Chapter 21: Emotional Blackmail

The moment the knife was pulled out, it fell onto the tiled floor, dripping with blood...

"Li Nanchen! You..."

Wu Mei put pressure on his arm, but blood still flowed out from between her fingers. She frowned and said, "Why did you..."

"I've said it before. No one can hurt you." Li Nanchen's brows knitted together as he endured the pain and took out the iodine and gauze from the medicine cabinet. He then casually bandaged his arm.

Wu Mei looked at him and recalled the moment when Mother Wu brandished the knife and closed in on her. Almost instinctively, Li Nanchen had stood in front of her to shield her, hugging her in his arms and taking the blow for her.

3

She gulped. "...Thank you."

"Let go of me!" The doctors and nurses kept Mother Wu under control and tied her hands and feet to the bed. She continued to struggle and scream.

"You can't let the Wu Corporation go bankrupt! Give them money! Don't you have a lot of money? Give it to them..."

Mother Wu's hair was dishevelled and her pupils were dilated. In this state of extreme agitation, she stared at Wu Mei and said, "Promise me. Or else, I'll kill myself! I won't let you off even if I become a ghost!"

"..." Wu Mei's brows furrowed as an indescribable chill ran down her spine.

The culprit who destroyed her family and made her live in such a wretched place?

Something was amiss!

Wu Mei narrowed her eyes and quickly approached her. She realized that her mother's condition was unstable and the relapse this time was more severe than all the previous times.

She scanned the surroundings and saw that there were no surveillance cameras in the ward. Could it be...?

"Wu Pang, you got someone to provoke and instigate my mother on purpose?!"

Her mother had always been mentally unsound. If there were professionals inciting her, it was very possible for her to do something extreme.

Hearing Wu Mei's words, Wu Pang felt uncomfortable for a moment but quickly concealed that.

"What nonsense are you spouting! I only told her what you've been doing recently. She was the one who disapproved and wanted to stop you!"

"You don't even listen to your mother now? She asked you to give us money, or else she'll kill herself! You heard it yourself! You saw it with your own eyes!"

1

The fat on Wu Pang's body was shaking as he yelled in an ear-piercing voice while pointing at Mother Wu was in a daze.

"How dare you say that you are filial, and that you're a great person! You must make a promise in front of her right now!" Wu Pang pressed her.

Seeing that Mother Wu was about to have another relapse again, Wu Mei had an idea in mind. She squatted by the bed and held Mother Wu's hand as she spoke softly,*

"Mom, I promise you that I won't let the Wu Family go bankrupt. Don't worry."

"..." With Wu Mei comforting her, Mother Wu gradually calmed down.

However, Wu Pang felt ill at ease with the promise and narrowed his eyes. He had a nagging feeling that something was amiss.

This wretched lass agreed so easily?

"In that case, when are you going to transfer the money to me?" He opened his hands, revealing his true nature. "It's best if you transfer the money now!"

Wu Mei patted Mother Wu lightly. Seeing that her eyes were closed and she was sleeping, Wu Mei got up and looked back at Wu Pang.

After personally witnessing this farce, Li Nanchen could not bear to make things difficult for Wu Mei. He was about to take out his checkbook and sign for the 50 million.

Wu Pang's eyes were wide open as he watched Li Nanchen's actions. He could practically feel himself salivating.

"Wait a minute, there's no hurry."

Wu Mei held Li Nanchen back and said to Wu Pang in an insinuating tone, "Next week. Just you wait. I'll give you a surprise next week."

Wu Pang's heart was pounding. Pointing at the bed, he raised his voice and said, "Don't play any tricks. Or else, I can't guarantee that she'll be saved the next time she commits suicide!"

Is he threatening her?

Wu Mei sneered and turned to instruct the bodyguards, "Go and install 24-hour surveillance equipment in this ward right now!"

"You! What right do you have to do this in a sanatorium..." Wu Pang immediately felt uneasy and tried to stop the bodyguard.

However, before his fat hand could touch the bodyguard, Wu Mei grabbed his shoulder and threw him over her shoulder, causing him to fall hard onto the ground!

Wu Pang wailed in pain. Seeing this, Wu Yi did not dare to move forward. However, she stared at Li Nanchen rapaciously.

"Brother-in-law! Did you see that? Wu Mei is always so violent! She beat someone up!"

"She's the daughter of a mentally unsound patient. Her blood and bones are all flowing with mental illness... That's why her personality has changed so drastically during this period of time!"

6

"Hurry up and lock Wu Mei up in the sanatorium. She's already mentally unsound!"

Wu Yi pointed at Wu Mei. Seeing Wu Mei shoot daggers at her, she withdrew her index finger in fear.

"I'm mentally unsound?"

Wu Mei glanced at Wu Yi derisively. Then, she rubbed her palms together and said, "Do you want to see what a real lunatic looks like?"

5

Wu Yi cowered behind Yang Shan in fear and only revealed her eyes as she shouted,

"This is a sanatorium. If you dare touch me, a doctor will lock you up immediately!"

Wu Mei tied up her curly hair and rolled up her sleeves. When she went past Li Nanchen, he suddenly held her wrist and shook his head.

1

"You..."

Wu Mei wanted to shake off his hand, but she stopped when she saw his bleeding wound.

Is he going to defend Wu Yi?

3

After Divorcing, She Shocked the World Chapter 22 - The Law for Psychopaths

Chapter 22: The Law for Psychopaths

Li Nanchen calmly turned to Wu Yi and said, "With the way you bite people recklessly, you seem more like a psychopath than her."

2

"Why don't I pay for your checkup and get you treated as soon as possible? There might still be hope for recovery..."

7

His tone was calm, but the destructive power was extremely high. When Wu Mei saw Wu Yi biting her red lips but not daring to say anything, she shook her head and chuckled.

"Brother-in-law... No matter how much you defend her, you have to know that the marriage of a psychopath is not protected by the law!"

4

"In other words, it means that your marriage is invalid!"

Wu Yi succeeded in reigniting the ball of anger that Wu Mei had just extinguished. She gently let go of Li Nanchen and lifted her leg to kick Yang Shan, who was blocking her way. She grabbed Wu Yi by the throat, pushed open the windows on the 20th floor, and carried Wu Yi to the edge of the balcony.

3

"You know the law so well?"

"In that case, do you know that it is not breaking the law if a psychopath kills someone? They won't be punished by the law."

8

A bloodthirsty look flashed across Wu Mei's eyes. A gust of wind blew over as she let go of her hand. Wu Yi swayed a few times and desperately clung onto the window frame.

"I don't mind. I'll let you give it a try! However, you probably won't be able to see the final outcome because you would have fallen and smashed into a pulp by then."

2

Pointing at the cars at the bottom of the building that looked like ants, Wu Mei asked, "How many seconds do you think it will take for you to land on the ground?"

"...Ah! Lunatic! Help! Mom..."

Wu Yi was so frightened that her hair was standing on end. Her legs flailed and she shouted in a quavering voice,

1

Yang Shan did not care about her dignity at this moment. She knelt down with her hands pressed together as she begged for mercy, "Yiyi is ignorant, she's spouting nonsense!"

"Don't do this... I promise that she will never disturb you again! Never!"

Right from the start, Wu Mei never intended to kill Wu Yi. After all, she did not want her hands to be stained with the blood of someone like that. She then left with Li Nanchen without looking back.

Yang Shan helped Wu Yi back into the ward. Her face was pale but she was looking down at the video on her phone.

The video was of Wu Mei strangling Wu Yi.

"Mom... I was in so much danger just now, yet you were still in the mood to secretly take a video?!"

Wu Yi stared at Yang Shan in disbelief and covered the hem of her dress to hide the embarrassing wet marks. "Don't you care about my life?!"

Yang Shan saved a few copies of the video and comforted her. Gritting her teeth, she said, "Mom did this to have evidence to keep Wu Mei in check. Otherwise, she will walk all over us! Don't worry, with these videos, we might even be able to force Li Nanchen to divorce her..."

3

"I'll show her! She definitely won't have a good life!"

When she heard Yang Shan's words, Wu Yi nodded fervently and said, "I want her to die a horrible death! Payback for all this humiliation!"

Inside the ward, Wu Pang's family of three had sinister expressions on their faces. They were fantasizing about the gratifying scene that would come soon and were trying to deceive themselves.

1

In the bedroom back at the villa.

Li Nanchen had just removed his clothes when he heard a knock on the door. Before he could say anything, Wu Mei had already barged in with the first aid kit.

"..."

Li Nanchen, who only had a towel covering his private part, turned to look at her speechlessly.

Who was it who said that the two of them had to abide by the spatial rules and seek permission before entering the room?

2

Wu Mei glanced at him and secretly wolf-whistled in her heart. Li Nanchen's figure is really not bad. Eight-pack, Apollo's belt, and a perfect butt...

She pretended to be expressionless as she pushed Li Nanchen down and forced him to sit by the bed. She skillfully opened the first aid kit and rummaged through the tools and medicine.

"Are you stupid? If it strayed a bit more to the side, it might have hurt your vital organs. My mother is mentally ill now. It's really not against the law," said Wu Mei as she crouched down and tended to his wounds.

Li Nanchen looked at the top of her head. Under the bright light from the chandelier, he could clearly see the fine hairs on her face. His heart beat faster.

"Why are you so nice to me?"

"You don't love me, isn't that right?" Wu Mei looked up and asked softly.

When he heard the word "love", Li Nanchen shifted his gaze away and gulped.

"I see you as a sister, so of course I don't want you to get hurt."

7

He didn't know what was wrong with him. He had treated her as a younger sister for the past two years, but recently, he had lost control of his feelings for her. This made him feel helpless.

"Oh, a sister?"

Wu Mei could tell that he did not mean what he said. Then, she got up. Supporting herself on his knees, she leaned in towards Li Nanchen and placed her hand on his chest.

Her smile was charming and seductive but the words that came out of her mouth made Li Nanchen dumbstruck.

"President Li, you sure have refined taste and enjoy taboo games. Having sex with your sister?" Wu Mei said with raised brows. She picked up the first aid kit and looked at Li Nanchen's embarrassed expression. When she reached the door, she turned around and pointed to his chest as she said, "Your heart was racing just now! My dear brother..."

18

Wu Mei slammed the door shut. Li Nanchen heaved a sigh of relief.

He lowered his head and looked at the ribbon on his arm. Seeming to recall something, his gaze gradually softened.

Then, he caught sight of Wu Mei's hair tie on the ground. He picked it up and studied it in his palm, feeling conflicted.

After Divorcing, She Shocked the World Chapter 23 - Causing Trouble in the Casino

Chapter 23: Causing Trouble in the Casino

In front of the French windows in the bedroom...

Wu Mei swirled her wine glass as she stared at the scarlet liquid inside in a daze.

The phone screen gradually dimmed and froze at the page where the bank balance reflected only four digits. Wu Mei rubbed her temples as she felt a slight headache coming on.

1

She had made a threat back at the sanatorium and she was indeed planning to acquire the Wu Corporation.

However, she obviously didn't have that much money right now.

Wu Mei opened the special agent forum, intending to find out where pirates were rampant and earn a fortune from them.

Ding dong...

Just then, she received a message on her phone. It was an advertisement for an underground casino.

Wu Mei's eyes instantly lit up as she thought of an idea. Grabbing her coat, she hurriedly left the villa through the window and headed straight for the underground casino.

3

Night-time at the casino is always lively.

Holding the few chips she had bought, Wu Mei cautiously studied the tables with the highest returns and win rate.

Noisy conversations surrounded her as she approached the roulette table and observed...

"Dr Lin? You're here again? How much did you win tonight?"

"Aiya, Dr Lin isn't afraid of losing money. I heard that in order to get him to treat Old Master Li, the Li family paid him 50 million!"

Wu Mei's hearing was sharp. She propped herself up on the gambling table and turned around to see a few gangsters look-alike surrounding Lin Ligu. They hooked their arms around his shoulders and held him down, forcing him to remain seated and not be able to get up.

50 million?!

Li Nanchen is really generous!

Wu Mei took the money she had won from the few chips she had casually thrown out just now and weighed it in her palm.

"What's that bit? In a few days, when they come back to beg me, I won't go even if it's 100 million! Not unless he marries my daughter!" Lin Ligu bragged after drinking some alcohol. However, Wu Mei, who had been about to leave, happened to hear his words and stopped in her tracks.

She turned her head and sneered. Pushing the onlooking gamblers aside, she then sat across from Lin Ligu.

"What are you playing? I'll gamble with you." Wu Mei placed a few chips on the table and challenged him.

When Lin Liguó saw that it was her, he subconsciously covered his injured finger but quickly regained his composure.

"With just you?" Pointing at the chips in front of Wu Mei, he mocked, "You're not fit to play against me."

Lin Liguó had some skills in terms of gambling.

However, he was stupid because he didn't know how to stop. He demanded so much medical fees and even wanted Lin Piaopiao to Li Nanchen in order to reap profits from the Li family.

"Why don't we bet on something new? You can raise any demands..."

Wu Mei raised her eyebrows and calmly stated the condition that would pique Lin Liguó's interest.

The surrounding gamblers started to cheer and urged Lin Liguó on. Seeing that Wu Mei was a new face in the underground casino, they whistled and said, "Elder Lin, what are you afraid of? Gamble with her. If you win, get her to take off her clothes and let us admire the view!"

Holding the chips in his hand, Lin Liguó narrowed his eyes and pondered for a moment before nodding towards the female dealer.

"If I win, get a divorce immediately. How about that?" he asked.

Wu Mei raised her hand to signal the female dealer to give out the cards. She pushed out her chips and said calmly, "Sure."

"If you lose, give me all your chips and kneel on the ground as you call me 'Grandma' thrice."

Wu Mei held the cards in her hand and only glanced at it once before pushing all her chips out.

Her straightforwardness caused everyone in the casino to come and watch this game of the century. Furious, Lin Liguó also followed suit and showed his hand.

Everyone was waiting for Wu Mei to perform the striptease. However, they were quickly slapped in the face.

"Banker wins..."

Wu Mei looked at Lin Liguó's face darken. Her expression remained calm, which seemed out of place with the atmosphere in the underground casino.

"Banker wins again..."

The female dealer piled chips in front of Wu Mei. Lin Liguó's eyes were wandering and his expression grew increasingly more awful. His hand that held the cards was trembling.

"How is it? Continue to show hand?"

Wu Mei had won two rounds consecutively. She pushed all her chips to the middle of the gambling table. Lin Li mustered up his courage and followed suit.

He did not believe that Wu Mei would be so lucky.

However, the truth was that Wu Mei won again, winning three games in a row. The gamblers around her gasped and looked at her in admiration.

One must always honour a bet. Mr Lin, please..."

Wu Mei kicked his chair aside and crossed her legs. She pointed to the empty floor and deliberately dug her ear as she said, "Don't forget, you have to call me three times."

A commotion broke out around them. All of a sudden, Lin Liguó stood up and tried to flip the table. However, he was weak. The table did not move, but he ended up in a sorry state.

"You played tricks! You cheated!" He kept shouting and got the casino's security guard to come over. He pointed at Wu Mei and accused, "It's her! Hurry up and arrest her!"

Wu Mei's eyebrows were furrowed. Looking at Lin Liguó behaving like a sore loser, she felt a little disgusted.

The security guards approached her with their electric batons. They wanted to twist her hand and bring her to the casino owner to await punishment.

2

Crash!

"Get lost!"

Wu Mei yelled viciously as she lifted up the chair and smashed it on the security guard's head.

Chapter 24: The Gambling King Reappears

Liquor bottles flew everywhere and cards were scattered all over the floor.

Wu Mei stepped on the head of one of the security guards and twisted the other security guard's arm. As she pressed him down on the table, she took out two bamboo sticks and pierced his palms with them.

Anguished cries rang out incessantly and the surrounding gamblers retreated to a safe distance, not daring to provoke her.

"Ah... You, you... What are you trying to do?"

Lin Liguó wanted to escape, but his legs turned to jelly and he knelt on the ground while shouting.

Wu Mei tugged at his hair, but a security guard pulled Lin Liguó away again, keeping him at a safe distance.

Ha, this casino is protecting him?

Wu Mei pulled two chairs over and sat down. She washed her bloodstained hands with beer and looked at Lin Liguó who was hiding behind the security guard. She said, "Call me Grandma."

"Three times, not even one less."

"How about I rip out your tongue for you? You don't want to talk anyway, so you won't need it again in the future."

Wu Mei crushed the beer bottle in her hand and used her fingers to wipe the sharp pieces as if he was trying to find an angle as she practiced the motion of cutting his tongue.

"Gran-Grandma!"

Lin Liguó was afraid that Wu Mei would get angry, and the security guards could not stop her. He had no choice but to utter softly in front of everyone.

Wu Mei propped up her long legs and leaned closer. She deliberately asked, "What did you say? Your voice was too soft. I couldn't hear you!"

"Grandma!" Lin Liguó shouted with all his might.

Wu Mei frowned and looked at Lin Liguó coldly. She said unhappily, "Grandma isn't deaf. Are you trying to kill me with the loud noise?"

While Wu Mei was teaching Lin Liguó a lesson, someone went to tell the casino owner about the incident.

The casino owner, who had rushed over, took control of the situation under the escort of his bodyguards. He first got someone to treat Lin Liguó's wound, then looked at Wu Mei and asked, "You're the one who caused trouble and cheated?"

"..." Wu Mei tilted her head and furrowed her eyebrows. Looking at the dark and skinny little man in front of her, she found him somewhat familiar.

Especially the scar at the corner of his left eye. However, she couldn't put her finger on it.

Wu Mei nodded without batting an eyelid. Pointing at the tables and chairs all over the floor, she said, "I'll pay for the damages. Give me the account number and I'll compensate you."

"No need." The casino owner smiled and removed his sunglasses.

A bodyguard brought over two chairs for him and tidied up the gambling table. He took out a brand new deck of cards and summoned the female dealer back to the table.

"In my territory, no one is allowed to cheat and still walk out with their legs..."

"Why don't you gamble with me? If you win, it will prove that you didn't cheat. All the damages in the casino will have nothing to do with you..."

"But if you lose, you'll be at my disposal. How about it?"

The casino owner had an imposing aura. He was smiling but his eyes were vicious.

He's not simple.

Wu Mei thought to herself but did not refuse. She simply shrugged and spread out her hands while saying, "Since it's the rules of the casino, please go ahead."

Underground casinos were very particular about rules.

If someone cheated, it was normal to have both hands chopped off. Some people even died here.

The surrounding gamblers became excited again. They could enjoy two good shows tonight! How could they miss it?

"Lass, I advise you to admit defeat!"

"That's right, Brother Black has never lost before! Don't mess around to the point that you can't wrap things up..."

Hearing their words, Wu Mei looked up and scrutinized the casino owner.

He held the card in a familiar manner and gestured with his hand as he said, "Let's begin."

Wu Mei didn't reveal any panic or fear, which piqued Brother Black's interest. He lowered his head and looked at his cards.

"..." A few minutes into the gambling session...

Big Brother Black's complexion became increasingly pale. Initially, he was confident, but he gradually became oppressed by Wu Mei. In the end, he became powerless to fight back and was defeated.

It only took five minutes and six seconds.

The casino was dead silent for two seconds before thunderous applause erupted. The gamblers looked at Wu Mei in disbelief.

"Holy sh*t. How did she do that?"

"Brother Black has never lost before! He has only lost once. I think he lost to... A special agent known as M."

Upon hearing this, Wu Mei stared at Brother Black. Looking at his eyes and the scar, she suddenly recalled something...

Many years ago, she seemed to have thrashed a little gambling king?

Brother Black stared at the cards in front of him in disbelief. This woman didn't cheat. Otherwise, he would definitely be able to tell.

Could she have relied on her strength? After so many years, he once again felt the fear that he had when he was dominated by M, but in a completely unfamiliar woman again. A chill rose from the bottom of his heart. He looked at Wu Mei's face, which did not look anything like M's, and got up.

"All these chips can be converted to RMB. Miss, do you want cash or a bank card?"

"If it's not rude, I'd like you to invite you next door to have a seat and a cup of tea..." Brother Black's attitude did an about-turn as he looked at Wu Mei and tried asking.

After Divorcing, She Shocked the World Chapter 25 - The Boss' Wife's Inspection

Chapter 25: The Boss' Wife's Inspection

Wu Mei turned around and pointed at the chips on the table. She casually picked up two of them and threw them to the dealer and said, "Bank card."

"Let's go." She tilted her head and patted Brother Black's shoulder lightly with a faint smile on her face.

N years ago, the Ministry of Defense Secret Agent M had been ordered to lurk in the casino during a mission.

After being reminded by the gamblers' conversation, Wu Mei finally remembered that the little gambling king she had dealt with at that time appeared to be the boss in front of her.

She did not expect him to be doing well and to actually have such a huge underground casino.

Brother Black looked at her back then turned to look at his shoulder. He suddenly thought of that terrifying woman, M.

He shook his head to get rid of the unrealistic thoughts in his head, before chasing after her.

"Miss, are you short of money?" Brother Black pushed open the door and asked.

"?" Wu Mei frowned as she felt that Black was being rude.

Brother Black seemed to sense her irritation and quickly explained, "I just feel that with your gambling skills, if you can stay in the casino permanently, you will definitely earn a lot. I can talk to the boss behind the scenes. Your dividend will definitely be quite a lot..."

"I wonder if you'll be interested?"

Wu Mei fiddled with the two chips, spinning them between her fingers as she pondered silently.

That's a good suggestion. She is short of money, and this method will allow her to get the money she needs within a week.

"Alright." Wu Mei nodded briefly.

A happy expression appeared on Brother Black's face and he took out his phone. "Please hold on for a moment, I... I'll report to Boss!"

1

Night fell. In the villa's bedroom, Li Nanchen picked up the call.

5

"Boss? Someone taught Lin Liguó a lesson in the casino today..." Brother Black covered the receiver and whispered while hiding outside the office and looking at Wu Mei.

4

Li Nanchen looked at the wound on his arm and said, "Don't bother with it."

This underground casino was Li Nanchen's property. It was not convenient for him to manage the grey business, so he entrusted it to Brother Black.

As the Li family's private doctor, Lin Liguó was usually somewhat taken care of in the casino.

"Is there something else?" Li Nanchen frowned when he noticed that the other party did not hang up.

Brother Black quickly added, "Yes, the person who taught Lin Liguó a lesson has excellent gambling skills that are comparable to M's. I feel that if she stays, she will definitely be able to generate more profits for the casino. Boss, do you want to keep her? I can help to negotiate the specific salary and dividends."

"..." Li Nanchen did not respond.

Brother Black became anxious. "Her card skills are almost identical to M's."

3

"Keep her there. I'll head over now." Li Nanchen grabbed his jacket and car keys before rushing to the underground casino.

Half an hour later, two pots of tea had been refilled.

Wu Mei was getting impatient and was about to flare up when Brother Black suddenly pushed open the office door.

Behind him, a familiar figure stood against the light with his hands in his pockets.

Wu Mei looked up and met his eyes. He was also stunned. His eyes were filled with speechlessness and astonishment.

3

"Boss, this is the lady I mentioned to you..."

Brother Black could not tell what was going on. Before he could finish speaking, Li Nanchen strode over to Wu Mei and lifted her up.

"How did you run out?" he asked with a frown. The nanny and butler in the living room both did not know that she had left.

3

Wu Mei gently wrapped her arm around Li Nanchen's waist. She raised her brows and replied to him, "I climbed out through the window."

1

"Looks like I'll have to install some security fencing around the villa in the future to prevent some people from secretly running away." Li Nanchen said while holding her hand and smiling lightly.

Wu Mei tilted her head and smiled. She asked, "Do you think those things can stop me?"

Brother Black was not used to this scene and looked at the two of them in shock.

Wu Mei saw him out of the corner of her eye. Seeing that he looked like he was going to die from holding it in, she nudged Li Nanchen's arm.

"This is my wife, Wu Mei."

Li Nanchen's voice was low and attractive, making her swoon.

Brother Black stared at her in disbelief. Two seconds later, he sank to his knees with a thud. Even the security guards behind him knelt down while trembling.

"So it's the Boss' wife in plain clothes coming to inspect our work!"

4

"We didn't realize and even let you suffer such grievances..."

"And to think I still wanted to hire you to work? I'm really... blind!" Brother Black slapped himself and begged for mercy.

Wu Mei raised her hand and wanted to stop him. She sighed and said, "I really didn't mean to conduct an inspection..."

She had absolutely no idea that this place was related to Li Nanchen. Otherwise, why would she come here?
