

A NPC 661

Chapter 661: Equipment Strengthening and Warm Citizens (1)

“Ji... Ji ji!”

“Ji ji ji!”

“Ji... Roar!” The wolf cub impatiently interrupted a small sparrow that was chirping beside him.

“Alright, alright, I won’t forget you. I’ll give you a position to play with, okay?”

“Chirp chirp!”

As the camp was built, everyone around Vivian got busy.

Owl became the players’ instructor, Sakai Risa moved her original house over and hung up the sign of “Prop Workshop”. As the elite administrative officer of the former club, Roko was responsible for the daily chores of the players.

Everyone was surrounded by the foreigners, and they were extremely welcomed. Even the greasy uncle who was looked down upon by Xinyan had become very popular recently. Other than the little wolf cub, Zhao Jie could be said to be the most experienced person by Vivian’s side...Of course, Xinyan was unhappy.

Therefore, he didn’t want to cling to the little wolf cub, hoping that he could give him a title or title, and also enjoyed the feeling of being surrounded and pursued by foreigners.

After sending Xin Yan away, the little wolf cub still looked restless. He did not know what was wrong with him today, but he felt extremely flustered.

Could it be...Was the 'Equipment Enhancement' plan that he had just designed too much?

The equipment smelter was Liao Zixuan's focus, and it was also a lucrative project. He had secretly signed a contract with Zhao Jie behind Vivian's back. He would invest in the Chamber of Commerce, and he would get 10% of the profits.

Every qualified man...The little wolf cubs had to have their own little vault.

Because of this, in order to recharge his treasury, he was full of enthusiasm. In the past few days of observation, he found many areas that could be improved in the smelting plant.

One of the biggest problems was the reaction of the players on the forum. Zhao Jie still had the traditional mindset that the equipment he forged must be finished.

If I don't give you the finished product, do I give you the semi-finished product?

At first, the little wolf cub was also in disbelief, with a face full of question marks. However, he later realized that this was the difference between players and natives.

Because players had the "system", they were very sensitive to the quality of equipment at a glance. This made it difficult for the slightly inferior finished equipment to sell.

It might not be obvious now because the players had not reached the point of perfection. However, as the players each got a set of equipment, there would definitely be a large number of finished equipment that were unsalable. Everyone wanted to wait a little longer. Who knew, the next finished equipment might be even better?

So the little wolf cub's strategy for this was... Since the players complained that the finished equipment was expensive and there was no suitable one, they would just give them semi-finished products or even "embryos"!

Then, he would let the players buy it and strengthen it themselves!

Let me give you a simple example.

It might be the same equipment, but the final attributes are all Critical Chance +3%, Defense +5, Attack +19.

If it was a finished product, with all its attributes listed, players would never buy it even if they were beaten to death. This was because other than the first critical hit rate, the other two were too trashy. They did not even have a percentage, and were considered the most trashy fixed values.

However, if it was a semi-finished product, only the first attribute, Critical Hit Rate, would be displayed. The latter two attributes were not displayed because the forging was not completed yet.

In the eyes of the players, the "embryo" was not the best, but it was definitely a hot commodity. It belonged to the level where it was instantly snatched the moment it appeared.

As for the subsequent players who spent money to strengthen it, it would be another story if they found out that they were cheated.

He couldn't just think bad.

Maybe the first attribute of the embryo was not good, but the subsequent enhancements were all top-notch?

In this way, regardless of the current situation, players would buy because of their expectations of the unknown, greatly stimulating consumption and ensuring the vitality of the market.

In addition, the time and manpower required to forge a finished piece of equipment was too much. Moreover, the higher the quality, the more it would increase.

On the contrary, if he only forged a "embryo ", it would save a lot of time and increase efficiency. The higher the number, the higher the probability of producing a top-quality product.

The players also received a low price. The price of the finished product was distributed to each enhancement, and they could stop their losses at any time. As well as the " exciting " dog gambling experience, the gameplay increased greatly. It was a win-win situation!

When the time came, Zhao Jie would give the players a " Equipment Meltdown " function, which was specifically used to collect the trash equipment that the players had strengthened. The ratio would be...Yes! One to four would be good. Four pieces of trash equipment in exchange for a random player. It was a huge profit!!

* Cough cough *

The little wolf cub slightly restrained his overly excited mood. Such a " conscience " benefit was definitely not the reason for his panic.

What exactly was that...

"Eh?"

When Liao Zixuan habitually opened the game forum, a notification popped up, and he quickly clicked on it...

[Northern Cross voyage progress update, we have finally reached the Thousand Islands!;!]

Accompanying the eye-catching title was a picture of Yu Gege being taken with the Moon Abyss Island using the in-game photo-capturing function while leaning against the Northern Cross 'armed warship.

F * ck!

This time, the case was solved.

So this was the source of her panic.

That was not right.

He had clearly confirmed with Zhao Jie that there was no connection between the two. Then why was he panicking?

Chapter 662: Equipment Enhancement and Warm Citizens 2

Forget it, it was just a follow-up. After all, Liao Zixuan had never heard of this mission in his previous life. Moreover, Vivian's subsequent trip would eventually reach Guili. It was a good opportunity to contact the forces of Guili.

After making up his mind, the wolf cub immediately moved.

First, he sent Xinyan to deliver the rough idea of 'equipment enhancement' and 'recycling' that he had written to Zhao Jie. After Zhao Jie deliberated over the details, he would immediately set off and make another trip to Deep Moon Island.

The beach, the sun, and the sea!

Wuhu ~

Gui Li was considered a pure land nation. Therefore, when Yu Gege and the other Gui Li players arrived at the Lunar Abyss Island, they were naturally very excited and curious to see the refreshing island environment.

However, since the Northern Cross did not receive any official diplomatic documents, Nan could only investigate in secret.

As crew members, the players naturally received the corresponding mission.

[Ding, your “Northern Cross Voyage” mission status has been updated. Current new target: Familiar with the environment]

[Familiar Familiar with the environment]

[Mission Introduction: After a month-long sea voyage, you have finally arrived at the Thousand Islands. From Nan, you have vaguely learned that the purpose of this voyage is to find the father of Nan’s old friend. However, Nan did not tell you more information. Even after you docked, you were only allowed to ask around.]

[Mission objective: Find clues about the father of my old friend and report to Nan]

[Mission Hint: There seems to be a lot of things happening in Moonlight Island recently. Talk to the local aborigines and maybe you can find some useful information.]

“Ah, this...” Fish Pigeon and the rest of the players looked at each other speechlessly.

“Looks like Big Sister doesn’t intend for us to interfere!”

The crew members of the North Ten Guild quickly realized this from the mission.

Rather than saying that Nan had asked them to investigate, it was more accurate to say that he had just asked them to wander around the island.

Nan would probably be the one conducting the investigation personally.

“So, this old friend’s father is a big shot?” Brother Fish and the players around him analyzed together.

Judging from their experience of sailing on the sea for a month, their big sister would not say that she did not trust them and was being so secretive to prevent them.

Sister Nan was not that kind of person. After all, they had been through a lot together.

Of course, Yu Gege and the other players of the North Tenth Titans didn't just spend the month on the ship or at sea. They would also stop at ports along the way to replenish their supplies.

Sometimes, the big sister was afraid that they would be bored and would deliberately find a deserted island to let them off the ship for the night and camp. In short, many interesting things happened.

But now, the reason why they were given such a sloppy mission was probably because they didn't want the newcomers of the Northern Tenth Titans to participate.

Either this mission was very dangerous, or they felt that the level was too high for them to participate.

But...

Nan had a good idea, but unfortunately, her new group of outlanders were creatures called "players."

"No! We have to share Big Sister's worries!"

"Yes! No matter how dangerous the mission is, we're not afraid. We have to help Big Sister find such an important person as soon as possible."

"Let's go, let's go!"

The players instantly reached a consensus and began to look for indigenous passers-by near the dock according to the mission instructions, hoping to get information from them.

However, after asking for the first round, the fish pigeons pigeons, the pedestrians, but there was no harvest. The NPCs near the dock were basically all sailors, porters, and the like. These people did not care about current affairs, so they naturally asked what came.

Just as the players were wondering if they should secretly leave the dock area behind Big Sister's back and go to a more prosperous area to investigate, suddenly...

“Eh? Look, there's a title above that NPC's head!”

One of the sharp-eyed players exclaimed, immediately attracting the attention of Fish Pigeon and the other Northern Cross crew members. When they looked in the direction of the finger, they couldn't help but reveal strange expressions.

At the end of the dock that connected to the city center, which was the limit that the big sister had told them to move freely, a passerby was standing there idly, as if he was sunbathing.

[Warm Citizen-Bai Sang]

F * ck!

Fish Pigeon couldn't help but curse in his heart. What kind of title was this? However, even though they were cursing, the Northern Cross players who were worried about finding a breakthrough were like sharks that smelled blood as they rushed towards this NPC.

After all, with this title, they knew that this NPC was specially designed for their current mission!

As expected, as soon as the players approached, before they could even talk to him, the NPC named Bai Sang seemed to have sensed something and took the initiative to look at the players.

“Hey, hey! You guys, come here!”

There was hope!

He had found the right person!

Generally speaking, when an NPC took the initiative to look for you, it would trigger the mission process.

“Look at you guys...He’s not from our Moon Abyss Island, is he? No, you guys aren’t even from the Thousand Islands, are you?”

The players nodded in response to Bai Sang’s question. They had learned their lesson this time. They no longer said that they were foreigners, but rather that they were traveling merchants from Guili who wanted to do some business here. Hence, they asked about the current situation in Deep Moon Island and whether anything major had happened recently.

“Is that so...”

Yu Gege saw Bai Sang nod thoughtfully. His next words made him happy and he quickly focused.

“You’ve asked the right person! It’s no exaggeration to say that I’m second to everyone in terms of knowing everything that’s happening in the Lunar Abyss Island!”

Ignoring the NPC’s bragging, Fish Pigeon sighed at the warm-hearted citizens. Bai Sang dragged them along and chatted for more than half an hour.

[Ding! You have roughly grasped the situation in the Thousand Islands through your communication with the “warmhearted citizen, Bai Sang.” There seems to be some key information that you are not sure about. Prepare to return to the Northern Cross and report to Sister Nan.]

Seeing that the notification of ‘Mission Completed’ finally appeared in front of them, the players quickly found an excuse to get away from this talkative and enthusiastic citizen.

But what they didn’t know was that after they turned around and left, Bai Sang, who had been very warm-hearted just a moment ago, gradually calmed down and looked at their backs in deep thought.

In fact, when Liao Zixuan saw the ID of “Fish Pigeon Pigeon”, he knew that this group of players was the person he was looking for. After that, he spent half an hour. It seemed that he had been explaining to the players, but in fact, Liao Zixuan was also trying to determine the person behind the players from the players' reactions...Nan.

From the looks of it, Nan did not seem to want the players to participate in this matter...How could that do!

As Liao Zixuan's natural eyes, the deeper the information he could get, the better it was for him. After observing the progress of the players at the dock, he couldn't stand it anymore and decided to take action.

The players relied on the system's mission notification to get the information that the "Father of an Old Friend" might be related to the recent major events.

Therefore, Liao Zixuan used the elimination method. Since Nan didn't say it clearly, he simply told the players everything that had happened. Then, he let the players report it to Nan. Then, based on the reaction of the players who came back later, he narrowed down the scope step by step.

So...

The three were the Rebellion, the Winter Executive, the Sleeping Water God, and...The Astorokis.

Liao Zixuan was waiting to see which event Nan would choose to let the players follow.

Of course, he added in his heart.

Just don't choose the last one.

Just as the enthusiastic citizen Bai Sang was waiting for the players to come back and look for him, a familiar figure suddenly appeared in Liao Zixuan's sight.

It was a player from a foreign land.

He was also a big acquaintance that Liao Zixuan never expected to appear here.

[Green Velvet]

Chapter 663: The Most Handsome Wolf Cub!_1

WTF ?

Bi Wei Rong Rong was the biggest stumbling block for the little wolf cub in the Witch's Great Cause during the closed beta period.

He was also the number one enemy of Vivian's anti-fan leader, the most handsome wolf, and the leader of the unwavering White Vivian party.

It had actually been a while since this person had appeared in Liao Zixuan's field of vision. After the open beta, his attention had been completely focused on the Thousand Islands. Because Liz and Shirley were keeping an eye on the Flame Domain, he hadn't paid much attention to it.

So... What was the situation now?

Putting aside how this guy managed to "travel internationally" in the early stages, what made Liao Zixuan sweat was why Bi Weirong would appear here.

Previously, due to the conflict between the Fire Domain and the Thousand Islands, two very representative regional NPCs, Vivian and the fox-faced witch, were also implicated and forced to oppose each other. They were compared and competed by the players on both sides.

Although the Thousand Islands players had been distracted by the recent intense storyline on Sakuragi Island, they did not have the time to engage in PvP battles with the Flame Domain player forums, causing the relationship between the two sides to enter a period of relaxation.

But no matter how he looked at it, as Vivian's diehard fan, there was no reason for Bi Wei Rong to come to the "enemy" camp.

Hiss!

Wait a minute!

Was there a possibility...

Liao Zixuan had a flash of inspiration.

He tried to put himself in Bi Weirong's perspective, and his foggy thoughts instantly became clear.

First of all, he ruled out the possibility that Bi Wei Rong had discovered that the fox-faced witch was actually Vivian and had come to chase after her. If she was really so awesome, why didn't she become a detective?

Then may I ask, when one's own female celebrity was unable to appear in public for some reason, but the other's female celebrity was frequently touring and crazily pulling in popularity, how could a qualified fan win back a city?

Answer, naturally to dig up dirt on the other party!

Then, he would ruthlessly expose them!

This way, even if his female celebrity didn't gain any popularity, if he made the other party lose popularity, according to the famous theory of relativity, it was equivalent to gaining fans for his own family!

One word, absolute!

Liao Zixuan couldn't help but clap his hands and exclaim, "Wow!" Wonderful, too wonderful!

Look, look at him.

What was a high-quality fan!

In order to help Vivian defeat the fox-faced witch, he would do anything.

For such an enemy, even the most handsome wolf cub had to be respectful and respectful!

Therefore, Liao Zixuan had to change his usual behavior this time. He no longer targeted Bi Wei Rong Rong, but instead, he decided to help her with all his strength. He wanted to help her dig dig out the dirt on the fox-faced witch!

He wanted Bi Wei Rong to expose the fox-faced witch and denounce her as a hypocritical NPC, a wolf in sheep's clothing!

It would be best if Bi Wei Rong could be even more ruthless and label the "witch" as a completely different "devil" and completely discredit her!

The climax was about to come.

When the dust settled, Bi Rong Rong and the rest of the White Vivian players were full of pride. He then asked the fox witch to take off her mask and reveal the face of the little girl inside!

Tsk tsk tsk!

Liao Zixuan laughed wildly in his heart, as if he could already hear the slap from the leader of the White Vivian Party who made him grit his teeth.

You said that the fox-faced witch was a witch and exposed all kinds of dirt on her. In the end, the fox-faced witch was actually Vivian. Didn't that mean that you indirectly admitted Vivian's identity as a witch?

It was effortless.

In one fell swoop, he had eliminated the hardest stumbling block in his " great cause of witches ", completely crushed White Vivian's party, and raised the witch flag of Black Vivian's party!

Such a good opportunity, if he didn't take it now, when would he?

Thinking of this, Liao Zixuan even put aside the Northern Cross players and prepared to approach Bi Wei Rong.

However, before that, his current appearance was definitely not enough.

This was because Bi Wei Rong Rong was different from the other players. She had gone through the closed beta and had seen " Bai " before. Moreover, compared to the identity of " Bai ", there was obviously another better avatar to interact with.

He quickly dashed into a corner with few people.

When he came back to his senses, Liao Zixuan had already transformed into a different appearance. This was the character model he had created in his previous life as a " player ". However, the ID this time was different from his previous life. He had a new name.

[Most Handsome Little Wolf]

...

He was here!

Bi Wei Rong did not expect that when she tentatively proposed the idea of expanding to the Thousand Islands to Liz, it was actually approved and even arranged for her to have a ticket.

This further confirmed Bi Wei Rong Rong's speculation. As Liz's best friend, Vivian was very likely to have come to the Thousand Islands.

However, the information obtained through the Water God's Chains came to an abrupt end.

She was here, but she still had no clue as to how to find more clues about Vivian.

But don't worry!

Bi Weirong looked at the rare sub-class [Detective] that she had obtained during the closed beta!

Because she was familiar with the process, she immediately took the lead to get the class class again when the open beta started. It was with the help of the Detective class and the S-rank mission [Novice and Veteran] that she was able to track Vivian's tracks smoothly.

[Ding, you have activated the exclusive profession skill of Detective, Traces and Clues.]

[Traces]

[Rarity: Rare (Blue)]

Chapter 664: The Most Handsome Wolf Cub!_2

[Skill Effect: Activate an additional mission prompt for the current mission. The accuracy and cooldown time of the prompt are determined by the proficiency of the detective profession.]

(There is only one truth!)

[Ding! You have found a new target through a series of deductions and analysis.]

[Additional hint: Investigate the light novel stall ahead.]

“Ah... This?” Bi Weirong looked at the dialog box that appeared in front of her. It showed the old man, the subway, and the phone.

Investigate... Light novel stall?

What did this have to do with her current mission objective?

However, a faint pale yellow line started from under Bi Wei Rong’s feet and then very considerably pointed to a place not far ahead. This was the ability of a “detective.”

There was a very ordinary stall selling all kinds of books.

The only attractive thing was that there was a painted signboard next to it that seemed to be a character from a novel, which would occasionally attract the attention of passersby.

No matter how strange it was, since the Detective class had given such a hint, Bi Wei Rong immediately set off to investigate.

As soon as she approached, the peddler from the light novel stall immediately greeted her warmly.

“Miss! Are you here to buy light novels? Let me introduce you to a few new movies that have been released recently. They are especially popular now...”

Unfortunately, before the peddler could finish his sentence, he was interrupted by Bi Weirong.

“No need, I want to see that book.” Bi Weirong’s target was very clear. She pointed at a small stack of books at the innermost corner of the stall.

” Journey to the Thousand Islands from Zero ”

“Ah?” The peddler looked at it and was surprised.

“Is there a problem?”

“No, no, no, but... May I ask if you’re here specifically for this book? Are you a fan of it?”

The hawker’s question made Bi Wei Rong frown.

She had indeed come specifically for this light novel, but she wasn’t a fan reader. It was only because her [Detective] ability had guided her to the stall and marked the light novel with a special faint fluorescent light.

“Not really. I just think that the name of this novel is quite interesting and novel. Was there anything special about this novel?”

After Bi Wei Rong denied it, she started to question the peddler. The peddler revealed an expression of understanding and started to explain to Bi Wei Rong,

“Miss, you might not know this, but this ‘Journey to the Thousand Islands from Zero’ is the worst selling light novel in my batch. I even planned to take it down from the shelves and not take up the position of the other books. That’s why I couldn’t help but ask you a few questions when I saw you mention this book the moment you came up.”

The more the peddler said this, the more curious Bi Wei Rong became. She asked,

“Is it because the story is boring?”

“This... I don’t think so. On the contrary, this novel can be said to be the most novel setting I’ve seen in my ten years of reading! It told the story of the protagonist who was involved in a disaster on the legendary Astorokis. In the end, he turned the tide, resolved the crisis, and saved the entire ship.”

“Hey! Don’t be in a hurry to show such an expression!”The pedd-seller waved his hands when he saw Bi Weirong’s ‘that’s it.

” The biggest feature of this novel is that it’s not like other novels where the protagonist cuts through all the obstacles along the way. On the contrary, the protagonist in this novel can be said to have died several times, and her greatest ability is that every time she dies, time will be reversed, allowing her to start over again, which is the so-called starting from scratch.”

Hiss...

It did seem quite novel. At least, Bi Weirong had never read such a story before. After the hawker’s introduction, she was successfully intrigued, but at the same time, she was very confused.

“It does sound interesting, but even if it doesn’t sold well, it shouldn’t be as bad as you said, right?”

Under Bi Weirong’s question, the bookstall vendor sighed in disappointment.

“Hey, Miss, you don’t know this. The biggest problem with this book is... It wasn’t the book that was the problem. It was Kasumiako-sensei’s problem. In all the novels she wrote, the protagonists were all women. Most of the characters in the stories were also women, and there were quite a few of them, uh... With that kind of plot, it would not only lose male readers, but it would also not please female readers. No matter how good the story was, would anyone buy it?”

” However, the reason why I’m still willing to purchase this ” Journey to Thousand Islands from Zero ” is because I discovered that Teacher Kasumiko has unexpectedly added a male character who has been secretly helping the protagonist in this work for the first time!”

” So, I thought that with this change, perhaps the public would be able to discover Teacher Kasumi Akiko’s excellent works, but now it seems... Sigh, most people would probably give up after seeing that the author was Kasumi Akiko. They wouldn’t even be willing to read it.”

Amidst the groans of the peddler, Bi Weirong bought the novel. As a Flame Domain player and one of Liz’s secretaries, Bi Weirong did not lack money.

So...

What did this light novel have to do with his mission...

Hiss

Wait a minute!

The Astorokis... Thousand Islands...Flame Domain?

Bi Weirong had just started reading the preface of the novel, which roughly introduced the background of the story. She immediately became excited.

If one wanted to reach the Thousand Islands from the Flame Domain, they had to take a boat, and a big shot like Vivian would definitely not take an ordinary boat. Then the Astorokis here...

Suddenly, a bold guess appeared in Bi Wei Rong Rong’s mind.

Could it be that the heroine in this novel was...Vivian was the prototype?

The more she read, the more she felt that the kind, brave, and determined heroine in the story was exactly the same as Bai Vivian in her heart!

Unknowingly, Bi Wei Rong Rong was immersed in the exciting novel. She did not even notice that another new customer had arrived beside her.

“Sir, are you here to buy a light novel? Let me introduce you to a few new books that have been released recently. They are especially popular!”

It was the same greeting as when he greeted Bi Wei Rong, but this time, the new customer seemed a little hesitant. He didn't know which book to buy, which gave the hawker a chance.

“First of all, it's naturally this 'My Kin Can't Be So Strong'! Let me tell you, this novel is unique. It's set in the background of Qingfeng's Blood Clan. It tells the story of an adventure between a high-ranking vampire lady and her human family who pretended to be a pig to eat a tiger!”

“Uh... Not interested? Should I try this book, I Can Add Affixations Unlimited? “The biggest feature of this book is that the protagonist can give others and himself affixing. For example, after adding the 'robust' affixing, the entire person will instantly become extremely strong. After adding the 'wealth' affixing, there will be many gold coins in the bank account. Let's see how the protagonist relies on...”

” Alright, Sir. If the first two can't satisfy you, then you must try this explosive sales book, I'll...”

Before the peddler could finish his endless introduction, he was interrupted because the new customer in front of him seemed to be very concerned about which light novel the lady next to him was reading.

And after that.

The new customer waved his hand and pointed at the inconspicuous corner at the innermost corner of the bookstall. There, it was...

” There's no need to say anything. I just want the book, Journey to the Thousand Islands from Zero. How much is it?”

This was...

What was going on today? Double happiness? Is it still the same? Teacher Kasumi Akiko is finally going to be popular!

Just as the bookstall vendor was confused, surprised, and delighted, Bi Weirong, who had been engrossed in her novel, finally shifted her attention away from the book when she heard the familiar title. She glanced at the new customer beside her.

This glance didn't matter.

In exchange, Bi Wei Rong Rong was momentarily stunned, and what followed was her eyes that were filled with hostility, as if she had seen an enemy who was gritting her teeth.

" It's you!?"

Chapter 665: Heading in Three Directions

Bi Wei Rong wasn't surprised to encounter a Thousand Islands player on the Moon Abyss Island.

However, she never expected that the first person she met after arriving here was a Thousand Islands player with the ID of " Most Handsome Wolf Cub " above his head.

There weren't many players who could make Bi Wei Rong remember their nicknames.

But the most handsome wolf was definitely one of them.

He had to ask why.

Back in the closed beta,” Vivian “, the most famous anti-fan leader, Bi Wei Rong had argued with him more than once. Unfortunately, every time she was about to win, the most handsome wolf cub would always come up with all kinds of unbelievable but solid evidence, making Bi Wei Rong feel powerless and very angry.

The most recent example was when the open beta was about to start, the most handsome wolf called on everyone not to choose the Flame Domain, but to choose the Thousand Islands, and even involved Vivian.

He said that Vivian, as a witch, had caused enough chaos in the Fire Domain after assassinating the kind earl. She would not stay for long. To put it bluntly, she was tired of playing with him and it was time to look for the next toy.

As a neighboring country, the Thousand Islands would naturally be the Demoness ‘next target.

Bi Weirong remembered clearly that when she first saw this post, her first reaction was that it was ridiculous! He was too evil and too arrogant!

What made her even angrier was that this argument was actually agreed and followed by many of Vivian’s brainless anti-fans, which led to many new passers-by players who believed it.

If she had not joined forces with many of Vivian’s true fans in the first place, the other true fans of Vivian would have posted on the forum crazily to explain, prove, and refute the rumors. They would have told the new players not to believe in such a poisonous strategy, and not to choose the Thousand Islands as the starting point. It was definitely not wrong to choose the Flame Domain as the starting point.

Otherwise, the number of players from Thousand Islands would have increased by at least 30%!

So...

After quickly recalling the hate education in her mind, Bi Weirong frowned and looked at the most handsome wolf beside her. To be precise, she was looking at the light novel in the other party's hand, which was the same as hers.

Was it a coincidence? Luck?

Or could it be...By chance, he had also discovered the clue that could lead to Vivian's location! ?

Thinking of this, Bi Wei Rong Rong immediately became alert.

Who knew what this anti-fan was up to!

He had to quickly probe!

But of course, the basic law still had to be followed. No matter how much they criticized each other online, they still had to be polite when they met "offline". At the very least, they had to pretend to be polite on the surface...

Bi Wei Rong Rong was thinking about it in her heart and was just about to speak when the other party beat her first.

"May I ask who you are..."

The Most Handsome Wolf Cub looked at the female player who had suddenly "greeted" him in confusion.

This caused the fake smile on Bi Wei Rong's face to freeze freeze.

This feeling was like something.

It was as if the enemy who had always been against you, the enemy who you regarded as your number one enemy, the enemy who you dreamed of getting rid of at night, was actually...I don't even remember your name.

She opened her mouth and pointed at the nickname of " Bi Wei Rong Rong " above her head. Her eyes were filled with disbelief.

You don't know me?

How can you not recognize me?

How can you not recognize me!

Opposite him, the most handsome little wolf understood Bi Weirong's thoughts and revealed a thoughtful expression towards her ID. However, after a while...

It was still those two words.

"And you are?"

Bi Wei Rong Rong was speechless.

Whoosh!

He took a deep breath.

Her flat chest, which was as flat as Vivian's, could only be seen rising and falling slightly at this moment.

Seeing that Bi Weirong was about to explode, Liao Zixuan finally stopped pretending. After admiring the other party's angry and angry attitude, he finally satisfied his desire for revenge. He waved his hand and said with a smile,

“I know you’re very anxious, but don’t be anxious...Sigh! Alright, alright, don’t go. I’m just joking. I remember your ID very well. How can I not know you? After all, we’re old friends who get to know each other through fighting. It’s just that...”

Liao Zixuan sized up the bespectacled female player and asked curiously, “I remember seeing you during the closed beta. At that time, you seemed to be... Not like this?”

“At that time, there was a prop prop that could be used for disguise, but it was recycled after the closed beta.”

“So that’s how it is. I’ll be frank with you. When I first saw your ID, I really thought that I had mistaken you for someone else or that you were a high-quality imitation. Firstly, it’s because of your appearance. Secondly, I remember that you should be a Flame Domain player. But why would he appear here now?”

Facing Liao Zixuan’s probing, Bi Weirong remained silent, unwilling to reveal too much to her sworn enemy.

Liao Zixuan did not care about this and continued to talk to himself.

” Alright, since it’s not convenient to say it, then forget it. But I’ll say it anyway. In fact, you don’t have to be so wary and hostile to me now. To be honest, I’m no longer interested in Vivian, who was very popular during the closed beta, but is obviously a has-been NPC now.”

” So, I won’t argue with you guys about whether she’s good or evil. In any case, my attention is now completely focused on Thousand Islands, the newest popular NPC, the fox-faced witch.”

Chapter 666: Three Directions

As Liao Zixuan spoke, he revealed a classic look, the look of a blogger who was riding on the popularity, to reduce Bi Wei Rong Rong's hostility and pave the way for the subsequent wooing.

On the other side.

As expected, although Bi Wei Rong hated this kind of person who immediately followed the trend, from her point of view, she would definitely open a champagne to celebrate the fact that Vivian had lost a super anti-fan.

Moreover...

Bi Wei Rong Rong suddenly had a bold idea.

Judging from what the most handsome wolf said, he probably had no idea that Vivian had already come to the Thousand Islands. He also did not realize that the light novel in his hand was actually a key tool to find Vivian.

Since that was the case, why couldn't he beat her at her own game?

Didn't he like to ride on the popularity? Then she, Bi Wei Rong Rong, would change her usual behavior and help the most handsome wolf instead! It was very likely that the book, "Journey to the Thousand Islands from Zero," was written based on the fox-faced witch, and it was leaked to the other party!

Yes, that's right. Bi Wei Rong deliberately hid the truth of the "Vivian" and replaced it with the Fox-faced Witch that the most handsome wolf wanted.

If that was the case, the most handsome wolf cub would definitely post the news online and praise the female protagonist of the book, the fox-faced witch, to attract a wave of attention.

Next was the climax!

The blue velvet hands were trembling in her sleeves.

After learning that Vivian might be in the Thousand Islands, Bi Wei Rong thought about the possibility that the fox-faced witch might be Vivian. After all, the two were too similar.

After reading the book "A Thousand Islands Journey from Zero", Bi Weirong was at least 80% sure of her guess.

Therefore, she would think of a way to go to Sakuragi Island where the Fox-faced Witch was. Bi Wei Rong believed that with her detective profession, she would be able to find irrefutable evidence that Vivian was the Fox-faced Witch.

Then when the time came...

Hmph hmph hmph!

Bi Wei Rong Rong could almost hear the slapping sounds coming from her sworn enemy.

Was Vivian a 'has-'NPC?

You like to ride on the popularity, right?

You used to like Black Vivian, right?

But now, she realized that the new NPC that she had been boasting about was actually the old NPC that she had been slandering for a long time. Bi Wei Rong wanted to see what kind of expression the most handsome wolf cub would have at that time!

It was effortless.

In one fell swoop, she had eliminated the stumbling block of her "saintess cause", completely crushed the Black Vivian Party, and even absorbed countless Thousand Islands players into the White Vivian Party's big family.

Such a good opportunity, if he didn't take it now, when would he?

“Cough cough...The fox-faced witch? No wonder you wanted to buy this book.”Bi Wei Rong Rong pretended to cough twice and started to lure the most handsome wolf into the trap.

As expected, Bi Wei Rong Rong saw the expression on the most handsome wolf's face when he heard her words. She was not sure if she was seeing things, but he seemed to have heaved a sigh of relief.

However, it quickly turned into what Bi Wei Rong had expected. She looked very strange and confused, and immediately asked,

“This light novel? The fox-faced witch? Between these two...What does it matter?”

Hmph, he took the bait!

Bi Weirong smiled proudly in her heart, but her expression was still very good. After pushing her glasses, she pretended to be very innocent and said,

“This is a quest that I just received. It's about tracing the origins of the fox-faced witch. The key item that the quest pointed out is this light novel.”

“Eh? Really?”

Seeing that the most handsome wolf cub had found a treasure and started to read, Bi Wei Rong made a victory gesture with satisfaction. She knew that her words were full of loopholes and could not be asked in detail by others, so she quickly found an excuse to leave and disappeared from the bookstall.

But what she didn't know was that after Bi Wei Rong's back disappeared completely, the most handsome little wolf who seemed to be immersed in the novel just now had put the novel back to its original place.

“First...Sir, aren't you going to buy one back?”The peddler, who was originally happy, immediately became anxious when he saw this.

“No, your price is too expensive. I might as well ask Xia Qiuzi for one!””

Liao Zixuan, who was used to staying with little girls and had inherited the habit of being thrifty, complained about the three silver coins for a light novel. There was no point in staying here any longer, so he turned around and left.

She mumbled as she walked.

“This is bad. Vivian's identity will be exposed early. But then again, isn't Bi Wei Rong pretty smart? Why didn't she think of Vivian after reading this novel? Or was it because of the mission's hints?”

“Sigh... At the end of the day, wasn't the speed at which this girl published a book too fast? Wasn't it said that all novelists had procrastination? Why was it that she had not even spent a month...A novel of hundreds of thousands of words was finished?

Is she a tentacle monster?”

After Liao Zixuan left, only the bookseller with a sad expression remained.

Perhaps he couldn't help it, or perhaps he wanted to express his dissatisfaction with Liao Zixuan, the book vendor cast a disdainful look at Liao Zixuan's back.

“Tsk, if you can't afford it, then say so. Why do you have to ask Teacher Kasumiko for a book... Who are you! If you know Teacher Xia Qiuzi, then I, I even chatted with Water God!”

After venting his anger, the bookseller looked at the book that he couldn't sell.

Just as he was hesitating whether he should listen to Liao Zixuan's complaints just now and lower the price slightly, he could forget about making money. He could sell it at the original price and not lose money...

Suddenly, two officials dressed in the uniform of the society came to his bookstall.

This made the peddler's heart tighten. He wondered if he had made a mistake or violated the rules. Just as he was feeling a little uneasy...

"Hey! You! Pack up all your books. Our society will take them all!"

"What, what?!" The peddler was first stunned, followed by ecstasy that could not believe his ears.

"Yes, yes, sir!"

While the peddler was sorting out the list and packing the books, another official asked his companion.

"This... There shouldn't be a problem with this, right? Lord Yosuke asked us to go to the big bookstore to buy light novels for foreigners as new products. He said that it could increase the enthusiasm of foreigners."

"Aiya, why do you care so much? What's the difference between this small stall and a big bookstore? It's much cheaper. You don't know how expensive those popular light novels are. Just take some unpopular junk and deal with it. Lord Yosuke asked those foreigners from Sakuragi Island to work for us, not to read novels!"

"But..."

"Don't worry, we'll split the money we save 40 – 60."

"No, I still think..."

“50 – 50.”

“Hey! “Yes, it’s you. Stop for a moment. Don’t pack them up. Take out those expensive bestsellers. We don’t want them anymore. I think you’re right. What if the foreigner gets addicted to them? Let me see...” Sigh! He just needed to pack up the worst, cheapest, and so-called “from zero” novels.”

“Alright... Alright then.” Seeing how good he was, the peddler secretly cursed the corruption and corruption of the officials, but he could do nothing about it.

He could only console himself that at least the other party had cleared out the goods that he was most worried about.

However, what did they say...To be sold to foreigners?

Speaking of which...

Were there signs of more and more foreigners on the island?

It felt like something big was about to happen...

Chapter 667: Experts Fight (1)

After leaving Bi Wei Rong’s set, Liao Zixuan quickly changed his appearance and rushed back to the other set with the image of a Thousand Island person, Bai Sang.

As expected, the group of Northern Cross players who had left were already standing at their original position. They had been waiting for a long time and were looking around anxiously.

When they saw Liao Zixuan's figure, they all frowned and ran over with joy on their faces.

“Bai Sang, where did you go? We had a hard time finding you!” After the players surrounded Liao Zixuan, the quest NPC, they couldn't wait to start talking.

“Can you tell us more about the Society and the Astorokis?”

Although the players thought that they had not exposed their big sister, Liao Zixuan actually knew their purpose from the beginning. Therefore, when he said this, his eyelids instantly twitched uncontrollably.

He had sent out a few messages to the players regarding the recent major events on Lunar Abyss Island, but the players had only picked this one to follow up with him.

This was definitely a hint from Nan, the big sister of the Northern Cross's captain.

Therefore, it was almost certain that the father of the old friend was related to the Astorokis. It was even very likely that he was one of the passengers on the Astorokis.

As for who it was, Liao Zixuan no longer had any hope of getting lucky. After all, there was only one Gui Liren on the ship.

So...

Liao Zixuan began to recall the time when he had repeatedly probed Zhao Jie. He even did not hesitate to directly rebuke the "Qilin Pavilion Master" in Zhao Jie's face. However, that old uncle was indifferent and even had the intention to laugh at him.

Pretending?

Impossible!

Liao Zixuan immediately shook his head in denial. He couldn't forget Zhao Jie's confident look back then. If he was faking it, then the Oscar for " Fallen Gods " would definitely be his.

So...

This stinky uncle didn't know anything about his daughter at all!

'No One in the World Knows My Xing Er Better Than Me' is it! ?

Liao Zixuan began to reflect on himself. Why did he really believe this old man's words? If he was a father, then he must be a father? If she's a daughter, then she must be a daughter?

"Bai Sang...Bai Sang!" On the other side, the players were waiting for Liao Zixuan to talk to them again. However, they realized that the quest NPC suddenly fell silent after their words. His expression also became uncertain. From time to time, he would grit his teeth as if he was extremely regretful.

The players shouted several times in succession before Liao Zixuan was finally pulled back to reality. He looked around at the Northern Cross players who were waiting with eager eyes, hoping that he could give them the next mission guidance. Liao Zixuan pondered for a moment and said,

"Astorokis, is it? How about this, instead of telling you all about it, why don't I recommend you a light novel that just recently came out and happened to have this legendary ship as its background."

"However, I'm not sure if you guys can still buy it now. Speaking of which, it's quite a coincidence. Just now, I was here, and I happened to see someone who should be a foreigner like you guys. He was holding this novel in his arms, and he went that way. If you guys chase after him now, you should be able to meet him, right?"

Light... A light novel, a stranger?

This is asking us to find a...Players?

Fish Pigeon and the others were confused by Liao Zixuan's words. However, when they wanted to ask more questions, Liao Zixuan ignored them. He was like an NPC who had already completed his script. No matter how much the players talked, it was useless. He only urged them to hurry up so that Bi Wei Rong would not run away.

That's right, Liao Zixuan had an idea. He hinted to Yu Ge Ge and the other Northern Cross players that the target they were looking for was Bi Wei Rong Rong, who had just separated not long ago.

After knowing that Nan was looking for Zhao Jie, Liao Zixuan changed his strategy. Even if he tried to hide it, Nan was not like the players. She definitely had her own intelligence methods. It was only a matter of time before she found out that Zhao Jie was on Sakuragi Island.

If that was the case, Liao Zixuan might as well not hide it anymore. He would openly give the information to the players and let Nan go to Sakuragi Island as soon as possible. This way, it would increase the weight and trust of the players in Nan's heart. If there were any situations in the future, he would be the first to know through the players.

In addition, Liao Zixuan was worried about how to send Bi Wei Rongrong, the "Flame Domain spy", to Sakuragi Island. After all, as the saying goes, send Buddha to the west, help people to the end!

Now, it seemed that the Northern Cross fleet could solve this problem perfectly.

"F * ck, this is the first time I've seen an NPC quest target a player. Who is this? And a female player?"

Fish Pigeon and the rest of the players were curious as they followed Liao Zixuan's directions to Gu Youpan, trying to find the female player that Liao Zixuan had described to them.

Soon, Yu Gege's eyes lit up and she quickly pulled her companion.

"Hey! Look! Glasses, blonde hair, brown trench coat, and black leather boots. She looks like a detective, and she happens to be holding a novel in her arms. Is she the person we're looking for?"

They weren't looking for the wrong person. It was the Bi Wei Rong that Zixuan was hoping for. She was still reading a light novel, but when she looked up, she was surrounded by several players.

Chapter 668: Experts Fight (2)

“Are you guys...?” If it were in the wild, Bi Wei Rong would be nervous. However, this was Moon Abyss Island. PVP between players was prohibited in such a large city.

“F * ck! Bi Wei Rong Rong? I seem to have some impression of this ID...Ah! I remember now. Wasn't she one of the few people who were very popular on the forum at that time? The blogger for the closed beta player strategy!”

” Hey, you're so weird. I think I've seen her post before...”

“F * ck! So he was a God. No wonder he could get NPCs to give out quests!”

When the Northern Cross players saw Bi Wei Rong's ID, a few who frequently surfed the forum immediately recognized her.

After they briefly explained their intentions, just as Liao Zixuan had expected, players like Bi Wei Rong Rong were immediately intrigued. They expressed that they could cooperate with them, but could they let her follow the players of the Northern Tenth Team to meet the big sister?

The Northern Cross players were hesitant at first because Nan had said that this operation should be as low-key as possible. However, with the help of the “celebrity effect”, they still agreed to Bi Wei Rong's request.

The group of them hit it off and immediately returned to the fleet. There was a small interlude in the middle. Bi Wei Rong Rong had specially asked the Northern Cross players to bring her to the warm-hearted citizen NPC who had mentioned her before. She wanted to meet him.

Unfortunately, Liao Zixuan wouldn't give Bi Wei Rong Rong this chance. He had already left, leaving them with nothing.

Helplessly, they could only return to the Northern Cross as planned.

“You're back? Did you...”

On the ship led by Northern Cross, the crew members guarding the entrance were about to greet the foreigner who had performed well recently when they saw an unfamiliar face in the team and immediately stopped him.

After the players quickly explained that this was an important informant they had found, Nan heard the commotion and personally came out to tell the guards not to be nervous. She also warmly invited Bi Wei Rong in.

Inside the cabin, Nan was flipping through the light novel that Bi Wei Rongrong had given her.

“Yes... Ha, interesting. Even though I've been at sea for so many years, the stories here still attract me. It's indeed very interesting and imaginative.”

“Sister Nan...” A female assistant beside her was a little anxious to remind the big sister if the middle-aged merchant who had appeared in this light novel was very similar to the one they were looking for.

However, Nan raised his hand to interrupt him.

“You said that the author of this novel was one of the passengers on the Astorokis. So, although most of the content in the novel is fictional, it still draws some reference from reality?”

After Bi Wei Rong Rong nodded, Nan suddenly burst out laughing.

“Isn’t that a coincidence? I have a friend in the Lunar Abyss Island, and her sister was also a member of the Astorokis. Why don’t we wait for a while and let my friend read this light novel?”

Since Nan had spoken, the others naturally did not have any objections. They did not make everyone wait for too long. About ten minutes later, a red-haired energetic girl appeared at the door of the cabin.

If Liao Zixuan was here, he would definitely recognize her at a glance because she was Kasumiakko’s sister, Nagano Miyako.

Gui Li also had fireworks, especially during the ceremony. The two countries had many cultural similarities.

Nan’s Northern Cross Fleet traveled between countries and traded goods. Naturally, they would also import fireworks. The Nagano family was the best and most famous, so it was not surprising that the two of them would become friends.

“Nan, a few years have passed in a flash. It’s really been a long time...Ah, sorry, do you have a guest?”

Nagano Miyako was about to leave when Nan smiled and said,

“No, no, no, Gongzi, we were waiting for you.”

Wait...Me?”

“Eh? Nan, the light novel in your hand...” Just as Nagano Miyako was feeling puzzled, she caught a glimpse of the light novel in Nan’s hand and immediately widened her eyes in surprise.

After that, when Nagano told her that the novel was actually written by her younger sister, Nan was finally certain and locked onto Zhao Jie’s information.

Therefore, it could be seen that Liao Zixuan was right. Even without his assistance, Nan’s own network would only take a matter of time to find clues about Zhao Jie.

Of course, after Liao Zixuan sent Bi Wei Rong over, the process obviously sped up a lot.

Nan was very smart in front of everyone. She didn't hide her real purpose. Instead, she expressed that she wanted to find the "female protagonist" in the story and ask some questions.

Unfortunately, Nagano Miyako shook her head, indicating that she wasn't too sure either. She would have to ask her younger sister for the details. Unfortunately, her younger sister was suffering from poor sales for "A Journey to Thousand Islands from Zero" and was extremely isolated at home. She turned her grief and indignation into motivation to write her next novel. She probably wouldn't leave the house for a week, nor would she meet outsiders.

It seemed like the clue was cut off again. At this time, Bi Wei Rongrong found the right opportunity and said cleverly,

"Lord Nan, to be honest, I've been investigating this person. Although I can't be 100% sure, there's at least an 80% chance that the person you're looking for is... The fox-faced witch on Sakuragi Island."

Chapter 669: Experts Fight (3)

These words not only shocked Nan, but also all the Northern Cross players present.

"Sakuragi Island, fox-faced witch..." Nan frowned and muttered to himself. He then looked at the foreign sailors who had quickly become excited after the shock.

Nan remembered that on her previous voyage at sea, a stranger seemed to have mentioned the name "Fox-faced Witch" to her.

"Can I ask what your basis is?"

Unfortunately, Bi Wei Rong Rong shook her head at Nan, indicating that this explanation was too complicated. She herself was not too willing to reveal it, but she hoped that Nan could believe her.

“Is that so...” Nan fell into deep thought again.

Soon after, she did not make a judgment immediately. She only told Bi Wei Rong and the other players to continue searching for clues. As for her side, she had to be careful because this matter was related to the Thousand Islands Forbidden Land, Sakuragi Island.

Naturally, Bi Wei Rong Rong did not mind. However, she made a request. It could be said that it was a reward for her information.

“Are you saying that if we really want to go to Sakuragi Island, you want us to have two more outsiders to ride on the wind?”

This time, Nan didn't hesitate much and readily agreed. The only possibility was that she was a little curious.

“You said there were two people. One of them must be you. I can tell, but what about the other person? Your friend?”

“Yes!”

Bi Weirong nodded her head affirmatively.

She took a deep breath and adjusted her glasses. Against her will, she said that her friend was very reliable and would not cause trouble. The two of them were comrades who had known each other for a long time and often sparred together. This time, they had agreed to go find the fox-faced witch, so she hoped that Nan would bring him along.

Bi Weirong's serious look dispelled Nan's last bit of worry. When Nan noticed that the friend Bi Weirong mentioned was “him”, she gave him a knowing look.

Even the players of the Northern Cross, who were standing at the side, looked as if they had just gotten a big deal.

This almost made Bi Wei Rong choke to death, but for the sake of her grand plan, Bi Wei Rong chose to endure the humiliation.

After all...

Bi Weirong opened her friend list, then clicked on the blacklist. She then clicked on the first blacklist friend named " The Most Handsome Little Wolf " .

[Port, Return Fleet, Northern Cross, come quickly. I'll take you to Sakuragi Island.]

Undeniably, Bi Weirong admitted that she was a woman with a little bit of revenge.

As the saying goes, send Buddha to the west and help people to the end.

Bi Weirong had done her homework and knew that a group of Sakuragi Island players who had been bewitched by the " Society Enforcement " were crying and screaming to go back.

The Handsome Little Wolf was currently on Deep Moon Island, so he probably belonged to this group.

Since she wanted the most handsome wolf cub to brag about the fox-faced witch to reveal the truth and defeat Black Vivian's gang, she had to send him back to the fox-faced witch.

Bi Wei Rong couldn't help but praise herself for her forbearance and the overall situation.

The most handsome little wolf must be very happy right now, right?

Haha.

Laugh, laugh, wait until you cry later, hmph!

Just as Bi Weirong was imagining how grateful her sworn enemy would be at this moment...

Little did he know.

“WTF?”

They had already returned to their homes and were halfway there from Moon Abyss Island. They were about to reach the most handsome wolf cub on Cherry Tree Island.

At this moment, he was floating on the surface of the sea with a question mark expression on his face. He was looking at the private chat box that suddenly popped up.

Chapter 670: Stop at the Point (1)

Three days later.

On the Northern Cross.

Nan's consideration of whether or not to go to Sakuragi Island took three days. Fortunately, the final result made Bi Wei Rongrong heave a sigh of relief. Nan agreed.

Now, they had gathered all the players who had gone out and were ready to set sail.

Bi Wei Rong Rong quickly followed the male player who had been stood up for three days and made a "Look! I didn't lie to you!" explained.

This lucky male player was naturally Liao Zixuan, who played the role of the most handsome wolf.

After receiving Bi Wei Rong's private message, he cursed in his heart whether there was something wrong with him. However, he had no choice but to turn back halfway for the sake of the Witch's Grand Plan. Seeing that Sakuragi Island was just a short distance away, he returned to Deep Moon Island.

Most of the native crew members on the Northern Cross Cross were in a state of worry and were constantly making various emergency preparations. On the other hand, the foreign players were in a completely different state of excitement.

Everyone knew that Sakuragi Island was the most famous place in the Thousand Islands, at least among the players. That was why Yu Pigeon and the other Northern Cross players were so excited that they couldn't sleep well in the past three days. They even used the past few days to finish reading the book "A Thousand Islands Journey from Zero."

In addition to the wonderful story they put more attention force, all put in the so-called "fox face witch" for the prototype of the book in the female lord, trying to dig out more.

This led to a problem.

The journey from Moondeep Island to Sakuragi Island took almost half a day. The gamers gathered on the deck were discussing enthusiastically about their reflections on the light novels they had read over the past few days.

It was quite normal at first, until a player suddenly said,"

"Speaking of which, did you guys notice that the beginning of the novel is about the background? In the book, the flight route of these stories on the Astorokis is set to return to the Thousand Islands from the Flame Domain. Then do you think there's a possibility that our female lead is actually a...People from the Flame Domain?"

This player's comment stunned the other players from the North Tenth Branches. They really didn't pay much attention to the background, especially since it was at the beginning. They forgot about it after a few lines were swept past.

But now, with this reminder, it immediately triggered an intense discussion.

"Hiss...I really didn't pay much attention. Now that you mention it, it seems... It does make sense!

"F * ck! If this was true, it would be a huge discovery!"

"So, there's actually a foreshadowing for this plot?"

"Foreshadowing in the Flame Region? Why? Could it be that there was still a connection with the Flame Domain?"

At this moment, Yu Gege, one of the players in the closed beta, suddenly slapped his thigh.

This shocked the surrounding players. Everyone looked over strangely and saw an extremely excited Fish Pigeon that seemed to be about to jump up.

"Brothers, this is bad, this is bad! You guys reminded me, the Flame Domain...Foreshadowing...And it was a female character! Have you forgotten about the spicy woman?"

"Spicy...Spicy woman?" The other players from the North Ten Guild weren't beta players, so they didn't understand what Yu Gege meant.

Until...

"Vivian! Vivian! He was the most famous NPC in the Flame Domain during our closed beta! However, after the public beta testing, she suddenly disappeared without a trace. No matter how hard the players of the Flame Domain tried, they could not find Vivian!"

Yu Gege said as he walked around, trying to ease the excitement of discovering a big secret. However, all he got was the confused faces of his companions.

This made Yu Gege anxious, wanting to find someone they could talk to.

Coincidentally, among the players who knew Vivian very well, Yu Pigeon, who had gone through the closed beta, was ranked second.

“Sister Rongrong! See if my deduction is right! Was it very possible that the female protagonist from the Flame Field in the book was Vivian... Eh? Wait, wait a minute!

If according to what Sister Rongrong mentioned at the beginning, the female lead here is also a fox-faced witch, doesn't that mean!!!”

As Yu Gege spoke, her eyes widened again, as if a door to a new world was slowly opening in front of him.

However, just as he was about to peek at the colorful scene behind the mysterious door...

“Impossible!”

“Absolutely impossible!”

It came from the white-haired girl who was addressed as “Sister Rong Rong” by Yu Gege. She was not the biggest on the forum, but she was definitely one of the top ones who had done a lot of research on “Vivian”. Bi Wei Rong's firm rejection closed the door to this new world for Yu Gege.

“What...What?” Yu Gege looked at Bi Weirong with a dumbfounded expression.

He had never thought that he would be rejected. Moreover, looking at Sister Rongrong, she was still so...Unquestionable?

Indeed, Bi Weirong had to be unquestionable. She wanted to shut Yu Gege's mouth even though she knew that Yu Gege's guess was correct.

All the reasons came from another person present.

Bi Wei Rong glanced nervously at the Handsome Wolf Cub beside her. What made her heart sink was that the Handsome Wolf Cub looked like he was about to say something about what Yu Ge Ge had just said.

No!

She had to stop it!

He could not let the head of Vivian's anti-fans find out the truth. Not only would his previous efforts be in vain, but he would also let this guy find a new hot topic and start his anti-fan army again!
