

A Trash 151

Chapter 151 - 151 Sky-high Ancient Wine! Ten Billion in Profits! Moutai and Wuliangye Engages in a Fierce Battle! \(2\)

151 Sky-high Ancient Wine! Ten Billion in Profits! Moutai and Wuliangye Engages in a Fierce Battle! (2)

“I really don’t understand!”

“I know. It’s a marketing stunt to let everyone know that they bought these 12 jars of wine!”

“What do you mean? I don’t understand!”

“Heaven’s secrets cannot be revealed! Reach the conclusion yourself!”

It was clear that no one was willing to outbid Li Zaixing.

With a unit price of 15 million yuan per jar, 12 jars meant that they would have to fork out 180 million yuan.

These wines were no longer considered expensive. They were exorbitantly expensive!

However, it was not like these major companies were lacking in money.

And if they could get their new product to sell well, this bid was more than worth it for them.

...

“Little Qin, shall we head down the mountain?”

The other party did not speak.

“Are you mad since you didn’t get to keep any of the priceless cultural relics?”

Luo Feng was a little conflicted.

Though he felt good about making a killing throughout the afternoon, Qin Rubing’s face had only darkened with each item sold.

“Actually, I’m not trying to be angry with you. I originally thought that no matter how powerful these people were, they would at only procure a few of the items. However, almost every item was auctioned off at an astronomical price...” Qin Rubing sighed before continuing, “Alright, it’s been ages since we’ve last slept. I’m dead-tired. Let’s take their helicopter down the mountain!”

“Yes!” Luo Feng nodded before asking again, “Oh right, you’re braver than I expected when you descended the tomb earlier. I’m planning on treasure hunting somewhere else in a few days, you wanna tag along?”

“That won’t be necessary. I have to deal with the other small antiques that you found in the ancient tomb. Don’t worry, even if they aren’t particularly valuable, I will make sure to get you a good price!”

“Hmm, how about I offer you 10% of the proceeds?” Luo Feng pondered for a moment before making the offer. After all, he would not feel good for having her work for free, especially since they were now friends.

“You don’t need to do that... So long as you can secure me a steady stream of antiques, I see no reason to break off our agreement!”

“Haha, you can count on me!”

Although Luo Feng was unsure on several aspects, when it came to treasure digging, Luo Feng had the utmost confidence.

“Oh right, we’ve known each other for many days, but I haven’t added you on WeChat. I only know your phone number. Here, scan my QR code! ”

A smile finally appeared on Qin Rubing’s face as she operated her phone.

Beep.

The two of them added each other as friends.

Qin Rubing was so happy that she even pestered Luo Feng to add her on QQ.

...

“Little Luo! Our archeological team plans to excavate the surrounding of the ancient tomb tomorrow! Do you wish to join us? Perhaps even command the scene?”

The one who spoke was Gu Santong from the archeological team.

“Hmm, no thanks, you guys can come by yourselves tomorrow. Oh yeah, you can bring my villagers to dig with you!” Luo Feng shook his head and refused.

“By the way, did you open the coffin? There should be a lot of treasures inside, right?”

Memories flooded into Luo Feng’s mind as he suddenly recalled the matter.

He broke into a wry smile.

“Sigh, sadly, there’s nothing valuable in there!”

“Since the tomb owner was intent on hiding his identity, he placed all his valuables at conspicuous locations that will prevent most tomb raiders from locating them!”

“As such, all the valuables that you’re seeking are actually hidden underneath the floor tiles!”

Upon hearing Luo Feng’s words, Gu Santong’s nodded and said, “I think so too! The gold, silver, and jewelry on the stone pillars were obviously placed there as a distraction!”

“Yep, anyway, Professor Gu! I want to ask you for a favor! Is it difficult for me to get certified as an archaeologist?” Luo Feng asked.

“Huh? Why? Do you want to join us?”

“No, I just need the credentials.”

“So your wish is to have an easier time digging for treasures, then?” Gu Santong did not know whether to laugh or cry.

“Mhm, can you do it?”

“Of course it’s not difficult, for you, that is! You’re more than qualified to lead the national team, let alone regular archaeological team members!” Gu Santong was truly impressed by Luo Feng. The man’s intuition for treasure and knowledge were so vast that it felt like an endless ocean.

“Alright, how many days will it take to complete the process?” Luo Feng asked.

“If we start tomorrow, I think it’ll be ready by the end of the day!”

“Huh, alright, thank you, Master Gu!” Luo Feng flashed a grateful smile and led Qin Rubing into a helicopter which then travelled back down the mountain.

Huang Tianba, Luo Yun’s cousin, the villagers, and the government’s archeological team would be left to handle the scene.

Upon his return to the Rose Garden villa complex.

Luo Feng was swarmed with questions from his parents.

However, keeping in mind that Luo Feng had stayed up all night, after a brief questioning, they decided to not keep him up any longer and let him return to bed.

Ding!

However, just as Luo Feng was about to fall asleep.

His banking app fired off a flurry of notifications.

...

When he saw the balance, Luo Feng’s brain almost shut down.

“Holy f*ck!”

“How many zeroes is this!?”

“Is this 2.4 billion? Has my 40 million in savings reached 2.4 billion?”

“This ancient tomb actually nabbed me a profit of 2.36 billion!?”

Truthfully speaking, the income that Luo Feng had made in the last few days was enough to compete with several listed companies within the nation, no, throughout the entire world!

Nevertheless, despite his massive earnings, there were still taxes to be paid.

Since he had made 2.36 billion in revenue, the tax would be about 20%, which would require about 430 million in taxes.

“But since it’s just a few hundred million, who cares!?”

While those were Luo Feng’s words on the surface, deep down, he was hurting.

Dammit, 400 million, gone, just like that!

...

Luo Feng felt his heart ache, but fatigue still won over, and before long, he was asleep.

...

...

Since all of Luo Feng's transactions were streamed to millions of viewers, each and every cultural relic auctioned had hit Weibo's trending search once again.

Due to this, many netizens were able to calculate Luo Feng's earnings this time.

The most trending topic of the day top was Luo Feng's income this time around.

"Treasure hunting streamer, Luo Feng! Rakes in 2.4 billion from an ancient tomb!"