152 Sky-high Ancient Wine! Ten Billion in Profits! Moutai and Wuliangye Engages in a Fierce Battle! (3)

The comments below were already so envious that they turned purple!

No, they were practically black!

“Holy f*ck! 2.4 billion! Is this true?”

“How can it be fake? Go and watch the VOD if you doubt it!”

“What an exciting auction. I daresay it’s probably the most luxurious auction of the year! ”

“I say, what does an ancient tomb have to do with an auction?”

“After unearthing the relics from the tomb, the streamer held the auction on the spot! It was an exciting sight to behold!”

“Almost every single item is worth more than 100 million! Have you ever seen this much money being thrown around?”

“There were so many big shots. Millionaires, billionaires, and even staff from state-owned museums!”

“That’s right! I had to call in sick to work just so I could watch the whole thing unfold! Guess all I’m waiting for now is for my boss to fire me!”

“Brother, how much do you make?”

“1,200 yuan per month!”

“You’ll be fine. Seeing how your boss is paying you, I doubt that he’s able to afford laying you off!”

“I bet the taxes from this wave of 2.4 billion yuan will make Old Luo’s heart ache! ”

“Brother, if you told me I could make 100 million at the cost of paying 20 million in taxes, I won’t even feel bad at all!”

“I feel like Old Luo has driven the entire village’s GDP through the roof!”

“No brother, think bigger, he has boosted the entire county’s GDP!”

“Think even bigger, son. He’s driving the entire city’s economy!”

“Nono, think even bigger!”

“Hahaha, I can’t think any bigger!”

As usual, Luo Feng was completely heedless of the netizens' views towards him.

After getting a good day's rest, he did not start a stream the next day.

After all, the full-day stream that he had hosted had taken out too much from him, and thus, he had also spent his third day resting.

On the fourth day.

Equipped with a small bag, his Swallowtail Hoe, and the Jungle Blade, Luo Feng entered the mountain again.

This time, he had some familiar old companions tagging along with him.

Comforted by the fact that Luo Feng was not going to dig at a mine zone anymore, Li Shishi and the other second-generation heirs requested to join Luo Feng in his latest treasure hunt.

After witnessing the discovery of the ancient tomb and the events that followed live, everyone had highly regretted on backing out of the treasure-hunt.

"Brothers, I haven't seen you for three days. I missed you all so much!"

"You might not know, but I feel like my head's in the clouds right now! I've spent my last few days entertaining various young models!"

Luo Feng was in a good mood, and he started teasing his viewers as he trekked through the mountain.

When Li Shishi heard this, she rolled her eyes and gently slapped Luo Feng's arm. "Everyone, don't believe him. He's lying. I can testify!"

"?????"

"Shishi can testify. What do you mean? Does this mean that Luo Feng has been with Li Shishi for the past few days?"

"F*ck! Are you guys living together!?"

"Have you no class!? How could you directly ask a girl if she's living with someone? Watch how it's supposed to be done. Let me ask you something, Sister Shishi, is the breakfast that Luo Feng made for you delicious?"

"It's not delicious at all!" Li Shishi noticed the viewers making fun of her and decided to play along with them.

"See this? If she answers like this, it means that she's already cohabiting with Old Luo!"

"F*ck! Really?"

"Are they really living together?"

"Old Luo turned over a new leaf? What about the young models!!!?"

Many honest people in the livestream believed it.

Only his diehard fans knew that Old Luo was still single at the moment. Knowing his personality, how could he possibly be living together with Shishi?

“Luo Feng, do you want to rest for a while?”

Li Shishi asked when Luo Feng suddenly halted.

“No... I’m just surveying our surroundings!”

At this moment, Luo Feng had just made it out of the range of the last scan.

As such, it was time to activate the system and start scanning again.

“Host, I don’t think there’s anything good left in this mountain, right?”

“That’s right. Why don’t we change to another mountain?”

“I paid a million yuan to rent this Daze Mountain for a month, and I intend on squeezing out every bit of value from it.”

[Ding! Scanning complete!]

...

Luo Feng activated the scan.

This time, there were only 30 or so dots found.

He casually walked to the first mark and found a traditional herb...

Luo Feng fell silent at the discovery.

Throughout the morning, although Luo Feng had discovered several treasure dots, almost all of them were herbs.

However, Luo Feng did not pick them out.

He had left the herbs for the second-generation heirs, and they were happy to receive them, ecstatic even. It was the first time they had ever unrooted precious medicinal herbs in the mountains.

They all expressed that they wanted to bring the herbs back to show their families.

In any case, Li Shishi had found a hundred-year-old Chinese Knotweed, a large wild Tianma, and precious morel mushrooms.

“Hello, Brother Luo Feng!”

“I just wanted to inform you that around 11 a.m. this afternoon, your live stream will be synchronized with the American Youtube website!”

...

“Be prepared!”

It was Director Zhao.

Luo Feng nodded, acknowledging the notice.

Then, he chatted with the other party about some things that needed to be taken note of.

Once that was over, he hung up on the call.

“Not bad, Luo Feng. Now that we’ve connected to the outer net, you’re basically a global streamer now!”

When Zhang Shunyang caught wind of the news, he immediately went forward to congratulate Luo Feng.

“Isn’t that so? Youtube is a very big website in the US Empire and has many users in Europe. This is actually a global livestream!”
