121 Excitement Across the Internet! Luofeng Discovers an Ancient Tomb! (3)

“Hahaha, agreed!”

The heirs who were gathered together were no longer in the mood to drink.

The long-legged ladies sitting on their legs had no longer aroused them either.

The reason why they had all spent 4 million to purchase the Mercedes-Benz from Luo Feng was so that they could join him in a 7-day long treasure hunt. After all, they were all highly passionate towards treasure-hunting.

However, the landmine scare they had experienced had truly scarred them.

Their moment of weakness had likely resulted in the greatest regret in their life due to the missing out of the ancient tomb’s discovery.

“Old Luo, did you actually manage to find an ancient tomb?”

Wu Fanyu immediately gave Luo Feng a call.

“Hahaha, more or less! Little Wu, you’ve really missed a great opportunity this time!”

On the other side, Zhang Shunyong was smugly looking towards Luo Feng as he imagined his peers’ frustrated expressions.

“Don’t laugh! I’ll be right there! I’ll be there by midnight!”

“!!!”

Zhang Shunyong was left speechless by his fellow heir’s response. He was going to drive through the night?

One must know that the distance from Jiangnan City to Daze Mountain was almost 100 kilometers.

If he really intended on achieving what he had just stated, it meant that he was going all out.

On the other hand, Luo Feng was rather casual about the whole matter. After all, he had already promised to bring them along, and he saw no harm in letting the other heirs join late.

However, Luo Feng would claim the big red and orange dots all for himself.

Everything else, though, was free for the taking.

At this moment, although it was already past 9 pm, Luo Feng’s stream was still jam-packed with viewers.

His followers had soared to a whopping 4.9 million.

He had seemingly gained a million more followers out of nowhere.

His rate of growth of the platform was nothing short of a miracle.

Even the higher ups of Weibo were starting to notice him. After all, with Luo Feng dominating their trending pages for this long, one would start to think that the platform was set up just for Luo Feng to thrive in.

Damn it, he's been on the trending search almost every day for a month.

This is crazy!

"This is the first time I've ever watched Old Luo digging a grave. What do you think's gonna happen?"

"Grave digging? But this is an ancient tomb?"

"Don't they mean the same f*cking thing? Isn't an ancient tomb a grave?"

"By that logic, you can also call a tomb a house for the dead too, hahaha!"

"Hmm, I don't see a problem with that. They're all things for 'people' to live in, after all!"

"If you have heart disease, I suggest you stop watching it immediately. I think something exciting is about to happen!"

"Don't be afraid. I, Wang Long, am no stranger to danger! Come what may, I'll never cower in fear!"

"Man, at this rate, Old Luo will be able to afford young models until the end of time!"

"Motherf*cker! He could afford 10 models worth 100 thousand yuan daily for an entire month!!"

"A hundred thousand yuan. Those are basically third-tier models, no?"

"If you have that kind of money, why don't you find higher-quality ones instead? Heck, I'd rather hire 1 celebrity-level model than the third-rate ones! Quality over quantity, my friend!"

"Damn, we got an experienced veteran here!"

Another hour passed.

It was already 10 at night.

Luo Feng had already cleared out more than 9 square meters of dirt under his feet.

However, all he had found thus far were still the exterior walls of the tomb.

"Host, where do you think this part of the tomb is?"

"Isn't this ancient tomb a little too big? You've already emptied out 9 square meters of space and yet, there's still no entrance or corners in sight?"

“You dumb*ss, this an ancient tomb for God’s sake! Did you think this is a regular grave, of course it’s much larger than 3 square meters!”

“To have this much copper coins and porcelainware buried within their tomb, whoever its owner is must be an important figure or a wealthy merchant!”

“Don’t tell me it’s the tomb of some emperor?”

“That’s not possible. Tombs of the emperors from the Ming dynasty were located within the capital cities!”

“Yes, it can’t possibly be the tomb of an emperor.”

At that moment, Luo Feng suddenly paused his work.

He walked beside the tomb and observed its brick walls for a moment.

“Ah, I see! This is going to make things much more efficient!”

...

Luo Feng laughed out loud, attracting the attention of An Peng, the rest of the crew present, as well as his viewers.

Despite the bright light of their headlamp helmets illuminating the walls, to them, the ancient tomb’s exterior was just a regular brick wall. They could not tell anything special from it.

“What are you laughing at, host? What’s wrong?”

“What do you mean by much more efficient?”

Luo Feng chuckled and pointed at one of the bricks with his hoe. “These bricks look like they have been chipped off. Look, there are obvious traces of attempts at reassembling the wall here! These bricks must have been damaged by the tomb raiders!”

Upon hearing Luo Feng’s statement, everyone’s gaze was drawn to wherever Luo Feng was pointing at.

And just as Luo Feng had mentioned, there were indeed cracks on the bricks...

“Oh wow, this really does makes things much easier!”

“Is this a shortcut?”

“The host is awesome! Hurry up and move these loose bricks away! We’ll finally be able to get a glimpse at the tomb’s interior!”

“Very good! I feel like I’m watching a fast-forwarded TV series!”

...

“Hahaha! Finally, we can get the boring digging portion out of the way!”

Everyone was very excited.

Luo Feng dug his Swallowtail Hoe in between one of the cracks on the tomb's brick wall, and with a gentle lift, he was able to dislodge a brick.

He continued with a second one.

Then, a third one.

Each brick was massive, and before long, he had already moved 5 of the bricks.

With that, a hole that spanned a radius of dozens of centimeters had appeared on the tomb's exterior. It was the perfect size to fit a person through it.

"It's so dark down there! Old Luo, shine your flashlight at the surroundings!"

"I'm so anxious! Don't dawdle, just go down directly!"

"Won't there be some sort of guardian spirit watching over the tomb?"

"Hahaha, stop fooling around. With this many people around the area, I doubt that whatever spirits that watch over this tomb will show themselves!"

"That's right. There are dozens of people on site. If there's anything that ghosts fear, it's strength in numbers!"

"Hurry up! I can't wait!"

Luo Feng did not loiter around. He immediately picked up his flashlight and examined the tomb's interior.

Despite this, all he could see in all directions was pitch-black darkness that seemingly went on forever.

It was empty.

There was nothing in there.

He seemed to have found of the tomb's corridors.

The ceiling seemed to be 4 to 5 meters above ground.

"This is amazing. This is definitely a large tomb!"
