

Secret Admiration Finding True Love After Prison

Chapter 371 – 380

Chapter 371 Chandler Was Furious

Dalton had hurriedly changed his clothes after falling into the water, but his hair was still damp. The cold winter wind only made his dizziness worse.

Because of his fever, Dalton—began convulsing as Meryl opened the door.

He lay on the ground, twitching, his body curled up into a pitiful ball. There was no trace of his usual composure, only disarray and helplessness.

Meryl immediately crouched down, trying to massage him while shouting anxiously, “Chandler, come help me!”

Chandler remained standing where he was, his voice cold with resentment. “Let him die for all I care. What happens to him has nothing to do with me.”

Meryl knew he was speaking out of anger.

She knew Chandler would never truly leave someone to die.

“Don’t be childish. He’s in real danger. Besides, if something happens to him outside our room, how do you think your sister will react? She’ll surely blame you.”

Meryl slapped Dalton’s cheek, trying to wake him, but there was no response. His sporadic convulsions were getting worse, and the situation looked grim.

Chapter 371 Chandler Was Furious ensure he could breathe.

Chandler, however, seemed genuinely intent on not getting involved.

Meryl pleaded, “Then at least call for an ambulance?”

Chandler remained indifferent.

“Chandler!”

2/4

After a frantic effort, Dalton was finally taken to the hospital.

commotion had become so intense that it even alarmed the the Aniston family.

Cameron yawned, looking confused. "Chandler, what happened? Why did Dalton collapse right outside your door in the middle of the night?"

Chandler narrowed his eyes. "I'm wondering the same thing, Cameron. Why don't you ask him why he wasn't sleeping and decided to show up at my room so late?"

Cameron, feeling stung by the retort, pursed his lips and stayed quiet.

Charlotte, of course, knew the reason.

What she couldn't understand was why Dalton would go so far as to climb out of his window to see Meryl, even though she had locked his door before leaving.

She thought Meryl was nothing but trouble.

Chapter 371 Chandler Was Furious worried about Dalton. I want to go to the hospital to take care of him."

3/4

She had recently framed Dalton and knew he was probably furious with her. She thought that when someone was sick, they were emotionally vulnerable, and this could be her chance to mend their relationship.

"You?" Charlotte raised an eyebrow. "You should stay home and take care of yourself. Don't make things worse!"

Lydia tried to argue, but Charlotte had already left with the ambulance.

As the crowd dispersed, Chandler's expression darkened considerably.

He cast a long, intense look at Meryl, his anger evident.

"Honey..." Meryl called to him softly, reaching out to tug at his sleeve.

But Chandler pulled his arm away before she could touch him.

It was then that Meryl realized he was truly angry.

“Chandler...”

She didn't understand why the usually understanding Chandler was acting so differently tonight.

Meryl didn't feel like she had done anything wrong.

After all, in a situation like that, how could she just stand by and.

Chapter 371 Chandler Was Furious

nothing?

She thought to herself, “Is Chandler really this jealous?”

After Chandler left, the garden became eerily quiet, with only Meryl and Lydia remaining

.

4/4

Lydia smirked mockingly. “Looks like you're losing Chandler's affection. When that happens, who will stand by your side?”

Meryl shot back, “And what about you, Lydia? You drugged your own husband. That's quite a feat. Dalton might not have the energy to deal with you tonight, but you should be worried about how he'll handle you once he recovers!”

When Meryl returned to their room, Chandler was already gone.

This time, it seemed he was genuinely upset. He had left Meryl alone in the middle of the night without looking back.

Chapter 372 A Business Trip

1/4

Since Meryl had arrived in Chandler's car earlier that day and finding a taxi in the villa area was difficult at night, she was now stuck with no way to leave.

She lay on the spacious bed, the sheets still holding the warmth and traces of the tender moments she had shared with Chandler.

Chandler's face floated through her mind.

After spending so much time with him, Meryl realized that she had truly fallen for Chandler.

She also knew that whatever had existed between her and Dalton was long gone, which was why she hadn't hesitated to go out and help him earlier.

However, it was clear that Chandler didn't see it that way.

Meryl felt a headache coming on. She had no idea how to make Chandler trust her again.

After the New Year, she would have to return to work at the company.

Arriving early at the office, Meryl hoped to see Chandler.

When he hadn't shown up yet, she sat in his office, waiting for him.

The night before, she had tossed and turned, wondering how to

Chapter 372 A Business Trip

2/4

After much thought, she decided she would confess her feelings to Chandler.

She made her feel. She loved his presence, the loved the way he warmth of his embrace. Every moment with him made her feel safe and grounded.

Spending time together had made it clear to Meryl that Chandler had taken up an important place in her heart.

She still remembered how, when she was kidnapped, Chandler had rushed to her rescue without a second thought. That moment had deepened her feelings for him even more.

If what she had once felt for Dalton was the stubborn obsession of youth, her feelings for Chandler now were something far more profound. They were admiration, affection, and a deep sense of reliance.

But after waiting in Chandler's office for a full hour, well past the start of the workday, he still hadn't appeared.

Chandler, who was always punctual, was nowhere to be seen. today.

Freya came in to retrieve some documents and seemed surprised to see Meryl.

"You've been here for a while? I thought you'd be late. Are you 'waiting for Mr. Aniston? He's on a business trip, didn't you know?"

Meryl hadn't known at all.

Chapter 372 A Business Trip

trip. As his wife, didn't you know about it?"

3/4

Meryl wondered, "Did Chandler really go on a business trip, or was he just trying to avoid me because he's still upset?"

Unable to shake her uncertainty, she went to the break room and called Chandler.

But no one picked up.

Feeling a bit down, she scrolled through the group chat from the previous night and saw that Chandler had gone to Griffore.

Meryl figured Chandler might be on a plane and decided not to overthink it.

A little while later, she got a call from Bianca.

"Meryl, why don't you bring Chandler over for dinner tonight?"

Sensing Meryl's hesitation, Bianca quickly added, "Your dad won't be there. Malcolm kicked him out."

In other words, without Malcolm around, there wouldn't be any pressure on Chandler to talk about the company or push for favors for Celestial Ventures Group.

Meryl softly replied, "Chandler's on a business trip."

"Then come by yourself," Bianca said quickly. "I'll have your brother pick you up after work."

Meryl didn't refuse.

Chapter 372 A Business Trip

At the end of the workday, John showed up in front of the company in a limited-edition Lamborghini, making quite the scene.

4/4

He wore a black hoodie, the hood pulled low over his head, and leaned casually against the car, looking completely at ease.

This area was filled with corporate professionals, and the sudden appearance of a young man full of energy who was driving a rare, expensive car naturally drew a lot of attention.

John, with a lollipop hanging from his lips, ignored the stares, his eyes fixed on the entrance of Galaxy Holdings Group.

Write your comment Write

Chapter 373 Malcolm Cornered

As soon as Meryl stepped out of the company, John rushed toward her.

1/4

Cate, standing nearby, stared in a daze at the handsome young man under the setting sun.

It wasn't until the two got into the Lamborghini and drove away that she snapped out of it.

She thought to herself, "Was that Meryl's brother?"

Her cheeks flushed as she recalled John's cool posture, leaning casually against the car, a lollipop hanging carelessly from his lips.

It took her a long moment to come back to her senses, and she smacked her cheeks in frustration.

"Oh no!

I was so distracted I completely forgot about what I was supposed to do!”

Dalton had been unconscious since he was admitted to the hospital late last night. He’d been out for an entire day, only waking up that afternoon.

He refused to eat or drink, like a man who’d lost his soul. No matter what anyone said to him, he didn’t respond.

Chapter 373 Malcolm Cornered

2/4

But because she’d been daydreaming, she had now lost track of where Meryl went.

After getting out of the car, Meryl immediately spotted Malcolm outside, arguing with Bianca..

“How dare you come back! Did you sign the divorce papers yet?”

Bianca’s eyes were red as she yelled at Malcolm, “I swear, every time I see you, I just want to beat you to death! Get out of here!”

She snatched a broom from one of the maids and started swinging it at Malcolm.

“Bianca, calm down! I’ve been staying at a hotel for days now. We’ve been married for so many years. Can you really just throw all that away?”

“And what did you do to me? You swapped out my child! What’s left for me to hold on to?” Bianca glared at Malcolm, her eyes full of hate.

“I didn’t do it! It was Sandra! She switched them behind my back. I only found out later,” Malcolm hurriedly explained,

“And what difference does that make? The two of you conspired to deceive me! You cheated on me, used my money to support your mistress, and now you want me to forgive you? Dream on!”

“I’ve already cut ties with her. I’ve been staying in that hotel for three days and haven’t seen her at all! Please, give me one more chance, Bianca. I really don’t want a divorce!”

Chapter 373 Malcolm Cornered

3/4

Malcolm couldn’t believe their decades–long marriage was about to end over this.

Today was the first workday after the holidays, and when Malcolm arrived at the office, he noticed the strange looks everyone gave him.

Food

People whispered behind his back, clearly discussing something.

As the chairman of Celestial Ventures Group, his authority had completely crumbled.

The scandal about his affair with Sandra and the swapped daughters had become a public spectacle. Several former business partners had already sent termination notices, making it clear they no longer wanted to work with the company.

Public sentiment was just as bad. Their competitors fanned the flames online, and many netizens vowed never to buy Celestial Ventures Group products again.

Earlier in the year, Chandler had already dealt a heavy blow to him, and now, with this new scandal...

That morning, the company's stock had plummeted, leaving Malcolm in utter despair.

He hadn't expected the netizens to dig up every little detail about him. He knew if he didn't act fast to fix things, the fortune his father had left him would be completely wiped out.

Malcolm couldn't afford to divorce Bianca.

Sandra had been nothing more than a fling, and even Lydia's

Chapter 373 Malcolm Cornered

He certainly didn't want to leave Bianca for her.

4/4

Bianca came from a wealthy family, while Sandra was a mere mistress with nothing to offer him. Malcolm knew who he had to choose.

He looked at Bianca desperately. "What do I have to do for you to give me another chance?"

Bianca glanced over Malcolm's shoulder and saw Meryl approaching from a distance.

"You want another chance? Fine. All you have to do is publicly disown Lydia as your daughter and kick her out of the family. Then I might consider it."

Chapter 374 Are You Pregnant?

Bianca's words obviously stunned Malcolm.

Did she ask him to remove Lydia from the family?

"But Lydia is my daughter. We watched her grow up. How can we disown her? Bianca, are you willing to do that?"

"Why shouldn't I?"

Bianca chuckled, "Sandra, your mistress, replaced my child, and Lydia stole my daughter's identity. Why should I be kind to her?"

Perhaps she had loved Lydia in the past.

However, upon discovering that Lydia, Sandra's biological daughter, had deceived her while secretly reaching out to Sandra, Bianca felt nothing but disgust!

She couldn't figure out anything she had done wrong to Lydia.

But Lydia exploited her like a vampire, draining her lifeblood, all while using the very gifts she provided to finance Sandra. How ungrateful!

Malcolm tried to evoke Bianca's maternal love for Lydia. "Without our support, it must be so difficult for Lydia to be alone at the Aniston Villa!"

and the recent revelation of

Chapter 374 Are You Pregnant?

Charlotte had always harbored a dislike for Lydia. If the Stone family announced at that moment that they no longer recognized her, wouldn't that be adding insult to injury?

Malcolm couldn't be so cruel. After all, Lydia was his own daughter.

2/4

Meanwhile, he completely forgot that she was so stingy when he asked her for money.

Bianca exclaimed sarcastically, "Well, Lydia is having a hard time. Since you are unwilling and feel sorry for her, don't keep pestering me here. Get out! Go to her right away!"

She pushed Malcolm out.

At the same time, Meryl and John walked in.

At the sight of them, Malcolm said quickly, "Your mother wants to divorce me. Persuade her! She is not young anymore and shouldn't ask for a breakup. Won't it be a joke? If we part ways, it will also have a bad influence on you."

Meryl didn't even cast a glance at him and went straight into the villa.

John looked Malcolm up and down.

"Malcolm, didn't my mother give you a chance? Yet, you refused it. You can't bear to sever your ties with Lydia, so from now on, live with her and her mother."

"But I'm your father! Are you going to abandon me and drive me away?"

Chapter 374 Are You Pregnant? "I don't have a cheating father."

3/4

"You..."

With a bang, John locked the door, and Malcolm was turned away again.

He sighed, gazing at the quiet night, overwhelmed by a feeling of desolation as if he were far from home.

The dinner table was laden with Meryl's favorite dishes, clearly crafted with care by Bianca.

Even after Meryl had returned to the Stone family for more than ten years, this was the first time she had been treated like a guest of honor.

However, she didn't eat much and seemed to have a poor appetite.

Bianca asked, "What's wrong, Meryl? Are you not satisfied with the food?"

Meryl shook her head slightly. A whole day had passed, but Chandler still hadn't answered her calls.

Despite being on a business trip, he should get off the plane now.

It only took two hours to fly from here to Griffore. Was he still angry?

"Taste the tortilla soup. I asked the cook to prepare it carefully. It's nutritious."

Chapter 374 Are You Pregnant?

Bianca placed a full bowl of tortilla soup in front of Meryl.

However, the tortilla soup suddenly made Meryl cover her mouth and retch.

After a brief pause, Bianca was surprised. "Meryl, are you pregnant?"

Chapter 375 Why Didn't You Remind Me?

Pregnant?

Meryl's period this month was indeed delayed for a few days.

But she never considered this possibility.

The kidnapping caused her emotions to fluctuate wildly, affecting her endocrine system and leading to a delayed menstrual period. She thought it was a normal reaction.

She subconsciously attempted to examine herself. However, realizing that even a doctor couldn't treat herself, she gave up.

1/4

"Come on, Meryl. After dinner, I will take you to the hospital for a check-up!" Bianca was thrilled.

There had been a lot of troubles lately, and finally, a piece of good news came.

Knowing that a check-up was necessary, Meryl didn't refuse.

They soon finished dinner and headed to the hospital.

Bianca was very enthusiastic. She asked Meryl to sit in the lobby and then hurried to take care of the registration.

It took an hour to get the results after the blood was drawn. Bianca felt bored waiting and suggested that she and Meryl go

Chapter 375 Why Didn't You Remind Me? Meryl, not in the mood, asked her to go by herself.

2/4

Bianca believed that if Meryl was pregnant, it would be in the early stages, and she needed extra attention, so Bianca didn't push her.

"Don't run around. I'll be back soon," she warned.

After watching her leave, Meryl sat there and browsed her phone for a while.

She sent a message to Walter. [Have you arrived in Griffore?]

He replied quickly: [Yes. Mrs. Aniston, what can I do for you?]

[Chandler...] Meryl wanted to mention that Chandler hadn't answered her calls, but then she reconsidered. Walter was just an assistant, so she shouldn't share that information.

She replied: [Nothing. It's just a casual question.]

Meanwhile, Walter followed Chandler and prepared to attend a dinner party.

He didn't think much about it and put his phone away.

Chandler glanced back and immediately spotted the familiar profile on Walter's phone screen.

He smiled unconsciously.

Did Meryl turn to Walter because she couldn't get in touch with him?

Chapter 375 Why Didn't You Remind Me? troublesome," Chandler suddenly said. "My wife will inquire about my whereabouts even when I am on a business trip."

Walter paused and glanced at Chandler in surprise.

3/4

The latter beamed with joy. How could he find it troublesome? He was clearly enjoying it and showing off to him that Meryl cared about him.

Though shocked, he kept his composure as an employee and echoed Chandler's words

"Mr. Aniston, I'm not married yet. How could I know this and remind you?"

“That’s right.” Chandler nodded and looked Walter up and down. “I heard that you and your girlfriend broke up a few days ago. No one disturbs you when you are on a business trip. You must be very happy.”

Walter was speechless.

He thought, “That’s enough. I get it. Please stop showing off and touching my sore spot, okay?”

Learning that Chandler had landed safely, Meryl felt relieved.

After putting away her phone, she saw from a distance Sandra covering her forehead and entering an emergency room with Malcolm beside her.

It seemed Sandra had been struck on the head, and blood was gushing out of her forehead.

Chapter 375 Why Didn’t You Remind Me? “I’m going to sue them! They’ve seriously affected my life!”

4/4

Sandra cried before Malcolm and complained, “They already smashed my flower shop a few days ago and now even beat me up! Why did you stop me? I want to call the police!”

“Enough! Call the police? Aren’t you ashamed?”

Malcolm was impatient. Bianca had just kicked him out of the Stone Villa when he received a call from Sandra.

Sandra told him that she had been beaten, was bleeding on the floor, and was dying.

Chapter 376 How Impolite!

Malcolm was already in a tough spot. He hadn’t intended to meet Sandra at such a critical time, but upon learning that she was dying, he couldn’t simply turn his back on her.

Some extreme netizens rushed into her home and attacked her, claiming it was to confront the mistress.

It wasn’t fatal, but during the scuffle, Sandra lost her balance. and hit her head on the corner of the table.

Malcolm quickly sent her to the hospital.

Meryl watched them from afar with a mocking expression, thinking that he really cared about Sandra.

ידיד!

She approached them. "My mother is taking a walk outside the hospital. Are you sure you don't want a divorce? Why are you still involved with this woman?"

Meryl's appearance stunned Malcolm and embarrassed him, as if he had done something wrong and had been caught.

"Meryl, Sandra was injured. I just sent her to the hospital. We have nothing to do with each other. Don't tell your mother about this!"

"Sandra?"

Meryl smiled even more sarcastically.

Chapter 376 How Impolite!

woman!"

"Meryl, you are so mean."

Sandra was annoyed. "I am Lydia's biological mother. What's wrong with him caring about me? It seems that Camille really didn't educate you well. How impolite you are!"

2/4

"Who are you to me? Don't call me Meryl. Do we know each other? My politeness is only for decent people, not for dissolute bitches?"

"What did you say? Did you call me a bitch?" Sandra instantly exploded with anger.

"I praised you. Perhaps you don't deserve it at all."

"You..."

Sandra was already furious after someone suddenly barged into her house and injured her head.

She didn't expect to be insulted and ridiculed, even at the hospital.

She felt nothing but rage now.

“Malcolm, your daughter scolded me.” Sandra looked at Malcolm in tears, eager to seek his comfort.

He frowned and thought that Meryl’s curse was indeed too harsh.

“Meryl, what’s wrong with you? Sandra is much older than you.

Chapter 376 How Impolite!

3/4

“Apologize to her? Who are you to ask me to do so? Everyone knows that I have severed my relationship with you, Malcolm. Are you still living in a dream?”

With that, Meryl sneered and walked away.

She had a grudge against Sandra. More than twenty years ago, it was because Sandra had replaced her with Lydia that she had ended up wandering outside.

However, instead of restraining herself, Sandra came to her and acted like an elder. How ridiculous!

“Malcolm, is she really your biological daughter? How can she talk to you like that? Lydia is really well-behaved and obedient.”

Malcolm’s face darkened. Meryl was indifferent to him in front of Sandra, which embarrassed him.

Sensing that he was chasing her, Meryl immediately turned sideways to avoid his touch.

Sandra added fuel to the fire. “Meryl, you are so rude. You are even disrespectful to your own father, who raised you. You...”

Meryl found her voice noisy and suddenly pinched her jaw.

She tightened her grip. With a crack, Sandra felt a sharp pain and instinctively reached for her jaw, only to discover it wouldn’t close!

Her eyes widened in disbelief.

Her jaw was actually dislocated by Meryl.

Secret Admirer: Finding True Love After...

Chapter 377 Kiss Her Madly

Sandra grimaced in pain and tried to close her mouth, but it wouldn't work. She could only splutter with her mouth open.

"Malcolm..." She gazed at Malcolm pitifully.

1/4

Seeing her saliva uncontrollably dripping to the floor in a long trail, Meryl couldn't help but grin.

As a practitioner, she was familiar with human bodies and knew how to use her strength wisely. To her surprise, it came in handy at that moment.

"Take your mistress to see a doctor immediately." She glanced at Malcolm and said with disdain, "Otherwise, it's quite disgusting that she keeps drooling."

He felt Meryl had gone too far. Her aggression and willingness to attack Sandra made her seem no different from a hooligan. She didn't act like an elegant lady at all.

He was so furious that he raised his hand to slap her, but at the same time, Bianca rushed over/

"Malcolm, you are such a jerk! How dare you bully my daughter! I will beat you to death!"

Bianca grabbed the mop from the cleaner, who was watching the scene nearby, and struck Malcolm with it.

He instinctively dodged while she kept chasing after him. It was

Chapter 377 Kiss Her Madly

Meryl looked at the farce and shook her head helplessly.

She intended to ask Bianca to leave, but seeing that she was clutching Malcolm's cars and scolding him harshly, Meryl did not disturb her.

She printed out the examination report on the machine and showed it to a doctor.

The doctor took it, glanced at it, and said, "Ms. Stone, congratulations. You are pregnant."

Meryl was stunned that she was pregnant.

2/4

“It’s less than a month. You need to rest. If you’re experiencing severe morning sickness and a loss of appetite, drink some yogurt or something like that.”

Meryl nodded.

She clenched the report, so excited that her hands were even shaking.

She wanted to share the news with Chandler.

Yet, thinking that he was still angry with her, Meryl figured he might not answer even if she called, so she gave up.

She planned to tell Chandler when he was back.

However, Meryl couldn’t wait any longer. She decided to buy a flight ticket to Griffore!

Chapter 377 Kiss Her Madly

3/4

She immediately booked a ticket for the early morning flight on her mobile phone.

Someone stopped her as soon as she walked out of the doctor’s office.

“Meryl.”

It was Dalton. Meryl pivoted around and met his bloodshot eyes.

He stepped forward, grabbed her, dragged her to the stairwell, and closed the emergency door.

His hands were supported next to Meryl’s ears, and his chest heaved violently.

Dalton acted on impulse and tried to kiss her madly.

She was caught off guard.

She turned her head to the side, not expecting him to seize the moment and pull her into his arms.

Dalton wanted to do this last night.

Today, his mind was filled with Meryl's soft groans from her night with Chandler. Dalton felt like he was going crazy!

The woman he had always been hesitant to sleep with was easily possessed by Chandler.

In the past seven years, Dalton had countless opportunities to have sex with Meryl, but he was reluctant.

Chapter 377 Kiss Her Madly

Now, he held her tightly in his arms, his gaze loving and affectionate.

"Meryl, I understand you were forced by him. Leave him."

Meryl was puzzled.

4/4

"Let's go to a place where no one knows us and start over, okay? Just you and me, away from Chandler, Lydia, and the Aniston family. I don't want anything else but you..."

Dalton's tears fell on Meryl's shoulder.

Chapter 378 I Have My Reasons

1/3

Dalton never thought that one day he would be so humble and cry bitterly for a woman.

In his arms, Meryl subconsciously raised her hand to slap him.

But his tears made her withdraw her hand.

She sighed, "Dalton, Chandler didn't force me. I did it voluntarily. I don't love you anymore. He has captured my heart."

"You're lying!" Tears welled up in Dalton's eyes. "How could you not love me! Meryl, there's no one else here. As long as you agree, I will be with you forever! I'll take you away!"

He was very excited.

He said he would be with her forever.

Meryl just found it ridiculous.

She distanced herself from him. "You want to be with me forever, but what about Lydia?"

"I hate her so much now! I don't love her at all! Don't mention her!" Dalton's disgust for Lydia was evident.

"Since you have no interest in her, why don't you be a witness? She plotted the kidnapping case three years ago and conspired with Rocky to frame me.

Chapter 378 I Have My Reasons

2/3 changed his confession after entering the police station, and you didn't tell the police what you knew. In other words, you let her off the hook."

Meryl gazed up at Dalton. "You claim that you hate her, but you are kind to her. Don't you think it's ridiculous?"

He explained, "I have my reasons!"

"Reasons? What are they? Is it because she's pregnant with your child, or are you hesitant? Is your mother pressuring you? You are husband and wife now, yet you still pester me. I beg you to be together forever, please."

Meryl cast an icy glance at Dalton and turned around without hesitation.

"Meryl! Listen to my explanation!"

"That's enough. Dalton, stop pretending to be affectionate. I've said before that I love Chandler. We are already through. Don't bother me anymore. It will only make me look down on you."

As Meryl was determined to leave, Dalton stared at her back with his bloodshot eyes.

"Meryl, why did you come to the hospital? Aren't you here to visit me because you are worried about me?"

"You are narcissistic. I came to the hospital for myself, of course. It has nothing to do with you."

Dalton instantly became concerned about her and caught up with her. "Are you sick? What's wrong with you?"

Chapter 378 I Have My Reasons

Recalling that Meryl had just come out of the gynecology department, he suddenly realized something.

3/3

His eyes widened in disbelief and fell on her belly. "Meryl, are you pregnant?"

Meryl was unwilling to share too much with Dalton.

She booked an early morning flight, eager to head to Griffore and tell Chandler the good news in person.

Meryl reached out to open the emergency door. Unexpectedly, Dalton hugged her waist from behind.

She was frightened and instinctively stepped on him.

"What are you doing? Dalton, I'm Chandler's wife!"

"Meryl, don't be angry with me. Chandler's wife? Do you believe he really likes you? He is just using you."

"What are you talking about?"

"Meryl, you are naive. Why do you think Uncle Chandler married you? You probably don't know it's because..."

"I won't believe anything you say!" Meryl interrupted Dalton coldly. She broke free from his grip and slapped him hard.

Chapter 379 His Beloved Treasure

Meryl used up almost all her strength, leaving a very obvious mark on Dalton's face.

"I'm warning you one last time. Stay away from me!"

Dalton's eyes darkened and grew fierce.

Meryl was ruthless. His cheek was numb from the pain, and his ears were buzzing.

She resisted him desperately, eager to break off relations with him.

How could Dalton accept it?

He smiled helplessly, "Meryl, I'm sorry. You forced me to do this."

Before Meryl could figure out his intention, two bodyguards suddenly ran out of the stairwell and blocked her way.

She stepped back, her eyes wide open in disbelief.

“Dalton, what do you want to do?”

“You’re driving me crazy. What do you think I should do? Meryl, I love you so much. I can’t let you leave me...”

The bodyguards had already arrived in front of Meryl.

Chapter 379 His Beloved Treasure

to the floor.

2/4

Dalton quickly approached her, opened his arms, and allowed her to lean against him.

Meryl fell into a coma.

Several men surrounded her in the stairwell, leaving her not a chance to escape.

Dalton looked at Meryl with affection and obsession, as if she were his beloved treasure

.

“Meryl.” He gently stroked her cheeks with his fingers.

“This time, you won’t push me away again.”

At that moment, a sudden noise came from behind the door, as if someone was trying to push it open.

Dalton’s eyes darkened.

He had long discovered that there was always someone secretly protecting Meryl.

Without the desire to disrupt her normal social life or invade her privacy, the man always maintained a distance from her.

Obviously, Meryl’s long absence from his sight aroused his alarm, so he came over to find out what was going on.

Dalton guessed that he should be sent by Chandler to protect her.

Chapter 379 His Beloved Treasure two bodyguards.

3/4

They had worked for him for many years and thus understood what he meant.

Dalton walked away with Meryl.

The two bodyguards lit two cigarettes, stood by the stairs, and began to chat slowly.

“I know she won’t get over Mr. Dalton Aniston after being with him for seven years.”

“Of course she won’t. Mr. Dalton Aniston is her first boyfriend. They love each other deeply. He was fascinated by Lydia, so she married his uncle in a fit of anger.”

The man in black outside the stairwell subconsciously stopped pushing the door.

“She must have regretted it this time, so she took the initiative to get back together with Mr. Dalton Aniston, right?”

“That should be the case. How could she easily give up their relationship that lasted so many years? It’s great that she decides to leave Chandler. Anyway, there is no love between them. What’s the point of being together?”

The man in black soon grasped the situation.

No wonder Meryl had disappeared for so long. It turned out she deliberately got rid of him and eloped with Dalton!

there any longer and turned away.

Chapter 379 His Beloved Treasure After listening for a long while, the two bodyguards heard no sound from the other side and then opened the door.

It was empty. It seemed that the man was deceived by them.

They smiled proudly. One of them said, “Hey, our acting is so good. Mr. Dalton Aniston should give us a bonus, right?”

4/4

The other bodyguard lit a cigarette and held it between his lips. “Damn, that was so convincing that I almost believed it myself!”

Write your comment

Secret Admirer: Finding True Love After

Chapter 380 It Was Strange

At that moment, Bianca happened to pass by the two bodyguards.

She frowned and glared at the bodyguard, who was smoking.

“This is the obstetrics and gynecology department, a non-smoking area. Do you have any sense of public morality?”

“Oh, sorry. I didn’t notice it.” The bodyguard immediately put out his cigarette.

1/4

Bianca had just beaten Malcolm up and was in a good mood. She just warned him and didn’t hold on to it too much.

Despite searching everywhere, she couldn’t find Meryl and decided to go to the doctor’s office.

When Bianca arrived there, the doctor told her that Meryl had left a long time ago. Bianca was puzzled, wondering why Meryl didn’t contact her.

She immediately pulled out her cell phone and dialed Meryl’s number.

The ringtone rang twice, and then the call was rejected.

Thinking that it was strange, Bianca sent a message.

[Meryl? Where are you? Why can’t I find you?]

Chapter 380 It Was Strange

2/4

She fell into a coma and had no consciousness at all, leaving her unaware that Bianca had called her.

Dalton carefully put Meryl in the back seat and fastened her seat belt.

Worried that she would feel uncomfortable when the car started moving later, he considerably stuffed a pillow behind her back.

Dalton felt relieved only after making sure that she was fine.

Her phone kept ringing in her pocket, so he took it away, unlocked it with her fingerprint, and replied to Bianca: [Don't wait for me. I've already gone home. You should go home early, too.]

She asked: [What are the test results? Are you pregnant?]

Dalton narrowed his eyes furiously, and his gaze suddenly fell on Meryl's belly.

She really came to the hospital to check whether she was pregnant or not.

Dalton took out the report from her shirt pocket.

When he saw the results, his face darkened even more.

Meryl was actually pregnant with Chandler's child!

Dalton's eyes turned bloodshot, and he punched the front seat in anger.

The driver was frightened. He held his breath and tried his best

Chapter 380 It Was Strange

3/4

After a short while, Dalton tightened his grip on Meryl's phone and replied: [No.]

He then changed the password on her phone and slipped it into his pocket.

Bianca, on the other end of the phone, was disappointed that Meryl was not pregnant.

At dinner, she felt so uncomfortable, as if she were pregnant. But how could she not be?

However, she was still young and had only been married to Chandler for half a year, so there was no need to rush into pregnancy.

Bianca didn't say anything else. She put away her phone and walked downstairs to the hospital.

She looked up and saw Dalton just getting out of an all-black van in the distance.

Thinking of the fact that Dalton had an affair with Lydia and betrayed Meryl's love for him over the years, Bianca was angry with him.

Moreover, he was now Lydia's husband.

Dalton did not notice Bianca.

Unwilling to greet him, she pivoted around to avoid him and got into her own car.

Chapter 380 It Was Strange

She had no idea that Meryl, who was unconscious, was in the back seat of the van that Dalton had gotten out of.

4/4

The two vehicles started at the same time and left the hospital one after the other.

Chandler had just wrapped up a dinner party when his bodyguard called him.

He was drunk. The call was connected. However, his phone ran out of battery before he could hear what his bodyguard said.

Chandler covered his painful head and glanced at his power-off phone.

Who called him just now?