

Read Picked a Killer as My Wife

Chapter 9: Murderous

"But..." Li Tian still seemed to want to speak.

I knew that the woman in front of me stood up abruptly, pinched his throat, and said with infinite killing intent, "Do you want to die or live?"

Li Tian didn't even dare to move, his whole body was stiff.

He did not expect that the woman he had worked so hard to save would kill himself in a blink of an eye.

"I want to live."

"If you want to live, get out quickly." After her voice said coldly, Li Tianguo really slowly turned around, and he didn't dare to walk out of his rented house.

As soon as I went out, I heard the door slammed up.

"Dead woman, do you dare to treat me like this? I've saved you so hard and worried that something will happen to you? Damn, you treat me like this? You want to kill me? If I help you in the future, I will not be named Li." Li Tian cursed after walking out the door.

But he didn't know. When he just walked out of the room, the woman in the room sat on the ground with difficulty, looking at her wound, her pale cherry muttered, "I'm sorry, If I don't drive you away, you may not even know how you died. You shouldn't be involved in this disaster..."

Her voice said leisurely, but Li Tian, who had already left, could still hear her.

On the streets of Liaocheng, those two cars of unknown origin drove straight toward the small medicine shop of Old Mrs. Chen.

Inside the car, I just heard the red tiger patted his head with a big hand and said: "You are still smart, my mother never thought that after the woman was injured, she would definitely get medicine to heal herself."

"This small broken place is said to be the only drug store. If (Shadow) is really here, she will definitely stop the venom in her body, otherwise she must die." Xiao Du said.

Chihu nodded beside him.

"Well, it seems that we just need to ask who is coming to buy the medicine these days, and we will be able to find her then."

The car quickly stopped in front of the old man's medicine shop.

After stopping, the red tiger and the gangster got out of the car, and the four men in black suits who came out of the Audi A4 followed silently.

The old lady Chen was reading in the room wearing reading glasses. When he saw someone coming from the drugstore, he slowly put down the book and walked over.

"Are you taking medicine? Or seeing a doctor?" Old Mrs. Chen looked at these strangers and couldn't help wondering, who are these strangers? Is it to come to see a doctor?

The heroine next to him suddenly said grimly: "We neither see a doctor, nor take medicine."

"That's..." Old Chen was stunned.

"We want to find out who has bought medicine here recently? And the medicine I bought is anti-drug?" Nadu said slowly as he walked forward and touched the white on the medicine cabinet. Said the medicine bottle.

Suddenly hearing that these people were here to inquire, Old Chen said: "No, no one has come to buy medicine in the past two days."

"Really?" Xiao Du suddenly smiled grimly at the corner of his mouth.

Then one of the hunk men in black suits standing behind him suddenly strode over, grabbing Old Chen by the neckline, and the weak old Chen was suddenly lifted up by the whole person.

"Old immortal, you'd better be honest and speak up quickly, or I will let this old bone fall apart!"

Where is Old Chen? The whole person was lifted up, his entire face was as ugly as pig liver, and his eyes were filled with fear, and he quickly said, "What am I talking about..."

"I'll ask you again, who has bought medicine in the past two days?" Xiao Du suddenly turned that gloomy face and looked at Old Chen.

Old Chen was dumbfounded, thinking carefully.

"Oh, by the way, Xiao Lizi came to buy medicine, he came to buy medicine." Old Chen said quickly.

Suddenly when they heard the "little plum" drug, they asked, "Who is Xiaoli?"

"His name is Li Tian. He is from Liaocheng. He has been an orphan since he was a child. He came to buy medicine yesterday and also asked about poisoning." Old Chen said scaredly.

After he finished speaking, the gangster smiled.

"It seems that the person we are looking for will be found soon."

"Tell me that little plum lives there?" Chihu asked, staring at a pair of cold, big eyes.

So Mr. Chen just said Li Tian's residence one by one...

Soon, the drug hero and his party quickly left Chen Lao's drugstore, and drove towards Li Tian's rented house without delay.

Isn't this? The current land rover car and the Audi car behind it have arrived outside Li Tian's small residence.

After the car stopped with a hiss, Xiao Du, Chihu and others walked out of the car. The four men in black suits behind them also walked out, looking at the room with vigilant eyes. The small house I lived in seemed to be something terrible.

"Be careful, everyone, you know the strength of (Shadow)." The owl poison in front of you touched the snake ring with one hand, and said slowly with the other hand tucked into the sleeve.

Several men in black suits around him nodded cautiously.

"You two come here to guard." Xiao Du ordered two men in black suits.

The two men nodded quickly, and then walked towards the window of the house where Li Tian was renting.

The two men in black suits here quickly reached the door.

The two looked at each other and seemed to have a tacit understanding.

One of them lifted his foot and kicked the door with a bang, and the small iron door was kicked open by him. What about the other man? The body quickly came in.

This kind of speed and this kind of cooperation must be done by specially trained talents. What are these people?

After the two men broke into Li Tian's house, they suddenly heard a croaking sound from inside, and then they heard a muffled scream, an image of a sandbag flying from the room. come out.

p: Reading books must be collected and rewarded, otherwise Huahua will go back and hit the wall with her head! Dear fans, you can figure it out, hehe,
