

After Divorcing, She Shocked the World Chapter 37 - Secretly Using Needles

Chapter 37: Secretly Using Needles

"Ah! Be gentler..."

Li Nanchen's index finger gently massaged the base of her leg. She arched her body uncontrollably and leaned closer to him. She hooked her arms around his neck, as if she was drowning in her desire to be rescued. "Don't... no..."

Li Nanchen leaned into her and entered her body. Feeling a numbing sensation at his waist, he whispered in her ear, "But your body clearly says that you really want it."

Soon, the room was filled with the sounds of a man panting and a woman moaning...

On the bed, the couple's naked bodies were intertwined, and the room was filled with the scent of sex.

Feeling sore all over, Wu Mei pushed away Li Nanchen, who was still in her body.. Taking advantage of his relaxation, she finally found an opportunity to accurately pierce a silver needle into his sleeping acupoint!

"Mm..."

The man merely grunted and fell into a deep sleep.

Wu Mei lowered her head and looked at the hickeys on her chest. Even the slightest touch caused her pain. She gritted her teeth in hatred and kicked him twice to vent her anger!

1

Then, she picked up the clothes that were scattered all over the floor. She felt like it was difficult to even walk. She glared fiercely at Li Nanchen who had a satisfied smile on his face!

1

Sneaking out through the window, Wu Mei hailed a cab and hurried to the hospital.

Taking advantage of the nighttime shift change at the nurses' station, she lowered her cap and picked up the two-piece nurses uniform that was hanging at the nurses' station. She then changed into them.

Wu Mei went to the surveillance room first and hacked all the surveillance cameras in Old Master Li's ward. She then rushed to the ward.

Looking at Old Master Li's weak breathing, she took out two boxes of silver needles. Under the moonlight, she accurately found the acupoints. She raised her hand, then pierced the needle in.

1

It was not until dawn, when the sky was slightly bright, that Wu Mei packed up her things and left quietly, keeping an eye out for any movements in the corridor.

Wu Mei looked around and did not see anyone. She then lowered her hat and got into a taxi to return to the villa.

However, she did not expect that in a high-rise building opposite the hospital, an ultra-high resolution camera was aimed at Old Master Li's ward and had captured all of her actions. That person's lips curled up into a sinister and smug smile.

3

"Wu Mei, you're dead!"

Back at the villa, Wu Mei sneaked back in and looked at the door of the two bedrooms. Initially, she wanted to go back to her room.

In the end, she resigned herself to her fate and pulled open the door to Li Nanchen's room. She took off her clothes and threw them on the floor as if restoring the place to its original state. She then quietly lay down beside him.

Li Nanchen seemed to be unable to sleep well. Almost instantly, he turned around and hugged her.

Wu Mei felt a certain part of him harden again. She closed her eyes as fatigue overwhelmed her.

Is this guy thinking about that kind of thing even in his sleep?

The next morning, the faint light of dawn shone through the curtain that was shimmering with a pearly gleam and shone on both of them...

Li Nanchen opened his eyes and saw the woman in his arms. He recalled all the crazy actions last night and was stunned. However, his eyes immediately turned gentle.

The sleeping Wu Mei was more obedient and docile than when she was awake. She even looked a little cute and adorable. Her slightly pouting lips made Li Nanchen's heart flutter. However, when he lowered his head to look at her hand on his chest, he could not help but laugh.

Her alertness is quite high!

With a smile on his face, he hugged Wu Mei in his arms and gently kissed her forehead.

He did not know why he would do something like that. It seemed to be a subconscious act with no reason to speak of.

Night had fallen. The banquet reception for the high-ranking official was about to begin.

Thinking that she was going to make a move later, Wu Mei specially chose a suit with a gender-neutral style. Besides looking capable, her graceful figure that could not be concealed was filled with a sense of abstinence and seductiveness.

1

Li Nanchen, who was waiting at the ground floor of the villa, did not expect this side of her and was slightly surprised.

"What? You don't recognize me anymore?" Wu Mei teased as she packed the weapons she needed.

Li Nanchen saw that she was relaxed and not nervous at all. He nodded and leaned against the car door as he said, "Yes, you really feel like a special agent."

She is a special agent to begin with.

Wu Mei pursed her lips and remained silent.

When the two of them arrived at the banquet venue, many prominent upper-class figures arrived with their wives or female companions.

The moment Wu Mei stepped onto the red carpet, she attracted the attention of countless cameras. She gently held onto Li Nanchen's arm and smiled lightly.

"Oh? Is this the mentally-ill daughter of the Wu Family?"

"It is! Why is she dressed neither like a man nor a woman at a banquet?! Isn't she just trying to make everybody unhappy?!"

Several noble ladies gathered together and stared at Wu Mei with jealousy in their eyes.

Being well-informed, of course they knew that Li Nanchen had changed his usual behavior and doted on Wu Mei a lot, pretty much giving her whatever she wanted.

In the business circle, they would never be able to get their husbands' love and loyalty.

Everyone hated Wu Mei to the core and wanted to be her.

"Look at her smiling now. How long can she smile for? Her maiden family is about to collapse. Could it be that the Li family wants a bankrupt woman to be their Young Madam?"

1

"In a few days, she will definitely be kicked out!"

The upper-class women said in jealousy. These words reached Wu Mei's ears, but she did not mind at all.

