

ABOVE THE GRAY FOG

Chapter 16 Half a Year

Taking one step forward, passing through a golden light curtain, the surrounding gray fog suddenly disappeared.

"Finally back!"

Ten kilometers further ahead was the location of the former camp. Lin Shan looked at the rolling hills ahead and couldn't help but sigh: "There are two completely different worlds with gray fog and without gray fog."

At this moment, the sky was gradually getting dark, and there were also strange things in the night circle, such as the fish. Lin Shan remained vigilant along the way and did not take it lightly because the gray fog was dispersed.

He had just walked five kilometers when he suddenly heard the neighing of a wild animal, a bit like the neighing of a horse... Could it be a horse from another world? There was also the faint sound of human conversation.

The sound moves from far to near.

"Sister Xia Xuan, please slow down, my horse is a little disobedient."

"Xiao An, the red moon is coming out soon. It may be dangerous then. We have to go back quickly."

The person speaking behind was a woman who looked less than thirty years old, with a pink almond face, a pair of big black eyes, and shiny black hair, casually scattered on her shoulders.

Both of them were wearing green silk robes, a bit like what the green Catwoman was wearing that day.

At this moment, Zhao Xiaoan and Xia Xuan were riding horses from another world that they had obtained from nowhere, running from behind Lin Shan.

The horse under Zhao Xiaoan was a little dishonest and always disobedient. She could only hold the horse's head tightly to prevent it from falling off.

The horse beneath her may have been a little uncomfortable because of her stranglehold, and it kept shaking its neck and throwing her around.

Fortunately, these horses have been trained. Even if they were painfully strangled, they did not strike but kept running with the horses in front.

Suddenly, Zhao Xiaoan felt something was wrong, and a cold chill surrounded her. She had been living in a different world for half a year and immediately realized that there was a problem ahead!

"Sister Xia Xuan, stop for a moment, do you feel cold?"

She didn't directly say it was weird, but Xia Xuan understood the meaning as soon as she heard this. It was indeed unusually cold. They had walked this road many times and it had always been safe, so they didn't pay attention at first.

Xia Xuan patted the horse's back and said: "Dahei, stop for a moment, turn around and change the way!"

Upon hearing this, the horse under her stopped quickly and followed Xia Xuan's guidance to prepare to turn around.

The moment she turned around, a red figure suddenly formed around her! Xia Xuan's heart trembled, but she could do nothing.

The red figure in front of her pounced directly, and its hands passed through Xia Xuan's body.

In an instant, Xia Xuan felt a biting coldness all over her body, her consciousness began to become blurred, everything around her fell into darkness, and she fainted after a moment.

At the same moment, Zhao Xiaoan also fainted.

Two minutes later.

Lin Shan looked at the two unconscious people on the ground speechlessly. He heard their voices and was ready to wait for them in front, but he forgot about the red lantern. They appeared behind Lin Shan and were fine, but turned around and immediately satisfied the red lantern. As for the attack conditions, it was already too late when there was a problem. This thing's attack does not distinguish between enemies and friends. As long as it is within its rules, even gods will have to feel cool.

He has a way to crack it, which is to place the lantern high, and it will not attack as long as it is not within a certain height.

Now that things have happened, I have no choice but to wait for them to wake up before continuing.

At this time, Lin Shan noticed the two horses standing next to them. There was a spiritual light flowing on the horses. These were two extraordinary creatures!

How they were able to control extraordinary creatures with their mortal bodies puzzled Lin Shan. It seemed that a lot of things happened during the time he was promoted to extraordinary.

Another point is that the red lantern only attacked the man on horseback, but not the horse. Does this mean Weiyi will not take the initiative to attack extraordinary beasts? Keep this in mind, maybe it can be used in the future.

Half an hour later.

Zhao Xiaoan woke up in a daze, opened his eyes and saw a red lantern and the black shadow behind the red lantern.

"Is this the weird thing attacking us?"

Zhao Xiaoan calmly recalled what happened just now, but found that the strange thing was walking towards her.

Zhao Xiaoan was stunned. It was different from what he learned in books. Didn't he say that the strange attacks in the barrier were all regular? Why did this thing move on its own...

"Xiao An."

This weird guy can actually talk? And you know my name! Zhao Xiaoan's eyes widened with a look of horror.

"It's me, Lin Shan."

Seeing Zhao Xiaoan's scared look, Lin Shan knew that she was thinking wrong, so he stepped forward and waved.

This weird thing actually turned into Brother Lin, who has been dead for half a year... Could it be that it peeked into my memory?

Zhao Xiaoan was even more frightened. She felt that this was too weird and terrifying, and it was also deceptive.

Sure enough, everything in the book is a lie... Everything weird and without wisdom, just instinct, is all fake!

Seeing Zhao Xiaoan's expression becoming even more frightened, Lin Shan was helpless. Why did this guy have so many scenes? It was really weird. She had already lost her temper: "It's really me, Lin Shan!"

He said and flicked the other person's head directly.

"Ouch, it hurts."

Zhao Xiaoan grimaced in pain.

At this moment, Zhao Xiaoan was convinced that the person in front of him was not a strange person, but a real person. Because he just used a physical attack! Zhao Xiaoan felt that he was one of the smart ones who could grasp such tiny details.

"Brother Lin, why did you come back? It's been more than five months. We all thought you were dead."

After confirming that this was the first person he met when he first came to the other world, Zhao Xiaoan's eyes turned red instantly, and tears fell like beans.

They only knew each other for two days, but those two days were as long as two years to her. She always relied on the calm Lin Shancai to give her the confidence to persevere.

Lin Shan never came back and she secretly cried several times.

"Why are you crying?" Lin Shan didn't wipe her tears for her, but just said, "It's been more than five months? It's only been a few days for me, and I've experienced some things, so I delayed it."

At this time, Xia Xuan on the side also woke up, rubbed her head and looked at Lin Shan: "Aren't we being attacked strangely? Who are you? Did you save us?"

Lin Shan smiled awkwardly and looked at Zhao Xiaoan, asking her to explain. He couldn't say it was me who attacked you.

Zhao Xiaoan wiped his tears and showed an expression that didn't know whether he was crying or laughing, and said, "Sister Xia Xuan, he is Lin Shan."

"Lin Shan? Are you back alive?" Xia Xuan rubbed her eyes and looked carefully. Although it was blurry under the red moon, she could vaguely see the unfamiliar face with a hint of familiarity. It was strange because half a year had passed and she did not have as deep an impression as Zhao Xiaoan, but after all, they had lived together for two days and she still had some vague memories.

"Let's talk about it when we get back," Lin Shan said.

"Okay, you sit behind me." Zhao Xiaoan climbed up to the horse with difficulty and hugged the horse's neck, saying: "Let's ride back. This horse doesn't need to be controlled, as long as it sits firmly."

Lin Shan was speechless, you hug the horse's neck, where should I hold it? Holding you?

Zhao Xiaoan also thought of this and his face turned slightly red, but he still didn't say anything and grinned.

Lin Shan looked at Zhao Xiaoan and felt that she had changed a little bit.

"No, I can just walk back. It's not convenient for me to ride a horse now." Lin Shan replied.

Riding a horse with a red lantern is too dangerous. If the horse goes too fast, the person on the other horse will suffer.

"Then let's walk with you. It's not far anyway." Zhao Xiaoan said.

Xia Xuan nodded: "Then let's go together. You haven't been back for a long time. Our camp has changed a lot now. I just want to introduce it to you."

"Okay." Lin Shan nodded in agreement, and then said seriously: "If you don't want to faint, you must walk behind me later."
