Chapter 16

Combat Strength Rises To Rank 4

There's such a good thing?

As mentioned before, the number and difficulty of the missions were based on the level.

As a Rank-5 weakling, she should wait for the main system to distribute low-rank missions after completing the novice missions. Only after she had completed them and was upgraded could she get more missions with higher rewards. This was something that even 008 could not control.

After a long while, 008 said excitedly, "The host's non-combat abilities are very strong. Such good things only happen occasionally. This system is still very fair!]

It seemed that the 500 points she needed to become a normal person were not difficult to earn.

Without hesitation, Tang Susu clicked on the screen and used the 187 points in her points bar to level up.

After a series of gorgeous light effects, she was left with 87 points. Correspondingly, her combat level changed from-5 to-4.

Susu's body also trembled slightly, and the soreness and sluggishness in her veins disappeared!

In everyone's eyes, her pale face seemed to have a little ruddy luster, and her originally dull eyes were less sickly and more bright!

"Do you have better medicine?" Tang Mingzhou's eyes darkened. I don't care how much it costs, as long as I can cure your illness!

008 said impatiently, “There are better Heart Pills that cost five million each. As long as you spend 100 points to upgrade your system to Rank 1, you can buy them!”

Tang Susu’s heart skipped a beat. “Is there any way to completely cure my big brother’s leg? ”

After her brother saved Ying Chengya and amputated half of his left leg, he had been in a wheelchair for four years. He only got a suitable artificial limb at the beginning of the year, but he was still a little crippled even after the reconstruction. After using it for a long time, he would suffer unimaginable pain. This state could be said to be very dangerous in the apocalypse.

The system needed to upgrade its [Beliefs] to Rank 3, and it could purchase an interstellar artificial limb for the host. After installation, it would be no different from a real leg, and it might even be better than the real one. Correspondingly, the price was also exorbitant, costing over 100 million yuan.

300 points, 100 million yuan.

“Dear system, can’t you make it a little cheaper?”

008 was determined not to be tempted by the host’s sweet words. “There are also cheap prosthetic legs, ranging from millions to tens of millions, but they have a service period and must be maintained regularly.”

“ ... ”

“We’re here!” Tang Mingqi was on tenterhooks the entire way. Fortunately, as the area became more and more remote, no one came out in the middle of the night, and no zombies were seen.

However, before the family got out of the car, they were still tense and alert of their surroundings.

008 took the opportunity to promote itself. After the system was upgraded to level two, it only needed ten million to buy a set of zombie detection equipment.

“I don’t need to.” Although Tang Susu had a seemingly omnipotent system, she didn’t plan to rely on it.

In her opinion, she was the most reliable person. Even the interstellar system might fail sometimes, and mastering enough strength was the most important thing!

Before she entered the door, Tang Susu seemed to have caught a glimpse of a shadow from the corner of her eye.

“What’s wrong?”

“Let’s clean up the area around the villa tomorrow. I’m still a little worried.”

“Alright,” he said. Tang Mingzhou pinched her tensed little face. Don’t worry too much. I’ll think of a way.

“Ouch! That hurts, Big Brother!”

Tang Susu’s eyes curved slightly. That’s right. She was a child with a family now. She was no longer alone.

After a simple wash-up, she really couldn’t stand the tiredness. She lay on the big princess bed that her mother had made for her, stretched her long, white, and tender limbs, and lazily slept.

Downstairs, Mr. And Mrs. Tang gathered the three children for a family meeting.
