Chapter 701 The Birth Of Venganza (I)

The Champion of Justice and Order felt his inner organs shattering under the might of that blow. It contained a power his Order Force could not match. Even as it ravaged his inside, he failed to understand the yellow aura's nature or how it easily overwhelmed all of his defenses.

Luckily for the Champion of Justice and Order, the Absolute Shattering Shield did not recognize him as an enemy, so it worked as a cushion, diminishing the damage he took.

The King in Yellow did not bother with the Champion of Justice and Order anymore, as the Archangel could no longer hinder him now that he used his full power. However, there was a downside to going all out, and he experienced it immediately as a crushing pressure assaulted his body from every direction.

Now that the King in Yellow was unleashing such a monstrous power, the cloaking he had used to hide from the Universe Will no longer work.

The Eldritch Universe King felt his power weakening greatly, but that did not disturb him. He focused on the small hole in the Absolute Shattering Shield that was about to close and extended his right arm.

Hades was shocked by what had just happened. Although he was terrified when the King in Yellow appeared outside the Absolute Shattering Shield, he knew that they could have put up a battle even without the Champion of Justice and Order.

The NRAI could unleash a monstrous offensive inside the Neo-Demon Realm and would have been enough to face the Four Evolution Extreme Rank 9 King in Yellow. The obvious downside of that path was that such a battle would have harmed the realm and possibly ended with millions of Neo-Demons dead. Now that the King in Yellow chose to show his true power, he managed to capture someone even after being suppressed by the Universe's Will.

There was nothing Hades could do before the invisible force took that person out of the Neo-Demon Realm and landed in the King in Yellow's hand.

The King in Yellow saw how the hole in the Absolute Shattering Shield finally closed, but that did not stop a smile from appearing on his face as he grabbed the back of a blue-haired woman's neck and looked toward the Styx River.

"YOU DARE TO TOUCH HER!" Zatiel roared, and immense rage burst in his soul when he saw the King in Yellow holding Sophia.

A man watched the clash between the two main forces of the Eldritch Universe and Prima Universe.

A sharp light emerged in the Flame Emperor's eyes as he saw the King in Yellow grabbing Sophia by the neck.

The Flame Emperor knew the King in Yellow was not so pathetic as to attack the Neo-Demon Realm just to see his enemy suffer. If the Eldritch Universe's King was so simple, he could have never dominated his entire universe.

There was a much larger plan in the King in Yellow's mind and one that would have a colossal effect on Zatiel's growth.

Zatiel Daybreak could be incredibly cool, but he profoundly loved those by his side, especially the first ones that accompanied him during the beginning of his third life.

The Flame Emperor knew that the King in Yellow could not remain for long in the Prima Universe and that the Neo-Demon Realm had the defensive power to match that threat. That is why he did not leave the artificial world to face the Eldritch.

With such a limited amount of time, the King in Yellow knew that killing Zatiel Daybreak would not be possible, so he took a different approach.

The Eldritch Universe King captured one of the people that shared the most profound bond with the Neo-Demon Ancestor. As for why not Ezequiel, one could say that the Sacred Trial saved the Primordial from this ordeal.

Now that the King in Yellow had captured Sophia, the Flame Emperor was sure that he would return to the Eldritch Universe, forcing Zatiel to decide.

Zatiel would either have to travel into the Eldritch Universe, fight a battle that he would most definitely not win, or let the woman he loved perish.

The King in Yellow would prefer that the Neo-Demon chased him into the Eldritch Universe, where he would destroy Zatiel's soul, body, and energy before sealing the True Name.

Nevertheless, if Zatiel chose to let Sophia die, the King in Yellow would still win.

Zatiel could put all sorts of excuses for not going into an obvious trap, some very valid, like him being the only hope of the Prima Universe to survive the future wars. Yet, that would be going against his resolve, letting fear and doubt cloud his judgment. How could someone like that ever hope to push his willpower into Rank 10?

It would be hard to say what the King in Yellow would think if he found out that the Flame Emperor could see behind his scheme so fast.

The Alpha Universe Leader saw the King in Yellow's smile and Zatiel's rage and knew what would happen next. A meaningful light appeared in his eyes as he considered traveling into the Prima Universe and interfering with the Eldritch, but in the end, he chose not to.

'I guess I have to thank that woman. He will definitely go to rescue her, which will give me the opening I want.' As the Flame Emperor thought that, he glanced at Sophia, who was nothing but a pawn in his eyes. However, what he saw shocked him.

The Flame Emperor saw eyes full of resolution that burned with a monstrous silver flame. He pushed his perception to the limit and knew that all of his conjectures were wrong.

"So that is what it takes to obtain the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's heart. Consider me impressed, little girl."

Zatiel, whose heart and soul burned with rage as he stared at the King in Yellow, turned to Sophia. Just as he was about to reassure her, he saw the resolution in her eyes and knew what would happen next.

Unlike the admiration those eyes caused in the Flame Emperor, they only provoked immense fear in Zatiel.

"No..." Zatiel only managed to speak that word before Sophia showed him the most beautiful smile he had seen in his life.

"I love you."

The King in Yellow frowned as he heard Sophia speak. He did not hinder the woman's speaking ability, as he hoped that she would say something that would enhance the psychological pressure over Zatiel.

However, the King in Yellow immediately detected something wrong since there was no fear or despair in those words, only calmness.

Of course, the King in Yellow had sealed the woman's soul, body, and energy when he used that invisible force to take her out of the Neo-Demon Realm. Although he did it hurriedly, he was ready to reinforce the sealing in the next second and did not believe there would be a problem.

Unfortunately for the King in Yellow, he failed to understand the woman's resolution.

Sophia began to tremble as a drop of black water containing the essence of an Omega Law exploded inside her Inner Law Dimension, destroying everything inside it.

The King in Yellow's eyes widened, and he acted as fast as he could but only managed to save the body. Sophia's True Will, True Soul, and True Doomsday Body were gone, meaning the extinction of her Primordial Essence.

Sophia perished.

Chapter 702 The Birth Of Venganza (II)

"DAMN IT!" The King in Yellow roared in rage. How could he accept that the plan for which he worked so hard, and went to such extremes, even having to reveal his true power to his enemy, came crashing down due to the actions of someone he considered nothing more than an insignificant pawn?

His time in the Prima Universe had reached an end, and he no longer had the power to capture a Neo-Demon, so he would have to return to the Eldritch Universe with an empty body.

The King in Yellow almost pulverized Sophia's corpse due to his rage, but he did not lose control and focused on Zatiel.

"If you want this whore's corpse, come and get it!" Although the chances of a corpse being enough to drive Zatiel into a trap were virtually none, the King in Yellow hoped to at least generate a strong enough psychological pressure to affect the Neo-Demon's cultivation.

Under the fearful gaze of En, the Champion of Justice and Order, Justice Primarchs, and Evil Primarchs, the Eldritch Universe King flashed toward the Prima-Eldritch Universe Final Battlefield.

Once there, taking advantage of the battlefield's weakness, the King in Yellow pierced the Crystal Wall and crossed the Final Gate back into the Eldritch Universe.

En, the Champion of Justice and Order, and everybody else that saw the King in Yellow leaving could not help but release a sigh of relief. damage someone with a power like the King in Yellow could have done to the Prima Universe was catastrophic, but there was only one casualty.

Of course, the World Tree, the Champion of Justice and Order, and the Justice Primarchs made sure not to show their happiness, as they knew that person meant the world to someone.

Zatiel stood frozen in the center of the Chaos-Order Unity Formation with a blank stare. Right now, all sorts of memories crossed his mind.

A silly girl who was in constant fear of showing her body. The woman who would rather run toward an explosion instead of leaving him alone. The one that moved his heart and showed him nothing but love.

Tears began to fall through the Neo-Demon's eyes as all that love transformed into unbearable pain and sadness. He felt as if someone had ripped his heart from his chest, and no matter what he did, he would never get it back.

Despite the horrible pain that Zatiel was under, as a Godking, his willpower was strong enough to allow him to get back control over his emotions.

However, that did not happen, as there was an entity that felt very happy for Zatiel's current state, and that was no other than the True Name!

Rex Samsara Universalis Causalitax was the metaphysical manifestation of Zatiel's existence. It was the Neo-Demon's destiny, and like any other True Name, it had an endless potential to evolve.

Yet, it needed forces that could equal those of Karmic Samsara to do it, and it also required that they achieve equilibrium with the Neo-Demon's destiny.

Chaos and Order were powerful, and Zatiel could display all their strength now that they were part of his Inner Universe, but those forces were not a fundamental part of his existence. They were just tools, not different from a sword.

Now, in Zatiel's grief, the True Name saw an opportunity for the Neo-Demon to get in contact with a force with which he achieved harmony a long time ago.

Revenge.

Zatiel was still able to reason and knew what the True Name wanted. He knew that following that path would make him stronger and let all that pain disappear.

Even without the True Name interference, he had been able to take that path for a long time but purposely refused even to entertain that idea as his sense of justice stopped him. However, now none of that mattered to the Neo-Demon.

"I don't care what happens next..."

The Neo-Demon did not speak out loud, but everybody looking at him could hear those words, and a sense of foreboding assaulted all of them, both the good and the bad equally.

"I don't care if this is my end..." Zatiel's aura exploded as his hatred began to manifest in the physical plane of existence.

The Rex Somniorum Eye glowed and released all the Depravita inside it.

As soon as those monsters appeared, they all turned toward Zatiel. Depravitas loved to devour evil emotions, and the Neo-Demon was overflowing with them, but before any of them could act, the True Name took control of their existences.

While Depravitas were born out of Zatiel's bloodline, Virtual Force, and the evil inside a life form's soul, the true origin of their existence and the force that allowed their birth in the Prima Universe was Rex Samsara Universalis Causalitax.

In front of the True Name, all those monsters, including the Imperial Depravitas, were nothing but pawns that obeyed orders.

The thousands of Depravitas lost the light in their eyes as they adopted a formation around the Zatiel.

Under the control of the True Name, the Chaos Force, Order Force, and Prima Universe's Principal Laws began to feed the Depravitas.

"ROAR!"

"ROAR!"

"ROAR!"

Those monsters roared as they began to bleed a black liquid through every pore and hole of their bodies.

That black liquid was the quintessence of all those negative emotions and sins that the Depravita enjoyed so much devouring.

No matter who they were, awe assaulted their hearts as they saw that liquid and felt that the evil aura could surpass that of Nexus' core or the 666th Layer of Abyss!

All that black liquid converged above Zatiel, where the True Name purified it even higher, igniting it.

Zatiel looked toward the evil sun above him, and a flame emerged in his eyes. Unlike the silver one that manifested through his sense of justice, this one was black and full of evil.

"Depravita." As soon as Zatiel spoke that word, a stream of flaming plasma emerged from the black sun and pierced his skull.

Chapter 703 The Birth Of Venganza (III)

The moment the evil sun's plasma pierced Zatiel's skull, a fundamental change occurred in him. His aura immediately burst, growing eviler and stronger by the second.

It would be fair to call Neo-Demons the strongest race in the Prima Universe. They could assimilate bloodlines to obtain new and better ones, their constitution was as strong as that of Titans, and their souls' aptitudes surpassed those taking the Magus Path of Power.

During their evolution to the Soul Realm, they went through the Three Severings, gaining the True Will Path of Power that allowed them to weaponize their willpower, and the True Doomsday Body Path of Power, whose potential matched that of the True Soul Path of Power.

Such divine gifts could draw the envy of every other race and make them the undisputable N° 1 Race of the Prima Universe.

Yet, all that changed with the birth of the Depravita Race.

They were ideas made flesh. Depravitas' bodies lacked any vital point and could deploy a physical might capable of crushing Archdemons in a melee battle. When it comes to their spiritual offensive power, no one could match them, as they could invade the mind of their enemies using negative emotions as a gateway.

As for their Paths of Power. Depravitas only had one and improved their bodies and souls simultaneously. Only reason the Depravita Race could not objectively surpass the Neo-Demon Race was their race's lack of wisdom and impulsiveness.

However, what would happen if Depravitas developed wisdom and could control those raging desires inside them? If that were to occur, no one could stop them from reaching the peak of the Prima Universe and enslaving all the other races.

Under the gaze of every powerhouse in the Prima Universe and Alpha Universe and triggered by the pain of losing the woman he loved, a unique Depravita was born.

Zatiel's aura kept growing, and soon it formed an evil mantle that hid his figure.

Even if they could not see it, everybody knew what was happening to the Neo-Demon.

The World Tree could feel something very wrong with Zatiel and knew that he could not let things go on. No matter what, he needed to stop it.

Just as En was ready to go all out, burning his life force and soul force so he could overcome the Champion of Chaos' attacks, the Empyrean Primordials acted.

Chrollo and Fenrir took Bahamut and Noir by surprise, sending the two Primarchs flying away with a single punch.

The Alpha Universe's powerhouses' behavior confused the life forms of the Prima Universe. Still, before the Evil Primarchs could get too happy thinking that Chrollo and the others would harm Zatiel, they saw how the Nine Empyrean Primordial adopted a battle formation around the Chaos-Order Unity Formation.

The Flame Emperor smiled from his artificial world as he saw the Neo-Demon's mutation.

"So that is the power of a Fourth Realm True Name. Certainly a power the multiverse has never seen before."

There was only one person in the Prima Universe with the power to cross the blockade made by the Nine Empyrean Primordials, and that was the same man filled with shame and guilt by the side of the Absolute Shattering Shield.

The Champion of Justice and Order clenched his fists so hard that they bled as he saw the state of Zatiel and understood that all of it began because he failed.

He could overcome the Nine Empyrean Primordials, but there was no doubt in his mind that the Flame Emperor would interfere, and that was not a fight he felt confident in.

Just as the Champion of Justice and Order considered what was the best path forward, his aura grew wild and evil. He grabbed his head as an immense pain assaulted him.

The Champion of Justice and Order gave one final glance to Zatiel before returning to the Neo-Demon and vanishing inside the White Sun. If he did not return to the Final Purgatory, he would lose control, and then everything would grow from bad to catastrophic.

No one inside the Neo-Demon Realm paid too much attention to the Champion of Justice and Order, as they were all in a state of utter shock by the sudden event.

Hades, Dante, Heinz, Zitra, and all the other Sky Breakers did not know what to do. Sophia's perished, and they could not even imagine what Zatiel would do.

The answer to their doubt was simple. Zatiel will do everything in his power to obtain revenge.

As Zatiel transformed into a Depravita, allowing the desire for revenge to corrupt him, the True Name could not stop trembling as a new word began to emerge in it.

It was full of darkness and evil, but its power did not fall behind the other four.

After fifteen minutes, the evil sun had fused completely with Zatiel, and the True Name had obtained a new word.

REX PRAVITA SAMSARA UNIVERSALIS CAUSALITAX.

Once he completed the transformation, Zatiel's eyes regained their light. An evil mantle still covered his figure, but that did not stop his voice from echoing through the void.

"¡Hahahahaha!"

Of all the things everybody expected to hear from Zatiel after allowing that evil to transform his existence, none of them thought that the first thing would be a laugh.

It was carefree and filled with thrill as if an immense sense of happiness was invading him.

Zatiel clenched his fists, making a shock wave carrying immense physical power emerge from his body, shattering the evil mantle hiding his figure.

Everybody saw his white skin and hair, and thin dark armor covered his limb. Red scars emerged from his Bloodline Heart and extended throughout his body, carrying a unique force.

The Eros Eye, Thanatos Eyes, and Rex Somniourm Eye were now black, with runes carrying the eyes' unique powers.

Zatiel stopped laughing, but the smile on his face did not vanish, and he proceeded to proudly declare his new name.

"I am Venganza!"

Chapter 704 Rank 8 Virtual Dream Universe

Venganza felt his might and then glanced at the people outside of the Chaos-Order Unity Formation. Everybody adopted solemn expressions, whether they were Evil Primarchs or Justice Primarchs.

Those eyes contained absolute indifference and disregard for all forms of life. In them, whether it was a mighty Primarchs or an ant, they all were the same.

He took a moment to focus on the Nine Empyrean Primordials, making the mightiest warriors of the Alpha Universe grow incredibly tense.

Luckily for the Empyrean Primordials, Vengaza did not focus too much on them and instead turned toward the artificial world in the Prima Universe's periphery.

"I see." Venganza only spoke those words before adopting a meditative position.

The Prima Universe's matrix had finally vanished since Zatiel's Inner Universe had already achieved its maximum development, so Venganza only had the Chaos Force and Order Force at his disposal.

That was more than enough for what Vengaza had planned, especially if you consider that he did not bother to purify the Chaos Force and Order Force coming from the evil and Abyss' evil essence could corrupt any form of life outside of Devils and Demons, except Depravita.

The relationship of the Depravita Race with evil is not like a fish with water, but more like water with an ocean. Depravitas was the quintessence of evil and sin.

En and the others did not have to wonder for long what Vengaza was doing, as their Dream Avatars showed them how the Virtual Dream Universe was expanding.

Its laws and forces evolved, and they all felt how Omega Laws were now able to show their true nature in the Virtual Dream Universe.

Zatiel, or more accurately, Venganza, had evolved the Virtual Dream Path of Power to Rank 8.

In the original structure of the Virtual Dream Universe, as the universe grew, Legacy, which was its core, would take advantage of all the new energy and space to grow as well. Yet, Venganza had a different plan.

Using the new energy at his disposal and the evil essence coming from Baator and Abyss, Venganza began to build a new structure.

The new structure was an upside-down black pyramid that emerged from the bottom of Legacy, giving the illusion of being the white pyramid's shadow.

It had eighteen layers. A black mist made of Baator and Abyss' evil essence covered all of the layers, and due to the clashing nature of those planes, they generated red lightning that illuminated the sky.

Once he completed the new structure, Vengaza opened his eyes and focused on the thousands of Rank 7 Depravita before raising his right hand.

"Into Eternal Nightmare."

Eternal Nightmare was the name of the eighteen layers black pyramid inside the Virtual Dream Universe. Once Venganza uttered those words, all the Rank 7 Depravitas vanished from the Prima Universe only to reappear inside it.

Life forms should not be able to enter the Virtual Dream Universe due to its nature, but Depravitas were ideas made flesh, and they did not endure such restrictions.

As soon as the thousands of Depravita appeared inside Eternal Nightmare, they realized two things. One was that the force restricting their movements was gone, and the second was that a desire to kill invaded them, and there was nothing they could do to stop it.

Depravitas favorite food was their own kind, and now that there was a force compelling them to kill, none of them could resist and began a massacre like no other.

Due to the force affecting their minds and having lost themselves in the carnage, none of the Depravita noticed that no matter how much they killed or consumed, they gained no energy and their cultivation remained the same.

Eternal Nightmare assimilated all those dead Depravitas. Then it would then use external energy and the evil essence inside it to generate more of those monsters.

Using the Virtual Dream Universe, Vengaza generated a never-ending source of Depravita Force that would improve his cultivation while at the same time granting him an extremely high amount of energy.

Vengaza's aura grew mightier and eviler as he finished with Eternal Nightmare. He smiled, and this time his eyes landed on the Rank 8 Depravitas.

Gula froze as he felt Vengaza's eyes focusing especially on him, and the terror in him only grew stronger once he saw this one's smile grow larger.

Vengaza's right eye glowed, and before Gula could do anything, he found himself inside an Astral Black Hole.

The Imperial Depravita attempted to fight and escape, but he knew that all of it was futile. Not only did Vengaza's right eye exert immense control over him, but as members of the Depravita Race, the superior one could suppress the inferior.

And no matter how you see it, Vengaza was superior in every possible way to Gula.

Vengaza ignited the Astral Black Hole in his stomach, allowing him to obtain the unique devouring abilities of a Depravita that harmonized with the Concept of Gluttony.

After performing his First Ignition, there was no significant rise in Vengaza's physical might.

After fusing with the Primordial Body Incarnation, Zatiel obtained Peak Rank 7 Primordial's constitution. Other than unique abilities related to the Concept of Gluttony, Vengaza did not receive much from the First Ignition.

Nevertheless, there was an advantage in having his constitution so monstrously high. Vengaza's body was already strong enough to handle the pressure of his Second Ignition!

Vengaza's eyes roamed through the Rank 8 Depravitas, and after seeing the fate of Gula, all of them began to tremble.

The unlucky one was a giant Imperial Depravita that had harmonized with the Concept of Sloth. Among its powers was the ability to enter an inactive state that will enhance its vitality and gather an immense amount of energy to be used later on.

It attempted to resist, but in the end, it still found itself inside the Astral Black Hole in the liver.

Vengaza used the Imperial Depravita with the title of Pereza to achieve his Second Ignition!

Chapter 705 The First Layer

Venganza's body trembled as he performed his Second Ignition. Now that the Concept of Sloth modified his liver, immense amounts of vitality and energy would gather in his blood whenever he was out of a fight, which he could use to enhance his battle power for a short time exponentially.

The enhancement in physical might the first Astral Black Hole could not improve his body, which was already as strong as that of a Rank 8 life form, but the second made Vengaza feel his flesh and blood improving.

Neo-Demons need several weeks, if not months, to get used to that improvement and let the Astral Origin achieve a balance. Nevertheless, Venganza was different. Thanks to his constantly mutating Depravita's physiology, he did not need to rest after performing an ignition.

Venganza's smile only grew wider as he felt his body improving, and again his eyes landed on the Imperial Depravitas. There were two that would work perfectly for the Astral Black Hole in his lungs, Envidia and Ira.

The Imperial Depravita both trembled, but unlike Envidia, Ira soon got control over its emotions, and wrath overflowed its eyes.

Venganza showed a little surprise as he saw Ira's composure. Depravitas could only bow to those superior, but it seemed that the Concept of Wrath did not fall behind the Concept of Revenge.

"Not bad, not bad at all." Venganza nodded to Ira before turning toward Envia and making his right eye glow.

The Imperial Depravita that had harmonized with the Concept of Envy showed utter terror as it vanished. It was stronger than Gula and much stronger than Pereza, but there was nothing it could do to stop Venganza from using its existence to ignite the third Astral Black Hole. First and Second Ignitions did not significantly improve Venganza's physical might, but the third one was different. After all, three Astral Black Holes are as mighty as three Silvers Stars of Origin!

Venganza took a deep breath and used the Concept of Envy's mimic force to change something about his constitution. He had a plasma wheel on his back with a red sun in its center that emerged after Zatiel's evolution into Rank 7 through the True Doomsday Body Path of Power.

There was a tremendous amount of yang energy in it, but as Depravita, not only did Venganza not feel comfortable with that positive force, but he could not fully use its power.

That is why he used the power of mimicry to copy a force of the Prima Universe and change the nature of his Absolute Solar Yang True Doomsday Body. Those yang runes engraved in every cell changed to their antithesis.

Yin runes flowed through Vengaza's body, and the red sun on his back became blue. Although he no longer enjoyed the hardness and weight provided by the yang runes, all of his physical strikes now carry a spirit attack.

It was then that the Depravita made his aura explode and let everybody feel how high his battle power grew.

No matter if their goal was to kill or protect Zatiel, everybody was in utter disbelief by what they just felt. Venganza's aura jumped all the way to Peak Rank 8, and then it managed to cross into Rank 9!

The higher the Rank, the harder it is to jump levels in battle power. Zatiel might be the greatest genius of all times, but the fact he could achieve Rank 9 battle power while neither his True Soul Path of Power or True Doomsday Body Path of Power were at Rank 8 was something that left everybody in utter disbelief.

"This power is enough."

Vengaza's words confused those that heard them. It was clear that the Depravita's goal was to obtain revenge, but while he achieved a monstrous level, he could not even protect himself from an Evil Primarch, much less harm the King in Yellow who had returned to the Eldritch Universe.

Vengaza did not care about anyone present and would not waste his time solving their doubts. His right eye glowed, teleporting the living Rank 8 Depravitas into Eternal Nightmare.

Unlike the Rank 7 Depravitas, Vengaza sealed those at Rank 8 in the lowest layer. Their battle could harm Eternal Nightmare, so he did not allow it.

Now that Vengaza had finished with his preparations, he proceeded to activate the final effect of the Chaos-Order Unity Formation.

All those powerhouses fighting around the Styx River had sealed space a long time ago, and even if not, the destruction in the law matrix made teleportation virtually impossible.

Luckily, using the power of Space-Time gathered from the Prima Universe's Principal Laws, the Chaos-Order Unity Formation managed to teleport Vengaza away.

En and Chrollo immediately located Vengaza and saw how this one appeared inside the Neo-Demon Realm.

Millions of Neo-Demon rose from their worlds when Vengaza appeared inside the realm. Heinz, Dante, Zitra, and the rest of the Sky Breakers were at the lead.

Vengaza stared at the approaching Neo-Demons, but his eyes remained indifferent and aloof. He did not wait for them to get close before teleporting again.

Hades was the only one that could follow Vengaza's movements. Thanks to his connection with the NRAI, he saw how the Depravita reached the Final Purgatory and began to ascend.

Unlike the first time Zatiel reached the Final Purgatory, where he had to use the NRAI to protect his soul from the aura of the statues, Vengaza rose through the layers without a Even the pressure generated by those gargantuan monsters in the Third Layers could do nothing to the Depravita.

The Champion of Justice and Order saw the Depravita arrive and could not help but sigh.

At first, the Champion of Justice and Order believed that Vengaza came to the Final Purgatory for him, to punish him for his failure. But shock appeared on his face as he saw the Depravita acting on the ceiling of the Second Layer, which was also the entrance to the First Layer!

The Champion of Justice and Order panicked as he remembered the aura of the creature in the First Layer of the Final Purgatory.

"Wait. We can find another way. There is no need to go to such extremes."

Only when he heard those words did Vengaza bother to look at the Champion of Justice and Order.

"I am Vengaza, and I will fulfill the purpose of my existence."

Venganza said nothing else as the violet seals left in him by En were activated. He then generated a portal in the ceiling, flashing through it and closing it immediately.

The next moment, the Final Purgatory began to tremble with so much force that cracks appeared in it. Things did not end there as shock waves emerged from the pyramid, making the White Sun and the entire Neo-Demon tremble.

Luckily for the Neo-Demons, those shock waves vanished before they could cause real damage.

En, the Nine Empyrean Primordials, Justice Primarchs, Evil Primarchs, and even the Champion of Chaos focused on the Neo-Demon Realm, wondering what was happening.

"CRACK!"

The sound of breaking glass alerted everybody, and they looked up only to see cracks in space that extended for countless light-years.

The cracks did not last long, as soon space collapsed. The first thing that arrived was an aura capable of sundering the universe, and then the warriors of the Prima and Alpha Universes saw a man with red eyes bathed in flaming shadows descend.

The Incarnation of Death and Destruction had awakened.

Chapter 706 An Immeasurable Power

The Incarnation of Death and Destruction had awakened.

He descended, and each step he took made the void for countless light-years tremble as if it could barely endure the pressure.

Every single life form at the Law Realm, no matter who they were or what they were doing, all turned toward the Styx River, as their connection with the Prima Universe's law matrix told them that a force like no other had arisen.

Chrollo, Fenrir, and the other seven Empyrean Primordials felt at the center of a massive black hole as the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's aura suffocated them, making them feel like they could not breathe.

Luckily for the Nine Empyrean Primordials, the white flames covering their bodies reignited, teleporting them away from the Prima Universe and back to the artificial world.

Unfortunately for En, Justice Primarchs, and Evil Primarchs, they were not so lucky, as there was no one shielding them from that aura.

Even more shocking, the enhanced and mind-controlled Archfiends began to tremble as absolute terror emerged in their faces. will of Baator and Abyss controlled those Archdevils and Archdemons, so for them to show those feelings meant only one thing. Both evil planes were terrified by the aura that reached them.

En and the Justice Primarchs did not know what to think as they saw the Incarnation of Death and Destruction appearing.

If the one controlling it were Zatiel, then everything would be fine since no matter how angry the Neo-Demon was, he had his bottom line and knew how to balance things.

However, the World Tree and everybody else clearly felt the light of Venganza in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's eyes. Depravitas felt no remorse or guilt, nor did they care about the consequences of their actions or how they could impact others.

If a Depravita needed to do irreversible damage to the Prima Universe to fulfill its goal, there was no doubt in anyone's mind that it would do it.

Venganza was different from most Depravita in the sense he had wisdom, but whether or not that would change anything was uncertain.

The Incarnation of Death and Destruction continued descending without looking at anyone. Only after crossing the portal did he act, moving at a speed that literally broke space-time in his path.

En's eyes widened as he saw the Incarnation of Death and Destruction coming to him. Luckily, that universal force only passed by his side, but the charge generated shock waves that sent him flying away.

Utter shock emerged in the World Tree's eyes as he felt the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's power. By the time he regained control over his body, Venganza had already crossed the portal in the 666th Layer of Abyss and entered the plane that held the Champion of Chaos.

Lilet, Eligos, and Jormungandr, who had been frozen by fear a moment ago, were thrilled to see the Incarnation of Death and Destruction facing the Champion of Chaos.

En did not even dare to enter that dimension and directly face the Champion of Chaos, so they expected the Incarnation of Death and Destruction to at least meet a grueling battle.

Sadly for the Evil Primarchs, what happened next was not a fight but a one-sided beating.

The moment the Incarnation of Death and Destruction entered the core plane, a crushing pressure assaulted him, but it could not affect him in the slightest.

Venganza then appeared in front of the Champion of Chaos before landing a direct blow. That attack carried nothing but physical strength, and yet it unleashed shock waves that made all of Abyss tremble.

That punch made the Champion of Chaos throw up a mouthful of black blood containing pieces of his organs and sent him flying away. Before he could get back control over his body, Venganza dashed on him, sending him crashing into the ground.

"BOOM!" A massive explosion occurred as Venganza and the Champion of Chaos clashed on the ground.

The World Tree, Justice Primarchs, and Evil Primarchs found it hard to believe what they were seeing. The Champion of Chaos was a Four Evolution Extreme Rank 9 life form, yet he could not put any form of resistance against the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

It was similar to how the King in Yellow managed to defeat the Champion of Justice and Order after deciding to go all out.

Once the wild energies calmed down, everybody saw the explosions they heard were punches Venganza connected on the incapacitated Champion of Chaos.

After connecting almost one hundred punches and blasting the Champion of Chaos' chest to pieces, Venganza kicked and sent this one flying away.

The Champion of Chaos crashed against a massive mountain range, ending with large rocks burying his body.

Just as Venganza was about to chase, he detected a massive increase in energy where the Champion of Chaos landed and saw how this one began to rise.

The Champion of Chaos might have his ego eroded by the Chaos Force of Abyss, but his instincts and pride remained, so the humiliation triggered something in him.

Giant pillars of energy emerged from the plane and entered the Champion of Chaos' body as he raised his hands, generating ten full power Spheres of Chaos.

Only one of those was enough to threaten Baator, so one could imagine how much power ten of them could unleash.

As Venganza saw those Spheres of Chaos, he smiled and extended his arms as if telling the Champion of Chaos to do it.

"AAHHHH!" The Champion of Chaos roared with hatred as he overloaded every Sphere of Chaos before firing them toward the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

It took less than a millisecond for those ten Spheres of Chaos to land in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, and they unleashed a blast that ignited the entire plane!

Dark red flames were still burning when a voice echoed through the plane, even reaching the Styx River.

"Pathetic."

Chapter 707 Risk And Reward

"Pathetic."

Along with those words, an incredible force that no law could match manifested in the secret dimension inside the 666th Layer of Abyss.

Those red flames that covered the plane and extended non-stop froze before being drawn at an incredible speed right where they originated.

Everybody saw how that colossal amount of energy now hovered above the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's palm in the form of a small orb less than ten centimeters wide.

There was a black hole around the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, but its forces were something a Prima Universe's heavenly body could never generate.

Silence reigned as everybody was amazed by what they had just seen. Not only was there no damage in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, but he also took control of the energies left by the Champion of Chaos's final attack and transformed it into something much more dangerous.

That small sphere in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's hand contained more energy than any Rank 9 spell could achieve.

Venganza stared at the sphere before letting it go, allowing the black hole to devour it. Then a massive burst of energy occurred in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's body as he focused on the Champion of Chaos. raised his right hand and unleashed an invisible force that took control over the Champion of Chaos' body.

The Extreme Rank 9 Archdemon could do nothing as his chest landed in the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's palm, and then an immense power began to crush his body.

"Your counterpart at least put up a fight, yet you can't do anything. It is true that I am much stronger now. Still, you are truly pathetic." Venganza only smiled as the Champion of Chaos' limbs were twisting and breaking under the pressure of his touch.

Just as he was about to finish the Champion of Chaos, Venganza's eyes narrowed, and he sent the Archfiend flying away before focusing on the plane's core.

"Finally, you appear!" Venganza's yelled with a wild and almost maniacal voice.

An extraordinarily evil and pure aura filled the plane, and even those in the void outside of Abyss could feel it.

En, Justice Primarchs, and even the Evil Primarchs trembled as they felt that evil aura, and soon they saw its origin.

In the center of the plane, a dark sphere that seemed to contain a cosmos materialized, and its evil aura manifested in the form of a black, bloody, and beating heart.

That bloody heart was Endless Darkness' Core of Existence that gave birth to Abyss and seemed to be the quintessence of the Rank 10's life form body.

Dark Astral Chaos that could crush High Worlds as flies emerged from the Core of Existence, leveling the entire plane.

Venganza retreated a few steps due to the might of the Astral Chaos, but the smile on his face only grew wider as he pushed his black hole to its peak.

"Hahahaha!" Venganza began to laugh as the black hole devoured the dark Astral Chaos. It was much more challenging than the red flames generated by the Champion of Chaos, but it still managed to do it.

The black hole devoured the dark Astral Chaos in less than five seconds, but Venganza knew it did not make a difference for the Core of Existence since that was just radiation.

Only once the dark Astral Chaos vanished did the Core of Existence ready itself to unleash the incredible amount of energy in it.

"Come on. Do your worst!"

Venganza's words triggered the Core of Existence, and then an energy cannon, similar to the one fired from Nexus millions of years ago, emerged from Abyss.

"AHHHHH!" The Incarnation of Death and Destruction roared as he raised his arms and aimed them forward, ready to receive a direct attack from an Endless Darkness' Core of Existence.

It would be the second time the Incarnation of Death and Destruction received such an attack. The first time it almost killed him!

The moment the energy cannon reached the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, this one felt he was about to be destroyed, but using all of his power, he managed to endure and not be overwhelmed by the attack.

Venganza used all the power he could summon to fight back against the energy cannon, but it kept pushing him farther and farther away.

It did not take long before the attack pushed the Incarnation of Death and Destruction out of Abyss, but there was a silver lining. Every second, the black hole devoured more and more of the energy cannon's power, enhancing Venganza's strength and ability to fight back!

"UNITY!"

Venganza roared that word as his power exploded, and then the black hole thoroughly devoured the energy cannon fired from Endless Darkness' Core of Existence!

En and the others could feel how the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's power reached a whole new high and how the illusion of a dark and bloody heart in the secret plane of Abyss vanished.

Endless Darkness' Core of Existence lost its radiance, and it seemed there would be millions of years before it would be at full potency again. The next second, the portal to the secret plane vanished, and no one found any sign of a hidden entrance to it.

Venganza did not care about the Core of Existence in Abyss, as he was to focus on managing the immense amount of energy he had just stolen.

The energy would go wild if Venganza did not calm it and fully unify it with the black hole. Failure meant triggering an explosion of outlandish power.

According to Venganza's calculation, the explosion would obliterate 5% of the Prima Universe!

Zatiel would have had some reservations about taking this path due to the danger to the Prima Universe, but Venganza did not care. The only thing that mattered to the Depravita was to fulfill the purpose of his existence.

Venganza fully unified that energy, making the black hole power reach its zenith.

"This is enough."

The Depravita's eyes narrowed as he felt three figures running away from the Styx River. He only smiled as he perceived Lilet, Eligos, and Jormungandr fleeing with expressions of utter terror.

Venganza focused on the only enemy still present. He raised his right hand and snapped his fingers.

That was what it took to make the fourteen enhanced Archfiends explode like balloons full of blood.

Chapter 708 Thank You

En, Salomon, Issac, and the others were amazed by the might of the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

Those fourteen Archfiends were able to fight against a One Evolution Extreme Rank 9 life form and two Primarchs, yet Venganza killed them by simply snapping his fingers. That was a power no one in the Law Realm, no matter how special they were, could unleash!

Things did not end there as the black hole around Venganza drew the blood and flesh of the fourteen enhanced Archfiends and devoured it.

Venganza's eyes focused next on En and the Justice Primarchs, making these tremble. The Incarnation of Death and Destruction rose his arm, but just as he was about to use his power, an annoyed expression appeared on his face.

En and the others did not know what happened, but they saw how Venganza frowned before shrugging his shoulders.

"Lucky." The Incarnation of Death and Destruction pronounced those words before vanishing.

The World Tree, Salomon, and Issac were the first to find out where Venganza went. The trio saw how Venganza pulled Lilet away from the hidden layers of space she was moving, and he grabbed the woman's wings before kicking her in the back.

"AAHHHH!" The Heavenly Primarch screamed in agony as Venganza tore out her wings. But she did not yell for long, as a slap blasted her head and True Soul the next second. brutality made even Salomon, who had been fighting against the Heavenly Primarch not long ago, feel uncomfortable with what he saw.

Venganza used the black hole to devour every piece of Lilet's body and soul before teleporting again.

Jormungandr was about to reach the Leviathan World when he felt two hands posing over his shoulder. An expression of utter terror arose in the face of the Evil Primarch.

Venganza only smiled as he pulled in different directions, splitting Jormungandr in the middle. Once again, his black hole devoured every iota of the Evil Primarch's soul and body.

After handling Jormungandr, Venganza sent his perception toward the Mind Ruler Primarch, and his eyes narrowed as he saw this one about to cross the Crystal Wall into his world.

"Hmph." Venganza sneered and burned some of the power he had collected in the black hole. He raised his right hand and punched down.

Eligos' smiled as he crossed the Crystal Wall and felt the reassuring safety of his homeworld. But then his eyes widened as a feeling of utter doom assaulted him.

He glanced to the void behind him and saw how a giant fist the size of a High World materialized and came crashing down on him.

"Save me!" Eligos yelled toward the Word Consciousness so it would protect him, but even after his power was enhanced and the Crystal Wall reinforced, nothing changed.

That massive fist still managed to pierce the Crystal Wall and shatter his body and soul until nothing was left. A vast indentation appeared in the Mind Ruler World the next second.

The attack plus the massive waves of Elemental Chaos that invaded the world due to the hole in the Crystal Wall killed roughly twenty-five percent of the total population.

En and the Justice Primarchs were once again utterly shocked. Not even the shelter of a Principal World would be enough to protect Primarchs from the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

Of course, Eligos, Lilet, and Jormungandr were not truly dead as their Omega Laws still existed, but they would have to pay a great price to come back.

The World Tree and the Justice Primarchs did not doubt that Venganza could erase the Omega Laws of the Evil Primarchs if he wanted but did not do it. If they had to guess, they would say that Venganza was unwilling to waste so much energy on them.

Shocking events just piled up, as right after Venganza took care of the three Evil Primarchs, a man appeared next to him.

The imposing and monstrous aura of the Incarnation of Death and Destruction would suppress anyone else, but this man managed to stand as an equal.

He had red eyes similar to those of the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, but the flames covering his body were white and contained a completely different power.

The Flame Emperor, the Leader of the Alpha Universe, the man capable of ripping a hole in a Cosmic Wall, entered the Prima Universe. And even more important, he stood less than one hundred meters away from the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

Unlike the surprise in En and the Justice Primarchs, as they saw the Flame Emperor entering the Prima Universe, Venganza only smiled as he knew this would happen.

Venganza and the Flame Emperor stared at each other, but before any of them would say a word, they felt a powerful force manifesting.

The Universe Will detected the Alpha Universe Leader's presence and immediately wanted to suppress him. However, before the Prima Universe's power could reach them, Venganza and the Flame Emperor roared.

"Do not bother us!"

"Do not bother us!"

Those that saw the duo roaring felt a sense of utter awe filling their souls. Who would have the courage and power to yell at the Universe Will?

To make things even more shocking, everybody saw how the Universe Will retreated!

Just like Principal Worlds would take into consideration the words of their Primarchs, the Prima Universe had to give some leeway to an entity so powerful as the Incarnation of Death and Destruction.

Of course, things would have been much different if the invader was a true alien life form and not a member of the Alpha Universe.

Venganza did not waste too much time with the Universe Will and focused on the Flame Emperor. A smile appeared on his face as the black hole around his body vanished, and he extended his hand.

"You finally show up. I suppose I should be thanking you."

The Flame Emperor found the Depravita's behavior odd, but he still approached the Incarnation of Death and Destruction and shook his hand.

"There is no need for thanks. After all, Chrollo and the others destroyed nothing more than an incarnation." As soon as he finished with those words, the Flame Emperor noticed something wrong, as Venganza did not let go of his hand.

"Oh, I am not talking about them. You could have saved that woman but let her die and, in doing so, made my birth possible." Venganza's tone did not change, but his aura began to rise, and the Flame Emperor could feel the evil essence of the Depravita Race in it.

"So, once again, thank you."

Chapter 709 Depravita's Nature

< "So, again, I must thank you."

Venganza's aura spiked, and the black hole materialized again.

The black hole could crush Four Evolution Extreme Rank 9 life forms with ease, but the Flame Emperor showed no fear at all as it saw it manifest.

He did not try to run and get away from the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's grip. His red eyes glowed, and a white sun emerged from within him.

Silence reigned for a second as the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's black hole clashed against the Flame Emperor's white sun, but it did not last for long.

"BOOM!" A thunderous sound that extended over the Prima Universe's core occurred as those two mighty forces clashed.

It unleashed shock waves that pushed every iota of Elemental Chaos around them. En and the Justice Primarchs felt them despite the immense distance between them and the clash.

Despite the white sun and black hole clashing and shattering everything around them, the Flame Emperor and Venganza did not move their eyes from each other.

"I don't know what you are talking about." The Flame Emperor's voice was calm, and one would find it impossible to deduce anything from it. is no need to lie. I figured out all of it. It is impressive how high your intelligence can rise after getting rid of all those pesky emotions." Venganza kept smiling, but now there was a horrible coldness in his voice.

"Oh. Please tell me, what have you figured out?" The Flame Emperor's tone did not change, and he remained impervious to the Depravita's actions.

"You could have saved her but chose not to since it went against your agenda. You wanted me to go crazy with rage, so I would do everything to obtain revenge." Venganza's tone grew colder with each word, as did the evilness of his aura.

The Flame Emperor remained silent after hearing Venganza's accusation. He took a moment before answering.

"Even if I did what you are accusing me of. My only crime is not acting. I owe you nothing, so why should I waste my power helping you?"

This time, the Flame Emperor's gaze changed, and there was killing intent in it as he enhanced the might of his white sun.

He was the Alpha Universe Leader, an entity that managed to rally an entire super universe behind him, so how could he be a pushover?

Venganza's eyes glowed, and his black hole's power also rose, allowing it to keep up with the white sun.

"I will punish all those that had anything to do with her death. You had the power to save her, and you did not. That is enough for me."

When the Flame Emperor heard Venganza's reasoning, the killing intent in his eyes only grew stronger.

"Your way of thinking is flawed. No one could accept it."

A smile slowly emerged on Venganza's face, and then he began to laugh like a madman.

"¡Hahahahahaha!" As Venganza laughed, his Depravita's aura grew stronger and purer.

"Do you know why a race like ours born out of emotions could only rise out of the negative ones?"

The Flame Emperor's eyes narrowed. His power allowed him to understand almost all universe phenomena, but the Depravita Race was a mystery even for him.

A race could be born out of many things. Energies, phenomena, laws, but one whose origin was emotions and ideas was unique.

In the end, he gave a soft nod. He was happy to listen if Venganza wanted to shed some light on that unique race.

En, Salomon, Issac, and the other Justice Primarchs that watched the clash between the two from a distance were also intrigued.

Luckily for them, Venganza did not make them wait.

"Negative emotions are unhindered by the desire of others. They are pure in a sense that altruistic feelings could never be. One focuses on itself while the other focuses on the external. Only negative emotions have the power to reject the natural order and manifest themselves in reality."

Venganza's Depravita aura only kept growing stronger as he spoke. There was no rise in his cultivation, but his state of existence changed.

"Depravita do not care about lawful and chaotic, about right or wrong. We don't even care about good and evil."

The Flame Emperor felt a sense of threat as he stared at the Incarnation of Death and Destruction's eyes. He knew they came from the one that was in control.

Venganza did not care about the Flame Emperor right now, as those words drew a sense of enlightenment in him.

"I am Depravita and only care about my heart's desire."

As soon as he pronounced those words, Venganza's Depravita aura changed, becoming calmer but at the same time purer.

Venganza let go of the Flame Emperor's hand and took a step back, breaking the clash he started. Some might mock him, but that did not matter.

"So that is my next step."

Venganza was born having already resonated with the Concept of Revenge, so he was technically a Rank 8 Depravita, and he had just found the next step into Rank 9.

The Flame Emperor stared at Venganza as this one had an epiphany about his new nature and made a question that was in everyone's mind.

"Are you still Zatiel Daybreak?"

That question surprised Venganza, and it was the first time he even thought about it. After a few seconds, he gave his answer.

"I am Zatiel Daybreak. However, I have broken the shackle that is the responsibility for this universe's fate."

When En and the Justice Primarchs heard Venganza's words, they did not know what to think.

For Zatiel, forgetting about the Prima Universe would make things easier, but he never chose that path, not even when he was the Incarnation of Death and Destruction, but Venganza did.

"I will decide what to do about you after taking care of him. I know what you are after, so don't try lying to me."

The Flame Emperor did not argue with the Depravita, and he nodded before the two vanished. He and Venganza found themselves outside the Prima-Eldritch Universe Final Battlefield the next second.

The duo transformed into a black and white beam of light, and they used the flaws left by the King in Yellow in the battlefield's Crystal Wall to reach the Final Gate.

Unlike the Eldritch Race, Venganza and the Flame Emperor were not affected by the Final Gate and managed to cross it.

Just like that, the strongest entities of the Alpha and Prima Universes traveled into the Eldritch Universe.

Chapter 710 De-Facto Rank 10

Venganza and the Flame Emperor had just crossed the Final Gate when hundreds of worlds, suns, black holes, and other powerful heavenly bodies came crushing on them.

That onslaught would have pushed a Four Evolution Extreme Rank 4 life form to the limit, but Venganza only smiled while the Flame Emperor showed boredom.

Venganza extended his right arm as the black hole materialized around his body. An invisible force that carried a sense of absolute unity was fired from his palm, crushing everything in its path.

As for the Flame Emperor. He activated his white sun and also extended his right arm. Pulses of white flames emerged from his palm, and their power was shocking.

Anything the Flame Emperor's pulses touched would freeze before extinguishing. It was a power that no law could equal.

The Incarnation of Death and Destruction's eyes narrowed as he saw those pulses, and enlightenment soon appeared in them.

"So that is your power. After obtaining the End Origin Essence, I thought I had understood the epitome of death and destruction, but it seemed I was too naive."

Venganza could see how those heavenly bodies did not just disintegrate. A force acted on the most fundamental component of their existence and pushed them to a state of absolute lack of movement, making them disintegrate. The Flame Emperor glanced at Venganza and knew this one saw the principles behind his power.

"My Truth is called Quietus, a force that brought a permanent end to all activity of any kind. Theoretically, it can stop the Epoch Cycles, bringing a universe to true destruction. It should also have the power to sever the cycle of samsara."

For life forms in the Alpha or Prima Universes, the concept Truth would be something completely new, but not for Venganza.

Venganza only smiled after hearing the last part and how the Flame Emperor declared that Quietus should be able to affect samsara and, therefore, the ability of his True Name to bring him back to life.

"Interesting, very interesting. No power in the Law Realm can harm my True Name, but I guess Quietus could do it. After all, it is a power at the Fourth Realm."

The duo spoke calmly, yet the meaning behind their words could fundamentally shock the entire multiverse. Only Rank 10 life forms should be able to use powers at the Fourth Realm!

"Enough games." The Flame Emperor did not particularly like to speak with the Depravita. Those heavenly bodies became an annoyance, so he clasped his hands and unleashed a shock wave that erased all of them.

Now that those heavenly bodies were no longer obscuring their view, Venganza and the Flame Emperor could see the King in Yellow staring at them from a distance, and there was the lifeless body of a woman in his hand.

Venganza's eyes widened as he saw the King in Yellow holding Sophia's body. His aura exploded, unleashing monstrous resentment and hatred.

Unlike his Prima Universe counterpart, the Flame Emperor remained peaceful, as if nothing could disturb him.

The King in Yellow frowned as he saw the duo's behavior. Despite Venganza's rage, he saw that none of them showed worry or concern.

Even if the Eldritch Universe's nature was unique due to its birth, it still was a super universe and contained a Universe Will.

The Heavenly Destroyer Formation was just a test to see the duo's power. Since it was futile, the King in Yellow no longer held the Universe Will back, allowing the Eldritch Universe's entire might to come crashing down on the duo.

Venganza sneered, and the Flame Emperor only shook his head as they felt the Universe Will about to suppress them. Right at the last second, their auras morphed into an Eldritch one.

At that exact moment, as shock and realization slightly weakened the King in Yellow's awareness and guard, Venganza and the Flame Emperor flashed forward.

The King in Yellow saw a punch charged with an immense amount of white flames heading to his face, and as he focused on that attack, he felt a sharp strike in the wrist of the hand holding Sophia.

If the woman had remained alive, the Yellow King would have never been so careless, but things were different for a corpse whose only purpose was lousy bait.

Venganza protected Sophia's corpse with a dark force and struck the King in Yellow's wrist, forcing this one to open the palm, allowing him to take the woman away.

The King in Yellow did not really care about the corpse, so he did not waste time with it. He rose his right arm, covered in a yellow force, and protected himself from the Flame Emperor's punch.

"BOOM!" A thunderous blast of white and yellow forces occurred as the Flame Emperor's punch landed on the King in Yellow's arm and pushed this one away.

Venganza stared at Sophia's body before generating a shadow cocoon around her and teleporting it into his Inner Universe. He then focused on the Eldritch Universe King before allowing all the evilness inside his heart to emerge.

The King in Yellow did not show fear toward Venganza, but as he cleaned the black blood that leaked from the corner of his mouth, a sharp light appeared in his eyes.

"I see, so you two also discovered the Third Path to Rank 10."

Venganza did not care about the King in Yellow's words. He only came to the Eldritch Universe with one goal, but just as he was about to charge, the Flame Emperor extended a hand and stopped him.

The Depravita stared at the Alpha Universe Leader and sneered before signaling this one to speak.

"First of all, allow me to say I am impressed. It is easy for me and the Incarnation of Death and Destruction to take that path, but you are a life form born of that man's existence." The Flame Emperor's voice was calm, and his senses were at their peak as he attempted to decipher the King in Yellow's personality.

"Hmph, that failure means nothing to me." The King in Yellow knew about whom the Flame Emperor talked and did not bother to hide his disdain.

The Flame Emperor showed some surprise when he heard that. He was honestly surprised that an Eldritch could utter those types of words.

"I see. Since only the three of us have taken the Third Path and achieved this level, what should we call our state of existence?"

Although those topics seemed meaningless, every word that came out of the Flame Emperor and King in Yellow's mouths had a hidden purpose.

"Life forms that have achieved a battle power equal to a False Path Rank 10 life form, without sacrificing our egos to the Universe Will. I think De-Facto Rank 10 sounds good." The King in Yellow had just finished speaking when a powerful killing intent exploded.

"Enough talking. Let's kill!" Venganza did not endure it anymore and flashed toward the King in Yellow.

The Flame Emperor sighed as he saw the Depravita's behavior. He wanted to learn more about this Eldritch Universe King, but it seemed that would not be possible. His white sun exploded with power, and he also flashed forward.

The King in Yellow did not just wait for them. His eyes glowed, manifesting the Eldritch Universe's law matrix that fueled him with energy before charging toward the duo.

For the first time in the history of the known multiverse, a battle between three life forms with Rank 10 battle power occurred.
