Every Time I Wake Up, I Become A Suspect – Chapter 1

09 minutes read

“Hello, Miss Zhou, we are from the Jiangcheng City Public Security Bureau.”

The not-so-silent ward suddenly sounded a fairly magnetic male voice, although not abruptly, but also called back the mind of Jiang Tianyu, who was sitting leaning on the bed and looking out the window.

She took her eyes back and turned her head to look at a man and a woman standing at the end of the bed, both very young, looking only twenty-six or twenty-seven.

Staring at the other party's bright law enforcement card, Jiang Tianyu had a momentary lapse of concentration.

Before losing consciousness, the only thing she remembered was the fallen colleagues in front of her and the sudden burst of fire around her, who had thought that after waking up she had somehow become a woman named Zhou Ya, and was also in Jiangcheng City.

Jiangcheng City .....

Jiang Tianyu blinked slowly, unlike the coastal tourist city she lived in before, this is a northern city with four distinct seasons and a dry climate, even the air has a valiant smell.

“Miss Zhou?” The young male police officer saw that she did not respond for a long time, so he opened his mouth again tentatively and called out, his expression was just the right amount of concern: “Just now the doctor said that you are out of life-threatening, consciousness is also clear, is there any discomfort?”

Jiang Tianyu shook her head in a small way and asked with a somewhat hoarse voice, “Are you ..... all okay?”

Since she woke up in this body, she has received a lot of concerns from people claiming to be Zhou Ya's friends and colleagues, and naturally she also groped to know that Zhou Ya was in the hospital because she had a car accident and hurt her brain.

Thinking of this, Jiang Tianyu lifted her hand and touched her forehead, where sterile gauze was wrapped in a mesh, making her look a bit funny in her posture.

“It’s like this, Ding Tianlang, you know Miss Zhou, right?” The male police officer asked while intentionally or unintentionally observing how the person on the bed would react after hearing the name.

Jiang Tianyu smiled while frowning, because the three words ‘Ding Tianlang’, several images flashed through her mind in a blur, somewhat chaotic, leaving her without any clue for a while.

“No .....

She deliberately vocalized, did not expect that the male police officer interrupted her words: “According to the situation that our police now have, Miss Zhou and Ding Tianlang originally but lovers relationship, you are trying to deny?”

Jiang Tianyu slightly tilted her head, the attitude of these two police officers made her originally somewhat chaotic thinking gradually become clear, and this scene in front of her undoubtedly made her feel incomparably familiar.

As a serving special police officer, arresting suspects she was familiar with, this was the first time she was questioned as a suspect.

“Sorry, I have some headache.”

Perhaps it was because of professional habits, Jiang Tianyu chose to avoid risk. Zhou Ya left her with really limited memories, just don’t know whether it was the aftermath of the car accident or because the core was completely changed inside this body.

When the truth is still unclear, she does not want to rashly cause more misunderstandings.

However, after hearing this response from her, the two police officers at the end of the bed instantly showed an expected expression. The male police officer smoothly took his law enforcement card back into his pocket and turned his head to ask the young female police officer behind him softly: “Did you notify the Qi team? How come they haven’t arrived yet?”

The female police also lowered her voice and said: “Notified, Qi team just seems to be outside visiting, said he would come over as soon as possible.”

The male police raised his wrist to look at the time on his wristwatch, and again with the corner of his eye glanced at the woman in the hospital bed this time obviously does not intend to cooperate, a time actually do not know what to continue to say.

The two of them are newcomers who have been assigned to the Jiangcheng City Public Security Bureau not long after graduation, and they don't seem to be skilled in the skills of questioning the parties involved in the case.

This is a large ward with four beds, the ears can still hear the whispers of other patients and family members, only Jiang Tianyu bed and around this side of the small world, even the air seems to be frozen.

"Zhou ....." the male police officer opened his mouth, however, his second word did not have time to say, was interrupted by a harsh scream coming from the corridor outside.

"Ah ! ! ! ! !"

"Murder! Killing people!"

A heart-stopping clamor was followed by the chaotic sound of footsteps, interspersed with not-so-clear pleas for help and cries.

In just a few seconds, the two young policemen who were standing at the end of the bed rushed out.

Then, anyone who could move in the ward gathered at the door and looked out with their heads in the air, and after determining that there was no danger, they gathered in the corridor in twos and threes to discuss.

"What's the situation?"

"There are too many people over there, we can not see ah, but listen to just ran back from there, it seems that someone stabbed someone with a knife!"

"Oh my God!"

"Is it true?"

"Really, there is blood all over the floor ....."

With intermittent cries of alarm, Jiang Tianyu looked sideways at the oldest man on the bed next to her who had been sleeping because of his advanced age, and pursed her lips slightly. Then she moved sharply to get out of bed, without the slightest sense of sluggishness between her actions after several days in bed.

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to the public.

Jiang Tianyu is wearing a hospital gown, mixed in the crowd of people watching from afar and is not conspicuous, plus at the moment everyone's mind is attracted to the nurses' station changes, no one will be distracted to pay attention to her.

In this way, she squeezed her way quite smoothly to the front, when the hospital security guards were dutifully intercepting the crowd of onlookers who wanted to come forward, so as to avoid more and more people caught off guard.

"Stand back! Everybody back!"

Along with the hissing voice of the security guard, Jiang Tianyu stretched her neck and finally could barely see the scene ahead.

Behind the nurse's station, a man was holding a female doctor in a white coat hostage with his back against the wall, and the sharp dagger had already cut through the delicate skin of the female doctor's neck, with a few drops of stinging red at the not-so-large wound.

The female doctor is obviously scared hard, but did not dare to cry out, but only forced to block in front of the thugs, the whole body uncontrollable trembling slightly, tears paste a face.

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to the market.

The first time I saw the woman's face, she found that there was a nurse lying at the feet of the gangster and the female doctor, because the nurse's desk was blocked, it was not possible to see the specific situation. The other side of the eyes tightly closed, life and death do not know, face white, a look of excessive blood loss.

And the slowly expanding pool of blood on the ground was a kind of side confirmation of her guess.

"Say something, don't be impulsive!" The male police stood in the forefront of the most reassuring, but no longer dare to go forward half a step, the knife-wielding criminals look mentally unstable, the hostage's personal safety is the main thing at the moment.

The young policewoman turned around and walked to the side of the few female nurses who had been frightened and were sobbing incessantly, asking urgently: "What the hell is going on? Do you know that thug?"

One of the long-faced nurses who looked a little older nodded haphazardly: "Looked familiar, should be the family of which patient it ..... but he whoever it is, how can kill?"

It is hard not to be a vicious injury case caused by a doctor-patient dispute?

Just then, another female nurse suddenly rushed to the injured man who had lost consciousness behind the desk and shrieked, "Head nurse! Comrade police, please save the head nurse! She's lost so much blood, she'll die if she continues like this!"

The male police officer first stabilized himself, and then raised his voice: "Brother, what is your name?"

The knife-wielding gangster heard the movement and slightly tilted his head, looking over the shoulder of the female doctor, a pair of narrow eyes full of fierce, it does not look like a response.

"Brother, I believe that what you do today must have a compelling hardship, the intention is also to solve their own claims." The male police officer said this pause, the face of the expression more and more calm: "This if a human life, the nature is not so simple ....."

"You don't have to scare me there, since I did it will still be afraid of this?" Although the knife-wielding gangster's mouth is responding in this way, but in the end will be more head out of some, glanced at two people lying at his feet, then rolled his eyes, opened his mouth wistfully: "You want to save her? It is not impossible, one life for one life, and then come over a nurse to me as a hostage!"

The words have just fallen, several nurses over there are frightened to huddle, since no one to go forward.

The little policewoman who had been standing on the side could not hold back, and quickly stepped forward and said in a stern voice: "I'll exchange! Exchange me for her!"

The knife wielding gangster suddenly laughed out loud, and then tightened his grip on the female doctor in front of him, while mocking grimly: "Engaging a police officer as a hostage, are you crazy or am I crazy?"

He is a person, but is the first opportunity to take advantage of the hands to be able to control the two medical care so that the police dare not move, really if a female police officer over, he can control each other is still unknown, then also play a part!

"You ....." little policewoman wanted to say something, but in time to wake up the rest of the words swallowed back.

In the crowd is a little anxious, the crowd of spectators suddenly sounded a female voice: "I exchange her okay?"

As she spoke, Jiang Tianyu had tactfully crossed over the security guards who were blocking the front, and walked straight to the middle of the male police officers and knife-wielding criminals.

“Zhou Ya?” The male police officer’s face at this time there is obvious consternation, after regained consciousness, busy to speak reprimanded: “You are a patient, what is adding to the chaos here? Come here quickly!”

Jiang Tianyu is now as if the bleeding person on the ground is scared silly general motionless, soft lines of the face in time to reveal a fearful and kind look, again opened his mouth when the tone of voice tinged with a trace of fear, mixed with some pity: “The head nurse is a good person, please let her live!”

She was surveying the surroundings of the nurses’ station, and the th.ug was also watching her.

The company’s main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to its customers. The man who was in the room is a man who has been in the room for a long time.

The surrounding silence is deadly, the male police just blurted out a ‘no’ and tried to take the right foot are in the female doctor that with the cry of the scream hard back.

The people present held their breath until the trembling female doctor was coerced by the man to bend over and tie Jiang Tianyu’s hands and feet with rope, the knife-wielding th.ug only then dragged the two of them stumbling to the corner.

He first threw Jiang Tianyu, whose arms and legs were restricted, to the ground at his feet very casually, then resumed his original posture of holding the female doctor at knifepoint, and watched coldly as the police and hospital staff rushed to the place where they had just stood and dragged the dying victim away.

“You have saved the person as you wished, now it’s my turn to make demands, right?” As the man spoke, he smiled threateningly and slashed the female doctor’s neck with his dagger again, “I want to see Wang Hongfang!”

“Dean Wang?” A nurse blurted out in surprise.

At the same time, like a shrimp lying at the feet of the criminals, Jiang Tianyu just withdrew her gaze towards the other side, her eyebrows moved slightly, dropping her eyelids to hide the emotions in her eyes.
