

After Prison 1421

Chapter 1421

Severin and Sofia began entering the forest as they chatted.

“His attainment must be very high then, and he could even give you so many valuable items. If he has set up a sect, then I’m pretty sure his sect is very strong too.” After some thought, Sofia could not help her curiosity. “Do you know the name of the sect that your uncle set up?”

Severin shook his head. “I didn’t ask in detail, but he told me to look for him on Mount Ermonie when the time comes. I’ll just have to tell them his name.”

Sofia inhaled sharply when she heard that. She immediately exclaimed, “Mount Ermonie? Are you sure that was the mountain he mentioned?”

Severin frowned and asked, “Yes. It’s called Mount Ermonie. Have you heard of it before?”

Sofia gulped. “Tsk, ts, ts. Are you aware that there are different rankings among sects?”

“I am not aware of that,” Severin replied frankly. “This is the first time I’ve heard of it.”

“Sects are divided into unestablished sects and established sects,” Sofia began, “A sect that is unestablished would have no saints in it. They merely consist of a group of practitioners who have level seven or level eight warrior emperors. These people. set up their small sects with only a few hundred members. Some of the bigger unestablished sects can have thousands of members. A sect can only call themselves established if saints are in the ranks, and it is these sects that can call themselves” true sects’. Such sects are acknowledged as true sects by the other sects too

Severin nodded. “And are there any further rankings in this established sect?”

Sofia smiled and said, “Of course! Established sects are divided into third-tier, second-tier, and first-tier...”

Severin listened attentively, and he soon came to understand that sects with a saint are known as third-tier sects, while sects with a level eighth or level nine saint can be considered a second-tier sect. Meanwhile, first-tier sects must have a royal saint

-individuals who are more powerful than a normal saint. Sects with a royal saint can be taken to have fulfilled the requirements to becoming a first-tier sect.

There was yet another layer of subdivisions among the first-tier sects. They were ranked as lower-class first-tier sects, middle-class first-tier sects, and upper-class first-tier sects.

After digesting that information, Severin said, “There are subdivisions for first-tier sects too? How are they categorized then? Is it based on the number of disciples?”

“No,” Sofia answered with a smile. “I’m sure you know that the number of people isn’t always the most important factor. Aside from having a sizeable number of disciples, it mainly depends on the attainment of the higher-ups in the sect, such as their leader and some of the elders.” After thinking briefly, Sofia continued, "At least that's what my father told me. He said that first-tier sects would be considered lower-class if they had only three or four level one and level two royal saints. Becoming a middle-class first-tier sect requires there be at least three or four level four royal saints. For upper-class first-tier sects, their leader must be at a level seven royal saint, and there needs to be at least three such level seven royal saints before it can be considered an upper-class first-tier sect."

"I see. It depends a lot on the number and attainment level of the strongest higher-ups," Severin remarked.

Chapter 1422

"I know that the attainment stage beyond that of a saint is a royal saint, but people like that are never seen in normal society. They're only found in some very powerful sects. I now know that these bulividuals can be found only in first-tier sects," Severin said in awe.

Severin then smiled and asked, "Judging from how surprised you were, is it safe for me to assume that my uncle's sect is a first-tier sect?"

Sofia had an exaggeratedly shocked expression. "It's not just a first-tier sect! The sect on Mount Ermonie is called the Skyblue Sect, and the sect leader's name is Wuhlricht Blasch. His attainment level is not loown, but he should be a level seven royal saint at least. I say that because their sect is an upper-class first-tier sect."

"So, you're saying that there are at least three level seven royal saints in my uncle's sect?" Severin was just as shocked to hear that. "That would explain why I couldn't see through his attainment. It's so much higher than mine! If my attainment is lower than the other person's, then the Mind's Eye technique won't work. At best, I could try to discern their attainment if there's a fluctuation in their spiritual energy, but even then, it's still not very accurate."

"I never thought you'd have that sort of secret technique! It sounds like a very awesome skill to have!" Sofia gulped when she heard that. "No wonder you were able to see through my attainment so easily. Can you teach me that secret technique?" Severin's expression became a little uneasy when he heard that. It almost looked as if he had been put in a very tight spot. "It's a little difficult, unfortunately," Severin finally blurted out after hesitating for a couple of seconds.

Sofia was hit with disappointment when she heard that. "You're right. A secret technique like that is too precious. You and I are just friends, so I can't expect you to pass it on to me. Just pretend I never asked you about it."

Severin smiled bitterly and explained, "Since it's just you and me here, I can explain why it's a little difficult. The first step to learning the Mind's Eye technique is to open your Mind's Eye."

"My Mind's Eye?" Sofia frowned and looked puzzledly at Severin.

Severin nodded. "Yes, to open a person's Mind's Eye, that person will have to lie naked in front of me. To open their Mind's Eye, I will use a combination of dry needling and pressure point treatment to their body."

Severin was forced to explain it to Sofia because he was afraid that she might think of him as being a stingy man who did not want to pass down his secret technique.

Sofia's cheeks turned red as he listened to his explanation. In the end, she bit her lips and said, "I see. No wonder you were so hesitant to say yes when I asked you to teach me."

Severin smiled. "Rachel, Gracie, and Nancy all wanted to learn the same secret technique, but I was too embarrassed to explain it to them. I just brushed it off by saying it was inconvenient to teach, and it's true! It is troublesome to teach that to women."

Severin then looked at Sofia and said, "If you're interested in learning this technique, then I can always help to open your Mind's Eye. I'm fine with teaching you, but it all depends on whether you're okay with going through the first step of opening your Mind's Eye. It is a prerequisite to learning the Mind's Eye technique."

Chapter 1423

Sofia's cheeks turned red. She lowered her head bashfully and felt even more nervous. When the other girls asked him to teach them, Severin always found excuses to brush them off. However, Severin agreed when she made that request as long as she did not mind having to go through that.

'Doesn't that mean he'll have to see my entire body? Sofia became increasingly nervous with that thought. However, she was still somewhat eager to anticipate it too. After all, she came out with Severin with the sole hope of furthering their relationship. If she was able to get him to teach her the Mind's Eye technique, they would surely warm up to each other even more.

"L. I'm not ready yet!" Sofia finally muttered to herself after some thought. Everything was progressing a little too quickly, and she could not bring herself to strip naked in front of him that quickly!

Severin smiled calmly and said to Sofia, "Don't worry. There's still time, but it'll be best if you do it as early as possible. You'd benefit more if you learn it at a younger age."

After some more thought, Severin said, "Aside from that, you need to consider whether or not you want to learn it before we go back. It'll be very inconvenient for me to teach you once we return to South Link City. When I remove the needles at the final moment of opening your Mind's Eye, the pleasure you feel will be so strong that you'll let out a very loud moan. If I open your Mind's Eye at South Link City and you let out that sort of moan, Sheila and Diane will ask what happened."

"How pleasurable is that pleasure? I'm pretty good at holding myself back, so I probably won't moan just because it feels good." Sofia was skeptical about Severin's claims.

Severin smiled. "Haha. Sheila said the same thing too, but she couldn't help herself in the end..."

Sofia was lost for words and wondered just how pleasurable it could be. The way Severin described it made her curious to give it a try. At that moment, a huge red python lunged at them from out of the blue and opened its mouth wide to attack Sofia.

"Be careful!" Severin could sense that the snake had strong spiritual energy, and he realized then that Sofia was lowering her head in deep thought. With no time to waste, he placed his arms around Sofia and skillfully pulled her away from the giant python's attack. He then delivered a swift kick to the giant red python's body.

A dull thud was heard, and the giant red python soared tens of meters across the air, knocking down several huge trees in its trajectory. Severin's kick had left a basketball-sized hole in the python's body, and the force of his kick had gone through the python's flesh.

The red python let out an agonized cry and struggled on the ground for a moment before dying.

Chapter 1424

Solla cried out softly in surprise after Severin hugged her waist. The two of them continued to hug each other for some time before letting go. Softa blushed even harder when she looked at Severin's handsome face. It was quite a romantic scene in a place that was full of thick fog,

"Ahem. Are you okay? We're already inside the forest, and this is where the spirit beasts will start to appear." Severin felt a little awkward as he held Sofia's slim waist. He helped her up hastily before letting go of her hand.

Sofia nodded, "I'm fine. I was just a little too careless earlier. I didn't expect to encounter a spirit beast when we've only walked a hundred or so meters in. I thought we'd only encounter it after a while. That giant python was so silent when it attacked. I was saved thanks to you."

Severin glanced at the giant python and pointed out, "We've only just arrived inside the forest, but I didn't think we'd encounter a level one warrior king at the forest's periphery. This guy would have been on the top of the food chain in other forests."

"Yes," Sofia nodded in agreement. "It would be extremely risky for a profound master hunt for valuable items here."

Severin slowly expanded his mental power to the fullest extent of his range and continued to proceed further with Sofia.

"Your mental power is incredibly strong!" Sofia heaped some praise on him when she sensed the invisible fluctuation.

After walking for about half an hour, they heard the sound of a fight coming from up ahead. Severin smiled and said, "Where there are spirit beasts, there are spiritual herbs. The spiritual energy within such an area would certainly be very strong, so it shouldn't be surprising that some practitioners would come here and look for valuable items."

Sofia nodded. "Disciples of secluded sects love coming to dangerous places for that purpose. There are plenty of spiritual herbs here, after all, and fighting spirit beasts is also a kind of training for them too. After a brief pause, she continued, "But these disciples generally prefer to go in groups of several to a dozen. It'll be much safer that way."

Severin then asked with a smile, "I'm sure those disciples look down on unaffiliated practitioners like us."

"That would depend on the person," Sofia replied frankly. "Some do, some don't. There are a lot of strong unaffiliated practitioners too, and they much rather be alone than join a sect. I heard that some of them can even be royal saints. These are what you could call truly strong individuals."

Severin lamented, "When will I be able to break through to royal saint? My attainment is still much too low to achieve that."

"Don't worry. You have a very strong uncle, and no one would dare to provoke you anymore after you finish the task he gave and head over to the Skyblur Sect," Sofia cheered him on with a smile.

Solla cried out softly in surprise after Severin hugged her waist. The two of them continued to hug each other for some time before letting go. Sofia blushed even harder when she looked at Severin's handsome face. It was quite a romantic scene in a place that was full of thick fog,

"Ahem. Are you okay? We're already inside the forest, and this is where the spirit beasts will start to appear." Severin felt a little awkward as he held Sofia's slim waist. He helped her up hastily before letting go of her hand.

Sofia nodded, "I'm fine. I was just a little too careless earlier. I didn't expect to encounter a spirit beast when we've only walked a hundred or so meters in. I thought we'd only encounter it after a while. That giant python was so silent when it attacked. I was saved thanks to you."

Severin glanced at the giant python and pointed out, "We've only just arrived inside the forest, but I didn't think we'd encounter a level one warrior king at the forest's periphery. This guy would have been on the top of the food chain in other forests."

"Yes," Sofia nodded in agreement. "It would be extremely risky for a profound master hunt for valuable items here."

Severin slowly expanded his mental power to the fullest extent of his range and continued to proceed further with Sofia.

"Your mental power is incredibly strong!" Sofia heaped some praise on him when she sensed the invisible fluctuation.

After walking for about half an hour, they heard the sound of a fight coming from up ahead. Severin smiled and said, "Where there are spirit beasts, there are spiritual herbs. The spiritual energy within such an area would certainly be very strong, so it shouldn't be surprising that some practitioners would come here and look for valuable items."

Sofia nodded. "Disciples of secluded sects love coming to dangerous places for that purpose. There are plenty of spiritual herbs here, after all, and fighting spirit beasts is also a kind of training for them too. After a brief pause, she continued, "But these disciples generally prefer to go in groups of several to a dozen. It'll be much safer that way."

Severin then asked with a smile, "I'm sure those disciples look down on unaffiliated practitioners like us."

"That would depend on the person," Sofia replied frankly. "Some do, some don't. There are a lot of strong unaffiliated practitioners too, and they much rather be alone than join a sect. I heard that some of them can even be royal saints. These are what you could call truly strong individuals."

Severin lamented, "When will I be able to break through to royal saint? My attainment is still much too low to achieve that."

“Don’t worry. You have a very strong uncle, and no one would dare to provoke you anymore after you finish the task he gave and head over to the Skyblur Sect,” Sofia cheered him on with a smile.

Severin thought about it and said, “Well, since we’re here, we might as well search for some spiritual herbs. I desperately need some third-grade high-rank spiritual herbs right now.”

“Does that mean you’re already a third-grade medium-rank alchemist?” Sofia asked in surprise. She thought Severin was just a third-grade low-rank alchemist. “Are you going to make a breakthrough to third-grade high-rank alchemist?”

Severin thought about it and said, “Well, since we’re here, we might as well search for some spiritual herbs. I desperately need some third-grade high-rank spiritual herbs right now.”

“Does that mean you’re already a third-grade medium-rank alchemist?” Sofia asked in surprise. She thought Severin was just a third-grade low-rank alchemist. “Are you going to make a breakthrough to third-grade high-rank alchemist?”

Chapter 1425

Severin nodded calmly in response to Sofia’s shocked reaction. “I am, but my attainment requires me to make a breakthrough to fourth-grade low-rank alchemist. Only fourth-grade low-rank pills can help me achieve more in my attainment.”

Sofia said with a smile, “You’re too talented. From what I know, only first-tier sects can produce such alchemists. I’m confident you’ll be able to make a breakthrough to a third-grade high-rank and proceed to becoming a fourth-grade or even fifth-grade alchemist, I know you can do it.”

At that moment, Severin seemed to have discovered something through his mental power. His eyes lit up, and he made a right turn. “Whoa, I didn’t expect to find a second-grade high-rank spiritual herb so soon!”

Sofia was briefly stunned. “Your mental power is amazingly strong. I didn’t even notice anything. Perhaps this spiritual herb is outside the scope of my mental power.”

Severin reminded Sofia, “Using mental power takes a toll on you. You should avoid using it unless it’s really necessary. If you don’t feel safe around me, then you wouldn’t be safe on your own either.”

Sofia then retracted her mental power and followed Severin. “You mentioned that there were spiritual herbs, to try and see if I can sense them. I didn’t expect it to fall beyond my range of spiritual energy so I just wanted

Severin and Sofia made a few quick dashes across the forest and finally reached the area where the second-grade high-rank spiritual herb was. Severin was beaming with joy when he looked at the herb. He approached it and said, “I never would have thought that there would be second-grade high-rank spiritual herbs not too far from the forest edge. Now I can’t wait to see what else I can find in the forest’s depths. There might be a lot of third-grade spiritual herbs, and perhaps even fourth-grade ones!”

Sofia smiled and said, "That's possible, but it would only be in the deepest parts of the forest. The spirit beasts will be stronger if you go deeper, so you need to be extra careful at the time."

Severin nodded. "I will. I have two beautiful wives waiting for me to come back in one piece."

"Yes, and I'd be as good as dead if you're in danger. That is why you can't and shouldn't take any risks. You have strong mental power, so that'll allow you to sense any powerful spirit beasts. If you happen to notice any, our priority would be to leave as soon as possible." Sofia smiled and advised him.

"Not bad! Not bad at all. This second-grade high-rank spiritual herb will be useful for alchemy, Severin had already gathered the spiritual herb and stored it in his spatial ring

"It sounds like there's some combat over in that direction, and I hear beast roars too. Shall we go over and have a look? Humans wouldn't risk their lives to piss off these spirit beasts if there isn't anything valuable there. I'm sure there will be some spiritual herbs." Severin pointed in one direction after hearing the sound.

Sofia said with a slightly awkward expression, "That's a possibility, but you should use your Mind's Eye technique to check the other person's attainment. We don't want to get ourselves in a mess." She then added, "That technique is really handy. It'll help us avoid any trouble,"

When Severin heard that, he looked at Sofia from head to toe and teased her. "Well, well. You seem to be getting increasingly excited about this technique. If you want it, then why don't we look for a cave so I can help you open your Mind's Eye?"

Chapter 1426

Sofia felt awkward when Severin looked at her like that. She felt as if she had exposed her body to him and said with some hesitation, "I do want to learn it, but I haven't decided just yet. How can you expect me to answer you that quickly when this involves me exposing my bare body to you?"

To her surprise, Severin said teasingly, "Didn't we already sleep with each other last night? Just do it. Don't overthink"

Sofia was lost for words. He was right in saying that they had slept together, but all they did was sleep—nothing else. The way he put it made it sound as though they had already gone all the way.

"Ugh, I never would've thought that someone a decent man like you would your indecent moments!" Sofia rolled her eyes bashfully and pretended to nag him. "Do you want your herbs or not? Someone else might get to it before you if you keep delaying

Severin glanced at Sofia again and was relieved to find that she was not wearing her sect's uniform or token. Since they might meet some stronger members of other sects—and possibly even take those people's belongings or kill some of their members, it would be troublesome if any escapees recognized her as a member of the Stormy Moon Sect and targeted her sect later on

"Let's fly over there." Severin rose two meters above the ground while Sofia followed closely behind him. In less than three minutes, the two of them arrived at the area where the fight was taking place. A valley with a river was situated some two to three hundred meters away, which could explain why there was not as much fog there.

The two of them soon saw eight practitioners attacking a spirit beast.

“These eight people are probably from a sect. Their clothes are all the same,” Severin observed.

Sofia then added, “Their attainment seems to be pretty decent. All of them are warrior emperors, but they’re only level one or level two warrior emperors. A freak like you would have no problem dealing with them.”

Severin smiled wryly and said, “How could you call me a freak? I’m just giving you my advice when I said you should learn the Mind’s Eye technique sooner rather than later. Other people don’t even get a chance to learn it.”

Sofia did not know whether to laugh or cry. “I’m not talking about a freak in that sense. What I’m trying to say is that you’re the genius among geniuses in terms of attainment.”

Severin smiled and said, “Oh? Well, thanks for your compliment! The spirit beast is a little overwhelmed by the eight people attacking it, but it does seem as though this battle might last for quite a while.”

Sofia asked, “I suppose you mean it’ll be easier for you to get it if you wait for them to fight it out a bit longer?”

Severin shook his head. “No. Can’t you see the spiritual herb behind that spirit beast? It’s a third-grade medium-rank spiritual herb. It’s pretty obvious why they’re so desperate to get it. The herb is just by the river, and since there’s so much fog around here, we could just swim over there sneakily and take it...”

Chapter 1427

Sofia’s eyes lit up instantly when she heard what Severin said. “Oh, so you intend to take the spiritual herb without having to fight them?”

Severin nodded. “Their attention is focused on the spirit beast, so they probably won’t suspect that someone would swim across the river and take the herb. Once we get our hands on it, we’ll continue to swim downstream for a certain distance before resurfacing from the water.”

“Sure thing.” Sofia said with a smile. “Even though the spirit beast and those sect disciples are no match for you, it’d be even better if we could get the spiritual herb without having to engage in any conflict.”

Following that conversation, they immediately began making their way to the river and dived right in. They then channeled their spiritual energy to their feet so they could swim more efficiently. Before long, they were already within arm’s reach of the herb. Severin then surfaced from the water, plucked the herb from the soil, and stored it in his spatial ring. Once it had been collected, he continued to swim downstream with Sofia before getting up from the water several meters away.

“The water feels so good! It’s so enjoyable to swim in! I’m still a little surprised that we were able to get the spiritual herb so easily. That was a very smart move!” Sofia smiled as she emerged from the water.

She stood in the waist-high water, and her loose-fitting silk-like long dress had clung tightly to her body after becoming wet. Her curves were accentuated to their fullest. Severin glanced at her and almost had a nosebleed. The dress on her body became near-transparent after being soaked, and he could see everything underneath the dress with clarity. In an instant, Severin’s heart began to feel throbbing hot.

When Sofia noticed his gaze and his hot-blooded expression, she looked at her body and immediately turned red. At that moment, she felt so shy that she wanted to hide away from his sight.

“What are you looking at?! You pervert!” Sofia immediately turned around and was lost for words. Her dress managed to conceal everything before it got wet, and she did not expect it to be almost see-through when it was soaked. Her shyness had reached its peak, and she could tell that he was ogling her breasts earlier.

Unfortunately, she had not taken into account that she would be giving Severin, a good view of her buttocks when she turned around.

Severin was speechless for a while, but he soon commented, “Ahem. I’ll get out of the water and dry myself then. You have a very nice bottom, by the way.” He then flew up and channeled his spiritual energy while shaking his body. His action had removed the water from his clothes, thus drying his clothes instantaneously.

Severin then flew back to the side of the river.

“Ah!” Sofia looked at her buttocks and was just as speechless as before. As if looking at her buttocks was not enough, he just had to give her such a compliment. She would much rather not hear that from him.

“Humph!” Sofia huffed coldly. She flew up to dry her clothes before descending to where Severin was “Ugh! If I knew this would happen, I wouldn’t have followed you into the water earlier!” Sofia complained even though she was feeling a little happy deep down. After all, Severin had looked at her body with intrigue earlier, which suggested that he had a thing for her. It was so much better for him to react that way than to show no interest in her body.

Chapter 1428

Before Sofia had left South Link City, Shrila had come up with an idea for her to dress sexier and seduce Severin. That might be the deciding factor for her

*Win Severin’s heart. Sofia never had the boldness to dress sexier, but she managed to show off her figure through sheer luck.

Severin said with a smile, “I can tell that you like me, Sofia. Oh, and since I’ve already seen your body, you might as well just let me open your Mind’s Eye for you and be done with it.”

“1. I didn’t say I like you.” Sofia turned around. A smile appeared on the corner of her mouth and she could not help herself from biting her lips nervously.

“Haha.. you’re just my type. It’s as clear as day that you have a thing for me, but you still can’t bring yourself to admit it.” Severin laughed when he saw her shy expression.

“You jerk. You’re such a meanie!” Sofia then turned around and summoned up her courage. “You said that on purpose even though you already know that I like you. Well, you’re right! I do like you. I’ve liked you from the first time I met you, and my feelings for you grew deeper when I met you the second time.

To tell you the truth, I wasn't just passing by when I went to South Link City—I went there on purpose to see you! Are you happy now that I've confessed my love to you?"

Her words made Severin even more attracted to her. He could not help himself from taking a step forward and embracing the beautiful woman in front of him. Amidst Sofia's surprise, he went even further and kissed her on the lips

"Megh!" Such feelings of love came too quickly. It was like a whirlwind that caught Sofia off guard and elicited a gentle moan from her. However, she closed her eyes and reciprocated the kiss, knowing that Severin was a man who took responsibility. When Severin decided to kiss her, it signified that he loved her, and would shower her with care and affection from that moment onward. That was Sofia's first kiss, and she never would have expected her first kiss to happen under such circumstances. Since she lacked any kissing techniques, she could only respond mechanically and allow Severin to have his way with her.

Once the kiss ended, Sofia rolled her eyes. "You took my first kiss!"

The slightly resentful look on her beautiful face made Severin's heart tremble even more. 'She becomes more and more beautiful with every passing look. I guess it was only a matter of time until I fell in love with her,' Severin thought to himself.

At that moment, the sound of applause was heard not far behind them. Severin released Sofia slowly from his embrace and looked in the direction of the clapping.

Chapter 1429

The man applauding them was a fat man, and there were two other men—one short and the other tall—standing beside him. The latter two looked a little thin, almost as if they were a little malnourished.

"Mmmm! So, it's your first kiss, then! I'm guessing that means you're still a virgin too!" The fat man looked at Sofia with a lewd expression and said with an evil smile, "We got lucky then."

"Hehe, not bad! I didn't think we'd be lucky enough to meet such a beautiful woman here! And she's a virgin too... heheh!" The tall man let out a perverted chuckle and looked at Sofia with a lustful gaze. After all, there were not a lot of women in their sect who were as beautiful as Sofia.

Severin's expression snured slightly as he looked at the three of them. He then asked, "Which sect are you from? Why would a sect accept such degenerates like you?"

"Degenerates?" The fat man went blank for a moment. Finally, he said with a smirk, "Haha! Don't you recognize the Mometo Sect's uniform? The two of you seem to be unaffiliated practitioners, so where did you get the nerve to call us degenerates? What are you to us then? Trash?"

The tall man clenched his fists and said, "Don't argue with that guy, Leeson. He's going to be dead soon anyway. Why bother getting so worked up over trash like that?"

The short man was a little jealous of Severin's good looks and could not resist remarking, "Look at him. He's just a pretty boy! He doesn't even have any muscles. I hate guys like this the most."

The fat man laughed and said, "It's a shame that he just only managed to win her heart. But we're the ones who will get some action later, not him!"

The short man smiled evilly. "That girl is such a hottie, Leeson. I think we should keep her alive for a few more days and enjoy her holes before killing her. Does that sound good to you?"

The fat man's eyes lit up. "Great idea. Let's do that! Haha!!!

"The Mamelo Sect is about as strong as my sect, but I don't know just how strong these people are." Sofia glared at the three men in annoyance. Their comments made her feel like ripping them to shreds. After all, she had a very high position in the Stormy Moon Sect because she was the daughter of the sect leader. No disciple would dare to make such obscene comments toward her.

Severin was a little stunned, but he soon said, "Are you that curious to know their attainment?"

"Of course. If their attainment is lower than mine, then I'll be happy to kill them with my own hands. I'm just worried that it's higher than mine because they're disciples from a sect."

Severin smiled and said, "Don't worry. Their attainment isn't that high. That fat man is only a level one warrior emperor, and the other two are level eight warrior kings. They're absolute trash, and you can easily deal with all three of them."

Sofia rubbed her hands with glee and said, "Leave them to me then

Severin could tell from her gloomy expression that she was fuming. He nodded and said, "Sure. Feel free to go han. I'll just stand here and watch."

"They saw through our attainment before we even made a move. Do you think we could've bumped into one of the stronger unaffiliated practitioners?" The short man was a little wary after hearing the conversation between Severin and Sofia.

However, the fat man smiled coldly and said, "Relax. They're probably just trying to see us. There aren't a lot of strong warrior emperors among these unaffiliated practitioners. Besides, P's also one of the better disciples in the sect. Our luck can't be that bad."

The tall man then remarked, "A lot of unaffiliated practitioners will bluff in try and scare their opponents. Don't be a scaredy cat and let yourself be fooled by them."

Chapter 1430

The fat man then said, "Lonno is right. I've met women like her before. When I finally fought against her, it turned out that she was just a level two warrior king. I called her bluff when she said that she was a level eight warrior king. When I defeated her, I used her for several days before killing her."

"You're no better than animals!" Sofia saw red when she heard that and immediately rushed toward the three of them.

"Hmph! You've got guts for charging at us, I'll give you that. Aren't you afraid of delivering yourself to us on a silver platter?" the fat man did not seem to fear her at all. He clenched his fist and released his spiritual energy

Unfortunately, he was several levels lower than Sofia and was unable to withstand her punch at all. She sent him flying with that single punch, and he crashed to the ground several hundreds of meters away. Blood was flowing profusely from his mouth.

“No! This can’t be! How is this possible?! How can they be level four warrior emperors when they’re unaffiliated practitioners? They look so young too!” The fat man’s eyes were chock full of disbelief. That was the moment he realized that he had messed with the wrong person.

“A level four warrior emperor!” The other two men were about to attack Sofia ton, but their legs went limp after they saw that scene.

“Spare us!” The tall man knelt on the ground after his initial shock. He knew that he was powerless against a level four warrior emperor, so he could only kneel and beg for mercy.

The short man knelt and begged Sofia for mercy too. “We know now that we were wrong. We were just joking earlier. It was just banter among men. I never had those ideas about you!”

The tall man followed suit and said, “Yes! We weren’t serious! We don’t have any lewd thoughts about you!”

Sofia walked up to the two of them. She smiled coldly and immediately released a wave of spiritual energy. “What do you take me for, an idiot?”

When the fat man saw his two juniors being killed so effortlessly, he sat up in fear and said in a trembling voice, “No! Don’t kill me! Please! We realize our mistakes now! We won’t dare to do it again!”

Sofia could not be bothered to entertain his pleas and walked toward him to take his life.

The murderous look in Sofia’s eyes left the fat man feeling flustered and fearful, but he immediately tried to act tough. “Think twice before you do anything! If you spare me, I’ll forget about what happened today. I am a warrior emperor, after all, I am slightly higher in the Mometa Sect’s hierarchy. If you kill me, those who are stronger than me will seek revenge.”

Sofia sneered and said, “Do you think I’m that stupid? It’s normal for sect disciples to die in such a dangerous place. No one knows who or what killed you. Besides, even if some of your fellow disciples passed by and saw your dead body before it got eaten by the spirit beasts, do you think they’ll know who killed you? Your threats don’t scare me!”

Another dull thump was heard and the fat man collapsed lifelessly to the ground.