

ABOVE THE GRAY FOG

Chapter 18 Chat

He only mentioned the living body and the fallen body, but did not mention the mysterious body. It seems that even though the cat tribe has lived on this land for one hundred and eighty years, they still don't know the concept of the mysterious body.

After thinking for a while, Lin Shan asked again, "What is the highest order of the cat clan?"

Zhang Zhonghua replied:

"What was revealed to us was Sequence 9. I don't know if it is true or not. I feel it should be true."

"A large number of their tribesmen died in obtaining materials. To succeed, the first potion requires a large amount of materials to try. It is an attempt by the entire cat tribe, not just the tribe next to us. The tribe's artifacts can allow them to There is a connection to a certain extent, and the potion exploration is broken down into a whole."

Lin Shan nodded. The stone tablet will only tell you what the materials are and what parts are needed, but it doesn't mention the amount to be used or how to handle the materials. He has parchment and can obtain the formula accurately. If he tried it by himself, it would be unimaginable. The first successful serial potion of each race can be called a miracle.

"The cat people can't believe it all. You have to know that there is a kind of invasion called cultural invasion." Lin Shan said seriously.

The Cat Clan came over to help them for no reason. Being friendly was one thing, but he wouldn't believe it if the Cat Clan had no agenda.

Wu Wang said seriously: "Don't worry, we will pay attention, but I feel that this cat tribe just wants to find shelter in advance. After all, we hold the original human artifact in our hands, and this may be the holy land of the human tribe in the future."

"It's best like this." Lin Shan nodded slightly and said, "Then let's do it. The fallen body will stay and organize the people who have traveled through time. The other seven people will follow me. They will come back after being promoted to the extraordinary. Only when they have the strength will others be willing to work with them. Please cooperate seriously. As for the fallen body's transcendence, I will see if there is a chance to get the sequence later. Maybe the cat clan's sequence can be exchanged. "

Zhang Zhonghua smiled bitterly and said: "It feels like you are now the true pioneer and leader of the human race. The few of us who have traveled through time have done nothing but build houses, farm and raise animals..."

Wu Wangshen agreed: "I heard from the cat tribe that after several generations of sacrifices, the first extraordinary person appeared after traveling through the 50th year. You have become an extraordinary person in only half a year. To be precise, it has only been two days... and you are still there now." Come and help us..."

Lin Shan smiled and asked, "Are the clan weapons powerful?"

"It's awesome. Without the weapon to dispel the gray fog, we would have been out of luck." Wu Wang replied.

Zhang Zhonghua said doubtfully:

"What's wrong? Why do you suddenly ask about the clan weapon? The clan weapon can only dispel the gray mist without any attack effect, and wherever the clan weapon moves, the barrier will move with it. If you want, I can play with it for a few days, but I can't. take away."

He thought Lin Shan was asking if the clan weapon was powerful and wanted to take the clan weapon out.

Lin Shan was speechless. What did he mean? "I mean, since the clan weapon is so powerful, have you ever thought that your names are on it, and all clans will know the names on it in the future."

"Do you still think you are ordinary?"

Wu Wang scratched his head, "Am I that powerful? I don't even know..."

Lin Shan knew the horror in the gray fog. The clan artifacts that could dispel the gray fog were definitely not simple. The people whose names were engraved on the clan artifacts would definitely not be ordinary forever. The reason why Zhang Zhonghua and the others are still ordinary now may be because the human race has not yet. The reason why the time-traveling clan weapon is still very weak at the beginning. He got the advantage because of the parchment, otherwise he should be like them, farming, grazing, and living a leisurely life.

Zhang Zhonghua did not worry about whether he was strong or not, but looked at Lin Shan and asked, "When do you plan to leave? I will help you contact other people in private."

Lin Shan thought for a while and gave an accurate time, "Seven days from now. I still need to collect materials. I just need to relax for a while. My nerves are almost broken in the gray fog."

After coming out of Zhang Zhonghua's house, he first took a look at the red lantern that he hung high on the tree. Then he came to Jin Tianzong's wooden house and saw Jin Tianzong tinkering with his various tools.

"Do you have more clothes?" Lin Shan asked.

He was still wearing the tattered pajamas, which were as shabby as he wanted, but he had no choice in the previous circumstances.

"There is a new set in the cabinet, you can take it yourself." Jin Tianzong replied without looking back and continued to tinker with his tools.

Lin Shan opened the cabinet and rummaged around and found a green robe with no patterns on it. It felt very comfortable to the touch and was better than the materials he wore on earth.

Lin Shan frowned and said, "Why are they all green?" Green is not his favorite color, but now everyone inside and outside the camp is wearing this color.

Jin Tianzong raised his head and replied with a smile: "Go and ask the big green silkworms in the vegetable garden if they can spin silk of other colors."

"Is this made of silk? No wonder it feels so good. It's really luxurious." Lin Shan was a little surprised. He didn't expect that his living standard has been so high in just half a year, and his clothes are all made of silk.

"Hahaha." Seeing Lin Shan's performance, Jin Tianzong laughed and said, "You wouldn't think so if you saw those green silkworms that are fatter than pigs."

Hearing this, Lin Shan understood clearly. It seemed that there was overproduction. There were chickens half as tall as a man, and silkworms that were fatter than pigs were outrageous, but there was nothing surprising.

"I'll go out and clean up. I'll be back in a while." Lin Shan went out directly with his clothes.

By the river, not far from the fish, Lin Shan took off his clothes and jumped into the river. This was the first time he took a bath in half a year. The glimmer of light flowed on his skin, and the spirituality of his heart helped him resist the coolness of the river water. .

Lin Shan found that when the heart light was not activated, it was just a faint glow, a little white, and if it was activated actively, it would turn into light gold.

After washing, he went ashore, put on his clothes, and looked in the direction of the strange line fish. There was a circle of fences to prevent people from entering by mistake.

He didn't want to cause trouble for himself today. Anyway, there were still seven days. He went back to have a good sleep and wait a few days.

When he returned to Jin Tianzong's wooden house, he found that he was still tinkering with his tools. One of them aroused Lin Shan's interest.

It was a round clock made of wood. The whole was very small, but there was a very complicated mechanism inside. Various gears were intertwined, and the hour hand, minute hand, and second hand were moving regularly on it.

Lin Shan was a little surprised: "Can a watch be rubbed out by hand?"

Jin Tianzong smiled and said: "It's just a small thing. If you want it, I'll give it to you. I'll make another one tomorrow, but this is wood, which is easy to wear. The gears will be replaced in a year at most."

"Thank you very much." Lin Shan took it directly without hesitation and put it on his hand.

It is made of wood, but it can be easily adjusted in size when worn on the hand. The craftsmanship is incredible.

"Is this the craftsmanship of the cat tribe?" Lin Shan asked.

"No." Jin Tianzong said proudly: "I studied it myself. I don't know why since I traveled through time. The principles that I didn't understand before can be understood after a little research."

"Amazing." Lin Shan praised: "Maybe you could do it before, but you didn't study it. Now you concentrate on research, so you have this feeling."

Lin Shan then asked: "How did you all suddenly gain spirituality?"

"I got it after eating a few meals of extraordinary creatures." Jin Tianzong said, and then added: "The cat tribe invited me."

Lin Shan frowned. The cat tribe really spent a lot of money. Is it investing in advance, or is there another plan...
