

THE STARS ARE ORIGINALLY A PAIR - CHAT

After arriving at the place, Night Xiu Chen dragged An Xingyue lightly to find the spicy hotpot An Xingyue wanted to eat. It was right at mealtime, and many people chose to come here to eat, but most of them were from the neighborhood, especially the students of the first middle school. While looking for the location, many boys greeted with Night Xiu Chen.

"Ah Chen seems to be very familiar with this place?" An Xingyue looked at Night Xiu Chen and expressed her surprise when she found the spicy hotpot she wanted to eat so quickly.

"Well, I've been here a few times with them before, Eddie Chen quite likes the spicy hotpot here, so he brought us here a few times, so I remembered it. Do you remember Eddie Chen? The one from class eight?" Night Xiu Chen poured a glass of water handed to An Xingyue, sometimes there are too many people, pouring water or something to come by themselves, the big man who came a few times said no problem.

As for why mention Eddie Chen also to mention that he is the eighth class it, because he knows that his little cute to some not too care about people or things are not too attentive to remember.

"I remember him, but I didn't think he would like to eat spicy hotpot, and A Chen you guys would actually accompany him to eat together." An Xingyue said after thinking about it, always thought they these gentry would not like to eat these things, even if they do, not in such a small place to eat.

"Yueya'er would actually remember him, ah, it's really amazing." Night Xiu Chen turned the cup in his hand and laughed lightly, "Before a few of us were thrown into the military camp by our families and had a hard time, so we don't have high requirements for class those and what not."

Although An Xingyue later words did not say, but see her a little surprised look, he probably understand what she was thinking, to know, after being thrown into the military camp, the old man of the family and those people said, do not care about their status, how the recruits train, they can not make special, even they are more pathetic than the recruits.

"Military camp? No wonder Ah Chen fights so well?" An Xingyue heard him say that, then it's not strange, after all, life in the military camp is quite hard, "Then will Ah Chen go to be a soldier in the future?"

Before in the library she saw that the books he read were about the military, and now she heard him say that he had been used as a recruit pulling, so is he going to be a soldier in the future?

Night Xiu Chen heard her ask this, a little hesitantly replied: "before thinking about it, then did not want to, and now there are you, if you go to the military, then I have to take the military school, then we have to be separated from you."

A long time ago, he did think about becoming a soldier, then the idea was gone, and then after he met Cutie, he just wanted to be with her, and anyway, he planned to start his own business when he was in college.

"Please be careful, this is your spicy hotpot." The two chatted and the stuff came.

"Let's eat first, don't you want to go eat something else later?" Night Xiu Chen casually chucked some of An Xingyue's favorite things into her bowl.

"Mmmmmm, you have to accompany me to eat snacks later, before when I was in Jiangcheng I felt there was no point in eating alone, now that you are with me, I feel less bored."

An Xingyue heard that he would not go to the military, hanging heart finally put down, after all, people are selfish, the risk of being a soldier is quite high, she did not want him to have an accident, but if he must go, she will not stop, because being a soldier is also a very honorable thing.

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to its customers.

An Xingyue ate and occasionally looked up at the person who kept giving her something to eat, the vapor blurred each other's faces, but An Xingyue felt he was still very happy.
