

Chapter 852: Condition

Guan Tang thought for a moment before she said, "Alright, but I want to be involved in the matter. Do you agree?"

Ye Cheng said, "That's fine. You'll have full authority to handle this matter. I'll tell Chen Chen to cooperate with you."

Guan Tang seized the opportunity and said, "Why don't we set up another company? I'll be in charge. This way, you'll be able to maintain your good reputation. Weren't you worried about Cheng Che and Mu Chen finding out about this matter? It's best if you don't involve Chen Chen in this matter. I can be the face of the company. It'll be more convenient for you. What do you think?"

Ye Cheng stared at Guan Tang unblinkingly.

Guan Tang's heart pounded wildly in her heart, and her smile became forced. She thought that Ye Cheng had discovered something.

Unexpectedly, Ye Cheng reached out to pinch her face. Then, he asked with a smile, "Why are you smart? Hmm? Tell me, why are you smart? It's not enough that you're beautiful, but you have to be so smart as well?"

Guan Tang's heart calmed down. She seized the opportunity and leaned into Ye Cheng's arms.

Ye Cheng's lips curled into a faint smile. 'A girl who thinks she's smart is really cute.'

The Yin family was deeply troubled. They were caught off guard by the sudden worsening of Yin Jian and Yin Zheng's illnesses. The only solution left was to invite Cheng Che out for a discussion to see if he was willing to help. However, who was able to invite him out? After thinking about it, they all decided Yin Bin was the most suitable candidate. After all, not only was he Cheng Che's father, but he was also Cheng Yi's son.

Yin Bin was not completely stupid. He knew very well that his mother would never forgive him for the rest of her life for marrying Guan Ning. Alas, there was no medicine for regret. If only he had known then what he knew now.

Guan Ning also knew the problem lay with her. These days, she felt as though she was treading on thin ice. No one knew better than her that to a man, a woman could never compare his career. This was especially true for her husband. Love was only the icing on the cake for her husband. There was only room for love in peaceful and prosperous times, and currently, their relationship did not bode well for the situation.

Guan Ning knew that she could only rely on her children. The elders of the Yin family were all worried and skeptical about her son. She wanted to leave herself with a way out, and she could only rely on her daughter now.

After returning from M City, Yin Yi lost her temper completely. She broke things, hit people, and even starved herself to protest. Alas, everyone was focused on her brother. Moreover, the family was very satisfied with Ning Dong. Hence, no one sympathized or empathized with her; they only thought she was being insensible. In the end, Qin Shuang was told to lock her up and put her under special supervision.

When Guan Ning went to visit Yin Yi, she was stopped by the old servant in the Yin family house.

Although the old servant seemed respectful, his words were not polite at all. "Madam, please go back. Old Madam said that the Young Miss needs to calm down and reflect on herself. Otherwise, she'll embarrass the Yin family when she gets married in the future. At that time, everyone will criticize her."

Guan Ning looked at the old servant and clenched her hands tightly. However, her voice was calm as she said, "I'll naturally educate my daughter well to make sure she doesn't embarrass the Yin family. I understand the Old Madam's intentions. You don't have to worry about that."

Then, Guan Ning ignored the old servant and reached out to open the door to Yin Yi's room. However, she discovered that the door did not open after she twisted the door knob. It was locked.

Guan Ning narrowed her eyes and looked at the old servant as she said, "Open the door. Otherwise, I'll go to the Old Master to ask for a set of keys. I want to see if I, as a mother, have the right to see my daughter!"

Guan Ning's voice was calm, but it carried a hint of arrogance and determination.

The old servant weighed the pros and cons and unwillingly brought a key out to open the door.

As soon as the door opened, Yin Yi rushed over.
