Chapter 564 Came to Her

1/5

Meryl didn't say anything else. After helping Felix to treat the wound on his shoulder, Meryl began to give him acupuncture on his legs.

Her technique was delicate. Felix just lay on the leather seat and let her do whatever she wanted.

An hour later, the acupuncture was finished.

Meryl's forehead was sweating a lot because she was so focused.

Felix asked, "When is the next medical acupuncture treatment?"

"It cannot be done too frequently, at least every three days."

"What? Does it mean I can only see you in three days?"

Felix supported his chin with one hand, seeming not satisfied with the answer.

"Don't I need to get acupuncture tomorrow?"

Meryl couldn't help but roll her eyes. "Our relationship isn't so good that we need to meet every day, right?"

Felix looked at her with a meaningful smile. "Meet every day? You reminded me. This is a good suggestion."

Meryl didn't know what to say for a moment.

"By the way, did you suffer any loss because of Rachel?" asked

Felix.

“No,” answered Meryl.

“If you do, tell me, and I’ll help you kill her.”

Meryl asked in curiosity, “Isn’t Rachel your fiancée?”

Felix raised his eyebrows. “What? Are you jealous because I have a fiancée?”

Meryl fell silent.

Her expression was stiff. She thought, “Why am I jealous?

I mean, why is Felix helping me instead of his fiancée!”

Just at this moment, Chandler called her.

Chandler woke up and saw that Meryl was not around. So he called to ask her where she was.

Meryl subconsciously glanced at Felix beside her and said, “I just bought some things at the maternity and baby store. I’m going to send them to Anne.”

“Okay. I’ll come to you then. See you at the hospital later.”

Meryl hadn’t planned to stay with Felix for long.

Hanging up the phone, she opened the car door and said, “Go find a hospital and get your shoulder stitched. I’m leaving now.”

Felix’s gaze turned gloomy as he looked at Meryl’s back.

Until Meryl walked away, Felix touched his cheek with the tip of his tongue.

He thought, “She called Chandler in front of me and made an appointment to meet. She is really great!”

Felix was provoked, and his expression turned cold.

Philip, who was sitting in the driver’s seat, saw Felix’s expression and shuddered subconsciously, feeling a chill coming from behind him.

Felix took out his phone and made a call.

His voice sounded quite lazy. "Dress up. I'll pick you up in an hour."

Rachel was a little confused and asked subconsciously, "Why?"

Felix had no patience. "Stop talking nonsense. Just do as you're told."

Rachel bit her lower lip. She hung up the phone and started dressing up in front of the mirror.

She put on some makeup and wore a sexy dress.

Rachel thought, "If Felix wanted to date me, why didn't he just say it directly? Why was he being so reserved?"

After what had happened yesterday, Rachel was in a bad mood and thought about going out to relax and change her mood.

She had no interest in Felix, but Felix was a member of the Powell family, after all, and was used to being arrogant. She just wanted to put him on the bench.

When Rachel got dressed and went out, Felix's car was indeed waiting for her outside the door.

Then, Felix asked her to get in the car.

More than twenty minutes later, the car stopped outside a bar.

Rachel got out of the car and waited for Felix to get out.

Just at that moment, Felix's phone rang.

He said to Rachel, "Go inside first and wait for me there."

Rachel nodded, thinking that Felix would come in after finishing his call.

She stepped in with her high heels.

The bar was filled with bright lights and loud music. A strong smell of cigarettes filled the air.

Rachel was wearing a sexy dress and had dressed up specially. This place was full of men and had few women. Just as she appeared, someone came to her and chatted with her.
