Chapter 25

Danger!

They had only explored half of the villa area yesterday. The next day, Tang Susu set off from the other side to continue her mission.

This time, the whole family wasn't on the move, and Mr. and Mrs. Tang stayed at home to learn shooting from their oldest son, Tang Mingzhuo.

After all, the two of them were old so their physical strength wasn't as good as that of the younger generation. After discussing with her brother, Tang Susu adjusted the training plan.

He decided to let them learn the spear for a day and go out for a real battle.

No one in the family was left behind. In this post-apocalyptic world where danger lurked everywhere, they were very clear that everyone had to have the strength to protect themselves.

Before she left, Tang Susu installed the multi-functional silencer that she had bought last night in the shooting range that her brother had set up.

The sound of gunfire notwithstanding, even the sound of talking would not leak out. It would be like a small protective shield.

On one hand, she wanted to prevent the zombies from coming after hearing the noise, but on the other, she didn't want other people to get close to their residence.

"Let's go, second brother, third brother."

"Wait!" Tang Mingqi opened the courtyard door before her. let me be the vanguard.

“I’ll bring up the rear!” Tang Mingchu carried a big knife that jingled. He’d look like a swordsman if one ignored the fact that his mouth was full of soup dumplings.

As soon as they went out, a zombie with half of its body missing ran out from the corner. It was so thin that only a skeleton was left. Its body was badly damaged and covered in gray skin. There was a big bloody hole in its abdomen, and a pile of intestines almost fell out.

Although Tang Mingchu had already adjusted his mentality yesterday and thought he would be unfazed, he still almost vomited.

Tang Susu’s flashed by, and before her second brother could make a move, she quickly turned her wrist and slashed with the tip of the knife!

As if dancing, the zombie’s head was cut open, and it fell to the ground.

“Susu!?” They looked in disbelief at the young girl whose eyes were slightly curved and who was smiling like a flower.

“As expected, it’s much easier to attack like this!” Tang Susu waved her hand, saving half of her strength.

“I’ll tell you guys on the way.”

The two of them quickly followed. “That hand looked so smooth. I didn’t even see what happened!”

“That’s the movement technique. I just used the first move, the most basic one. After practicing all thirty-six moves, I can move freely in the zombie crowd.”

“Whaattt!” A legendary martial arts manual? There were even such things!

“Do you guys want to practice?” Tang Susu took out an ancient book that had turned yellow. On it were the words “agile movement technique.”

The two of them shook their heads in unison. “This seems more suitable for girls?”

They all felt that it wasn't suitable for men like them to move around and use softness to overcome strength.

Tang Susu wanted to say that they had misunderstood her. This body movement technique was unpredictable and had hidden sharpness. Every move had its own brilliance, and when used together, it could be called a unique skill!

However, in Tong Zi's words, this set of martial arts was very difficult to practice. It was not something that ordinary people could understand. It was very likely that they would not be able to get the essence of it. Even she herself was taking a risk by trying it out, so she did not need to let her brothers waste their time on it.

Or, she could let them try it after she had fully understood it.

A few more zombies were walking toward them. They were wearing the same clothes as they did recently, which meant that there were probably other survivors in the villa area.

The three of them only cared about killing the zombies. No one was prepared to meddle in other people's business. However, helping to clear the zombies nearby was a good deed in itself!

“Second Brother!” Tang Susu shouted, and Tang Mingqi immediately rushed forward and stabbed a small and agile zombie.

Tang Susu turned around and approached him. She raised her saber and slashed, her posture elegant and graceful!

He turned his head again, and the blade drew a smooth arc in the air, hitting the head of a zombie!

“Beautiful!” Tang Mingchu whistled in amazement. He wiped his sweat and joined the battle with his seven-ringed broadsword.

Suddenly, Tang Susu's eyes widened. She pushed her third brother to the side and stabbed a sharp fruit knife at her!
