

Picked a Killer as My Wife

Chapter 6: She wants to kill me

---

At this moment, suddenly the sound of crisp footsteps came over here.

The mysterious woman hurriedly pressed her vigilant body against the wall and slowly opened the door.

A figure walked in towards the inside of the room, and when she walked in, suddenly the mysterious woman made a weird move, one arm and a sharp cross-locked throat grabbed his throat with her hand.

At the same time, cold words came out of her mouth.

"Don't move, move again, you're dead."

Who is the one who is held back by the cross lock? Isn't it Li Tian who just came back?

With his throat pinched, he felt suffocated for a while, and his mouth hurriedly said, "Okay, okay, I won't move...Don't kill me." At the same time, his head turned a hundred and eighty degrees and thought to himself: What the **** is going on?

"Who are you? Where is this?" The mysterious woman's cold voice suddenly asked in his ear.

Although the sound was beautiful, it became so unpleasant in Li Tian's ears at this moment. There is no way, the other party wants to kill himself? How could she like this sound?

"I, my name is Li Tian."

The mysterious woman said: "I don't know you."

"I didn't even introduce you to me. How would you know me." Li Tian blurted out.

The opponent's wrist tightened, and Li Tian suddenly felt a suffocation in his neck.

"No more nonsense, I will kill you." The cold voice passed into Li Tian's ears.

"Yes, yes, yes." Li Tian only feels that this woman can't afford to offend, she really can't offend...

"I ask you, is this room yours?"

"Yes." Li Tian answered honestly.

"You bandaged my wound too?" the woman continued.

"Uh, uh."

"Who let you touch me?" the woman suddenly angrily said, obviously because the wound was under her breast, and there was an invisible murderous in her voice.

Li Tian was stunned: "I was to save you. At that time, I saw you in a coma on the ground with blood still on your body. If I don't save you..."

Li Tiantu, who had not finished speaking, heard the woman angrily said: "Who asked you to save it?"

Li Tian suddenly forced it, yeah! Did anyone ask themselves to save it?

Suddenly thinking of this place, Li Tian only felt that he was **** full and holding on. Not only did his kindness not pay off, he also caused a murderous disaster.

As soon as Li Tian thought of this, he didn't fight it out, and at this moment he also gave it up.

"Well, that's what you said, even if my surname is Li, I shouldn't save you, right? You want to kill me now, if you frown, if my surname is Li, I will be a grandson." The roaring voice roared from Li Tian's mouth.

After Li Tian said this, the mysterious woman was slightly startled.

"Aren't you afraid of death?"

"Afraid, what's wrong? Do I still beg you on my knees?" Li Tianan said.

The woman snorted coldly: "Think you are a man."

After her words came out, she actually let go of Li Tian's neck.

After being released, Li Tian squatted on the ground, his whole face pale and he took a few hard breaths.

"Today's matter, you have to dare to say half a word, I promise you will die uglier than anyone else." The woman in front of her suddenly looked at Li Tian and said coldly.

Li Tian looked at the woman in front of him, and said to himself: What a **** weird woman.

After this scene, Li Tian ignored the weird woman. Although she was beautiful and had a great figure, Li Tian's eyes seemed to be uncomfortable at the moment.

What the **** is this woman? Why are you so domineering? so smart? People are killed at every turn, shot at every turn?

What about the woman? He didn't speak either, just walked outside the iron gate and looked around.

Her injury is still very serious, although her shot is sharp, she still feels pain when she calms down.

She slowly sat on the side of the bed and glanced at the room: "This is your room?"

"Nonsense." Li Tian said coldly, turning his head.

"Where did you save me yesterday? Was there anyone else when you saved me?" The woman continued to ask.

"No. Just me."

When the woman heard Li Tian say this, a big rock in her heart fell.

"You bought these medicines?" The woman said, pointing to the antibiotics on the table next to her.

Li Tian snorted: "No."

The woman knew that Li Tian was talking angry.

"Thank you." A cold word came out of the woman's mouth.

Li Tian finally smiled after hearing this sentence.

"You still say thank you for a loss? I rescued you in the middle of the night last night. It took a whole night to help you deal with the wound. You are fine. You will kill me as soon as you wake up? What a dog bite..." Li Tian did not speak yet.

The woman suddenly turned a pair of fierce eyes and glared at him: "What did you say?"

Li Tian shut up quickly! To be honest, Li Tian had an unspeakable fear of the woman in front of him, especially the feeling she gave to others, as if it was a feeling of rejection from a thousand miles away.

"I ask you, where is this?" The mysterious woman sat on the bed with difficulty. Although her face tried hard to endure the pain on her body, Li Tian could still see that she was in pain.

"this is my room."

"I mean, what is this place?" The woman wanted to lose her temper, but it was a pity that when she said something, she felt extremely weak.

Li Tian couldn't bear to see her uncomfortable, and said slowly, "Liao Cheng."

When the woman heard Li Tian say this, she frowned slightly and said: Why did I get here? Am I not going to Kyoto? Is it because I got on the car by mistake after being injured?

Looking at the woman sitting quietly on the side, Li Tiandao said, "Hey, you have asked everything that should be asked. Now it is time for me to ask you?"

The woman's eyes appeared cold, and she glared at Li Tian: "What do you want to know?"

"Who is your last name? Why did you get to this place where your home is? And you have suffered such a serious injury?" Li Tiandao.

It's a pity that the woman said coldly: "You still don't know these things."

"Why?" Li Tian asked wonderingly.

"Because the less you know, the longer you will live. If you know too much, I will be the first to kill you."

Hearing this woman's words, Li Tian couldn't help feeling a little scared. The woman's tone and her speech were definitely not joking.

Li Tian felt regret from time to time, why did he have such a terrible woman?

"Forget it, I won't ask." Just listen to Li Tiandao.

The corner of the woman's mouth sneered, and she ignored Li Tian.
