Chapter 911 Dimensional Slash

The Earth Elementalist crashed into the incoming Wind Elementalist who was unable to avoid him.

With both figures down, Grey acted out quickly.

The young ladies managed to step out of the spatial tunnel and blocked the attacks of the inscriptions. They knew if they continued dodging, then they would be giving Grey the freedom he wanted to win the battle easily.

When they stepped out, Grey just got to where the Wind and Earth Elementalist were lying.

The young lady who had the lightning element attacked, but Grey didn't feel bothered by it. His inscriptions shot out an attack that blocked the attack of the young lady.

He kicked forward, trying to eliminate the duo on the ground with a single attack. The Earth Elementalist acted quickly and an arm made from earth appeared and blocked the attack by opening its palm.

Grey didn't fuss over this as he continued his assault, a lightning bolt fell from the sky, trying to hit Grey. He dodged to the left, and threw a fireball, mixed with lightning at the Earth Elementalist who had gotten up.

The Earth Elementalist blocked it, but he was forced back by the impact.

The Wind Elementalist had gotten to his feet, but Grey managed to close the gap and unleashed his gravitational force field. He reduced the distance it could cover and the effects of it increased.

The Wind Elementalist tried to create some distance between them, but the gravitational force field impeded his movement speed and he was slower than usual.

Just as Grey's attack was about to connect with him, he felt his hair standing on edge. Without even thinking too much, he vanished.

A spear made of black shot past where Grey was previously standing.

Grey looked at the spear after appearing and noticed it had spatial fluctuations. The spear was helped by the space element, this was why he didn't sense it quickly.

He looked back and saw the young lady who had both the space and darkness element smirk. She was the only Darkness Elementalist on the platform.

Grey shook his head before accessing his options once again. Originally, he wanted to eliminate the others, leaving only the Space Elementalists, but they were too much of a problem, so now, he wanted to change his focus to them.

The two inscriptions he created had been destroyed by the duo as well. Now he understood why they were able to attack him.

He rushed over, still acting as if he wanted to take out the Earth Elementalist.

When the Earth Elementalist saw him coming, he prepared to defend against him.

Grey glanced at the two Space Elementalists and noticed they were standing around three meters from each other. After making a rough calculation, he was certain that even if they could react, he would have enough time to take out one of them.

Coming to such a conclusion, he took action immediately. Just as he sent an attack the way of the Earth Elementalist, the Wind Elementalist attacked him, sending multiple wind arrows his way. Each arrow had a small twister at the tip, making them very dangerous if they got to hit a person unguarded.

The arrow was about to hit Grey when his figure suddenly blinked and changed in an instant.

He appeared where one of the Dual Elementalists was previously standing and attacked immediately. An earth pillar rose from where the other Dual Elementalists was standing, raising her into the air. She was met with Grey's lightning attack that sent her flying out of the platform.

At the same time this was happening, the other Dual Elementalists was hit by the Wind Elementalists' arrows and screamed in pain since she didn't try to block the attack in any way.

She didn't expect it in the first place.

Grey moved out quickly, since she was injured, this was his chance to take her out of the battle.

When he appeared beside her, she threw a lightning orb at him, but he evaded it easily and grabbed her hand, but she disappeared into the void.

Grey smirked and a black sword appeared in his hand, he swung it, and a tear appeared in space, forcing the young lady out of the spatial tunnel she just entered.

She couldn't continue through it since it had been cut in two.

This was a new technique Grey learned some time ago. It was a combination of the darkness and space element, he called it, 'Dimensional Slash'.

It was still in the early stages, but he knew it would become a powerful move in the future once he had perfected it.

The Dual Elementalists appeared before him once again, and he attacked, this time, a little more freely.

The Wind and Earth Elementalists were unable to react quickly due to Grey's switch skill, and were caught off-guard when Grey not only sent out the first Dual Elementalists, but when the Wind Elementalists' attack hit the second Dual Elementalists.

Grey forcing her out of space was even more shocking. Before they could react, Grey had used the earth element to create a pole that he swung at the defenseless Dual Elementalist who was still stunned by the sudden spatial tear in the tunnel.

The pole hit her cleanly and she was sent crashing out of the platform. She landed some meters away from the other Dual Elementalist Grey sent flying the other time.

In the space of a few seconds, Grey had turned the entire outcome of the battle once again. His victory was already confirmed against the remaining two people. If he defeats them, then he would've defeated a total of ten people from the seventeen people present in the camp of the Robertson Family, even if he were to lose later, this feat alone was worth remembering.

Most geniuses would've failed, especially with the two Space Elementalist, but Grey managed to skillfully eliminate them.

After removing the Space Elementalist, Grey placed his focus on the duo on the platform. It was easy to say they were not his match from the start.

Within a few minutes, he eliminated both of them.

Chapter 912 Create Another Miracle

Luthera's eyes were currently opened wide, not just her eyes, but her mouth as well. This made Klaus laugh as he found her current appearance to be very funny.

"Did he just switch places with one of them?" She asked, still shocked by the outcome of the battle.

"Oh, yeah. It's a move I taught him some time ago." Klaus said, flexing his muscles.

Luthera rolled her eyes, she knew full well that Klaus didn't know even the simplest move of the space element, so how could he teach Grey?

This was something that was possible since he might have an insight on the space element and tell Grey who's a Space Elementalist about it, helping him create a skill, but this was something that only a few people could do.

Most Elementalists focus on their elements, so even when they tend to gain insights on other elements, they wouldn't want to speak about it with said Elementalists, unless they were close to them. After all, who would want to empower their enemies?

Klaus saying something like this was very possible, but from the short time she had known Klaus, she knew he played with everything. When Klaus was on the platform fighting for her was the only time she had seen him very serious.

While thinking of Grey's battle, she recalled something, all five people Grey fought against were in the Fourth stage of the Sage Plane, while he was in the Third. Technically, each of his opponents was ahead of him with a single stage, yet it seemed like they were below him by two or more.

Grey dominated five people who each had a higher cultivation stage than himself. This was a story that was hard to believe. If most of the people here weren't present today, they wouldn't believe it if they were told about it.

Klaus felt a little better after seeing Grey dominating his opponents. His only concern from the Robertson Family was the young man who was in the Seventh stage of the Sage Plane. He was a famous genius that even Klaus had heard of, Tyrus Robertson.

A pure Earth Elementalist who had one of the strongest defenses and attacks among his peers in this Region.

Grey didn't think too much about them since he could boost his strength to the Peak of the Sage Plane and dominate whoever they sent to the platform.

The Head of the Robertson Family looked at the defeated group, before taking a deep glance at Grey.

For the first time in his life, he was impressed by a figure that wasn't from his family. It was hard not to be impressed with Grey. He was a generational talent, in fact, a historical talent.

He had not seen anyone dominate so many people while being on a lower stage compared to his opponents. However, thinking of the humiliation of his Family's geniuses, he couldn't help but shake his head.

If they managed to groom someone of Grey's level, he would've been the proudest person alive. Alas, there can't be two people of such talent alive. He didn't even believe there was anyone else on Grey's level.

Thinking about this, he felt a little better since this meant that Grey would also dominate other Family geniuses in the same manner he was doing to his.

He might be more biased toward his family members, but it didn't mean that he didn't know the truth.

He looked around, and only seven figures were left. The Seventh stage Sage Plane Elementalist was out of the picture since he felt sending him out would look like bullying. Yes, he accepted Grey's talent, but he didn't think for one minute that Grey would be able to defeat Tyrus.

The gap in cultivation stage was just too much for even someone of Grey's level of talent to close.

There were only six people present, four were in the Fifth stage of the Sage Plane, while the other two were in the Sixth stage. He thought about it for some time before giving a nod to the four in the Fifth stage.

He felt a bit embarrassed he had to send so many figures in the Fifth stage, but sending only two out was a bit dangerous since Grey was somewhat unpredictable.

Grey hadn't used his full strength since the start of the battle. This was something he knew too well, so he couldn't take the risk of sending out only two and having to watch them lose. If two lose, the other two would lose as well if he sent them over.

When the crowd saw the figures that were walking over from the Robertson Family, they couldn't help but shake their heads. However, they understood the reasoning behind this as well. Grey had defeated all the people sent to him, including five Fourth stage Sage Plane Elementalists.

The Head of the Robertson Family was only taking a precautionary step. As long as they won, that was all that mattered.

Losing to Grey would leave the bet wide open again and Klaus might actually end up winning. Leaving here without being able to marry Luthera would be a bigger disgrace and embarrassment to them, than actually sending out all seventeen people at once.

Of course, the only thing that could topple that is if Grey defeated all seventeen people simultaneously. Defeating them in groups gave the Robertson Family a small chance to cover their shame.

They could easily say they underestimated Grey, or maybe Grey hid his true strength.

There were even a few people in the crowd who felt Grey was above the Stage Plane, but he used a special technique to reduce his strength that even these experts above the Elemental Venerable Plane couldn't notice.

The strongest experts here were at the Peak of the Elemental Sovereign Plane. If Grey could hide from them, then he was even more of a freak than people were thinking he was.

Luthera was a little worried, but seeing Klaus' nonchalant expression, she also decided to put her faith in Grey.

'Maybe he will produce another miracle.'

Chapter 913 It Phased Through?

Grey stood on the platform, still as calm and poised as when he first stepped on the platform. It was as if he hadn't gone through any battles yet and was waiting for his first fight.

When the four geniuses at the Fifth stage of the Sage Plane stepped onto the platform, they looked at Grey, a bit of awe was evident in their eyes, but more hate.

Grey was a genius that invoked awe from other geniuses, they didn't even have the guts to be jealous of him, he was just too far ahead of them.

From his battles so far, a one-on-one battle against either of these geniuses would most definitely result in a victory for him, this was something that everyone there knew, including the geniuses that were facing him right now.

They didn't dare to underestimate him, so they planned to attack together. Not wanting to give Grey the chance he wanted to do as he willed.

Of the Four Elementalists, two were Fire Elementalists, a young man, and a young lady. The others were young men, one being a Water Elementalist, while the last was a Dual Elementalist, having the darkness and earth element.

They all attacked simultaneously, sending out multiple attacks at Grey who was standing in the same spot.

Grey, seeing all the attacks coming his way, didn't panic, with a wave of his hand, he used the space element to dispel the attacks coming his way.

Given the strength of each attack, it took a lot of effort from Grey's end to dispel them with his space element.

The Water Elementalist sent out ice arrows at Grey, while the Dual Elementalist used the earth element to send Grey into the air by creating a pillar that rose from the ground quickly.

The Fire Elementalists attacked as well. Their sync and coordination were top-notch, and it was applauded by everyone around. If not for the fact that they were fighting against someone who was two stages below them, it would've been a beautiful scene.

Grey, who was mid-air flipped, and with a spin, he covered himself with a fire dome that protected him from all the attacks that were coming his way.

When the fire dome died down, Grey's figure was nowhere to be seen. He was fighting against a group that didn't have a Space Elementalist, if he didn't take advantage of being the only Space Elementalist on the platform, then he must be insane.

The Four Elementalists were alert as they looked around in search of Grey.

Even though they were not Space Elementalists, they could still sense the ripples in space, so they could easily track Grey down whenever he came out of the spatial tunnel, as long as they focused.

Unfortunately, Grey didn't plan on giving them an easy time.

Two inscriptions appeared mid-air and attacked.

While they were busy dealing with the attacks, he appeared close to where the Dual Elementalist was standing and attacked.

Whenever he fought against multiple opponents, he preferred taking out the person he felt was the most threat.

The Dual Elementalist employed the darkness element to attack Grey when he sensed him.

Grey used the lightning element to counter before drawing closer to the Dual Elementalist who was on a retreat, trying to keep a good distance away from Grey.

From Grey's previous battles, he knew Grey was very dangerous once he gets too close, so he didn't want to repeat the same mistake others did.

The young lady who was a Fire Elementalist managed to free herself from the assault of the inscriptions within a short time and attacked Grey who was trying to shorten the gap between himself and the Dual Elementalist.

Grey was forced to block the attack which was coming his way. The other Fire Elementalist attacked as well, forcing Grey to dodge to the side, further increasing the space between him and the Dual Elementalist who used the chance to also attack him with a large boulder that fell from the sky.

Grey used a fire blade to slice the boulder into two, before disappearing, when he reappeared, he was not too far from the Water Elementalist. He unleashed his gravitational force field which slowed down the reaction of the Water Elementalist.

Even though they were warned against this move, and they had been preparing to neutralize the attack, it was still very difficult for the Water Elementalist since Grey made sure he used the smallest area possible, that way the strength of the gravitational force was increased by a lot.

After doing this, Grey attacked the Water Elementalist.

Just as his attack was about to hit, the Fire Elementalist who was a young man attacked, trying to stop him.

Grey's figure seemed to blink and it was as if the attack phased through him.

When those from the stands saw this, they opened their mouths in shock.

The old experts from the two Families all looked at Grey as if he was a monster. The skill he just utilized was one of the hardest moves a Space Elementalist could utilize. Grey was still so young, yet he was already able to use it so well.

The skill involved entering and coming out of space almost instantaneously, however, there would be a small gap so the attack that was sent his way would pass through. First off, it was very dangerous because if timed wrong, the Space Elementalist might actually appear in the middle of the attack, defenseless.

That was far worse compared to taking the attack head-on.

After doing this, while the entire place was still in shock, those on the platform included, Grey continued toward the Water Elementalist. A large hammer made from the earth element appeared and he used it to smash the Water Elementalist from the side.

The Water Elementalist was sent flying, Grey moved along as well. With his body covered with red lightning, his speed almost doubled and he shot after the young man who was hit.

He wanted to make sure he took him out.

Chapter 914 A Complete Package

Grey soon caught up with the Water Elementalist who was mid-air and attacked him once again.

This time, the Water Elementalist managed to put up some form of resistance, covering himself with ice.

Grey used the space element to cut through the ice with a precise attack, slicing through the space where the ice formed, creating an opening for himself.

The next attack was a lightning bolt that passed through the opening and struck the young man who was still inside the dome.

Grey made sure the place he opened up wasn't large, so it was almost impossible for the young man to dodge the attack without removing the dome. If he did this however, he would be at Grey's mercy since he wouldn't be able to stop Grey from attacking any further.

Grey used a perfect attack to put the Water Elementalist in a dilemma where whatever option he chooses, he would still lose.

In the end, the Water Elementalist dispelled the ice dome, hoping to block Grey's incoming attack with everything he got.

Unfortunately for him, he felt a tug and was dragged towards Grey by an unknown force. Before he could even react, Grey slammed him into the ground.

The Water Elementalist passed out cold the next instant.

Everything happened so fast, from Grey appearing and using his gravitational force field, to phasing through an attack, then to sending the Water Elementalist flying and finally knocking him out. It didn't take over five seconds, which showed just how fast and decisive Grey was at making decisions.

Grey accessed everything and made the best decision he felt was worth a shot, and surprisingly, with the help of his shock factor, he succeeded.

In a match against four opponents who were all two stages ahead of him, Grey shockingly had the advantage.

The Head of the Robertson Family didn't know if he should be impressed at Grey's insane abilities, or if he should be disappointed at the incompetence of his Family's geniuses, but one thing was for sure, he wished someone like Grey was from his Family.

Grey was a little over twenty years of age from what he could tell, yet he was already so powerful, and from the fight, he knew Grey was a seasoned fighter. Compared to the geniuses from his Family, Grey was miles ahead of them. In fact, he didn't mind adopting Grey at the moment and making him the future Family Head.

Lothar looked at Grey and felt a tinge of pain in his chest.

'Why isn't he the one who likes her?'

He honestly wished Grey was the person his daughter liked. If he were the one, he would've given her to him from the start of the battle and called off everything. He knew for a fact that after this battle today, Grey's name would spread far across the entire Region.

Luthera was once again flabbergasted by Grey's abilities. Even Klaus showed a bit of surprise when he saw Grey phase through the attack. This was the first time he was seeing this as well.

He shook his head with a wry smile.

"Freak." He muttered under his breath, but Luthera heard him.

"I'm afraid he's more than a freak." She replied in a low voice.

She hadn't seen anyone on Grey's level, nor had she heard of anyone like Grey. He was just too special. How could there be someone this talented?

Tyris took a deep glance at Grey, but after some time, he shook his head with a rueful smile.

"Unfortunately, he's still too weak. I would've loved to fight against him." He said with a rueful smile on his face.

Just like the Family Head, he also felt he was too strong for Grey. Of course he would have some difficulties when fighting against the people Grey was currently fighting against, but he would still come out victorious, comfortably.

He wouldn't take as long as Grey while fighting against them.

He looked at the platform and scoffed when he saw the body of the young man who passed out.

After beating the young man out cold, Grey retreated to the side so his comrades could take him out of the platform and he would be attended to.

'One down, three to go.' He looked at his opponents with his usual nonchalant eyes.

Looking into his eyes, his opponents were a little afraid, for some reason, they couldn't help but wish they weren't fighting against him. Even with their numerical advantage, they still felt a bit inferior to him.

Due to their strength, their attacks are more effective on Grey which was normal, but Grey was very smart and had managed to always dodge a head-on confrontation with them. His wits had given him the edge he needed against them.

At this rate, he wouldn't even need to boost his strength or anything to fight with them.

Having multiple elements was also very useful to him since it made him versatile when fighting. He wouldn't need to fear when defending, attacking, and even dodging. He had it all.

From the standpoint of others, Grey was actually the complete package. He had the space and lightning element for dodging or using skillful movement skills to close down on his opponents. Then the earth element was there to help him defend against attacks. As for firepower, his fire and lightning elements were there.

Then there's also the uniqueness of the space element. Take for instance when he cut through the ice dome of the Water Elementalist. This wasn't something he could do with the other elements since the defense of the Water Elementalist was on par with them. But the space element was a different issue.

The remaining three figures exchanged glances. When they started the battle, they were confident that they could take Grey out, after all, with their numbers, they didn't need to fear him. But as it stands, they felt they made a mistake.

Their demeanors changed and Grey could sense an aura of seriousness, they wanted to take the battle to its peak from now and eliminate Grey quickly. If they waited for too long, then Grey would most definitely defeat them one by one.

Chapter 915 Bringing Back Fun Memories

All three figures attacked Grey simultaneously, not wanting to give him the chance he wanted to take them out.

The Dual Elementalist used the earth element to create a cube that vibrated, giving off a large amount of essence.

The cube was floating behind him, and Grey guessed it was some type of skill similar to what Klaus did with the ice moon to increase his strength.

The Dual Elementalist didn't stop there, with a wave of his hand, black tendrils shot at Grey, all made from the darkness element.

Grey would naturally not want this to hit him.

He wanted to dodge, but the two Fire Elementalists attacked at this point. One from the left, and the other from the right.

The Dual Elementalist was attacking from the front, in a pincer attack, Grey was forced to either retreat back or take the attacks head-on.

Most people felt he would want to dodge the attack since he had the space element, but Grey had another plan.

He created a small inscription, hidden from the view of everyone. He stood above the inscription which was inscribed on the floor of the platform.

With a smile on his face, he prepared to face the attacks head-on.

When everyone saw the decision he made, they couldn't help but wonder if he was normal or not. A sensible decision would be to retreat to the back or even move forward, that way, all he had to focus on was to deal with the black tendrils coming his way. Standing in the same spot was making things difficult for him.

Grey naturally didn't care what people thought of him.

Luthera was a little worried when she saw this and her hold on Klaus' hand grew tighter, but looking at him, she gained some sort of confidence once again.

Klaus, noticing her hold turned to look at her and smiled. He already knew what Grey wanted to do. After watching Grey fight for so long, he knew this was the perfect time for him to use his special space element technique, switch.

As long as Grey picked the right person, then he would be able to take out another person in a short time.

And just as Klaus thought, Grey's figure blinked just when the attack was about to hit him, and the figure there changed to the young man who was a Fire Elementalist.

Even though Grey had used this technique once before, they still didn't expect it, and the young man was hit by all three attacks, luckily, his attack didn't do him much harm.

He was tied by the black tendrils which started to corrode his elemental essence, while the attack of the other Fire Elementalist struck him.

Just when he thought it was over, he felt a lightning bolt shoot out from the place where he was standing. It hit him in the nether region and sent him flying into the air as he screamed in pain.

Everyone heard his horrific scream and the men in the area could help but feel a chill run down their spines. The area Grey's inscription attack hit was one of the most sensitive parts in a man's body, so it was natural that the pain the Fire Elementalist felt at the moment was beyond words.

A burst of laughter came from the side, it was from none other than Klaus. Seeing this, he recalled his technique that became famous in the trial land, the nutcracker. Although this was different from it, it had almost the same effect. This one could be said to be even more powerful since it was from an elemental attack.

When the young man crashed to the ground, he couldn't even move, with both hands on his crotch, he started to shake and before long, passed out with foam coming out from his mouth.

Grey had an awkward expression on his face since he never planned for something like this to happen. Hearing Klaus' peal of laughter made it even worse and he couldn't help but look down, a bit embarrassed.

The eyes of the Head of the Robertson Family twitched when he saw the condition of the Fire Elementalist. Even for someone of his strength, that was a place he wouldn't want to be attacked.

Grey had taken out another person, although it was with an odd tactic, it was successful.

The other Fire Elementalist was a young lady, when she saw the condition of her companion, she looked at Grey with hateful eyes. The Dual Elementalist on the other hand couldn't help but look at the ground, afraid Grey set another inscription on the floor.

What was even worse was that none of them knew when Grey created the inscription, so it made him even more fearful.

Without even thinking twice, he made pants with the earth element.

When Grey saw this, his mouth twitched slightly.

He only wanted to eliminate one of them, he never thought the Fire Elementalist would keep his legs wide open when he stood there. And with the way Grey was previously standing, the attack would've run through his leg, electrocuting him.

Klaus, seeing the Dual Elementalist making pants with the earth element couldn't contain his laughter and burst out laughing once again.

This time, he wasn't the only one who found this funny, a few people chuckled at it, but because of the fear of not wanting to offend the Robertson Family, they hid it quickly.

Grey glanced at Klaus, and all he wanted to do at the moment was to pummel him.

The Fire Elementalist who was still on the platform attacked Grey who still had an awkward expression on.

Grey turned his attention back to the fight in front of him, with a swift movement, he dodged the attack and moved closer to the young lady.

She turned around and attacked, Grey could tell that she was clearly infuriated.

He blocked her next attack with the help of a hand made from the earth element, before attacking with the fire element.

The Dual Elementalist joined in on the battle as well, with his earth pants, of course.

Everyone soon started to forget about what happened some time ago and focused on the fight, everyone except Klaus who was laughing his head off at the Dual Elementalist fighting with earth pants.

Chapter 916 New Motivation To Grow Stronger

Grey's figure flashed through the platform as his body was covered with red lightning while he attacked.

The Dual Elementalist and Fire Elementalist were keeping him at bay. The ferocity of their attacks was currently above the last time.

They attacked intending to take Grey out. When Grey tried to block an attack, he was forced back by it, this showed just how high the current attack power of the duo was.

Luckily, with the help of his space and lightning element, he didn't really need to face all of their attacks. He could dispel any attack that came within a certain area of him with his space element.

The Dual Elementalist acted as the support, while the Fire Elementalist was the main attacker. She was like a dormant beast that was released into the world to cause havoc.

Everyone felt chills as they watched the battle. Even Klaus had stopped laughing. The battle was currently at its peak, and in a few minutes, the winner would be announced.

He felt confident that Grey would win, but watching the Fire Elementalist's relentless attacks, he felt a bit worried.

This was normal since nothing was set in stone. Just as Grey had multiple trump cards and shock factors, so did other geniuses. They couldn't underestimate anyone.

Of course, it would be almost impossible to see someone as special as Grey, but there are a few who were above normal geniuses as well.

While fighting, Grey didn't dare to lose focus. He created an inscription, and after so long, he finally created an array to bolster his speed with the space element. Now, he could teleport at a faster pace.

The Dual Elementalist was the calmest of the duo, and he assessed the situation with precision. He made sure the Fire Elementalist was never left alone with Grey.

They knew for a fact that alone, Grey would beat them up within a matter of seconds. The two people who had been eliminated were a result of Grey's ingeniousness and strength. If they made a single mistake, they knew Grey would capitalize on it.

Thinking up to this stage, the Dual Elementalist tried to make sure they were the ones in control of the battle. And since they started attacking him again, they had gotten a good hold on the battle. There had been a few times when Grey countered, but they made sure they didn't give him the chance to utilize his skills before forcing him to defend.

The Head of the Robertson Family was impressed with their performance after they lost the Fire Elementalist. At this rate, he felt maybe they had some chance of defeating Grey.

If they won, then he would be relieved since he managed to keep the reputation of his family.

When Grey saw how difficult things were starting to get, even with his space element, the Dual Elementalist was making it hard for him to use it properly. The Fire Elementalist also attacked continuously, not stopping for a second.

'Looks like I'll have to use it now.' He thought internally.

He still hadn't used his domains, so he could still use them to change the tides of the battle.

After coming to a conclusion, he decided to use his lightning domain first, his fire domain was stronger, so he wanted to keep it for later.

When the Dual Elementalist was about to attack, he suddenly felt a sizzling sensation, looking around, he noticed he was shrouded with lightning. It was as if he was standing in a sea of lightning, everywhere he looked, all he saw was lightning.

He didn't even have the time to react before he was zapped and hit by multiple lightning.

With a yell, he tried to break free from the lightning domain.

"Don't bother."

He heard a voice behind him, and before he knew it, everything went black and his body fell to the ground.

The sea of lightning went off and the unconscious body of the Dual Elementalist was on the ground.

Everyone, including the top experts, stood up in shock when they saw the lightning sea.

"A domain, at such a young age, how?" The Head of the Robertson Family couldn't keep calm.

Grey had given him far too many surprises. Even after thinking highly of Grey, he realized he was still underestimating him.

Grey was still in the Third stage of the Sage Plane, yet he already had a domain. This was a shocking fact.

If he were to know that Grey awakened his domain while he was still in the Overlord Plane, it was unknown what his reaction would be.

Those from the Braun Family looked at Grey, they sucked in a deep cold breath, bamboozled by Grey's abilities once again.

Grey had awakened a domain, and he had been keeping it to himself all this while. Using it now showed how far the Dual and Fire Elementalists pushed him.

Luthera turned to look at Klaus, and to her surprise, she noticed that he had a stunned expression.

"You don't know about him awakening his domain?" She couldn't help but ask.

According to Klaus, he was very close with Grey, so if he didn't know of Grey's domain, it would be a shocking thing.

"I know he has awakened a domain, even while he was still in the Overlord Plane, but it's not with his lightning element." Klaus replied with a low voice.

"What?!" Luthera exclaimed, attracting attention since she couldn't keep her voice down.

Klaus shook his head with a wry smile. He only recently awakened his a few months ago, Reynolds who was the closest to doing so was still very close but hadn't, Alice was the only one who wasn't showing any signs of awakening hers anytime soon, yet, Grey had awakened another.

Even though they were friends, it was still a bit frustrating thinking about how far Grey was leaving them behind. This was one of the reasons he had been training with all seriousness. He even forgoes his usual playful lifestyle to make sure he grew faster, yet, even with his high luck, he still was behind Grey.

"Such a headache." He chuckled.

He was happy for Grey, and now, he gained a new motivation to grow stronger, and faster. He knew he would never catch up to Grey, but he wanted to make sure that Grey didn't leave him too far behind.

Chapter 917 Three Left

The Fire Elementalist was shocked, before she could react, Grey was already standing before her.

He wanted to use the opportunity that presented itself after he used his domain to take out the Dual Elementalist.

Seeing Grey standing in front of her, she hastily reacted, attacking him.

Grey blocked the attack coming his way, before countering.

The Fire Elementalist tried to block the attack, but she was left open from her back, and Grey's inscription appeared behind her and attack.

The fire attack slammed into her back, sending her flying in Grey's direction.

Grey, who was already prepared for this, didn't delay as he attacked her with a lightning orb.

The lightning orb exploded, sending her flying off the platform.

Victory, Grey had gotten victory against four opponents that were each two stages above him. A shocking feat!

At this rate, the crowd were all wondering where such a genius came from. Even the parents of Luthera were no longer calm.

Yes, Grey wasn't the one who wanted to marry their daughter, but he was friends with the person who wanted to, and the fact that he was willing to fight against so many people alone for Klaus showed how close they were.

Klaus and Luthera celebrated Grey's victory, a little relieved that they were getting closer to their aim. Looking at the people left in the queue, they couldn't help but gulp down their saliva, a little excited about what other surprises Grey had in store.

They already knew of him having the fire domain, something that most of the people here weren't aware of. As long as Grey played his cards well, then victory wasn't out of sight.

Klaus wasn't even bothered, since Grey already told him he would defeat everyone, then he would. There was no use thinking of how he could use it, as long as he defeated everyone, he was okay with the result.

The Head of the Robertson Family nodded to the two Sixth stage Sage Plane Elementalists, he never thought it would get to this.

When Grey first stepped on the platform, he thought maybe the first two people would be able to defeat him, but since the start of the battle till now, Grey had been giving him one surprise after another.

The duo stood before Grey, assessing him, they still found it odd that he managed to defeat the others, all by himself.

"Your impressive run ends here." One of them with long black hair said coolly.

Grey didn't reply, only setting his sight on the duo.

They moved instantly, and he noticed one of them was surprisingly a Light Elementalist, and the other was a Water Elementalist.

The Light Elementalist was naturally the faster one, so he was the first to attack Grey.

Grey knew he couldn't compare to speed with a Light Elementalist in his current state, so he didn't even try to dodge since it might leave a way for the Light Elementalist to attack him, instead, he utilized his gravitational force field, in hopes of slowing down the Light Elementalist.

The Light Elementalist was taken by surprise, but he managed to quickly neutralize the effect in a matter of seconds and continued his attack on Grey.

The time he slowed down gave Grey the opportunity he needed to set up a defensive wall, and also think of a counter.

While the Light Elementalist was attacking, the Water Elementalist also attacked, but he didn't close the gap between them, he created a large octopus made of water, with multiple tentacles, and he sent the legs in Grey's direction.

Just as the Light Elementalist attacked Grey, one of the tentacles grabbed Grey by the leg and with a tug, Grey was taken off his feet.

Bang!

The Light Elementalist attacked at this moment.

The defensive wall Grey set up was basically useless since he had been dragged out of the place by the tentacle.

Grey's figure slammed into the ground and bounced off.

Before he could regain himself, the Light Elementalist was already beside him as he tried to kick him away.

However, just as he was about to kick him, he felt a powerful repulsion force and it sent him flying, away from where Grey was located.

Even with the repulsive force that sent the Light Elementalist flying, the tentacle didn't leave him alone.

Grey used the opportunity to stand on his feet before using a lightning sword to cut off the tentacle holding onto his leg.

A second tentacle came his way after he cut off the first one which had regenerated at this point.

The Light Elementalist also attacked once again.

Since the Water Elementalist was focused on controlling the octopus, he didn't bother to send another attack.

Grey welcomed the incoming attacks with zeal and fervor. He had always been a battle lover, so now that a tough battle presented itself before him, he was a little bit excited.

Boom! Bam! Bang!

The battle quickly intensified. The duo fighting against him had good chemistry, so they were able to force him into a tight spot.

Although he was fighting against two people, he had to admit that this battle was tougher than the previous one.

The Light Elementalist was using his speed to cancel his space element which was his fastest means of movement. Not just that, but he was also ensuring that he was not in the space area with the Water Elementalist. This way, Grey would not be able to use his switch skill.

After watching Grey fight, they started to create some preventive measures before they stepped on the platform.

The only reason the Light Elementalist was getting close to Grey was that he didn't want him to set his eyes on the Water Elementalist. With the manner in which he was attacking Grey, it would be almost impossible for Grey to get close to the Water Elementalist.

Things were going smooth for them, but his facial expression suddenly changed when he noticed a change in Grey's attack pattern.

Grey, who had been fighting with his elements all these while suddenly brought out a short sword and threw it in the direction of the Water Elementalist. If it was any other person, he would've said it was due to frustration, but Grey was different.

While thinking of this, his pupils shrunk when Grey's figure suddenly vanished, appearing on the spot where the sword was, with the sword in his hand and a powerful orb at the tip of the sword which was pointed at the Water Elementalist.

Chapter 918 One More

Grey appearing in front of the Water Elementalist, holding onto the sword he threw came as a shock to the crowd. What they didn't know was that Grey marked the sword before throwing it.

It looked like an act of desperation on the outside, but it was a well-thought-out plan he came up with when he couldn't find a way through the Light Elementalist who was making life difficult for him.

When he appeared, he instantly used his lightning domain. Before releasing the orb that was compressed to a very tiny orb. It contained shocking power, even though it was around one-third of its normal size.

The orb that was made from the fire element, exploded in the lightning domain, with the Water Elementalist in it.

The blue and silver color of the two elements gave the crowd a beautiful sight to behold. It was beautifully dangerous.

The Light Elementalist tried to come into the scene, but he was a tad too slow in reacting, and Grey had already used both attacks.

Grey turned to look at him with a smile.

When the explosion died down, an ice dome stood in front of everyone, proudly and untouched.

Grey's smile froze when he saw this, but he didn't think too much of it. With a wave of the sword in his hand, the ice dome, which stood proudly a few moments ago, came crashing down, and the body of the Water Elementalist was inside. Everyone could tell that he was suffering from burns, and he was currently vibrating, an effect of electrocution.

Grey hastily covered his body with the earth element, this way, there was no way the Light Elementalist would be able to rescue him.

After Grey took the body of the Water Elementalist who was still shaking, the Light Elementalist arrived and attacked.

Grey was naturally never going to let him heal the Water Elementalist. Without the Water Elementalist, Grey could focus on the Light Elementalist.

He retreated, moving away from where the Light Elementalist was standing. He brought out five more swords and threw them in five different directions. Each sword sank into the edge of the platform, while he stuck the last one in his hand in the middle of the platform.

All six swords were marked, so at the moment, he could change his location almost instantaneously.

With the body of the Water Elementalist still with him, he teleported to where one of the swords was implanted on the platform and struck the body of the Water Elementalist with a lightning attack.

The Water Elementalist shook before his eyes rolled back and he passed out. Grey had eliminated one of the two Sixth stage Elementalists, while still in the Third stage of the Sage Plane.

The move he used was a unique skill since it was something most of the people there had never seen. Only a few had heard of it. It was also a very difficult move to pull off with the space element and could be regarded on the same level as the move he used previously to phase through an attack. Learning one of these moves could already make a Space Elementalist a fearsome individual, the fact that Grey had managed to learn both at such a young age was shocking to them.

The top experts there knew each of the swords Grey threw out carried the aura of the space element. Only the person who marked it could teleport to where it was located.

The Light Elementalist seeing Grey take out the Water Elementalist paused, he knew fighting against Grey on his own would be difficult.

Grey had been using his inscriptions so far, and even then, the duo had been able to fight against him, but now that he had to fight against only one of them, he wouldn't have any problems with attacking and defending against the Light Elementalist.

The Light Elementalist rushed after Grey and tried to attack.

Grey didn't waste any time standing in one spot, he teleported to where one of the swords was and attacked the Light Elementalist from where he was standing. He also created two inscriptions made from his fire and lightning elements. He released his gravitational force field across the entire platform.

Although the larger the distance it had to cover, the lower its effect, he didn't really mind.

The Light Elementalist and Grey exchanged blows with none of them coming out on top.

Grey was faster now, so he dodged every single attack that the Light Elementalist sent his way. The same can't be said for the Light Elementalist since Grey was attacking with both his inscriptions and also sending out attacks on his own.

The Light Elementalist soon noticed Grey was teleporting at such speed with the help of the swords. After thinking about it, he rushed over to the sword in the middle of the platform and kicked it off.

Just as the sword went airborne, Grey appeared beside him with a wide smile. The gravitational force field drew closer, and the force in it increased with it.

The Light Elementalist tried to escape, but it was impossible, given Grey's speed of action.

Grey used the lightning domain once again.

The gravitational force field and the lightning domain were what he needed to complete the battle. It took him almost ten minutes to fight against the two Sixth stage Sage Plane Elementalists, but he succeeded, against all odds.

Everyone already felt Grey had lost when the duo in the Sixth stage of the Sage Plane stepped on the platform. And when they started to dominate him at the start of the battle, they all felt their assumptions were right.

However, Grey turned the tides of the battle with another shocking skill. The crowd didn't know how many times he had shocked them since the start of the battle, but they knew they were almost starting to go numb from it.

They all turned to look at Tyris, who had a stunned expression on his face. Everyone from the Robertson Family couldn't believe Grey was single-handedly beating their geniuses, and he wasn't even resting after each fight.

Chapter 919 Battling With Tyris

"Is he really going to succeed?" Luthera held onto Klaus' hand, nervous from the fact that Grey had fought off everyone, with the exception of Tyris.

After Klaus lost, and they all heard Gregory's request, she gave up all hope. The fact that Klaus didn't allow Grey to join him when Gregory asked him annoyed her a little. She felt if Grey was with him during that battle, they would've won the first round.

If they won the first round, then they would've been able to put the pressure on those from the Robertson Family. However, Klaus let his pride get the better of him and he didn't allow Grey to fight, opting to fight alone.

After he lost, he placed so much pressure on Grey's shoulder, and now Grey has to fight off against so many people alone. When Klaus told her that Grey would be successful, she didn't think much of it since she didn't believe it. She just felt Klaus was saying that to make her feel better.

Grey went on to win his first battle quite easily, to her surprise, the second and third as well. After he defeated the duo in the Sixth stage of the Sage Plane, she started to see some glimpses of light. Maybe Klaus wasn't wrong from the start and truly believed his friend will be able to defeat them on his own.

Now that he was about to fight against Tyris who was the greatest genius in the Robertson Family under the Elemental Venerable Plane, she didn't feel as pressured as before. In fact, she was excited, waiting to see the reactions on the faces of those from the Robertson Family when Grey beat up Tyris.

Klaus looked at her with a smile, "I told you didn't I? He will defeat them all. He's Grey, and I can't put my life in his hands, he will never disappoint me."

"But honestly though, is he really human? I find that hard to accept." Luthera couldn't help but say.

"Haha, I said that the first time he started to show this monstrous ability of his." Klaus laughed when he heard her question.

Everyone close to Grey always felt like this, so it was quite normal.

Tyris didn't wait to get the nod from the Head of the Robertson Family as he stood up and walked over to the platform alone. His figure was quite big. He was around twenty-six years old.

When he stepped on the platform, his eyes didn't leave Grey for one bit. Looking into the eyes of the youth who had seemingly demolished the pride of his Family, he couldn't keep calm.

Tyris was a pure Earth Elementalist, and he used his earth element from the start of the battle. He covered himself with earth armor before charging at Grey who was prepared for his fight against him.

Grey knew from the start that he was not his match with his current strength, but he wanted to see how far he could go against someone in the Seventh stage of the Sage Plane without boosting his strength.

When he tried to block Tyris' attack, he was stunned when he was pushed back.

From the very first attack, the difference in strength was clear for all to see. The two of them were not on equal footing.

Grey's battle with the duo in the Sixth stage already showed that in terms of attack power, he was behind them, however, he made up for that with his versatility.

Even when his strength wasn't on the same level as the duo, he managed to fight them off with his brain and experience.

Tyris had the advantage, and after pushing Grey back, he continued his attack with a large earth hammer.

Grey dodged the attack, but the impact of the attack after slamming into the platform sent off a vibration across the entire platform.

Grey, who was hiding in his spatial tunnel was forced out, crashing into the ground.

Tyris continued his attack, not giving him any chance. He wanted to dominate Grey in his victory and return the glory of the Robertson Family in grand style. Yes, defeating Grey wasn't any major achievement for him, but it would help his Family, so he had to do it.

Klaus and Luthera watched on, a little worried. To be honest, they had every reason to. Tyris was dominating Grey, not even giving him the chance to even attack. Since Tyris stepped on the platform, Grey hadn't been able to send out one attack.

The battle continued, and in one minute, Tyris completely dominated Grey.

Grey tried to use his inscriptions, but Tyris found a way to almost extinguish them almost instantaneously. His domain didn't do much work against Tyris.

After some time, he decided to use the fire domain. It was stronger and might be his only hope of defeating Tyris at the moment.

When the opportunity presented itself, the platform was soon covered with a sea of blue flames.

Tyris never expected this, and the heat from the flame was above Grey's previous attacks.

"Huh? He has another domain?"

This was his first reaction, and when he studied it properly, he knew he was right. Grey had a second domain.

The entire crowd was thrown into an uproar when they saw this. Even some Multi Elementalists at the Elemental Venerable Plane didn't have two domains, yet, Grey already had two, and he was still in the Sage Plane.

No doubt he was the greatest genius they had seen or even heard of.

Lothar was once again thrown off his feet. He couldn't believe what he was seeing. A genius in the Sage Plane having two domains already. It was a piece of shocking news for them.

Luthera looked at it in awe. Klaus already told her of this, but she still found it shocking when she saw it. This was not something she could believe, even when seeing it with her two eyes.

The Head of the Robertson Family felt his head ache, Grey was just too much. At this point, he didn't feel too relaxed. There's a big chance that Grey might be able to create another miracle once again. Just seeing him use two domains in one day was a miracle on its own, if he managed to defeat Tyris, it wouldn't be too shocking.

Tyris' earth armor started to show signs of breaking off for the first time since he stepped on the platform. He couldn't believe Grey was actually able to use two domains.

He reinforced his armor and attacked Grey.

Grey, with the help of his fire domain, started to attack. For the first time, he had a short period where he attacked Tyris without fear.

Tyris' earth armor soon fell apart after Grey sent a fireball slamming into it.

When the earth armor fell to the ground, Tyris felt the full brunt of the heat.

Without hesitation, he used an earth technique that not only covered where he was standing but the entire platform. The effect of Grey's domain was almost completely put to an end.

The power difference between the duo was massive, so even if Grey had a domain, he could still use his pure overpowering strength to stop it.

When Grey saw this, he couldn't help but shake his head. With his current strength, he was not a match for a genius in the Seventh stage of the Sage Plane. One like Tyris was even harder to fight against since he had a terrifying defense.

When Tyris put a stop to his fire domain, he looked at Grey with an apprehensive look, he wasn't afraid, but he didn't dare to be careless any longer. If not for his ability, he would've lost the battle in a matter of seconds after dominating it for so long.

His offense increased in intensity and he started to show why he was one of the strongest among his peers.

Grey found it hard to defend when fighting against him and was bashed from left to right. However, he didn't give up. He still had a trump card to use, to boost his strength.

Luckily, before the battles started, he asked Gregory if he could use a special technique to boost his strength, and Gregory nodded.

Seeing that things were going out of hand, Luthera couldn't help but look at Klaus who was gritting his teeth. She could see anger in his eyes.

"Tell him to give up, it's okay." She encouraged.

"I'm not upset that he's being beaten up, I'm upset that the moron hasn't used his trump card to end this battle." Klaus said angrily.

"Eh?" Luthera was taken aback by Klaus' statement.

"He can boost his strength, he asked Gregory about it before. I'm annoyed he hadn't used it till now. Such a moron." Klaus complained as he watched Grey get beat up.

Honestly, he was annoyed that Grey had to go through this, but what made him more annoyed was the fact that he wasn't the one beating Grey up.

Chapter 920 Disqualified?

"So there's a chance he can win?" Luthera asked, slightly hopeful.

"He will win, it's not a matter of probability." Klaus said with confidence.

Luthera heaved a sigh of relief and turned to look at Grey who was standing on the edge of the platform, breathing heavily.

Grey looked at Tyris who was looking at him from the middle of the platform. Tyris hadn't given him any chance to attack properly, even with his insane battle experience and techniques, he was completely overwhelmed by Tyris' strength.

'Looks like I have no other option.' He thought to himself.

After coming to the conclusion, he took a deep breath to stabilize himself before his aura started to increase before everyone's eyes.

It shot past the Third stage to the Fourth, Fifth, and finally halted in the Sixth stage.

Grey originally wanted to take it to the Peak of the Sage Plane, but after giving it some thought, he decided against it. Doing so would show these people his greatest trump card. In the Sixth stage, he was confident in his abilities to defeat Tyris.

When Tyris sensed Grey's aura increasing, his expression changed and he couldn't help but look at the Elder in charge of the battle. He knew for a fact that if Grey was only a single stage below him, his chances of winning would reduce by a lot, and Grey might just be the favorite to win.

Grey attacked with renewed vigor. All his wounds from the battering he took from Tyris were healed up.

He unleashed a fireball, mixed with the lightning element at Tyris.

Tyris set up a defensive wall to block the attack, but to his surprise, after one hit, the wall crumbled to the ground.

He took some steps back from the impact and took a quick look at Grey, clearly shocked by the strength of his attack.

However, his vision blurred as a figure rushed up to him and attacked.

Grey threw his fist which was covered in flames at Tyris' chest. The earth armor Tyris had on protected him from the attack, but he felt his innards shake from the impact of the punch and was sent flying back.

From the spot where Grey punched, the armor started to fall piece by piece.

The Head of the Robertson Family stood up when he saw this and looked in the direction of the Elder in charge of the battle, "Use of special techniques to boost strength is prohibited from these battles. For that, he should be disqualified."

"Actually, it isn't." The Elder from the Braun Family presiding over the battle stepped forward.

"Your son placed the rules, and he agreed to this as well." The Elder explained, glancing at Gregory.

Sensing everyone's gaze on him, Gregory wished the ground should open up and swallow him. When Grey asked him at the start, he agreed to it offhandedly since he didn't feel Grey would come this far, even with increased strength.

They could all see that Grey took the advantage in the battle from his very first move after increasing his strength, this was something that could've been avoided if he wasn't allowed to boost his strength.

The Head of the Robertson Family turned to look at Gregory, disappointment, evident in his eyes.

While all these were going on, Grey didn't bother to stop the battle. His figure flashed through the platform as he attacked with his lightning element.

Tyris focused on defending, whenever one of his defenses was broken down, he would set up another one.

Two inscriptions appeared in the sky and started to attack Tyris, alongside Grey.

Boom!

One of the attacks finally landed on Tyris and sent him flying, he crashed on the platform, bouncing off a couple of times before finally coming to a stop.

Grey moved closer to finish off the battle, but when he placed his leg on the ground around two meters away from Tyris, a large earth spike sprang up from the ground, forcing him back.

Before he could regain himself, Tyris was already on his feet, prepared for Grey's next onslaught of attacks.

Grey vanished, and when he appeared on Tyris' left, he attacked. After attacking, he vanished once again, appearing in front of him and attacking.

His transition was so smooth and fast that before the first attack hit, the next one was already on its way.

Tyris blocked the attacks but was pushed back.

While staggering back, he suddenly felt a sense of danger. Without waiting, he jumped to the left and an attack shot out from the ground.

Grey used the earth element to create a hammer that he tried to use to slam Tyris to the ground while he was mid-air.

Tyris was fast and covered himself with an earth dome. This not only protected him, but it also gave him a little time to adjust his head.

The hammer hit the dome, sending it to the ground.

Grey moved close and used the fire element to try to burn away the earth protecting Tyris.

However, no matter how hard he tried, he was unsuccessful. A lightning bolt fell from the sky and struck the dome, but it still didn't budge, to the annoyance of Grey.

When he was about to attack again, he noticed a spear made from the earth element coming his way.

The distance between himself and the dome.

Just when the spear was about to hit him, it suddenly passed through. It was just like when he was attacked the previous time, he phased through the attack effortlessly.

After going through the attack, he created a small lightning and fire orb and sent it at Tyrus who was still covered with the earth dome.

The attack crashed into the earth dome, causing a large explosion in the process. From the moment Grey increased his strength till now, he had overpowered Tyrus.

One has to know that he was still a stage below Tyrus, yet he was beating him up with such ease.
