Fall for You After Divorce by Callie Chapter 251

Chapter 251

For every kickback he had taken, Briana made him cough up the equivalent amount, with interest.

“I won’t sign this document!”

“Then you should take a leave of absence for a while. When you’ve figured things out and are willing to compensate the company for the losses, you can come back.”

Fury filled Owen’s eyes as he gritted his teeth and said, “Briana! Don’t push it too far, do you really think I’m afraid of you?!”

Briana gave a slight smile, “Of course I know you’re not afraid. If you’re not satisfied with this way of handling things, we can go to court.”

No sooner had the words fallen than Owen fell silent.

After a long time, he gritted his teeth and said, “Briana, you wait for me!”

After speaking, he turned around and slammed the door as he left.

There was not a flicker of emotion in Briana’s eyes as she picked up the document and continued reading.

Near the end of the workday, Maxim made a phone call.

“We went back to the Harmony Villa together in the evening, and grandma found out about our divorce.”

Briana’s hand unconsciously tightened around her phone, she lowered

her gaze and said, "Okay."

The two returned to the Harmony Villa, it was already past seven in the evening.

Seeing Kendra and Reese in the living room, she was somewhat surprised.

After all, when she married Maxim, the two of them never showed up from beginning to end, which showed their indifference towards her.

Unexpectedly, they are now divorced, but the two of them have finally come together.

Besides the two people, Isaac was also there, just sitting quietly next to the old lady, his face expressionless.

"Briana, did you really divorce Maxim?"

Briana met Norma's somewhat upset eyes and nodded, saying, "Hmm."

Norma's eyes were filled with loss, and she let out a heavy sigh.

"Alas... Maxim was just not fortunate enough..."

No sooner had the words fallen than Kendra sneered, "Good riddance. Maxim deserves better. I think that girl Kiley is not bad, she just recently won the national design competition..."

Before she could finish her words, she was abruptly interrupted by Maxim, "Mom, I've told you, I don't need you to worry about my affairs!"

Kendra gritted her teeth, her eyes filled with anger and dissatisfaction.

"If you weren't my son, do you think I would worry so much?!"

“It was impossible for me to be with Kiley, you might as well give up on that idea!”

“You, are you satisfied only when you’ve infuriated me to death?”

Norma gave Kendra a cold glance, “Enough, shut up! This is between Maxim and Brian a, what are you meddling for?!”

Kendra was dissatisfied inside, but due to the fact that the other party was her mother-in-law, she kept a straight face and didn’t speak anymore.

Ever since Norma saw Maxim defending Kiley for hurting Briana at the resort, she knew their relationship wouldn’t last long.

Originally, it was thought that Maxim braving the heavy rain to go to Vertown to find Briana would soften her heart. Unexpectedly, the two had quietly divorced already!

“Alright, since you’ve already left, I won’t persuade you anymore. The path is always paved by oneself. As long as you don’t regret it in the future, that’s fine. I called all of you here today because there’s one more thing I need to announce.”

“What?”

Kendra looked at Norma, a vague sense of foreboding stirring within her.

“Isaac had already returned, and as a member of the Yoder family, I decided to let him also join the Yoder Group for experience.”

No sooner had Norma finished speaking than Kendra sprang to her feet, “I disagree!”

If Isaac had joined the Yoder Group, wouldn't he have had to compete with Maxim for the Yoder Group in the future? She would never have

Norma gave her a cool glance and spoke indifferently, "I'm informing you, not seeking your opinion."

Kendra glanced at Isaac, who had been silent on the side, and gritted her teeth, "I don't object to you training Isaac, but Maxim has been managing the Yoder Group for many years. Now, if you suddenly let Isaac get involved, those shareholders won't accept him."

Norma frowned and said coldly, "It's not your place to worry about whether I accept it or not. Don't forget, Isaac is also a part of the Yoder Group!"

If it weren't for the accidental death of Isaac's parents, Reese wouldn't have taken over the Yoder Group.

She looked at Maxim, "Maxim, what do you think about this?"

Maxim was indifferent, "I have no objections."

“Alright, Isaac started working at the Yoder Group tomorrow then.”

After settling this matter, Norma stood up and said, “I’m tired too, you guys go back and rest early. Briana, come with me, I have something to tell you.”

Briana left with Norma, and once they were back in Norma’s bedroom, she looked at Briana seriously and said, “Briana, is there really no way for you to reconcile with Maxim?”

She really liked Briana and got along well with her, so she wanted to fight for Maxim once more.

Briana pursed her lips and nodded, saying, “Hmm, Grandma, I wasn’t meant to be with Mr. Yoder. After all, he was in love with Kiley. Breaking up was best for both of us.”

“But in my view, the person he liked now was you.”

Norma’s words made Briana’s heart involuntarily skip a beat.

Would Maxim.....like her?

“Grandma, it’s your misconception. He’s showing concern for me now only because I suddenly decided to leave, and he’s just a bit unaccustomed to it. It’s not possible that he likes me.”

Norma held her hand, slowly saying,

“If... he really likes you, would you be willing to give him another chance?”

Briana lowered her head, remained silent for a while, and still shook her head.

“Grandma, my love for him has been completely exhausted over the past three years, and I don’t want to experience that feeling of disappointment over and over again.”

Tears filled Norma’s eyes as she patted Briana’s hand, saying, “Grandma understands now.”

Seeing the sad and lost expression on Norma’s face, Briana felt a bit unbearable, but rather than letting her hold onto impossible hopes, it was better to let her accept reality.

When Briana left Norma’s bedroom, only Maxim was left in the living room.

Hearing footsteps, he stood up from the sofa and turned to look at Briana.

“Did you finish talking with grandma?”

“Mm—hmm.”

He cast his gaze down at her, the gentle light pouring down from above his head, seemingly adding a layer of warmth to his originally cold eyes, causing her heart to involuntarily flutter.

“I took you home.”

Maxim’s voice snapped Briana back to reality, she quickly turned her head away and feigned calmness, saying, “Okay”

Realizing that her heart had started to waver again recently, Briana felt that this was not a good thing. It seemed that she needed to find a way to calm herself down

Perhaps it was the moment she saw him suddenly appear in the flood, her originally firm heart slowly crumbled.

She slowly opened her eyes, firmly making a decision in her heart. She couldn't go on like this, otherwise, sooner or later, she would fall in love with him again!

Early the next morning, as soon as Briana arrived at the company, Owen came to find her.
