

Ex-Husband Who Has Gone Mad After Abusing His Wife Chapter 101

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

Chapter 101

I put the ginger soup by the side of the bathtub. The bottom of the tray touched the bathtub and made a soft noise. Liam's eyelids moved, but without opening them, he just said, "Get out."

Of course I did not go out, but asked, "Are you having a fever?"

H

There was no response.

I reached out to touch his forehead, and jumped as soon as my fingertips touched him

I was shocked, and it was hot.

At this moment, Liam raised his hand and pushed me over, "Get lost!"

Ouch!

1/8

I screamed, and it was difficult for me to maintain my stability, so I fell headfirst into the bathtub.

Before I could hold my breath, I choked on a mouthful of water.

I felt dizzy, but a force lifted me out of the water.

I coughed desperately and suddenly felt a cold in my chest.

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

My wet clothes were ripped off,
I quickly pressed his hand and asked, "What are you doing!"

Liam raised his eyes and glanced at me. With a movement of his wrist, he broke free from my restraint, pulled it down again, and asked, "Who hit you?"

I had a small bruise on my stomach.

He did not push very hard just now. If he had not pushed on the bruise, it wouldn't be painful.

I said, "Your sister beat me."

Liam did not speak, and closed his eyes again.

I did not expect him to say anything, so I gathered my clothes and prepared to get out of the bathtub.

At this time, an arm suddenly came around my waist.

I was defenseless, and my feet slipped.

The bathtub was deep and the buoyancy of the water was uncontrollable. I was afraid of falling into the water again, so I was in a panic for a while, and finally I was pressed on a warm chest.

Phew...

2/8

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

I was so tired.

"Bunny who cannot swim," His chest vibrated and his voice was husky.

I said, "Bunnies can swim."

"You just can't," He said lazily, stroking my hair with his palm.

"I can," I said, "but you can't always scare me like this."

Liam twitched the corner of her mouth and let out a cold snort, "You can keep those words for yourself."

I froze for a moment and whispered, "I did not mean to..."

There was no response.

I raised my head and saw Liam looking down at me.

His eyes were a little strange, as if I was a stranger.

3/8

I subconsciously avoided his gaze and said, "I opened the window just to get some air..."

Besides, if I jumped from such a high height, there's no need to save me anymore..."

He suddenly pressed my head.

I was forced to look up into his face.

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

He looked at me fixedly, his voice was not high, and he said every word, "You are an idiot."

"An idiot who only bullies me."

He stared at me, the cold light in his eyes was like a sharp sword.

I was a little annoyed, "You can keep these words for yourself."

4/8

Liam narrowed his eyes slightly.

My
premonition was wrong, and I was so nervous that I broke out in a cold sweat.

Suddenly, Liam let go of his hand, and I wanted to run, but before I could make a move, he suddenly turned over and trapped me in the water.

The bathtub was so deep that I could not reach the bottom with my back. I was so panicked that I almost screamed, I had no choice but to hold on to Liam's body as hard as I could, breathing with my head raised as much as possible.

However, after taking two breaths, he lowered his head and blocked my mouth.

Even if my head was half submerged in the water by him, my hair was completely soaked, and only my face was still exposed above the water.

The water swayed irregularly, lingering near my nose. I was afraid that it would flow into my nose, and I desperately raised my neck to gasp at the only air.

Chapter 101 The idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

Water had also entered my ears, and the entire eardrum could only hear the buzzing sound of running water, as well as the amplified sounds that sounded like subtle movements of animals sucking their fur.

It felt... As though I was infinitely dying.

After an unknown amount of time, he finally let go.

5/8

I was tired and scared, but I did not have the energy to hug him anymore, so I could not help but let go.

At this time, Liam moved and dragged me back to lie down.

I laid on top of him again, but I had no strength to move. I could only breathe numbly with my mouth open like a fish washed ashore by a huge wave.

The clothes on my body were nowhere to be seen, although he obviously did not do anything.

However, that was okay, the wet clothes were cold and sticky, and it was much warmer without them.

After such a long time, Liam suddenly let out a laugh, "Was it fun?"

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

He held up my face with his hands, squinted at me slightly, "Was it fun to soak in the water?"

"Hmph," he bared coldly, "There's no need to save you, why don't you just say that 'you deserve it"?"

Only then did I understand what he meant, so he thought what I just said was insin

I had no choice but to say, "I'm not saying you're stupid, but... You must be good at physics, you must know that I will die if I fall from such a height, so..."

He raised his eyebrows slightly.

I stopped.

This sounded a bit wrong no matter how I explained it...

Liam

glanced at me, "So there is no need to collect the corpse, right?"

"You're good at physics too," He raised his eyebrows and said coldly, "Come tell me, what's the consequence if I don't collect your body?"

suddenly felt nauseated, covered my mouth and said, "Don't talk about this..."

6/8

Chapter 101 The Idiot Who Could Only Bully Me

7/8

"No? Hmph," Liam smiled evilly, "I tell you. You will soak in the water for a few days, and after a few days, you will float up and become a floating corpse."

"Have you ever seen a floating corpse?" He said happily, and gestured with his hands,

"It's like a big balloon, your face will become so big, and your eye balls will bulge out

Ten minutes later, in the shower.

Liam was leaning on the chair, his face was flushed and his expression was sluggish, with one hand resting on his cheek, he looked like a luxurious and lustful king.

I sat on the small bench, wiped his body carefully with a towel, and said, "It's clean."

Liam straightened his legs, "Legs."

"The leg has been wiped once," I said, "It's enough, and I did not vomit on your legs."

"You did not vomit on my legs," He looked at me sullenly, "You vomited into the water!

My whole body was soaked in it..."

I covered my mouth, "Stop talking..."

Liam immediately shut his mouth.

Although it was he who said the nasty words first, I did vomit all over him, then wiped his legs carefully as required, and advised him, "You still have a fever, so you can't take a long shower. "

No sound was heard.

I raised my head, and saw that Liam was half-closing his eyes, probably because of fever and he was weak, looking at me with misty eyes.

When he met my gaze, he moved his body, "Vivienne..."

"You are too rough and not careful at all," He commented obliquely.

"How about..." I tentatively asked, "Change to another maid?"

"How can you let others see your man?" He closed his eyes, "Take greater care, it's also for your own good."

That was a lot to ask for...

I picked up the hand towel again, and could not help muttering while wiping it, "It's as if no one else has seen you..."

After speaking, I felt pressure on the top of my head.

I shrunk my neck and looked up.

8/8

Chapter 102 I Would Not Be Afraid

Chapter 102

Liam pressed my head, looked at me with squinted eyes for a long time, and said, "Say it again."

Of course I would not say it.

Liam waited for a while and then let go.

I quickly lowered my head and continued to wipe.

After a while, I suddenly heard Liam's voice, "Before I was five years old, my mother, my sister, and the maid had all seen it..."

I was startled, and raised my head.

Liam avoided my gaze and turned to look elsewhere.

He talked about this on Christmas Day, but I did not believe it.

Today he mentioned it again, and I became a little uncertain, and said, "After five years old?"

Liam gave me a side eye and then closed his eyes.

I waited in the same spot for a while. I saw that he was silent all the time, and was about to speak. I felt itchy in the nose, could not help covering my face, and sneezed.

Chapter 102 | Would Not Be Afraid

Before he could open his eyes, he heard the sound of the chair touching the ground.

Then my body became hot, and it was Liam who wrapped me in a bathrobe.

I raised my head, and he gave me a disgusted look, reached out and pulled the bathrobe cap on my head, and then lifted me up.

I leaned on his shoulder and saw a fluffy white thing dangling in front of my eyes grabbed it with my hand and realized it was a rabbit ear.

I had never worn this kind of animal clothes in my life, this strange thing must have been bought by Liam...

Wicked man...

2/7

Liam
threw me on the bed and went back to the bathroom, probably to wipe himself off.

I saw antipyretics and water on the bedside, so I quickly took out my medicine and took

1. it.

As soon as I put down the water glass, Liam came back.

He glanced at me first, then glanced at the head of the bed, picked up the ear thermometer and threw it on me, saying, "Look at the temperature."

"I don't have a fever," As I said, I measured myself with an ear thermometer, and everything was normal. Although I was feeling cold, maybe it was because I got an injection today? I did not feel much discomfort now.

Chapter 102 I Would Not Be Afraid

Liam took the ear thermometer and glanced at the numbers on it. He seemed a little worried, so he opened my ear to measure it, looked at the screen and stopped talking.

3/7

Could it be that I have measured it wrong?

I became nervous, and leaned over to look, and saw that the number on it was the same as what I had measured. Just as I was wondering, Liam threw away the ear thermometer, and tugged at the fluffy ear on my head, "Lie down."

The clothes were very absorbent and warm, so I did not bother to take them off. I wrapped them up and lay down on the bed. Seeing that Liam lay down too, he was taking his own temperature, so I asked, "Do you need me to help you with anything?"

"Go to sleep," As he said, he picked up the kettle and began to add water to the cup, muttering, "You did not refill my water after drinking, lazy pig..."

I said, "Just forgot..."

He did not answer, took the medicine, turned off the light and lay down.

I also closed my eyes.

At this time, I suddenly felt his body move and half pressed on me.

When I opened my eyes, he leaned over again, placed his lips on the corner of my lips, and asked softly, "Is it hot?"

I shook my head.

Chapter 102 I Would Not Be Afraid

He did not speak, adjusted his posture, and put his face on my cheek.

He was still feverish, so his cheeks were a little hot, and the hot breath from his nose was even more scorching.

The most important thing was of course not these, but his hands.

I endured it for a while, grabbed it, and said, "Don't keep touching my stomach like

I could not see his expression clearly from this angle, I could only hear him chuckle,

"Why?"

"You've got a fever," I said, "Just be quiet."

"I am just stroking the bunny's belly," He said, "Why are you restless? Touching your little belly means

I love you, and letting me touch it means you consent to this matter."

Unreasonable.

I could not say no to him, so I just closed my eyes.

Liam caressed me for a while, then suddenly said again, "Vivi..."

I did not feel sleepy, but I responded anyway.

"You're only twenty-three years old," He put his arms around my body, his eyes still closed, his voice was a bit muffled, "Don't think about that kind of thing all the time."

Chapter 102 Would Not Be Afraid

I was extremely embarrassed, "I never thought about that kind of thing..."

Why were we still on this topic?

Go to sleep, didn't you have a fever...

"It's childish to threaten a man with death," He said softly, stroking my back with his palm, "I won't be afraid."

I couldn't help being stunned for a moment, then reacted and asked, "Then why did you jump into the pond?"

He stopped talking.

I did not ask any more, just closed my eyes and leaned into his arms.

Soon, I felt that the breath of Liam had slowed down.

Finally fell asleep...

However, of course I couldn't sleep yet.

Liam's attitude today was so kind, so good that I was completely confused: had he not received the photos taken by Yvette?

5/7

Chapter 102 | Would Not Be Afraid

He just took the medicine, so he shouldn't wake up easily.

I should not miss this opportunity.

Without too much hesitation, I gently took away Liam's hand and crept out of bed. As soon as I came out of the bedroom, I saw a small white thing squatting by the floor.

It raised its ear, stared at its dark round eyes, and looked at me, trembling.

It did not lie down directly.

I was also very embarrassed. I scratched the ears on my head, waved to it, and showed a friendly smile, "Hello."

It suddenly laid down on the ground.

I took the little white rabbit back to the rabbit nest, and then Mrs. Sullivan came. Seeing me, she was obviously stunned, with a smile in her eyes, "Is Mr. Mendez better?"

I took off my hat and said, "He's asleep... Where's his cell phone?"

"I put it in the study," Mrs. Sullivan seemed unable to hold back, and smiled, "It fits you pretty well."

"... You know it too."

"I took the ears off for him," Mrs. Sullivan said with a smile, "I think that your personality, is very similar to that of a rabbit. You are gentle and well-behaved."

6/7

Chapter 102 I Would Not Be Afraid

After Mrs. Sullivan left, I went to the study and found Liam's cell phone.

77

His phone was out of battery. I plugged it in, and it immediately started vibrating crazily after I turned it on. More than a dozen calls were from "Yve".

Didn't Chris say that he had two older sisters? It should be at least three, right?

Forget it, it was not the time to think about this now, I opened the chat software.

The first one in the contact list was also the third sister. The chat content was only on screen, and the top one was a photo. I did not need to zoom in to know what the content was, and it showed "downloaded", which meant that Liam had clicked to view.

The second was still the third sister: Liam, Ms. Gonzalez will come to visit at the end of the month, and mother wants you to go back and see her. She said that if you don't see each other again, you don't have to go home during the New Year .

The third one was a video invitation an hour later, which was not answered.

The fourth was still the third sister: Liam, don't scare me, what's wrong with you? Say something.

It seemed that Yvette was frightened by Liam's refusal to reply to messages.

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

Chapter 103

So she sent the fifth message ten minutes later: I lied to you, I posed for the photo, sorry! Reply to me please, okay?

After this sentence, she sent two more video invitations, but this time her call was directly rejected.

Liam finally replied: She is dead.

After closing the social media application, I opened the video folder and was about to compress when the phone started to vibrate.

It was still Yve.

Liam only replied three words to Yvette and then disappeared. Anyone would be very worried.

So I hesitated for a moment, then answered, "Hello?"

There was silence for a while, and then Yvette's voice was heard, which was almost bone-chillingly cold, "Are you still alive?"

"Yes..." I said, "It was a misunderstanding."

Yvette was silent again, and after a while, she said, "Let my brother answer the phone."

I said, "He has a fever and fell asleep just after taking medicine."

1/8

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

Yvette said, "Answer the video call."

After speaking, she hung up the phone and sent a video request directly.

I tidied my hair and turned on the video.

At the other end of the video, Yvette was still wearing makeup, her hair was delicate and the background was an office.

She said, "Show him to me."

It seemed that she was afraid that I would lie to her.

I could also understand.

I went back to the bedroom lightly, and before I turned on the light, I saw Liam's pale legs.

His legs were propped on my pillow in a very ecstatic posture.

I quickly put the phone aside, covered him with the quilt, turned on the bedside lamp, picked up the phone again, and pointed the camera at his face at close range.

Yvette's face suddenly softened a little, and she said softly, "Okay. Now go outside, and I'll talk to you."

After speaking, she hung up the video call.

2/8

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

I quietly left the bedroom and went back to the study.

As soon as the door was locked, the phone rang.

I picked it up and heard Yvette's voice, "Thirty million has been remitted to your account."

I said, "I did not agree with what you said this afternoon."

"That matter doesn't matter," Yvette said, "It's for your own good."

I was so annoyed, "You let him do that kind of thing for my own good?"

"Yes, you have to leave my brother early," Yvette said, "You need a reason."

3/8

I was about to refute, but she said calmly, "Don't you say that you don't want to cooperate with me anymore. Your father needs money, and your sister is in danger now.

You can't expect my brother to support him for the rest of his life, can you? I believe you are a sensible person."

I said, "Then you don't need to let him humiliate me like this, I will naturally find a way."

"I think he really loves you," Yvette said with a light smile, "Dr. Norman is a good person, and you are always lucky in your relationships. There will always be men who are willing to love you regardless of your past."

I could fully hear the sarcasm in her words, I said, "Please don't do this kind of thing again, this..." Yvette definitely did not care if Liam would hit me, so I used a little

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

rhetoric, "This will only increase his obsession, but it will not make you achieve your goal."

Yvette was silent for a while, and asked, "What happened today?"

I briefed her about it.

Yvette listened, and snorted coldly, "Sure enough, you are good at this game."

"You think he will definitely scold you after receiving the photo, so you let him taste the feeling of losing you first, so that he gets so exasperated that he would forget to lose his temper."

This pair of siblings was really alike.

Oh, then again, when was Liam afraid of losing me?

I said, "Believe it or not, I really did not mean that."

Yvette did not answer the question directly, she just said, "Do this a few more times."

"What?"

"It's like crying wolf," Yvette said, "He will get used to it after being scared a few times, and when you really leave, he won't be in too much pain."

4/8

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

"...I will arrange it myself."

"I advise you not to play tricks," Yvette said, "Think about your father."

After she finished speaking, she hung up the phone, leaving me alone holding the phone, trembling all over.

She threatened me.

The siblings were really the same.

They all liked to threaten people.

After calming down, I deleted these records and was about to compress the file when I heard a loud "bang" behind me.

I jumped and dropped the phone on the table.

At the same time, I heard footsteps, Liam rushed over and grabbed my arm, "Why are you running?"

His face was pale and his stare was frightening.

I clearly felt a layer of cold sweat seeping out of my back, and couldn't help opening my mouth, "I- Didn't you say to send me a video..."

Liam seemed to have just regained consciousness, gasped for a few times like a trapped animal, then gave me a hard look, turned and left.

5/8

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

Of course I did not dare to struggle, I stumbled and followed him back to the room.

6/8

Immediately he pushed me onto the bed, laid down with his arms around me for a while, and suddenly remembered something, stretched out his hand to pull out his belt, and pressed my hand.

It was only now that I realized his movements, and quickly hugged him tightly, but my face in his arms, and said, "Sleep!"

It felt like he froze for a while, then stopped moving again.

I endured it for a long time before I raised my head, seeing that Li was really fast asleep

again.

It might be because of the fever that had just subsided, a thin layer of sweat broke out on his body, and even his eyelashes were wet.

He hugged me so tightly that I was a little stuffed, and I couldn't help moving. At this moment, I felt his arms tightening, and he put his legs on me.

They were heavy.

When I woke up the next day, Liam had not yet woken up.

When I woke up, I felt my body profusely sweating, but the sweat was not mine, it was Liam's—Liam had a fever again.

The ear thermometer was on the bedside table, I got up to get it, and was changing the rubber piece, when I heard Liam's voice, "What are you doing?"

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

As he spoke, he blocked my legs with his legs.

"Take your temperature," I said, opening his ears.

Thirty-nine degrees celsius.

I said, "I'm going to call the doctor."

Liam closed his eyes again, "Kiss me."

I kissed him on the face, saw that he did not respond, and kissed him on the mouth

again.

Only then did he let go of his hand and muttered, "Come back so on."

Then he fell asleep again.

I was then able to get out of the bedroom.

The servants outside were all awake, and Mrs. Crawford also prepared breakfast.

I came back with breakfast and saw that Liam had fallen asleep again, so I went to the bathroom to take a shower.

While I was wiping myself dry, the bathroom door opened again with a "bang".

7/8

Chapter 103 What Are You Doing?

This time I wasn't surprised anymore, I turned my head and looked.

Sure enough, it was Liam. He stood at the door of the bathroom, frowning and staring at me, like a child who wanted a lollipop but was rejected.

I spread my hands and explained, "I'm covered in your sweat."

"Come back to sleep," He ordered with a sullen face, turned around and staggered

8/8

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

Chapter 104

I put on my clothes and went back to the bedroom. Liam had already laid down on the bed, his fever was still there and his eyes were blurred.

1/8

I sat on the edge of the bed and said, "I've already woken up, you can have a good rest yourself."

He did not speak, and held my hand silently.

I said, "I'm hungry, I'm going to have breakfast."

Liam still did not speak, closed his eyes, and clasped my fingers.

I moved my hand, but I couldn't pull it out, so I had to say, "Why not I call your sister?"

He was usually so fierce, but he turned out to be crazy when he was drunk, and clingy when he was sick.

However... Considering that he had three older sisters, it seemed understandable.

Liam remained silent.

I sat idly for a while, looked at the steamed buns on the bedside table, moved over and picked one up.

As soon as I took one bite, I felt a dangerous gaze.

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

I turned my head with a stiff neck, and met Liam's fierce eyes.

2/8

I must have been too scared. After a moment of daze, I leaned over numbly and handed it to him with the steamed bun in my mouth.

He bit more than half of it in one bite, and I quickly let go.

Liam chewed on the steamed stuffed bun and stared at me intently.

I was a little awkward and asked, "Would you like some soup?"

He chewed the bun as if chewing my meat, swallowed it, and then opened his mouth,

"Who did you learn this trick from?"

"What?"

Liam snorted, closed his eyes, and after a while, muttered, "Slut..."

I did not speak, and picked up another steamed bun. I saw him open his mouth from the corner of my eye, then I stuffed it directly into my mouth.

Liam obviously heard the sound of eating and opened his eyes.

I pretended not to see him and kept eating.

While chewing, Liam said, "Give me one."

I glanced at him, reached for the last two buns, and took a bite of each.

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

The hand that clasped my fingers suddenly tightened, I bit the steamed bun and said,

“A slut does not deserve giving you steamed buns.”

Liam remained silent.

I already had a bad feeling, so I took another bite.

Sure enough, before I swallowed it, I felt his hand let go, dragged me directly to the b and pressed me down.

I quickly
swallowed one, at the same time, Liam had already snatched my other bun, stuffed it into my mouth, pinched my mouth, and there was a fierce light in his eyes,

“Vivienne Nyra!”

My mouth was full of buns and I couldn’t speak.

Liam stared at me with a terrifying expression.

I also looked at him, with an expression of... Well, my mouth was so stiff and numb, I couldn't make an expression at all.

After a while, Liam suddenly let go of his hand, turned over and laid back down.

I sat up and saw him covering his eyes with his hands.

3/8

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

Did he really cry over a few buns?

Just as I was about to speak, Liam suddenly curled the corners of his mouth and started laughing.

He laughed.

He kept laughing all the time...

He still had a small steamed bun in his mouth, so he laughed while chewing.

I was so worried that he would spit out, so I hid myself on the other side, ready to get out of bed and escape, but he held my hand again, turned his head, looked at me and

4/8

I was even a little anxious because of his laugh, I couldn't help frowning, and asked,

"What are you doing?"

Liam shook his head, laughed for a long time, and suddenly pulled me hard, pulling me into his arms, and said with a smile, "You are so cute..."

I laid in his arms and did not speak.

His dislike and praise for me were always so sudden and groundless, I couldn't figure it out at all.

Liam hugged me
for a while, then let go of my hand and held my face instead.

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

However, he had no time to do anything, for suddenly there was a light knock on the door.

I hurriedly got up from Liam, straightened my clothes and went to open the door. Mrs.

Sullivan was at the door, and she winked at me.

5/8

When I came to the door, Mrs.

Sullivan whispered, "Mr. Mendez's sister is here, and she brought two doctors with her."

I said, "She's here to see Liam, let her come up."

Mrs. Sullivan said, "I just told her that you are still resting."

She still remembered what I said about Liam's sister provoking me

I said, "Let her come up, Liam also needs a doctor."

I went back to the bedroom and closed the door, and when I turned my head, I saw

Liam leaning against the head of the bed, holding my medicine bottle in his hand.

I quickly came to him, not daring to show an exaggerated expression, but asked, "What are you looking at again?"

Liam raised his eyes and looked at me, "What are you plotting?"

"It was your sister who came," I said, "Mrs. Sullivan thought you were sleeping."

Liam snorted and continued to look at the medicine bottle.

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

6/8

I was so afraid that he would open it directly, after all, although the pills are very similar, the letters on them are different.

So I couldn't help reminding, "Aren't you going to change your clothes? Your sister will come up soon."

He was still wearing a bathrobe, and it had no straps.

Liam apparently forgot about this, opened the drawer and threw the medicine bottle got up and went into the cloakroom.

I also followed, took my clothes and prepared to go back to the bedroom to change, just as I opened the door, Liam suddenly grabbed my arm, I just felt my body shake, and was then pressed against the door panel.

He pressed over and pressed his forehead against mine, his face was not fierce, but extremely serious.

"Are you regretting it?"

I did not understand, "What?"

"Aborted the child," he stared into my eyes urgently, "Do you regret it?"

I said, "No..."

"No? If not, why are you still taking folic acid when your child is already gone?!" He raised his eyebrows, stretched out his hands to pinch my face, "I was just wondering

Chapter 104 I Will Not Be Afraid

why you suddenly took the initiative yesterday... Vivienne, admit that you regretted, I don't bite anyway."

I said, "I did it yesterday because..."

He suddenly covered my mouth with his hand.

I was forced to shut up.

"Okay," Liam frowned, "I'm not in the mood to listen to your lies."

7/8

"Please pretend to be pregnant when we go out later," Liam said, "Show off your supert acting skills, you know?"

How could I have any superb acting skills?

Liam ordered, "Nod."

I just nodded.

Liam loosened his hand.

I hurriedly said, "Your sister also brought a doctor, who will definitely check me up."

"I'll make arrangements, change clothes quickly," Having said that, Liam let go of his hands and leaned against the door panel, and gave me a look, "Now you are worried. If you did not abort my child, would this happen?"

I said, "I'm going to change in the bedroom, or you go out to entertain them first."

"I want to watch," Liam said with a stern face, and then the corners of his lips curled up into a chuckle, "Why didn't you look so shy when you asked me to feed you yesterday

I was speechless, and just about to speak, the intercom rang, and it was Mrs. Sullivan

"Mr., Mrs., the guests have arrived."

Liam responded, and turned off the intercom, "Hurry up, put on the cream-colored dress from last time."

"I've already torn it apart."

I tried to hide in the corner as much as I could, but I still felt hot when changing clothes, only to find out after I put them on that there was a mirror behind me, and he could see everything at a glance from that angle.

Chapter 105

When we came out, Yvette was already sitting in the living room.

There were two doctors, a man and a woman. The man had gray hair and was sitting beside Yvette. The woman seemed to be an assistant, wearing black-rimmed glasses, with her head slightly lowered, standing obediently beside the old doctor.

Seeing Liam, Yvette immediately got up and walked over, her face was both concerned and a little nervous, "How are you? Do you still have a fever? How is the injury on your arm? No infection, right?"

As she spoke, she touched his forehead.

1/

Liam smiled at her and said, "It's all right," He nodded to the two doctors and said with a smile, "Dr. Gilbert."

The old doctor, that was, Dr. Gilbert also responded with a smile, and the female assistant beside him just raised her head and showed a gentle smile.

Liam glanced at her, put his arms around my waist and sat down on the sofa.

Yvette

sat on the other side of Liam, and asked softly, "Has the doctor been here? What did he say?"

"Vivi wanted to get the doctor last night, but I felt fine, so I didn't agree to it," Liam said, looking down at me with a very affectionate expression, "However, she just made a fuss about calling a doctor again. If you guys are not here, the doctor would be here by now."

Yvette immediately showed displeasure, looked at me coldly, and said, "It seems that I came at a bad time, which delayed your wife's concern for you."

Liam immediately laughed, her tone softened a bit, with a hint of coquettishness, "Yve, why do you behave like a child..."

Yvette also smiled, and said, "Please let Dr. Gilbert take a good look at you."

The female assistant immediately opened the toolbox neatly, and Dr. Gilbert picked up the tools and began to examine Liam carefully.

I involuntarily looked at the female assistant, who stood beside the old doctor again.

She felt my gaze, and looked over generously, showing a trained smile.

Although she smiled very elegantly, I always felt that her eyes were vaguely familiar...

However, where had I seen them before?

I could not remember at all.

Dr. Gilbert quickly finished the examination on Liam, and after asking about the medication, he said to Yvette, "I think it's just a cold, just rest and drink more water."

"However, he still has injuries here," Yvette said, reaching out to unbutton the cuff buttons of Liam's shirt, revealing the wounds inside.

The wound was very hideous, and it was already red and swollen.

Dr. Gilbert looked at it and said, "It's inflamed here."

After that, he picked up the tools and started treating them.

Yvette's eyes were red with distress, and she asked, "It must be very painful, right?"

Liam smiled and said, "It doesn't hurt," Then he turned to look at me, and said with a smile, "Close your eyes, please?"

Yvette also looked over, her gaze was even more displeased.

I turned my face away, avoiding their eyes.

Of course I saw the bust wound in the bathroom yesterday when it was just white from the blisters, it would have been a lot better if I had taken care of them then.

However, I did not, and far from it – I did not even want to care about them.

Just like how I did not care about his injury, I did not care about his cold either.

Of course, I had not always been like this. In fact, at this time last year, I was still very concerned about Liam.

There was once I saw him coughing and his face was not good. I was very worried and followed him like a dog, asking if he was sick? Have you seen a doctor? Do you want to rest at home?

That was right, after I only asked these three questions, he suddenly stopped and glared at me with disgust on his face, "Get lost!"

This was not over yet, that night he called Aunt Sidney to deliver pear soup. I still wanted to care about him, so I volunteered to go.

When I opened the door of the study, I heard the peacock girl asked him like I did, you sick? Have you seen a doctor? Perhaps you should stop working and have a go

rest at home."

He smiled and said, "Are you feeling sorry for me, huh?"

I was sad that day because I thought he loved the green peacock tattoo lady more.

It was even more sad to think about it now, because he was deliberately gouging out my heart.

After that I did not speak, Liam, Yvette and Dr. Gilbert naturally chatted about other things.

From wound care, to medical knowledge, they chatted and chatted until they ended up talking about pregnancy. Yvette looked at me and said with a smile, "Even though Vivienne is pregnant, you don't seem to have any symptoms at all."

Liam wanted me to hide the miscarriage from Yvette, but he could also have his negligence, right? It seemed that it did not occur to him that Chris would definitely tell her the truth.

Yvette knew that I was not pregnant, but she took the initiative to bring it up. It was obvious that she probably did it to embarrass me...

All I could say was, "I'm mostly just feeling sleepy."

5/7

Liam also said, "She often falls asleep while eating," He lowered his head and kissed my forehead, saying, "It's as though she is playing dead."

Yvette smiled and said, "So it might be a boy. Mom did not have many symptoms w she had Liam, she just felt sleepy," She looked at me again, "Do you like broccoli?"

I said, "I'm cool with it."

"Our family is traditional," Liam looked at me and said, "Nothing else counts. When did you suddenly fall in love with boiled broccoli? That's when you are pregnant," Then he looked up at the female assistant, "Isn't that right, Naomi?"

The female assistant immediately raised her lips and smiled, and said, "Smart Kiddo sees it through me again."

As she spoke, she reached out and took off her glasses, walked over and hugged Liam, then Yvette, and finally looked at me, sizing me up.

I was also shocked.

Although her eyes and demeanor were clearly just like Naomi, her appearance was really different.

Chapter 105 It is Time to Get Pregnant

Liam smiled and introduced, "Vivi, this is my second sister."

I said, "Hello..."

Naomi glanced at me, then turned her gaze directly to Liam, "What happened to your arm? Why didn't you tell me last time?"

Yvette said, "I met Dr. Norman not long ago, he was entangled by some gangster patients. I thought it was not difficult, so I asked Liam to help, who knew that the ot party hid a knife and stabbed Liam."

"Dr. Norman?" The second sister seemed to think about it for a while, then suddenly smiled, "Is that the little boy who looks flirty and could make all women swoon over him?"

As she spoke, she even glanced at me.

The look was so unkind, I lowered my head.

Liam obviously noticed my nervousness, leaned over and asked softly, "Are you tired?"

I nodded and made a gesture of yawning.

"Go and rest," He reached out and touched my stomach, "I'll call you again when the meal is ready."

I nodded.

Chapter 106 She Is Going Crazy

Chapter 106

Liam asked Mrs. Sullivan to help me back to the room, and he went to see off his two older sisters.

During this period, I quickly took a pill, and when I went to the living room, I saw Mrs.

Sullivan was answering the phone, and said, "Yes, so you should contact Mr. Men first... Yes, Mr. Mendez is the key decision maker at home now."

When I walked over, Mrs. Sullivan just put down the phone and was startled when she saw me.

I asked, "Who is it?"

"It's Ms. Anna," Mrs. Sullivan patted her chest, turned her head to glance at the door, pulled me aside, and whispered, "She sounded very angry, and said she had something important to find you."

I hurriedly asked, "Is something wrong with my dad?"

I had not seen him for several days.

Mrs. Sullivan said, "Probably not... I did not see Mr. Mendez mentioning it."

"Then it surely is," I picked up the phone and said, "I have to contact my sister!"

"No!" Mrs. Sullivan held down the phone and said, "Mr. Mendez specifically ordered you not to contact her."

I said, "However, it must be about my dad, I have to..."

"Your father is fine," Liam said from behind.

2/8

I turned around and saw Liam coming in. While bending down to pick up the little white rabbit on the ground, he said, "You are not allowed to contact her, because I don't want her to talk nonsense to you again. Now she is going crazy, you should avoid her fi

Now is the most difficult time for her..."

Although I feel that Anna might not care about my father, after all, there was no other candidate.

What more, she was my own sister. I grew up with her and had many good times.

Liam glanced at me and said, "It is difficult for her, but isn't it the same for you? Your husband bullies you every day, and you are not allowed to see your sister, and there is nothing you can do."

I said, "I'll just make a phone call. Are you hiding something from me?"

Liam ignored me, turned around and went to the pet room.

I hesitated for a moment, but followed.

There was no one else in the pet room at the moment, so I thought about it and closed the door.

I turned around and saw Liam squatting on the ground, carefully holding the little white rabbit into the cage, stroking its shivering little white fur, with a loving face.

He was obviously still in a good mood.

I also knelt down, leaned on him, and asked, "Are you angry?"

Liam turned his face to the side, his expression still tense, "It's useless for you to like a baby."

"However, I really just wanted to give her a call," I said. "It wasn't right for her to treat me brother-in-law like that, but she lost everything overnight, and I'm worried she's going to extremes."

Liam picked up a pinch of grass and said, "Do you know why I did not suppress that news?"

I asked, "Which one?"

He turned his face and glanced at me, "The news on Day One."

"Day One?" I asked, "Did you not post that?"

"Why should I post it?" Liam glanced at me, "Even if I didn't want you anymore, I would post about you cheating, why should I post about myself?"

I said, "So it is indeed you behind everything."

Chapter 106 She Is Going Crazy

Liam laughed, reached out and pressed my head, "I knew you thought so."

He was good at jumping between topics.

4/8

"You claimed to be 'worried about her going to extremes', hmph," Liam snorted coldly, "I think you want to show her the video, and ask her to give you some advice, so that can help her cheat me out of my money."

I said, "Didn't you delete them all?"

"Didn't you repost yesterday?" He gave me a side eye and continued to play with his little white rabbit.

"You came here before I had time to post it."

"You had more than half an hour of screen time," Liam said coldly, "You are really slow."

"Because I..." It was impossible for me to speak about peeking at the chat software and video chatting with his sister.

Liam turned his head, squinted his eyes and looked at me for a few seconds, then suddenly put his arms around my waist, and put his face close to mine, "What's it like to kiss him?"

...We did not kiss."

Chapter 106 She is Going Crazy

"Why did he work so hard for you if you did not," Liam said, holding my chin, "Tell me how he kissed you."

I was speechless, "If you really like to hear this kind of topic, I will make it up for you now."

Liam stopped talking.

I was uncomfortable with his gaze and said, "Don't be angry, I'm just joking..."

He let go.

In the next second, he moved and put me on the ground.

He stood in front of me like a dense net, enveloping me and entangled me.

I couldn't resist, I couldn't move.

In the haze, Liam's voice came, "Vivi..."

It was so lingering and gentle.

I bit my lip, unable to speak.

He took a deep breath, said softly, "Eat me," He took my hand, "Just like that day."

5/8

Chapter 106 She is Going Crazy

People were irrational when facing their instincts. For example, they wanted to drink water when they are thirsty, and wanted to eat when they were hungry.

Just that "eating" itself was extremely exhausting, so I almost fell asleep—just like the little white rabbit, when it was injured. Every time it finished eating pasture, it would pass out with its mouth half open.

The quality of sleep when I passed out was very good, with no dreams at all.

When I woke up again, I felt itchy on my collarbone, and when I opened my eyes, I saw that white ball.

6/B

It squatted on my chest, with its small white paws pressing on my collarbone, stretched straight, judging by its posture, it was stretching itself.

However, when the black eyes met mine, the rabbit immediately froze, and then – it fell down with a bang.

I put the little white rabbit back into the cage, and stretched out of the pet room, just in time to meet Mrs. Sullivan.

She was cleaning, looked at me with a smile, and asked, "You're up."

"Um..."

"He's in the study," Mrs. Sullivan said with a smile, "He should be out in a while, the meal is almost ready."

I did not want to go to Liam at first, but when I walked a few steps towards the door of the bedroom, I suddenly remembered that when I was talking about Anna just now, he diverted the topic.

This matter still needed an answer, so I pushed open the study door.

There was a terrace in the study, and there were rocking chairs and swings on the terrace.

did I realize that the windows of the terrace were wide open, and the wind and snow were pouring in.

I hurriedly came to the window to close it, but before my fingers could touch the window lattice, I was hugged around the waist.

I did not need to guess who that was.

Liam pushed me back to the rocking chair, pulled the blanket to wrap me up, and at the same time, Jeffrey's voice was steady and peaceful on the speaker of the notebook, "...These are the opinions of the technical and project department, and I have sent the specific content to your inbox.
