

THE ADORABLE TWINS AND THEIR CEO DADDY

Chapter 99 I'm In Love

As soon as Nana turned around stiffly, she saw the kids staring at her without even blinking.

She did not have time to think about their appearance now, so she casually lied, "Well... Bowling was probably scared when I took it to the hospital. It should be fine after a few days."

Aileen believed it immediately. Looking at her dog with pitiful eyes, she said, "Hospitals are really terrible."

She remembered the doctor giving her an injection every time her mother had taken her to the hospital when she had been sick. Hence, she had always been afraid of hospitals, but she did not expect Bowling to be just like her.

"Did you take Bowling to the hospital to get the ring?" Adrian asked. He was not going to let Nana go.

"Yes... But they still haven't gotten the ring out of it yet," Nana said with a wry smile.

If she did not need to, she would not have lied to the kids.

However, she thought that it was best for her to sort out the problem that she caused on her own.

Thinking of that, Nana felt uneasy.

By the time Eliana got home from work that evening, Nana was very nervous.

"What's the matter with you?"

Eliana instantly sensed that something was wrong with Nana, because she seemed to be particularly stiff.

Nana smiled sheepishly and said, "No, nothing happened."

"Are you sure?" Eliana looked at her carefully as she slowly walked to her.

Nana looked into her eyes.

That moment, Nana's phone rang, saving her from the awkwardness.

With her phone in her hand, she rushed to a corner to answer it.

"Hello?" she whispered over the phone like a thief.

On the other end of the line, Corbin could not help but smile when he heard her funny voice.

"What's going on? Have you muddled it through yet?" he asked.

Nana sighed.

Even though she managed to fool the kids, she did not know if Eliana...

"It's hard to say. For now, we need to focus on getting Bowling back as soon as possible."

At the same time, Kimora served dinner and asked everyone to have it.

Eliana turned around and saw that Nana was still on the phone. Hearing her strangely quiet voice, she felt that it was odd.

She quietly approached her and patted her on the shoulder.

"Who are you talking to?"

"Ah!" Startled, Nana let her phone slip from her hand.

"Why are you so nervous all of a sudden?" Her unusual reaction startled Eliana, and she pulled Nana aside to ask, "Tell me the truth, what are you hiding from me?"

Nana was stunned for a moment before she thought for a second and lied, "I... I'm in love!"

"You're in love? Really?"

Eliana was surprised.

Nana nodded firmly with a serious look in her eyes.

However, Eliana did not believe it at all. "Where did you two meet?"

"I like to say that God sent him to me." Nana braced herself and continued, "I'm in a relationship. Aren't you happy for me?"

With her eyes fixed on Nana, Eliana moved closer.

All of a sudden, she hugged Nana.

"Yes, I am. Of course, I'm happy for you!"

She patted Nana's back gently. "I hope he sincerely loves you."

Eliana had been worried that Nana was stuck in the previous failed relationship, and that was the reason she had not dared to ask her why she had run away from her wedding with Huey.

But since Nana was in love with another man now, she felt that it could help her heal from her previous relationship.

Sadness weighed on Nana's heart when she saw her best friend's genuine joy for her.

She cursed herself for lying to her.

At the same time, in the study of the riverside villa, Corbin overheard Nana's conversation with Eliana with a subtle smile.

'I fell in love for no reason? Nana's dating me?' He couldn't imagine such a thing.

"Corbin."

Maurice's cold voice pulled him back to reality.

Corbin quickly hung up, put his phone away, and looked at Maurice with respect. "Mr. Moran."

Maurice walked out of the study and handed him the finished document.

He suddenly realized something and asked, "What happened to you this morning?"

Corbin had dropped off Silas at the kindergarten that morning, but he had returned very late.

Since he had been working for Maurice ever since he started his career, Maurice knew that he had always been punctual.

"The twins' puppy went missing by accident," Corbin explained concisely. "That dog seemed to have swallowed something that was Eliana's. Nana was anxious, so she dragged me along to help her find the dog."

Although Nana had not mentioned her friend's name, Corbin figured that it must be Eliana.
