

After Prison 1191

Chapter 1191

Leon could tell he was not welcomed. He smiled bitterly, "Why? Aren't you happy to see me? You better don't forget about our agreement. I can come to look for you anytime I want for the next three years because you're my woman and you have to obey me and sleep with me when I ask you to. Do you understand?"

Evelyn knew she was on the downside now because she needed Leon's help to kill Severin. Thus, she stood up while smiling bitterly and walked to the stairs. "Let's go "

Finally, Leon was satisfied. "This is exactly how you should behave. And remember to smile brightly every time you see me. Do you understand?"

After that, he walked to the couch and sat down. "But I'm not here to sleep with you. I want to show you the person who killed your father. I got the surveillance video. He has a very powerful technique. It's going to be harder than I thought to kill him.

H

"Let me see!"

Evelyn was thrilled to hear Leon was here to show her the video. She quickly ran over Leon unlocked his phone and played the surveillance video.

Although the video's quality was not very clear, she could still tell the man who killed his father was very strong because he single-handedly killed many fighters.

"What's that technique? Those rose petals look so pretty but when they exploded, the power is so huge!" she asked after looking at the video.

Leon smiled bitterly, "I think this is a Sun-grade technique. It's very rare. If I kill him, I probably can learn this technique if he keeps the technique book in his spatial ring!"

"A Sun-grade technique. It seems like he's probably a level seven warrior king. No wonder, he can kill my father and the other people easily. It all makes sense now."

Evelyn frowned and looked at Leon. "Their facial appearance is clearer here. It shouldn't be hard to find them now that we have a photo of them. Can you find them by tomorrow?"

Leon thought and said, "Evelyn, this is Nine Dragon City we're talking about. Do you have any idea how huge the city is? I'm afraid it's going to be hard to locate them by tomorrow."

After a pause, he continued, "If we're lucky, we can locate them tomorrow. But I promise you I'll give you their location soonest by the day after tomorrow if I can't find them tomorrow."

At least, Evelyn now knew who was the one who killed her father. Her mood lifted up a bit. "Thank you, Leon."

Immediately, Leon sat closer to her and hugged her. "Evelun, you're my woman now and you don't have to distance yourself from me. I'm glad that I can help you. Don't worry about a thing. I promise you I kill that guy at all costs."

Evelyn nodded, "I know."

Meanwhile, Severin, Sheila, and the members of Gallus Hall had reached the restaurant they reserved.

soon. Why don't you

"I'm sorry, Mister Tyger. The best private room is reserved by someone. The customer is arriving soon. Why consider the other private rooms? This room is not bad too. It has a stylish design."

When Severin and the others walked into the restaurant, they heard the restaurant manager explaining to a rich kid.

Tyger was followed by a group of people and his attitude was very arrogant. "Who is the one who reserved it? Why can't you. tell him to let me have it? If they decline, tell them it's Tyger Haney wants that room!"

The restaurant manager was speechless. The Haney family was one of the four first-tier upper-class families in Nine Dragon City. Even his boss would have to treat Tyger with much respect if he was here.

Just when she had no idea what to do, she saw Nancy and the others walking in. It literally lit up her hope. "They're here, Why don't you discuss it with her?"

Tyger looked back and sneered, "There I was thinking who the hell dares to use this best private room when I want to use it? So it's you girls who book the room. Nancy, honey, I haven't seen you for a long time."

The moment Nancy saw Tyger, her face became sullen. All she could do was smile embarrassingly. "Mister Tyger. Yes, it has been a long time since I last saw you. You look more charming than the last time I saw you

Tyger scoffed, "Don't even try to kiss my ass. I'll be frank. Are you the one who reserved the best private room? Give me the room and you can pick the other rooms."

The request was so absurd. Nancy felt angry to be bullied. Moreover, Tyger did not even offer any compensation.

She smiled embarrassingly with her gritted teeth. "Mister Tyger, I'm sorry but this is an important dinner for us so we really want to use that room."

Tyger pulled his face long and said overbearingly, "Damn you, woman! I'm already trying to be nice here. You should feel honored to let me use that room. I'm a young master of a first-tier upper-class family. Do you really think I'm asking you? I'm just informing you!"

“Haha. Mister Tyger, are these people the members of Gallus Hall? I thought they only recruit females. Why is there a man together with them?” another rich kid in a white tuxedo suit asked.

Another guy made a dirty joke, “That’s saying these women are not as pure as we thought they are. They would still have the desire. That’s the only explanation.”

Tyger laughed out loud. “Haha. I have got to say the women from Gallus Hall are all very good-looking and have wonderful bodies. If they’re willing to change their mindset and open a shop that provides special service to men, I’m sure their business will be very good.”

Nancy was so angry and gritted her teeth vehemently. Those rich kids were being unreasonable and absurd.

She took a step forward and gripped her fist tightly with spiritual energy covering it. “Tyger Haney! Do you think you can bully us as you like?”

Chapter 1193

“Huh? Are you suggesting that I can’t? I’m just telling the truth. I’m all ears so tell me why on earth do you only recruit female members”

Tyger raised his brow and sneered, “You shouldn’t blame me for overthinking it when a whole bunch of beautiful women gather together and form a gang.

“That’s right! It’s not our fault for thinking in that way!” The guy in a white tuxedo suit hurried and agreed with Tyger.

His family was a second-tier upper-class family. He was one of Tyger’s friends, always lacquered and flattered Tyger, and caused trouble together with Tyger.

“You guys are so unreasonable!”

Nancy’s eyes turned red and she tried hard to suppress her anger by holding her fist tightly. Despite feeling humiliated, did not dare to touch or do anything to those rich kids.

she

Gallus Hall was well-known for only recruiting, female members because of that many people had been talking behind her or making dirty jokes about them.

When the old wacko founded Gallus Hall, he explicitly stated that she was only allowed to recruit female members. Thus she could only oblige to the rule. Due to that, people were starting to think they might be on to something or Gallus Hall had planned to venture into the prostitution business.

The elders were unhappy and angry to hear that. Yet, all of them did not dare to do anything to Tyger and his gang.

Tyger was accompanied by his bodyguards but their attainment was quite low and so were the other two rich kids. However, they were afraid of the consequences and faced retaliation from Tyger’s family. Thus, they could only suppress their anger and did nothing-

“What’s the matter with you guys? Are you guys sick of living?”

Suddenly, Severin stepped forward and glared at Tyger and his gang coldly.

“You got some nerves talking to us in that way. Do you know who we are?” The man in a white tuxedo suit walked up and said arrogantly, “I’m Flynn Nash born in a second-tier upper-class family. He’s Tyger Haney, born in a first-tier upper-class family. How dare you ask us to die?”

Tyger’s face locked angry too. “I think you are referring to yourself. Do you think you’re so great that you can join these women for dinner? If you don’t kneel down and beg for forgiveness, I’ll kill you. Believe me, these Gallus Hall’s women aren’t able to save you.

Severin sneered coldly, “I don’t need them to save me!TM

Nancy was touched. Yet, her conscious was still clear, and knew how stupid it was to offend Tyger and his gang. She scolded Severin in her heart, ‘You stupid guy! We can’t afford to offend them!’

“Miss Nancy, is be your sugar baby? Are you feeling too lonely so you find a man to entertain you? You should have come and asked me. I’m sure I’m much stronger than he is. Or you can ask Tyger too,” Flynn mocked vulgarly,

While he talked, he also used his eyes to scan Nancy’s body from top to bottom. His absconded thought was so obvious.

“Die!”

Severin did not even want to talk more with them because they were too unreasonable. He moved in a flash and appeared in front of Flynn. With a speed faster than lightning, he choked Flynn’s neck and broke his neck.

Flynn died while feeling shocked and scared,

Severin let go and Flynn’s body fell to the ground.

“Mister Flynn!”

Flynn was also accompanied by his bodyguards. However, the bodyguards did not think Severin would do anything and they completely did not have the time to react or stop Severin from killing Flynn.

They stood there and looked at Flynn’s body feeling shocked.

They totally got it if Severin did not know who Flynn was but Flynn had already told him just now. They had no idea why Severin would have the audacity to kill Flynn.

“Kill him!”

The bodyguards exchanged looks with each other. They balled up their hands and attacked Severin together.

Chapter 1195

As a matter of fact, Nancy was feeling speechless and helpless too. She did not want and never thought about offending the Haneyes. Heck, she did not even want to offend the Nashs too!

However, she was forced to fight in that circumstances.

She smiled embarrassingly, "Mister Tyger, I don't think we have offended you. This guy here is the grand-elder of Gallus Hall. The person he killed just now was Mister Flynn. If we did offend anyone, then it's the Nashs and not you or your family."

Tyger sneered, "That's true. Indeed, he didn't kill anyone from my family. But Flynn is my best friend. Do you think I'll just stand here and do nothing when I witnessed him get killed?"

Nancy was speechless. Her head hurt so much when she witnessed Severin kill Flynn. If Tyger decided to retaliate against them to avenge Flynn's death, Gallus Hall would be destroyed very soon.

However, Severin only made things even worse. "Mister Tyger, then what do you intend to do? I also think as his best friend you should do something for him. Why don't you look after his body and bring his body back to his family?"

Tyger's mouth twitched and his face looked terrible.

Nancy was completely lost for words. She did not know if Severin was so stupid that he did not realize Gallus Hall was not in the position to offend either the Nashs or the Haneys. He had once again provoked Tyger by saying that.

Tyger looked at Nancy. Although his family and Flynn's family had many strong fighters, they did not bring them out today. Flynn's family was still in the dark about Flynn's death. The current situation was clear that Wind was not Nancy's opponent.

Once he got that clear, he smiled, "Miss Nancy, did you hear what he said? I can stay out of this but I can't make the decision for Flynn's family."

After a pause, he pointed at Severin. "I can't let this guy go. I'm challenging him to fight to the death with Wind. If he could defeat Wind, I pretend nothing ever happened. What do you think?"

Nancy was still feeling speechless. She kept scolding Severin in her heart for acting so recklessly and arrogantly.

While she was hesitating, Severin agreed. "No problem. Let's head outside. I don't want to damage anything here."

"Haha! Let's go. Remember, it's a fight to the death. Don't say I don't warn you when I kill you," Wind laughed out loud and flew out of the restaurant at high speed.

Severin sneered and slowly walked out.

Soon, everyone was standing in an empty space outside the restaurant.

"Miss Nancy, what should we do?" The Great Elder looked at Nancy and asked feeling very worried.

The Great Elder said, "Even if Tyger decides to stay out of this, we're still finished because the Nashs are going to hold us accountable for Flynn's death!"

Chapter 1196

Elaine frowned and said, "Sigh, it's been only a couple of hours since that guy was appointed as grand-elder, and he's already causing us so much trouble! I'm starting to regret everything, Hall Master. It wouldn't have turned out like this if I hadn't brought them back today. I even thought I succeeded in making an important contribution to our hall! Sigh, I won't be able to forgive myself if Gallus Hall crumbles because of this."

Nancy's expression sank. She could only sigh and lament, "Well, all we can do now is take things one step at a time."

I

The third elder brought Nancy to one side and said softly, "Perhaps you could just go ahead and kill Wind. He's already barged into our turf, so I think there's still time to kill him and bring our people elsewhere. It would be great if we could find a relatively secluded place to train hard. Having a grand-elder who is also a second-grade alchemist will allow us a chance to become stronger in the future."

Nancy frowned and hesitated. "I'm afraid it's too late for that. There might be a glimmer of hope still if we're the only ones who can escape, but we have far too many members. It will take some time to inform them. If we do that, we'll offend both the Nashes and the Haneys. Their strongest people will catch up to us in no time, especially if we're bringing along disciples with low attainment."

Following a brief pause, Nancy continued in a serious tone, "Gallus Hall is the rest of my blood, sweat, and tears. I can't just abandon it. I would have been dead if the previous hall master hadn't saved me. He entrusted the task of developing Gallus Hall to me, and he wanted me to let it grow continuously. I can't let him down like that! He's even made it very clear that the supreme leader would come looking for me."

To the surprise of everyone there, a formidable sword energy came right at them as Severin slashed his sword. Wind's gigantic spiritual energy tiger that stood several feet high was defeated easily and reduced to nothing.

"What's going on?! Those at the scene were startled by what they saw. An attack from a level three warrior king was a force to be reckoned with, especially for someone like Wind whose combat strength was on the higher end of the level three warrior kings.

Shockingly, even someone as strong as him could be defeated by Severin with such ease.

"Crap!" Wind looked frightened. After his attack was dispelled by Severin, he realized that the strength of Severin's sword energy had only decreased by about thirty percent after combusting against the tiger. Rather than dissipate, the energy was heading right toward him.

He was so frightened that he broke out in a cold sweat and felt a chill down his spine.

Severin's sword energy approached Wind with such momentum that the latter could only form a shield in front of him. He breathed a sigh of relief once the shield formed, believing that he would not be injured at most and not killed.

As long as he was still alive, he was confident that Severin would spare him out of courtesy for the Haneys. After all, the Haneys were a first-tier family that ranked much higher than the Nashes.

A loud roaring boom was heard, and the relatively strong aura shield was split in half right down the middle. The remaining sword energy eventually landed on Wind's body.

Chapter 1197

When the sword energy hit Wind's abdomen on impact, he was knocked into the air before finally falling to the ground. He took several steps back before stabilizing his figure.

"Awesome! We won!" Nancy and the others breathed a sigh of relief when they saw what had happened. Gallus Hall still had a chance of surviving if Severin was still alive.

Elaine's lips parted open slightly as she mumbled, "I didn't expect our supreme elder to be so powerful! His combat ability is almost on par with our hall master."

The from Gallus Hall had joyful looks on their faces, but that all changed the next second. They became worried when they saw Wind looking down at his abdomen. Blood was gushing out, and there was a severe pash across his torsu.

“No... this can’t be!” He muttered a few words and collapsed straight down.

“You killed Wind?” Tyger gritted his teeth angrily. He walked up to Severin, glared at him, and clenched his fists.

Severin responded faintly, “Hehe, I thought we agreed to make this a life—and–death battle? Either he dies, or I die. There shouldn’t be anything wrong with me killing him, right?”

Once Nancy came to her senses, she immediately took a step forward and said, “Yeah, you can’t go back on your word! You should accept your defeat graciously as the scion of a first–tier family.”

Tyger gritted his teeth. Knowing full well that the subordinates around him could never be an opponent of Nancy and Severin, he could only smile wryly and say, “You got us this time. We’re leaving!” He proceeded to leave with a few of his subordinates.

After Tyger was gone, the great elder immediately said, “You might be very powerful, Grand–Elder, but the person you killed was none other than Wind! We have offended the Haneys and the Nashes! What are we going to do now?”

The second elder of Gallus Hall said, “I think we should leave this city immediately, or else we’d be six feet under if it reaches the point where we are lilled by the two powerful families.”

Elaine then suggested, “Shall I inform everyone in Gallus Hall to leave immediately? If they disguised themselves and made themselves scarce, I believe that a lot of people will stand a good chance of surviving.”

Nancy thought for a while and nodded. “That’s the only way forward, I guess. Where there’s life, there’s hope. Let’s leave for now. We still stand a good chance of escaping Unfortunately, many of our disciples might have to die. I feel bad for our supreme leader, though. If we leave, it might be difficult for the supreme leader to locate us.”

Much to their surprise, Severin remarked, “Why should we make a run for it if it’s not our fault? Besides, didn’t we say that we’re supposed to celebrate with a meal? We can’t just leave when we’ve already reserved a VIP room for the meal! I’m famished right now too!”

Elaine was speechless for a moment. She smiled wryly at Severin and said, “You’ve got some guts of steel! We’ve just offended a second–tier family and a first–tier family. Is food more important than your life?

Severin smiled. “Life is more important, of course!”

Elaine rolled her eyes at Severin. “Hmph, glad you’re aware of that! Let’s leave then.”

Severin, however, smiled and said, “But I’ll be dead if I don’t eat something soon!”

“You...” Elaine was at loss for words.

At that moment, the people that Tyger brought away with him did not go too far. They went to a small alley in the distance.

and hid there.

“Sir, he’s too courageous! I didn’t think he would kill our captain!” A bodyguard was in disbelief after recalling what happened earlier. After all, no one would dare to offend them after hearing the Haneys’ name and knowing that Tyger was their scion.

Little did they expect to meet such a reckless hothead

Tyger sneered and said, “You two can go ahead and inform the Nashes, while the others can stand guard right here. They’re going to escape soon, so keep an eye on them in secret to see which direction they’re fleeing toward. Then it’ll be so much easier for the stronger members to chase after them and lull them.”

Having said that, Tyger sneered, “That guy is powerful, and so is Nancy. However, they are at most level four or level five Warrior Kings. We’ll just sit back. It’ll be good enough if we could get the Nashes men to come over.”

“Yes, sir!” The two bodyguards left there at once.

Tyger gave the situation a little more thought. Wind had decent attainment, so he ought to let his family know that Wind was dead.

“I see. How about I send several men to stand guard at all four of the city gates? If anyone from Gallus Hall wishes to escape, our men are free to kill them right away!” Tyger’s father was fuming, and he issued an order angrily.

“Sure thing, Dad. Hehe. I’ll stay behind and enjoy the fun then! Haha!” Tyger smirked after ending the call. He firmly believed that those who offended him today—be it Severin, Nancy, or the people of Gallus Hall—would soon be all dead.

Not long later, he discovered that Severin and the others did not flee immediately after killing Wind. Instead, they stood there while chatting and seemed to be discussing something.

then. I was the one who killed the man, and many of Gallus Hall’s members will probably be dead if we try to run. Tyger’s people are probably still watching us secretly. What else can we do except to enter this hotel to have something to eat? The Nashes and the Haneys will send their men here because they know that we’re still in this hotel. The safety of Gallus Hall’s other members will be guaranteed this way,” Severin said to Nancy and the others.

“Aren’t you scared of being killed at all?” Nancy glared somewhat angrily at Severin.

After all, Severin was the sole culprit of the predicament that they were in. They had always endured the humiliation they suffered, and had Severin kept his hands to himself, things would not have escalated too much that day.

“Don’t worry, Severin said calmly. “If the Nashes and the Haneys send their men here, they’ll only be sending them to their deaths. I won’t allow them to say anything about Gallus Hall, and I certainly won’t let them call us chickens!”

Chapter 1199

Everyone from Gallus Hall became emotional when they heard what Severin said. They have suffered a lot over the years, yet all they could do was grit their teeth and endure the mockery that they had been subjected to.

Knowing that Nancy and the others must be worried, Severin took a step forward and looked at her. He said in a stern tone, "Shall we? Let's head into the VIP room and have our meal. I'll give you a surprise that is bound to ease all your worries!"

"A surprise that will ease my worries?" Nancy gazed pensively at Severin. She thought to herself, "Does he have some sort of trump card? I wonder if that's the reason he's always so calm?"

Severin smiled and said, "Indeed! I wouldn't gamble on the life of our comrades here now, would I?"

Nancy eventually nodded. "Okay then. Let's have our meal."

"Wonderful!" Severin laughed and walked in with Sheila.

The great elder looked at their relaxed demeanor and frowned. "Do you honestly believe him? We don't have much time to escape, and any delay will only lessen our chances,"

Nancy smiled wryly and said, "Sigh, I think it's best to trust him for now. If he says he can give us some reassurance, then let's just hope he's not bluffing."

"Take us to the room!" Elaine said to the lobby manager, who had already called the general manager over.

The general manager was utterly dumbfounded after hearing everything. “How are you still in the frame of mind to continue with the meal? Isn’t it about time you run off? You killed Flynn along with one of the Haneys warrior kings. How could you even think of eating at this time?”

Nancy smiled bitterly and replied, “Just tell your people to prepare the food. Everything else is none of your concern. We won’t implicate you in this.”

The general manager smiled awkwardly and said, “Fine.” He turned to the lobby manager and said, “Please have someone serve them.”

The lobby manager nodded. He immediately made arrangements for two waiters to bring Severin and others to the Sky–One 100m.

After everyone had left, the lobby manager said turned to the general manager, “Why aren’t they fleeing? How are they still in the mood to eat? If I was in their shoes, I would have skedaddled out of there after knowing that I killed the Nashes’ scion! I would’ve run as far away as possible. Better yet, abroad!”

The general manager thought for a while before commenting. “Do you think they’ve already given up resistance? Perhaps they’re treating this as their last supper in the final moments of their life?”

The lobby manager thought for a moment and finally nodded in approval. “I think it’s very likely. After all, it’s a dead end for Gallus Hall if they offended the Nashes or the Haneys. As if that isn’t bad enough, they’ve offended both parties at the same time!”

After arriving in a huge and luxurious private room, Elaine looked at the two beautiful waitresses and said, “Fetch the red wine for us according to the order we made!”

The two waitresses understood at once and left to do as they were told.

Once the waitresses were gone, Nancy asked Severin, “Okay then, Grand–Eller, what reassurance do you have? Prove it to me right now. I hope you’re not lying to me. Every second that we delay will only reduce our chance of surviving ”

Chapter 1200

Severin smiled subtly and took out a spatial ring from his trouser pocket. He slid the ring onto his finger and said to Nancy with a smile, “This is my reassurance to you.”

“What kind of reassurance is that? Isn’t that just a spatial ring?” Gallus Hall’s Great Elder nearly lost his temper when he saw Severin take out a spatial ring for him.

The second elder also glared coldly at Severin and said, “Are you playing some sort of prank with us? You’re free to court death if you want, but there’s no reason for you to drag us behind!”

Many of the guardians were infuriated because they did not expect Severin to cause chaos in the hall as soon as he was accepted into their ranks

At that moment, however, Nancy's body trembled with excitement as she looked at the spatial ring. Her eyes were already turning red too,

"Isn't that... the Dracodeus Ring?" Nancy asked with a stutter.

"What?" The elders all gasped in shock

In the end, the great elder questioned excitedly, "Did you just say that this is the Dracodeus Ring? He's... he's the Supreme Leader?"

The second elder immediately asked, "Isn't the person who was supposed to have the ring an old man? Why is he such a young man?"

Sheila had long gotten used to the surprised looks. She stood up and explained, "Well, he's the new Supreme Leader. The previous one has passed on the mantle to him. The man you see before you is the person you have all been waiting for."

"You're finally here! Thank goodness!" Nancy exclaimed excitedly and immediately led everyone to kneel. "Greetings, Supreme Leader!"

"Greetings, Supreme Leader!" The other members of Gallus Hall greeted one by one after that.

Severin smiled and said, "Get up, guys!"

After she got up, Nancy said to Severin, "What were you thinking when you joined Gallus Hall to become our Grand-Elder? You're such a serial liar!"

The great elder also smiled wryly. "Why didn't you tell us when earlier? Did you have to take so long to reveal your identity?"
