

I Have a Shop of Infinite Resources

Chapter 17

Killing Ten Zombies

“You’ve all seen the changes in Susu.”

The few of them were silent for a while before Tang Mingqi said, “This is a good thing, but I blame myself. We didn’t do a good job, and she became so brave and powerful quickly. The effort she put in must be unimaginable!”

She was a frail girl without martial arts skills, could not drive, and basically knew nothing. She had always been used to being protected. Hence, they were relieved yet heartbroken when she suddenly became like this.

That’s why we have to get stronger as soon as possible so Susu can rely on us without worry. The two of us will try our best not to be a burden to you!

Mrs. Tang thought for a moment. “If it’s a critical moment, don’t worry about us. Just protect Susu!”

“Mom!” Seeing that the two of them were so calm, Tang Mingchu felt a little uncomfortable. “It’ll be fine. Our family will survive this.”

“Alright, let’s cut the crap. Dad knows that you’re all good kids! Mr. Tang patted the handsome young men in earnest.

“I don’t know if there’s any danger near the villa. Third Brother and I will keep watch for the first half of the night, and Eldest and Second Brother will keep watch for the second half of the night. If there’s any movement, wake everyone up immediately. Don’t run out alone, understand?”

Tang Mingchu yawned and was the first to stand up. “I’ll go and find a weapon.”

Although they could buy a lot of things in Susu's system, after comparison, they found that it was cheaper to buy things outside. If they couldn't buy things outside, they could buy them in her shop.

Therefore, they had prepared a lot of weapons and stored them in the warehouse on the basement floor of the villa.

The villa was huge. The next day, the first thing Tang Susu did after breakfast was to visit it.

There were a total of four floors, including the basement. It was as grand as a palace. The white marble was as bright as a mirror, and the luxurious European-style wooden stairs led to the third floor. They were all exquisitely decorated, and the style was romantic and elegant, but also dignified.

It was in line with the taste of young people like her, and it also accommodated father and mother Tang's taste.

The whole family couldn't wait to stay here for a long time.

The resources were also abundant.

This time, they had spent more than ten million yuan on the items. Besides two-thirds of the items in Tang Susu's backpack, a third was outside.

The warehouse covered an area of nearly 300 square meters and was almost filled with rice, flour, oil, pots and pans, clothes, shoes, and all kinds of medicine.

There were also daily necessities like walkie-talkies, flashlights, tools for military shovels, blankets, toothbrushes, and towels.

Tang Mingchu had specially ordered his men to build a small cold storage warehouse within three days to store the vegetables and meat that could easily go bad.

If there was no electricity, there was a generator in the corner, a solar panel, and a converter that converted the stored solar energy to 220v.

After Tang Susu walked around, 008 reported, [Congratulations to the host for completing the last Novice mission “Hoarding supplies.” As you have hoarded enough supplies, you will be rewarded with 30 points. The host currently has 117 points.]

This time, Tang Susu was not in a hurry to upgrade herself.

She opened the screen and clicked on the mission. As expected, two new missions appeared.

The other was a free C-rank mission. It was still a scouting mission, but the scope had been expanded to the entire villa area, and it only rewarded 1 point.

Did it have to be so useless?

The other was a B-Rank mandatory mission, and that was to kill 10 zombies within a day. Reward: 5 points.

008 was afraid that she would quit. [In addition to the points awarded for the completion of the mission, you will also get an extra point for every zombie killed, which is 15 points.]

“I’ll get 1 point for every zombie I kill in the future?”

[Only before the zombies level up, but the host will also get many points by killing high-level zombies in the later stage.]

After a month, the zombies would level up. They would be faster, stronger, and more lethal!

If she could kill a few hundred ordinary zombies within a month, she would have a chance to recover her body, not to mention the points needed for her brother’s artificial limbs!
