Chapter 1101 Evil Grey

Boom!

Grey collided with the attack of the two in the Mid stages and was sent flying once again. However, he wasn't hurt by the impact of the attack.

He wanted to use his domain, but realizing that they were too strong for him, he didn't bother.

'Void, kill off all those in the Sage Plane. Even if we have to leave, we should make sure that they feel some pain.' He said as he was entangled with the two in the Mid stages.

Ellis was fighting against two people in the Early stages of the Elemental Venerable Plane. Both people were already in the Third stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane, so they were not people that he would be able to defeat in a short time. However, he was suppressing them completely.

The young man from the Pyrmond Faction in the Mid stage also had to fight two against one, his opponents were a bit weaker than Ellis' opponents. He was already injured from the first battle, so he was only able to fight them to a draw,

Even with this, there were still two more Elemental Venerables, Void was given the task of killing the Sage Plane Elementalists, so the others had to fight alone.

The heavily injured duo from the Pyrmond Faction had to fight against one person, while the other person had to fight against one person.

Of everyone present, Grey was the one who faced the greatest pressure. He was not even able to counterattack, the duo was beating the crap out of him.

Bang! Bam!

Grey crashed into the wall of the building by the side, as the duo was about to turn around and help kill the injured duo, Grey changed places with one of them and attacked with a powerful chaos orb. Although he could not use the Fusion State any longer, he could still create the chaos orb.

Boom!

The strength of the attack actually forced the young lady who was already in the Fifth stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane to take a step back. Even though it was just one step, it was still a frightening show of strength from Grey. One had to know that Grey was still in the First stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane, while the other party was four stages above him, yet he actually forced the other party back.

The young man who Grey switched places with soon arrived and attacked.

Grey was unable to use the chaos orb immediately and could only block. He was sent flying, crashing to the ground.

Even though he was being beaten, he made sure the two Elemental Venerables didn't leave. This was his task, and he was doing it.

The two were still being pestered by him when they heard a scream. Turning around, one of the Peak Sage Plane Elementalists exploded. He was dead.

lady.

She attacked, and just as her attack was about to land on Grey's figure, Grey switched places with Grey's domain affected them from the start and the icy chill was still wreaking havoc in their innards, with Void attacking them, he was able to quickly kill one of them.

The expressions of the duo in the Mid stages from the Syphilis Faction changed and one of them rushed over, leaving Grey to just one of them.

"Where do you think you're going? I'm your opponent." Grey yelled but was blocked by the young lady.

She attacked, and just as her attack was about to land on Grey's figure, Grey switched places with the Elemental Venerable fighting with the two injured from the Pymond Faction. The bunny leader appeared on his palm and took the duo away.

They were already bleeding all over and it was unknown if they would die at any time.

The attack of the young lady hit the Elemental Venerable and sent him flying.

Grey sneak attacked one of the Elemental Venerables fighting against Ellis and the young man was soon injured.

The other Elemental Venerable who was heading over to rescue the Sage Plane Elementalists was stunned. In the second that he left, Grey had taken away the two who were heavily injured and even sneak attacked another person.

"Seal the void!" He yelled and three darkness domains spread out in the area.

They wanted to lock the space around them. Grey was too troublesome, his space element and how well he uses it makes him an even more frightening existence in such a battle. Although they had the advantage with their numbers, it was actually putting them at a disadvantage.

With the appearance of the domains, Grey, Void, and Ellis all unleashed their domains as well. Ellis was a Water Elementalist, so it started to drizzle soon. A snowstorm also started due to Grey's ice domain, while Void used his space domain. This time, he didn't use it to trap people, rather, he had learned to use it as a means of attack.

Spatial distortions appeared randomly.

However, the moment this happened, the sky reacted to it and rumbled.

The expression of everyone present changed drastically.

"Shit! Run!" Grey didn't even bother with these people and rushed out of the place.

Void and Ellis did the same as well. The sky seemed to be crumbling down, seemingly wanting to envelop that place.

The group from the Syphilis Faction reacted a tad late, but it was almost at the same time as Grey's group.

Just as they were escaping, two chaos orbs appeared in front of them and clashed, exploding with even more frightening power.

"Bastard!" The young man from the Syphilis Faction roared.

Even when running for his life, Grey still attacked them. What was hateful about what Grey did was that it blocked their escape route for a second or so, but that was enough for the sky to cover them.

Forgetting about the others, the young man used all his strength and broke through the area, creating enough space for him to escape, he couldn't really care about anyone else at this time.

The young lady was the same. The other four Elemental Venerables used a combined attack to break through the attack. Unfortunately for the Sages, they were unable to break through and were soon enveloped by the sky. They didn't have the time to scream before their bodies disappeared.

Chapter 1102 Battle Hungry Group

"You're growing evil." Klaus said when Grey ran back to where they were.

They were already thinking of joining the battle and trying to see if they could kill off all the Sage Plane Elementalists, who would've thought that an accident would occur and Grey would even use it to his advantage and even attack those from the Syphilis Faction.

"They're stupid if they think they can escape from a conflict with me unscathed. Even if I can't beat them now, it doesn't mean I won't make them regret it." Grey replied, not too bothered about the others.

They all had the same thinking to begin with, Klaus might be worse since he would use his words to infuriate these people. All he did was take advantage of the opportunity that presented itself and make them suffer some losses. At least now, these people would think twice before crossing paths with him or anyone he knew.

"Thank you for helping us, I don't know what would've happened without you coming." The young man who was in the Mid stages of the Elemental Venerable Plane thanked Grey and the others. Although he was strong, other than escaping with his life, there was nothing he could do in that situation.

Grey looked at the young man, he felt the young man was not a bad person since he decided to stay with the others when he could've escaped. If the young man had escaped, the others would have undoubtedly died before Grey and his friends got here, but he would've been safe. However, he didn't leave, rather, he stayed there with them, helping them fight against that group.

People from the Pyrmond Faction were all told repeatedly of teamwork and building trust amongst themselves, and Grey could see the impact of it. They were not leaving anyone behind. Of course, he knew not every member of the Pyrmond Faction had this sense of togetherness with the others.

"Do you have any items that would help with healing?" He asked after looking at the others. Their injuries were by no means light, if they had arrived a few minutes late, then only the young man in the Fifth stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane had a high chance of survival.

"Yes, we can manage, we still have some things." The young man said. He didn't want to look at Grey, so after thanking him, he left.

"Did anyone else notice his awkwardness or is it just me?" Klaus looked around after the group left.

The others nodded.

Keith gave a wry smile before explaining, "He should be part of Grand Elder Archibald's faction. A student of one of Grand Elder Archibald's sons."

"Who's Grand Elder Archie?" Klaus asked with curiosity.

"Archibald." Keith corrected.

"Archie sounds better, don't you think so?" Klaus replied with a grin.

Grey shook his head and let Klaus be, not speaking of how he addressed him, it wasn't like it had anything to do with him. He told the group of his encounter with the Grand Elder of the Pyrmond Faction.

"You were almost crippled?" Klaus and the others had frosty expressions, especially those that had known Grey for a long time. Alice and Reynolds looked like they would attack the Grand Elder if he were in front of them.

"The Faction Leader helped me resolve the matter, and with the appearance of my father, he had to back off. But I don't think he has given up on the matter." Grey explained before looking at the area where the energy erupted. If they were a bit slower, then they would've been in trouble. He still felt a bit fearful.

"Void, don't use your space domain any longer." He warned.

"I know." Void replied, he was also frightened by the attack. Luckily, they managed to react fast.

"Can we use this again?" Klaus asked with a thoughtful expression.

"Most definitely. But it's too dangerous. There's no need in endangering our lives, of course, it wouldn't matter if we were in danger in the first place." Ellis said.

Of all of them, he was the strongest, so he had a higher grasp of the power that erupted there. There's a chance that he might survive, but if he was delayed there, then it was a different story.

"Let's continue."

The group continued on their journey. Grey didn't want them to split up now since they were already in the more dangerous parts of the ruin. Every person who entered this place would soon start to cross paths since their paths would grow smaller as they head to the middle of the ruin.

....

While the group were advancing, Grey had no idea he was being tracked by a group. This group all wore black cloaks, but released sinister auras. Even the grass they step on die from the baleful aura that they released.

In the group, a little girl who looked to be around six years old was skipping around, looking at the place with a playful expression.

"You've still not found him, who will I play with now?" She said in a cute manner while staring at the black cloaked figures.

The black cloaked figures didn't say a word but they all increased their speeds, heading in a particular direction.

"You found his traces? Yay! It's been so long since I had a good playmate. I heard he's very good." The little girl giggled as she rushed in the direction the black cloaked figures were headed. In total, there were six people in the group, including the little girl. Other than the little girl, the others all wore black cloaks.

The little girl and her group disappeared.

On another part of the Ruin, another group was also searching for Grey.

This group was even more ostentatious than the previous one. They were hunting down the people from the Pyrmond Faction in search of Grey.

Of all the people who entered this place, the Pyrmond Faction had suffered the greatest casualty, and all this was because of one person, Grey.

Some people who died were all aggrieved, they died for someone they didn't even talk to. Since joining the Faction, Grey rarely came out of his building, other than when he was heading to the library, going out for a mission, or leaving the Faction ground, they rarely saw him, yet they were being killed because of this person. There were even some who had not seen Grey before due to some circumstances. Many people in the Faction and the Continent knew of the name Grey, but only a few had seen him.

After the battle with the Syphilis Faction, he was challenged by the young lady from the Syphilis Faction, but he refused to appear.

Grey wasn't the only one who had communication devices, so the news of people from the Syphilis Faction hunting Grey down soon spread among those from the Pyrmond Faction.

The Syphilis Faction only attacked small groups, the group Grey encountered was one of the largest groups that the Syphilis Faction had attacked.

Keith was quite social, so he managed to get the news two days later.

....

"They're killing or Faction members because of me?" Grey frowned when he heard this.

"Yes." Keith nodded.

"Why didn't that moron say anything about it?" Grey felt annoyed.

Those three died because of him, even if he didn't feel any form of attachment to them, he would've made sure he killed the group from the Syphilis Faction. As long as he was willing to pay a price, he would've been able to kill them, that, he was confident in doing.

"Didn't you see how fast he ran when he met you? He also wanted to do the same to you, but he's not as open as the others." Klaus replied nonchalantly.

"Damn it!" Grey hated being hunted down by people, but he hated it even more when those who had nothing to do with him had to suffer because of him.

"Let's go kill some people." He said in annoyance, "I'll make them tremble at the mention of my name."

"Sure, traveling without doing anything is boring." Klaus was excited, he had a feeling he would break through soon, the sword had been really helpful to him.

"Keith, you have a wide social network, ask them if they know the route of those from the Syphilis Faction." Grey turned to Keith.

Ellis was a little taken aback, Grey was really ready to hunt down these people. Even Klaus who was still in the Sage Plane was excited about this.

Thinking of how they fought, he couldn't help but shake his head. This group of friends were all battle maniacs. Forget how it looks like Grey and Alice were the only ones who liked fighting, Klaus and Reynolds were no different, Void as well.

During their time in the Azure Continent, they almost fought against the entire Continent. They had to go through battle after battle. That had turned them into the battle hungry people that they were at the moment. Klaus and Reynolds might still have some reservations, but Grey and Alice were different.

Chapter 1103 Plotting Against The Syphilis Faction

Grey and his friends soon started their hunt for those in the Syphilis Faction. Since the people from the Syphilis Faction started this, Grey wanted to make sure they regretted it.

Keith soon got news of a group that was not too far from them. According to the information, the group attacked and killed some people from the Pyrmont Faction, and they were currently headed in their direction.

With this information, the group started to lie in wait. They wanted to ambush the group.

It didn't take long before they met with this group of people, other than two people, the others were in the Sage Plane.

'Such a weak group and they dared to attack people.' Grey snorted and soon came out to attack.

The group consisted of six people, and with Grey's friends present, there were more than enough people to handle Thea's people.

In the space of a few seconds, only the two on the Elemental Venerable Plane were left alive, the other four died from the attacks of Klaus, Reynolds, Alice, and Kieth. The two in the Elemental Venerable Plane were unable to help due to being held down by Grey and Ellis.

One of the reasons they didn't die on the spot was that Grey was thinking of a way to contact others from the Syphilis Faction. He couldn't let this go on for long. If those from the Syphilis Faction continued hunting his fellow Faction members, then more people would die.

"Tell them I'm here." He said to the young lady amongst the duo.

"So you can kill them?" The young lady didn't believe Grey would want the others to come without wanting revenge.

"Do you want to die instead?" Grey's voice was cold.

His intention was clear, either you call the others, or I kill you. No matter what, no one wanted to die. Seeing that Grey wanted her to call the others over in exchange for her freedom, she only hesitated for a while before agreeing to it.

Before she contacted them, Grey made sure to confirm how many of them entered this place, and also what their strength was like. It would be stupid if he carelessly called them over only to be beaten by them. There's even a chance that they might be heavily injured if they were not careful.

According to the young lady, about fifty people came from the Syphilis Faction, and fifteen of them were in the Elemental Venerable Plane, while the others were in the Sage Plane.

Grey did a rough count and deducted one person from the number of people in the Elemental Venerable Plane, making them only fourteen. He had previously caused the death of six Sage Plane Elementalists, if he included these four, then ten Sage Plane Elementalists had died from the thirty-five. He didn't know if others had met some mishaps as well, but he just made a rough calculation that only eleven people had died, it was better to be on the safer side.

This left thirty-nine people. They were only nine in their group, and the young lady accompanying Ellis couldn't really be involved in such a battle, so they were eight. If they met a group of fifteen, Grey was confident in himself and his friends that they would be able to fight it out with them. All in the premise that there were not more than four or at most five Elemental Venerables. If there were more than five Elemental Venerables, things would be very difficult for them.

"Okay, is there a way you can get their exact positions and the people in the groups?" Grey asked another question.

If possible, it would be best to separate them. This would make it more convenient and less dangerous for the group.

The young lady shook her head.

Grey knew not to believe her words completely, there was a high chance that the number of people in the Elemental Venerable Plane was higher than what she called, but there was nothing they could do. This place was huge, so they couldn't start searching for people all around. Take for instance, these people from the Syphilis Faction who had been searching for him for a while, even with different groups, yet they had not encountered each other, if not for Grey sensing the fight the last time, he wouldn't have seen them.

Of the duo they captured, one of them was a young lady while the other was a young man. Thinking about it, he told the young man to speak.

The young man was a little taken aback by his request, but he still spoke anyway.

When he was done speaking, Grey, Void, and Ellis attacked simultaneously. The young man tried to block the attack, but facing an attack from three Elemental Venerables, he was powerless. Of the three people, Void and Ellis had a higher stage than him. He was in the same stage as Grey, but Grey's attack power was far superior to his, so he was not even a match for one of them, much less all three of them.

Within a few seconds, the young man died.

Grey turned to the young lady with a smile. He took her spatial ring, as well as the one with the young man. After searching, he saw the communication device. Some communication devices could project bodies while speaking, while others were like the one Grey made, just transmitting voices.

Grey didn't want the young lady to be the one to transmit the message, the reason for this was simple, he didn't trust her. If she were to set them up, there was no way he would know about it.

Ellis and the others were impressed with Grey's reasoning. He was very astute when it came to things like these so he wouldn't be the one who would eventually suffer a loss.

He mimicked the young man's voice and tried communicating with some people from the Syphilis Faction. Before long, he managed to get a group who were also close by. This group had only five people, two Sage Plane Elementalists, and three Elemental Venerables.

Chapter 1104 Sage Plane Elementalists Against An Elemental Venerable

"What are you doing?!" The young lady screamed.

"Nothing. I promised not to kill you, and I'm keeping my promise." Grey smiled as he casually shattered the cultivation of the young lady.

He had already restrained her from the start, so it was quite easy to destroy her cultivation.

With her cultivation shattered, in a place like this, she was as good as dead. Grey didn't kill her, but he left her in a state where her survival was only one percent.

"Bastard! You'll die a horrible death!" The young lady screamed hysterically, she was going crazy. She even rushed over and started punching Grey.

"You'll not be able to witness it, I fear." Grey's reply made her even crazier. She wanted to kill this black-hearted fellow, even if it meant that she would die in the process.

Seeing how the young lady was causing a scene, Grey opened a spatial tunnel and tossed her in. She would appear in a random place in the ruin. If she survived, then it was her luck. If not, then it had nothing to do with Grey. It's not like he was the one who killed her. Besides, did the young lady think she wouldn't die after killing different people from the Pyrmond Faction?

After killing these two, the number of the Elemental Venerables from the Syphilis Faction had gone down to twelve. Of course, he couldn't be too sure since there was a chance that the young lady was lying.

"We'll take out the next group as we head to the center of the ruin." Grey tidied himself and they continued walking.

Ellis couldn't help but shake his head, those people from the Syphilis Faction had provoked a maniac, and now, they would suffer for it.

Grey obviously had no plans in doing things the same way as them. He was dividing the group and killing everyone. Even the ones he didn't kill were not different from a dead person. This was a place filled with all Beasts that would attack any human they come across, as long as they encountered that young lady, they would definitely rip her to shreds.

Some time passed and they encountered the next group, just like the first one, the Sage Plane Elementalists were the first to die, and the three in the Elemental Venerable Plane were a little harder to deal with, but with Grey, Ellis, and Void working together, it was not impossible. On the contrary, they were confident in killing the group.

When Alice, Klaus, and Reynolds saw this, they felt a bit annoyed. They were not in the Elemental Venerable Plane yet, so Grey didn't allow them to fight against those Elemental Venerables.

This group actually had two Elemental Venerables in the Mid stages, and the other one had a higher cultivation stage than Grey, so they hadn't been able to take them out yet.

"Leave this one to us, you should assist Void." Klaus suggested.

He was already very close to breaking through, if he and the others joined hands, they could stop this Elemental Venerable. There was four top-notch Sage Plane Elementarists present, and there was also Keith as well, so it wasn't a joke to say that they would stop this person, they even had a chance in killing this person.

Grey didn't delay and created an opportunity for the others to close in on the Elemental Venerable as he rushed to where Void was fighting. Ellis was the one who had the highest chance of killing his opponent first.

When Klaus and the others arrived, Klaus unleashed his ice ability to the fullest. Reynolds' Elemental Warrior stepped out from the void and attacked. Alice merged with her Seelie and her strength spiked to the very Peak of the Sage Plane. Kyle was not someone to be trifled with as well. Among Sage Plane Elementarists, he could be considered a top expert as well.

Of those in the Sage Plane, Keith and the young lady accompanying Ellis were the weakest.

The Elemental Venerable was in the Second stage, so he couldn't suppress this group of people, rather, he was the one on the back foot the second the battle started.

He tried to attack, but Klaus unleashed an ice wall with the help of the thin sword. After using the sword for some days, he was getting used to it. Although the consumption of essence was high, it wasn't beyond what he could handle.

The attack slammed into the wall, and although it managed to break it, most of the power was already depleted, so with a stream of water sent out, it quelled the attack.

Klaus' use of his special water had gotten to a frightening level. Presently, if some people in the Early stages of the Sage Plane were trapped in it, the water pressure would be able to crush them to death. His water emulated the water pressure at the bottom of the ocean, powerful to the extreme.

Grey was also learning this, but he couldn't be compared to Klaus who was a Water Elementalist and had to focus on this alone, he had to focus on all elements, so he had less time to study each element to the extreme. This was the disadvantage of having too many elements. His mastery was not on the same level as these people, luckily, he could make up for this with his other elements.

The young man was stunned when he realized his attack was blocked by just one person. With that, he had to defend himself against the attack of the others.

Reynolds' Elemental Warrior thrust a spear toward the head of the young man, the speed of the spear was shocking, he managed to move his head to the side, but he was faced with an attack from Alice which almost struck his defenseless body, but black mist came out of his body to block it.

While he was blocking that attack, Kyle attacked. Just like Grey, he had a special flame, and it was powerful.

Boom!

Keith also attacked at this time.

The young man took a few steps back, he was rocked by their attacks.

Chapter 1105 Not In Sync With His Cultivation Stage

The young man was subdued by the five of them from the first attack. He couldn't even counterattack after the first time and was forced to only defend.

While the young man was being subdued by the others, Grey and Void had completely taken advantage of their numbers and the young man who was in the Fourth stage wasn't able to hold on against them.

Within the space of only a few seconds that Grey joined in on the battle, the young man was forced back and he couldn't defend himself properly. Although Grey was not in the same stage as the young man, Grey's attack power was terrifyingly strong. Those in the same stage wouldn't be able to take Grey's attack properly.

Void was also attacking, so the young man was in a difficult position.

Void knew not to use his space domain, so when the young man used his domain, Grey was the one who activated his domains, fighting back against the power of the young man's darkness domain.

Void used his space elemental attacks on the young man while also using his newly awakened innate ability after breaking through to the Seventh Rank.

The young man was not able to defend against the attack of Void's space element. He soon started to fidget. If the battle lasted any longer, he would die.

"Damn it!" He cursed.

When he looked at the situation of the others, he felt even more frustration. No one could come up and help him. Unless more people came, they were on their own. The only thing they could do now was to try to escape, but in the presence of these people, escaping was not going to be easy.

They all knew that Grey was a difficult person to deal with. After the competition, many people started to keep their eyes on him. Of course, Grey disappeared for a long period and only a few people knew of his whereabouts, but they managed to find out about his previous battles before he joined the Pyrmond Faction, so they knew he was well-versed with his elements.

"Together!" He screamed as a dark mist came out of his body.

Not just him, but it came out from the others' bodies as well. The mist soon converged and formed an orb.

It happened so fast that even when Grey and his friends tried to stop it, they were unable to.

"Grey, it'll increase their strength for a short period." Klaus was the one who spoke up when he saw the orb.

It was like a technique from the Moonlight Faction that could increase their strength for a short period. During this time, the explosive strength of the trio in the Elemental Venerable Plane would be greatly increased.

Grey knew these people wouldn't be able to defeat them, so the possibility of them wanting to escape was very high. This was something he didn't want to happen, if these people escaped, then he wouldn't be able to continue hunting down the others from the Syphilis Faction since they would know of this and group together.

"Don't let them leave." Grey created a chaos orb in his hand as he threw it at the young man fighting with Ellis.

The young man was the strongest in the group, so he wanted to make sure he suffered more before their strength increased.

The young man was about to block when Ellis sneakily attacked. The position of his attack was quite ingenious, and if the young man didn't block, he would suffer greatly from the attack.

Ellis smiled when he saw this and forced the young man to take Grey's attack.

The young man gritted his teeth and with no other choice, he could only try to minimize the damage from Grey's chaos orb. He already knew that Grey's attack power was not at the same stage as his cultivation stage.

When the chaos orb got to where he was, he soon regretted his decision. The power of the attack was well in the peak of the Mid stages of the Elemental Venerable Plane. This was something beyond his expectations. Even if Grey's attack power was strong, it shouldn't be on this level. One has to recall that Grey was still only in the First stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane. If his attack was already this powerful at this stage, then what would it be like when he's in the Mid stages of the Elemental Venerable Plane?

He soon guessed that this was not the strength of Grey's normal attack, rather, it was more like a special attack. However, even if it was a special attack, the margin was still so large that it was ridiculous!

Boom!

He was pushed back, but at the same time, the mist from the orb expanded to his side and his aura increased, but it wavered, it was clear that he was hurt by Grey's attack. If not for the fact that he still set up some defensive walls just as the attack was about to hit him, he would've been in danger.

Grey felt a bit regretful, but he didn't feel too disappointed. The young man was stronger than him, to begin with, so being able to disrupt him to this level was not bad.

Ellis on the other hand couldn't help but look at Grey. Although he had already accepted the fact that Grey was a monster, he was still shocked by the power of the chaos orb. He also sensed that there were multiple elemental essences mixed up in the chaos orb.

He was curious, but he didn't speak about it, after all, he only had one element. If he had multiple elements, he would've asked Grey for the technique.

Ellis used the opportunity and continued attacking, since the young man was hurt by Grey's attack, he wouldn't be able to unleash his full strength, even with the increase in strength.

Grey and Void continued fighting with their opponent.

Klaus and the others were the ones who felt the most change, the reason for this was that their opponent's strength increased and he was no longer being suppressed by them. It was time for his counterattack.

Chapter 1106 I Wish I Was Deaf!

Klaus and the others were still able to hold out, but they weren't able to suppress the young man any longer.

"F*ck! You moron, why are you cheating in the battle?" Klaus cursed as he fought with the young man.

The young man looked at him, speechless. Five people were fighting against one person, and although his cultivation stage was higher, it was still not a fair battle. Yet, just because he used something to increase his strength for a short time, Klaus was cursing at him, accusing him of cheating. If they were to say anyone was cheating, it was most definitely Klaus and his friends.

"If you know you were born, don't use this external power. I'll respect you. If not, your parents are dogs!" Klaus cursed.

The young man's expression darkened. Klaus' words were a bit annoying to listen to.

"Get away." He focused his attack on Klaus, leaving the others.

"Shit! Attack the others, why are you attacking only me? Is this how you bully those younger than you?" Klaus cursed and continued blocking, but this time, he was sent flying by the attack.

Now the attack was stronger than what he was previously able to handle. Before he could even get his bearing, the young man was already in front of him and he attacked.

Klaus' body glowed with a brilliant white light and an ice armor covered his body.

Boom!

His figure was sent flying once again, but he was still protected.

"What the hell are you guys doing? F*ck! I always knew you didn't like me!" Klaus yelled at the others as he ran in their direction.

The others wore embarrassed expressions, they couldn't help it. When the young man exploded due to Klaus' curses, they were unable to hold him back. Apparently, he was fully focused on Klaus and didn't want anything to do with anyone else.

Alice and Reynolds chuckled, they felt Klaus deserved the beating. Besides, he was close to the Elemental Venerable Plane, so the possibility of him being killed was very low. Unless the young man was in the Mid stages, he could forget about killing Klaus in a short time. Even with the increase in his strength, he was only close to the Mid stages, so Klaus was still okay, at most they would let him take some beating before helping.

They rushed over to help him when they saw that he was truly on the verge of breaking down.

The second they managed to block the young man, Klaus took in a deep breath before unloading a barrage of curses at the young man.

This time, even the eyes of the others twitched. You just managed to escape from his hands, and you've started cursing at his entire family. Klaus even went further to curse his future generations.

What infuriated the young man was Klaus' last words, which were, "Are you married? If yes, you would be cuckolded by someone close to you. If not, then forget it, you can never get married in this lifetime."

Klaus didn't forget to add, "It will also be a shame if you were a virgin. If yes, then you'll die a virgin. From the way you look, I don't think you've ever been with a woman."

This time, even Alice couldn't take Klaus' words any longer and said, "Shut up! If not, I'll beat you up."

Klaus was infuriating to listen to, even when he was only abusing his enemies. Can't he be a little less shameless with his words? He dared to say anything, truly, he dared to say anything and everyone close to him was aware of this.

"What? I'm just saying." Klaus shrugged, but wasn't bothered by Alice's words.

He gritted his teeth and a moon appeared behind him.

"Do you think you're the only one who can do this? Bloody idiot." He cursed once again and charged at the young man, this time he was intent on attacking.

His strength soon broke through the stage of the Sage Plane. The sky rumbled slightly.

"You see that? I'll break through and beat the crap out of you." He laughed in delight.

He never expected that doing this would be the last thing he needed to break through.

"Do you want to kill us? Shit! Restrain your aura!" Grey almost exploded from anger when he saw this.

What stupid breakthrough? Was something wrong with Klaus' head?

If he was breaking through normally here, although it would still be slightly dangerous, they would be able to take care of it. But now, the situation there was that the space was already unstable from their battles, if Klaus were to connect with the origin source at this moment, then the sky would attack them, just like the last time.

Klaus soon realized, and he couldn't help but give an embarrassed smile, his aura which was rising soon started to slow down. Although doing this was bad, it wouldn't affect him too much. He was a genius, he knew that he could still break through whenever he wanted to. Even if he didn't break through now, he could still break through next time.

Some people would not want to miss such an opportunity, even the trio from the Syphilis Faction was stunned when they saw that Klaus was actually stopping his breakthrough.

πανδα-ñovê|·cóm What is wrong with these people?

This was the only question resonating in their heads.

Klaus actually stopped his breakthrough. They couldn't help but feel regret, if Klaus had continued, then they would've been able to escape since Grey and the others would also have to run for their lives, but now, Klaus had stopped.

The young man was still looking at Klaus when Klaus said a word that almost made him vomit a mouthful of blood.

"What are you staring at? Do you think I'm like you trash? I can break through whenever I want." Klaus snorted and released his aura and hid it again.

"See, it's all within my grasp, idiot."

At this point, the young man gave up, he almost wanted to pray that he was deaf, so he wouldn't have to hear Klaus' voice any longer.

Chapter 1107 Fight To The Death

Grey and the others looked at Klaus, a little exasperated. While he was showing off to the young man they were fighting against and cursing at him, the sky would react whenever he increased his aura.

'Stop it already.'

Even Ellis was a little afraid of what might happen if the sky attacked them just like the last time. He wasn't certain they would be able to escape on time given the reaction from the sky.

Luckily, Klaus soon stopped when he saw that the young man couldn't take it any longer. The young man had an expression of wanting to fight to the death with him, of course, Klaus was never going to let that happen. He was not a match for the young man, so why would he court death?

Alice and the others were still holding the young man down and Klaus sent out a small ice needle that he had been preparing.

He covered his aura, but he was not any weaker than before. The only thing he made sure of was that he wouldn't break through during the fight.

His attack power successfully climbed into the Elemental Venerable Plane and when the needle was released, the young man sensed a threat to his life.

Without waiting for anything, he forcefully broke through from the entanglement of Alice and the others and dodged to the left. He couldn't take this attack, if not, he would be in danger.

The needle breezed past him, grazing his right cheek.

Blood didn't come out, rather, he started to feel an intense cold. One of the frightening things about Klaus' ice was that, presently, it didn't only freeze the body, but everything as well. Essence, physical body, and even spiritual consciousness.

The young man noticed his movements started to slow down due to this attack.

'Crap! Who's this guy?' He complained internally.

He didn't know of anyone with such an ability within the younger generation. Compared to Grey and his friends, he was a bit older, almost thirty years old. He could still be regarded as a youth. Elementalists all had a long lifespan, so even someone who is a hundred years old would still be considered a youth to some of those old guys who had lived thousands of years.

The young man used the darkness element to corrode the cold, trying to eat it up. He knew that he couldn't expel it, so he directly tried to consume it. Before long he regained his previous state.

Reynolds' Elemental Warrior used the opportunity to send an arrow at the young man who was still fighting with the cold from Klaus' attack.

The arrow hit a dark film that appeared around the young man, and with a strange vibration, it was stopped by the film.

Alice attacked at this time as well, using a powerful lightning elemental attack. Although she had awakened her fire elemental domain, her lightning element was still her strongest element.

Kyle also attacked as well. Before long the dark film broke down, but the young man had already regained himself and sent out a powerful rain of darkness arrows.

An ice wall rose up and covered the others while ice shards shot at the young man.

Knowing that it was Klaus' attack, the young man didn't dare to be careless as he hurriedly blocked them.

Seeing how things were, he immediately turned around, he wanted to escape. Fighting was meaningless, he couldn't defeat them, nor could they defeat him in a short time, but he knew that once his boost was exhausted, then he would not be able to leave, and might truly die in the hands of Klaus and the others.

He looked at his comrades and realized they were in an even more dangerous situation. As long as those ones were defeated, he would undoubtedly die.

'Escape.'

He turned around and escaped immediately.

Klaus' expression wasn't good when he saw this and he rushed to stop him. He couldn't let this guy go. Who would be his whetstone if this guy left?

This was the best chance for him to fight against an Elemental Venerable. He didn't dare to spar with Grey, he knew Grey would beat the hell out of him, Void was even worse, so he didn't ask any of them. He had been searching for a good opponent, how could he let this guy go?

The young man didn't know what was in Klaus' head, seeing him block his path, he sent out a palm. A large palm made of the darkness element appeared and covered Klaus' figure.

Just as the palm was about to close up, ice spikes sprang out from Klaus' body as he tried to destroy the palm. Holes opened up in the palm and Klaus reappeared, he slashed the sword at the young man who was trying to escape.

The attack power was so strong that the space shook. A large ice blade shot at the young man who was escaping.

He sensed the danger and was forced to turn and block it.

"You think you're my match?" He snorted and spread out his hands.

Two palms made from the darkness element came out and clasped. The ice blade was held firmly by the hands.

The young man threw out a spear, it was clearly an elemental weapon.

Sensing the baleful aura that was coming from the spear, Klaus quickly blocked. An ice screen appeared in front of him. Although it was called a screen, it was very thick, over one meter thick.

The spear hit the screen and it penetrated it with ease. Before long, it was already over half a meter deep.

At this time, the others had arrived and unleashed their respective domains at the young man.

The young man was infuriated by the group, they were not as strong as he was, but each of them was very difficult to deal with.

Klaus was the strongest, and he had the strongest defense as well. Even against an Elemental Venerable, he was not completely defenseless. The others didn't have his powerful attack, but they had a powerful attack to make up for it. Reynolds' Elemental Warrior was particularly frightening.

The young man might be an Elemental Venerable, but his physical body wasn't omnipotent. As long as he was struck by any of its attacks, he would be injured.

The young man blocked their attacks with an irritated expression.

Klaus on the other hand was almost scared out of his wits. The spear managed to break through the ice wall that was over a meter thick, luckily, it stopped just after the tip passed through it. The other part of its body was still in the ice wall, unable to advance.

Klaus was about to heave a sigh of relief when he sensed a great threat of danger. He hastily retreated while covering himself with ice armor.

The threat came from the spear, even when it was already stopped, since there was still a threat, he didn't want to know what it was.

Just as he was retreating, the spear exploded.

The explosion drew the attention of the others fighting against him, they knew Klaus was in the direction the explosion came from.

The young man used the opportunity and turned to escape.

"Where do you think you're going?" Klaus' voice came from behind the explosion.

Before Klaus' voice died down, a thin long ice spear shot at the young man with incredible speed.

The young man was once again forced to block Klaus' attack.

"Damn it!" He couldn't help but feel frustrated. He could sense the power in his body dwindling. If this continued, he wouldn't be able to escape.

The young man's pupils constricted but he still forced himself to block the attack. He couldn't help but feel a bit aggrieved.

"Look, we don't have any enmity. Let me leave. If you force me, I'll fight you with everything I have." He gritted his teeth.

"Oh, what have you been using since? You've been holding back? I never knew. Come on, show me what you have." Klaus laughed and continued attacking.

He wasn't scared of him. The young man was clearly in a state of desperation, he could already see that he couldn't escape, so he was threatening them.

The young man felt his world crumbling, Klaus was an unreasonable person. He didn't even want to listen to him.

Klaus and the other hand was smug.

'You want to fight to the death? Come on. Do you think we're afraid of you?'

This was his thought.

The others looked at the young man with pity. Klaus was too evil. They couldn't help but look at him, wasn't he afraid that the young man would forget everything and try to kill one of them.

The second the young man removed all reservations, he would be a deadly force. As long as he didn't care about anything, he might be able to kill one of them before dying.

Chapter 1108 Shocking Fighting Style

Klaus wasn't scared of the young man, he knew he wouldn't want to die, so why should he be afraid of his threats?

While they were fighting, he had secretly communicated with Grey, he would create an opportunity and Grey would unleash his ice domain. He would also use his personal domain with it as well and also send out a powerful ice attack with his sword. With all these, the possibility of the young man not freezing to death was low.

Grey had agreed to it without a second thought, if they could take this person out, it wouldn't be a bad thing.

On Grey's side, although he was not pressured, he was a little taken aback when Klaus suggested their joint attack. He had seen a glance of Klaus using the sword and knew that it was a great weapon. It was most likely something he obtained here since he didn't know of it.

He soon managed to send the young man they were fighting against back, and just as the young man was about to counterattack, Grey's figure blinked and Klaus appeared.

When Klaus appeared, he was already preparing a powerful attack, so he unleashed it at once.

Grey appeared on Klaus' end and his eyes glowed with a brilliant light. It had been a while since he used his mental attack. His icy flame didn't give him physical attack prowess, but it also gave him mental attack prowess as well. He still had the lotus in his head which had been developed by a large margin. Presently, its attack power was far higher than what it used to be.

The young man was frozen when he stared into Grey's eyes.

Grey didn't hold back and used both his icy domain and ice domain to attack the young man. Including the mental attack, it was both an internal and external attack, this made it impossible for the young man to move.

Grey switched places with Klaus once again, appearing in front of who he was fighting against.

Klaus appeared and attacked. Just like some moments ago when he switched places with Grey, he unleashed one of his greatest attacks.

The young man was already starting to show signs of fighting back against Grey's attack. So when Klaus arrived and sent out his attack, the young man who was just about to break free from the ice domains and ice mental attack was almost defenseless against Klaus' attack. The small defense he managed to set up was useless against the blade light that shot out of the sword in Klaus' hand.

The sword hit the body of the young man, and to the shock of the others, he was sliced in two.

Before Klaus' attack hit the young man, their attacks had hit him, but other than causing some injuries, they weren't too fatal. Klaus' attack on the other hand directly cut the young man into two.

Klaus' blade cut the young man in his waist, directly cutting him in two. However, he didn't die from this attack.

The vitality of Elementalists in the Elemental Venerable Plane was higher than that of those in lower Planes. In this stage, after connecting to the origin source, their life force increases by a large margin. In fact, unless they were completely obliterated, there was a high probability of coming back to life. But one of the easiest ways to kill them was by directly crushing them with powerful attacks, or destroying their spiritual senses, making them empty shells.

The Elemental Venerables Grey and the others killed looked quite easy mainly because they had the strength to completely overwhelm them. They killed these people without giving them any chance of survival. On a few occasions, Grey even destroyed the body and the spiritual senses with an attack.

Klaus and the others were still lacking in this aspect, but with the body of the young man halved, his strength had dropped drastically.

There was no way he could use up to sixty percent of his original strength now.

His shrill scream resounded in the area. please visit

From the first time Grey and Klaus switched places to when Klaus came back and cut him in half, it wasn't even up to two seconds. The coordination of the duo was impeccable, so even though the time was small, they still managed to do everything they wanted to.

Klaus did a complete outburst of his strength twice in the space of two seconds. It might look easy, but not many people could do it in such a short time.

Looking at Klaus, it was easy to see that he was slightly affected by this.

....

Grey didn't bother with the young man's scream, he just figured out something and he couldn't help but feel annoyed that he hadn't thought of this before.

He could switch places with Ellis, this way, there would be a certain unpredictability about them when they fight since their opponents wouldn't be able to guess who was attacking.

Ellis was just about to attack when he felt a strange force in his body, before he could react, he was already in the position Grey was while Grey appeared at the place he was standing.

Grey's voice resounded in his head, 'We'll be fighting in this manner henceforth.'

This would make the battle easier.

Ellis didn't reject the idea and attacked the young man Grey and Void were fighting against.

Ellis was stronger than the young man in the first place, so when the young man received an attack stronger than what he had been taking, he was not able to react on time and was sent flying.

Void took the opportunity to chase after him.

Ellis was about to continue when his vision changed and he appeared before his previous opponent.

He gave a wry smile and continued fighting.

Some minutes later, all three young men from the Syphilis Faction were dead.

They couldn't hold on against Grey's evil methods.

The young man who was cut in half was the first to die. After he died, the next person to die was unexpectedly the one fighting with Ellis. The reason for this was simple, Grey sent Void that way. With Ellis and Void working together, they took him out with ease.

The young man who was alone with Grey thought he could take advantage of the opportunity to escape, unfortunately for him, Grey wasn't prepared to let him leave.

Chapter 1109 Center Of The Ruin

"Are we going to continue? You should know others are heading to the center of the ruin now." Ellis asked after they killed the last young man.

Although revenge was good, they had a mission here, and that was to get benefits. They couldn't forget it because they wanted revenge.

"We would still have to journey out, it's not too bad to wait until after." Keith spoke as well.

He felt they should also focus on the task ahead. Besides, they've killed a good number of those from the Syphilis Faction. He knew for a fact that with the two in the Mid stages of the Elemental Venerable Plane killed, the overall strength of the people from the Syphilis Faction who entered this place had dropped drastically.

Previously, they had killed eleven, adding this five to it, it was sixteen.

Grey thought about it and nodded. He was not clouded by revenge and can't reason. Even while they were hunting down the people from the Syphilis Faction, he made sure that they were still headed in the general direction.

The group soon left the place, heading toward the center of the ruin.

Some minutes after Grey and his friends left the scene of the battle, a group arrived.

It was a group of people who wore black cloaks. The little girl looked at the environment and laughed.

"A battle took place here. Some people with the darkness elements." She said while studying the place, after some time she added, "Special icy flames. He's the one with that attribute, right?"

The cloaked figures didn't say a word as they just stood motionless.

The little girl muttered some words and after stamping her feet on the ground in annoyance, she moved. The black-cloaked figures moved along with her as well.

....

On another part of the ruin.

"Father, how did you know this was here?" Gilbert asked in shock.

He was with his father in a building, compared to others, they were the people who had advanced the most. His father seemed to be familiar with this place and they were able to maneuver through the terrain and arrive at a large palace-like building.

His father didn't even bother with anything and directly headed for a room. Inside the room was a crystal book.

After his father took in the information inside, the crystal book shattered.

"I've been here before." Gilbert's father said, his hands behind his back. In his eyes, one could see the melancholy in it.

"You've been here? When was that?" Gilbert asked. He was suspicious of this when they were moving through the place, but hearing it from his father, he didn't feel too shocked about it since he had already guessed it.

What he found strange was that his father said that he had been here before. This was a place that produced the last True God, if his father had been here, how long was it, and what did he obtain here?

"Don't think about these. Let's get going. Others will be appearing here soon. Later on, you can fight for some opportunities." His father didn't say anything and walked out of the room. please visit

"Can't we check out the other rooms since we're already here? We would be able to gain more benefits." Gilbert was a bit surprised by his father's words.

"It's best if you wait for others. This place, it's not as simple as it looks." His father replied, "The only reason we can come here is all because of this."

Gilbert looked at what appeared on his father's hand curiously. He had seen this thing before, at that time, he was still very young. He didn't know what it was, but his father used to stare at it for a long period in the past.

The item was a small jade pendant. In the pendant, there were writings and drawings. He could read the writings, so he didn't bother about it.

His father kept the pendant after showing it to him.

"Let's go outside, it wouldn't be good if anyone sees us leaving this place." Gilbert's father said and walked out.

Sometime later, they came out of the building and headed straight for the woods.

A few minutes later, the first batch of people arrived.

If Alice were here, she would recognize them, it was the group from the Vaergahl Family. They all had shocking auras, and some of them had signs of just breaking through. Obviously, they've gained a lot from this place.

Of course, they seemed to be missing some people. This place didn't house only opportunities, but it housed dangers as well.

When this group arrived, they stared at the palace-like building but didn't rashly rush into it.

They knew this place was most likely the most important place in the ruin, but there was a chance that it was also the most dangerous. The probability of this being true was very high, so they didn't dare to be rash.

Time slowly passed and more people started to appear. People from different forces started to appear. From the Burchard Family to the Moonlight Faction, to the Dawson Family, and the Pyrmond Faction.

Of each force, those that were separated would immediately group up with the others the moment they arrived.

Traveling together meant safety, but that would limit the number of people who could obtain anything, so after a few days, most of the groups were divided into smaller ones.

....

Some hours later.

The place was already filled with people. The father and son duo who left before anyone came had appeared as well.

Gilbert was looking around when his eyes caught sight of some familiar figures walking out of the woods.

Grey and his friends just arrived, and they were all staring at the large building in front of them. This was the thing that would naturally take their attention the moment they appeared.

"Father, let's meet up with them. I know some of them." Gilbert pointed at Grey and his group.

"Huh?" A surprised look appeared on the face of Gilbert's father as he raised his head to see Grey and Klaus who were walking side by side.

Chapter 1110 I Don't Know You

Gilbert noticed the strange reaction of his father and couldn't help but ask, "Is everything alright?"

"It's fine. You should go ahead. I'll catch up with you later." Gilbert's father said and didn't accompany him there.

Gilbert wanted to speak but his father had already turned around and was leaving.

Grey and Klaus saw him at this time, seeing the figure leaving, they felt a sense of familiarity.

"Have you seen that person before?" Grey whispered to Klaus.

"It feels like it. But I don't know where." Klaus replied with a thoughtful expression.

He was still thinking about it when Gilbert walked over.

"You've broken through to the Elemental Venerable Plane as well." Gilbert said as he saw Grey.

He couldn't help but sigh. Grey truly was a freak. When they met the last time, Grey wasn't at the Peak of the Sage Plane. But now, he had broken through to the Elemental Venerable Plane, around the same time as himself.

"I got lucky." Grey replied.

"Who was that with you earlier?" Klaus asked after exchanging pleasantries with Gilbert.

"My father. He had something to do so he left first." Gilbert replied.

"Oh, alright." Klaus didn't dwell in the matter any more.

He just felt the person was familiar, so he wanted to ask about the person. Since it was Gilbert's father, then he wouldn't bother about it.

Grey had the same thoughts as Klaus, so after Klaus asked about it, he also didn't speak about it again.

"What do you think is in this place?" He looked at the palace-like building. He could sense a fatal threat from it. From the looks of it, this was most likely the most important thing in this place, but it was also the most dangerous.

If his guess was correct, this was most likely the place the True God stayed when he was still around.

"I wonder what happened to the True God." He said out loud.

"Probably dead." Klaus replied carelessly before adding, "There's also a chance that he had gone to another world. I heard that there's actually a place where True Gods ascend to after breaking through the shackles."

Grey turned to look at him curiously, "Really?"

He had read some things about the True God Plane, but he didn't get too much information on it. Apparently, Klaus seems to know more than he did, so he was a little curious about it.

"Yes. That evil lady told me about it." Klaus nodded as he said.

"Evil lady? I wonder what the Mistress will say when I tell her about how you address her." A cheeky laugh came from behind Klaus.

Klaus' expression changed slightly when he heard this. The person who spoke just now was someone from the Moonlight Faction. She was in the Elemental Venerable Plane Elementalist and could be said to be the leader of the group that came out for this expedition.

"Lara, you're here." Klaus gave a fake smile.

"Hmph! Don't think I'll not tell the Mistress about this. I've always heard how you addressed her. Do you think she doesn't know?" Lara snorted.

She didn't seem to have a good impression of Klaus, to her, any guy who wanted to join the Moonlight Faction had evil thoughts. One of the things she didn't like about Klaus was how he was treated by the Faction Leader and some of the top Elders. It has to be known that even those geniuses who were already in the Elemental Venerable Plane aren't treated as well as Klaus in the Faction. He literally has free reign over all the techniques in the Faction, something that others had to work hard for.

Lara didn't wait for Klaus to reply as she glanced at Grey, "You're Grey?"

Grey looked at her, studying her. She was in the Sixth stage of the Elemental Venerable Plane, so even if he went all out, he knew he was no match for her. If it was when he still had access to the Fusion State, he wouldn't be afraid of anyone in this place.

He nodded at her, exchanging some pleasantries with her.

The group from the Moonlight Faction left after some time. Although Lara doesn't seem to have a good impression of Klaus, it doesn't mean that the others don't. She also spoke with him like an elder sister before leaving.

Grey and Reynolds poked fun at Klaus when they found out that he had an elder sister in his Faction. please visit

Klaus naturally couldn't be bothered with them. He started to look around when he sensed a deadly gaze in their direction.

Grey and the others sensed it at the same time as well and looked in that direction.

"They're from the Syphilis Faction." Keith said.

The group from the Syphilis Faction was led by a young lady. When she saw Grey, she gave him a bright smile as she walked with her large group in their direction.

While she was walking in their direction, the people from the Pyrmond Faction saw Grey and Keith and also walked in his direction.

Not just those from the Pyrmond Faction, but those from the Burchard and Dawson Family also walked over.

The area suddenly turned strange. A lot of people knew that Grey and the Syphilis Faction were at loggerheads. Many people had heard of Grey's name, but most of them hadn't seen him before, they'd only heard of his battles and how powerful he was. This was the first time most of them were seeing him.

The group from the Nether Faction also looked on with curiosity. They didn't want to involve themselves with this battle since there were multiple people involved in it.

Seeing the number of people who were on the side of Grey, those from the Syphilis Faction paused, and the young lady looked at Grey with a playful smile.

"It's been a while." She said.

"Do I know you?" Grey looked at her, seemingly thinking of when he saw her last.

The young lady's expression changed when she heard his question. She was someone who had exchanged blows with Grey, so seeing that Grey didn't recall her, she couldn't help but feel annoyed.

"It can't be helped, of all the people who had exchanged blows with you, you're very insignificant." Klaus added on, making the young lady even more furious.

"Who are you to speak in my presence?" She asked, annoyed.

"I'm someone he knows, does he know you?" Klaus mocked.

The young lady's eyes turned red from anger. Klaus' words were hurtful. He was purposely taunting her with these words.

Seeing that she was about to explode, Grey added.

"To be fair, I don't really know you. Where did we meet?"

The young lady snorted and decided not to speak to them any longer. If she continued talking, she might explode from anger.

Klaus and Grey were two hateful people. She had decided to make sure she killed them before they left this place.

They all decided to wait until after they were done exploring this place. They all wanted to get the benefits, fighting now would only leave them injured. Besides, it wasn't like they had a death feud. Grey might want them dead, but those from the Syphilis Faction don't think that they have a death feud.

Grey was willing to use this to his favor.

"We'll kill them as they separate. She looks familiar, but I don't recognize her." He whispered to the others.

When Ellis and Gilbert heard that Grey was not thinking of letting them go, they couldn't help but feel pity for the group from the Syphilis Faction. Apparently, Grey wanted to ensure that he killed all of them before leaving this place. Even after killing so many, he still wasn't satisfied.

Klaus and the others nodded. They were the ones who were more familiar with Grey, Keith might also know something since he had moved with him and saw how he went back for revenge even when he knew that the background of the person was strong. Since he could take revenge against someone from his Faction, he would definitely take revenge on these people.

"Alright, but we should focus on getting whatever benefits we can from this place first." Ellis suggested.

Grey nodded, he didn't have any issues with that. All he wanted was to make sure that these people suffered for having the thought of even wanting to kill him.

Almost everyone who was still alive was already present. Their number was staggering.

Without any further delay, they started to troop into the building. This was a historic place and it definitely housed some treasures. The things people saw on the way here were precious, there's a high chance that they would see even better things once they head in.

Grey and his friends also went in as well.

The moment they stepped into the building, it was like they were transported into another place. The world inside the building was shockingly large.
