss, you go quickly, I have to go to work."

Speaking of Li Tianguo, he walked towards the security room as if he were on guard.

"You stop me." Feifei roared.

Li Tian took a step, stopped, shook his head helplessly, turned around and looked at Feifei.

"What do you want?"

Tang Feifei's angry eyes were a little red, staring at Li Tian: "I thought I was playing tricks on you?"

"Isn't it?" Li Tian turned his head and sneered.

"You are a pig, listen to me to explain." Feifei said.

Who knows that Li Tian waved his hand: "Well, you shouldn't explain it. I am working now. Unlike you rich people, you can have enough food and clothing without working. I'm sorry, Miss, I should go to work. ."

After speaking, Li Tian turned his head and got into the security room.

This time Feifei was irritated.

Feifei, who stamped her feet on the ground twice, wished to catch Li Tian and bite him.

"I let you go to work... I see how you go to work..."

Tang Feifei whispered in her little cherry mouth, while walking towards the company gate of the Tang company.

What is she going to do?

Li Tian glanced at the eldest lady, and instead of looking at her, he wondered what she could do with a girl movie?

Just when he didn't care, that Tang Feifei walked out with an embarrassed man behind him. The man was in his 40s, wearing glasses and a dark blue suit. He seemed to follow Tang Feifei. It was a trot like a bug.

Li Tian glanced at it, and suddenly he was taken aback.

Isn't that man the chief of the security department of the Tang company that specializes in security guards?

Why is Tang Feifei called out now.

Just as Li Tian was wondering, Tang Feifei already had a small evil smile, pointing to Li Tian in the security room in front of him and saying to the chief of the security department behind him: "It's him."

"From today, I don't want him to work anymore." Tang Feifei said with a bad smile.

After Tang Feifei said this all of a sudden, the security chief suddenly looked a little speechless and embarrassed, but he nodded without any other means.

Who made her the daughter of the boss of the Tang company?

No, the chief of the security department waved to Li Tian who was standing in the security room, and motioned for Li Tian to come out.

Li Tian walked out slowly from inside.

"Chief, what's the matter?" Li Tian asked.

The head of the security department knew that Li Tian had not been a security guard for a long time, and he was diligent and did not make any major mistakes, but because of the eldest lady, there was no way to say: "Li Tian, you don't have to stand guard now. Up."
