

I Have a Shop of Infinite Resources

Chapter 29

The Troublemaker Is Here

The three locked the door and quickened their pace.

A large group of people walked towards them. They were all dressed in an extraordinary manner, but their movements were aggressive. Everyone had an angry expression on their faces as they blocked their way.

“You bunch of brats! Who allowed you to open the door?”

“There are heaps of zombies outside. Are you letting them in to kill us?”

A tall and strong man in a security uniform took the lead and rushed over. He pointed an electric baton at them angrily and asked, “Which villa are you the owners of?”

As he spoke, his eyes glowed and he quickly glanced at their bulging backpacks.

Tang Mingchu pushed away the electric baton that was almost pointing at his face. Who do you think you are? Why should I tell you?”

“Don’t refuse a toast only to drink a forfeit!” The security guard’s face darkened. “If you can’t tell me where you’re staying, then get out. We don’t welcome outsiders here!”

Tang Mingqi, who was in charge of renting the house, was about to speak when...

“There’s no need to ask. They’re not the owners of Cuidi Lake Gardens. I’m the manager of the property, and I’ve never seen them before!”

A bespectacled woman walked out and interrupted him.

The other dozen or so people's expressions immediately changed. "This is a villa that we bought with money. Any Tom, Dick, or Harry dares to barge in!

"Get out! I don't know if he was bitten or injured by the zombies outside."

"If we let them stay inside and get infected, we'll all be dead!"

Tang Susu quietly watched the back and forth volley.

Her calmness formed a sharp contrast with the two brothers who were holding back their anger and were about to die. It was hard to figure it out.

A plump man with a big belly had noticed this soft and beautiful little beauty with black hair from the beginning.

Her face was tender, white, and soft, making people want to touch it. She had a ponytail and was wearing a simple black casual suit, which made her skin look as clear as jade. It was hard to tell what kind of figure she had under the loose clothes!

Tang Mingqi noticed his lecherous gaze and immediately pulled Tang Susu behind him, covering her up.

He clenched his fists tightly to stop himself from rushing over and beating him up.

"We're renting a villa here. What's the matter? we've spent money and signed the contract. What's your problem? "

"Who knows if you're telling the truth or not!"

"That's right. You almost let the zombies in just now. Who knows if you will continue to do this next time!

"Don't talk nonsense with them, hurry up and get out!"

Tang Mingqi's handsome face blushed slightly. He wanted to explain something, but Tang susu pinched his finger.

“According to what you’re saying, do I have reason to suspect that you’re not from Cuidi Lake Gardens?”

She smiled and looked sweet and pleasant, but her tone was so sharp that it made people’s breathing stop.

“Shouldn’t I kick you out as well?”

In an instant, everyone looked at her. This little girl who they had not taken seriously at first!

“Bullshit!” A young girl who was about the same age as her said angrily, “I live in Villa No. 9. My dad bought this villa for me!

As he spoke, he exuded a sense of superiority.

The security guard glared at her.

“Idiot!”

Did they want to find out if these people lived here?

What they wanted was a legitimate reason to suppress this group of young people, make them hand over the supplies, and then use them!

He didn’t expect that when these two boys almost fell into his trap, this girl would suddenly turn the tables!

At this time, Tang Susu’s soft eyes fell on him. “Do you think you can pretend to be someone here just because you’re wearing a security uniform? don’t think i don’t know that you’re using these people to achieve your own goals!”

In an instant, the well-dressed business owners all looked at the security guard with strange expressions, because Tang Susu’s words seemed to be certain, as if she knew something.

The security guard’s heart tightened, but his expression did not change. “You brat, do you know what you’re saying?”

