

A NPC 681

Chapter 681: Zhao Yu-er

“Is that so...” Nan nodded after receiving Zhao Jie’s reply. Although she was a little disappointed, she was not too surprised.

She quickly expressed her understanding towards Zhao Jie. There was indeed a huge deal waiting for Zhao Jie to deal with in Thousand Islands, and he couldn’t lose his backbone.

Moreover, it had been so many years since they last met. It didn’t matter if they had one more day or one less day. Nan would wait for Zhao Jie to settle everything before escorting him back to Guili.

“Eh? Miss Nan, are you going to stay forever?” Zhao Jie was surprised and happy when he heard that.

Yu Nan nodded and said, “Yes, Northern Cross has been sailing from Guili. They have consumed a lot of resources along the way. The crew is also tired from the long journey. Since Boss Zhao isn’t in a hurry to leave, then I’ll let the fleet rest for a period of time at Thousand Islands.”

“Good, that’s great!” Zhao Jie was overjoyed. He was really worried about how he would return to the Li family if Nan went home.

The representatives of Sakuragi Island, the fox-faced witch and Vivian, also expressed that all the facilities on Sakuragi Island were open to the members of the Northern Cross.

After the “NPCs” reached a consensus, the corresponding players also received the corresponding notification.

Fish Pigeon was surprised to find that the craving Forging Workshop had opened up the equipment for sale to them, and the first ten items were all sold at a 30% discount!

Thus, Pandora's box was opened to them.

Almost every Northern Cross player swore that they would not care about the suggestion of the Sakuragi Island players to run away. They said that they were people who could stop and would stop after the 30% discount ended.

Until Yu Gege obtained a top-grade Life Armor, and the secondary entry after the enhancement was all slanted to the top-grade Elemental Affinity attribute of the Mage class, the nature of everything changed.

Because he was a Warrior, Elemental Affinity was almost zero to him. Once the discounted equipment was bound, he couldn't even use it.

Hence, when Nan came out of the Chamber of Commerce, she saw her foreign crew members automatically joining the army to farm monsters. There was no other reason, just that they were gambling on dogs and had no money.

Zhao Jie, who was beside her, smiled awkwardly but politely. Nan was happy to see this. She was smarter and secretly wrote down Zhao Jie's operation strategy, planning to report it to Zhao Yu'er later.

Yes, it was.

As the wealthiest person in Guili, if the Qilin Pavilion Master couldn't even take out a means of international communication, then he would be too inferior.

Right now, in Nan's inner pocket, there was an immortal talisman lying quietly. It was said that Zhao Yu'er had used a lot of connections to get her hands on this extremely precious Gemini Talisman.

No matter how far away the two sides were, the two sides could contact each other through the talisman. Moreover, it was not just a simple voice transmission. It could directly create a jade shadow of the other side through the power of the talisman. Apart from the time limit, it was no different from face-to-face.

Finally.

After sending off the fox-faced witch and Zhao Jie, Nan returned to her room on the ship and locked the door. She then carefully took out the Gemini Talisman from her bosom.

Nan chanted the incantation to activate the talisman. The ordinary-looking talisman instantly shone brightly. Nan's vision was filled with a green jade color. When she opened her eyes again and regained her vision, the scene in front of her was no longer the cabin of the Tenth North Ship.

Guili.

In the Qilin Pavilion high in the sky.

"I suddenly remembered that I still have an official document to deal with. You guys can leave first."

"Yes, Sister Yu 'Er."

When the footsteps in the room faded away and only Nan's familiar aura was left, Nan pushed open the screen mechanism and walked out of the secret room.

"Thank you for your hard work, Nan." Zhao Yu-er, who was wearing a cheongsam beside the desk, turned around and whispered to the one-eyed woman in the form of a jade shadow.

Chapter 682: Zhao Yu 'Er (2)

The moment Nan activated the talisman, Zhao Yu-er, who was the holder of the other twin talisman, immediately sensed it. That was why Zhao Yu-er immediately interrupted the conversation and sent the others away.

As the duration of the Jade Shadow was limited, Nan did not bother to exchange pleasantries with Zhao Yu 'er. They did not need to do this to begin with.

"Xiao Yu, I've found your father, but..." Nan went straight to the point.

Nan then briefly recounted what they had experienced in the Thousand Islands to the girl in the cheongsam. Zhao Yu-er listened quietly without interrupting.

Even when Nan mentioned Zhao Jie's ridiculous "son-in-law", Zhao Yu 'er did not say anything. However, the frown on the girl's face was still visible to the naked eye.

"Alright, that's the current situation. Xiao Yu, what do you think of your father? And your... Uh, fiancé?"

Nan looked like she was watching a show. She crossed her arms and leaned against the bookshelf. From the trembling of her shoulders, it was not difficult to tell that she was trying to hold back her laughter.

Zhao Yu-er did not reveal any angry or embarrassed expression. She only said indifferently,

"Nan, Uncle kept complaining to me a few days ago. He said that his daughter's career has made a name for herself, but her family hasn't settled down yet. If this drags on, she'll be in her forties. He asked me to introduce you to a few good partners."

"I originally said that Miss Nan definitely had her own plans and told Uncle not to worry, but now it seems...Hmm, if we release the news that the leader of the Cross is going on a blind date, it will definitely become big news in the entire Guili marriage search market. It might even bring a wave of fame to the industry..."

Seeing Zhao Yu-er's expression as if she was really thinking about the feasibility, Nan immediately raised her hands in surrender.

Nan did not want to be fooled by the girl in the cheongsam opposite her. She had seen Zhao Yu-er's ruthlessness too many times and her extremely vengeful personality. She did not dare to take the risk.

After Zhao Yu-er blocked Nan's mouth and analyzed after a moment of silence,"

"Actually, when I entrusted you to go to the Thousand Islands, I also secretly investigated on the other side. It seems that the information we obtained is roughly the same. My father...Zhao Jie had indeed made some small achievements in Thousand Islands, but he soon went bankrupt overnight because of the turmoil of the three countries. However, after taking the Astorokis once, it was as if he had met a noble person on the way, and his career began to advance triumphantly."

" First of all, we can rule out the possibility that Zhao Jie was lucky enough to be helped by this noble. Although such coincidences exist in the world, I'm more willing to believe that it's the second possibility. This noble was one step ahead of me and knew about Zhao Jie's identity, so he deliberately cast a trap."

"Hiss! Xiao Yu, so you're saying that your unmarried...Ahem, I'm referring to the guy behind this. Actually, it was premeditated to get closer to your father, and his ultimate goal was actually... You?"

Zhao Yu-Er nodded, but then quickly shook her head.

"That was what I thought, until...Just now, I learned from you that my father is... Zhao Jie called his noble son-in-law. I really don't understand why the other party had to guide Zhao Jie in this direction. What are the benefits of doing so? Other than making me feel hostility, there doesn't seem to be anything else?"

This was the first time Nan had seen such a frown on the face of this intelligent young lady who could ascend to the position of Qilin Pavilion Master. She looked puzzled.

"Xiao Yu, is there a possibility that the fellow behind your father actually wants to use this method to express to you...Love? Adoration?"

Unfortunately, Nan only received a roll of her eyes from Zhao Yu 'er.

"If that's the case, then I'll be at ease. At that time, I can tell him directly that I don't like men and only like women."

Nan gave the girl in the cheongsam a thumbs up.

Just as she had said before, Zhao Yuer was not just saying some things.

Nan had seen it with her own eyes too many times. When Zhao Yu 'er attended the banquet, she used the same sentence without changing her expression and rejected countless of her pursuers.

Nan could still remember the ashen faces of the rich and powerful families and the scene where they wanted to say something but could not say anything and could only leave dejectedly.

“Forget it. There’s still too little information. The current demand that the other party has made is the blueprint of Planet Annihilation? Tell them that I can, but I have to participate in their Sakuragi Island. If they agree, then what’s the harm in giving them a blueprint that can never be replicated?”

” Okay, I understand. I’ll convey it. Oh, right, I found something about foreigners on Sakuragi Island. It’s a particularly interesting business strategy. Xiaoyu, come and take a look.””

Later on, Nan told Zhao Yu 'er about the business model invented by the little wolves on Sakuragi Island. They did not sell finished products to foreigners, but in the form of raw embryos. They let foreigners decide whether to continue forging raw embryos and set up a recycling business.

Zhao Yu-er listened very carefully and even tapped her fingers on the table. Once this small action appeared, Nan knew that the girl in the cheongsam opposite her was moved.

“Anyway, whether or not we should use this plan on the foreigners in our territory, Xiao Yu, you can decide for yourself. However, after the battle on Cherry Tree Island, it has indeed changed my impression of foreigners. In terms of foreigners, our Gui Li can be said to be far behind Cherry Tree Island.”

Chapter 683: Zhao’s Separation

“Yes, I will consider it.” Zhao Yuer nodded seriously.

They had to keep up with the times. The immortals who had once ruled over Gui Li had gradually declined because they had neglected this point, until they were completely banned by these ‘mortals’.

Zhao Yu-er would not make the same mistake again.

“That seems to be it. If there’s nothing else, I’ll go back first. Right, right, I almost forgot. Xiao Yu, let’s rehearse our lines first. I told your father that you’re just a secretary of the pavilion master. Don’t expose yourself.”

“I understand.”

“Speaking of which, it was only when I was telling your father about our encounter that I realized something strange. When you came back to repay your kindness, what did you mean by dividends?”

“That...Oh, it’s the title sponsorship fee that I used your Northern Cross as a cover all those years ago. Ever since I was saved by you, I hinted to the public that I had the support of Northern Cross. Those who originally couldn’t compete with me in business and wanted to use underhanded methods were all scared out of their wits.”

“...” Alright, in any case, fate was really magical. Who would have thought that the little girl I saved by chance would become the center of Gui Li’s economic lifeline?”

Nan was still sighing when the girl in the cheongsam opposite her started working. She lowered her head and wrote some letter while continuing,

” No, you think that it was a coincidence, but in fact, more than a month ago, I calculated your location based on the Northern Cross’s publicly announced itinerary. Then, I deliberately chose that time to take advantage of the situation. If I’m not mistaken, those nobles who are furious will try to murder me in front of Captain Nan.”

Nan was speechless.

Zhao Yu-er didn't even raise her head and said,"

"So you understand why I don't believe that the noble and my father just met by chance."

Nan was speechless.

Farewell!

Nan did not want to stay here any longer.

To think that she still had a sincere heart.

In the end, it turned out that he was touched by his own wishful thinking.

Bah! You business people are really dirty!

Not long after Nan's jade elephant disappeared, Zhao Yu-er finally raised her head and put away her pen to complete the letter in her hand.

She rang the bell, and soon the two secretaries walked in.

Interestingly enough, before the two secretaries entered the room, they kept their eyes on the soles of their feet to make sure that their right foot was the first to enter the room before they heaved a sigh of relief.

There was no other reason.

The previous secretary named "Cecelia" was punished by Sister Yu 'Er for "buying a room with her left foot first" and was sent to clean the toilets for a month.

Seeing how cautious the secretaries were and this strange rule that she had unknowingly added, Zhao Yu 'er sighed and did not say much.

She sealed the letter and handed it to her secretary. She asked them to send the letter to Lord Li of the White Tiger Hall.

After the secretaries left, Zhao Yu-er got up from her desk and went to the window. She looked at the clouds outside and then lowered her head to look at the land of Gui Li below the Qilin Pavilion.

The girl in the cheongsam let out a long sigh. She had lost count of how many times she had sighed today.

the mountain rain is about to come, and the wind fills the tower.

This bad premonition grew stronger in Zhao Yu-er's heart.

However, she felt as if she was shrouded in a fog and could not find the key thread. The last time Zhao Yu-er felt this kind of helplessness was more than ten years ago when her father left them.

Hope...

This could be a breakthrough.

Zhao Yu 'er recalled the contents of her letter. The White Tiger Hall was in charge of supervising the officials, and Zhao Yu' er was writing to Lord Li, who had come to supervise her, asking him to investigate Black Tortoise Pass!

Because from Nan, the person behind her father had only left two messages.

One was his son-in-law.

The second was...

Xuanwu Pass!

Chapter 684: Ah Hua Changed Your Consciousness, Now You...(1)

The five elements of Gui and Li had their own duties, maintaining the prosperity and peace of the Divine Great Land.

Xuanwu Pass, which was the main "people's livelihood", also bore the heavy responsibility of customs. Every foreign traveler had to report and review at Xuanwu Pass. Only after obtaining official entry permission could they enter the Returning Mirror.

Guili was a vast land with rich resources and developed businesses. Every day, countless foreigners came and went. One could imagine the workload of Xuanwu Pass.

Therefore, among the five elements, Xuanwu Pass was undoubtedly ranked first in terms of scale and number of officials.

However, recently, Xuanwu Pass, which had been running smoothly, almost collapsed. The culprit behind this was naturally the countless players after the open beta, which was...Foreigner.

After all, according to the rules, all foreigners had to report for review, so the players were no exception.

However, the problem was that even if they stopped doing anything at Black Tortoise Pass and all the officials went to register the players, they might not be able to finish it even if they worked for three days and three nights without sleep.

The reason behind this was due to the large number of players, but if Black Tortoise Pass was really determined, it could still be taken down.

The thing that gave Xuanwu Pass the biggest headache was still...These foreigners all had some sort of disease on their heads, and their minds were extremely unstable!

For example, he didn't answer the question, he suddenly performed an artistic act during the investigation, he turned the tables and began to torture them, and even more so, he even attacked the customs personnel in front of them!

On the one hand, the progress of the work was slow. On the other hand, there were so many foreigners. They could not always be left outside. How should they deal with it? Where should they be placed?

In the end, the immortals of Gui Li made their move.

He relied on his magic power to create an otherworldly grotto-heaven, allowing the foreigners to temporarily stay in the mystic realm. Only then did he finally resolve the urgent need of Xuanwu Pass.

Speaking of which, this was the first time that Gui Li had needed help from a reclusive immortal since he entered the Five Elements Era.

However, the bustling of Xuanwu Pass was actually just a microcosm of the five elements. It was better to say that the people of Guili had also become busy recently.

Of course, the main reason for this was no longer the players. In fact, compared to the latter, the outlanders were nothing.

Because in just a few months, the biggest ceremony in the entire Gui Li was about to begin.

The Emperor came out of seclusion.

Under such a series of challenges, even the five elements were exhausted and began to feel powerless. This meant that there was an opportunity for some forces to take advantage of. It meant that it was time.

“Woo... Wuuuu...”

In a hidden abandoned warehouse, four or five high-ranking officials in Xuanwu Pass uniforms were gagged and tied to chairs.

No matter how they struggled, they could not move at all. They could only let out terrified cries that echoed in the warehouse.

However...

Opposite this group of kidnapped officials, the kidnapers were also very anxious.

The leader of them kept taking out his pocket watch from his pocket.

When the minute hand on the pocket watch reached the nine position, the leader of the kidnapers seemed to have finally reached his limit and began to curse.

“Bastard! It had already been more than fifteen minutes since the agreed time! I knew that Test Entity One was unreliable. Why did the organization allow her to move freely?”

“Then, then my lord, what should we do now? This batch of Black Tortoise Pass officials...” The kidnapers were also very nervous.

“What should we do? What else could he do? The person has already been kidnapped. If we can’t complete the brainwashing, we can only...”

The leader of the kidnapers made a clicking gesture. When the officials saw this, their faces instantly turned pale. They struggled even more and even ignored the word “brainwashing” that appeared in front of them.

“Hmph, if you want to blame someone, you can only blame your bad luck. Originally, the brainwashing of the original plan was carried out by the ‘Apostle’ executive officer. However, who knew that our plan at the Thousand Islands would actually go awry? It’s said that it was the same person who destroyed the Flame Domain plan. It’s even a young lady called Wei... Something like that.”

” It’s this Vy-whatever-what-whatever, and that bunch of trash from the Thousand Islands that forced the ‘Apostle’ to rush back. That’s why the organization sent ‘No. 1’ who has the same ability to carry out the task in his place...Eh? Why did I say all of this? Err... I don’t care, damn it!”

“Damn it! Why did the organization trust this crazy woman so much?”The leader of the kidnapers was stunned for a moment before he cursed again.

It could be seen that he had a deep sense of rejection and resentment towards this “Experimental Body No. 1”. If one looked closely at the depths of his eyes, one could also see a hint of...Fear.

After all, no one liked to work with a monster.

If it was a crazy monster, it would be even worse.

“Aiyaya.”

“I think I heard someone talking bad about me behind my back?”

A sudden female voice sounded from behind the leader of the kidnapers. It was so close that he could even feel the cold wind from the other party’s breath on his neck.

Scared!

Thump thump thump thump!

The leader of the kidnapers was so frightened that he turned around abruptly and took three steps back. In the end, he even fell down with a thud because he did not stand firm.

Chapter 685: Ah Hua Changed Your Consciousness, Now You...(1)

“Tsk tsk, I’m actually not very particular about etiquette, so there’s no need for you to welcome me like this, hehehe...”

A woman in a black ancient costume was clutching her stomach without any regard for her image. She was laughing sarcastically at the leader of the kidnapers who was lying in front of her.

Her long hair was grayish-white in color from top to bottom, and the end was tied into a low ponytail. As her body swayed with laughter, it was like a broken waterfall.

At the same time, the various small accessories tied to her ancient costume also shook with it, making a tinkling sound. It was very lively.

“Enough!” The leader of the kidnapers quickly got up from the ground in embarrassment and shouted at the woman.

He looked at the woman in ancient clothes opposite him and the anger in his heart became even more intense. He immediately questioned,

“One...Ah Hua! Who asked you to come out and carry out a mission in this outfit!?”

Obviously, “Ah Hua” was the name of the “Experimental Body No. 1” that he had previously hated.

And the “dress” here naturally referred to the woman’s ancient costume.

“Eh? What’s wrong with my clothes? When I’m listening to the music, I’ve seen those guys who play immortals on the stage. Do they all dress like this?”

“Or... Are you not satisfied with the small improvement I made to this immortal outfit? ‘That shouldn’t be. I specially cut this immortal robe short for the convenience of my activities, revealing a lot of my thighs and arms. According to my understanding of you men, shouldn’t this be very eye-catching?’”

The woman in ancient costume ignored the black-faced leader of the kidnappers. Instead, she seemed to have fallen into her own world and began to frown and ponder.

Then, in the next second, he clapped his hands and revealed a look of realization.

“Oh! I know, you must be dissatisfied with my bare shoulder, right? Aiya, I’m sorry about that. I can’t change this because I think it’ll be cooler this way...”

“Enough!”

Like the leader of the kidnappers who couldn’t take it anymore, he pulled out his sword and pointed it at the woman in ancient costume who was still talking.

“Ah Hua! I’m warning you, we’re on a mission right now. We’re already running out of time because you’re late, so we don’t have the time to play with you anymore!”

” Now, you give me the power to brainwash the officials of Xuanwu Pass, or else...”

“Otherwise what?”

The woman in ancient costume put away the smile on her face and narrowed her eyes. She emitted an extremely dangerous aura towards the leader of the kidnappers who was pointing his sword at her.

Instead of advancing, she stepped back and approached the leader of the kidnappers step by step. She did not care about the sharp tip of the other party's sword.

On the other hand, not only did the hand holding the sword begin to tremble, but even his voice began to tremble.

“No...No...”

Finally!

Seeing that the woman in the ancient costume was at a distance that he could not tolerate, the leader of the kidnappers actually threw down his sword and quickly reached for it in his arms in a panic.

Then, he took out a small bag. When he opened the bag, there were fresh lychees inside. With the appearance of the lychees, the kidnapper leader's expression actually relaxed a lot. He even became arrogant, as if these lychees were even more amazing treasures than the sharp sword he had a second ago.

What was even more amazing was...

“Humph!” The woman in ancient costume, who was clearly arrogant and crazy a moment ago, actually quieted down under this lychee. She looked over with an angry expression and stopped approaching at the same time.

“Tell me, what are you going to brainwash them this time?”

The woman in ancient costume had a bored expression on her face as she turned around and obediently walked in front of the group of kidnapped Black Tortoise Pass officials.

The leader of the kidnappers heaved a sigh of relief when he saw this, but he had no intention of taking back the lychee in his hand. He ordered sternly,

“Brainwash them. Tell them that when they see the people who hold this badge in the future, they don’t need to check them and just let them enter the country!”

As he spoke, the leader of the kidnappers gave his subordinate a look. The subordinate immediately threw a sample badge that he had prepared at his waist to the woman in ancient costume.

“Is that all?”

“No, hurry up and stop talking nonsense! If they didn’t let these officials go home, those guys in the Azure Dragon Ya who had a nose sharper than a dog’s would realize that something was wrong!”

“Oh.”

Nodding her head, the woman in ancient costume took a small stool.

After she stood up and stepped on it, just as the leader of the kidnappers was about to scold her for causing trouble, the woman cleared her throat.

“Cough cough...All of you, look at me.”

“Listen carefully to what I’m about to say!”

“Now! Ah Hua has modified your consciousness. In the future, when you see the people who enter the customs with this badge, don’t check them. Just let them in. Do you understand?”

Nodding, nodding.

Under the surprised gaze of the leader of the kidnappers, these executives of Black Tortoise Pass seemed to have been hypnotized. They nodded at the woman in ancient clothes on the bench in unison.

“Yes, very good!”“

“Hey, what else do you have?”

The voice of the woman in ancient costume pulled the leader of the kidnapers back from his shock.

“Also, make them forget about being kidnapped today and find an excuse to explain why they came home late!”“

“Did you hear that?” This time, the woman in ancient costume was too lazy to even repeat herself. She directly asked the high-ranking officials of Black Tortoise Pass.

Chapter 686: Ah Hua Changed Your Consciousness, Now You...(1)

The officials nodded in unison.

“Anything else?”

“No... It’s gone.” The leader of the kidnapers shook his head mechanically.

He had never seen such a terrifying brainwashing ability before. Even the apostle might not be able to do it, right?

Under the gaze of the leader of the kidnapers, the woman in the ancient costume did not realize this at all. She only looked like she had succeeded and dusted her hands.

“Good! End, end!”

“Today is another day to contribute to the peace and stability of Guili! Right?”

The leader’s eyes blurred. The woman who had been on the bench was almost in front of his face.

Cold sweat broke out on the leader’s forehead when he was faced with this question. However, he quickly blurted out the lines that the organization had long memorized and used to deal with Experimental No. 1.

“Yes... Yes, that’s right! Everything we do is for the better Guili, for the overthrow of the hypocritical five elements, and for Guili to return to the era of immortals!”

“The other immortals were blinded by humans and gave up on themselves. Only you, Ah Hua, still remember the glory that once belonged to immortals.”

“We will always assist you and help you clear all obstacles on your way. No one can stop your path to revival, not even...God! We will also assist you in killing him or even replacing him!”

Finally.

The stage came to an end.

The woman in ancient costume seemed to have gotten a satisfactory answer. Just like how she appeared out of thin air at the beginning, she disappeared again.

After the kidnapers removed the hemp rope, the high-ranking officials of Xuanwu Pass, who had been brainwashed and hinted at, dispersed after a short period of confusion and headed home.

After the leader of the kidnapers confirmed that the plan had successfully ended and that there were no problems, he led his men to eliminate the traces, pushed open the warehouse door, and left.

However...

After walking for about five minutes.

The leader suddenly stopped and frowned.

He took out his pocket watch and looked at the time.

12:30.

The hour hand pointed to the position of the six.

Speaking of which...

What time did their mission start?

Forget it, he didn't care.

Since the mission was completed, there was no need to care about these small details.

In addition, he would have to report to his superiors about the late arrival of Experimental Body No. 1. He hoped that the organization would punish that crazy woman!

However, when he recalled the scene of the woman in ancient costume easily hypnotizing the officials, the leader of the kidnappers finally shrank his neck and dispelled the idea.

Forget it, it was better not to provoke this crazy woman.

After all.

What if the other party was unhappy and brainwashed him?

At the thought of this, the leader of the kidnapers immediately brought his subordinates and quickened his pace. The group of people quickly walked further and further away until they completely disappeared from sight.

And in the originally abandoned warehouse...

“Sob... Wuuuu...”

The five high-ranking officials of Xuanwu Pass, who were tied to chairs, were sobbing in fear as if they had seen a ghost.

Because from their perspective.

The group of kidnapers who had brought them to this abandoned warehouse suddenly seemed to have gone crazy, or they seemed to have been possessed by some ghost.

One by one, they began to talk to the air. The leader of the group was in an even more serious situation. Not only did he inexplicably fall back, but he also drew his sword. Then, he suddenly threw his sword down and took it out from his pocket...Lychee?

Although the kidnapers left the warehouse without them, the officials who were scared out of their wits and felt that the warehouse was evil might as well stay and accompany them.

Creak...

The sound of the warehouse door being pushed open attracted the attention of all the officials inside. Their already tense nerves made them even more afraid to breathe loudly. All their gazes turned over.

It was... Did the kidnapers come back?

Obviously not.

Because the person who appeared at the door was a lady.

A lady in a revealing ancient costume.

A lady was holding a small bag with fresh lychees in her hand.

Puchi!

The lady reached out and took out one. Her white and flawless teeth bit on the lychee, and the water flowed down her throat. A satisfied expression appeared on Ah Hua's face.

“Yes... Lychees are delicious, but I'm a little tired of them. What fruit should I change to next time...”

“Forget it! Let's get down to business first!”

“Let me think...” Hmm, since he knew their purpose by letting them simulate their subconsciousness, how could he make this story more interesting?”

The woman in the ancient costume muttered to herself, but as expected, only a second later.

Pa!

Ah Hua slapped his thigh and stared eagerly at the Xuanwu Pass executives who were tied to chairs.

“I got it!”

Chapter 687: Ah Hua Changed Your Consciousness, Now You...(Part 2)

[A16-5 Experiment Log]

[Experimental Number: 53]

” Viewing Authority: Top Secret ”

Controlling consciousness.

This was the Witch’s Power that Experimental 53 had been bestowed with...No, to be precise, it should be ‘given’ and not ‘retrieved.’

Unlike the other experimental bodies born from the cocoon, the original body of Experimental 53 was the remains of an ancient tomb. I had read through a large number of ancient books, books, and related records that existed until now. Finally, with the help of an old man who was very knowledgeable about ancient knowledge, I finally found the Immortal Cave, the ancient tomb ruins of the first immortal in the world.

We spent a lot of manpower, resources, and the lives of dozens of Experimentals before we finally brought the immortal’s corpse back to Winter from this ancient mystic realm that was filled with danger.

As expected of an immortal. Even if it was a corpse from the ” old era ” that had survived for hundreds of thousands of years, the body could still maintain a faint vitality without any signs of decay or aging. Unfortunately, no matter how strong the body was, if it lost its soul, it would ultimately be an empty shell.

I listened to the old man’s suggestion and did not attempt to dissect the immortal’s corpse. I did not attempt to grasp the power of ” her.” Instead, I attempted to ” awaken ” this powerful body and ” resurrect ” this former ” first immortal.”

However, even after using all sorts of methods, I still couldn't find any results. In the end, after countless days and nights of hesitation and struggle, I still used the method that we had always used to create Demonesses-Fallen Abyss.

I planted the precious "Seed of the Fallen Abyss" in the corpse of the Immortal. Then, as expected, the will of the Fallen Abyss began to invade and corrode the body. I could feel their excitement and desire for this powerful body. I also knew the risks of doing so. If the Demoness Transformation failed and the corpse of the Immortal was really taken over by the Fallen Abyss, it would be a catastrophe for me, the laboratory, the Winter, and even the entire Nine Nations.

But I am betting, betting on a miracle, just like the goal I have been fighting for.

Fortunately, I made the right bet. A miracle happened.

I didn't understand the power of the "immortals" that belonged to the Guili culture, just like how I didn't understand the power of the "Fallen Abyss". However, the miracle that happened in front of me was that this body that had died for more than a thousand years actually resisted the will of the Fallen Abyss and became a puppet of the Fallen Abyss. A new soul was born in its body to resist it.

Hence, on that hot afternoon, Experimental 53, another new Demoness in the world, opened her eyes.

There were still too many unknown that we didn't know about Experimental Number 53. From the looks of it, Number 53's Demoness Power, which was also her Demoness Authority, was related to her "consciousness." Simply put, she could control and modify the consciousness of others. After further investigation, I discovered that Number 53 could even create a false illusion and immerse the subconscious of others into it, thereby stealing all kinds of information from the depths of their hearts...Even emotions.

After all, a person's subconscious was the most defenseless.

Fortunately, Number 53's terrifying ability was limited to a single target. The target could not be disturbed by the outside world, or else it would escape very quickly. As long as the staff worked in pairs, they could effectively prevent it.

However, I didn't know if Number 53's ability would improve in the future. She was just a newborn.

Perhaps it was related to Number 53's cultivation and control? I should go back to Gui Li and pay a visit to that knowledgeable old man who was knowledgeable about history...

Finally, no matter what, I would continue to observe Number 53 and increase my attention on her to the highest level. After all, she was the first person I had successfully "resurrected". This undoubtedly proved that I was getting closer and closer to my final destination...

[Time: February 9]

[Written by: "Doctor", Executive Officer of Winter's "Top Three Chiefs"]

"Cough cough, everyone, look up to me!"

The woman in ancient costume who was standing on a stool clapped her hands at the high officials of Xuanwu Pass.

"Now! Ah Hua has modified your consciousness. In the future, when you see anyone who enters with this badge, there's no need to check or interrogate them. Give me..."

A mischievous smile appeared on the face of the woman in ancient costume.

"Cuff him!"

As she spoke, Ah Hua waved it in front of these officials. It was the organization's internal sample badge that the leader of the kidnapers had asked his subordinates to throw to her.

Nodding, nodding.

The high-ranking officials of Xuanwu Pass were stunned. They stared at the badge in the woman's hand and memorized the pattern in their hearts.

Giggle...

An extremely healthy laughter came from the woman in ancient costume. She seemed to be able to see the happy scene of those people from the organization showing their badges to the inspectors of Xuanwu Pass when they passed through the border. They thought that they would be allowed to pass directly, but they were captured on the spot.

“Yes, let me think about what else is interesting...”

Ah Hua continued to recall the various details that happened in the kidnapper leader's "subconscious illusion." This was her favorite routine. No matter how well a person disguised themselves, they could not hide their subconscious. Every time, Ah Hua could see the true thoughts in the other party's heart. It was very interesting.

First of all, he was late...

Chapter 688: Ah Hua Changed Your Consciousness, Now You...(2)

“Humph! What did that stinky fellow mean? Did he subconsciously think that I, Ah Hua, would be a late and unpunctual person? ?”

“Then, he said something else... Ah, right! I was wondering why Guili was so bored recently. It turns out that he went to Thousand Islands. Sigh, I lost another person to play with. Damn it! Let me see who stole such a good friend from me...”

“I got it! It's you, this Wei something!”

The woman in the ancient costume gritted her teeth. On one hand, she was gritting her teeth on this Wei something. On the other hand, she was gnashing her teeth at the leader of the kidnapers. Why couldn't she even remember her name? Even if she subconsciously remembered the beginning of the word "Wei", she couldn't find it even if she wanted to.

"Forget it."

"Look at this Wei something, she seems to be quite capable. She actually destroyed their plans in two countries in a row. Mm, she's also considered a hero. As long as you can make those people suffer, you can be considered my friend! Such a hero, he had to get to know him!"

"That person, right, you guys, you heard it, right? In the future, when you enter the pass, if there is a foreigner named Wei something, or if there is any information about Wei something in your Black Tortoise Pass, inform me immediately with this feather, do you understand?"

"I want to tie him up... Cough cough, please come over and be a guest!"

As the woman in ancient costume spoke, she took out an immortal fan as if she was performing a magic trick. After pulling out five feathers from it, she gave one to each of the Xuanwu Pass officials.

Nodding, nodding.

"Alright, that's about it. Oh right, remember to forget about the kidnapping. Everyone, go home quickly."

Ah Hua waved his hand, and the ropes tied to the officials immediately fell off. The officials were in a daze, and they instinctively began to walk out of the warehouse. They spread out and headed in the direction of their homes.

When they were almost at the door of their house, their eyes regained their senses. They began to wonder when they had reached the door of their house. However, all of them subconsciously did not dwell on it. They threw it to the back of their minds and entered the house as usual.

The hints that Ah Hua gave them were all hints that would only be triggered under certain conditions. The rest of the time, it was completely normal.

This was truly the end of the story.

The woman in ancient costume was the only one left in the empty abandoned warehouse. She was resting her chin on her hands and sitting on the bench on the high platform, shaking her legs in boredom.

She suddenly leaned back and fell off the bench.

Bang!

He smashed his body onto the ground and laid on the cold floor of the warehouse.

Ah Hua looked at the ceiling of the warehouse. His originally pitch-black pupils began to change color gradually, from black to the scarlet eyes that symbolized Fallen Abyss. They flickered in the dark warehouse, looking particularly demonic.

Thousand Islands.

Deep Moon Island.

In the territory under the jurisdiction of the community.

[Ding! You have completed the daily quest "Clean up the fallen leaves in the square". You have received +1 favorability and +50 EXP.]

Looking at the dialog box in front of him, Hei Yu, the president of the Ka union, sighed.

He now completely believed that he had been deceived by the club.

They had always thought that their side was the righteous camp and that something big would be waiting for them in the future. However, who knew that everything was just an illusion and a bubble.

Hei Yu had never expected that an NPC would actually be able to lie to him. Moreover, he, the dignified president of Ka, had actually fallen into the trap!

The origin of all of this had to start from a light novel that had just been put on sale in the faction store.

” Journey to the Thousand Islands from Zero ”

At first, most of the players, including Hei Yu, were not interested in in-game items like novels that did not help them much.

Only the self-proclaimed ” Meteorologists ” who were keen on examining the details, Easter eggs, and story lines of various games would be very interested in these items.

However, who knew that this group of useless plumpologists would actually make a shocking discovery.

As they read deeper into the novel, they realized that the players in the society were all local Thousand Islands players, unlike the foreign players like the Blue Velvet people and the Northern Cross players. They could understand the plot of the novel in an instant. Wasn't the plot of the novel a hint to reality?

According to the description of the various factions in the novel, the club that they are currently in is a complete villain faction!

Especially the head of the family. As the younger brother, Sakai Yosuke was a big bad person who colluded with foreign enemies and slandered his own sister in order to rise to power!

“No!”

“We can’t go on like this!”

“I have to find an opportunity to run back to Sakuragi Island!” Hei Yu’s heart was incomparably firm about this idea.

After all, while they were still carrying bricks and doing all kinds of boring and smelly faction chores given to them by the society every day, they were still in the middle of doing their jobs.

On the Sakuragi Island next door, a new plot of “monster siege” had already begun.

There was even a link with Gui Li, the hidden line was retrieved, and the plot intersected.

Even though Hei Yu and the other members of the society were not present, they had the game forum. From the various posts and live broadcasts of the Sakuragi Island players, they could see how exciting the new storyline was. The shocking shot of the Northern Cross, as well as the generous ranking rewards that made Hei Yu jealous.

Hei Yu could not help but fantasize that if they were on Sakuragi Island at this moment, they would definitely be the first on the monster attack leaderboard!

That was a massive amount of experience points!

Run!

He had to run!

Hei Yu said he would do it, and he already had a detailed plan.

Next, he would go to meet Sakai Yosuke and pretend to ask him to start the next transport ship to Sakuragi Island. He would ask him to bring more foreigners from Sakuragi Island for the society.

Hei Yu believed that Sakai would definitely agree.

After all, NPCs were still NPCs. No matter how intelligent they were, they could not read the minds of players.

At that time, he would bring a group of trusted aides and elites of the KO to the ship and return to Sakuragi Island on the ship of the Society.

Further back!

That smuggle was a success!

To hell with Deep Moon Island!

He bowed!

And you want me to help you pull people over from Sakuragi Island?

Bah!

That's right, Hei Yu wanted to use the name of 'pulling people' to send him and Ka back to Sakuragi Island.

Hei Yu had already made his preparations. He had also instructed the elite members of Ka. From the moment they set foot on Sakuragi Island, they had immediately chosen to give up the [Society Enforcement] faction. This was also known as the "Tearing Passport" operation. In order to stay on Sakuragi Island, they had to give up the faction reputation that they had spent so much effort to gain over the past few days.

Oh, as for those Sakuragi Island players that he had tricked into coming to the Lunar Abyss Island, as well as the Sacred Flame Guild that said they wanted to "rely" on them, Hei Yu pursed his lips. What did this have to do with him?

He definitely couldn't bring too many people, or else Sakai Yousuke would definitely be suspicious, so...
I'm sorry.

He would die on his own.

Hei Yu reviewed the entire plan in his heart once again. After making sure that there were no loopholes, he went straight to Sakai Yosuke's room.

It was a pity.

Should it be said that man's plan was not as good as God's plan, or was the outcome already set from the moment the choice was wrong?

Before Hei Yu could even approach Sakai Yosuke's room.

Suddenly, a system notification sounded in his mind. It sounded in the ears of all the players who belonged to the [Society Pursuer] faction.

[Warning! [The core character of your [Society Pursuing] faction, Sakai Yosuke, is under attack. Please provide immediate assistance. Otherwise, once the faction leader dies, your faction will automatically disband.]

W... WTF! ?

What the hell?

What happened?

Just as Hei Yu was in a daze, the next system announcement sounded out.

[Ding! Due to the death of your faction leader, Sakai Yosuke, you have been forced to leave the faction.]

[Ding! Due to unknown reasons, you have failed to leave the faction.]

[Ding, for unknown reasons, the faction you joined, 'Society Pursuer' has been changed to a new faction— '?? ?' ] , [Forcefully unable to exit]

[Ding! The new leader NPC of your faction has been updated to " Winter Executive " Middle Three Chiefs "—" Apostle ". Please protect the core members of the faction. Otherwise, once the leader of the faction dies, your faction will automatically disband.]

[Ding, you have received a new SS-rank faction mission...

- Under the Blacktide “]

Chapter 689: Under the Black Tide

[Under the Blacktide]

[Description: There seems to be something stirring in the depths of the sea. The twisted tentacles are swaying from the side. The palace of the gods above is beginning to lose its luster. The last bit of light is swallowed by the abyss. Under the already pitch-black tide, something is about to climb out...]

[Mission Reward: Eye of the Abyssal Abyss (Hidden Profession Abyssal Apprentice Class Advancement Tool)]

[Hint 1: This is a long-term mission. The mission reward depends on your contribution points in each stage. Each contribution point will be converted into-10 favorable impression points for the Thousand Islands faction and 1 favorable impression point for the Winter faction.]

[Hint 2: After completing this mission, all the factions of the Thousand Islands will have -1000 favorability towards you (Hatred), and all the factions of the Winter will have +100 favorability towards you (Friendly)]

(Note: This mission is a compulsory faction mission. You cannot give up or quit halfway.)

[Current mission objective: Follow the 'Apostle' into the Abyssal Sea]

[Hint: Return to the internal department of the society.]

Hei Yu was speechless.

After hurriedly opening the mission panel and seeing the description on it, Hei Yu was completely dumbfounded.

What, what was this?

At first glance, the quest reward was actually a hidden class change tool! Although Hei Yu still did not know what the "Abyssal Apprentice" profession was, as long as there was the word "hidden" on the base plate, there was definitely no weak one.

However, before Hei Yu could be so happy that he fainted, the following few mission notifications woke him up again. They let him know that indeed, there was no free lunch.

What the hell?

When they did this mission, they actually lost the favorability of all the forces in the Thousand Islands?

When Hei Yu saw the second notification, he was completely dumbfounded.

-1000! ?

Hatred?

One had to know that the favorability of a faction was divided into a total of eight levels. The " Hatred " here was the second last negative favorability.

Once a player reached this level, they could be said to have completely broken off with this faction and were treated as mortal enemies. As long as they appeared, they would definitely be chased and beaten up.

However, if he were to complete this mission now, he would not receive negative favorable impression points from a certain faction, but...The entire Thousand Islands?

To be able to make an entire country hate you...

What, what kind of mission was this, and what did the players have to do? ?

Just as Hei Yu was still in shock, a creaking sound was heard. Not far in front of him, the door to Sakai's room was pushed open, and a young man walked out.

This was the faction leader NPC that Hei Yu had come to find this time. However, in Hei Yu's eyes, although Sakai's appearance did not change at all, his gaze floated to the top of the NPC's head.

[Winter Executor-" Apostle "]

"You came at the right time. The society will have an emergency operation next. Can you please gather all the foreigners who are outside?"

Sakai Yosuke spoke to Hei Yu in the corridor without any expression on his face. At the same time, the [Gather the people] mission suddenly appeared in front of Hei Yu.

“I...”

Sakai Yosuke suddenly seemed to understand something when he saw Hei Yu's hesitant expression.

He first shook his head and then reached into his arms. He took out a black pearl that looked like an eye and handed it to Black Feather.

” You outlanders are indeed very sensitive. In that case, it saves me a lot of trouble in disguising myself. This is something that our ‘doctor’ in Winter has specially tailored for outlanders like you. Try it.”

This was...

Hei Yu did not know what to say for a moment. He could only follow the plot and accept Yosuke's prop.

[Ding, you have obtained a special item,” Advanced Abyssal Eye “]

” Usually, once our warriors use this, they will be greatly rejected by their bodies. Most of them will either die suddenly or be taken over by the Eye of the Abyssal Abyss. Therefore, this ‘Fusion Warrior’ plan has been put on hold until...Your appearance.”

” I believe that this is God's will. Many of your compatriots have joined us in winter and successfully evolved into the most promising professionals in this new era. Although there are some who are stubborn and betray us...But I believe that you're definitely not, right?”

Sakai Yosuke was clearly speaking indifferently. He was clearly just an NPC, but Hei Yu still felt a chill from the bottom of his heart. He could not think of rejecting him.

This was because he had a premonition that if he refused, he would probably turn into white light in the next second.

Moreover, even if he rejected it, so what? He had already been forced to change factions and had even accepted the mission. He could not give up or quit halfway.

Moreover, Hei Yu noticed that the reward for the faction mission was the [Eye of the Abyss of Demons]. However, the other party had given him the words “Advanced”.

[Ding, do you want to use the item “Advanced Eye of the Abyss” to change your class?]

[Yes!]

As Hei Yu made up his mind, his character automatically placed the pitch-black pearl in his hand, which was emitting an ominous aura, against his chest.

Next, the bead in the glasses was like a dormant seed that had suddenly encountered suitable soil. It began to dig deeper and deeper into Hei Yu’s body.

Hei Yu lowered his head to take a look. He only saw that with his chest as the center, there were spiderweb-like black lines. They were like the roots of a plant. In the end, they grew to the size of a fist before finally stopping.

Chapter 690: Under the Blacktide

It was at the moment of stopping.

The system notification sounded.

[Ding, you have successfully changed your class to the hidden class “Apprentice of the Abyss of Demons”]

[Ding, your "Demonic Abyss" energy has met the advancement requirements. Please choose your new sub-class...]

In front of Hei Yu, a few options for [Demonic Abyss] popped up. They corresponded to different types of professions.

For example, Warriors would become "Abyssal Berserker", Mages would become "Abyssal Chant", and Archers would become "Abyssal Dark Archer"...

Hei Yu was not too conflicted. He directly chose to advance to his old profession, the assassin class [Demonic Abyss] profession.

[Ding, you have successfully advanced to "Demonic Abyss Lurker"]

[Ding, your attribute points have changed. Please allocate new attribute points.]

[Ding, you have obtained a new class skill.]

[Ding, you...]

Following a series of 'ding' sounds, the 'Eye of the Abyssal Demon' that had originally taken root in Hei Yu's chest once again extended a little. Moreover, it began to differentiate according to the profession that Hei Yu had chosen. More 'roots' were distributed to Hei Yu's right arm.

Hei Yu revealed a shocked expression. Seeing that his attribute points had almost turned over a cup, he tried out his new skill. He swung his right arm. In an instant, the Eye of the Abyss in his chest flickered with a dark light. Immediately after, his entire right arm was covered with dark blue scales. In the end, it directly turned into a sharp blade.

"Rogue...Not a bad choice. You are indeed talented. Even though it's your first time coming into contact with the Eye of the Abyss of Demons, you seem to know how to use it and how to absorb its power. Not bad, not bad..."

Sakai Yosuke looked at Hei Yu with an expression of admiration, as if he was praising his profession, but it was more like he was satisfied with Hei Yu's choice.

Having tasted the sweetness, Hei Yu had no way of turning back this time. He did not plan to turn back either.

He admitted that he was the same as Sakai Yosuke, and that he was much more powerful than Sakai Yosuke. He simply killed him and replaced him.

Combined with the storyline of the Thousand Islands that the players had discovered before the open beta, the person in front of them was probably the behind-the-scenes BOSS of the foreign organization that had almost infiltrated the Thousand Islands.

Such a powerful figure even had a country backing him up. What was there to worry about? Wasn't this much stronger than a mere fox-faced witch from Sakuragi Island?

Yes, that's right!

Hei Yu consoled himself in his heart.

This time, he had definitely made the right choice!

After making up his mind, Hei Yu immediately gathered all the members in the guild chat and ordered the members who were not online to quickly log in to his account.

At the same time, he didn't forget to contact his brother guilds and send a message to the Guild Master of the Sacred Flame Guild to tie the two guilds together.

On the other side, all the players outside of the Society Faction were also in a state of confusion. They did not know what had happened.

They could only follow the mission instructions and imitate the movements of the Ka guild. They stopped what they were doing and immediately returned to the guild.

“What’s wrong with this group of foreigners?” Akino Sugaya frowned. The venue for her next concert had not been set up yet. Why did these foreign laborers leave?

As the top candidate for the selection of the God of Witchcraft, Akino Sugaya was affected by the turmoil of the previous Sangha. However, because of her identity as a candidate for the God of Witchcraft and the protection of the society, she was still able to avoid disaster and live a comfortable life.

In fact, she had even profited from this and was regarded as a life-saving straw by the society. All the publicity efforts were focused on her. Now, Akino Sugaya could be said to be the most famous and prestigious among the Divine Magi of the Thousand Islands.

“Don’t worry, Miss Akino. You’re already set in stone. No accident will change the fact that you’re the new Divine Wizard.”

Behind Akino Sugaya, her assistant comforted her while taking out a sharp blade from her sleeve.

“Hmph, I’m warning you, don’t relax. Recently, I’ve been hearing from those foreigners that there’s a person called the fox-faced witch. She seems to be quite famous. You guys go and gather more dirt on her. If you really can’t do it, you can make up some stories. You must not let this little witch who popped out of nowhere threaten me.”

“Yes, yes. Don’t worry. She won’t. After all, you’re about to go to the Abyssal Sea as a Divine Magus.”

“Wha... What do you mean? Are you guys going to go back on your word? You said that after I become a Divine Wizard, you’ll send me out of the country like the other Divine Wizards you guys made famous in the past. I’m not going to that place called the Abyss Sea.”

Akino Sugaya immediately turned around, wanting to question her assistant. After all, her purpose of becoming a God Wizard was to rely on this title to earn money. Who would want to go to a godforsaken place like the Abyssal Sea?

Unfortunately, when she turned around, all she saw was the assistant's cold glare.

Puchi!

Facing Akino Sugaya's body that was still warm, the assistant did not feel any pity. She did not need to be dealt with so quickly, but unfortunately...

There was a change of plans.

The apostle decided to immediately execute the "Black Tide" operation and release the corrupted snake in the Abyss Sea.

The first step was to enter the Abyssal Sea.

Under normal circumstances, entering the Abyssal Sea would require either the Water God or the divine cherry blossom on Sakuragi Island. However, after so many years of operation, they had long opened up a new path.

Sacrifice.

The assistant quickly set up a ritual around Akino Sugaya's body.

The reason why they wanted to promote a Divine Wizard every year was to gain popularity. It could also be said to be the belief of the people of the Thousand Islands.

This is the key to opening the ocean.

And every time a God Wizard disappeared, it was nothing at all. They were even sent abroad to enjoy life. Instead, they were sacrificed, just like Akino Sugaya.

They were so close to completing the passage to the Abyssal Sea, but who would have thought that the last Divine Wizard Competition would have such a big problem?

Not only was the organization's power uprooted, but the important witch test site was also destroyed, forcing the "Apostle" to personally come back to take charge of the overall situation. He ordered that he would not wait until Akino Sugaya became a wizard before taking action.

Under his mouth, he silently recited an obscure and difficult to understand incantation. A dark light emitted from the assistant's chest. If Hei Yu was present, he would be able to recognize it immediately. It was the same 'Eye of the Abyss of Demons' that had fused into the other party's body.

Under the guidance of the spell, the Eye of the Abyss in his chest was forcibly stripped off and fused into Akino Sugaya's body. It began to absorb some invisible white light inside. This was the power of "wish" accumulated in the body of the "God Witch."

After the "Eye of the Abyssal Abyss" finished devouring, the assistant didn't choose to take it back. Instead, he gritted his teeth, and his eyes flashed with madness.

"For...Lord Apostle!"

The light of the teleportation magic lit up from the Eye of the Abyss. The next moment, the dark bead disappeared and was teleported to the set coordinates. As the assistant of the caster, after the Eye of the Abyss left his body beyond the limit, his whole body began to shrink, lose water, and finally turned into a dry corpse.

On the other side.

As the players of the Society Court arrived, the Society Court was in chaos. Such a huge commotion naturally attracted the attention of the other two Court Courts, especially the Grand Court Court Court. The Six Paths Robe immediately mobilized its troops to seal off the Society Court Court.

Unfortunately, it was already too late.

Sakai Yosuke stood high in the public square of the club. Below him were countless players, and there were players coming from afar.

There was a hint of pity in his eyes, but Sakai knew that he could not delay any longer. He had come here this time to fight a lightning battle.

One after another, "Eyes of the Abyssal Abyss" appeared in his palm, including the one that had just been teleported over.

In the eyes of the players, Sakai Yosuke clenched his hand and crushed all the beads. In an instant, countless pitch-black hands began to wave in the air like tentacles. They grew larger and larger until they finally enveloped the entire society.

Shua!

A dense aura of Fallen Abyss burst out, tearing through space and forcefully connecting to the isolation barrier set up by the Water God. Only the power of Fallen Abyss could do this.

When the scene before Hei Yu and the other players of the Ka Guild became clear again...

[Ding, you have unlocked a new map...

- "Abyssal Sea"
