205 The Swallowtail Hoe! Dodging Death and Prolonging Life! The Whole Internet Watches in Amazement! (3)

With a strong pull, Luo Feng climbed up. How could the Swallowtail Hoe, which had the ability to avoid death and prolong life, possibly let Luo Feng fall? Every hole dug by the Swallowtail Hoe was bound to be stable. In this manner, Luo Feng climbed up steadily, one hoe jab at a time, never slipping. Each time, his movement was more secure than the last.

“Damn! Is he actually going to climb all the way up there?” someone exclaimed.

“What kind of divine being is Old Luo? If he slips, he’ll be reduced to nothing but shattered bones!” another viewer added.

“Hey, free riders! Find some cushion for the host to fall on!”

!!

“Who the heck brings cushion in a treasure-hunting expedition?”

“Exactly!”

Everyone watched Luo Feng dig and climb his way up, their hearts pounding with fear. When Li Shishi arrived at the scene, she was dumbfounded and quickly called for Luo Feng to come down. If she had been there earlier, she would have definitely tried to persuade him out of the act. It was too dangerous.

“Damn! There’s really a cave on the mountain! Too bad I didn’t bring a drone!” someone exclaimed.

“I have binoculars! I can see it!” another person chimed in.

“But you have to stand far away to see it!”

Someone ran to the large tree where Luo Feng had rested earlier, picked up a pair of binoculars, and looked towards the mountain peak. They discovered that there really was a cave up there.

“Damn! It’s really there!”

“Let me take a look too!”

“No, you didn’t bring your own binoculars, so whose fault is that?”

“Just lend it to me for a glance, just one look!”

“100 yuan!”

“I’ll give you my QR code! Scan it if you wanna look!”

“Fine, I’ll scan it!”

In order to get a glimpse of the cave where the treasure lay, those with binoculars shamelessly extorted others. They charged 100 yuan for a single look.

“Your one minute is up, stop looking! There’s still someone else waiting!”

“Did you see anything interesting? You seem quite engrossed.”

“Want to know? Pay 100 yuan yourself!”

“Fine, I’ll pay! Damn it!”

“Damn! If only I had known, I would’ve brought 10 pairs of binoculars with me. I could’ve made tens of thousands from this!”

“Yeah, even if we don’t find the treasure, we could make money by renting out binoculars!”

“We’re rich! This pair of binoculars has generated thousands of percent in returns!”

Suddenly...

“Everyone, come quickly! I have drone footage here!”

“I’ll connect it to my phone so everyone can watch! 20 yuan per seat, head to the back!”

“Damn! There’s a livestream over there for only 20 yuan!”

“Let’s go! Let’s go watch it there!”

However, just as they collected the money, the wealthy second-generation heirs who had brought drones shouted that they had projectors for free viewing.

“Damn! That’s disgusting! Give me my money back!”

“Refund! Refund!”

“The binocular business is ruined!”

Meanwhile, Luo Feng was truly experiencing the life-saving and life-prolonging effects of the Swallowtail Hoe. Each time he dug and climbed, he was able to hold on firmly. He never once slipped, even when he had landed the hoe on rocks, as he always somehow managed to find a crevice to dig into. It was incredibly useful.

By now, Luo Feng had climbed approximately 30 meters. But everyone watching was horrified. If he slipped and fell, he would be done for. 30 meters was the equivalent of a six-story building. Upon reaching 30 meters, Luo Feng found a small platform where he could sit and rest for a while.

Truth be told, Luo Feng was not a professional rock climber, and merely climbing 30 meters had left him exhausted, likely due to his lack of technique. One could only imagine how difficult it would be to climb over 200 meters.

After drinking some water and, within his mental ocean, consuming a bottle of ordinary energy drink, Luo Feng felt his energy return. Then he resumed his ascent...
