

Even After Death by Lilting Champ

Even After Death by Lilting Champ Chapter 1626-Jacqueline licked her chapped lips. "You know something? I felt sorry for you at first. I even had the urge to do something to make up for it. But I realized that you were living a good life in Aldenvine. Smart and pretty, you inherited the genes from the Fordham family perfectly. You made me seem like a fool.

"I felt angry and secretly compared myself to you. I wanted to win you in everything, but you were beyond my reach. Even if it was just hobbies, you became the top in the field so easily. My effort seemed to be nothing in comparison.

"Your father and the people around you loved you. You skipped grades and made a breakthrough. People called you the talented doctor. There was also a man like Ethan who loved you. Even though our identities were switched, luck was always on your side. You have the best in everything in life."

Olivia gave her an indifferent gaze, finding that hilarious. "So you think that I should apologize to you?" "That gaze again? Olivia Fordham, do you know that I hate this gaze of yours the most? It's absolutely infuriating that you can maintain that superior attitude no matter what happens. Do you know how difficult it was for me to live with your family?"

"I was born ordinary. I had to spend days and months and years learning the things that they could pick up so easily. I spent a lot of my time learning." "Wow, should I award you a Model Award?" Olivia gripped Jacqueline's neck tightly.

She even lifted the woman.

"You took away my place, stole my family's love, ruined my marriage, made me fall terminally ill, made me give birth to my children before it was time, almost killed my children, and murdered Mona and Snowball. You ruined my life!

"Do you know how painful chemotherapy is? Do you know how much I suffered from gastric pain and hemorrhage? Do you know the torture I felt when I almost chose to abort my child just to survive?"

"Your greed turned everything into a mess and drove me to throes of excruciating pain. And you're trying to act pitiful after all that? How shameless!"

Olivia's pent-up emotions exploded as she glared at Jacqueline.

She continued, "Why did you have such an evil heart at such a young age?"

Mona was killed by the mercenaries you hired. She died trying to protect me!

“Do you know how she was at that time? She wasn’t even 23! She hadn’t even dated or gotten married to the man she loved. She wasn’t even a mother. Her life was just about to start.

“But you ended her life so soon. Everything in me is screaming to skin you alive, Jacqueline Fordham. These grudges suffocate me so much that I can’t get a good night’s sleep. I’ve been waiting for this day to come for so long.”

Olivia’s fingers slowly tightened around Jacqueline’s neck, depriving her of oxygen.

Right then, Ethan reminded her, “Don’t fall for her trap, Liv! There are many ways to torture her; but killing her isn’t one of them. Killing her would be doing her a favor.”

His voice pulled Olivia back from the storm of resentment. She released Jacqueline causing her body to slam onto the floor.

Jacqueline glared at Ethan as if blaming him for ruining her plan.

“You’re just a pitiful dog, than yuver!

Do you think sheill forgive you after What you did? I’m telling you in your dreams! Many people died because of the two of you. There’s no way things can return to how they used to be.”

Ethan kicked her in the chest, sending her flying and slamming against the wall.
