

After Prison 1451

Chapter 1451

Clara immediately smiled awkwardly and explained, "You won't believe it, Donate, but we were nearly killed by several of the Jergens men"

"That's some tough luck for the two of you" Donald was taken aback when he heard that. However, he could breathe a sigh of relief after seeing that both of them were all right "Were they stronger than you?"

Clara nodded. "The Jorgens must've sent many disciples to search for Capra Hall in the foggy forest. The four of them had much higher attainment levels than us, and we were no match for them at all" Clara paused briefly and then continued, "This kind couple came to our rescue though. We would have died otherwise."

Gigi added bitterly. "The four of them demanded to know where our headquarters are, or else they would torture us to death. I can't bear to imagine what would happen next if it weren't for them."

Donald glanced at the two of them. He stepped forward and said gratefully, "Please accept my thanks for helping them out. Unfortunately, however, strangers aren't allowed to enter Capra Hall. I hope you'll understand our rules."

Clara immediately explained, "This gentleman here asserted that he knows our hall master and is his friend. He says that our hall master will be very pleased to meet him."

Donald was shocked to hear that. He immediately nodded and said, "In that case, the two of you may get some rest in the living room We'll inform the person in charge of our divisionTM

Then, he turned to Clara and Gigi, saying. "Clucu, Gigi, could you please bring them to the living room and prepare some tea for them?"

"Sure," Clara answered.

She then faced Severin and invited them, "Shall we, then? What are your names, by the way?"

Once Clara and Gigi left with the two of them, a young man stepped forward and said to Donald, "Do you think the Jorgens might be playing some kind of long con on us? They're very cunning people, and we have no other who these two people are either. I don't think it's a good idea to just let them in "

After thinking about it, Donald said, "I don't think they'd be so bold. If that guy says that he's friends with our hall master, that means our hall master should know who he is too. We will soon find out if they're our enemies. Our hall master and our elders have reached a very high level of attainment, so much so that the Jorgens' head might not even be a match for them. This man and woman don't look very old, so they're neither the Jurgens' head nor one of their elders.

He then ordered, "Carry on patrolling. I'll relay this to our division leader."

Donald later went up to a middle-aged man and explained everything to him.

The middle-aged man frowned as soon as he heard that. "Clara and Gigi are bold, I'll give them that. Rather than come back and seek our opinion on the situation, they brought the two strangers here right away. Have they not considered that the enemy might have hired a strong person from some secluded family to us?"

Donald frowned, "What should we do now then? He saved Clara and Gigi, and he even said he was our hall master's friend. We can't just chase him away, can we?"

The middle-aged man thought for a moment and suggested, "I'll go and meet them. I've been in Capra Hall for several years already, so I know most—if not all of the people our hall master knows. I'm rather confident that I would know who they are if they are one of his old acquaintances."

Donald nodded and walked towards the living room with the middle-aged man, whose name was Sorin and whose position in Capra Hall was that of great protector.

Chapter 1452

Sorin frowned as soon as he laid eyes on Severin and Sofia. "Donald here told me Clara and Gigi were rescued by two individuals. They should be referring to you, I believe."

Sorin sat down and gestured politely at Severin. He then introduced himself, "I'm Capra Hall's great protector, My name is Sorin, and I've been by our hall master's side for a very long time now, I don't think our hall master knows either of you."

Sorin stared intently at Severin as if wanting to see through Severin's thoughts. He believed that Severin would panic a little if Severin had been sent by the Jorgens and knew nothing about their hall master, Bowen.

However, Severin remained indifferent. He merely smiled and said, "It's nothing surprising if you haven't met me before. Even your hall master has never seen me yet."

Sorin immediately stood up and glared at Severin. "Who are you, then? You'd better come clean with us and tell the truth! Why would you say that you're our hall master's good friend if you haven't even met him?"

Severin shrugged his shoulders and said, "Tell him to come to meet me. I trust that he's open to meeting me, and he'll even be very happy to see me."

Sorin did not expect Severin to be so fearless.

"Sir, this." Donald frowned and took a step forward.

Sorin nodded. "Call the hall master and the two elders to come here. They would know who this guy is. As long as you don't mention the locations of the other divisions, then they would be able to evacuate if they hear the battle here. That will help ensure that we don't all go down if something goes awry."

Clara then said to Sorin, "Sir, Mister Severin and Miss Sofia are good people. They could not have been from the Jorgens. Why would they go so far as to kill four high-level disciples to save us?"

Sorin remained noncommittal. He nodded and sat at one side to continue drinking his tea. After a while, Donald came back with Bowen and two elders. A young girl followed right behind Bowen—she was his granddaughter, Cindy “Sir, these are the two people who saved Clara and Gigi. This gentleman said that you’d know him and would be very happy to see him.” Donald stepped forward. “His name is Severin, and his companion is Sofia”

Bowen looked at Severin and frowned in deep thought. He then said, “I appreciate you helping our members, but I don’t seem to remember meeting you before.”

Chapter 1453

The two elders immediately had their guard up, while their protector and the others looked sternly at Severin too.

, it would be highly likely for Severin and Sofia to be sent by Jorgens if Severin had been lying all along.

Severin smiled calmly and stepped forward. He showed his fingers to Bowen and said, “You might not know me, but I’m sure you know this ring.”

“That’s... That’s the Dracodeus Ring!” Bowen looked carefully and gasped in shock. His eyes turned red and he knelt on the ground. “I am honored to meet you, Supreme Leader!”

He immediately reminded everyone else, “Kneel before him, everyone! He is the supreme leader of Dracodeus Temple, the very same person I told you about. I am surprised that he has found out. This means that he has not forgotten about us!”

“Greetings, Supreme Leader!” The others knelt in excitement too

“Please get up. There’s no need to be so courteous. We’re all comrades here!” Severin immediately stepped forward to help Bowen and the others up. He then said to Bowen, “Hall Master Bowen, you are your hall are members of Dracodeus Temple. I will never forget about you! I’ve been searching for almost half a year for you, and now I’ve finally been able to locate you!!

“We wouldn’t have taken the risk to hide here if we hadn’t offended one of those secluded families.” Bowen lamented to Severin, “There might be a lot of spiritual herbs in this forest, but there are equally as many spirit beasts. We had more than three thousand members when we first came in, but now our numbers have been reduced by a thousand.”

He then clenched his fist and said, “However, we’ve made great progress in our attainment too. We were planning to wait a while longer so that our disciples who were at a bottleneck in their breakthrough could give it a go again. That’ll allow us to leave this place and seek revenge with the Jorgens. We’ll risk our lives and fight them to the death if it means making the Jorgens suffer Severin smiled and said, “Don’t worry. Your enemy is our enemy. Now that we’ve found you, we will lend our strength to help you eliminate the Jorgens once we escape.

“By the way, when the hall was first established, the previous supreme leader said that there would be twelve halls. I’ve always wondered where are the other halls, and if there are indeed twelve as Lee said.” Bowen seemed to be unclear as to whether or he not the old wacko had established the other halls, but he continued to develop Capra Hall according to instructions.

Severin nodded. "Yes. After my master passed on the position of Dracodeus Temple's Supreme Leader to me, he asked me to locate all of them." Severin recounted the entire story to Bowen. He smiled at the end of his account and said, "Capra Hall is the nintli ball that has been found. That leaves me with three more, but I'm pretty sure it is only a matter of time until we get news of the three halls."

"Halia, that's good to know! I'll finally be able to meet the other hall masters." Bowen was elated to hear that. He finally had strong support, and Severin had even told him about the rewards that he could get after Severin brought them to meet Wullricht in half a year. Bowen looked forward to it tremendously.

"Great! We'll finally be able to get revenge then!" Cindy clenched her fist and remarked vivaciously.

Bowen then introduced her to them. "By the way, this young girl is my granddaughter, Cindy."

Chapter 1454

Severin nodded with a smile. He glanced at Cindy and said, "You've reached the attainment of a level eight warrior king despite your young age. Not bad. Your talent is impressive."

Having praised Cindy, Severin paused briefly and said appreciatively, "Capra Hall's development isn't bad. Your attainment level has been a very pleasant surprise, and Hall Master Bowen's attainment has already reached the standard set by my uncle.

"Thank you for your compliment" Bowen could not help but feel proud. He did not expect Severin to praise Capra Hall's relatively good progress

Cindy then asked curiously again, "How are the other hall masters' attainments?"

Severin then said, "At the moment, their attainment isn't as high as your grandfather's. I did give them some pills, and they've all mostly made a breakthrough to at least level one warrior emperor."

"Pills? Where did you get so many pills? They must be some pretty high-grade pills if they were able to help the other hall masters make a breakthrough to warrior emperor." Bowen exclaimed in surprise. "You'd need at least a second-grade medium -rank or a second-grade high-rank pill if I'm not mistaken."

Sofia smiled and said to everyone, "It's not just second-grade pills though. He can even get you third-grade pills! If you have any spiritual herbs or materials that are suited to alchemy, you can always give them to him. He'll be able to utilize them better. Once he refines them, he can hand you one or two pills in return. The effects will speak for themselves"

"Is that true?" Everyone was ecstatic. They never expected their supreme leader to be an alchemist. From Sofia's words, they figured that Severin was at least a third-grade low-rank alchemist.

Such alchemists were not often seen.

Severin wowed his hands and took out a second-grade high-rank pill, which he handed to Cindy. "Here you go, Miss Cindy It'll help you make a breakthrough to level one warrior emperor."

"This... This is for me? Thank you so much, Supreme Leader!" Cindy was humbled by the gesture and her voice trembled ever so slightly. Slar became even more excited as she took the pill and looked at it carefully. "It's... It's an elite-quality pill! You're amazing, Supreme Leader."

"Here's one each for the three of you. Consider this my gift to you on our first meeting!" Severin waved his hand again and took out three third-grade low-rank pills. Each pill was levitated in front of Bowen and the two elders, respectively. They were very effective pills for their current attainment,

"A third-grade low-rank pill!" All three gasped when they saw the pill. Their supreme leader had been too generous. A single pill was priceless, yet he was able to give them three.

"Thank you, Supreme Leader. We will train hard and serve Dracodens Temple. We will live and die as members of Dracodeus Temple!" Bowen placed the pill away and gestured respectfully in a show of loyalty,

Chapter 1455

"Thank you, Supreme Leader. We, too, vow to train hard and devote ourselves to Dracodeus Temple. We will live and die as members of Dracodes Temple!" The first elder and second elder immediately bowed to express their loyalty. They were both a little jittery with excitement too.

After all, Bowen had always told them that the Dracodeus Temple's leader would come back to find them. They would then become a strong force in the future and secure a lot of benefits. As the years passed, however, those elders began to suspect that Bowen was only exaggerating

To their surprise, they happened to have met the legendary supreme leader. It turned out that the supreme leader was also a very generous person who had no hesitation in giving them such precious pills.

Sorin and the others were very happy when they saw that, but they were practically drooling from their mouths when they looked at the pill

Severin looked at several people and gave them one second-grade high-rank pill

"Thank you, Supreme Leader!" Clara, Gigi, Sorin, and Donald were ecstatic when they received the pill

"You must've come from afar, Supreme Leader. It's already almost evening, so please allow me to arrange some good wine and good food for you," Bowen smiled and said to Severin. It was his first time meeting the supreme leader, so he had an awestruck tone when he spoke and was a little unsure of what he should do next.

Cindy had to remind him, "It's still quite early, Grandpa. Just have Gigi and the others inform the kitchen. You haven't even arranged a place for our supreme leader to stay. Where will he be sleeping tonight? That aside, shouldn't you gather all our members and introduce them to him too?"

Bowen snapped to his senses immediately. He smacked his forehead and smiled embarrassedly, "Oh, that's so silly of me. I'm so excited to meet our supreme leader that I forgot what my priorities should be."

He then turned to Severin and said, "Come with me then. I'll arrange a place for you to stay."

Severin replied, "You don't need to go out of your way to make us feel at home. We'd be fine as long as it's a comfortable place."

"This way, please. I think a quieter place would be best. The place halfway up the mountain isn't too bad. I'll bring you there and show you around." Bowen led the way.

Some people from the other divisions soon caught wind that their hall master had arrived. Those who got the news were eagerly looking forward to invite him and see what kind of person he was.

Bowen arranged a detached villa with a courtyard for Severin and Sofia. It was not very far from where he stayed with Cindy. The area was very quiet, and the spiritual energy surrounding it was incredibly rich. He then went down the mountain after making sure that Severin and Sofia were comfortable. During dinner that night, he handed to Severin all the second-grade, third-grade, and fourth-grade spiritual herbs that he had been able to collect.

Chapter 1456

Once Severin took a look, he nodded "I mainly need to use third grade spiritual herbs now and keep the fourth-grade spiritual herbs for now. I surely will need those in the future. If I'm free in the next two days, I will produce more alchemical pills with those second-grade spiritual herbs. Then you can distribute them to others, especially those who are on the edge of a breakthrough. If the alchemical pills are not enough, just inform me."

"Yes, Supreme Leader!"

Bowen was happy. Although he did not believe Severin was able to produce a large amount of alchemical pills in just two days, it was better than nothing. There were many young talented men in the hall but they did not have the alchemical pills to help with their training. If Severin was able to provide the alchemical pills, those young men would definitely improve a lot.

"Then when are we going to retaliate? Do we go after everyone has improved their actalmoment?" Cindy asked.

Retaliation was the thing she cared most about

Severin smiled. "You don't have to worry about that. Sofia and I could handle that without any problem. We don't need anyone else to follow us or have anyone sacrifice their lives."

Bowen quickly said seriously, "Supreme Leader, I know you must be a lot stronger than us. But I hope you can bring me along when you plan to go to look for the Jorgens. I really want to be there to witness it with my own eyes because they hurt me before. It could give me closure if I could be there."

Cindy said, "I'd like to go too! I want to see the fear in their eyes!"

Severin smiled bitterly. Somehow he understand why Bowen and Cindy felt that way. Thus, he agreed by nodding his head." Alright. You can bring some people along when the time comes. Hey, someone told me there was a gang called the Deval Gang in this foggy forest. Is that true!"

Bowen was stunned. "Yes, I'm surprised that you heard of it."

Severin nodded and explained. "We rested in a village on our way here..."

He ended by saying, "So we are wondering if Tara and Lina's parents are captured by the Devil Gang. If that's the case, I'd like tu save them."

The heroic plan had Cindy admire Severin more. "Gosh. Supreme Leader, Madam Supreme Leader, you two have kind souls."

"Madam Supreme Leader!" Sofia's fare blushed as she heard Cindy addressing her. Although she was surprised, she did not object to the idea and felt a little happy.

Severin saw her reaction and was thrilled because Sofia did not oppose it. Then he explained, "This is the third lady. I have two other missus at home,"

Bowen chudded. "Aren't three missus too little for a young handsome man like you? I reckon you should find right, or even ten missus."

Severin responded with an awkward sattle,

My time is fully occupied with training and making alchemical pills. I think I'll let destiny do its thing and not force anything."

Then he looked at Sofia and said, "When destiny dues its thing, there's nothing you can do to stop it."

Chapter 1457

Obviously, that was meant for Sofia to hear. She bit her lip and felt really excited to have heard Severin admit to the others that she was his third wife, sort of like a public announcement.

Let's toast to our Supreme Leader and his third wife! Bowen chuckled and made a loast.

Yes. Tonight has been great. Don't stop the fun!" Sofia said happily.

She raised her glasses and drank together. Everyone was in a good mood and enjoyed drinking. By the time Solla and Severin went back to their rooms, Sofia drank too much that she was feeling tipsy,

Tonight felt like a dream and so unrealistic. She was overwhelmed by the blissful feeling

"Third wife I'm Severin's third wife! I'd made the right choice coming on this trip with Severin," Sofia sald

After she finished her shower, she was lying on the bed, feeling shy, and rolling on the bed. She was so deeply and madly in love. Then she suddenly remembered what Sheila told her before she left. It was a good chance for her to confirm her relationship with Severin on this trip.

'Although he has admitted that I'm his third wife to the others, I should sleep with him to become his real woman. Otherwise, it won't make me his real wife," Sofia thought boldly as she sat on the bed.

Then again, she shook her head and opposed herself. "But is that really a good idea? I mean I'm a girl. It would look bad on me if I'm the one who initiated the idea by going to his room. What would he think of me if I did that? Would he think I'm an easy girl?"

She thought hard about it. "That's not possible, right? I mean he already knew I only had my first kiss yesterday so he could easily figure out I'm still a virgin. My dad was even the one who asked me to make the move. This is a good chance. It makes more sense if I go to his room in this tipsy and drunk state."

After some hesitation, she opened her door, tiptoed her way to Severin's room, and stood there. This could be the only time available when it was just the two of them. Maybe there would not be any chance in the future. Most importantly, it would be hard for her to gather up her courage to do it in the future.

Since both of them had a couple of drinks, it was easier for her to master up the courage now. This was exactly the best time to deepen her relationship with Severin.

Once she had made up her mind, she knocked on the door softly. Severin had just finished his shower when he heard it.

At first, he thought it was Bowen. To his surprise, he saw Sofia standing outside in her sexy nightdress. He must be out of his mind to waste such a wonderful chance to spend a cozy night with a sexy woman.

"Sofia, why are you here?" he asked.

Chapter 1458

After feeling stunned, Severin held Sofia a hard and brought her into the room.

"Come in," he said.

At this point, Sofia had not thought of an excuse. She brainstormed quickly while her heart was pounding hard. When she looked back, Severin had closed and locked the door which made her even more nervous than before.

"I'm a little thirsty. Do you have any water in your room?" she asked while pretending to be dizzy by holding her head. "I think I drank too much. I feel like the world is spinning"

Severin quickly poured a glass of water and held Sofia so she would not fall. Then he passed the water to Soba. 'Here, Drink this. It will make you feel better. You got reo excited and drank too much. I told you that you shouldn't drink that much but didn't listen. You must be feeling very uncomfortable now."

As Sofia finished drinking the water, ber mind went blank

Severin took the chance and gave Softa a hug. He said, "Why don't you stay here tonight so I can take care of you?'

This was the moment Sofia was waiting for. Then again, her sanity reminded her that she was a lady. "I..I don't think that's a good idea. I'm not ready yet."

Suddenly, Severin rightened the hug. Her body fragrance mesmerized him and her curve had set his body on fire.

“I take that you are willing to become my woman when you didn’t reject people referring to you as my third wife. Don’t worry, Sofia. I will take care of you and love you,” Severin pursued.

After that, he carried her and placed her on the bed

“Ah!” Sofia let out a soft sound. Her face was blushing. She looked at Severin and quickly closed her eyes. Please be gentle.”

Knowing Sofia had not rejected him, he could not control himself anymore. He reached in and kissed Sofia’s neck. It caused Sofia to tremble slightly. She was so nervous that she gripped the blanket tightly. As time passed, both of them slowly enjoyed each other company.

The next day, Sofia felt like her bones were going to fall apart when she woke up. She had no idea Severin was so good in everything including the sex.

“I. I’m going to go back to my room. I. I was drunk and I..” Sofia felt so shy that she had no idea what she was talking about. Once she put on her clothes, she quickly fled and went back to her room

When Severin thought back, he smiled happily, ‘Sofia is so fantastic. Her body is so wonderful and I really like to see her blushing and feeling shy,’ he thought.

After resting for a while further, Severin got up and took out many second-grade spiritual herbs to start alchemy. He had not used the triple-chambered cauldron before after getting it.

By now, Severin had familiar himself with the process of producing second-grade alchemical pills. Thus, he decided to produce three alchemical pills in one go with the triple-chambered cauldron to save time.

Chapter 1459

“Hal” Severin shouted and smiled faintly,

As he raised his palm, three alchemical pills flew out from the Dragonstand Furnace and hovered in front of him.

“Haha! Not bad. This is the best part of having a triple-chambered cauldron!” he chuckled as he looked at the alchemical pills. The triple-chambered cauldron had helped save time for him. Back in the day, he could only produce two alchemical pills with the double-chambered cauldron. It was not bad but the Dragonstand Furnace was just so much better.

After the first attempt, he discovered it was best to produce the same alchemical pill if he wanted to produce three alchemical pills at once and it should be the one he was very good at. Different alchemical pills required different fire output and the time needed was different too. Therefore, it was easier to fail if he produced different alchemical pills at the same

Although he was a third-grade medium-rank alchemist now, he did not dare to produce three third-grade medium-rank alchemical pills at the same time. However, he had no problem with the second-grade alchemical pills because he could even do it with his eyes closed.

During his second round, Sofia came looking for him after she had freshened up and put on her makeup. She sat quietly when she saw Severin was busy making alchemical pills.

After Severin was done, he looked at Sofia and said, "Hey, I'm going to be busy with alchemy today. I don't have enough second-grade alchemical pills to distribute to everyone in Capra Hall. None of them received any alchemical pills from me before and most of them are on the brink of a breakthrough"

Sofia smiled, "It's alright. Just do the thing you need to do. I can stay here and watch you. Clara and Gigi are bringing me out later."

Severin nodded. "That's good. Let me settle everything here first. Then we can try to see if we are able to locate the Devil Gang. After talking to Howen last night, I found out the gang leader could be a level nine warrior emperor. To most people, he is very strong and they won't have any chance to defend themselves. But I don't think it's going to be a problem for me if I want to kill him."*

Sofia smiled. "He must be an evil and horrible person for kidnapping people to do his dirty work. You must be careful when you are up against him."

Severin smiled. "Stay back when I found the location. Although you are quite strong, I have no information about the Devil Gang. When you have stabilized your stage, I'll give you another third-grade alchemical pill. Then you can take the time to take the pill and absorb it so you can have another breakthrough soon."

Sofia nodded, "Sure. I won't go. I don't want to be your burden."

Severin smiled bitterly. "I'm not worried about that. I just think it's easier for me to learn more about the gang without a beautiful lady following me."

Sofia gave him a gentle smile. "Don't worry. I understand. I'll wait here."

During the afternoon, Clara and Gigi came over and brought Sofia out. Severin continued to produce more alchemical pills.

When it was time for dinner, Bowen had requested the elders and guardians to have dinner together with Severin again. Just like last night, alcohol was on the table too. All of them had another great night.

Chapter 1460

During dinner, Severin took out two bottles and passed them to Bowen. "Hey, there are two hundred second-grade alchemical pills here. A hundred each of medium and high rank. Take them and distribute them to the disciples who need them."

"Two hundred? It's only been a day! How did you produce so many?" Bowen exclaimed.

He accepted the bottles with a shocked face. Never had he thought Severin could produce so many alchemical pills in a day. Just how insane it was!

Severin smiled humbly, "I have a triple-chambered cauldron and I still have some alchemical pills left. That's why."

Despite that, everyone was shocked. Regardless of whether Severin had stocked up some alchemical pills, it was still a crazy thing to have produced so many alchemical pills in a day.

"Thank you? With these alchemical pills, I believe all of us could improve for the better!"

Howen stood up and bowed to show respect to Severin.

After

years of hiding in the foggy forest, he felt sorry for the members who continued to believe in him. Many of them had gone through a lot because there were not enough resources available for them to train.

Especially the first three months they came in here. The forest was a new place to them which caused many members to sacrifice their lives. After a while, they finally knew the forest better and gained more experience to react when there was a dangerous situation. At that time, many of them had also leveled up. Thus, their situation gradually became better.

"Haha. You're welcome. We are brothers, aren't we?" Severin chuckled.

In fact, he understood clearly how Bowen felt now.

"Supreme Leader, please accept my gratitude. With these alchemical pills, members who are level four or five warrior kings could have the chance to increase their attainments. This is a terrific news!"

"That's right. We really need these alchemical pills a lot!"

The elders were really excited about it and stood up to make a toast to Severin.

Everyone was happy with the dinner. When it ended, the Great Elder instructed Clara and the others to call upon the young geniuses to distribute the alchemical pills in them. It was essential for them to increase their attainment and have the breakthrough so the overall combat power of the hall would increase Tonight, Severin was the one who went to Sofia's room.

Sofia was nervous when she saw Severin looking for her. Her face blushed.

"Why are you here? Don't tell me you are thinking of that. Didn't we just do it last night?"
