Secret Admirer: Finding True Love After....

Chapter 563 Boring Life

Meryl said, "You don't have to listen to me, unless you don't want to stand up."

They looked at each other, and Felix smiled..

"For me, it's the same whether I stand up or not."

From the very beginning, it was Meryl who had offered to help him treat his legs.

But for Felix, it didn't matter if he had lame legs because his life was meaningless anyway.

എന്താ ?

Meryl thought Felix was weird. "Why would you think that? Do you want to sit in a wheelchair for the rest of your life?"

Felix answered, "Then I would like to ask you, why are you so eager to help me heal my legs?"

Meryl fell silent.

"Okay. Since you don't want to be treated, I'm leaving." Meryl put away acupuncture tools and pretended to get out of the car.

Felix directly ordered Philip to lock the car from the front. “Did I agree you to leave?”

With that, Felix lowered the back of his seat and placed his hands behind his head.

Meryl thought, “He is in this position, obviously, allowing me to perform acupuncture casually.

Wouldn't it be great if he just lay down obediently and let me perform acupuncture?

Why did he have to be so arrogant? Isn't the result the same?”

Meryl first helped Felix check the gunshot wound on his shoulder.

After undressing Felix, Meryl was stunned when she saw the bandage wrapped around the wound was soaked with blood.

The knot on top had been tied by Meryl a week ago.

In other words, during this week, Felix did not change the bandages or go to the hospital for stitches. He just let the wound heal on its own.

Meryl quickly untied the bandage. On the innermost layer, she saw the bright red bandage stuck to Felix's skin and flesh.

It was bloody and shocking to see.

Meryl took a deep breath, thinking, “This person is really lucky not to die.”

She carefully helped Felix tear off the bandage bit by bit.

Some places were tightly connected to the skin and flesh, and blood would ooze out if pulled. Meryl was nervous, and her brows furrowed subconsciously.

But Felix didn't react, as if he wasn't the one feeling the pain.

He had endurance different from ordinary people, and he was too harsh on himself.

It seemed like he didn't take his life seriously.

Meryl said to Philip, "Philip, send him to the hospital later. His wound needs stitches."

It had been too long. It would be very troublesome if it were not dealt with.

Philip nodded.

Unexpectedly, Felix smiled, "My dear, why do you care about me so much?"

Meryl didn't say anything. He started to act frivolously again, and she didn't want to talk to him.

After spending some time together, Meryl got to know Felix a little bit.

Chapter 563 Boring Life

Felix seemed to have an unconventional way of thinking and did not play by the rules, but he did not seem to have any ill will towards her.

Most of the time, he just scared her.

Felix's temperament was like that of an arrogant cat, lazy but seeing through everything in the world.

He looked down upon the people around him and took pleasure in teasing them.

In fact, Felix felt that life was meaningless. He had no goals and no hopes. Only when he saw everyone was scared and afraid of him did he think that everything around him was alive.

Felix was just looking for something to do in his boring life.

But Meryl couldn't understand why Felix had come to her.
