Chapter 1151

Gemma pursed her lips in fear, and said, "I'm doing this for your own good. I've been observing for a long time, Mr. Baldwin is good in both character and family background. If you could be with him, I would be at ease."

"Alright, stop trying to play matchmaker. I don't want to date anyone recently."

Seeing Briana Cameron's indifferent expression, Gemma sighed and slowly said. "Fine, I won't rush you. But starting from tomorrow. I've arranged a blind date for you every day. Since you're not busy, just go and meet them."

Briana Cameron: ???

"Mom, aren't you exaggerating? It's not like I can't get married!"

Gemma nodded, "I just wanted you to meet first, you might find someone you like. Even if you don't, it's okay, you can just be friends!"

"No, I've already found a new job and I've been very busy lately. I don't have any free time."

Gemma snorted, "Stop lying, you haven't even sent out any resumes recently, how could you possibly have a job?"

was seen through.

"Well, I didn't want to go on a blind date either. You wouldn't want me to go through those bizarre experiences I had with blind dates in the past again, would you?"

"That was the one I chose for you before, the quality was not up to standard. This time, I personally supervised it. You can rest assured, the quality is top-notch!"

Among so many men, there must have been one she found appealing

"No, I really didn't have time."

"Briana Cameron, do I even exist in your eyes anymore?!" Gemma exclaimed, her eyebrows furrowed in anger as she glared at her.

"This has nothing to do with whether you are in my eyes or not, marriage is a lifetime matter. If I can't find someone I like. I'd rather stay single for a lifetime!"

"You didn't like it now, but perhaps you would like it once you got familiar with it. Feelings can be cultivated."

Briana Cameron's expression was indifferent, "I don't want to cultivate."

Gemma:

After a good while, Gemma finally spoke, "Alright, if you don't like it, let it be. Tell me when you're interested."

Gemma's quick agreement surprised Briana Cameron, especially since she hadn't let herself off so easily before.

"Did you really not let me go on a blind date?"

Meeting her incredulous gaze, Gemma couldn't help but glare back at her, "Why are you looking at me like that?! Do you really think I'm the kind of person who can't tell right from wrong and insists on setting you up for blind dates?!"

Briana Cameron nodded, "Isn't it?"

"Where has it gone?!"

"When I was studying abroad, you had already introduced me to quite a few guys, both openly and secretly After I returned to the country, you even made a booklet for me to go on blind dates. The extent of your madness is indescribable."

Gemma recalled, it seemed that when Briana Cameron returned to her home country, she indeed set up quite a few blind dates for her, but it wasn't as exaggerated as she claimed.

“That... wasn’t I also doing that for your own good?”

“Goodbye. thank you. If I want to fall in love. I will definitely take the initiative to find it myself. Mom, you should eat and drink as you should in the future, and don’t worry about me.”

“Alright, alright, I got it. Go on in.”

The two walked into the living room together and saw Hector sitting on the sofa, chatting with Sean. Briana Cameron had originally planned to greet him later, but unexpectedly, he looked at her and showed a gentle smile on his face.

“Mm—hmm.”

Gemma gave Sean a meaningful glance, but Sean didn’t understand, frowning, he said, “Gemma, what’s wrong? Are your eyes uncomfortable? Do you want the family doctor to come and check?”

All eyes in the living room immediately focused on Gemma. Meeting her daughter’s suspicious gaze, Gemma gave a guilty smile.

“No, my eye was twitching a bit just now, but it’s fine now.”

Briana Cameron gave Gemma a meaningful look and laughed, saying, “Mom, do you want me to call the family doctor to come over?”

“No need, no need. I have something to discuss with your father. You go ahead and keep Mr. Baldwin company for a while.”

After speaking, Gemma immediately left with Sean.

The living room fell into silence, and the atmosphere between the two became somewhat awkward.

Hector looked at her, smiling, “Long time no see, what have you been up to lately?”

"I haven't been busy with anything. I've been unemployed recently, just staying at home all day." Briana Cameron walked over and sat down across from Hector, looking at him as she spoke.

"Did you have any interest in working at the Baldwin Group?"

A flash of surprise crossed Briana Cameron's eyes, followed by a shake of her head. "No, I want to take a break for a while," she said.

A glint of disappointment flashed in Hector's eyes as he lowered his gaze, "Have you still not moved on from your last relationship?"

Briana Cameron was taken aback, realizing he had misunderstood, she shook her head and said, "No, I have other plans."

"Alright then."

The two fell silent. After a while, Hector finally couldn't help but say,

"Briana. I'll say it again, if you're planning to start a new relationship, I hope you'll consider me first."

Meeting his serious gaze, Briana Cameron's hands hanging by her sides unconsciously tightened.

"Hector. I didn't deserve you like this, you deserved someone better."

He used to be a Best Actor Award winner, now he is the person in charge of the Baldwin Group. As long as he wanted, there were plenty of outstanding women who wanted to be with him.

"Briana, I wish you wouldn't say things like that. You can reject my feelings, but don't ask me to be with someone else. Don't you understand? To me, other women are no different than you."

He had persisted for so many years, even if Briana Cameron was unwilling to be with him now, he could wait, he could afford to wait.

From the moment Briana Cameron reached out to him, he knew he would only ever love her and no one else in his life.

Seeing the hurt in his eyes, Briana Cameron pursed her lips, "I'm sorry, I hurt you."

A smile tugged at the corner of Hector's mouth as he said earnestly, "I'm not angry, I just hope you can understand my feelings."

"Um. I understood."

The two didn't continue on this topic and casually chatted about other things.

In the garden, Gemma saw two people chatting happily through the window, their eyes full of satisfaction.

Sean, with a dark expression on his face, said, "Gemma, doing this will upset Briana. She's grown up now, she can make her own decisions about her feelings."

Gemma gave him a glance and said irritably, "Let her make her own decisions. We respected her wishes when she got back together with Maxim before. And what happened? In the end, Maxim married another woman while she was unconscious."

Sean: "

He hadn't expected that Maxim would turn out to be such a duplicitous man. Had he known, he would never have agreed to let Briana

Cameron get back together with him.

"But I still felt that you shouldn't have interfered with Briana's relationship."

"If I hadn't intervened, who knows how long it would have taken her to move on from her last relationship. And you know I lectured, he's a good guy. At least if Briana married him, he wouldn't mistreat her."

Sean frowned. "He is indeed a good person, but the most important thing is whether Briana likes him or not."

"Emotions can be cultivated, just create more opportunities for them to interact. Look at how well they are getting along now?"

"Alright, let the young people handle their own affairs, you shouldn't interfere. We finally have a chance to take a walk together, so don't worry so much."

Saying so, Sean directly pulled Gemma away and left.

It wasn't until dinner time that Gemma and Sean came back.

Seeing Gemma holding a bouquet of roses, Briana Cameron couldn't help but laugh teasingly, "Mom, I didn't expect Dad to be quite romantic."

A smile was in Gemma's eyes, "Envious, huh? Get yourself a boyfriend now, and let him buy it for you."

As she spoke, her eyes kept darting towards Hector's face, her intentions clear without words.

Briana Cameron was somewhat helpless, "Mom, if you keep doing this, I won't come back for dinner next time."

Gemma pursed her lips, "Fine, I'll go up and put the flowers in a vase first. The food in the kitchen is almost ready, you guys go ahead and eat."

After several people sat down, Sean said with a smile, "Mr. Baldwin, I've had someone bring over two bottles of good wine for us to drink."

"Mr. Cameron, you can just call me Hector. I am friends with Briana, so according to seniority, I should also call you uncle."

A glint of satisfaction flashed in Sean's eyes as he said with a smile,

“Alright, I’ll call you Hector, and you can call me Uncle Sean.”

After three rounds of drinks, the two began to talk about work. After finishing her meal. Briana Cameron stood up and said to Sean, “Dad, I have something to do later, so I’ll go back first.”

Sean nodded, “Alright, be safe on your way back.”

“Mm—hmm.”

Briana Cameron was about to say goodbye to Hector when Gemma from across hurriedly said, “Briana, it’s getting late now, it’s not good for us to keep Mr. Baldwin here any longer. Mr. Baldwin has been drinking and can’t drive, it would be perfect if you could take Mr. Baldwin home.”

Sean furrowed his brow, about to speak, but was silenced by a glare from Gemma.

After all, if I offended my wife, I might have to sleep in the study tonight.

Briana Cameron looked at Hector, meeting his gaze just as he looked over, unconsciously pursing her lips.

“Mr. Baldwin, should I take you home, or would you prefer the Cameron family’s driver to take you home later?”

Hector stood up, a hint of drunkenness already in his eyes.

“If it was convenient, Ms. Cameron was asked to help.”

Briana Cameron nodded, “Okay.”

Gemma and Sean escorted the guest to the door, and only after seeing Briana Cameron’s car leave did Gemma turn around and walk back with satisfaction.

Sean looked at her, unable to help but say. “Gemma. in the future. don’t make decisions on your own about Briana If Briana really wanted to send Hector off she wouldn’t have left early How would Briana and Hector save face when you say such things in public?”

“Understood, wasn’t I just anxIOUS??”

“Being anxious can’t make you randomly matchmake. I saw that Briana had absolutely no romantic feelings for Hector Matters of the heart still require her own willingness.

Gemma snorted. "Whoever it is, as long as it's not Maxim, I'll handle it. You just take care of your company."

After speaking, Gemma left with an air of arrogance.

Sean watched her retreating figure, unable to help but sigh.

On the way back, Hector sat in the back seat, his eyes somewhat hazy. His gaze at Briana Cameron carried a hint of aggression, his emotions laid bare.

"Briana, I'm sorry. I know I was selfish tonight. I wanted to be alone with you, so I asked you to drive me. If you're busy, you can just drop me off at a place where I can get a taxi later."

Chapter 1154

Chapter 1154

Briana Cameron glanced at him through the rearview mirror and said, "No need. I'll take you home. It's not a good time to hail a cab now."

No sooner had the words been spoken than Hector's face suddenly changed.

"Be careful!"

However, it was already too late. Briana Cameron's car violently collided with a red Lamborghini, making a loud "bang" sound.

Although the impact wasn't severe, Briana Cameron's body still jolted forward harshly, her head nearly hitting the windshield.

"Briana, were you okay?"

"I was fine."

In the midst of their conversation, the door of the Lamborghini's driver seat was pushed open, and a voluptuous woman stepped out.

After seeing the other person's face, Briana Cameron couldn't help but frown, it was actually Aurora.

Seeing it was Briana Cameron, Aurora sneered, "Briana Cameron, you did this on purpose, didn't you?"

Briana Cameron pushed open the car door and got out, looking at her expressionlessly, "Let's play it safe."

Aurora raised an eyebrow, "I don't agree. It was you who rear-ended me, why should we go through insurance? You can afford to pay, can't you?"

Briana Cameron was silent for a few seconds, not wanting to get too entangled with her. She finally said, "Fine, take the car to get repaired, and send me the bill later."

"No, you have to pay now! Five million, not a penny less!"

Briana Cameron gave her a casual glance and immediately took out her phone to dial the emergency number.

Seeing her ignore herself, a flash of anger flickered in Aurora's eyes. She gritted her teeth and said, "Briana Cameron, if you really can't afford to pay, apologize to me properly, I might ask for less."

Briana Cameron gave her a look as if she was an idiot, "I'm calling the police. We'll discuss how much needs to be compensated when they arrive."

"Hehe, you didn't think I would be scared just because you called the police. did you?"

"Think as you wish."

Briana Cameron's cold attitude took Aurora's breath away. Out of the corner of her eye, she saw a man sitting in the back seat, a flash of surprise in her eyes. Then, as if she had thought of something, she stopped talking. walked to the side, took out her phone, and dialed Maxim's number.

She called several times before the other side finally answered.

"Is there something wrong?"

Maxim's voice was icy cold, causing an involuntary hitch in Aurora's heart.

"It's okay, I'm going to hang up now, I still have a meeting to attend."

“Wait!”

Aurora bit her lower lip, slowly saying, “I had a car accident, can you come over?”

“I was not free.”

Even though she had long known about his constant indifference, a pang of pain still shot through Aurora’s heart.

Her gaze gradually turned icy, and her voice dropped significantly.

“If I said Briana Cameron was also here, would you still refuse to come?”

There was silence on the phone for a few seconds, Maxim’s voice was still icy cold, “It has nothing to do with me.”

“But there was another man in Briana Cameron’s car.”

“Address!”

Chapter 1155

Feeling his suppressed anger, Aurora laughed at herself sarcastically. She was indeed ridiculous, to have had expectations of Maxim.

However, she also wanted Maxim to taste the torment she endured every day.

Maxim arrived almost simultaneously with the police. As the police were getting a grasp of the situation, Hector also got out of the car and explained the circumstances to them.

Seeing Briana Cameron standing with Hector, familiar as if they were a couple. Maxim’s face turned incredibly gloomy.

Aurora walked up to him, took his hand and said with a smile, “Maxim, you finally came, I was so scared just now.”

Upon hearing Aurora’s words. Briana Cameron and Hector turned their heads simultaneously, only to see Aurora acting coquettishly while holding Maxim’s hand.

Maxim instinctively wanted to pull his hand back, but was held by Aurora.

She moved closer to him, whispering, “Mr. Yoder, if you don’t want to lose too badly in front of your rival, it’s better not to let go of my hand at this moment.”

“Let go!”

Aurora looked up at him, her eyes full of laughter, “I won’t, don’t forget, there are many people watching now. If you publicly push me away and it gets exposed, it will not only affect the Fredrick family, but also the Yoder Group. If I remember correctly, the Yoder Group has a new product to launch during this period. Mr. Yoder, would you like to promote the new product for your company first?”

Detecting the mockery in Aurora’s tone, Maxim’s face was so gloomy that it could almost drip water, but in the end, he didn’t push her away again.

Aurora smiled contentedly, that’s more like it. Even if Maxim didn’t. like her, they were now engaged, it was impossible to deny their relationship.

Briana Cameron subtly withdrew her gaze, as if she hadn’t seen Maxim at all.

Aurora pulled Maxim to the side of the two, raising an eyebrow and said. “Briana Cameron, it was clearly you who rear-ended, isn’t it a bit too much to tell the police that I suddenly braked?”

“I was just clarifying the situation at that time, not trying to put the blame on you.”

After all, the rear-end collision was indeed her responsibility, she couldn’t possibly bear no responsibility at all.

Aurora let out a cold laugh, “I was driving just fine ahead, sometimes braking normally. If you had maintained a safe distance, you wouldn’t have hit my car.”

Briana Cameron glanced at her impatiently, saying coldly, "I know, I won't shirk the responsibilities I should bear."

"It was best this way."

Soon, the police had determined the responsibility, and the next thing was to discuss the compensation.

2Looking at the red exclamation mark, Maxim's face turned extremely ugly.

In just a moment, all his emotions returned to calm, and he reported his bank card number to Briana Cameron with an expressionless face.

He reported very quickly, but Briana Cameron had a good memory. She remembered it in one go and directly transferred the money.

"Alright, if there's nothing else, we'll be going then."

Briana Cameron turned around and said something to Hector, and the two of them got in the car and left immediately.

It was not until Briana Cameron's car disappeared from sight that Maxim coldly pushed Aurora away.

"I would have Rayan transfer the money to you."

After speaking, he turned to leave.

Aurora had only taken a few steps when she called out to stop him.

"Maxim, were you planning to just leave me here?!"

Maxim looked back at her, his eyes devoid of warmth, "You can drive your car back, or take a taxi."

"Don't forget. I was your fiancée."

Maxim wore a mocking expression, devoid of any warmth.

“Do you think the term ‘fiancée’ could bind me?”

“I knew it wasn’t possible, but since you and Briana Cameron were already over, why didn’t you give me a chance?”

“I didn’t like women who were too smart for their own good.”

Aurora’s face stiffened, then she gritted her teeth and said, “You saw it just now, Briana Cameron didn’t even spare you a second glance. And sending a drunk man home late at night is the most ambiguous thing for single men and women. You can’t be unaware of this, can you?”

A flicker of irritation flashed in Maxim’s eyes as he said coldly, “It has absolutely nothing to do with you. I hope you respect yourself!”

Aurora snorted coldly. “If I knew how to respect myself, I wouldn’t have gotten engaged to you in the first place. You used me as a shield when it suited you, and now that you’re done, you want to kick me aside. It’s not that easy.

“I could compensate you.”

Coldness filled Aurora’s eyes. “Alright, how do you plan to compensate? I don’t lack money. What else can you use to compensate me besides money?”

“What did you want? You could think about it. As long as I was able to do it, I would try my best to satisfy you.”

“I didn’t want anything, I just wanted to become a real engaged couple with you.”

“Think it over again carefully.”

After speaking, Maxim turned around and left directly.

Watching his retreating figure, a glint of coldness flashed in Aurora’s eyes.

She took out her phone and dialed a number, her expression icy as she said, "That medicine you mentioned before, I want a pack!"

A surprised female voice came from across, "Aurora, are you sure? That medicine is indeed useful, but it will cause great harm to your body afterwards. I just mentioned it casually at the time, I advise you not to..."

Before the sentence was finished, it was directly interrupted by Aurora.

"Cut the crap, can you get it or not? If you can't. I'll find someone else"

"Alright, I'll do it for you, but you need to control the amount Don't use too much, lest it harm your body."

"Don't worry, it wasn't for my use.

No sooner had the words left her mouth than the person across hastily said. "You're not using it for Maxim, are you?!"

"Mm-hmm."

"If this matter was discovered by Maxim, then I..."

"I wouldn't say it was from you. As long as I became his, even if he was angry, he wouldn't do anything to me "

Aurora had this confidence, and she believed that once the deed was done, even if Maxim didn't like her, he would be forced to marry her

She simply didn't believe that Briana Cameron would still like Maxim after he married her.

In the blink of an eye, the day of the celebration banquet arrived Briana Cameron originally didn't want to go, but was dragged along by Astrid

"Just consider it as accompanying me. Besides, the Nash family's chef was hired from abroad, and his pastries are exceptional You can't usually get to taste them, so let's go and try some tonight"

"I was not familiar with Ms. Nash."

Chapter 1157

The celebration banquet was hosted by Ms. Nash of the Nash family, who had returned from studying abroad. It was said that Ms Nash's painting had won first prize in a competition abroad. To celebrate her return, the Nash family held this banquet

As Astrid was leading her towards the car, she said, "It's okay, you'll get used to it after a few times. Besides, Ms. Nash also likes painting. you guys might become friends."

She simply didn't want to make any friends.

In the end, I was still dragged to the scene by Astrid.

As soon as she stepped into the banquet hall, Astrid couldn't help but exclaim. "The Nash family has put a lot of effort into this celebration. I heard that these flowers were all flown in this morning, and just these flowers cost millions."

Briana Cameron was not surprised by this. Ms. Nash was the only child of the Nash family and was expected to take over the Nash Group in the future. Mr. and Mrs. Zhang spoiled their daughter excessively

Fortunately, Ms. Nash was also very promising. She had been excellent from childhood to adulthood, earning quite a bit of honor for the Nash family

Upstairs, in Shirley Nash's bedroom

Aurora sat to one side, a smile on her face, "Shirley, you look so beautiful tonight, you're going to knock a bunch of men off their feet later!"

Shirley blushed a bit at Aurora's words, and couldn't help but glance at her sideways, "How can I compare with you? You were the school beauty back then, with countless men chasing after you "

A hint of nostalgia flashed in Aurora's eyes, and her expression was somewhat melancholic.

“That’s all in the past, and no matter how beautiful I am, it’s useless if the person I like doesn’t like me back.”

Seeing her downcast expression, a flicker of guilt flashed in Shirley’s eyes. She quickly said. “Aurora, I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to... Are things still the same with you and your fiancé, with no progress?”

Aurora shook her head, managing to squeeze out a smile on her face. “Alright. let’s not talk about me anymore. Today is your celebration party, you should be happy.”

Shirley looked at her with some concern. “Are you really okay?”

“It’s okay, matters of the heart need to be taken slowly, you can’t rush them.”

“I was relieved to know that you could think this way”

Aurora got up and walked over to her, smiling, “Alright, we’re about to go on stage. Let me show you what earrings to pair with today.”

“Good.”

Aurora looked down into the jewelry box, took out a pair of ruby earrings, and directly put them on Shirley.

“Your skin is fair, this necklace looked good on you, and it also matched your dress today.”

Shirley glanced at herself in the mirror, a satisfied smile on her face, and touched her earrings.

“Aurora, you really know how to match things, it looks so good.”

“You get ready, I went down first.”

“Good.”

Stepping out of Shirley’s room, a glint of determination flashed in Aurora’s eyes. For her own happiness, she could only apologize to Shirley. In the future, she would make it up to her.

Returning to the banquet hall, Aurora saw from a distance that Maxim was conversing with the business partners from the Yoder Group.

She took a deep breath, slowly walked over to him and took his hand, smiling as she greeted the few business partners.

Aurora stayed by Maxim's side, so they weren't quite suitable to continue discussing business.

One of the partners who also worked with the Fredrick Group laughed and said, "Mr. Yoder, when are you and Ms. Fredrick planning to have your wedding? Make sure to send me an invitation. I will definitely make time to attend, no matter what."

The smile on Maxim's face faded slightly, "It's still early, the company is currently in a growth phase, I still want to prioritize my career."

"Hahaha, Mr. Yoder truly lived up to his reputation as a workaholic. The Yoder Group has already developed so well, and he actually wants to take it to the next level."

Aurora's hand unconsciously tightened around her wine glass, but she still smiled and said, "I support Maxim's decision, and I also believe that he must be trying to give me the grandest wedding, which is why he is working so hard now."

"After Mr. Yoder and Ms. Fredrick got married, the Yoder Group and the Fredrick Group joined forces, they were sure to be invincible in the business world."

"Then I'll take your good words, and also hope that Maxim can lead the Yoder Group to its peak soon, and then come to marry me!"

"Haha, definitely, Mr. Yoder is the new rising star in Haseton, the two of you together are a match made in heaven, a perfect combination of talent and beauty!"

"We were all waiting to drink the wedding wine!"

Listening to the praises from the business partner, a smile was evident in Aurora's eyes.

“Then I’ll take your good words!”

A flash of irritation crossed Maxim’s brow as he pulled away, saying. “I see someone I know over there. I’m going to say hello, please excuse me!”

After speaking, without even glancing at Aurora, Maxim turned around and left directly.

Aurora’s hand unconsciously tightened around her wine glass. Noticing the glances from her business partners around her, she managed to maintain a smile.

“Maxim was always so busy, there was nothing I could do, so I won’t bother you all anymore!”

Several partners had long noticed Maxim’s indifference towards Aurora, but pretended not to know on the surface.

“Alright, send our regards to Mr. Fredrick.”

“Goodbye, Ms. Fredrick.”

“Next time there’s a chance, invite Ms. Fredrick and Mr. Yoder for dinner again.”

After dealing with a few people, Aurora’s smile disappeared as soon as she turned around.

She hadn’t expected that Maxim would embarrass her like this, leaving directly in front of their business partners. It seemed he was truly determined to break off their engagement.

Originally, she was hesitating whether to put the medicine into his cup or not, but now there was no need to hesitate.

Maxim, you forced me into this!

On the other side, after Briana Cameron and Astrid entered the banquet hall, the two found a corner and sat down.

Looking at the bustling banquet hall, Astrid couldn’t help but sigh, “The Nash family really spoils Shirley. The cost of hosting this banquet is conservatively estimated to be in the tens of millions.”

Briana Cameron raised an eyebrow, “Isn’t this quite normal? Shirley is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zhang, and she’s so outstanding. It would be strange if they didn’t dote on her.”

Astrid clicked her tongue, expressing some regret, "I actually quite liked Shirley, but since she's good friends with Aurora, I just can't bring myself to like her."

Hearing this, Briana Cameron turned to her and said with a smile, "You don't have to fall out with Shirley for my sake, after all, she's not Aurora."

She had never interacted with Shirley, but she heard from others that her personality was quite good.

"Birds of a feather flock together. Being able to hang out with Aurora indicates that the two have a lot in common."

Just as Briana Cameron was about to speak, a surprised voice came from behind her.

"Briana, you attended the banquet too?!"

Briana Cameron turned around and saw Madeline, surprise flashing in her eyes.

"Madeline, weren't you just recovering? How could you participate in the event?"

Madeline sat down next to her and said, "Our company is in collaboration with the Nash Group, and Ms. Nash is planning to enter the entertainment industry, so they asked me to come and get acquainted with her."

It seemed that the plan was to have Madeline take Shirley.

"Did you plan to collaborate with her for your next film?"

Madeline nodded, "Yes, she has already been chosen as the lead actress. I'll be playing the second female lead, but I actually prefer the character of the second female lead."

Briana Cameron chuckled, "Having a leading actress as her supporting role, her starting point is considered high among the newcomers."

"Right, I had something to tell you."

Chapter 1159

Seeing her face become serious, a flash of confusion crossed Briana Cameron's eyes, "What's the matter?"

"Just now. I saw Aurora helping Maxim to the Nash family's guest room. Maxim's complexion seemed a bit off. Do you want to go check on him?"

Briana Cameron frowned, her face turning icy cold.

"Madeline. I have no connection with him anymore, and he and Aurora are engaged. It's perfectly normal for Aurora to help him rest when he's had too much to drink."

"Aurora looked somewhat flustered at the time, her eyes darting around. She clearly looked guilty. Are you really not planning to check it out?"

Briana Cameron looked at Madeline, her eyes full of calmness, "Well, it's none of my business. If I go and interfere, I might even ruin someone else's good thing."

Seeing that she really didn't care, Madeline couldn't say much more, but she was still somewhat worried. After all, during the years she was with Brycen, she had eaten with Maxim many times. She believed that Maxim's feelings for Briana Cameron were genuine.

After hesitating for a moment, she still took out her phone and sent a message to Brycen.

As for whether Brycen could arrive on time, that was none of her business.

At that moment, Shirley had already stepped onto the stage.

"Good evening everyone, I'm very pleased that you could attend my celebration party. If there's anything lacking in my hospitality, I kindly ask for your understanding. I won't say much more, enjoy yourselves!"

She was about to put down the microphone and step off the stage when suddenly the lights in the banquet hall went out, leaving everyone stunned for a moment.

"What happened? Was there a power outage?"

“I don’t know, everyone just stay still, so as not to step on anyone!”

“Ah, who bumped into me!”

Sounds rose and fell in the venue, immediately causing a wave of panic.

Soon, the big screen behind Shirley lit up, and a somewhat blurry image appeared on the screen.

From the footage, it could be seen that the camera was pointed at a large bed. At that moment, a man and a woman on the bed were entwined together. Although they were fully clothed, they were pressed tightly against each other, making it not hard to imagine what would happen next.

Shirley almost immediately recognized that it was in her own guest room, and the woman on the screen, she also recognized as her good friend Aurora.

As for that man, it was unmistakably Maxim.

Her face instantly turned incredibly ugly, she hadn’t expected Aurora and Maxim to do such a thing at her victory party at the Nash family’s!

The people below the stage also recognized Aurora and Maxim, and they began to whisper among themselves.

“What was the deal with Mr. Yoder and Ms. Fredrick?! Were they so desperate? They had to do such indecent things in someone else’s house!”

“I had interacted with Mr. Yoder before, I originally thought he was a gentleman, I didn’t expect him to do such a thing!”

“It seemed that we had to reconsider our collaboration with the Yoder Group. After all, it’s hard to trust someone who could do such a thing at someone else’s celebration party to be reliable at work!”

Briana Cameron looked at the image on the screen, first furrowing her brows, then a wave of disgust surged in her eyes, and she immediately averted her gaze.

Astrid was so angry that she couldn't contain herself, she shouted, "Have you no shame! Getting horny anytime and anywhere, it's disgusting! Can someone turn off this screen, I don't want to be disgusted!"

She looked at Briana Cameron, whispering, "Briana, shall we leave now?"

From the moment Maxim and Aurora's video appeared on the screen, people kept looking at Briana Cameron, their eyes full of anticipation for a spectacle.

After all, before Maxim got engaged to Aurora, he was always with Briana Cameron, and they were incredibly in love.

The once beloved lover was now tightly embraced with another woman, Briana Cameron must not have felt too good inside.

Astrid thought so too, looking at the big screen with a mocking expression. She was indeed curious to see how tonight's events would end.

Shirley on the stage had already turned extremely pale, she coldly said to the servant beside her, "Hurry up and get someone to cut off the power!"

Unexpectedly, at her homecoming celebration, Aurora actually gave herself such a big gift!

Shirley was seething inside, but she had to force a smile on her face. She looked at everyone and said, "I'm sorry, there has been a slight mishap. I will have someone deal with it as soon as possible."

However, no one paid any attention to her words at all, instead they were whispering to each other while staring at the two people on the big screen.

Just as Aurora was about to take off Maxim's clothes, she was suddenly pushed hard by him and fell directly onto the ground.

Aurora's face contorted in pain, and as she lifted her head, she collided with Maxim's cold, intimidating gaze, causing her body to involuntarily shrink back.

"Aurora, you dared to scheme against me!"

Aurora was greatly shocked to find that Maxim could still stay awake after she had drugged him. But now, she had no choice but to proceed. If she couldn't get Maxim to commit to her tonight, she would not only have to face the mocking eyes of others, but perhaps even Cosmo would no longer help her.

Thinking of this, she quickly got up and threw herself into Maxim's arms. The original website is <https://m.lingdian>.

A look of disgust flashed in Maxim's eyes, and every place she had touched on his body felt nauseating.

He violently pushed her away, his face grim as he said, "Get out! Or I'll kill you!"

The conversation between the two clearly reached the ears of everyone in the banquet hall. Everyone was not a fool, and at this moment, they also understood what had happened.

"Oh my God, Aurora was so disgusting! Maxim was her fiancé, and she actually drugged him!"

"I saw she was so desperate, look at the way she threw herself at Maxim! She acted as if she had never seen a man before!"

"She has completely disgraced the Fredrick family. I don't think Maxim will stay with her after being manipulated like this. Who would dare to marry her in the future!"

The murmurs of the crowd, Maxim and Aurora did not hear.

Aurora had dared to confront Maxim before only because he was drugged and not in his right mind. Now, facing Maxim's cold gaze, she couldn't help but feel a touch of fear rising within her, causing her to involuntarily shrink back.

Just then, the room door was violently flung open, and a voice that seemed both laughing and not laughing came in.

“Ms. Fredrick, even if you wanted to throw yourself at Maxim, you shouldn’t have used such a despicable method, especially at your best friend’s celebration party!”

Aurora looked towards the door in disbelief, her face turning pale from fright.

“Brycen, what nonsense are you talking about?!”

Brycen sneered, ignoring her and went straight to the bed to help Maxim down, whispering, “Can you still walk?”

Maxim nodded, but cold sweat kept dripping down his face.

Knowing that he was already close to his limit. Brycen didn’t say anything more and directly helped him walk out.

However, after only taking two steps, Aurora got up and blocked his way, her eyes full of coldness.

“Brycen, Maxim and I were engaged, this was our business, it was not your place to interfere! Let him go immediately!”

Brycen lifted his gaze and looked at her coldly, saying word by word, “I never hit women, don’t push me!”

The malice in his eyes made Aurora involuntarily step back, but she still mustered up the courage to say, “I won’t let you take him away!”

No sooner had the words fallen than an angry voice came from the door, “Aurora, aren’t you ashamed enough!”
