

A NPC 671

Chapter 671: Stop at the Point (2)

Thinking of this, Bi Weirong said to Yu Gege, who was still in a state of “I don’t understand”, without any mercy,

“I’ve studied Vivian for so long. I’m very sure that she will never leave the Flame Domain. The idea of taking a boat to the Thousand Islands is even more ridiculous, so... Impossible! That’s impossible!”

“But, but...”

Seeing that Yu Gege still had the intention to retort, Bi Weirong was a little anxious. She glared at him fiercely and said some harsh words.

“What’s wrong? Do you understand Vivian or do I understand Vivian? ?”

“Alright... Alright then.”

Jade Weirong’s words made Fish Pigeon unable to refute. Since a professional guide blogger had said so, how could an ordinary player like him question it?

At most, she shrunk her neck and muttered in a low voice, “If you’re not, then you’re not. Why are you so fierce...”

Phew...

Seeing that Yu Gege had been suppressed by her authoritative aura, Bi Weirong peeked out of the corner of her eye and saw that the most handsome wolf beside her didn’t seem to have any intention of continuing this topic. Only then did Bi Weirong finally heave a sigh of relief.

On the other side.

What Bi Weirongrong didn't know was that the most handsome wolf cub that she had been so worried about had also felt his heart thump wildly when he heard Yu Gege's words.

That was close... That was close...

Liao Zixuan secretly loosened his grip on his sleeve.

He didn't expect that there would be people who had participated in the Flame Domain closed beta among the players on the ship. When Yu Pigeon said those words, Liao Zixuan was already prepared for Bi Wei Rong to discover the secret.

In the end...

Who would have thought that before Liao Zixuan could even try to save her, Bi Weirong would be the first to step forward and refute the rumors?

This time, Liao Zixuan couldn't do anything.

He could only sigh. Perhaps this was the so-called being unable to see clearly when involved? Perhaps Bi Weirong's impression of Vivian was too deep, or... Pure stupidity?

However, no matter what.

Such a situation was naturally what Liao Zixuan wanted to see.

However, just as Liao Zixuan was thinking about whether he should quickly find a new topic to divert everyone's attention away from this, in case Bi Weirong suddenly came back to her senses and realized something...

Before the first wave subsided, another wave rose.

A Gui Li player from the North Tenth Team seemed to be inspired and asked,

“That’s not right. Did you read the climax of the fight at the end of the novel? It’s the chapter where the female lead fights against Orochi. If I remember correctly, there’s a detailed description in the novel. Although it’s only a short sentence, it still said that the female lead summoned a phantom of a huge wolf to fight with her, right? Wasn’t Vivian from the Flame Domain also a Summoner, and her summoned creature was also a wolf?”

As soon as he said this, the players on the ship looked puzzled. They quickly opened the light novel and searched according to the position of the paragraph that the player had just mentioned.

After a while, exclamations could be heard.

“++! There really was such a part. You’re too thin!”

“Indeed. When I was watching here, I felt my blood boil. I didn’t pay much attention to the details of the fight.”

“The case has been solved. I’m afraid it’s not as Yu Gege said.”

Yu Gege nodded and looked at Bi Weirongrong with a wronged expression. It was as if she was saying, Sister Rongrong, now you know you’ve wronged me, right?

However, he did not know that Sister Rongrong’s heart at this moment could not be said to be completely silent. It could only be said to be dead ashes and despair.

Finished... It was over!

This was irrefutable evidence. How could she deny it?

According to the most handsome wolf's understanding of Vivian, at this time, it must also be...

“Wait a minute! Wait a minute, this brother's words are wrong! I think there's something wrong with what you said just now.”

“What?”

It wasn't just Yu Gege who was a type of player who had left, even Bi Wei Rong Rong was shocked by Liao Zixuan.

What did he mean?

“First of all, since you mentioned fighting, then you should know what the weapon the female protagonist uses in the book is. It's a chain claw! But what did Vivian use? It was a giant scythe!”

Shua!

Bi Wei's eyes lit up.

Right, right!

Because she wasn't a combat-oriented player, she had always been weak in this aspect and hadn't noticed this key difference. Now that she was pointed out by the most handsome wolf, she felt as if she had been pulled back from the edge of a cliff.

This was not the end. The most handsome wolf cub continued,

“In addition, you said that the female lead summoned the Shadow Wolf to fight with her. Let’s not talk about this description first. The amount of text in the novel is so insignificant.”

Liao Zixuan waved his hand as he spoke. Then, under the stunned expressions of the players on the ship, two Phantom Wolves surrounded him and disappeared with a wave of his hand.

“Yes, actually, summoned wolves are very common. It’s not just summoners. There are many other professions, such as shamans, druids, even thieves, and mages, who have similar skills.”

“Yuan... So that’s how it is...”

Fish Pigeon and the other players did not have a chance to retort, because Liao Zixuan revealed his level, Level 19!

For players like them who had barely reached Level 10, they could only be described as “ great gods.”

When such a high-level player came out to refute the rumor, Yu Pigeon finally gave up. At this point, the connection between the female protagonist and Vivian was over. No one dared to mention it again.

Chapter 672: Stop Here (3)

This made Bi Weizhong wave her little fists.

He couldn’t help but praise her from the bottom of his heart.

Well done, Little Wolf!

Err...

That was not right.

In that case, could it be that the female protagonist of this book was not Vivian?

No, absolutely impossible!

There must be something wrong that we don't know about! Yes! It must be like this!

Although her heart was still not shaken by Liao Zixuan's words, Bi Weirong still gave Liao Zixuan a very positive look on the surface. She even treated Liao Zixuan a little better out of some kind of secret joy and began to chat happily.

Liao Zixuan also secretly wiped his sweat. He gave 100 points to his perfect rescue in his heart. He pretended to cooperate with Bi Wei Rong, but in fact, the two of them had already changed the topic and talked happily.

In the end, only a group of players from the Northern Tenth Team were left. They were unhappy and filled with an indescribable feeling of grievance.

But there was no other way.

Who asked the two gods here to be so sure and confirm it?

Perhaps they were wrong?

After this small episode, as the Northern Cross fleet got closer and closer to Sakuragi Island, everyone's attention, except Liao Zixuan, who was already sick of it, was attracted by the scene of Sakuragi Island being covered by thunderstorms and dark clouds, as if the end of the world had arrived.

Nan, the captain of the fleet, stood at the highest point beside the mast, looking solemnly at the distant outline of Sakuragi Island.

She ordered all the crew members to be on standby. Things wouldn't be as easy as they were back at Deep Moon Island.

This was not Nan's first time on Sakuragi Island. She knew how terrifying this island was. Other than the lightning that filled the sky, the island was filled with terrifying mutated monsters and plants. If she was not careful, she might lose her life.

"Everyone, bring your weapons. We're ready to dock!"

Nan did not know if it was her imagination, but in her impression, she should have struggled to reach the shore in the stormy sea. However, the waves on Sakuragi Island were much smaller this time. The Northern Cross did not trouble her too much and successfully anchored.

This little change was not enough to make Nan let down her guard. After docking, Nan took the lead, looking like a big sister. She was the first to jump off the ship. The black iron greatsword in her hand flashed sharply, and Nan stood in front of her, looking around the environment on the coast.

"This..." Nan looked around at the empty coast and frowned slightly. In the end, she put away her greatsword.

That was because...Where's the monster?

Why couldn't she see any of them?

It was not like this when she first came to Sakuragi Island. Even if she wanted to land, she had to clear out the monsters wandering on the shore first.

As for the gamers on the ship, they were also very puzzled. Wasn't Sakuragi Island said to be both sinister and terrifying? Looking at it now, it seemed like the environment was a little scary?

However, it was as if he was about to slap his face.

Just as everyone relaxed a little, a tragic scream suddenly sounded from not far away.

“Aaaaaah!”

His voice was endless and touching. Anyone could hear the deep despair and pain contained in it.

“Not good, someone is in trouble. Go and save them!” Nan took the lead, followed closely by the crew members of the North Tenth Team and the players. They rushed to the place where the screams came from.

Fortunately, the distance was not very far. In just a few breaths, a player kneeling on the ground appeared in everyone’s sight.

Monster, where is the monster?

No, saving people was more important!

Just as Nan was about to rush over, the player who was still kneeling on the ground and immersed in grief cried out again.

“Ahhhhh! A top-grade weapon with double explosion and attack power, why did you give me all the defense power!”

Chapter 673: Is This Picture of You?_1

Dong dong dong...

“Boss Zhao, there’s a guest outside looking for you.”The messenger came to the door of the accounting room.

However, he was quickly beaten back by an impatient shout from inside.

“Didn’t I already say that it’s useless for those foreigners to come and find me again? There’s no refund rule for our equipment once it’s sold!”

“No, Boss Zhao, this time he’s not a foreigner. He seems to be from Guili...Fleet? Are you sure you don’t want to see him?”

As soon as the waiter finished his explanation, the sound of the bookkeeping in the room paused and then turned into a gasp.

“Wha... What?” Zhao Jie rushed to the door and sneakily opened it a little to let the waiter in.

“Hurry up and tell me clearly, what Gui Li’s fleet?”

It was the first time the waiter had seen his boss so panicked, as if something big had happened. He became nervous and stuttered,

“That’s right, not long ago, a group of people who claimed to be from Gui Li arrived at our Sakuragi Island. They seemed to have met a foreigner on the shore and heard from him that there were actually people doing business on Sakuragi Island, so they wanted to come over and get to know you, Boss. At the same time, they also wanted to buy some supplies.”

“Phew... Is that so...” Zhao Jie let out a long sigh after hearing the waiter’s words, and his heart finally relaxed a little.

When he heard that the Gui Li fleet was looking for him, his first reaction was to ask for a debt.

Now, it seemed that he had been overthinking.

Thinking about it, although he owed a lot of money, it was not to the point where he could send a fleet to go out to sea and capture him, right?

However, just in case, Zhao Jie asked,

Do they have a name?"

"Yes, I think it's called something...Northern Cross?" The waiter scratched his head uncertainly.

However, as someone who was born and raised in the country, Zhao Jie's last bit of worry was dispelled when he heard this name.

Northern Cross!

When he was still in Guili, this was a fleet that had already begun to show its brilliance. It was rumored that they often acted chivalrously at sea, robbing the rich and helping the poor. There were even storytellers who specially wrote stories about the Northern Cross.

Of course, Zhao Jie was completely at ease because everyone knew that the Northern Cross was not controlled by any government. It was an armed fleet of an independent force.

Zhao Jie clearly remembered that there were many officials in Guili and the Five Elements who had advocated for the Northern Cross to be incorporated or exterminated. The reason was that they could not allow such an unofficial armed force to wander out, which had caused the Northern Cross to be in a very bad situation.

It was a miracle that Northern Cross was still able to hold on until now after so many years.

"Quickly invite them in."

After getting Zhao Jie's permission, the waiter left. After a while, light footsteps came from outside the door.

Nan did not bring any other Northern Cross crew members or any other players. She came alone to see Zhao Jie.

While the two parties were exchanging greetings at the door, a wolf cub who had arrived in advance poked the little sparrow's butt with its paw.

In Wei...Under the enticement, Liao Zixuan successfully made Xinyan his eavesdropper. The little sparrow flashed and flew into Zhao Jie's room through the gap in the window.

"In that case, Mr. Zhao, did you just launch these production lines on Sakuragi Island not long ago?" Nan pretended to chat with Zhao Jie as she quietly closed the door after entering the house.

From the moment she saw Zhao Jie's face, Nan was certain that she had found the target that Zhao Yu'er had entrusted to her.

However, before she laid her cards on the table, Nan still had to help Zhao Yu'er test her father, who had abandoned his wife and daughter, to find out the other party's background.

If Zhao Jie was really a person with bad morals, bad character, and greed, Nan would take the initiative to give up on bringing Zhao Jie back to the Thousand Islands and pretend that nothing had happened.

Nan did not hesitate at all because she believed that Zhao Yu'er knew her well and knew that she would do this. That was why she had specially found her and asked her to do this commission.

After all, once family was involved, even the most powerful person would lose their judgment. This was the time for a "friend" like her to appear.

Right now, the Northern Cross was living a carefree life in Guili. Nan did not want to return to the days a few years ago when she was chased by the Five Elements.

Therefore, regardless of whether it was reasonable or not, she had to protect Zhao Yu-er. She would never let a scumbag father ruin a young girl who should have unlimited possibilities.

Ah, but reality was clearly not that heavy.

It was even more optimistic than Nan had imagined.

Zhao Jie was telling her about his business experience, and Nan had visited some workers in the Chamber of Commerce in private. She had observed the mental state of the workers along the way. Zhao Jie, as the boss, had a good score in Nan's heart.

She did not engage in illegal activities, never bullied workers, the system of rewards and punishments in the Chamber of Commerce was clear, and the regulations were clear. All of these made Nan vaguely see Zhao Yuer's shadow in this middle-aged uncle opposite her.

“So, Lord Nan, do you understand now? Although we have just been established not long ago, everything is very complete. The foreigners are even full of praise for our equipment. Almost everyone is a repeat customer. In front of the equipment we smith, they simply can't control their hands!”

Chapter 674: Is This Picture of You?_2

“Since we're fated to meet today, the famous Northern Cross is able to come to our Sakuragi Island, and it also allowed me to befriend a female hero like you. I, Zhao Jie, will pay a fortune to celebrate! No matter how much equipment and supplies you order from us, Lord Nan, we will reduce the price by 30%! I, Zhao Jie, said it!”

Oh.

And her marketing skills were the same as that down-and-out little girl when he first met Zhao Yuer...

Nan shook her head. After she recalled her memories, she ignored Zhao Jie's offer to lure her into handing over the equipment order for the Northern Tenth Manor. Nan interrupted,

“Mr. Zhao Jie, I really admire you for being able to do business overseas and expand our market overseas. However, I'm a little curious. What about your family?”

“Ah? Oh, this...” Zhao Jie instantly lost the fluency that he had when he was promoting earlier.

He hesitated for two to three seconds before forcing a smile and said, “Yes, that's right. I've brought them to the Thousand-island too, but of course, I can't let them follow me to Cherry Tree Island. It's too dangerous, so they're on the Moon Abyss Island now.”

“Lord Nan, why are you...Suddenly mentioning this?” A bad feeling rose in Zhao Jie's heart, and he quickly turned around to probe.

“Oh, it's nothing. I just suddenly remembered that our Northern Cross received a commission previously. It said that we were looking for a businessman who abandoned his wife and daughter and fled overseas.”

Nan smiled at Zhao Jie as she spoke. The middle-aged man opposite her had a drastic change in expression. He was so frightened that he stood up from his chair.

Nan ignored Zhao Jie and leisurely sipped the tea on the table before continuing,

“And Mr. Zhao Jie, do you know what's even more coincidental? The name of the businessman on the commission is exactly the same as yours!”

The room fell into a dead silence.

Bean-sized beads of sweat rolled down Zhao Jie's cheeks.

However, Zhao Jie's reaction was also very fast. It could be said that after the shock, he realized that this was not Guili Island, but the Thousand Islands. This was his son-in-law's territory, and it was his territory!

I'm not afraid!

What was there to be afraid of!

Thinking of this, Zhao Jie suddenly became bold.

"Oh?" There's actually such a coincidence. Don't worry, Lord Nan. I, Zhao Jie, have some connections in the Thousand Islands. If I find a Gui Liren with the same name as me, I'll inform Northern Cross immediately."

Heh.

He was quite thick-skinned.

Nan smiled inwardly. Without waiting for Zhao Jie to speak, she took out a scroll from her waist.

"This is...?" Zhao Jie's heart skipped a beat.

"I forgot to tell you, Boss Zhao. At that time, the commission also came with a photo of the escaping businessman taken with a video camera. Although I, Nan, was indeed wearing an eye mask and could only see with one eye, I kept feeling that this photo was somewhat similar to you, Boss Zhao."

"Come, Boss Zhao, you have good eyesight, unlike me. Come and take a look. Is the person in this photo you?"

Nan stood up and slowly opened the scroll in front of Zhao Jie, revealing a man who looked at least 70 – 80% similar to Zhao Jie.

Zhao Jie recognized it at a glance. This was a photo he had taken in the photo studio more than 20 years ago before Xing 'er was born. The person in the photo was him when he was young.

But...

“How is it? Is this photo of you?”

“It wasn't me.”

“Not you?” Nan repeated in a heavy tone.

On the other side, Zhao Jie even took the initiative to stand next to the scroll and leaned his face over to compare it with his younger self 20 years ago. Then, he said fearlessly,

“It wasn't me.”

Humph.

So what if you're the captain of the Northern Cross?

Could it be that you kidnapped me from Sakuragi Island?

However, what Nan said made Zhao Jie's eyes widen.

“So it's like this...” That's a pity. This commission was originally for us to tell this businessman that his debts have been cleared for a long time and to bring him back to Guili. But since Boss Zhao said that the person in this photo is not...”

Nan shook her head. Before she could finish her sentence, her hand that was about to retract the photo was pressed down by Zhao Jie.

Immediately after, there was an anxious shout.

“It’s me!”

“Eh? The person in this photo is you again?” Nan pretended to be surprised.

“But look at this face shape...”

“Yes, I was still very thin at that time.” Zhao Jie blurted out without thinking.

Nan pretended to compare it carefully again, as if she was taking revenge. She shook her head.

“No, I don’t think this is you.”

“Are you saying this is not the case?”

Zhao Jie could also tell that Nan was deliberately provoking him. Furthermore, this was a serious matter, so Zhao Jie could no longer tolerate it.

He stopped pretending.

He wanted to show his cards.

“Alright! Lord Nan, let me tell you, regardless of whether this photo is of me or not, you have to make things clear today, or else...Don’t even think about leaving Sakuragi Island!”

“Oh?” Facing Zhao Jie’s fury and harsh words, Nan wasn’t afraid. Instead, she seemed to be interested.

“Then I still want to leave. How are you going to stop me? Do you think you can still stand those foreigners outside?”

“Hmph, Lord Nan, don’t be so stubborn. I know you’re skilled in martial arts, and the Northern Tenth Titans are famous, but no matter how powerful you are, can you compare to the Five Elements?”

As soon as Zhao Jie said that, the wolf cub who was eavesdropping by leaning on Xinyan outside the room immediately covered his face with his palm.

“Five Elements...Gui Li Five Elements?”

Zhao Jie’s words really stunned Nan. Nan subconsciously thought that Zhao Jie knew his daughter’s identity.

Until...

The next sentence.

“Lord Nan, let me warn you. My son-in-law is a person of the five elements and is a higher-up of Black Tortoise Pass. That’s our Gui Li’s specialized external organization.”

Nan was speechless.

Nan, who had been leading him by the nose during the entire conversation, widened his eyes in disbelief when he heard what the legendary leader of the North Tenth Team said.

This made Zhao Jie even more confident and confident.

He enjoyed Nan's expression very much and could not help but want to show off more of his son-in-law's power and glorious deeds.

“Since you've come to the Thousand Islands, you've heard about the recent events, right? I'm not exaggerating to say that if my son-in-law wasn't here, hmph... Now the thousand island that three pursue also point uncertain what kind of chaos!”

“Another example is the current Sakuragi Island. If it weren't for the fact that my son-in-law isn't here, and... Cough, with that assisting colleague around, how could there be such a scene!”

“Hey, hey, are you listening?”

Zhao Jie banged the table a few times and finally pulled Nan back from her shock.

After that, Nan's reaction was not to ask, but to be furious.

“Son-in-law, Zhao Jie, you...Did you find a new wife in Thousand Islands and have a daughter? ?”Nan pointed at Zhao Jie's nose and almost pulled out his sword.

Fortunately, when Zhao Jie heard this, he was even more excited than her. He blushed and said angrily, “Bullshit! How could I, Zhao Jie, be that kind of person! I will only have one wife and one daughter in this life! I... No!

Wait a minute, why are you using the again? How did you know I have a daughter?”

The situation was about to go out of control and develop to the extreme.

Originally, the wolf cub said that he wanted to intervene and clarify things.

However, he did not expect it.

Boom!

The ground of Sakuragi Island under their feet suddenly trembled violently.

Earthquake?

No!

The little wolf cub hurriedly ran to a high place outside the camp. Looking around, he saw that in the depths of Sakuragi Island, the ground was beginning to crack, and the dense curse aura turned into mutated monsters.

This time, they were no longer wandering around like wild monsters. Instead, they all turned their gazes towards the newly built base camp on Sakuragi Island. They charged towards the camp and attacked.

Chapter 675: Go Up!

What was going on?

Nan reacted quickly and caught Zhao Jie, who had almost fallen from the shaking.

Then, like many people in the Chamber of Commerce, she quickly ran out of the house in the encampment.

Compared to the other workers who were still at a loss and looking around in confusion, Nan took a deep breath and secretly circulated the cultivation technique in her body. Her entire aura instantly changed.

Then, she reached out and removed her right eye that had been covered with an eye mask. Zhao Jie, who was following closely behind, realized that Nan's right eye was actually purple. Under a closer look, there seemed to be lightning flashing in the depths of her pupil.

"Don't stare at my eye!" It was only when Nan Shi shouted to stop him that Zhao Jie woke up and quickly looked away.

However, just these two to three seconds still brought waves of stabbing pain to Zhao Jie, causing his heart to palpitate endlessly. He no longer dared to look him in the eye.

On the other side, Nan, who had completely activated her immortal secret technique, had a purple glow of lightning shining from her right eye, greatly enhancing her vision. Even though she was in the camp, she could still see dozens of miles away.

However, this did not make Nan's expression relax. Instead, she frowned even more and her entire body tensed up.

Demonic beasts and devils...A vast number of monsters and demons

They crawled out from the cracks in the ground like spirits of the dead. Every single one of them seemed to have set their sights on the encampment at the same time, forming a huge demon wave that made Nan tremble in fear.

The lightning in her purple eyes faded. Nan quickly covered her right eye with the blindfold again and spoke to Zhao Shuo very quickly,"

"I don't know what happened here, but... A large number of monsters are attacking us now!"

After Jian Jie told Zhao Jie about the current situation, Nan made a judgment immediately.

“Hurry up and leave! Follow me to the shore, we’ll leave on the Northern Cross!” According to the speed of the demon horde, there should be two to three minutes before they arrived. Although it was very short, it was enough for them to retreat.

However, just as Nan was about to pull Zhao Jie and the other members of the Northern Cross back to the ship, he did not expect Zhao Yu ‘er’s father to stay behind.

“If you want to leave, then leave. I’m not leaving!” Facing Nan’s confused and anxious eyes, although Zhao Jie’s legs were trembling after knowing the source of the earthquake, he still said the bravest words in the most afraid tone.

“You... Are you crazy?”

Nan suspected that she did not express herself clearly just now, so she quickly described the scene of the terrifying demon tide in the distance that she saw with her “Purple Extreme Eye” to Zhao Jie. However, Nan still received Zhao Jie’s shake of his head.

“I can’t leave! My Chamber of Commerce, my friends, and my workers are still here! What will happen to them if I leave! Also, there was...I, I believe that we will be fine!”

“You!” A wave of anger rose from Nan.

She had indeed said in her heart that she wanted to observe Zhao Jie’s character, but not at this juncture!

Furthermore, Nan felt that what really made Zhao Jie choose to stay was actually the last part of his sentence. Zhao Jie believed in the encampment and believed that they could defend this place.

“Big Sister!” While the two of them were arguing, the rest of the crew from the North Tenth Battalion had already taken the initiative to find Nan in the chaotic crowd and approached him.

One could see the nervousness on the faces of these crew members, but they did not panic. They were all quietly waiting for Nan's orders. It was obvious that they were well-trained and had dealt with many similar crisis situations.

The pressure immediately came to Nan's side. Now, there were two options in front of her.

He could either choose to believe Zhao Jie and bet on the defensive power of this encampment, or he could take out the greatsword on his back and knock Zhao Jie unconscious before forcefully carrying him onto the ship.

As for leaving Zhao Jie to fend for himself, Nan did not even consider it. If they really did that, their Northern Cross would never be able to survive in Guili.

Although the other crew members did not say anything, it was obvious from their expressions that no one believed that this station, which did not even have any official forces, could have the defensive power to resist the demon tide.

However, Nan's final decision made them want to say something, but they hesitated.

Nan had been sailing on the sea for many years, and he had led the Northern Cross to conquer the sea regardless of how many storms there were. This was partly due to his experience, but it was also due to his innate intuition. He had an intuition for the changes in the sea.

And now, Nan's tidal intuition told her...

"You guys go back to the boat first. Abin, Old Li, once you get on the boat, immediately turn on that thing and be ready to start at any time! The rest of you, stay alert around the hull."

"... Yes, Big Sister!"

Under Nan's orders, the Northern Cross crew had no choice but to execute...Oh, sorry, except for the newly joined foreign crew.

“Big Sister, we’ll stay with you!” Fish Pigeon and the other players pulled out their weapons and rubbed their fists as they pleaded to Nan in unison.

The ships on the shore were indeed relatively safer, but for the players, safety was not something they had to consider. Something big had obviously happened on Sakuragi Island, so how could they miss out on such a crucial storyline?

“Shut up! Have you forgotten the rules?” Nan’s female assistant was the first to shout at the players.

Chapter 676: The Number 2

However, Nan quickly stretched out her hand and interrupted him.

Nan looked at the players who were ready to go. They did not seem nervous at all. Instead, they were all eager to fight the demon wave. Nan did not waste any time and nodded in agreement.

She pulled out the black iron greatsword on her back and stabbed it into the ground. She looked at the demonic beasts and monsters that had appeared in the distance of the encampment while they were talking.

Nan secretly made up her mind to observe the defensive strength of the encampment first. If it could barely hold on, then she would give her full support due to her relationship with Zhao Jie. However, if the difference was too great, Nan would not hesitate to knock Zhao Jie unconscious and execute the second plan.

Just as Nan was feeling uneasy about her bold and risky decision...

At the same time, on the other side.

“Xiao Hei!”

The fox-faced witch appeared beside the wolf cubs on the high slope. Then, she looked at the monster tide formed by the mutated cursed creatures in the distance with the wolf cubs.

Such a big commotion naturally alarmed Vivian. After the meeting, the little girl expressed her intention to jump down and take the initiative to attack the monster, but was stopped by the wolf cubs.

Faced with Vivian's anxious and puzzled eyes, the wolf cub observed the little girl and waved its paws at her.

I know you're anxious, but don't be anxious.

Perhaps Vivian's impression of the players on Sakuragi Island was still at the beginning, the weak ones who were tortured by the netherworld environment of the island.

But now, the wolf cubs felt that this was an opportunity for Vivian and the fox-faced witch to see that the group of people who were crying and crying in the past were now under the care of her as a "mother"... What level had he reached?

[Ding, your 'Survive' mission has entered the next phase. Please pay attention to the update notification.]

A system notification sounded in the minds of all the players on Sakuragi Island. Immediately after, the word "New" flashed continuously in the quest bar.

After the player clicked on it, the new mission for the next phase appeared automatically.

[Defend the Sakura Metal Mine]

[Mission Details: With your hard work and the help of the fox-faced witch, you are no longer the same as before. You are no longer the weak ones who just landed on the island. Now that the curse on Sakuragi Island is fading day by day, the curse power has a sense of crisis. It chose this time to create countless monsters and attack your newly built camp, wanting to kill you in the cradle.]

[Outsider, it's time to pick up your weapons and stand up bravely. Tell the fox-faced witch who underestimated you back then that you no longer need the protection of others. It's even your turn to become the tall figure in front of the monster!]

[Mission objective: Protect the colony from damage. The total damage rate and damage rate must not exceed 30%]

[Hint: The current integrity of each zone in the colony: Forging Furnace (100%), Item House (100%), Smelting Factory (100%), Training Ground (100%), Worker's Residence (100%)...]

[Mission Reward: 20 EXP * Number of monsters killed]

[Additional prize pool reward: 900,000 experience points]

[Hint: Ranking will be based on the number of participants and the number of cursed aberrations killed by an individual. If the mission fails, the group will lose the reward. If the mission succeeds, the prize pool will be divided according to the ranking.]

[Hint 2: You can choose to form a team during the mission and participate in the ranking as a group. The subsequent prize pool experience points will be distributed according to your group ranking.]

(Current ranking of your team: 40836)

F * ck!

Exclamations of surprise rang out from the players' mouths.

Although the reward for this mission was only EXP, it was too much! The basic reward alone was equivalent to an additional 200 EXP for every monster killed. After all, a normal monster only gave 40 to 50 EXP.

Not to mention the prize pool reward, 900,000! Looking at the rules of the prize pool allocation, the team ranked first would receive 45.5% of the prize pool experience points!

What kind of concept was this? It was more than 400,000 experience points!

The various large guilds were going crazy. They started to call for players. Everyone wanted to fight for a higher ranking. There were also many independent players who were also jealous. They started to open their friend list that they had not looked at for ten thousand years, seeking to form a party.

“Brother, hurry up and use your number!”

“Stop f * cking watching the movie. There’s a new plot. Hurry up and log in!”

“Honey, you don’t have to cook for me tonight. Ah... Yes, there’s something going on at the company, so I have to work overtime all night. Sigh, it’s fine. It’s not hard. It’s all for the sake of the family, mua~”

“Dear readers, I’m sorry. Today, my body is particularly uncomfortable. I have diarrhea. Now, I’m still in the hospital. I’m really sorry. Today, I might need pigeons. Don’t wait.””

“No. Understand?”

Many games might have millions or even tens of millions of registered players on the surface, but the actual number of people online every day might only be one-tenth or even less. As a large-scale online game, God Fall was the same, not to mention that it was at a specific time.

Therefore, there were not many players on Sakuragi Island, especially near the encampment. However, with one communication after another, one excuse after another, and one lie after another.

Swoosh swoosh swoosh swoosh!

Countless white lights that symbolized “landing” began to flash wildly around the camp. Outlander players who were summoned by the guild leader/guild leader/gay friend/Ji friend kept appearing from within.

The big mutt looked at the “ Current number of participants in the prize pool ” that would increase by a few hundred with every refresh. His blood began to boil. However, it was not because of the generous prize pool rewards, but because he felt that this was an opportunity to prove themselves and to the fox-faced witch. Therefore, the mutt gang was determined to win the first place!

“Go!”

If there were statistics, one would find that this word had become the most frequently used word in the chat box of all the Sakuragi Island players at this moment.

So...

Just like that, a scene that Nan had never seen before appeared.

Just as she was nervous and ready to face the enemy, the ground suddenly shook violently again.

What was that?

Could it be that the enemy had also come from the back of the camp? Why didn't she sense it?

When Nan suddenly turned around, she was stunned for a moment because what she saw was also a “ tide “. However, this time, the tide was not formed by monsters, but by... Foreigner!

How... How was this possible?

Where did so many foreigners come from? ?

While Nan's brain was still working, the tide of foreigners, just like what she had seen in countless voyages, overpowered the tide of cursed aberrations, blocking them a few hundred meters away from the gathering place, unable to enter at all.

This was not only because of the number of foreigners, but also the strength of these foreigners. They were not completely different from the ones she had seen in Gui Li. They were not the same breed.

Shua!

Nan saw an arrow that was rich in ice elements shot out from the hands of a foreigner who was the leader of a small group. Then, it exploded in the monster tide. Just one arrow alone froze several monsters into ice dregs.

The outlanders were still cheering, "Boss is awesome, one arrow damage over 1,000!", "Do you know the value of a top-grade Sudden Damage Head!", "The first place this time will definitely be ours!"

Nan also saw an Assassin. Yes, it was the one they had encountered by the coast. Now, he was actually holding down six or seven monsters by himself. No matter how the monsters attacked the Assassin, it was as if he was tickling them.

His companions even cheered,"

"Critical damage? What use was that? How could he be a match for an assassin with full defense!"

"Is this the toughness of all equipment that has a crooked defense? Too ruthless! Monsters don't even lose HP when they hit him!"

"Hold on, hold on! Let's surround Brother Kai, the tank assassin, and attack with all our might!"

"All of you, f * cking remember this...Forget it, f * ck! It seems to be quite satisfying, hahahaha!"The assassin was crying and laughing at the same time.

Nan was speechless.

This was...Battlefield?

Why was it so different from what she had imagined?

Chapter 677: Miss Nan, You Don't Want to...

“Hmph, how is it, Miss Nan? Have you seen the power of our Sakuragi Island?” Zhao Jie’s smug voice was transmitted into Nan’s ears.

Nan glanced at the middle-aged man, who was trembling in fear at the beginning and could not even speak properly, but now, he had his hands on his hips, his belly sticking out, and a valiant and proud look on his face.

He even quickly found a high platform for the company. After climbing up, he began to appeal to the surrounding workers and staff who had run out of the chamber of commerce to take refuge.

“Big guy! Are we going to watch helplessly as others fight the monsters at the front line while we do nothing at the back and only tremble in fear?”

“No, I can’t! Move out! Let’s take action! Don’t be afraid, we have such a group of powerful warriors protecting us, we have nothing to be afraid of! What we should do now is to resume production!

Return to your respective posts! To provide the best supplies for the soldiers!”

Nan finally knew where Zhao Yu’s eloquent mouth came from.

Under Zhao Jie’s instigation and encouragement, the workers of the Chamber of Commerce actually overcame their fear. Even though there were countless monsters on the battlefield a few hundred meters away, they actually began to return to their work stations one by one, allowing the various facilities in the entire camp to operate again.

“Big Sister, we can’t...” Even the players from Guili who were on the Northern Cross beside Lian Nan were moved by Zhao Jie’s speech.

In addition, Fish Pigeon and the others were envious of the players from Sakuragi Island who were killing the monsters in all directions. They could not sit still and wished that they could go up and kill them.

Nan hesitated for a moment. The reason why she left the foreigner behind was to strengthen the defense and protect Zhao Jie. However, from the looks of it, it seemed that she and her group were not needed at all.

“Go, this opportunity is hard to come by. Treat it as tempering yourself.” Nan wasn’t a rigid person. She approved the players to join the battlefield with a wave of her hand.

After getting Nan’s permission, Yu Pigeon and the others were very excited. It was a pity that they belonged to the Northern Tenth Team and could not get the rewards of the storyline quest like the Sakuragi Island players.

Perhaps Nan had also noticed this, so she suddenly called out to the players.

“Remember, since you have chosen to participate in the battle, don’t forget that you represent our Northern Cross. No matter how strong you are, at least you can’t lose out to them in terms of momentum!”

“I will be watching you from behind. The one who performs the most heroically will be greatly rewarded when you return!”

After Nan’s words of encouragement, the players of the Northern Tenth Guild also received a notification of a new mission. Although the rewards were far inferior to the Sakuragi Island players, it was still considered generous for them.

“Yes, sir! Big Sister! He definitely won’t embarrass the Northern Cross!”

As expected, quests were the best stimulants for players. Fish Pigeon and the others immediately rushed forward as if they had been injected with chicken blood.

Unfortunately, when it came to fighting the monsters in close combat, even an outsider like Zhao Jie could see how obvious the difference between the two sides was.

Usually, Sakuragi Island players could deal with two or three monsters by themselves. Some of the more powerful ones, such as the guild leaders and independent team leaders, could take on ten monsters at once.

On the other hand, the Northern Cross’s Gui Li players were indeed imposing and did not embarrass Nan. However, their strength was visible to the naked eye. Four or five crew members ganged up on a monster and would occasionally fail.

On one hand, the players from Gui Li were unfamiliar with the Cursed Monsters. On the other hand, their levels and equipment were indeed behind the players from Sakuragi Island who had been in deep trouble.

Zhao Jie saw this scene and was happy in his heart. He became even more arrogant and proud of Nan.

He even sent out messages such as:

“Miss Nan, you don’t want your Northern Cross members to be looked down upon by other foreigners, right?”

“If you choose our weapons and armor now, I can give you a 20% discount! I guarantee that your subordinates will immediately become brand new and their combat strength will soar!”

Nan’s eyebrows jumped when she heard Zhao Jie’s words. The hand that was holding the big sword could not help but clench a little. She kept repeating in her heart that this was Zhao Yu ‘er’s father. After suppressing her instincts, she could not help but ask,

“Didn’t you say that you would give us a discount of 30% at the beginning?”

“Hmph, that was the beginning. Now is the present. There’s only one thing about doing business. You have to learn to seize the right opportunity!” Zhao Jie had the look of a profiteer.

Nan was speechless.

Fortunately, just as she was preparing to tell Zhao Yu ‘er how her father had “ accidentally ” died, the situation outside suddenly changed!

After realizing that it was impossible to defeat the outlanders ‘defense line with numbers, the original will of the curse began to change its strategy.

One after another, the cursed aberrations stopped fighting the players and turned to crazily gather at a certain parent body.

This was not the first time that the players of the Sakura Island had seen such a scene. Back when the fox-masked witch had first appeared, the cursed aberrations in the battle CG had also used the same move,” Fusion.”

In the blink of an eye, a Level 40 Boss [Distorted Giant] that was two to three stories tall appeared in the players ‘field of vision.

Chapter 678: Miss Nan, You Don’t Want to...

It stretched out its leg and stepped on the unlucky players nearby, turning them into white light. They were instantly killed without even having the strength to resist.

Since they couldn't fight it, they quickly distanced themselves from it and used ranged attacks. However, when the players' arrows and magic hit the giant monster, it was like a tickle. The thick HP bar didn't even drop.

In an instant, the situation seemed to have been reversed. The players could not even stop the "giant species", let alone deal damage. They could only watch as the monster boss strode towards their base.

Weng!

The sound of the sword reverberated faintly.

Nan lifted her black greatsword from the ground. She ignored the middle-aged man who was scared and shamelessly hiding behind her. Nan's left eye stared in the direction of the mutated giant.

Obviously, with the strength of the outlanders, they were helpless against this big guy.

Nan was ready to make a move.

Whoosh!

Taking a deep breath, Nan quickly circulated the martial arts in her body and adjusted her condition for the upcoming battle.

Although a monster of this level was not much of a threat to her, it was still difficult to defeat the monster when it only wanted to charge into the encampment and destroy it.

"What?!" Nan was still calculating the moves she was going to use when a bloody light flew past her field of vision, causing her to cry out in surprise.

The cry of surprise did not come from the scene where the blood flew past, but from the next one.

The blood-red light that shot out from the camp was aimed straight at the head of the giant mutated beast. At this moment, not only Nan, but also many players could see clearly that the blood-red light was actually a long spear, a blood-red long spear.

It seemed to be unstoppable as it pierced through the giant's head, leaving a terrifying hole in its head.

Boom!

Its huge body collapsed, and countless curses turned into black smoke that dissipated into the air.

Instant kill.

Without a doubt, it was an instant kill.

The players were shocked. Nan narrowed her eyes and looked up at the spot where the bloody light had just passed.

In the air, there was a thin, pale-faced young man who had appeared with the blood-red spear.

“ohhhh!”

“It's Lord Owl! Lord Owl has made his move!”

“F * ck! Is this for real? Although I know that the instructor of our faction is definitely very powerful, this is too exaggerated!”

“Seconds?”

“Isn't this javelin too f * cking cool? It even had displacement? We can also learn how to be a!”

“Hubby is so handsome!”

However, the pale young man did not relax after killing the giant monster. Instead, he looked at the depths of the monster tide in the distance.

When the players looked over, the joy of killing the BOSS disappeared instantly. They could only see a thick layer of dark clouds moving rapidly in the distant sky.

When the “dark cloud” got closer, everyone could see clearly that it was not a dark cloud, but a wave of flying cursed aberrations.

The players could still block the monsters on the ground, but if it was in the sky...

Ji!

Suddenly, a loud and clear cry resounded through the battlefield, echoing in everyone’s ears.

Everyone only saw a cluster of hot flames rising from the encampment and dyeing the sky above them red in the blink of an eye.

A phoenix flew into the sky and charged toward the dark cloud with a high aura.

In just a few seconds, the dark clouds turned into burning clouds in the eyes of the players.

Seeing that there was nothing left for him to do, the pale-faced young man flicked his wrist, and the blood spear turned into liquid and fused into his body. The young man himself slowly landed back into the camp.

“That was... What?”

“Phoenix? Firebird? Wait a minute, do you still remember the fox-faced witch and the phoenix clan mentioned in the stone tablet story?”

“It’s that little sparrow that often appears in the Witch’s sleeve!”

“++! Good fellow! I can see that although there aren’t many NPCs in our camp, every one of them seems to be a god!”

Cheers rose and fell from the outlanders on the battlefield. Nan also stabbed the greatsword in her hand back into the ground. Then, she glanced at the spirited uncle, Zhao Jie, whose expression had changed faster than flipping a book.

“Boss Zhao, could this be the person you mentioned earlier... Son-in-law?” Nan felt that Owl’s age and strength matched the person that Zhao Jie had been boasting about.

However, after Zhao Jie heard this, he sneered in disdain. He clicked his tongue and waved his fingers in front of Nan.

“Miss Nan, I don’t want to criticize you, but you’re the captain of the North Tenth Battalion, a big shot. Do you think that a brat like that can catch my eye? Can he make me willingly entrust my daughter to him?”

Nan was speechless.

Little brat?

“Let me tell you the truth. Xiao is quite strong, but his personality is really not good. He’s usually like a stuffy gourd. He doesn’t bother with anyone and doesn’t like to talk. My son-in-law has educated him several times, but what’s the result? He just wouldn’t change! Sigh, it couldn’t be helped. Perhaps this was the child’s personality.”

“And that little sparrow just now was raised by my son-in-law’s junior colleague. My son-in-law said that he wanted to give me one to raise for fun, but I rejected it. The Chamber of Commerce is really too busy.”

Zhao Jie commented earnestly like an elder.

But in reality, even a fool could see that he was showing off.

” Yes, Miss Nan, if you want to order equipment for your North Cross team members, please do so as soon as possible. Otherwise, you won’t even get a 10% discount now.””

Zhao Jie smiled as he looked at Nan, who looked murderous but helpless against him. He was extremely pleased with himself.

If he had known that his son-in-law’s colleagues were all so fierce, he would not have needed to be afraid of others!

Humph!

You like to test me with debts, right? ?

So what if you’re the captain of the North Ten? Today, you are in my territory on Sakuragi Island. If you don’t leave the information and the order, don’t even think about leaving!

Zhao Jie was the embodiment of the phrase ‘a fox using a tiger’s power’.

However, Nan was not as angry this time.

That was because...

Nan's ears twitched, and then he looked up at the sky. There was only an ordinary goshawk there. After flying around in a circle, it flew back to the coast.

A smile appeared on Nan's face.

“Boss Zhao, after this battle, I have indeed acknowledged your forging skills. I also have the intention to order some as reserves. However, as for the price...”

Nan suddenly turned her head away and pulled down the blindfold on her right eye again. At the same time, she raised the sword on the ground high.

Just as Zhao Jie was shocked and thought that Nan was up to no good, Nan's right eye glowed brightly with purple light. Then, he waved his heavy sword with one hand and pointed the tip of the sword at a certain place in the depths of the monster tide.

” Secret technique: Thunder Seal!”

If one were to look into the depths of the monster horde, they would discover that the culprit of this disaster was the crack in the ground where the monsters were constantly surging out. There was a diamond-shaped lightning elemental mark above the large crack.

Although it was very faint, it was enough.

Nan looked at the confused Zhao Jie and snapped her fingers in his ear.

“Annihilation Star...Open fire!”

Open fire?

What cannon?

Open...

Boom! Boom!

Before Zhao Jie could react to Nan's slogan, the deafening roar made his brain freeze.

Soon after, a bright white light that broke through the purple clouds on Sakuragi Island streaked across the sky like a dazzling meteor from the coast...

In the end, it was like a falling meteorite, carrying with it a surging heat wave and impact, smashing into the deepest part of the monster tide.

Bang!

Chapter 679: I Refuse!_1

What happened?

What happened?

Happened...

He believed that everyone present on Sakuragi Island had the same thought in their minds.

The wolf cubs were no exception.

He and Vivian hurried to the place where the "meteor" launched from the coast fell, which was the source of the mutated monster disaster.

When they arrived, they were stunned by the scene.

They saw that the ground crack that was the mother nest of the cursed monster that spat out the monster in the first place was directly flattened.

The "flat land" here was just a metaphor. If it was compared to the surrounding terrain, the real situation was a huge crater with a radius of about a playground. It was unknown how deep it was.

The air was filled with a burning smell. Looking around, it was no longer the base camp of the monster disaster. The wolf cubs could not even see the shadow of half a mutated monster. They were all turned into ashes by this cannon.

The power of this attack might not be the strongest that the little wolf cub had ever seen, but it was definitely in the top five. What made the little wolf cub even more surprised was...

Distance!

It was at least tens of kilometers from the coast to here.

This shot was both powerful and effective. It could be said that it was a precise strike. It was not difficult for the wolf cubs to see that the center of the explosion happened to be the crack nest.

Northern Cross!

There was no need to think about it. This was definitely the work of "Nan". No one else on Sakuragi Island could be so capable.

Hiss...

He had really underestimated this legendary fleet of Guili!

In Version 3.0 of the game in his previous life, the players had just advanced to the third country. In the main storyline of Gui Li," The Godslayer ", perhaps because the story had not yet begun, the Northern Cross fleet did not appear in the players 'field of vision many times, so Liao Zixuan did not know much about it.

He only knew that this fleet was very famous and was secretly supported by Qilin Pavilion, one of the five elements. He did not have much of an impression of the rest.

But now it seemed...

Just being able to fire this shot made their status in Liao Zixuan's heart begin to rise rapidly.

After all...

Since this unknown cannon could be installed on a ship, it should be no problem for it to be placed on land, right?

If he could get this cannon from Northern Cross and Nan...

Of course, Liao Zixuan did not expect Nan to directly unload this strategic weapon and give it to him. However, even if he only got the blueprint, he was confident that he could rely on the players to rebuild it.

Then when the time came...

If he was a little greedier, he could send another one to Liz of the Flame Domain and place it in her Count's territory.

It was simply full of deterrence!

In the future, even if the little girl and herself were in a foreign country, these places that belonged to their sphere of influence would have enough power to protect themselves.

Thinking of this, the wolf cub's heart immediately began to burn.

The wolf cub had originally planned to lay his cards on the table with Zhao Jie, apologize, and make things clear. It was never too late to make amends, but the wolf cub had also suppressed his thoughts.

After all, whether or not we can get the blueprint of this cannon depends on you!

Father-in-law!

After Nan bombarded the crack in the Cursed Mother Nest, it also symbolized that the emergency plot of the "monster siege" on Sakuragi Island had come to an end.

When the Players had cleared the remaining cursed aberrations on the battlefield, no new monsters emerged after losing the production of the Mother Nest's crack. This completely declared the end of the battle.

All the players on Sakuragi Island had their eyes on the map, attracting countless attention and curiosity. It could be said that the map had become a hit hit.

Fish Pigeon and the other Northern Cross players were originally disappointed and envious because they had discovered the huge difference in strength between them and the Thousand Islands players in the previous battle against the monster tide. In the end, they were now saying, "Big Sister is awesome!" shouted excitedly.

They really didn't know that the Northern Cross, which they had been on for almost a month, had such a terrifying long-range weapon.

As the tide rose, this group of players became popular in the encampment. Many players surrounded them and asked them questions.

Of course, there were also a small number of Sakuragi Island players who complained. They said that they hadn't had enough of such a good opportunity to level up and kill monsters because of the cannon fire of the North Tenth Guild.

But overall, Nan had successfully explained what it meant to amaze the world with a single brilliant feat.

This effect wasn't limited to the players, but it was even more so for the natives.

Zhao Chamber of Commerce.

Sakuragi Island Branch Residence.

In the VIP reception room.

“Come, Miss Nan, you have to taste this Dongye tea. Although our Guili tea is definitely better, it's not bad to change the taste occasionally and have a little exotic flavor.”

In the room, a middle-aged man was all smiles. He poured hot tea for the one-eyed woman sitting opposite him on the sofa in an extremely hospitable manner.

Unfortunately, the woman did not drink it. Instead, she shook her head and said,

” Boss Zhao, I can't have anything on my mind. Otherwise, I won't even be able to drink tea. You've seen the foreigners who have just joined with Northern Cross. I've been worrying about where to get them a new batch of good people. Sigh...”

Chapter 680: I Refuse!_2

“Hey! Miss Nan, look at what you’re saying. Aren’t you treating me as an outsider? I’ll tell you this. Of all the equipment in our Chamber of Commerce, whichever one you like, take it! I’ll pay all the expenses!”

“Eh, really?” But Boss Zhao, didn’t you tell me that you’re selling it to us at a 10% discount? “Nan blinked her eyes, pretending to be surprised.

Seeing this, Zhao Jie could only brace himself. Although his heart was bleeding, he still forced a smile on his face.

“What are you talking about, Miss Nan? You destroyed the monster’s nest with one shot and ended this defense battle ahead of time. Our entire Chamber of Commerce has to thank you.”

“But...What if this gets out and people say that I, Nan, bully the people? Our Northern Ten Titans have always been focused on convincing people with reason.”

Nan’s words made Zhao Jie subconsciously recall that ten minutes ago, there was a deafening explosion in the daytime. Zhao Jie quietly wiped the sweat on his forehead and quickly said,

“No, no, everyone must know that Miss Nan is convincing people with reason.”

“Hahaha, alright, alright. Boss Zhao, I won’t tease you anymore.”

The one-eyed woman laughed heartily.

“I definitely won’t take this batch of equipment orders for free. However, our Northern Cross has indeed been short of funds recently, so I’ll be thick-skinned and purchase them at a 30% discount according to the price you gave me at the beginning, Boss Zhao.”

“What? How can that be...”

Zhao Jie was overjoyed in his heart, but he still had to pretend on the surface. However, Nan seemed to have had enough of teasing Zhao Jie. She began to straighten her expression and directly waved her hand to interrupt.

“Boss Zhao, it’s settled regarding the order. There’s no need to say anything else. I want to know more now. Can you arrange for me to meet him...”

Before Nan could finish her sentence, a knocking sound came from outside the room.

Zhao Jie frowned and thought to himself that he had clearly instructed the others not to disturb him. However, after the knock on the door, the crisp voice of a young lady followed.

“Uncle Zhao, can I come in?”

Nan couldn’t recognize the voice, but Zhao Jie was too familiar with it. He quickly got up and opened the door under Nan’s curious gaze. He happily invited the owner of the voice in.

Before Zhao Jie could introduce her, Nan stood up on her own initiative. After all, judging from the clothes of the girl who had just entered the room, her characteristics were too obvious. She stretched out her hand and said,

“I think this should be the famous... Miss Fox Witch?”

“It’s a pleasure to meet you, Captain Nan.” Vivian returned the greeting politely and reached out to shake Nan’s hand.

At the same time, a small wolf cub followed behind the fox-faced witch and walked into the room openly. Nan Gang subconsciously wanted to take a few more glances at the small wolf cub, but unfortunately, as the fox-faced witch continued to speak, he had to pull his attention back.

“Captain Nan, I’m sorry. I didn’t mean to eavesdrop, but when I was outside the door, I happened to hear you mention my colleague, so...”

Vivian paused for a moment and said according to what Blackie had told her,”

“Captain Nan, because our operation involves confidential information, please forgive us. No matter how much you ask Uncle Zhao, he can’t reveal too much to you, let alone arrange for you to meet him.”

As soon as the little girl finished speaking, Zhao Jie felt his trousers being tugged slightly. He looked down and found that it was Vivian, the wolf cub, who was secretly hooking her claws.

Hence, Zhao Jie immediately understood and quickly echoed Nan,

“Uh... Yes, yes! I’m really sorry, Miss Nan. You know that many departments in Gui Li are so secretive about the five elements. There are many rules and regulations, and they are very strict. I hope Miss Nan can forgive me.”

Nan only took a few seconds to get a response before she immediately expressed that she didn’t care.”Where did I go? I didn’t expect to see such a brand-new place on Sakura Island. I’m sure the person behind this must be a powerful person, so I couldn’t help but want to get to know him. In this case, I didn’t think it through.””

Perhaps because Vivian was here, Zhao Jie was more confident. He immediately asked Nan the question that he was most concerned about.

“By the way, Miss Nan, since we have become friends through fighting, then I, Old Zhao, will not fool you anymore. That’s right, the businessman who fled overseas in debt that you mentioned earlier was indeed me. However, you said that the debt was eliminated and you seem to know my daughter.”

Nan pondered for a moment as if she was sorting out her words. Soon, a smile appeared on her face and she said to the nervous middle-aged merchant opposite her,

“Boss Zhao, if we have to start this story from the beginning, then let me think... About seven or eight years ago, I saved a young girl whom they called a liar from a group of angry merchants.”

” Later on, that young lady told me that she wasn’t lying. It was just that the methods she used were too rash and greedy, which angered the public. The reason for this was that her family was ruined. Her father ran away in debt, and her mother had a high fever in bed because she didn’t have the money to treat her illness. She urgently needed a large sum of money.”

At that time, she was concerned about her medical expenses, but who knew that she had only passed the years, the young girl had appeared in front of me, and was actively looking for a door-to-door, she first returned the original medical expenses to me, and then funded the North Cross, a large sum of money, said that it was a bonus, she told me, now she had entered the great name, the five elements, the five elements, the five elements, and the future.”

” With the Pavilion Master’s help, she has already paid off the debt her father owed back then. Therefore, she took this opportunity to not only return to thank me, but also to hope that the Northern Cross, which has traveled far and wide, can help her find her father.”

” Naturally, I accepted this commission. Unfortunately, I’ve been suffering from too little information. It’s easier said than done to find a person in the huge Nine Nations. However, perhaps this is fate. Boss Zhao, the Astorokis that you were on was previously mistaken for a sunken ship. I accidentally saw your name on the list of victims, so I wanted to try my luck and see if it was the same person. Later... Boss Zhao will know.”

Zhao Jie’s expression fluctuated with Nan’s words. His calloused hands were tightly clenched, especially at the beginning of the story.

Luckily, in the end, Zhao Jie let out a long sigh. Other than feeling deeply guilty, there was also joy.

“Xing ‘er, she’s working at Qilin Pavilion now! ?”

“Uh... Yes, and now they had become the most trusted subordinates of the current Pavilion Master, uh... One of the secretaries.” Nan affirmed.

Meanwhile, Zhao Jie almost lost his balance.

Her daughter was actually working in Qilin Pavilion! He actually...He was even chosen by the pavilion master! She became a secretary!

Zhao Jie held back his head that was about to faint from happiness.

In this way, many things could be explained.

For example, how did his poor daughter get to know Liao Zixuan, whose identity was so confidential in Xuanwu Pass, and how Nan suddenly and accurately came to find him.

“So, Boss Zhao, I believe in Yu...” Ahem, Xing ‘Er must miss you very much. Why don’t you board our Northern Cross now and we’ll leave immediately and return to Guili?”

Under Nan’s suggestion to strike while the iron was hot, if it was Zhao Jie from before, he would definitely agree without a second word. But now...

He thought about his career on Sakuragi Island, which had just started.

Then, he thought about it carefully. Although Xing ‘er was now in a high position, she would definitely face more challenges. He had owed Xing’ er for the past ten years. If he could not compensate and help Xing ‘er in the future, how could he have the face to see Xing’ er?

No!

He could not go back like this!

At least not now!

After Zhao Jie made up his mind, he felt much more relaxed. It was as if even the little wolf cub, who had been lying on the sofa beside him, was raising its little paws and praising his courage and decision.

“I refuse!”
