

The Reborn Daughter Was an Able Woman with Many Identities Chapter 8 - Chapter 8 Ghost Doctor Appeared

Chapter 8: Chapter 8 Ghost Doctor Appeared

Lynn Walker forgot that Benson Brown was still there, so she turned off the monitor quietly, "I don't know why I feel relaxed, and I am in a good mood with Brother Brown."

"It's too early to be happy."

Lynn Walker was stunned, "What?"

Benson Brown smiled, "I will make you happier in the future."

Looking at the sincere light in his eyes, Lynn Walker blamed herself for his being so silly... Bah! It was rare to see such a good man.

1

After lunch, Lynn Walker got on Benson Brown's car and left the resort.

3

Benson Brown lived in the villa district of Tian Hua district alone. Tian Hua district was a commercial area, and each piece of the land was worth a lot.

But the villa area was very quiet no matter day or night, and there was no noise at all. It was said to be a special villa area specially built for rich and powerful people.

Each villa was far away from the other. The villa area was more like a house of European style that had been immersed for a hundred years.

"Brother Brown, your house is much bigger than dad and auntie's!" Lynn Walker couldn't help but sigh as soon as she got off the car.

Benson Brown's heart ached.

Dad and aunt... Sure enough, she couldn't treat the Walker Family as her own home.

"Do you like it?" Benson Brown adjusted his mood and led Lynn Walker inside.

"Yes, I like it. It's so beautiful here!"

When she walked into the gate, she saw a huge fountain, surrounded by well-trimmed and artistic green plants. It was designed by professional people.

"It's good that you like it. I've asked people to prepare what you need for daily use. If you still need anything, just tell me. This is your home. Don't have any scruples."

Facing Lynn Walker, there was always a trace of tenderness in Benson Brown's eyes.

Lynn Walker was touched, but she controlled herself.

After she was reborn, she couldn't lose herself because of the beauty in front of her.

Her heart could only be as hard as a rock.

"Brother Brown is so nice!"

While they were talking, Benson Brown had already taken Lynn Walker to the room prepared for her.

Taking a look at the layout, Lynn Walker sensed that it was not simple.

The room was too monotonous. There was nothing but daily furniture, which was completely different from what Benson Brown had just said.

"Let's go inside and have a look. There will be a surprise," reminded Benson Brown.

Although Lynn Walker had guessed it, she still pretended to be curious and walked into the room.

As she expected.

There were many electronic switches in this room. She walked to a wall, on which there was only a palm-sized screen. Pretending not to know it, she looked at Benson Brown and asked, "What's this?"

"You'll know when you touch it," reminded Benson Brown.

Lynn Walker touched the screen obediently. With a beep, the originally empty wall suddenly turned into a streamer texture, and it slowly opened from the middle to two sides!

"Is this the cloakroom?"

Lynn Walker took a look inside and was surprised to find that the clothes hanging in the cloakroom were in the latest style of the current season, full of varieties. Moreover, they were all designed by famous designers.

There were many expensive bags in the cabinet on the left!

And on the right, there was even a whole wall full of shoes!

Lynn Walker didn't know that these were all prepared by someone before Benson Brown went to the countryside to look for her. He wanted to give the best to Lynn Walker.

1

"Brother Brown, is it too expensive?" Lynn Walker finally found her voice after a long time. Benson Brown was willing to pay for it!

"It's not expensive for me. I know you like the simple style, so I especially ask someone to design such a room. If you don't need it, you will put it away like this cloakroom. If you need it, just press the switch."

There were switches in different places, and they were carefully designed. The switch was easily touched, and it wouldn't make people feel troublesome.

"Why are you so kind to me?" Lynn Walker looked at the man beside her, although she knew that Benson Brown was a man who would pay for what he had done for her.

But she had never expected that he would be so considerate.

"You are my sister, of course, I will treat you well." Benson Brown still didn't mention what happened ten years ago.

He... he didn't have much time left for Lynn Walker.

In the evening, after taking a shower, Lynn Walker lay on a comfortable big bed and looked at the ceiling with the fluorescent flow, which was her favorite firefly color.

When in the countryside, she was most relaxed at night. Fireflies flew among the plants as if they had purified her soul.

"For the sake of your love for me, I will let you suffer less."

Lynn Walker took out her phone and opened a special software. Then she logged in to the account named "Q".

Yes, Lynn Walker was the legendary ghost doctor, Q.

As soon as she registered, she received countless messages. If her phone hadn't been specially modified, it would have been jammed by the flood of messages.

"Ghost doctor, help!"

"No matter how much I should pay, as long as you give me a number!"

"Why hasn't the ghost doctor appeared recently?"

"Help me. I can do anything for you!"

...

She looked through causally and found that there were almost some poor people asking for help, some of whom were rich and powerful. For Lynn Walker, it was impossible to help them.

She was a human, not a god. These people would find the ghost doctor, which meant that their diseases were not minor, and most of their diseases had become incurable.

What was an incurable disease?

It was a disease that a god could do nothing.

However, the appearance of Q had pulled many people with incurable diseases back from the jaws of death, so she was called "ghost doctor".

When a god couldn't save someone's life, the ghost doctor could.

However, it was unimaginably difficult to save these people, and it was impossible to do it easily.

After thinking for a while, Lynn Walker quickly found the account of Brown's assistant. As expected, he had sent her messages before.

Her slender fingers typed a few words and sent them out.

Lynn Walker logged out of her account again and opened the surveillance video of the system and the Walker Family.

Assistant Liu, who received the reply from Q, was extremely shocked. Even though it was very late, he rushed to Benson Brown's house overnight.

He had already told Benson Brown about the Q's reply on the phone. When he rushed over, he saw Benson Brown waiting for him at the gate of the villa.

"Mr. Brown, it's a reply from Q!" Assistant Liu handed the phone to him. It seemed that he was more excited than Benson Brown, and even tears were about to come out.

Benson Brown took the phone and looked through the reply.

Q replied, "See you on the first floor of the East Building at six o'clock tomorrow afternoon."

He had been poisoning for ten years and suffered for ten years. Now, in a simple line of words, he finally saw hope.