The Reborn Daughter Was an Able Woman with Many Identities

Chapter 1: Chapter 1 Rebirth, and Nirvana Return

In the darkroom, a girl fell on the ground powerlessly. A well-dressed and beautiful woman picked up a knife on the table and cut her face directly.

"Ah!" the blood slowly flowed out.

Her most trusted sister said with a smile, "From now on, no one will say that the eldest daughter of the Walker family is more beautiful than her stepsister."

"Sister, father has sold you to John Longman. I don't know if you would be killed by that old man's torture or by the drugs my mother has prescribed. What a pity for your death!"

"No!"

Lynn Walker suddenly woke up. She was shocked and dreamed of what happened in her previous life.

"What's wrong, Lynn? Did you have a nightmare?" asked Elma White, her stepmother.

"Auntie, I'm fine," said Lynn in a childish voice. Then she looked out of the window. This was the way to An Xi town.

Yes, Lynn Walker was reborn a few days ago. She was eight years old, as same as her previous life. Now, it was found that she was a natural evil star, who killed her mother, causing the stock of the company to plummet, and her father to be hospitalized...

In her previous life, it was not until she was killed that she realized that everything was a conspiracy of her stepmother.

She hated everyone in the Walker family, but she couldn't do anything now. She had to accept the trap of her stepmother, left the Walker family, and went to An Xi town.

The car arrived in a small town, which was the shabbiest place near A City. Lynn Walker's residence was a resident that Elma White found randomly.

After the driver carried the luggage, Elma looked at the place in disgust, but she still smiled and said to Lynn, "I'm sorry, honey. Don't worry. We'll pick you up as soon as our family is settled."

Lynn nodded. Elma didn't think too much as she found that the child had become estranged from her.

Looking at the woman's back, Lynn's eyes flashed a trace of viciousness.

In the future, she would cut all the people of the Walker family into pieces!

Twelve years later, a beautiful woman was fishing by the river. Although she was born in a poor town, her skin was fair and her features were delicate. She looked extremely beautiful.

At this time, a maid passing by said, "Lynn, a luxury car is coming to your house. It seems that your father is coming to pick you up."

The fish thread moved slightly and the fish was hooked!

Lynn Walker smiled. It had been twelve years. She had been waiting for this day for a long time.

"Young lady, you can go to a big city to enjoy your life. That's great!"

Lynn Walker was packing up. Hearing this, she paused for a while. In her previous life, she had returned home with joy, but what she had waited for were nightmares...

In this life, Walker family, you will have nightmares. Thinking of this, the girl grinned sinisterly.

When she got home, the car was already waiting at the door. It was not Lynn's family who came to pick her up, but a driver.

She didn't say anything. She took her luggage, got in the car, and left. The driver was a little stunned. He didn't expect that eldest daughter, who had been raised in the countryside for twelve years, was so beautiful, much more beautiful than the second daughter, who had been raised in a rich family.

The car slowly left An Xi town. On the road in the countryside, Lynn looked out of the window and saw a black Benz passing by.

In a short moment, Lynn saw the man sitting in the back row. He was very handsome, and his handsome features like carefully carved by God, perfect and impeccable.

Lynn smiled because another fish was hooked.

She was looking forward to her future life.

The black car stopped in a shabby small town. Aunt Wang, who had raised Lynn, looked at the elegant man in front of her and said, "You are late. Lynn has just been sent to A City by her biological parents."

Hearing this, Benson Brown frowned slightly and thanked aunt Wang. Then he got in the car and left.

In the car, the assistant said, "President, I've found out that Miss Lynn is the daughter of Bernie Walker and his last wife. She has been brought up in An Xi town these years. We're late now."

The man's low and magnetic voice came through, "Go back to A City."

He finally found her.

When Lynn arrived at A City, it was already dark. There were many luxurious cars parked in front of the magnificent villa, and the lights were bright. It was very lively.

"Miss Lynn, today is Miss Jo's twenty-year-old birthday party," the driver said after he steadied the car.

Of course, Lynn knew that. She came back in a hurry and entered the banquet like a clown, incompatible with these people in her previous life.

"Miss Lynn, let me take you inside."

The driver turned around and found no trace of Lynn.

At this time, the living room was extraordinarily lively. Jo Walker was dressed in a pink evening dress and wearing a crown, like a princess surrounded by the crowd.

"Jo is so beautiful today. The dress is so beautiful."

"No wonder she is the most beautiful lady in A City. I'm so jealous of her face."

Jo smiled shyly, enjoying the flattery of others. Standing aside, Elma was even more proud of her excellent daughter.

The driver came in. Elma frowned and asked, "Where is Lynn?"

The reason why they picked up Lynn today was to make a fool of her at the banquet. The driver paused and said, "Madam, Miss Lynn is coming in..."

She came in first. But where was she?

Hearing this, Jo's friends said, "Jo, your sister has grown up in the countryside for so many years. She must be so afraid that hide in such an occasion."

"That's right. How dare a country bumpkin shows up?"

Jo was very proud, but she still said hypocritically, "Don't say that. I'll go to find my sister."

As soon as she turned around, her bestie said, "Well, who is she? She is so beautiful!"

After saying that, everyone looked at the second floor and saw a woman in a light blue dress slowly walking down. Her every move was elegant and noble as if she was a fairy from heaven.

Everyone looked at her. It was a face without any make-up, only with light lipstick, and her wavy hair fell behind her neck. Everyone's eyes were full of amazement.

Holding her skirt, Lynn slowly walked towards the crowd and Jo.

She smiled and said, "Dad, aunt, Jo, long time no see."

Was this Lynn?

Jo clenched her fingers. She had thought that Lynn, who had lived in the countryside for so long, should be ugly and dark, but she didn't expect...

Elma and Bernie were also stunned. Then he withdrew his expression and smiled, "it's Lynn. I was looking for you just now. Where have you been?"
