Lots of Red Dots Detected! (2)

[Mrs. Han's Healthy Restaurant: Little brother, do me a favor. How about you sell me the five catties of honey? In the future, you'll be able to drink tea for free at our chains all over the country.]

[Kang Yun Healthcare Center: " Hello Sir, I'm the person in charge of Kang Yun Healthcare Center, Su Meiji. I hope you can see this message and contact me. We are very interested in your honey. Contact number: 188xxxx.....]

"They're all here to buy my stuff?"

When Luo Feng saw this, he laughed helplessly.

He quickly started to reply to them one by one.

Luo Feng replied to the Rare Treasure Pavilion, "9 million is not bad, but I'm not very satisfied."

Luo Feng replied to the Natural Home antique shop, "This thing only looks like this in 2000. Saying that it's 20 million is a little too much. I'll give you a 50% discount. If you want to offer 10 million, you can reply to me."

Luo Feng replied to Mrs. Han's Healthy Restaurant, "Ma'am, I'm really keeping this at home to eat. It's not easy to get such a rare thing."

Luo Feng replied to Su Meiji, "Miss Su, I'm sorry. I want to keep them."

After replying to the messages, Luo Feng didn't need to think about it. These people's faces would probably all turn black.

Perhaps only the boss of Natural Residence was overjoyed. At the very least, Luo Feng had offered 10 million.

Luo Feng had thought of the pros and cons of selling the items at a high price versus keeping them at a low price from the start.

"It's not for sale?"

Su Meiji was sitting in her office and had been waiting for more than an hour. However, this was the answer she got.

Although the items belonged to others and it was their freedom to buy and sell them, the other party's unyielding attitude inevitably made her blush, and she pouted in anger.

Of course, Luo Feng had no idea that he had angered the most beautiful woman in Jiangnan.

If those rich second-generation heirs in Jiangnan knew about this, they would probably come to him with a 40-meter-long saber.

“Miss Su, why don’t we look for this streamer? After all, if we continue to lack the honey, the business of dozens of shops under us will continue to decline!” Gu Xiaofang said with a headache as she thought of the decline in the loss of customers every month.

Seeing this, Su Meiji nodded and said, “Okay, help me find a reasonable time. Also, we don’t know the other party’s address yet. We’ll talk about it after we get there.”

“Yeah, we don’t even know their address.” Gu Xiaofang was also a little speechless. She pouted and was slightly dissatisfied.

Although Miss Su was not the richest woman in Jiangnan, she was the most powerful woman because of her beauty and money. This was the first time she had been treated so coldly.

Did this streamer not know that she was a beauty?

If he did, he would have sent the honey over long ago, right?

A few days passed.

Luo Feng didn’t even start streaming. Instead, he went to the city to look at houses.

Of course, he wouldn’t have known if he hadn’t seen it, but he was shocked when he saw it.

If he wanted to buy a villa he liked, the 50 million yuan in his hand was really not much.

Luo Feng was also speechless. How did those rich people earn money? Even he couldn’t defeat them.

As long as the villa was 1,000 square meters large, no matter how good the location was, it would cost more than 80 million yuan in Jiangnan.

“You want to buy this? I’m sorry, but you can only take a loan.”

But was taking out a loan something Luo Feng would do?

‘I’m going to look for treasure.’

Three days later, he would definitely ask for an 80 million yuan villa.

“We’re almost done scanning this area! If we want to continue looking, we have to go to Lin County.”

After breakfast, Luo Feng turned on the radar monitor in his sea of consciousness.

A large area around his house was marked with red circles. The red circles represented the places that had been scanned.

“Why don’t we sweep Mount Chaoyang, the Damang Village at the foot of the mountain, and the pond at the entrance of their village?”

He thought for a moment.

Luo Feng suddenly became interested.

Who knew if there would be some precious fake goods?

It had been a long time since he had eaten fish.

Luo Feng, on the other hand, became greedy.

After all, there was no point in having treasures every day. He had to change the taste of the people in the live-stream.

To hell with earning money.

‘I want to eat fish today.’

After driving quickly to Daliang Village, Luo Feng could still see that the residents of Daliang village were all rowing boats in and out of the village.

After all, the entire village was isolated in the middle of the large pond.

The traffic was unusual.

[Treasure Prompter System: Level 5]

[Shock value: 75,555/100,000]

[Reputation Value: 590,000 (Level 5 Scan requires 50,000 reputation points per scan)]

[Scanning range: 3,000 meters! 5 meters deep!]

[Red Dot Treasure: 10 million – 100 million]

“Hmm, not bad. The shock value is almost 80,000. The system is going to be upgraded again!

“There’re also a lot of reputation points. I can completely scan and play! “If not for my reputation points, I wouldn’t have thought of finding expensive fake goods and eating fish!””

Luo Feng smiled and immediately ordered the system, “Scan the big pond in front of the village!”

[Ding! Beginning scan...]

[Scan complete...]

The scan would take a few minutes. In fact, Luo Feng had also thought about it. There shouldn’t be many precious goods in the pond in the village.

After all, it was not a big river.

However, after the scan ...

Luo Feng was completely dumbfounded.

“Holy shit!”

“Holy shit!”

“Holy shit!”

Good God.

Luo Feng cursed three times. He was numb. To be honest, he was a little cryptophobic.

This was because the huge pond was actually filled with all sorts of densely packed dots.

F*ck.

What the hell was this?

Did this mean that there were hundreds of treasures hidden under the pond?

Luo Feng almost died on the spot.

There was too much punctuation.

It was like sitting on a mountain of gold!

“Could it be a bunch of expensive fish? But what fish? Can it be worth tens of millions? After all, there are a lot of red dots!”

Luo Feng thought for a moment.

It was definitely not a fish.

Of course, Luo Feng had already modified the prices represented by the dots in various colors.

The red dots were still the most expensive. It was also a treasure that the system could scan to the highest price.

Below that was the orange dot.

Yellow dots.

Green dots.

They were basically arranged in the order of red, orange, yellow, green, cyan, blue, and purple.

This way, it would be easier to identify.

After all, the radar was his. He could set it however he was used to it.

[Red Dot 1: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Red Dot 2: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Red Dot 3: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Red Dot 4: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Red Dot 6: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Red Dot 7: Value above 10 million, below 100 million!]

[Orange Point 1: Value above 1 million, below 10 million!]

[Orange Point 2: Value above 1 million, below 10 million!]

[Orange Point 3: Value above 1 million, below 10 million!]

[Orange Point 4: Value above 1 million, below 10 million!]

[...]

[Orange Point 9: Value above 1 million, below 10 million!]

[Yellow Points 1-12: Value above 100,000, below 1 million.]

[Green Point 1 – 24: Value above 10,000, below 100,010]

[688 green dots: Value above 1000, 10,000 each.]

That's right, there were six or seven red dots with more than ten million red dots.

Not to mention, there were also 6 orange points above the million level.

As for the green dots, Luo Feng could not be bothered to look at such worthless things. There was no point in having 1,000 of them.

When the time came, he would let Luo Yun bring the villagers to pick up these trinkets.

There were almost a thousand points in total. This was the real treasure, a completely huge treasure trove.
