It's a good thing that we were not Alpha blood, we are Beta, I don't think that there would be a peace treaty between our packs if we were, all because of Adrian's grandmother.

KESKA: Kina looked like a Greek goddess in her dress, I hugged my cousin in the hallway as I left Kina's room, he was there to escort Constance down for the ceremony and then take his place to wait for her. When I got downstairs, I ran into Rex, he is Adrian's Gamma. "Hey Keska, what happened to you? Who hit you?!" I signed to him "Shh, the elder Mrs. Sutter slapped me" "That bitch! Does Adrian know?" he signed back "Yes, he knows, he was furious with her for causing a scene before the ceremony and for hitting me." "Is there anything I can do" he signed back. "No, I just want this day to continue without any more drama for Adrian's sake." I signed back to him. "Me to Kes. Me to." He signed and gave me a quick hug.

KESKA: We both went to take our places for the ceremony, I noticed Adrian looking around, I just waved to him in case it was me he was looking for. He seemed to settle down when he saw that I was there. Then the Luna music started, and we all stood and turned to the French doors of the grand hall. Kina was there with her father, he kissed her cheek and then went to take his place next to his mate, leaving Kina to walk the aisle and the few steps up to Adrian's side.

The Elder started with the Alpha swearing in first. "Alpha Asa, do you relinquish the title of pack Alpha to your son Adrian?" "I do." The elder took the ceremonial blade, cut Uncle Asa's palm, and let the blood drip into the ceremonial cup. "Adrian, do you promise to put the safety of Moon Rise pack above your own?" "I do." "Do you promise to ensure the necessities of the pack are met before your own?" "I do." The elder cut Adrian's hand and let it bleed into the cup. Then he handed the cup to Adrian to drink. "By the power vested to me by our goddess I pronounce you Alpha Adrian of Moon Rise Pack."

There were whoops and hollers' cat calls and whistles from the pack and from those assembled. The elder called for attention to settle the crowd. "We are not done yet." He turned to Kina and motioned her forward. "Do you Kina swear allegiance to Moon Rise Pack and to its Alpha, Adrian?" "I Do." "Do you Promise to Put the Packs needs before your own?" "I do." "Do you promise to put the safety of the Pack before your own?" "I do." Then the elder cut Kina's palm and let the blood drip into the cup. "Alpha Adrian do you accept Kina as your mate and luna?" the elder asked "I do." The elder then recut Adrian's palm and let his blood drip into the cup. He swirled it a couple of times to mix it and then gave it to Kina to drink, and then to Adrian to drink. "By the power vested to me by our goddess, I pronounce you Alph and Luna Sutter of Moon Rise Pack!" Again, more whoops and hollers.'

KESKA: As I got in line, to congratulate Adrian and Kina. I felt the cold stares of someone staring at me, looking around and I saw my siblings. "What?" I mind linked James. "Get to the back of the line brat!" He sent back. So, in order to not cause any more drama with my family, I stepped out of line and went to the kitchen to help set the food out for the celebration to come, and to pack snacks and water for the trip home. I had just set a tray of deli meats on the table and turned to head back into the kitchen. "What are you doing?" I heard Adrian's voice behind me. "Helping." I said. "I saw you get out of line, why?" he asked. "Adrian, please don't get upset, but the twins were being pissy about me being in front of them, so I just came to the kitchen where I knew I could do some good, and not cause any more "trouble." I told him with finger quotes. "I swear if we weren't cousins I'd kick their asses, James had better grow up, and start acting like an Alpha should, or, even if we are cousins there will be no trade agreements between us!" Adrian hissed. "Adrian don't cause problems please! James will graduate in a month and a half and turn eighteen in two months and then he will have to go to Alpha training, I'm sure he will get better." I said to him. "We shall see," he said "we shall see. Now are you going to congratulate me or what?" he chuckled. I just gave him a big hug. "You need to go mingle with your guests, oh and I hope you don't mind but I packed some sandwiches for the ride home." I said to him. "Are they for you? Or the rest of the family?" he asked, "Me and the warriors I rode with." I answered. "Then I don't mind." He told me.

MACKIE: I was riding my bike home from Nana Lilly's. I stayed longer than I thought, it was around three thirty in the afternoon, I heard a vehicle start driving behind me. I pulled my bike to the very edge of the street to let it pass but it slowed down too. I looked behind me to see who it was and there was Seth and a few of the hockey players. "What is it, Seth?" I sent him a mind link "Do you know why... Keska isn't answering any of my texts?" he sent back. "Sorry, no clue." I sent to him. The other guys with him started to give him shit for stopping and talking to me. "Dude, come on, what would Jessie say, if she caught you talking to that looser." Jerks, but what do you expect from a bunch of jocks, right? idiots.

Seth just shook his head and drove off, showering me with dust and pebbles from the side of the street. ass hole. I pulled my phone out of my bag and sent Keska a text.

FROM MACKIE: Hey Kes, have you got any text from Seth? He just caught me on my way home from Nana's and asked if I knew why you weren't answering his text. It was weird, he hesitated before he said your name.

FROM KESKA: Mackie, he hasn't sent me any, he was probably going to say Jessie's name because he was blowing up her phone on the way here, but he never sent me anything. Just ignore him.
