The Broken Mate

Catalina's POV

I woke up pretty early, the sun was just coming up. I decided to get up and maybe go for a run. I dress in some work out clothes and head out my door. But I run into someone again.

"Oh goddess I'm sorry. I really need to watch where I'm going." I say. "Well well well red we have to stop meeting like this." Jet says with a laugh. "I'm thinking you are doing this on purpose." I say. He smiles wide. "We are feeling confident today are we?" He says laughingly. "Where are you headed anyways?" He asks, "Where are you headed?"

"I'm headed to training." He says.

"Can I come?" I ask without thinking.

"I'd have to get the Alphas permission." He walks over to the Alpha office and I just stand there waiting. He pops his head in then right back out.

"Come on let's not be late!" Wow, that was fast. Jet grabs my hand and leads me down the stairs. I'm excited to train again it's been so long. We make our way out of the pack house and towards the training facility.

"So you any good? Have you trained before?" He asked.

"I trained at my last pack. They said I was pretty good." I say.

"Humble. Good. I'll start you off easy though. Don't be insulted. You have to earn your spot. No matter how beautiful you are."

He thinks I'm beautiful? I feel my face flush. He laughs.

"You're cute you know that." He says. Why is he so good at just saying things like that. We walk into the facility and over to a group of warriors.

"Everyone this is Catalina. She's joining us for training. This is her first day, just keep that in mind." He says. There are 4 guys and 2 girls in the group. They all smile at me and Jet leaves.

"Hey Catalina I'm Warren. This is Dan, Sara, Josh, Ti, and Miles." The tallest guy in the group.

"Welcome to level one." Sara says.

"Level one?" I ask

"Yeah we're all new or young. Everyone starts at level one." Miles says.

"How many levels are there?" I ask

"8, then there's elite." Sara says.

"What do the trainings consist of?" I ask.

"Pretty basic. We have some group work outs, group runs, sparring, and we do challenges if someone wants to move up." Warren says.

"We should stretch before we get started." Ti yells at us.

"She a bit bossy." Sara says with a smile. We do some stretches and Sara helps me with some basic moves they've already learned. Then we get started with the work out. Then we do the run. Now it's sparring time. Sara asks to pair up and I agree.

"Sara do me a favor." I ask

"Actually, please don't. Don't hold back. Because I won't." She looks a bit surprised but smiles and nods at me. We take our positions and get started sparring. Sara is fast but I'm much faster and I can see it in her eyes. I don't want to hurt her so I'll try to end this fast. I put her in a grab and flip her. I wrap my legs around her neck and pull her arm back. She taps out. When we stand up I help her.

"What are you doing in level one?" She asks.

"I'm new." I say.

"You will definitely need to challenge today." Sara says. Before I could stop her she heads over to someone I don't know.

"You do need to challenge up. You won't get better until you are challenged. You will probably be challenged a few times today." Ti says to me.

"Challenge time!" Jet yells out over the groups.

"Let's see who wants to challenge today. Well looks like Red is challenging for level 5? That can't be right. Sara?" Jet asks.

"That's correct. Honestly it could be higher but I wanted to see what she could do." Sara says. "Very well. Catalina step forward. And challenger will be Ace." I hear a lot of whispers. Sara walks

"If a challenger loses they lose their spot and get pushed back. He will fight hard for his spot. But you got it. You're fast. Don't worry about hurting him. Everyone will respect you more if you hurt him." Sara leads me to the mat and steps off to the side. A man with short black hair joins me on the mat.

"Challengers ready?" Jet says. : "Ready." We say in unison.

"Begin." Jet says and we start circling each other. He looks very capable of breaking me. I needed to be fast and keep my distance. He takes a step forward and changes directions. I moved fast and then slow. He swings high and I aim for his ribs. I connect and I remembered this feeling. I stepped back and he follows. He uses his foot but I block it. He was trying to close the distance between us. I swung my leg around to try and open him up. He took the bait and I punched his chest with my right. He staggered back. This time I'm closed the gap and aimed for his face. When he looked up he saw my fist. I connected and broke his nose. I guess I just break everyone's nose. He kicked me in the chest putting space between us. We started circling again. I felt the heat in my body rise. He came at me again but this time he was going to kick. He threw his leg up and I caught it. Then I rammed my elbow down on his leg breaking it. He screamed out in pain and tapped. I know it was brutal but I also knew he'd heal. I hear the crowd cheer.

"Our winner!" Jet cheers. Everyone comes up to me and congratulates me. I look up and see Liam standing next to Jet and thank god he had a smile on his face. When the celebration dies down Liam is beside me.

"Are you mad?" I ask. He looks at me surprised. "Why would I be mad? I would have liked to be informed, just so I could watch, but no I'm not mad. "Oh did Jet not.?"

Liam laughs. That's Jet for ya. I told you you are welcomed to train. I am surprised to see how good you are." He says.

"I trained elite at my last pack." I say.

"That explains that." Jet says walking up to us. "Why didn't you tell me. I wouldn't have put you at level one." He says.

"Is Ace going to be alright?" I ask. "He'll be fine. His ego is a bit bruised but he'll live." Jet says.

"Why don't you go and get changed. We have to go to town soon, remember?" Liam says to me.

"Oh right. Thanks Jet for taking me to training. Liam I should be ready in 45 mins." I run back to the pack house. I run up to the room and take a quick shower. I get dressed and made my way back downstairs. When I step outside I see Liam leaning up against a car. He sees me and smiles.

"Ready to go beautiful?" He asks. I nod and he opens the car door for me. He goes around to the drivers seat and starts the car.

"No Carrie?" I ask.

"No I want you all to myself today." He says with a smile. I blush in response. We drive out to town and Liam parks the car. We walk into the studio where Sebastian meets us with smiles and hugs. He takes me to the back of the studio and I see he has all new supplies for me. I smiled big and thank him. Then Sebastian leaves me and Liam.

"Is it ok that I'm here?" Liam asks.

"Yes but don't watch me. It will make me nervous." I say with a smile. He walks over stopping in front me. I look up to meet his eyes. His fingers graze my cheek and my body warms to his touch.

"I wouldn't want to make you nervous Lina." He moves a strand of hair behind my ear. I knew he wanted to kiss me but I pulled back. He smiled.

"I'll do some work on my phone for a bit and then I'll go get us some lunch, how's that?" He asks. I knew my face was red so I just nodded and turned to the canvas. I pushed what just happened out of my mind. I don't even know what's going on with us. I don't need another Alpha to have me until things get hard, and then toss me aside. But he does seem different than Andrew, stronger. Maybe this is why! I couldn't mate with Andrew, maybe Kayla or Kehlani knew I needed a stronger mate. Maybe the Moon Goddess didn't want to tell me because I wouldn't have believed her. I started to paint as I thought over what has happened the last few days. I still felt an ache in my heart but I have to be honest, nothing like the moment I got rejected. Honestly there were times when I felt nothing at all. I had heard stories of people being rejected. People have died from it, they live a life in pain, or suffer greatly. Maybe I didn't feel so much pain because I was meant to be with Liam all this time. After some time had past of me painting | hear Liam clear is throat, I almost forgot her was here. I look over and he's smiling.

"Looking good beautiful." He says

"Me or the painting?" I ask feeling flirty. He gets up and comes to stand in front of me.

"Always you." He says low and this time he kisses me, and I let him. I feel a connection when our lips touch. His kiss was sweet but with a purpose. When we pull away,

"I've been wanting to do that since the moment I saw you." He whispers. Our eyes meet and I feel the need to kiss him more but I hold back.

"How about I go get us lunch now?" I nod in agreement. And just like that he heads out. I'm still left wondering what will happen between us. Will he leave me like Andrew? I turn back to the painting. Trying to focus is hard. That kiss was good, and felt different. FOCUS LINA! The sky the sky, I'm painting the sky. After a few minutes of focus painting I hear the door open. Liam comes around the corner with our food. I put the brush down and get myself cleaned up. We sit on the floor and eat our lunch. We talked about going shopping after I was done and about me continuing my training. We did not talk about the kiss.

When I was done with the painting I took a step back and looked at the whole picture. I was really lovely.

The Broken Mate was there made me want to lean into him put my head back.

"Why are you holding back?" Kayla asks.

"Kayla? Because I just got rejected. I don't want to be hurt again." I say annoyed. She doesn't respond. I haven't heard from her much lately. That was weird. I now notice Liam is in front of me with a concerned look on his face.

"Are you ok? Do you not like it?" He asks.

"Oh no love it too. It's just.." I trail off how do I explain this without saying everything.

"What Lina? You can tell me anything." He says.

"My wolf. I haven't heard from her in days and then she asked me a question out of nowhere."

"What did she ask?" He asks

"She asked me why I'm holding back with you." I say bluntly.

"You are holding back?" He looks surprised by my words.

"Well yeah. I just got rejected. And I don't want that to happen again. I don't want to be used again." I say wrapping my arms around myself. I feel too exposed. He looks sad. He pulls me to sit down on the couch with him. He takes my hands into his. He's quiet for a moment.

"Lina I'm sorry you have felt used by other people. I'm sorry other people have hurt you. I'm sorry! wasn't your first mate. But I have a feeling you are my second chance, and I think I am yours. I know my words probably sound like ones you have heard before, but Lina I'm not going to use you. And I would never reject you. The moon Goddess gave us a rare gift and I'm never going to let it go. I understand you will need time to process everything. Just know I am here and always will be. We can take things as slow as you need to. Time will show my true intentions with you." He kisses the back of my hand. I honestly didn't know what to say. I need time and I need actions not just words. I know it's not fair to hold the actions of others against him, but I'm damaged, I'm broken.

"I'm sorry." Is all I can come up with.

"What could you possibly have to be sorry for?" He asks.

"That I'm broken." I can't hold back my tears and they flow from my eyes. I bury my face in my hands. Liam pulls me into his lap and wraps his arms around me.

"Lina you aren't broken. You're hurting. Please don't cry." He whispers in my ear. His touch calms me and I take a few deep breaths trying to control myself. He pulls me into him tighter and rests his chin on my shoulder. I wipe the last tears from my eyes and look at him.

"Do you feel better?" He asks. I nod.

"Do you still want to go shopping?" He asks. I nod again.

"You ever going to talk again?" He was teasing me. I smile and nod. He tries to tickle me and I try pushing his hands away.

"I'll stop when you say something." He says laughing. "Haha something." I say between laughs. He stops and stands up with me in his arms.

"Good now we can go shopping." He places me on the ground and kisses my forehead. He takes my hand and the next two hours we spend buying me new clothes. His phone dings and he smiles at it,

"Your room is ready." He says. "Do you want to go see it?" He asks me.

"Yes please." He takes my hand and we make our way back to the pack house. When we arrived to the pack house, an omega came and grabbed my bags. Then Liam takes my hand and leads me upstairs.

"This is your room. Yes I made it next to mine on purpose. I'm sorry if that seems possessive. Carrie told me it might come off strong but I want my intentions for you to be clear." He squeezes my hand. He opened the door and we stepped inside. There was a large bed in the middle with wood posts and a canopy. There was a walk in closet and my own bathroom. There was a tree, yes tree, in the corner of the room with a comfy looking chair and a bookshelf. A large window behind the bed that looked out over the forest. The bathroom had a bathtub and a stand alone shower, a large sink and mirror. Everything was so nice.

"Do you like it?" He asks me.

"I love it." I say truthfully. He smiles and pulls me into a hug, I hug him back. I don't want to lean into him so easily, but it's hard when everything inside me just wants to.

"Then do it." Kayla say.

"Don't just come in when you want to. Talk to me or leave me alone Kayla." I hiss at her. I've always wanted my wolf back when she was lost from me for years, now she is like a stranger to me. I'm so confused about what's going on with her and I don't have anyone to talk about it with.

"I know you are upset with me Lina. Soon / will reveal it to you. I know that's not what you want to hear. I can tell you, you can lean into Liam. You can mark Liam." I jump back from Liam after hearing what Kayla just said. Liam looks confused.

"What do you mean? Why is Liam different then Andrew? Is he really my second chance mate?" | asked.

"He is different. Your connection with him is different. Im not saying do it right now. In time."

WHY CANT ANYTHING BE SIMPLE?

“What’s going on in your head beautiful?” Liam asks.

“My wolf again.” Is all I can say. Im not going to tell him I can mark him. I don’t know if I even want to.

“Is she warning you against me or something?” He asked. “No the opposite actually.” He looks surprised.

“Well I won’t pry. Im glad your wolf likes me. And I’m glad you like the room. I have a few things to take care of, but I’ll check on you before I go to bed, ok?” He says

“Of course. I have a lot to unpack.” I look at my bags of clothes. He smiles and kisses my forehead again. He left and I get to unpacking. Once I was done I changed into some night clothes and crawled into my new bed. I turned the tv on and just relaxed. I must have fallen asleep because the next thing I know feel a hand on my face. The hand cups my cheek then lets go. I open my eyes and I reach my hand out to grab Liam’s hand. Liam turns to me. Without even thinking I pull him in bed next to me. He lays down and I curl in next to him savoring his warmth. I fall back asleep in his arms.

Can’t Pretend Forever

Catalina’s POV

Over the next few days I’ve started to get into a routine here. I wake up, get ready. Jet and I head to training, I found out he sleeps on the same floor as me and he will be the next Beta. After training I get breakfast, spend time with Carrie or Sara, we’ve become closer. Then lunch, around that time Liam comes out of his office and we spend time together, either watching a movie, going for a run, or I tag along with him doing some pack stuff. I’m seeing more of the pack and getting more questions about me and Liam. Liam hasn’t slept in my bed with me since that first night. We haven’t talked more about my family, the war, or my wolf. And honestly I haven’t brought it up. This feels like my escape and I need it. To just be normal. Today Liam is taking me into town to see Sebastian again, he has something he wants to show us something new.

“Ready to go beautiful?” Liam asks as he opens the car door for me.

“Yes I am excited to see what it is.” I say getting into the car. Liam gets in the driver seat and we head into town. We pull up to the studio and head inside.

Sebastian greets us at the door.

"Ah finally! Come with me." He says and grabs my hand. We make our way to the other side of the studio to a back room. The room is full of supplies and a single painting in the middle. We stop in front of it, it's covered.

"Are you ready?" He asks. Liam stops at the doorway and leans against it. I nod excited. He removes the cover and I am amazed. It's a beautiful painting of a girl with red hair. Her hair is flowing all around with bright vibrant colors. It is only the profile of the girl's face as she is looking to the right. There are vibrant colors of blue and green and shapes all around the girl's face. But the girl's face is painted in black and white. It's me. He painted me. No one has painted me before. I run my fingers over the painting.

"Do you like it?" Sebastian whispers. I look at him and smile.

"No one has ever painted me before." I say. "I love it." Looking back at the painting. I glance over the painting at Liam and he had a big smile on his face.

"Did you know?" I ask. "Maybe." He says with a grin. He comes over and steps behind me looking at the painting. "It's your best painting yet." Liam says to Sebastian.

"Half think you are a biased based on the subject matter." Sebastian says. Liam laughs.

"You're probably right." "I will grab us some drinks. I'll be right back." Sebastian says. Then he leaves. "Lina I want to ask you something." I turn to him. "Will you go on a date with me?" He asks.

I have to admit I thought he would ask me sooner.

"Yes." I reply a bit too eager. He wraps me in a hug. "When?" I ask into his chest.

"How about right now?" He says. I pull back from his chest.

"Now?" repeat. He smiles and takes my hand. We walk out into the main room and there is a table set up with candles and food. It's so sweet and lovely. He takes me over to the table and pulls out my

"This is so nice Liam. Thank you." I say "Anything for you beautiful." He says. He pours us wine and we eat. "Lina I have to tell you something." He says "Ok?"

"I have heard back from the council about my petition for war." He says "They agreed." He said plainly. I have no idea how I feel. "What does that mean?" I ask.

"Well it means we will formally be at war with Moon Stone Pack. Starting tomorrow." He says.

"I don't understand why." I say

"Because Lina he hurt you and I will not allow that. He will get worse if someone doesn't do something now. And I am not going to let him hurt you again." He says.

"Because I love you Lina." He adds. My eyes shoot up to his. He loves me? Just like that? Already? "You don't have to say anything. I just wanted you to know." "Will you be leaving?" I ask. "Yes, in two days." He says looking down.

"I have another pack willing to join the fight and will be meeting with him." He says. The rest of the meal was a little quiet.

"I'm sorry I don't want to ruin our date. But I found out today and it felt weird to keep it from you." He says glancing up.

"I'm just worried." I say. "What about?"

"You"

"Nothing will happen to me." He reaches out and grabs my hand.

"You don't know that."

"That's true. But this is the right thing to do Lina. We don't know how many others he's hurt, or killed."

Liam's right. I probably only survived because of my Phoenix. He's probably killed others that way.

"I'm trying to understand. But if you are my second chance, I don't want to lose you." I say. "I will do everything in my power to return back to you." He says. "When will you be back?" I ask.

"If all goes according to plan, 4 days. If not a week." He says. My heart pings.

"Well now that I have ruined our date, let's go get dessert." He says trying to lighten the mood. I give a small smile and he takes my hand. We head out the door and down the street. We made our way to an ice cream shop and head inside. We share an ice cream sundae. We didn't talk more about the war, instead we talked about the painting, training, and pack gossip I heard from Carrie. When we were done with our sundae we headed back to the pack house. Liam walks me to my bedroom door.

"I had a nice time, sorry again I ruined some of it." He says.

"You didn't ruin it. I think I haven't been asking any questions about things because I've been trying to pretend I'm normal and everything is fine." I say looking down at my hands. His hand brings my head up to meet his.

He closes the door and puts my back up against it. He takes off my shirt and starts kissing me again. I let out another moan into his lips. He takes me over to the bed and lays me down. He pulls back and takes his shirt off. He then pulled my shorts off. He kisses up my thigh to my underwear. His kisses send chills through my body. My body wanted him. He took off my underwear and started kissing my inner thigh. Then I felt his mouth on my nub and it was like electricity. I moaned right away at the feeling. He then inserted a finger into me and I moaned again. Everything he did felt so good.

"You are so wet beautiful. Do you want more?" He asks as he pulls out and pushes in his finger. I nod. He pulls his finger out.

"I can't hear you." He says teasing me. "Yes!" I moan out. He inserts two fingers, and like a rush I moan.

"I like hearing you moan." He says. He inserts another finger and I arch my back.

"Do you want me inside you?" He asks. I nod again. He pulls his fingers out and rubs his member on my nub.

"I didn't hear you." He is teasing me.

"I want you inside me." And with that I felt him enter me. It felt amazing. He let me adjust to him and then he started moving in and out. Every thrust making it harder

He pulls my hips into him and I grind down. He moans at my movement.

"Damn Lina I'm not going to last much longer if you keep that up." He says with a smirk. "Good because I'm going to c*m." I say panting. Moving up and down I feel the build up.

"C*m for me baby." He says. I hold on to his chest for balance and then I feel the release and let out a moan. Liam grabs my hips and keeps me grinding to ride out my orgasm. I feel him release too and I lay down on his chest catching my breath.

"Lina I love the cuddle, but you are hot!" He says, and I remembered how hot I can get. I sit up and smile.

"Sorry I forgot." And get off of him and head to the bathroom. I turn the shower on cold and get in. After a minute Liam joins me in the shower. He washes my body. His hands on my body warms my core again. I turn and face him and he has a smile on his face. He looks me up and down like he's hungry for more. I wrap my arms around him and crash into his lips. He lifts me out of the stream of water and I wrap my legs around him. I feel his member against me, he already ready to go again. He positions himself at my entrance and slide inside me again not breaking our kiss. I moan into his mouth. It just feels so good. I want more of him. He moves in and out of me. "I love hearing you moan my name." He said in the crook of my neck. "Looks like I'm going to have to take another shower." I say. He pulls back and smiles.

"I promise to be good this time." He says with a grin. This time we actually did get cleaned up and out of the shower.

Catalina's POV

I wake up to feel light fingertips on my back. I take a deep breath and breathe in Liam's scent.

"Good morning beautiful." He says in a low husky voice. I tilt my head up to him and smile. He leans down and kisses me. I squeeze him and enjoy the kiss.

"I have to leave, but I wanted to let you wake up first." He says.

"The other Alpha should be here soon." He adds. I nodded and unwrapped from him. He gets out of bed and puts on his clothes. He comes back to the bed and sits next to me.

"I have a dinner with the Alpha tonight. Will you join me? I'd like to introduce you as my mate if that's ok?" He asks.

His mate? I mean I guess I am. I can't pretend I'm not anymore.

"Yes I will join you." I said. He smiles and kisses me.

"It will probably be around 7." He says as he left the room. Literally moments later I hear a knock at the door. I was naked so I told them to hold on. I grabbed my robe and opened the door. I was surprised to see Jet at the door, he looked upset? Hurt? Mad? I couldn't tell but he looked me up and down.

"You missed training." He says. Oh I completely forgot about training.

"But maybe you already had your workout for today." He says, and storms off. That was weird. I watched him walk down the hallway and pass Carrie who looked like she was coming to see me.

"What's stuck up Jet's butt?" She asks me.

"I don't know. Liam left and then Jet knocked on the door because I missed training. And then he said maybe I already had my training for today, then stormed off." Then Carrie got a big grin on her face.

"What?" I asked. She rolled her eyes and walked past me into my room.

"You are so cute you know that." She said.

"Omg why does your room smell like s*x?" She turns around slowly to me and I'm sure my face was bright red.

"Lina did you and Liam?" She asked. Then I hear her squeal in excitement, why does everyone squeal?

"Finally! It's taken so long for you two to get it together. I need details but not too many, he's still my cousin." She grabs me and pulls me to the bed. I told her about the date and the painting. I told her about the kiss and how things escalated, I skipped the shower part, and I told her he stayed the night. I even told her about the Alpha dinner.

"He's going to introduce you as his mate! LINA! I'm so happy for you both." She really was.

"What are you going to wear? What about your hair? Omg we need to plan!" She jumped up from the bed and straight for my closet. I just sat there giggling. I was not going to stand in her way. She came out with a few options and laid them out.

"Carrie what were you saying about Jet?" I asked

"Oh who cares about Jet you have Liam." She says holding up an option to see if she likes it.

"I don't want Jet being mad at me, if I did something.." I trail off

"Well Jet is a flirt, because he doesn't have to do much, I mean look at him. Women come to him. I think he thought you'd be the same. He's never really not gotten someone he wants." She said.

"This is why you are so cute. Yes, he walks you to training everyday. He gives you special attention at training. He always happens to be outside your door when you leave. It's a little stalkerish if I didn't know him." She's right. How have I not noticed?

"What do I do?" I ask.

"Again don't worry about him. When Liam announces you as his mate he'll understand. He's a big boy." She says.

"Have you and Jet ever?" I ask

"Oh no, he wouldn't mess with me, which is why I'm a bit surprised he would mess with you. Liam would destroy him if he touched you." She says. I get that, Alphas are very jealous.

"This is the one I think. It brings out your eyes." She picks a blue dress I haven't worn yet. It's to the knee and tight in the waist.

"You don't think it's too formal?" I ask.

"No, because of the length I think you'll be fine. You can always chalk it up to trying to make a good first impression." She places the dress on the bed and puts the other options back. I hear a knock at the door and Carrie goes to answer it. She opens it up to see Sara. Sara walks in and looks frustrated.

"Can I hide in here for a bit, something is stuck up Jet's butt and he's like yelling at every warrior he sees, giving them extra work outs." Carrie and I look at each other and start laughing. Sara looks confused and Carrie proceeds to inform her of what happened today.

"Oh that makes sense now. Lina I'm so excited for you and Alpha Liam. You will be a great Luna, with a mean hook." She says with a smile. They don't know I'm supposed to be more than just a Luna. I'm supposed to be the High Alpha, or whatever that means.

I should tell Liam though, he needs to know what he is getting himself into.

"Wait. Don't tell him until he comes back." Kayla said. She really chooses when she wants to be around.

"Lina you ok?" Carrie asks me.

"Yeah sorry I was talking to my wolf."

"When do we get to meet your wolf?" Sara asks me.

"Oh I'm not sure.. She's been a little secretive lately. I need to see if she will go for a run or something.

" I say.

"Kayla can we?" I ask her

"Soon. When Liam leaves we can."

"She's says soon."

"Alright, just let us know. My wolf is always down to get out." Carrie says.

"Should we go down for lunch?" I ask trying to change the subject.

"Let's have it brought up." Sara suggests,

"Fine we'll I'm going to go change into some clothes." I say

"I'll call down for the food." Carrie says.

"Is it safe to get in your bed?" Sara asks wiggling her eyebrows. Carrie laughs and I blush. I head into the bathroom with out a word and get dressed. When I come out Sara is laying on top of the covers and Carrie is talking to someone. I join Sara and turn on the tv.

"Food will be here soon." Carrie says joining us. It's nice to have friends, I still miss Rachel and often find myself thinking about her. I think about calling her but then I decide against it. Our food arrives and we Tretel the story on my tale to them and we talk about the up coming war.

"Do you know who Alpha Liam is meeting with?" I ask.

"I think he said his name is Alpha Franklin, or something like that." I've never heard of him before but that's not unlikely.

"Are you going with them?" I ask Sara.

"Not this time. He's taking elite through level 5." She says. She was level 4 by now. She was learning quickly.

"Are you bummed?" I ask her.

"Abit, but we'll get added duties while the others are gone so that will be nice." She says.

"There's a small group of elite staying back, I'm pretty sure it's a guard team for you." She adds. "A guard team? Doi really need that?" I ask, I could take on whoever came, I think. "I think it's for Liam's peace of mind." Carrie adds. She's probably right. "They better be better fighters than me." I say and they both laugh.

"So should we get you ready for tonight? Go take a shower and I'll do your hair when you get out." Carrie says. I get up and head to the shower. I wash my hair and my body. Then I dry myself off and put on a robe. I sit down and Carrie does my h air. When she's done I get dressed. Carrie is trying to convince me to put on make up. I agree to a minimal amount. She does my eyebrows, mascara, and some lipstick.

"Ok that's enough! I really don't want to wear too much." I say. "Well lucky for you because you don't need much." Sara says. I smile. "Thanks."

"Well you are all ready for your Alpha." Carrie says facing me to the mirror. I looked pretty good actually. We hear a knock at my door. Sara answered it and opened it to Liam. He stepped in the room and stopped when he saw me. He's never seen me all done up. He has a big smile on his face.

"Lina you look.." he trails off and walks over to me.

"Ladies could you excuse us for a moment?" He asks without taking his eyes off me. I hear the door close and Liam's mouth is on mine. He lifts me up and my dress hicks up as I wrap my legs around him.

"Liam" I try and pull back. "Liam" I say again and our foreheads rest against each other.

"I'm sorry you look so beautiful and I've been thinking about you all day. You have proved very distracting during my meetings." He says. I smile.

"I'm glad you think I look beautiful. But I won't have you messing me up before I've had a chance to show others." I say. He does a low growl.

"Maybe I don't want others to see." He says raising an eyebrow. I giggle and he lets me down. He kisses my forehead.

"Since you want people to see how lucky I am, let's not keep them waiting." Liam grabs my hand and we head for the door when we open it, Carrie and Sarah jump back from the door. They were spying.

"Ladies." Liam says giving them a smirk. They giggle and we head down stairs. When we get downstairs there are 3 men I don't know, Jerry, Jet, and 2 older women I didn't know. We walked to the two older women, I noticed Jet staring at me but I try to ignore it. He will learn I'm Liam's tonight.

"Mother." Liam says hugging one of the women. She had sandy blonde hair and blue eyes, and she "Liam I haven't seen you in so long." She hugs him back.

"I know I'm sorry. But I want you to meet my mate, Catalina." He says "Oh my son she's beautiful." She takes my hands. "Tell me dear what is your last name."

"Black." I say

"Oh dear, your poor family. At least you are from an Alpha family. I'm so happy my son has found a second chance." She pulls me in for a hug. She pulls back and smiles.

"This is my mother Susan." Carrie says about the other older woman.

"It's lovely to meet you Catalina. Carrie has told us so much about you." Susan says and we shake hands.

"We will go take our seats." Liam's mother says, and she walks into the dining area. It has been made up for one table and no one else is here.

"Liam what's your mother's name?" I whisper realizing I never got it.

"Violet." He whispers back. I really liked that name. We turn to the men left in the room. Jet still staring, it's making me uncomfortable now. The Alpha sees that we are ready and comes over.

"Catalina I would like to introduce you to Alpha Francis. Francis this is my mate Catalina." Alpha Francis takes my hand and kisses the back of it.

"The pleasure is mine. Liam I didn't know you had a mate. She is beautiful." Well he is complimentary.

"Well it's new. And she is the most beautiful." Liam says. I glance over to Jet and his face is red and he is not looking at me anymore, but Liam. Liam doesn't notice.

"Ah new mates, it will be hard to be separated." Alpha Francis says. "We'll be alright Francis." Liam says a bit sternly. They give each other a look I can't decipher.

"I'm sure you will be. Catalina let me introduce you to my son Brandon and my Beta Henderson." He gestures to the two men standing next to him. Brandon shakes my hand and the Beta bows to me.

"Nice to meet you all." I say and Brandon smiles at me like he wants to eat me alive.

What is going on?

"Gentlemen shall we eat?" Liam asks, and Alpha Francis nods. Liam leads me to the seat next to him, Liam sits at the head of table. Alpha Francis takes the seat opposite of Liam. Liam's mother is across from me and Carrie is next to Alpha Francis. Jet took the seat next to me. Brandon sits next to Liam's mother. Great all the creepers in my line of sight. The food is served and people are talking to themselves, Liam is talking to his mother when Jet leans in to me.

“So you’re Liam’s mate?” He asks. He sounded skeptical and not looking away from his food. “Yes I am.” I whisper “She’s my mate Jet, is there a problem?” Liam said low so others wouldn’t hear but with the command behind it.

“No Alpha. Just surprised I’m just now hearing of it.” Jet also said low but clear. Brandon eyes the exchange. When I glanced up at him he raised his eyebrows up and down at me and smiled. I looked back down at my food. I didn’t know where to look. Liam grabbed my hand and leaned towards me.

“Are you ok?” He asks me.

“I feel like I am a fish in a fish tank and everyone is staring at me.” Liam glances up at Brandon, who was staring at me, Francis, who was staring at us, Jet, who was side eyeing us. I heard a low growl come

“Why is everyone staring at my mate?” He looks around the table. “Liam I think we’re just all a little curious.” Alpha Francis says calmly.

“Be that as it may, your son’s gaze is making her uncomfortable and Jet if you have something to say to my mate you better be able to say it to us both. If you are going to be the Beta you need to move past whatever you had in your mind.” Liam gave Jet a look.

“Brandon, I will stop bringing you to meetings if you can’t control yourself.” Alpha Francis gives Brandon a look and Brandon sits up straighter.

“I’m sorry Alpha Liam, Catalina, father. Please accept my apologies.” Brandon says looking stern. / Liam nodded and turned to Jet.

“I’m sorry as well Alpha. I am surprised is all. You are correct I will move past it. I apologize Catalina, Alpha.” Jet says.

Liam nods and sits back down. He takes my hand again and everyone goes back to eating. I want to run away and hide but I know that’s not an option. After a while talking picks up again. Thank goddess the meal was coming to an end. When it was officially over we said goodbye to everyone and we made our way upstairs. When we got to my room we went inside.

"Lina I'm sorry that was awkward. No one knows about us yet and people think it's suspicious. We need to have a formal announcement but we have to wait until after the war. I promise we'll do it right." He says grabbing my hands. His face looks concerned.

"It's fine, I understand." I said. I mean it was my fault that we have been taking things slow. I wanted to pretend to be normal and not some High Alpha. But I needed to stop that and embrace wholam. Starting with Liam. If Kayla says to lean in, then I will.

"I guess I'll leave you to get ready for bed." Liam says and he turns to the door. I grab his hand.

"Stay" is all I had to say. Liam wrapped me up and kissed me. I was lost in our kiss. I will lean in to him completely. I wrapped my self around him, my mate.

Going to War

Catalina's POV

I woke up and noticed Liam wasn't in bed. We had made love into the late hours of the night. I figured he got up early to get ready for leaving today. My heart pinged knowing he'd leave and something could happen to him. I get up and head to the shower. I shower and wrap a towel around me. I walk out to the room and see Liam laying in the bed.

"Hey beautiful I got us some coffee." He says handing me a cup. "Thank you" I say taking the cup. "I figured you had to get ready to leave today." I said getting into bed next to him.

"Unfortunately I do. But I wanted to get you some coffee and wake you up." He says kissing my nose.

"When do you plan on leaving?" I asked.

"We will leave this afternoon. We want to get to his territory late at night." He explains. My stomach feels ill.

"I have a few more meetings but I'll get you before I leave." He said getting up from the bed.

"Carrie is on her way up. I'm sure she will keep you busy while I'm working." He says. He kissed me goodbye and left. I sat on the bed and drank some more coffee just enjoying the quiet, Then there was a knock. It's probably Carrie.

"Come in." I say. Jet walks in and quickly closes the door behind him. I stand up surprised that it's him and surprised by the action.

"Jet I'm sorry I thought you were Carrie." I said realizing I'm just in a towel.

"I don't have much time Lina. Alpha Liam isn't your second chance mate." He says flatly. I look at him confused. Kayla said I could mark him, and to trust him. I felt the feelings of a mate bond with him. They weren't as strong as they were with Andrew and a bit different but I definitely felt something.

"What do you mean?" I ask "Carrie isn't your friend. She is your babysitter." He adds ignoring my question.

"I don't understand." I say

"Lina do me one favor. While Liam is gone try to leave the pack area for some reason, try and call anyone from your old life." He says taking my hand. I'm so confused.

"Try spending one day without Carrie." He whispers. A knock comes from the door drawing our attention.

"I stayed too long." He whispers.

"Wait a moment in the bathroom." I say. He goes in the bathroom. I go to the door. Ick it only a little.

"Hey Carrie" I say opening the door.

"Can you do me a huge favor, can I borrow that yellow dress you wore last week. I've been looking through my closet for something but I can't get that yellow dress out of my mind." I give her puppy dog eyes. She smiles.

"Fine but only because Liam is leaving today and I want you in a happy color. I'll be right back." She says and heads back down the hall.

"You have to go now." I say and drag him to the door.

"Think about what I said." He says as he heads down the hallway. I watch him disappear down the stairs and make sure no one sees. I close my door and lean my back against it. What was he talking about? Could he just be crazy? Jealous? But then why would he say Carrie is my babysitter. I went back and thought how if Liam wasn't with me, Carrie was.

"Kayla is Liam my second chance mate?" I asked. She didn't answer. Then I heard a knock behind me and it scared me. I hopped away from the door and opened it. It was Carrie with a smile and the dress. I open the door and smile.

"Thanks you're the best. I'll get dressed." I walk into the bathroom and get dressed. I look in the mirror still confused about what just happened. I'll test his theory, but I have to wait until Liam leaves. So I have to get through today. I push it out of my mind and step out into my room.

"That dress looks so good on you." She says. "You ok?" She asks. I must not look ok. "Yeah, just worried about Liam leaving." I say. She smiles warmly at me.

"I know. But I'll be here to keep you company and he'll be back before you know it." She says. I smile back.

"What do you want to do? We can go to the lake? Go for a walk? Hang out and watch a movie?" She throws out a few suggestions.

"The lake sounds nice." I say. She takes my hand and we head downstairs. We pass by some pack members and I hear some whispers and notice some looks. What was going on? Carrie kept pulling me ignoring everyone. When we got outside I take a few deep breaths.

"What's wrong?" She asked.

"Nothing I'm fine. I just need a minute." I say. I place my hands on my knees and take a few more breaths I think I'm having a panic attack. I need to calm down.

"You look pale are you sure?" She asks "I'm fine!" I growl and she takes a step back. I take a few more deep breaths.

*"Lina I can't come out to calm you. Not yet. Everything will work out. You say you trust me. You need to fully believe it."*Kayla says

"Is what Jet said true?" I ask point blank.

*"I know you want answers and I will give you them in 2 weeks. In 2 weeks you will know everything. Just trust me until then."*Kayla says not answering my question.

"So I'm just suppose to carry on? Blindly trusting you?" I snap back. *"Has anyone done anything to hurt you?"*She asks. "No."

*"Do you feel happy? Safe?"*She asks. "Yes"

"Stop fighting who you are Lina. Stop letting other people tell you what to believe. Believe what is in front of you, believe what is inside you. I am apart of you. I have protected you fo r years. What happens to you, happens to me. The Moon Goddess has given you the greatest of her gifts, me, her only true daughter. Stop fighting against it. Embrace me." She says. My breathing has calmed.

"Fine Kayla, but you can't vanish on me anymore. If I ask a question you can't answer you have to say that. Don't just go quiet. If you want me to trust you, I need you around." I say.

"One last question, should I try the things Jet has said?" I ask

"NO" she says back. Kayla is right. I need to believe what I say. I won't try them. I will trust my wolf. I forgot for a moment I was with Carrie. She was looking at me but she looked confused.

"I'm sorry Carrie I didn't mean to growl I was having a panic attack and needed to calm down. But I'm calm now. Please forgive me." I say. Her face softens.

"Don't be sorry I didn't realize how hard you were taking Liam leaving. You sure you still want to go to the lake? We can just veg out if that helps?" She was talking softly to me.

"It's good for me to get out of my room. I don't want to turn into a couch potato." I say trying to lighten the mood. She smiles and we link arms but this time she doesn't pull me. We walk slowly over to the lake and we sit. I enjoy the scenery and my new sense of trust for myself and Kayla. I wonder what will happen in 2 weeks that will give me more information. Maybe the next event. Maybe the war will reveal something. Maybe I'll burn up into ash and I'll be at peace. Honestly at this point nothing scares me. I can't hide who I am anymore and I need to stop being afraid. I am the High Alpha, I need to act like it.

"Kayla, Liam suggested I try to practice and control my fire. Is that possible?"

She

"It will be. But you aren't powerful enough yet. It's a good idea when you come into more power." said. I like having my wolf back.

"I never left Lina. It's just hard. I don't want to affect the outcome. You need to become this High Alpha on your own." She adds

"Do you know things because of the Moon Goddess?" I ask

"Yes because of my connection with her." "Will I have a connection with her?" I ask " If you become the High Alpha, yes you will." She answered my question. "I can't wait." I say and smile

"I'm glad you're smiling. I'm not going to lie I was a bit worried back there." Carrie says. I forgot she was here again.

"I know, I'm sorry again." I say. She bumps my shoulder playfully.

"I'm just glad you are ok. I don't really have many friends and I worry about you." She says. She was my friend, no matter who she really was, she's been a friend to me.

"Why don't you have many friends?" I asked.

"Well that's a long story and I'll tell you one day, just not right now." She smiles. I nod and look back over the water. I feel almost light. Like worries have left me and I'm physically lighter now.

"Hey we need to head back, Liam wants to appoint you to your guard team." Carrie says. We stand up and head back to the pack house. When we step inside I see Liam talking to 3 pack members. Without even thinking about it I walk up to him and stand next to him. He smiles at me.

"Men, your future Luna." He says to them and they bow. Some I have seen at training.

"Lina this will be your private guard while I am away. I know it seems like over kill but I just want to make sure you are protected while I'm gone. I know you can kick anyone ass" I pull him down and kiss his cheek.

"I understand." I say. Because I honestly did. Mate or not, he's been nothing but sweet and kind to me. I'll worry when I have something to worry about. He just smiles at me again.

"This is Mateo, Jim, and Kinsey. They will basically just follow you around, but I have another guard who will be with you more." Just then Sara walks in.

"Sara will be your personal body guard." He says. Well I'm glad it's someone I like.

"Thank you." I say to him.

"Anything for you." He pulls me into a kiss, I don't even care how many people are in this room. When I pull back I look back at Sara and notice a weird look on Carrie's face. But it's gone quickly. I'm not going to worry about that.

"How about some lunch before I head off?" Liam suggests. Can he really eat before heading off to eat? I nod and we head to the cafeteria. We sit down and food is brought to us.

"So I was thinking when I get back we can have the mating ceremony." He says. "Good I hate not being able to link with anyone." I say. He laughs.

"I was thinking we could also talk about completing our bond. When you're ready of course." He adds. I put my fork down and look him in the eyes.

"I just need you to come back to me, ok? We can do whatever you want." I say. He smiles and pops a piece of steak in his mouth.

"I'll come back Lina. I promise." He says. I go back to eating. "What happens if your gone and I go into heat?" I ask. He almost spit out his food. I giggle.

"Then you lock yourself in your room and stay in the cold water. I don't want anyone around you if that happens." He was very firm, and I couldn't tell if he was trying to use his alpha command, but it wouldn't work on me. Not just because I'm his mate but because I was High Alpha. That's right, I'm embracing "Ok I was just asking." I said trying to calm him.

"Carrie will call me if that happens. I'll do what I can. I know it will hurt." He says more calmly. We finished our meals and it was almost time for Liam to leave me. I saw Alpha Francis in the living room.

"It's time for you to go, isn't it?" I ask. He looks down. Then he grabs my hand and we dash upstairs and into my room. His lips land on mine as he picks me up. I wrap my legs around him. He pins me up against the wall and kisses me hard, biting my lower lip. When he pulls back, he looks at me.

"I love you Lina. I will come back to you." He says looking in my eyes. I put his face in my hands and meet his gaze.

"I love you Liam." I say. He smiles at me and kisses me hard again. A single tear falls from my eye. He hugs me tight. I don't want to let go. Not now. But I have to. I let go and he places me on the floor. We make our way back downstairs to the group. Jet is standing among them, I don't make eye contact.

"Are we ready?" Liam asks and Alpha Francis nods.

"I will be back before you know it love." Liam says to me.

He called me love. I melt. I watch as they pile into cars and drive off the pack lands. I feel someone behind me, but I don't take my eyes off the last spot I saw the cars. Mate or not I hope he's ok. I feel a hand in my shoulder.

"He'll be alright." Sara says behind me. I stand there a little bit longer. Sara's hand still on my shoulder. I take a step back inside the house and close the door. I feel all eyes on me.

"Sara please stay. The rest of my detail, if you could please patrol the exterior of the pack house and give me some time." I say. They nod and head outside.

"Oh I think i like bossy Lina." Sara giggles. I appreciate her attempt at lightening the mood. I give her a 'small smile.

"Why don't we get junk food and wine and watch a movie in your room?" Sara suggests. "I don't want to drink alone." I say looking over to Carrie, Sara can't drink as my guard. "I'm in." She says and we head to the kitchen. Sara grabs snacks, I grab wine, Carrie grabs water for Going to War PICKS II up. But she smiles and passes it to me. It's from Liam. I didn't even see him put it in here.

Sneaky.

Catalina,

I thought it would be romantic to leave you a letter while I'm off fighting in battles. But in reality it's sad. I am writing this letter while I sit next to you as you are sleeping. You are so beautiful and peaceful. I will miss waking up to your face and smell. You smell like coconuts and it drives me crazy. I know we haven't known each other long, but I can't wait to make you mine forever. I can't wait to come back to you. Just know that I am thinking about you and missing you, my love, my mate, forever.

Liam.

I feel tears in my eyes. The girls are looking at me. I hand Carrie the note, I know she wants to read it, and I pour myself some wine. Rachel was right, I have grown to love it.

"He really didn't make this easy, did he?" Carrie says passing the note back to me. I place it on my nightstand.

"I don't think it was ever easy." I say back. I know what she meant.

"But I like that he left me something. It's so thoughtful." I say.

"Now what should we watch?" Sara turns on the TV as I pour a glass for Carrie. She seems a bit distant or maybe it was just me.

We watched Downton Abbey, my new addiction. We watched until Carrie and Sara had passed out. I was having trouble falling asleep though. The wine made me think of Rachel. I got out of bed and left my room. I walked down the hallway into the spare office. I closed the door and picked up the phone and dialed Rachel. It rang three times then she answered.

"Hello?" She asked. I had no idea what time it was, she sounded tired. "Rachel." I whispered for multiple reasons.

"Lina?" She whispered back I'm assuming for her own reasons.

"Yeah, I miss you." I say

"Oh Lina honey. I miss you too. But we can't talk just yet. I'm glad to hear your voice." She says. I guess she knows things. Kayla told me not to reach out. But I missed my best friend.

"Bye Rachel." I say.

"Good bye honey." She says. We hang up. I my was short but I'm glad I called. Even though nothing was said and nothing happened. It really was nice to hear her voice. I sit here for a moment in the silence. I get up and head back to my room. I crawl back into bed and fall asleep this time.

Bonfire

Catalina's POV

I wake up early, I see the sun peaking above the Horizon. Carrie and Sara are still asleep. I guess that's all the sleep I'm going to get. I decide to get up and take a nice bath to keep me relaxed. I go to the bathroom and draw a hot bath. I stepped in and slipped into the warm water. I lay back and close my eyes.

"Kayla I know you said not to reach out. I just couldn't help it." I say. "I know you miss Rachel. I didn't stop you." She didn't. I like talking with my wolf. "Now that Liam is gone can we shift?" I ask her.

"Yes" she says.

"Can the girls come too?" I want to be sure. "Yes." "Good I can't wait to see their faces when they see you." I say with a chuckle.. "I could really use stretching my paws." I see her smile. "I'll ask the girls if we can go for a run when they wake up."

I stayed in the bath until my hands got pruny. I got out of the bath and wrapped a towel around myself. I walked out into the bedroom and Sara and Carrie are waking up.

"Good morning." I say, a bit louder than Carrie would have liked based on her reaction.

"Do you guys want to go for a run today? My wolf could really use it." I ask them. "I'm always down for a run. Carrie?" Sara replied.

"Fine, but only if I get another 45 mins of sleep first." She stuffs her head under her pillow. Sara and I laugh. Sara gets up.

"When do you want to do it?" I ask. "Why not after breakfast. My only plans today are to protect you." Sara says.

"I'm going to head to my room and get changed." She heads out the door. I grab some clothes and go back to the bathroom. I get changed and dry my hair. When I come out Carrie is on her phone.

"You know eventually you'll have to get out of bed." I say climbing back into bed. "Eventually is not now." She replies. I flip on the tv and I hear a sigh from her. "Fine I'm getting up." She gets out of bed and stands up.

"I'll go get ready." She sounds so defeated. I decide to head down to breakfast and get myself some food. The cafeteria is pretty empty when I get there. I take a seat and a plate of food is put in front of me. I take a few bites before I see Sara walk in and take the seat across from me.

"I can't wait until I can mind link you. I went to your room and no one was there." She said as a plate of food was put in front of her.

"I'm sorry I should have asked Carrie to tell you. When Liam comes back we'll fix that." I say. Sara digs into her food and Carrie slips into the seat next to her.

"I'm looking forward to the run. I need to do them more often." Sara says. Carrie doesn't say anything. "She just sips her coffee. She normally a lot more of a morning person, I wonder what's going on with her.

"I'm excited too." I say. We finish our meals and head towards the front door. I tell the guards we are Bonfire une.

"Can I shift first?" I ask them excitedly.

"Sure! You can change behind that tree." Sara points and I walk over to it. I get undressed and shift into Kayla. When I come out from behind the tree I see Carrie's face light up and Sara's jaw just drops.

"Holy horse Kayla, you are huge." Sara says as I circle her.

"Yeah girl you are huge." Carrie says laughingly. I nudge them to go change. They both go to the tree line. Sara is the first to come out. Her wolf is light brown and a decent size, I'm definitely still bigger. We circle each other. Carrie comes out next, her wolf is grey and black. When we are all together we start sniffing and playing around. Then I jump on Sara and jump off. I take off running. I hear them behind me, look back and Sara is close. I push myself faster.

"We can't go too fast." Kayla says. I understand why. Sara jumps and lands on me. She jumps off and darts in the opposite direction. Carrie jumps on her and takes off. We do this for awhile. We end up at the lake. We lay down next to it panting and catching our breath. After a while Sara and Carrie get up, guess we're headed back. We head back to the pack house and run into the three patrol guards. Even in their wolf forms I could tell they were surprised by my size and I giggle to myself. I go behind the tree that has my clothes and change back. I get dress and come out to find everyone else has changed too.

"Luna you are huge. I've never seen a wolf with purple eyes." Mateo says sounding impressed. "Yeah, you're definitely bigger than Alpha Liam is." Kinsey says..

Guys are so easy to impress. All you have to do is be big, eat something big, or fight something big. Girls are not so impressed. I look over at Carrie. She has another weird look on her face. When she sees me it quickly softens. What is going on with her?

"Thanks guys. Let's go get some food." I say. We head back inside to the cafeteria. There are a few more people here now. We all sit at a table and an omega brings us food. We eat and everyone is chatting. The guys seem more relaxed now. Maybe because they see how big I am and I can take care of myself, or at least scare someone off.

"Is training going to continue with Jet gone?" I ask "Yeah Gamma David is running training until they return." Jim says. "It won't be as long and hard but it will still be good." Sara says. "Luna can I ask a question?" Mateo asks. "Sure why not."

"Can we have a bonfire? We haven't had one in so long, and I know it will help to build some morale since a lot of warriors and mates are gone." He asks.

"I don't see why not." I say and I hear cheers.

"Thanks Luna." Mateo says

"Just make sure to patrol and get someone else to set it up. I'm going to go take a nap beforehand. I would like one of you outside my door." I say.

"I will be right outside Luna." Jim says standing. I stand to and go upstairs. When I get to my room turn to Jim,

"Wake me up for dinner if I'm not already." I say.

"Yes Luna." Jim says. I get into my room and crawl into bed. I guess not sleeping last night caught up to me, because I fell right to sleep.

When I woke up, the sun was just starting to set. I stretch and roll out of bed. I go to the bathroom and wash my face and brush my teeth. When I head out of my room, I see Jim.

Bonfire

"Yes thank you. Where is everyone?" I asked.

"Mateo is out back helping set up the bonfire with a few other people, he has been patrolling for a few hours. Sara is on her way here, I just told her you were awake, I think she wants dinner. And I think Carrie is at her home. Kinsey is patrolling." Jim says. Wow he's pretty well informed.

"Lina! Thank goodness I'm starving!" Sara yells from down the hall. "You could have eaten without me." I say back. "Not without my Luna." She teases.

"Thank you Jim. You can go help Mateo out with the bonfire if you want." I tell him as Sara drags me away down the hall.

"Thank you Luna." Jim says. Sara drags me into the cafeteria and we take a seat. I'm actually not hungry but eat a little. .

"Everyone is looking forward to the bonfire. Mateo has some how told the whole pack, well the whole pack that's still here." Sara tells me.

"That's nice. I'm excited to see everyone." Which isn't a lie. I just don't know how to introduce myself.

"Should I introduce myself as Liam's mate? Or just as Lina? I'm not sure what to call myself."

"I think enough people know you are Alpha Liam's mate by now. I don't see any harm in it." Sara says. Maybe she's right. When Sara was done eating we went out back to help set up. We set up chairs and tables. We brought out food and drinks. People started arriving and I didn't have to introduce myself, they all seemed to know me and everyone called me Luna. It felt odd not knowing their names, but I didn't want to seem rude.

"Thank you Luna for having this bonfire. It's nice to get together." One woman said to me before she bowed and headed for the drink table.

"How does everyone know me?" I lean over to ask Sara.

"Maybe Mateo told them." She shrugs. Maybe.

"LUNA!" Mateo waves me over to a seat. It probably was him that told everyone. I walk over to him.

"What's up Mateo?"

"Here have a seat. Best seat in the house." He says. I look around and it kind of was. I was close to the fire, but not too close to be covered in smoke. I could see everyone coming and going. I had a view of the dance area too. I smile at him.

"Thanks Mateo."

"Anything for my Luna." He does a dramatic bow and I giggle. I sit down and just watch the pack for awhile. Everyone seemed to be having a good time. I'm glad we did this. After a few hours of hanging out and chatting, people started heading back inside.

"I think we should start cleaning up." I say to Mateo.

"Oh Luna enjoy the last bit of the fire. Some omegas and I will clean up. Don't worry." He was laying it on thick for me letting him have this get together, but I don't mind. I sit back and watch the stars for a bit. The moon was half full but still bright. I was starting to get tired so I made my way back to the pack house, not before saying good night to everyone. I made my way to my room and I noticed something on my bed. I walked over and there was a box with a note. I looked around my room for a moment before reading the note.

Lina,

Bonfire from you.

Yours forever Liam

I opened the box and there's a phone inside. I lost my phone in the crash, but I haven't really needed one really. There was a message on the phone already.

"I hope you like the phone" is all it said. It was from Liam. "I love it." I reply. He typed back right away. "I love you." I'm happy to hear from him, even through text.

"I love you too." And I mean it. I change into one of Liam's shirts and get into bed. Liam and I text for a bit before he has to go to sleep. They attack tomorrow evening so he needs his sleep. I want him to be ok.

Dream

I'm standing in the middle of a field, then suddenly I am surrounded by fire. In the flames / see Andrew.

"I was right to reject you. Look what you've done." He shouts.

"No I didn't do this." / yell. I run towards him. "Andrew!" / yell. He turns and walks deeper into the flames.

"Lina. It's ok I'm here." I hear behind me and turn around. It's Liam, but he's covered in flames too. The heat from the flames is making it hard to breathe. I look around the circle and see 12 figures in the flames.

Catalina's POV

Over the next 4 days, things have been pretty repetitive. In the morning Sara and I would go to training, then breakfast, then Carrie would come over and we'd all hang out, and either go for a run or watch movies. We'd have lunch, then the guys will hang out with us for awhile and try and talk us into something for that night, we always agree. It was nice having friends and being normal. I'd spoken to Liam on the first day before he went into battle, but he's been silent the last 3 days which has me worried. I hope he comes back soon. Carrie seems to be taking his absence hard as well. My thoughts drift to Andrew every now and then. With not much to distract me, his face would pop into my mind more than

Today is day 6 since Liam left. Sara wakes me up to get ready for training. I get up and get dressed. I check my phone, but no messages have come in. My stomach falls, I'm sad, I just want this to be over, but push past it. I head out to the training facility with Sara and Jim. We get through that feels good to get my energy out through a good workout. However I do have to ease up, since no one over level 5 is here to train with. We head back to the pack house for breakfast when I see two cars pull up.

I catch my breath when I see Liam getting out of one of the cars. He turns to where I am and smiles. He's back! He's alive. I don't even think, I run towards him. I jump and wrap my arms around his neck. He wraps his arms around me and picks me up. I hug him so tight. I didn't realize how tense I have been over the past 6 days until I relaxed in his arms. I wrap my legs around his waist.

"Hello love." He whispers in my ear. I breathe him in deep, I missed his smell. He does the same thing in the crook of my neck. I pull back and look in his eyes. Then I punch his chest.

"You stopped texting me. I was so worried." I pout. And hit him again. He laughs. "I'm sorry love, I was an it and broke my phone." He says with a smile.

"Yeah I don't know why he brought it into battle with him." Jet says from behind him. I smile at seeing Jet, I'm glad he's ok.

"3 days Liam." I saying pouting again.

"I know baby. Believe me I know. I'm sorry I made you worry." He says pressing his forehead to mine. I cup his face.

"I'm just happy you are back." I whisper. "Me too." And we kiss again. He puts me down and we all walk inside.

"Lina I need to talk to you about what happened. Before everyone else." Liam says. I nod and he leads me to his office. When we get in his office he pins me up against the door and his lips are on mine. His kiss is hard and hungry. I feel his hands on my hips and side. His kisses go down my neck, I let out a small moan in my throat. Liam pulls back and we are both panting.

"Sorry I need to stop or I won't." He's leaning with his hands on both sides of me. "I missed you so much Lina." He says.

"I missed you too Liam." I reply. Liam takes my hand and guides me over to a chair. We sit next to each other.

"So I wanted to tell you about what happened." He starts off.

"We attacked at night, and it seemed they were waiting for us. I'm not sure how, but we were met with a large resistance." He says.

"Did we lose a lot of warriors?" I asked.

"How badly?" I asked

"He lost about 50% of his warriors." I gasp. "We lost about 10%." He added.

"And Alpha Jackson? And Moon Stone Pack?" I ask

"We took out all their warriors. The pack doesn't exist anymore. But there was one problem." He says looking at me.

"What?" I ask

"Alpha Jackson got away." He says. My heart drops into my stomach.

"That's why it took us so long. We tracked him for days but never found him." He adds. He looked sad as he said it to me, like he let me down. I place my hand on his.

"Liam it's ok." I try to reassure him. "It's not ok Lina. I don't want him coming after you."

"He doesn't have a pack anymore. It would be suicide if he came after me on his own." I know how to defend myself now.

"I still wanted to give you the justice you deserved." He looked so upset. I get up and sit in his lap straddling him.

"Liam I don't need justice anymore. I just need you now." I say and I cup his face and kiss him. His hands grab my a and pull me into him. His hands go under my shirt up my back. I kiss him harder. I grind into him and hear a moan in his throat. He lifts my shirt over my head and kisses down my neck. The air is getting hot and heavy. I'm breathing heavy. I feel his hands on my bra and he removes it. He kisses down to my bret, I moan again. He lets out a growl and in one movement he picks me up, clears his desk, and lays me down. He takes off his shirt and bends down to kiss me. I pull him into me. He pulls back and takes my shorts off. His mouth finds my niles again and I arch my back. He kisses me all the way to my panties. He slips them off and kisses my inner thighs. I let out another moan.

"I've been thinking about making you moan since I left." He says and a finger slides into me. His tongue finds my nub and circles it while moving his finger in and out. He started sucking and pleasure shoots up my body and I arched my back and closed my eyes. He inserted another finger. I feel the pressure building inside me and I want more of him.

"Liam" I moan. "More"

He inserts another finger while sucking, and I feel the release and moan loudly. I pant as he trails kisses up to me.

"We aren't done yet beautiful." I feel him at my entrance as he rubs against me. I smile and pull him into me. I hear him groan in pleasure. He grabs my hips as he moves in and out of me.

"You feel so good Lina." He says as he looks down at me. He buries his head in my neck. I kiss him in his mark spot and he moans.

"Kayla can I mark him now?" I ask, surprised by my request. "Soon Lina, not now" she says. I feel Liam graze my spot with his teeth. "He can't mark you yet either." Kayla says. So I pull back.

"Liam" I say and he moves but thrusts faster and harder. The release is coming again. I feel him release and moan, just as I do too. We are both breathing hard and Liam pulls my head to his and he kisses me.

"I love you Lina. I missed you so much." He says and kisses my nose. I giggle. "I love you too."

Another Announcement wouldn't look at me, Sara was giving me a grin, and I had no idea where Carrie was. My stomach growled and I realized I haven't eaten yet today. Liam looks down and laughs. I guess he heard my stomach growl too.

"Let's get some food beautiful." He says and we head for the cafeteria. We sit at a large table, everyone joins us. I look up and see Carrie come in looking sweaty, I guess she had gone for a run. The guys tell stories from the battle and the journey there. I sit there listening and eating. Mateo told them about the bonfire and how things have been at the pack. Then out of nowhere Alpha Francis storms into the pack house. Liam gets up quickly and goes out to him. They look like they are arguing. Liam glances over his shoulder at me and then they leave, heading upstairs. I'm guessing Liam's office. I thought back to the mess in his office we left behind and it made me blush. I tried to focus back to the group, but then I felt Jet's eyes burning in to the side of my face. I glance over and see I was correct. I almost forgot about the way he was acting before he left. Ugh I really don't want to deal with him. Everyone has finished eating and is just chatting. I stand.

"I need to go shower and get training off of me." I say as I walk to the stairs.

"Text me if you want to hang out." Sara says. I smile and nod. I head upstairs to my room. I have to pass Liam's office to get to my room. I hear shouting as I walk nearer to it.

"You didn't lose almost all your warriors Liam." I hear Alpha Francis yell. I don't want to listen at the door so I keep walking to my room. I get in and start the shower. When I get out of the shower, Liam is waiting for me on my bed.

"I will never get tired of seeing you" he says. I smile at him. "What was wrong with Alpha Francis?" I ask.

"He's upset with the amount of men he lost. But we came up with an agreement."

"What agreement?"

"His pack will be joining ours." He says flatly. "What? Seriously?" I ask a little surprised.

"Yes, his son found his mate and can take over his mate's pack. Alpha Francis is getting older so I'll stay the Alpha.. which has me thinking. We need to announce you as my mate and Luna and get you in this pack." He says.

"We can plan it for a week from now. I can make the announcement of the packs combining too." He adds.

"Ok sure." I say with a smile.

"I will let everyone know the plans. I will say I'm going to be a bit busy preparing for the merging of the two packs, but I will always make time for you my love." He kisses me.

"I understand. I'm just happy you are back." I tell him. He smiles at me and kisses me again.

"I would love nothing more than to do what we did in my office again, but unfortunately I left Alpha Francis in there." He says pulling away from me.

"Why did you leave him in your office?" I asked.

"He wanted to make arrangements with his Beta and son. He should be finished by now." He kisses me one more time before getting up from the bed. i "When I'm done I'll come find you." He says as he slips out the door. I get dressed and dry my hair.
