

Ex-Husband Who Has Gone Mad After Abusing His Wife

Chapter 96 -

Chapter 96

In fact, the car was quite warm, and Liam's forehead was a little damp.

What was cold was my increasingly weak life.

Rubbing and rubbing, then came the sound of a mobile phone ringtone.

It was right next to my head, so I picked it up as soon as I reached out, and saw 1 word "Rina" on the screen.

As soon as he saw it clearly, Liam snatched the phone away and threw it aside.

I asked, "Why did you not answer her call?"

14

Liam closed his eyes again, and curled the corners of his lips, "I am afraid you will cry..."

while holding my hand.

I did not speak.

It took a long time for the phone to stop ringing, but it started again within two seconds.

It rang until the fourth time, and finally I could not bear it anymore, "You can answer it."

"No," The tone was a little irritating.

“However, she keeps calling, maybe there is something urgent,” I said, “
And I keep

listening, and I find it very annoying.”

Liam began to laugh.

He laughed so hard that my whole body trembled.

“Of course she is in a hurry...” He said with a smile, “I made her taste he r own m

and now she wants to kill me...”

I was stunned.

Taste her own... Medicine.

Was that what I understood?

No wonder Yvette lost her temper and beat him.

Just listening to this sentence made me feel sick.

2/8

After laughing for a while, Liam opened his eyes. When he saw my face, he was taken aback for a moment, and then raised his eyebrows, “What is wrong?”

I said, “Why are you so disgusting?”

“I knew this would be your reaction if I told you,” He said, and moved clo ser to my mouth, “Stop that hypocrisy, tell me the truth, does it feel good?”

Tamasha

“Are you happy?” He pressed my face, forcing me to look at him.

I could not avoid his gaze, and whispered, “A little bit...”

Rina treated me that way, if I only had sympathy for her, I would be lying to myself.

Knowing that she has tasted her own medicine also brought a tinge of dark joy heart.

However, after all, I still felt... This was really too evil.

Liam laughed, "Then I did not do it for nothing."

I asked, "Did you get hit by your sister for doing this?"

3/8

"It is because I locked her up the whole day and only let her out during dinner time,"

Liam smiled slyly, "She had to finish digesting that kind of high protein no matter what,

no?"

I covered my mouth again.

Liam opened his eyes and patted my chest, "Stop talking, I wanted to ask you if you want to watch the video..."

I quickly waved my hands.

After enduring it for a long time, the nausea passed.

During this period, Liam kept stroking my chest and staring at me.

It was not until I calmed down that he suddenly said, "Vivi..."

I look at him.

“Ask me,” He pressed my head and looked into my eyes.

I thought I knew what he meant and said nothing.

“Ask,” He showed impatience on his face, “What do you want if you do not ask? Ask your sister to plot against me?”

Really.

The monitoring last night, and what his second sister said at the dinner table just now.

He said that I was angry when he was drunk before, which was obviously a guilty conscience.

I said, “I do not think you would do that.”

He raised his eyebrows and curled his lips, and smiled mockingly, “Do you think it is impossible or dare not think about it?”

Π

“...I do not think so, and I do not dare to think about it.”

“Well, you are still honest,” He showed a faint smile, “Go on.”

4/8

Chapter 96 A Paris Enough

I thought about it and said, “Can you show me the video?”

Liam smiled and said, “I will show you if you convince me.”

5/8

“I cannot convince you,” I said, “To reverse– calculate from the outcome, it is true that you have benefited, but I gave Nyra Corporation to you by myself, and it s condition was really bad when I gave it to you. I cannot tell you that I do not doubt you at all.”

Without seeing the video, I was not sure.

Liam did not love me, and I now knew that he did not need Nyra’s investment at all.

Then why did he marry me?

I think it was human nature, and lying must annoy him.

So I was just going to be honest.

After I finished speaking, Liam started laughing.

After laughing for a long time, he finally picked up the phone, handed it t o me, and said,

“Cunning little slut you are.”

I took the phone and glared at him, “Can you stop calling me that?”

Liam raised his eyebrows, and stretched out his arms to embrace me, “Cunning little bunny... Well, bunnies are not cunning,” He suddenly lowered his head and pressed his forehead against mine, “Speaking of which, female rabbits are very fertil e. They can all have a litter.”

I ignored him and turned on the phone.

Fingerprint lock.

Then I grabbed Liam's finger.

However, he withdrew his hand and pressed my cheek instead, "I do not expect a a pair is enough."

I said, "It is better to look forward to your little Vivi than to look forward to me. It can give you a litter."

After finishing speaking, I put his finger on the fingerprint sensor, and with a "click", it was successfully unlocked.

There was a laugh in my ear.

I opened the video folder, and the cover of the first video was Rina, who was tied to a chair with a funnel in her mouth.

I quickly slid away, for fear of touching that dirty triangle by mistake, why was I the second one? I clicked to open, but Liam directly pressed exit.

I asked, "What was that?"

He did not say a word, swiped the screen, and quickly called up the monitoring record screen.

6/8

7/8

I quickly took the phone, and of course the door of my father's ward was on the screen.

In the third second, a figure gradually walked into the screen.

It was Liam!

I subconsciously held my breath and stared straight at Liam on the screen.

He walked slowly into the screen, stood at the door, and leaned against the wall. From the monitoring angle, I could only see the top of his head, but not his expression.

After about a minute, he suddenly moved and walked towards the safe passage.

Immediately afterwards, a doctor wearing a mask walked out of my father's ward.

The doctor was wearing a white coat and a hat. He was tall and slender. Although he was wearing loose clothes, he could be seen as a tall and thin man.

Soon, the doctor left the surveillance area, and within three seconds, Liam returned to the surveillance screen. This time he went straight into the ward, ran out again after five seconds, and went straight into the safe passage. Immediately afterwards, the doctor and the nurse ran into the ward.

The video ends here, and the picture went dark.

My hands and feet were cold, and it took me a long time to come back to my senses,

Chapter 96 A Pair Is Enough

and I looked up at Liam.

Liam also looked at me with a calm expression.

I stared at him for a long time, and finally said, “That doctor... Is he Chris Norman?”

“No,” Liam said, “I had not seen that person before.”

“What did he do to my dad?” I subconsciously squeezed his hand and asked, “How my dad been since you went in?”

8/8

“I found a needle hole in his infusion bottle,” Liam said, “I pulled out the infusion tube from him, but you know the rest.”

I said, “Thank you...”

“Do not tell anyone about this,” Liam said, “Including your sister.”

I hurriedly asked, “What is wrong with my sister? She will not hurt my father!”

Chapter 97

“I do not know if she will,” Liam took the phone from my hand and threw it behind me, “But I know, she will definitely hurt me.”

I said, "That doctor must be in disguise, because the doctors' uniforms here are not of that style. The reason why

I thought of Chris just now is because the Saint Jud

Hospital has that style. My sister must be able to see it too."

Liam glanced at me, "That is the uniform of the emergency department."

I concluded, "Really?"

Liam closed her eyes in disdain and said nothing.

So, judging by the doctor's uniform... Was it wrong?

Then...

Both of them were suspected, and Liam did not take any protective measures, so the suspicion was even greater.

I fell into a dilemma all of a sudden, and could not help but look at his phone.

It fell so far.

After hesitating for a while, I decided to be on the safe side, moved my body, and leaned, close to Liam's cheek in the narrow seat, and whispered, "Liam?"

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

He said nothing.

Surely it was impossible to fall asleep so quickly.

I kissed him lightly on the corner of the lips, and asked softly, "Are you asleep?"

I still think he was pretending...

I was worried, and called out in a soft tone, “Darling, wake up...”

2/7

Sure enough, he opened his eyes slightly, and looked at me playfully, “You are so good at fawning.”

As he spoke, he stretched out his hand and scratched my chin with a finger, “What do you want, Bunny?”

Sure enough, he lied to me.

I went all out and held his face, “Bunny is hungry.”

His smile froze, he looked at me with dark eyes, “Then what do you want to eat?”

“Grass.”

He raised his eyebrows, “Do you think I look like grass?”

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

Just saying it casually...

I made up my mind to provoke him, “Forget it, I think you have run out of energy, you seemed to be very tired just now...”

He did not speak, just pressed my head directly, and after a wolf kiss, he whispered,

“Idiot, next time say you want to eat carrots.”

“However, bunnies do not like carrots at all...”

I did not get to finish my sentence

Fine, as long as he wore protection.

It was the most exhausting thing I could think of.

And, obviously for the sake of saving face, this time Liam worked extra hard.

3/7

So, things were just as I thought, after this time, even though he was physically strong,

he started to yawn, pressed me to his chest, pulled the blanket over, and kissed me without saying a word, and his breathing became heavy.

I was also exhausted, but this was an opportunity I have worked so hard to create.

So I waited for a while, and after making sure that Liam would not wake up, I moved quietly and took his mobile phone.

Unlocked it, compressed the video, set a password, and... Sent it to my phone.

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

Not only that, but I also turned back to look at the front.

I skipped the first one, clicked on the second one, and it really was me.

The surrounding area of the video was pitch black, and only I was illuminated by the lights. In the video, I was wearing a nightgown, with my eyes closed, looking at the patterns on the pillow, it was obvious that I was at home.

Why did he take a video of me sleeping?

Just as I was wondering, I suddenly heard Liam's voice, "It seems that you had not eaten enough yet...”

I was so scared that I broke out in a cold sweat and turned my head stiffly.

I saw that Liam was closing his eyes, and his breathing was still heavy.

Observed for a while... He did not wake up.

He always talked in his sleep...

My intention of watching the video also faded away. I packed and sent all the videos with me on the cover to my mobile phone, and then laid back.

Just as I was thinking whether to lie on his body to keep warm, or to lie down in the driver's seat to enjoy the spaciousness, Liam moved, hugged me tightly, and then pressed down on me.

4/7

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

Well... I did not have to think about it anymore.

5/7

I was woken up by Auntie Sidney. I opened my eyes and paused for a while, then found myself on the bed in the bedroom.

“Mr. Mendez said you are not feeling well,” Auntie Sidney said with a smile, “I came to see you... I made black chicken soup for you.”

As she spoke, she picked up the soup bowl next to the bed and handed it to me.

I thanked her and took it, and seeing her swollen cheeks, I asked, "Auntie Sidney, what happened to your face? Who hit you?"

"I bumped my head," Auntie Sidney urged, "Drink the soup quickly."

She stretched out her hand to stroke my hair again, and said with concern, "Although it is your natal family, I still have to say, why did not they mend you? Why did you lose weight?"

"I am fine," I put down the soup bowl, held her hand, and said, "Tell me first, who hit you?"

Auntie Sidney looked at me for a long time, then sighed, "Who else could it be? Ms.

Olsen. She lost her temper for no reason yesterday, not only hitting me, but also Jane and Anne."

I felt very distressed and said, "I am sorry..."

#

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

Auntie Sidney said, "I am fine, please do not apologize. At that time when my Mia was sick, it was all thanks to you. Although Mia... It is hard to find a good person like you.

However, if you are willing to let me take care of you, that would be the best. Auntie

Sidney is not trying to gain anything, but you are thinner again, I really cannot just watch you this way..."

After Auntie Sidney left, I went back to my room and drank soup. When I came o get another bowl, I saw Mrs. Sullivan just poured the soup in the thermos box dov the drain.

I hurriedly asked, "Why did you pour it all down? I have not finished drinking yet!"

6/7

"Mrs. Crawford is upset," Mrs. Sullivan lowered her voice and pointed to the stove, "Mrs

Crawford heard that you were pregnant, so she went to buy black-bone chicken yesterday. It turned out, Auntie Sidney came early in the morning and brought black chicken soup, and Mrs. Crawford asked her to put it at the door, but she insisted on taking it in for you. Mrs. Crawford left angrily."

I could not help laughing, "Why is she like a child?"

"She is in menopause," Mrs. Sullivan said with a smile, "You were raised by her since you were a child, but now that you are back at your mother's house, you always bring food from outside. I also tasted the soup that Auntie Sidney brought, and the taste could not compare to Mrs. Crawford's."

We chatted and laughed for a while, and I suddenly realized, "Why does Mrs. Crawford not know that the child was aborted?"

Chapter 97 If You Would Let Me Come

77

"I was just about to ask you," Mrs. Sullivan said, "Is this child alive? Why did Mr. Mendez tell us that you are pregnant and should be taken care of at home... However, when he brought you back yesterday, I looked at your clothes. There was blood on it."

I asked, "So I cannot go out, right?"

"Yes," Mrs. Sullivan said, "He said he offended someone recently, and the outside is not peaceful, so he wants you to stay at home."

I sighed and told Mrs. Sullivan the recent events in a low voice. Mrs. Sullivan was also puzzled by Liam's behavior, and she did not come to any conclusion after discussing it for a long time.

After Mrs. Crawford came back, I was unsurprisingly scolded by her, saying that I did not tell my family that I was pregnant and ran around...

The more I listened, the more I wanted to laugh, and I could not help hugging her.

If my mother was still around, she would be at the age of Mrs. Crawford by now.

After eating, I took advantage of everyone's lunch break and came to the door of the study.

Chapter 98

I opened the door and slipped in.

The safe was replaced with a new one, and as soon as my hand touched it, it roared, "Rabbit paw detected, discharge!"

I was so scared that I quickly let go of my hand and touched my fingers. Fortunately there was no real discharge.

I found rubber gloves and was opening them when the phone in the study rang.

I picked it up, and Liam's voice came from the other end, "What do you want to do again?"

I said, "Just play with the phone."

"In the drawer."

I turned around and went to the desk drawer, took out my phone, turned it on, and said,

“Surprisingly it is in the drawer.”

Liam laughed at the other end, “The most dangerous place is the safest.”

“Then why did you still connect to the power supply on the safe?”

“To tease you,” He asked with a smile, “How did you sleep?”

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

“Fine.”

The phone was turned on, and there was a hand-painted bunny lying on the screen, sprawled all over, with one ear drooping.

2/8

At the same time, Liam’s voice came from the receiver, “Fine,” He muttered, “Selfish, it is ‘fine’ when you are ‘well-fed’.”

It took me a while to realize what he meant, and I suddenly felt awkward, “Stop talk got to hang up first... Wait!”

“...” Only laughter was heard.

“Why did you delete all my videos!”

There was nothing in the mailbox, and it was obviously sent successfully yesterday.

“What?” He was still playing dumb.

“You...”

Suddenly my vision went dark.

Head... Why did I suddenly start to feel dizzy?

In the receiver, Liam was still laughing, “What about me? Huh? You lied to me that you were hungry, you little liar.”

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

I could not make a sound at all.

3/8

My head hurt... I heard his voice fluctuate from far to near.

Suddenly, Liam’s voice could be heard in my ear again, “Hello? I will just give it to you, do not scare me, just say something.”

I tried my best to squeeze out a voice, “Then give it to me...”

“What happened!” His tone became alert, “What is the matter with the voice?”

“My stomach hurts...” In a trance, I could only think of this excuse, “You remember to give...”

Before I finished speaking, I completely lost consciousness.

Nausea...

Maggots everywhere, white maggots.

Below the maggots were dry bones with red meat hanging on them.

I threw up desperately.

I kept throwing up.

Suddenly, a gentle voice came from my ear, “Wake up, open your eyes...”

The nausea was dispelled, and I dizzily opened my eyes.

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

There was a haze in front of my eyes.

A woman’s voice came, “Go outside, do not worry, Dr. Norman is my friend.”

I was wide awake.

The first thing I saw was Chris’s face.

He had a gentle expression, one cheek was swollen, and there were blood stains corner of his lips.

I opened my mouth, but could not make a clear voice, “Dr. Norman...”

“Well, do not worry,” Chris said softly, “I gave you an injection, and you will feel better soon.”

I nodded, but still a little nervous, “Where am I...”

“This is your home,” Chris stretched out his hand to stroke my hair and said gently.

“My home? How do you...”

How could Liam agree to let him in?

4/8

Chris smiled and was about to speak when a voice came from the door, “I asked him to come.”

I followed the reputation and saw that it was Yvette.

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

She was standing at the door, and when I looked over, she glanced at me lightly, opened the door and went out.

Chris’s voice came from next to my ear, “I was having lunch with Ms. Shaw when he called. I heard that you fainted due to dysmenorrhea. I think it is probably related to your illness, so I came to have a look.”

I see.

I glanced at the needle tube on the table, sat up with support, picked it up and threw it into the drawer, and asked, “How is your injury?”

The punch in the face was from Liam, the bodyguard must have hit him.

Chris did not speak, just looked at me momentarily.

I followed his gaze and lowered my head, suddenly felt uncomfortable. The collar of this loungewear was too big, revealing a large part of my shoulders.

I hurriedly pulled up my clothes and looked at Chris.

Chris seemed to have just come back to his senses, looked at me, and frowned, “Why does he behave like a beast?”

I did not respond at all, “What?”

Chris did not speak, his face showed annoyance, and he clenched his fists tightly.

5/8

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

6/8

I was dazed for a while, then opened my collar and looked down, only to find that there was a red mark on my shoulder.

I was extremely embarrassed and said, “Dr. Norman... This is a matter between husband and wife. Of course, you are also just being kind, thank you.”

“Even if you did not tell him that you took the baby, I told him that you need ten care now,” Chris said angrily, “Your stomach pain must be related to this!”

“No,” I said, “I lied to him about the stomachache. I am dizzy and have a headache.”

Chris stood up suddenly, his eyes widened, “You still speak for him!”

Although he was not as strong as Liam, he was still tall to me, not to mention that people were mentally weak when they are sick. Because of his sudden behavior, my heart skipped a beat, and I stared blankly at him, not daring to speak.

Fortunately, Chris calmed down quickly, softened his expression and said, “Sorry.”

“It is okay,” I reminded him, “Dr. Norman, you are a good man and treat me very well. I am very grateful to you, but..."

"However, I like you!" He suddenly put his hands on my shoulders and stepped back on the side of the bed.

I was stunned, "Dr. Norman, you..."

He almost kissed me last time, of course I knew he had a crush on me.

Chapter 98 You Are Going To Die Soon

However, I did not expect him to say in this kind of place, this was my home! Liam's sister was still outside!

7/8

"Do not call me Dr. Norman," He stared into my eyes with a bit of stubbornness, "Call me by my name."

"No!" I was extremely awkward, and quickly pushed him, "You misunderstood, I can treat you that way..."

"So what if you do not!" He interjected defiantly, and his hands were also exerting force

"If you understand love, you would not stay by his side like this!"

I stopped struggling and looked up at him.

"Every time I see you being bullied and humiliated by him like this, my heart hurts," Chris looked at me hard, with a firm expression, "You do not tell him you are sick, dare not tell him you are pregnant. All the other husbands will restrain themselves when they hear what the doctor said, but he has no pity for you...”

“Dr. Norman!” I could not help interrupting him, “This is my private matter! Do you treat every patient like this?”

“You are going to die soon!” Chris interrupted me with a low growl.

I was stunned, and my heart ached.

I was going to die soon.

“You are going to die soon! I really do not want to tell you that,” His voice softened, and

Chapter 99 Going to Save You

Chapter 99

When he finished speaking, silence returned to the room.

1/8

I could not answer, my head was buzzing, and my mind was full of “You are going to die

soon.”

Immediately.

Soon.

Some words were really cruel, as cruel as a sharp knife, such as:

You are going to die soon.

Suddenly, the cold mint smell hit.

I shivered, and my thoughts drifted back.

I suddenly saw that Chris’s face was already very close to me.

Before I had time to think about it, I quickly reached out and pushed his face.

Chris’s movements were forced to stagnate, but only for a short moment, and then he leaned forward with all his strength.

I exerted force, and he also exerted force. I became more and more annoyed, and I clenched my fists and beat him desperately.

Chapter 99 Going to Save You

While struggling, Chris suddenly frowned and let out a muffled groan.

He let go and covered his chest.

I also put down my hand and said, "Get out!"

Chris raised his head and looked at me with pitiful eyes.

"Get off!" I raised my voice, almost screaming, "Do not let me see you again!"

Indeed, Liam was terrible to me, even cruel.

However, that was my matter!

That was between me and prosperity!

Anna could give me advice because she was my sister, and Mrs. Sullivan could give advice because she raised me.

However, Chris could not!

I did not need another man to leave the previous one!

2/8

Chris

looked at me silently for a long time, showing disappointment, "Do you think I am lying to you?"

"I do not care!" I said, "Dr. Norman, you are a doctor and I am a patient, please respect me! Last time you told Rina about my illness, I already felt very uncomfortable. I do not

Chapter 99 Going to Save You want you to like me!

3/8

As soon as the words fell, there was a sudden clapping sound from the door, “
You have a lot of dignity.”

I froze for a moment, and turned to look over.

It was Yvette.

I clearly remember that she went out!

When did she come in?

Yvette gave me a cold look, then turned her head to look at Chris, and said, “The filming is finished, let her be quiet, of course it is not easy to agree to it in front of me.

I looked at the phone in Yvette’s hand, and felt a “boom” in my head. I stiffened my neck and looked at Chris, “What did she film?”

Chris avoided my gaze and said, “I hope you will seriously consider it. I will wa it for your call.”

I quickly grabbed his arm, “You...”

As soon as I said a word, I heard Yvette’s voice, “Dr. Norman came to me tod

I turned my head in a daze, and saw Yvette's mouth opening and closing, "I just do not want him to know about your illness, so we hit it off right away."

I said, "I have not promised yet..."

"I can give you 30 million dollars and pay for all your subsequent treatment," Yvette said,

"I also suggest you to agree. After all, there is nothing left to gain. Dr. Norman see really love you."

I shook my head, "Delete what you filmed."

Yvette ignored me and turned to open the door.

I was so annoyed that I rushed over to grab it from her hand, but before my hand touched her fingers, a strong force pushed it onto my stomach.

I fell straight to the ground, and there was a severe pain in my stomach. I covered my stomach, and saw Yvette staring at me coldly, her disgusted expression was exactly the same as that of Liam, "Do not try me."

After speaking, she went straight out the door.

I tried to stand up while holding on to the legs of the cabinet. At this moment, someone supported my waist, and it was Chris.

I stopped my movements and said, "Please get out."

Chris froze for a while, then let go of his hand, "I will help you lie down..."

82%

Chapter 99 Going to Save You

"Get out, please," I repeated. "I never want to see you again."

After Yvette left, I moved to the bed by myself and laid there until the sun set, and the severe pain in my stomach gradually dissipated.

Consciousness began to blur, and suddenly, there was a knocking sound on the door panel.

I shivered and opened my eyes, when I heard the sound of the door opening.

5/8

I quickly covered my head with the quilt, and heard Mrs. Sullivan's voice, "She fell asleep again... Not sure if something is wrong?"

Mrs. Crawford's laughing voice came, "Did the doctor not say that everything is fine? Don't worry about it. Speaking of which, is that my uncle's sister? She looks so beautiful, why did I not see her when they got married..."

Mrs. Crawford interrupted her in a low voice, "Stop talking..."

The door closed again.

I got out of the quilt and looked at the golden gauze until it turned blue and white.

Feeling a little stuffy, I got out of bed, walked over and opened the window.

The cold air came in, and my mind was a little clear.

Ever since Chris left, Liam never called again.

Chapter 99 Going to Save You

That did not seem like much of what he had been doing lately.

He must have received the photo...

No... I could not sit still.

I quickly stood up and opened the door.

The room was quiet, everyone was asleep.

I tiptoed to the study and turned on the computer.

I turned on the home system, and that nasty little rabbit popped up again.

It seemed that the last change did not take effect at all.

Forget it, I closed the computer.

I opened the study door and was about to come out when I suddenly heard a voice in the hallway.

At this time, I also know that it must be Liam!

I hurried back and locked the door.

Quiet...

The sound insulation of the room was very good, and the sound was easily muffled.

Suddenly!

There was a rapid knock on the door.

I was so scared that I almost screamed, and when I had nowhere to go, I got into the wardrobe in the study.

As soon as the door was closed, there was a loud “bang” and footsteps came, accompanied by Mrs. Sullivan’s panicked voice, “She was still in the room in the evening, and she never went out...”

7/8

“Go downstairs to the east and look for her,” It was Liam’s voice, extremely cold, and he must have received the photo.

Mrs. Crawford’s voice was full of tears, “To the east is the lotus pond downstairs, if she jumped into it...”

The sound was getting softer and softer.

Quiet...

I quietly opened the cabinet door with a small crack, and the study was really empty.

I tiptoed out of the study room, the lights in the house were turned on, all the doors were wide open, and no one could be seen.

What was going on here?

Chapter 99 Going to Save You

They all went downstairs?

I did not care...

If no one was around, of course I had to leave. Otherwise, I would have to wait for Liam to catch me and beat me to death?

I hurriedly ran back to the bedroom to get my mobile phone, changed my clothes quickly as possible, and rushed out of the door without hesitation.

The elevator arrived soon, but when the door opened, it was Mrs. Sullivan!

As soon as she saw me her eyes widened, of course I turned around and ran away!

However, I was caught by Mrs. Sullivan within two steps, "Do not run! Oh! Thank God, where did you go? Mr. Mendez jumped into the lotus pond to save you!"

I stopped struggling and looked at her in amazement, "Why?"

"He thought you jumped out of the bedroom! Why did you open the window on such a cold day?" Mrs. Sullivan said anxiously, "Hurry, follow me and ask him to come up..."

Ex-Husband Who Has Gone Mad After Abusing His Wife Chapter 100 -

Chapter 100

I was speechless immediately, “If I really fell in, would I not die? Is he confused?”

Jumping from such a high building, not to mention a lotus pond in midwinter, even a lake was impossible to survive!

“Exactly!”

Mrs. Sullivan said anxiously, “It is so cold, he did not sleep all night last this anxiety may cause serious illness!”

1/8

After speaking, she dragged me into the house, and took the coat and blanket from the nearest door.

In the elevator, I asked Mrs. Sullivan, “Why did he not sleep last night?”

“I do not know either, ah,” Mrs. Sullivan sighed, and said, “It was snowing last night, and I could not sleep well. I woke up several times and saw him sitting and smoking on the balcony. It must be something on his mind, the old master was also often like this, it is not easy for one person to run such a big business, and they have to take care of everything.”

I did not speak, I was struggling in my heart.

Now only Mrs. Sullivan was here, as long as I explained to her well, she would definitely let me go.

I made up my mind, I would go straight to the train station, get off at the first stop and change to another train. After doing this several times, even if Liam had the ability to catch me, he would not be able to catch me.

However....

This guy had a technical background, and he was not a fool who lacked common sense. How could he make such a stupid move as jumping into the lotus pond?

The lotus pond was on the east side, which was the side of the building.

Mrs. Sullivan dragged me out of the building, and when I turned the corner, I held her back.

Although

Mrs. Sullivan did not understand why, she still followed me and stood still.

It was getting dark now, and there were not many people around the lotus pond, only my servants and a few bodyguards.

From a distance, Mrs. Crawford and other women's worried cries could be heard.

With the light, I could see that there are indeed people in the water, but with my current eyesight, I could not see clearly at all.

Mrs. Sullivan became more anxious and urged me, "Go quickly, let us call him up quickly."

I grabbed her tightly and whispered, "Mrs. Sullivan... He will definitely hit me as soon as .

he comes up."

Mrs. Sullivan did not understand, so she asked, "Why?"

82%

"Because..." I did not have time and I did not want to tell her everything about me and

Liam in detail, so I said, "His sister is sowing discord and telling him bad things about me."

Mrs. Sullivan immediately said, "It is important to save people. You almost had an accident, and he will appreciate getting you back..."

"He will definitely hit me!" I clenched Mrs. Sullivan's hand, "I am calling him now, and you go and call him for me too. As soon as he comes up, I will run immediately! You help me hold him back!"

"You!" Mrs. Sullivan asked in amazement, "Where are you going?"

3/8

“Do not worry about it, I will just hide for a while, and nothing will happen. You listen to me!” I pushed her hard, “It is so cold, and he still has injuries on his arm, go quickly!”

Mrs. Sullivan nodded indiscriminately, and hurried over, shouting, “Mr. Mendez! Mr.

Mendez! Come up quickly, Ms. Nyra has been found! She is at home...”

When the thing moved in the water, it was obvious that its head was sticking out.

I hurriedly shouted at the top of my throat, “Darling! I am here!”

After that, regardless of whether he heard it or not, I turned around and ran away.

Naturally, with my physical strength, I could not run far, and after a while, a sweet smell came from my throat.

I was thinking about where to hide when a car stopped in front of me.

White BMW.

The passenger seat door opened, and the person inside smiled at me, “Come or

Sure enough, it was Chris.

He had not left yet?

Suddenly, footsteps came from behind.

I turned my head, only to see a blurry figure, at the same time, Chris's gentle voice came again, "Come up quickly, they are catching up."

If I got caught by Liam, I would be disabled even if I did not die.

If I listened to Chris and followed him back...

He would definitely treat me...

Whatever, Chris was more civilized after all, at least he could communicate.

With that in mind, I made a gesture to get in the car.

However, at this moment, a big python-like arm suddenly wrapped around my waist, pressing me into a wet embrace.

Chapter 100 I Will Never Go Back With You

I looked sideways, and it really was Liam.

His face was covered with water, strands of hair stuck to his head, his face was pale, like a water ghost.

For a moment, I was so shocked that my heart stopped beating.

Liam glanced at me, put his arms around me and was about to turn around.

At this moment, Chris suddenly reached out and grabbed my left arm.

Liam was turning around, but Chris suddenly grabbed me, the two forces with completely different goals tore at me, my shoulder suddenly felt severe pain, and I could not help but let out a cry of pain.

“Let go!” Chris shouted, “She is in pain!”

Liam slowly let go of his hand.

In the next second, he bent down and grabbed Chris’s wrist.

Chris’s face turned pale from the pain, and he let go.

A surge of anger suddenly rose in my heart, I pushed Liam vigorously, and said, “Stop beating people!”

Seeing that he ignored me, I shouted again, “If you hit someone again, I will never go back with you!”

Liam was obviously taken aback, and slowly turned to look at me.

His paranoid gaze was frightening, I could not help but soften my tone, hugged his body and said, "Come on, do not make trouble anymore..."

Liam loosened his hand.

I was slightly relieved.

Liam was about to get out of the car, at this moment, Chris suddenly grabbed Liam's arm and punched him.

Chris was sitting in the car, half of Liam leaned in, and was still looking back at me. The distance between the two was less than half a meter, so when Chris's punch came, it was impossible for Liam to dodge!

Liam's face was turned aside by him, and then he grabbed Chris's collar.

From my perspective, I could no longer see their faces, and I did not know if I should continue to stop them.

There was a circle of bodyguards around the car, and it was impossible for Chris not to see them.

I had almost pulled away Liam, why did he...

After a while, I could not help opening my mouth, and gently tugged at Liam, "Go back quickly, you are freezing..."

Liam let go.

Liam never said a word to me until we got home.

When he entered the room, his hair and clothes were covered with ice, and blood seeping from the corners of his bruised lips.

I tried to help him, but he pushed me away, and Mrs. Sullivan helped him into the bathroom.

I stood there in embarrassment, feeling a little blocked in my heart.

After a while, someone touched my arm, it was Mrs. Crawford, who was holding a bowl of ginger soup and handed it to me.

I took it and said, "Thank you."

Mrs. Crawford sighed, turned and left.

When I came to the door of the bathroom, I saw Mrs. Sullivan standing at the door with an anxious face.

When she saw me, she immediately said, "He will not let me in, go in and have a look, I see he is wobbling, so do not let him fall down."

With that said, she handed me the ice pack again.

I went into the bathroom and found Liam in the bathtub.

He was leaning in the bathtub with his eyes closed.

He looked tired and flushed.

There was a shelf beside him, holding the injured arm, and the place where the needle and thread were sewn was soaked white, which looked shocking.
