Chapter 26 - Viral Video

Chapter 26: Viral Video

Ever since the energetic discussions surrounding the rumours about Iris Long, Jin Chonglin and Fan Luo, many netizens frequented these three people's social media accounts like loyal watchdogs to check for their latest posts.

As soon as the video was posted on Iris Long's social media accounts, it immediately went viral.

"Oh my God! What did I just watch? Did Iris Long just announce her comeback with a video?"

"Iris Long finally updated her blog! Watch the video!"

"Is the woman in the video really Iris Long? She looks so different! She looks more mature and elegant now."

"Ptui! What mature? What elegant? No matter how grandly a chicken dresses up, it'll never become a phoenix!"

"I think the video is based on the true story of what really happened to her. We all heard about the accident. Now it turns out that the rumours about her being comatose is real. I counted how many times the calendar in the video flipped. She was in coma for a year."

"If Iris Long was really comatose for one year, then I feel bad for her. Everyone keeps on saying that she got pregnant and talked shit about her, saying that she stayed silent because of her guilty conscience, when the truth was that she was actually comatose the entire time. Poor girl."

"Don't feel bad for her. Her reputation as a bitch and a slut is well-known in the industry. This video is just one of her gimmicks."

"Yeah! We all know how hungry for fame she is."

"Look at the end of the video! I think she's releasing either a single or an album called 'Rebirth' two weeks from now."

"Fuck! That's JJ's record label. Don't tell me she's one of his artists now."

"No! I can't believe that JJ's standards dropped so much. Why, JJ? Why would you sign a trash like Iris Long?!"

"Poster above, did you really watch the entire video? The artistry shown in the video is far from trashy. I think Iris Long is aiming for an image change. I like what I'm seeing."

"Hah! With her trash reputation, of course she's desperate for an image change. It's too late! Everyone hates Iris Long!"

"Hey, not everyone hates her. I may not like her as a person, but I really like her voice. Her older songs are really shallow, but her voice is actually great. I, for one, am looking forward to her new music."

"I'm going to share a real experience. I was lucky enough to hear Miss Long sing a while ago. I was with my friends eating lunch at a restaurant when suddenly a beautiful young woman sat on the piano and started singing a song. Her song made me cry so hard. It was the most beautiful and meaningful song that I have ever heard since a long time ago. I really didn't know Miss Long from before, so I wasn't aware of her 'bad reputation' that everyone else keeps on saying. All I know is the Miss Long that I met at the restaurant. Such a lovely and beautiful human being. I hope that everyone gives her another chance because I can guarantee that whatever song she sings from now on will be amazing! I hope these two weeks would come faster. I want to listen to that song she performed in the restaurant again."

"Poster above, is that true? Now I'm getting more and more curious about Iris Long. I'll hold my judgment until 'Rebirth' is released."

"Wait, are you saying that Iris Long fell so low that she became a mere restaurant performer? Ahaha! How embarrassing."

"Hey! Don't look down on restaurant performers!"

An hour after the video was posted online, JJ's personal account, his record label and Bright Summit Entertainment Company's official accounts shared the video causing another round of speculations and fervent discussions.

A few minutes later, both JJ's record label and Bright Summit posted official statements confirming that Iris Long was now an artist signed under them and also announced the release of her comeback album titled "Rebirth" two weeks from now.

Their announcements caused an uproar.

Chapter 27 - Jin Liwei Barges In

Chapter 27: Jin Liwei Barges in

Gold Heights Condominium.

Iris headed to the living area after taking a shower. She found Dom sitting on the floor, his back leaning against the lower part of the couch, watching a documentary about exotic cuisines on TV.

He turned his head when he heard her approach. She sat on the couch beside him.

"Boss, a Mr. Jin Liwei called while you were in the shower. Do you know him? He wants you to either reply to his e-mails or give him a call. He said that he's been trying to contact you for weeks now. Hmph! He sounded so bossy. He left his number. Do you want it?"

Iris frowned. "No. I don't want that man's number. Why does he keep on bothering me?"

"Who is he?" he asked.

He continued watching the documentary as he repeated the man's name in his head. After some time, his eyes widened. "Wait. Don't tell me he's that Jin Liwei? Jin Corporation's Jin Liwei?"

"Yes."

Dom gasped. "Oh my God! Boss! That Jin Liwei is bothering you? Wow. As expected of my boss! Even people bothering you are on another level. Maybe he likes you. Ehehe."

"Don't be ridiculous. We don't like each other. I don't want to have anything to do with that arrogant man."

"Ehehehe."

"Stop. You're creeping me out."

The housekeeper, Yi Mei, appeared. "Young Miss, the receptionist downstairs called saying that a Mr. Jin Liwei wants to see you."

"Ayiiii! I knew it!" Dom covered his mouth, his eyes shining with excitement.

Iris' heart thumped.

What did the damn arrogant man come here for?

"Young Miss? Should I invite him up or turn him away?" Yi Mei asked her.

Iris frowned.

"Should I turn him away then?" Yi Mei asked again.

"Yes! Wait, no. No. Invite him up." Iris sighed.

Dom squealed. "Oh my God oh my God oh my God!!! Jin Liwei is coming! Aaaaah!" He fanned himself dramatically with his hands.

"Let's find out what he wants. Dom, tell the maids to prepare some refreshments." Iris inwardly wondered why she suddenly started feeling nervous.

"Right away, boss!"

A few minutes later, Yi Mei led Jin Liwei inside the penthouse to where Iris and Dom were waiting.

He looked tall and immaculate in his custom-made business suit. His handsome face wore a cold, irritated expression. When he saw the damn girl sitting and sipping tea, looking all relaxed, he felt even more irritated. He hurried towards her.

"Why aren't you replying to my e-mails?" he growled when he reached her.

"And hello to you too, Mr. Jin," she said, placing the teacup on the table gently. "Please have a seat."

"No. Answer me first. Why are you ignoring me?"

Iris' eyes twitched, trying to rein in her temper.

Were they close? Why was this man acting so familiar with her?

She replied to him coolly, "I see that you're still very rude, Mr. Jin."

Dom looked at the two, his eyes sparkling.

"Long Xiulan, don't test my patience," he snarled.

"Mr. Jin Liwei, I have no intention of testing you or anyone else's patience." She finally snapped. "I already told you before that I don't want to see you ever again. Tell me. Why did you come? What do you want from me?"

Her face flushed with anger, making her even more attractive in his eyes. Her last sentence echoed in his mind: What do you want from me want from me want from me from me...

His control snapped.

He pulled her roughly to his chest. His right hand grabbed a fistful of hair behind her head, his left arm circled around her tiny waist lifting her up. She gasped, alarmed. His mouth smashed against her lips.

She squirmed in his embrace, fighting against his sudden aggression, hitting his shoulders and trying to push his head away. She wanted to escape but he was too strong.

She bit his lips until she tasted blood, yet he didn't stop. Angry that he got bitten, he growled and kissed her even more deeply, sucking hard on her lips.

"Oh oh oh! Oh my God! What should I do? My boss' tofu is getting eaten! Should I save her? Should I punch him? But he's Jin Liwei! Oh my. This is so hot. I want to take a video, maybe just photos...but they'll probably murder me...oh oh oh."

Dom mumbled in excitement, pacing from side to side as he watched the kissing scene in front of him.

Yi Mei stood frozen in shock, one hand clutching her chest. The poor housekeeper looked like she would fall over at any moment.

Chapter 28 - Need To SearChapter It Up

Chapter 28: Need to Search it Up

Iris' heart thundered inside her chest. She was so furious that she wanted to bite this damn man's head off! She was going to murder this villain! How dare he do this to her inside her own home?!

But but but...what was this?

She felt breathless and a bit dizzy. She slackened a bit, trying to determine the sensations she was currently feeling. She had never felt this way before in her two lives.

Jin Liwei felt her resistance weakening. Of course, he didn't let this opportunity escape him. A strong desire to possess the damn girl in his embrace overcame him.

His tongue snaked inside her sweet mouth, invading her. He sucked her tongue, making her whimper.

Iris moaned, closing her eyes. She lost the ability to think. All she could feel was the man kissing her senseless. She wasn't aware that both her arms wrapped around his neck, pulling him closer.

He groaned, the hand on her hair slid down to her butt and squeezed hard.

"Ay kabayo!1" they heard Dom exclaim followed by a loud crash, interrupting their kiss.

Jin Liwei felt irritated to be interrupted and was about to dive in for another kiss, but Iris turned her head to look dazedly at her assistant who was now lying on the floor together with a fallen chair.

"Ehe. Don't mind me. Go on. Please continue what you're doing." Dom climbed up from the floor and righted the chair he crashed into in his overexcitement.

Dom's words cleared her dazed state. She pushed her hands against Jin Liwei's chest.

"Mr. Jin, put me down."

"No." His arms tightened around her.

"Put me down this instant!"

They glared at each other for a few moments before Jin Liwei reluctantly released her.

Iris quickly put some distance between them, trying to catch her breath and calm her racing heart. This...she frowned. She knew that she didn't like the damn arrogant man and didn't want to see him again, yet why...

She looked at him intensely, her head tilted to one side, trying to think of a logical explanation of why he induced these weird sensations on her body.

Jin Liwei ran a hand through his hair, trying desperately to calm his inner beast. He lost control. Dammit! He actually lost control.

The frustrating weeks of her not replying to his e-mails made him think about her constantly, souring his mood every single day. He wanted to request more of her reports about other companies but the damn girl kept on ignoring him. He couldn't take it anymore, so he called her but still wasn't able to talk to her directly. He was so frustrated that he impulsively rushed to her place.

He looked at the damn girl once again and saw her intense gaze on him.

"Why are you looking at me like that? Did you fall in love with me?" He teased.

"I don't know how to exactly determine such an illogical and unscientific state as falling in love," she told him in a serious tone. "I can somewhat understand the idea based on what others and the media say. I think I can even act like one who has fallen in love, but the descriptions explaining this state are too abstract for a 100% certainty. Hmm. Maybe what I'm feeling is...lust?" She frowned, thinking deeply. "Dom, get my laptop. I need to search this up."

"Eh? Er...okay, boss." Dom looked at his boss weirdly and then at Jin Liwei, his eyes drifting down to the man's bulging crotch.

Oh. Dom's eyes glinted with a knowing expression. It was difficult, but he was able to peel his eyes away. He started to leave, but then returned to gently drag the still frozen housekeeper away.

Jin Liwei was taken aback. "You...why would you search up something like that? Have you never felt horny before?"

Well, not like he felt horny before either until now in front of this damn girl. But he wouldn't tell her that.

Iris looked at him like he was stupid. "I'm not a man. I don't have a penis that gets hard, so I don't have anything concrete to determine whether I'm feeling horny or not."

His mouth fell open. He tried several times to say something but failed. Finally, he told her, "You know you're feeling horny if you want to have sex."

"I see. I'm not feeling horny then. I don't want to have sex with you, Mr. Jin."

"Kabayo" literally means "horse" in Filipino. In this case, it's used as an exclamation of surprise, similar to how "Aiyo!" is used in Chinese but not quite. More like how most people use "Oh shit!", but not as explicit. For a more explicit version, I've heard some use "Ay, puke ng kabayo!" which literally translates to "Oh, horse's vagina!". Pft! Poor horse.

Chapter 29 - I Forbid You To Kiss Other Men

Chapter 29: I Forbid You to Kiss Other Men

"Hah! Says someone who clearly liked my kiss!" Jin Liwei glared at her.

"Hmm. I suppose I liked your kiss," Iris admitted. "But I don't have other experiences to compare it to."

"What do you mean? Don't tell me that I'm your first kiss? I don't believe it." He subconsciously licked his lips. He wanted to taste her again.

Her lips pressed together. "I don't care whether you believe me or not."

In her past life, she had never been kissed by any man other than the forehead and cheek kisses her father and older brother gave her. They were so protective that they practically imprisoned her within the estate. They didn't allow her to meet other people who weren't approved by them.

She was well-trained in etiquette and could converse comfortably with almost anyone, but she was severely lacking when it came to understanding intimacy between the opposite sexes. In short, she was extremely dense when it came to flirting.

As for the original Iris Long, she knew based on her memories that despite her party girl reputation, she never kissed or had sex with any man.

She didn't want to be like her mother, Wei Lan, who had so many lovers that the line-up could reach all the way up the Milky Way.

However, the original Iris was too much like Wei Lan in how she loved herself the most. She loved herself too much that she didn't have the time nor the mental capacity to take a lover. She also thought very highly of herself, believing that no man was ever good enough for someone as amazing as her.

The rumours of her pursuing men were actually just her trying to leech off popularity from more famous people. This was the situation with Jin Chonglin.

She also pursued famous females, but everyone just focused and gossiped on the men she tried getting close to.

"Are you serious?" Jin Liwei asked her, shocked. Didn't she have a promiscuous reputation? She must have kissed many men before.

She ignored him, mumbling to herself. "I should probably find other men to kiss in order to have more choices for comparison. Will I feel like this in every kiss regardless of the partner? Hmm. This is something worthy to experiment on." Her brain was already in overdrive formulating a hypothesis and experiment methods.

He heard her and felt possessive. "Like hell I'll allow you to kiss other men."

"It's none of your business, Mr. Jin."

"Long Xiulan, I forbid you to kiss other men."

She was angered. "You don't have the right to forbid me to do anything. I own myself."

He gritted his teeth, glaring at the damn girl. He had to use all the willpower he had not to push her down to the floor and take her right there and then.

He didn't understand why he was suddenly feeling so possessive of her. The damn girl was making him go crazy!

"Now tell me, Mr. Jin, why you came here today. If not, please leave. I'm busy."

"Yeah, right. Busy sipping your tea."

She glared at him.

He had to take a few moments to calm down and remember why he came here today. At first, it was just because he wanted to form a business relationship. Her detailed and comprehensive reports were simply too invaluable.

For a head of a big company like him, she was an untapped resource waiting to be exploited. He felt like an explorer who chanced upon a deep mine of gold and diamonds. His first instinct was to mark his territory, claim ownership and prevent competitors from taking a share.

Everything was his! She was his!

But when she ignored his e-mails, he got more and more frustrated to the point that she was on his mind every day. He wanted to see her, to talk to her, to get to know her.

He didn't care about her at all before, treating her as just one of the countless women trying to catch his brother. Her bad reputation didn't help either.

But when he met her in person for the first time at the hotel lobby, he discovered that there was more to her. Way, way more. He had the urge to keep her to himself, not allowing others to discover this unknown, fascinating side of her.

And now, finally seeing her after so long, he wanted to possess this woman!

Chapter 30 - How To Know If You're Feeling Horny

Chapter 30: How to Know if You're Feeling Horny

Finally, Jin Liwei was able to calm down a bit.

He sighed before answering her. "I came today to make an official offer of a business partnership between us. I have hired countless private investigators before but not one of them can reach the level of the reports you sent me. I will pay however much you ask."

Iris was silent for a few seconds. "Mr. Jin, I'm quite busy at the moment. I'm making my comeback to showbiz. I have to do extensive promotions for my upcoming album."

"I know. You don't have to accept all of my requests, just the ones that you can do when you have free time. Surely you can do that? As I said, the price is not a problem."

"To be honest, I don't mind accepting this kind of work. It's just that, Mr. Jin, I feel uneasy whenever I'm dealing with you. That's why I'd rather not accept your offer."

"You feel uneasy with me? Why?"

She thought for a moment. "I don't know the exact reason. I need to think about it more."

"Hmm..." He rubbed his chin, looking at her with amused eyes. "Isn't it because you're attracted to me?"

Iris frowned. "But I don't like you."

He walked closer to her, looked directly at her eyes and whispered. "Are you sure you don't like me? You liked my kiss. That means you like me. Shall I kiss you again to make sure?"

She stepped back, putting her hands in front of her. "Stop, Mr. Jin. I may be inexperienced but I'm not stupid. I'm busy and you're busy. Let's not waste each other's time. Go find another woman if you really can't hold it in. I'm sure that with your status, there are a lot of women more than willing to satisfy you. I'm not interested. If there isn't anything else, please leave."

His expression turned black. He took a few deep breaths before he was able to control his temper.

He turned, sat on a chair and poured himself a cup of hot tea. After sipping, he nodded in appreciation. If he wasn't mistaken, this was Gyokuro tea¹.

He checked the time on his gold watch. "It's almost lunch time. I'm hungry. Do you want to stay here or shall we go out?"

Iris' eyes twitched. The damn arrogant man was acting like he was in his own home!

She sighed, suddenly feeling tired.

She didn't want to waste time and energy arguing with him anymore. "I plan to stay at home today. This is my last precious day off until I start promoting my comeback album."

"Alright." He grabbed a small sponge cake from the plate and ate it, sipping tea in between a couple of bites.

Dom returned with a laptop in his arms. When he saw his boss and Mr. Jin Liwei, he was a bit disappointed that they weren't kissing anymore. "Boss, I brought your laptop."

"Thanks, Dom." Iris walked forward and sat on a chair opposite Jin Liwei. Dom placed the laptop on the table in front of her. "And also, Dom, check when lunch will be ready. Mr. Jin will be joining us."

"Right away, boss! Ehehe." Dom hurried to the kitchen.

Maybe he would be able to witness another kissing scene later. How exciting!

Jin Liwei ate the sponge cakes—good stuff, he would ask for some to take home later—while admiring the serious expression on the girl's face as she typed on her laptop.

She frowned while reading something, tilting her head to the side. Moments later, her expression looked more and more confused.

"What are you looking at?" he asked, unable to hold his curiosity any longer.

Not hearing an answer, he stood up, walked to her side and looked down at her laptop screen. Seeing what she was reading, his jaw fell down in shock.

She was reading an English article from a foreign website. The title?

"How to Know if You're Feeling Horny".

One of the finest Japanese green tea. The plant is grown under a shade rather than in the full sun.
