Life After Prison Chapter 1881-As they rode in the airship, they were mesmerized and shocked with what they were seeing. With eyeball estimation, the lake was about two to three thousand acres large. Everyone thought they were in heaven seeing how spectacular it was.

“Oh, my gosh! The spiritual energy of heaven and earth in this place is a hundred times more than where we come from!

“Do you feel the power of heaven and earth in this place? It’s so rich!” “So this is the legendary sacred lake? I didn’t expect it to be this big!” “Haha! I’m finally here! I’m not going anywhere until I become a supreme saint Ferland chuckled after hearing those. He was at the front steering the airship.

Once the airship entered the zone, he quickly accelerated the speed. Within moments, the airship was hovering in the middle of the lake where there was a sky island above the lake.

Shortly. Severin saw several streaks of lights shooting from all over the place.

Gigantic flying swords. airships, and a dragon created the streaks of light.

Without a doubt, they were all full of people who were eligible to enter the sacred lake. As expected, when the gigantic flying sword was above the sky island, they heard a loud voice start talking “Everyone get down immediately. You are to enter the sky island to start training. The sacred lake is going to close after three months!

Ferland who was steering the airship turned around and said to everyone, “Go.

But remember the sacred lake is going to remain open for three months only.

Even if you did not progress and become a supreme saint, you have to come out.” “You are to look for your own space based on the name on the jade slip. Don’t try to create any trouble or conflict. I will be the first one to kick anyone involved out of here!” Ferland warned and also told them about the rules of the sacred lake.

Everyone listened carefully and did not dare to disobey anything. Then they flew to the sky island. Severin saw it and also did the same with Wulricht and the others.

When he was at the sky island, he realized the island was very big. In the middle of the island, there was a mountain with a very high and sharp peak.

On the way over, Ferland had told about the information of the scared lake. It was discovered together with Grandiuno and other major sects. Initially, it was something similar to a small secret realm.

secret realm placed over this lake. Thus, this island was originally the secret realm. Since nearly ten thousand people came to absorb the power of heaven and earth, the island needed to be closed for twenty years to generate enough power of heaven and earth. That would be the time for the next opening.

Once Severin and the others entered the sky island, they went on to look for their own space according to their jade slips. Luck was on their side as their spaces were not far away from each other. They did not waste any time and started training. The power of heaven and earth started flowing into their spaces. As that happened, Severin started to enter into a zone, as if he could easily understand all the mysteries or questions he had. A month passed by quickly.

Meanwhile, there was a palace beside the sky island. Ferland and the others were there having a meeting. Everyone from the four major sects of the Southsky who was responsible for maintaining order were here.

A supreme saint elder from the Purevoid Sect, Rayzer, said, "I wonder how many people would create a phenomenal vision during the breakthrough or how many would become geniuses" The elder from the Deifirm Sect. George Long, replied. "Do you think it's easy to become a genius? There were only seven or eight the last time."

Life After Prison Chapter 1882-An elder with grey hair looked at Ferland and said, "Hey, Ferland, I heard there is a genius from Nontwo City. Did that guy seriously defeat Thorold from the Deifirm Sect and Jangar the master swordsman from the Purevoid Sect?" The Marvair Sect was one of the major four sects too. As the elder who was responsible for maintaining order with the name, Dorothy asked curiously, "Seriously? Thorold and Jangar are known to be the strongest people. I heard George Long from the Deifirm Sect really likes Jangar a lot. He has high expectations of Jangar. Did someone really defeat them?" The Deifirm Sect and the Purevoid Sect were furious to have their misfortune talked of.

Ferland chuckled. "Yes, it's real." Dorothy continued to ask while feeling shocked, "That guy must be very strong too. I wonder if he is going to be a supreme saint this time. Would there be a phenomenal vision happening?" George snorted angrily. "Do you think geniuses are everywhere? It's not that easy!" Ferland shook his head. He recalled how Severin easily captured the true essence of being a swordsman and was one of the strongest people he had seen among other level nine royal saints. "Who knows? Maybe." Meanwhile, Severin suddenly opened his eyes from his training. He lamented, "I see! After refining the power of heaven and earth, I could condense my mental power into primal spirit. Based on how the power of heaven and earth runs, the true meaning of martial soul comes from utilizing standard combat techniques." Once he had that figured out, he quickly absorbed all the power of heaven and earth within close proximity. The power of heaven and earth quickly entered his body.

Suddenly, he noticed something in his body was evolving as the amount of power of heaven and earth in his body increased.

'Did I accidentally activate a special constitution or power? That was the possibility Severin could think of.

In the Bleurealm, a royal saint would be able to activate some sort of special constitution or power when he was progressing to become a supreme saint. It was a way of proving he was exceptionally talented.

Shortly, a phenomenal vision appeared above the sacred lake and spread across far away that even the earth to condense into primal spirit, there was chaotic divine light rising from his body and the scripture of philosophy intertwining to become this blazing and dazzling light.

The sky had a dense flow of energy appearing which slowly formed into golden lotuses that slowly dropped to the island like rain. Aurora borealis appeared in the entire sky of Southsky.

It attracted the attention of the fighters. They looked at the phenomenal vision and were shocked. It shocked everyone and many people started making wild guesses as to why there was a phenomenal vision.

“What... Golden lotuses appeared in the air and dropped like rain?! Who is responsible for creating this phenomenal vision?”

“It looks like it started from the sacred lake. Is it because there is an exceptionally talented royal saint becoming a supreme saint?” “Investigate it! Get to the bottom of this! I must have this man join the Deifirm Sect!” People were starting to get crazily excited about it and eager to recruit the person into their sects.

At the same time, the others who were also training in the sacred lake were distracted by the phenomenal vision too. They watched the scripture of philosophy intertwining fearfully. Some of the younger disciples were abruptly and forcefully awakened from their training which caused them to suffer from internal injury.

“Who is becoming a supreme saint? This phenomenal vision is just insane!” “This is too scary! I suffer from internal injury just looking at it. The primal spirit which I had just condensed broke into pieces too!” Most of them were shocked and looked in awe. Whereas, the attainment and result of those weaker people who had trained for many years were gone.

Life After Prison Chapter 1883-Ferland and the others who were near the sky island also noticed the phenomenal vision. They too were shocked.

“A genius is born!” “Looking at this phenomenal vision, he must have activated a special constitution or power!” “I don’t think it’s that easy. I heard only a certain type of special constitution could set off a phenomenal vision as crazy as this one.” Those who were there together with Ferland were either supreme saints or paragons. They had a vast knowledge and knew more than many people. From their perspective, it would only take a certain type of special constitution to set off the phenomenal vision they were seeing now.

In the Bleurealm, there were many special constitutions. For example, the Constellation Constitution, the Ancient Bloodline Constitution, and the Fairy Constitution. Nonetheless, the special constitution could be categorized into three different categories, namely, the Spirit Constitution, the Element Constitution, and the Divine Constitution.

One of the Spirit Constitutions worth mentioning was the Nine Yang Body Constitution. To those who possessed it could help to enhance and fasten the speed of training. Another Spirit Constitution was the Sword Spirit Jangard had. That was why he was about to understand the sword will at a young age and displayed the great attributes of a swordsman.

Spirit Constitution was the least rarest among the three. However, that did not mean anyone could easily possess it. There could be just one who had it among ten thousand people.

The Element Constitution was the second rarest. The core disciples of the major four sects in the Southsky possessed the Element Constitution. If they did not die in a fight, they could certainly become a strong leader who had the attainment of a paragon!

The Thunderbolt Constitution Thorold had belonged to this category. And that was the reason he was one of the most famous geniuses in the Deifirm Sect. One of his elders once told him he had a great chance to become a paragon and that was not gibberish talk. However, there were just a couple of Divine Constitutions in the Southsky as it was the rarest of them all. Anyone who possessed it would be the most exceptionally talented person in Southtky.

Dorothy widened her eyes while having thought of those. She gazed at the sky island while finding it very hard to believe what she was seeing. In the meantime, she also tried hard to look past everything to find the one who caused the phenomenal vision.

Even a level nine supreme saint like her was feeling the pressure as she gazed at the divine light shooting out of the sky island. Therefore, she quickly stopped gazing and exclaimed, "Someone must have activated his Divine Constitution!" Ferland and the others were shocked to hear that. They knew Dorothy was a friendly person but she had high attainment and a pair of eyes which could see through many times. Therefore, she could not be wrong about what she said.

George, who had snapped back from feeling shocked squinted his eyes and looked excited, "He must be one of the members of the Deifirm Sect!" However, Rayzer dissed back, "Dear George, you must be dreaming. Why can't it be a member of my sect?"

Ferland who had been monitoring the phenomenal vision sensed something very familiar. He thought hard to search for the answer in his memory to find the origin. All of a sudden, his mind set on Severin.

'No! It's him? Despite feeling a little surprised, he had high hopes with Severin.

During the tournament, Severin defeated Jangard and Thorold. He had strong combat power at a young age and a better swordsman skill than Jangard. Before this, he had already thought of recruiting Severin into the Grandiuno Sect.

Yet, Ferland did not dare to be certain it was Severin. He shook his head and tried to take a look.

Just then, Rayzer the one who was arguing with George said, "Ferland, I heard you have brought with you a genius from Nontwo City. Do you think he's the one responsible for the phenomenal vision?"

Life After Prison Chapter 1884-George heard the question and his rage disappeared. In exchange, he chuckled. "That's just impossible. This phenomenal vision is from the activation of a Divine Constitution. Do you think a genius from a small city could possibly be responsible for it?" Rayzer was unhappy to hear that. When he was about to talk back, Ferland stopped him. At this moment, he was unsure who was the one who activated the Divine Constitution.

"That's enough. Let's just use the Enchanted Mirror to find it out," Ferland said.

Without further ado, he raised his hand to cast the Enchanted Mirror spell.

Shortly, a faint light appeared and slowly turned into a mirror. From that mirror, they could find out who was the one who activated the Divine Constitution. It was Severin who was having a breakthrough. With every breath he took, a huge amount of divine light appeared and enveloped his body as if he were a Supreme Being.

Rayzer could not help but chuckle. "Haha. What did I say? It's really him!" After that, he gave George a provoking look. George's face darkened as he was feeling enraged as he felt like his face was slapped by the truth. He snorted back at Rayzer who kept on provoking him.

This was not the first time George and Rayzer had a conflict and Ferland did not find it surprising. He looked at the Enchanted Mirror and was feeling excited for he did not expect Severin to be the one who activated the Divine Constitution. For a person with a Divine Constitution, it would only be a matter of time before he becomes a supreme paragon. Heck, he even believed Severin had the possibility to become a celestial being!

If he could successfully recruit Severin into the Grandiuno Sect, it could at least bring a prosperous and bright future to the sect for several thousand years.

Once he had that thought in his mind, he looked excited and quickly uncasted the Enchanted Mirror and used his jade pendant to contact the sect secretly to tell the sect leader about this.

Ferland was not the only one. The others also did the same when they finally regained their senses. It was the Divine Constitution, after all. The strongest constitution in the Bleurealm!

Any sect that recruited Severin would become the strongest sect in Southsky and also put the sect in the place to become the sacred land. Of course, they were not going to sit around and wait for Ferland to recruit Severin into the Grandiuno Sect.

The First Mountain was located at the Grandiuno Sect. The sect had built a grand palace on the Information from Ferland.

“What? There’s a person who activated the Divine Constitution in the sacred lake this time?” he shrieked out shockingly. “Haha! Well done, Ferland. I’ll be right there.” “This exceptionally talented person must become a member of our sect!” Meanwhile, the sect leader of the Deifirm Sect, the Purevoid Sect, and the Marvair Sect all received the information from their respective elders. All of them rushed over to the sacred lake just like Oskar, Life After Prison Chapter 1885-Severin who continued to train in the sky island did not know how big of a commotion he had caused in the world of cultivators in Southsky. While being in his space, he continued to focus on his training. The divine light had covered his body and hair leaving them sparkling with a faint glow as if he was a celestial being.

He had his eyes closed. As he took a long breath, there was fog coming out of his nose in the shape of a dragon. He continued to absorb and refine the power of heaven and earth. As that went on, the divine light covering his body slowly subsided.

In the meantime, there was a piece of information regarding the constitution appeared in his mind abruptly.

The Chaotic Constitution. It ranked number ten in the list of Divine Constitution.

A constitution that many cultivators dream of possessing because it had the ability to help the cultivator to defeat a celestial being when he reached a certain level of power. It also meant the person who had this constitution was exceptionally talented.

After knowing he had activated a special constitution and the specialty of the constitution, he was thrilled.

and delighted. He had known more about the Bleurealm after spending several months with the Chortheaus in Nontwo City. Therefore, he knew the cultivators in this realm could possess certain special constitutions. It could only be activated when a person was trying to become a supreme saint by absorbing a vast amount of the power of heaven and earth in the sacred lake.

Many cultivators had normal constitutions which meant they could only reach a certain level. Not everyone could possess the special constitution as the special constitution was very rare. For example, there would be only a person who would have the Spirit Constitution among ten thousand people.

However, those who had it could train faster than normal people.

Needless to say, the number of people who had Element Constitutions was even less. Anyone who possessed it would be a genius that a sect would value.

Like Severin who had the Divine Constitution was the rarest of all. Probably less than a handful appeared in the history of Southsky.

At this moment, Severin was starting to feel his body was experiencing a drastic change after he had activated the Chaotic Constitution. The changes were quick as his body cell was empowered by an unknown power. His blood started to boil. Thud sounds were coming out of his body too.

Soon, his blood became gold instead of red. His bones were engraved with philosophy.

Most importantly, Severin was happy to find out his attainment was slowly rising when he activated the Chaotic Constitution.

+15 BONUS Followed by every absorption of the power of heaven and earth, Severin realized his mental power was slowly solidified and became a tiny human in his brain. He looked into his brain and saw a tiny him sitting there. He was delighted.

“Is this my primal spirit? he thought.

Then he tried to use it just like how he used his telekinesis in the past. It was almost the same but a lot stronger. For example, he could look to the far to observe his enemy but it was not clear. If he tried to look further, his vision would be blurred. Now that he had primal spirit, no matter how far Severin looked, the image he saw was high definition.

Severin was really excited about it and tried to use the primal spirit for other uses. Seven days had passed and he finally understood how special the primal spirit was. After he had his primal spirit, Severin could feel he was about to have a breakthrough because the power of heaven and earth had nourished his body.

Once again, he crazily absorbed the power of heaven and earth around him to refine them in his body.

Instantly, his aura became stronger and he reached the supreme saint stage.

However, he did not stop there. His attainment continued to increase.

Life After Prison Chapter 1886-A few days later, Severin had another breakthrough and became level two supreme saint. The aura dispersed from his body was suppressing the air and space around him which made it become a little unstable.

However, that did not stop Severin. His body became very strong after he activated the constitution and he felt he could continue on to have another breakthrough. He was right.

A month later, a giant whirlpool appeared above Severin. His attainment had risen to the level three supreme saint stage!

Finally, he stopped training and opened his eyes. Two thick golden rays shoot from his eyes into the sky. The space around him trembled.

An unknown philosophy was carved onto every bone in his body to create an insane power. His tone and muscular body were full of power. He believed his punch could weigh up to a few tonnes and that was when he did not punch with his full force. Thus, he reckoned he could kill a cultivator easily with just one punch.

He stood up and stretched his body. "This feels so good!" It felt so good to have his power strengthened. Especially since he had successfully reached level three. supreme saint from level nine royal saint. The speed of his progress would be considered the fastest in the Southsky.

However, a level three supreme saint would just be an elite disciple in the four major sects.

He took a deep breath and calmed himself down. Then he used his divine sense to see Wulricht's condition and the others.

After the last two months, Wulricht and the others had also become supreme saints. Even Diane, Sheila, and the others were catching up. What surprised Severin was that Wulricht and the others also activated the special constitution. Based on the result from his divine sense, Diane and the other girls had Spirit Constitution while Wulricht and Felipe had Element Constitution.

Even though the phenomenal vision was not as crazy and insane as Severin's, it also created a commotion to the sky of the sky island.

After that, he lamented, "I didn't expect Wulricht and Felipe to activate Element Constitution." Although the Element Constitution was not as strong as the Divine Constitution, it was very rare too. He could already imagine how hard the four major sects would be fighting with each other to recruit them.

He estimated the time and it was ten days before the closing of the sacred lake.

Therefore, he closed his lake.

The sacred lake had a rich amount of power of heaven and earth and spiritual energy of heaven and earth that the outside world did not have. It would be a waste if he did not treasure this moment.

While Severin greedily absorbed the spiritual energy of heaven and earth around him, the sect leaders of the four major sects had been waiting outside the sky island for more than two months.

Oskar from the Grandiuno glanced at the other three sect leaders, took a deep breath, and said, 'Ferland, do you think he's going to join us?'

Life After Prison Chapter 1887-After hearing that, Ferland could not help but shake his head. It was a question he did not know how to answer.

The four major sects of the Southsky were made up of the Grandiuno Sect, the Delfirm Sect, the Purevoid Sect, and the Marvair Sect.

Among them, the Grandiuno Sect was the strongest of all. The sect's strongest cultivator was a level eight royal paragon. It was being called the largest sect of the Southsky city by people. However, the other three sects were not too far from the Grandiuno Sect. They were just a little weaker.

The Deifirm Sect was specialized in the lightning attribute. They have great lighting techniques. The sect leader, Gianluca Meza, was a level six royal paragon. He was known to be able to cast many lightning techniques and was the strongest royal paragon in Southsky.

The Purevoid Sect was not bad too. Although it was ranked number three among the four sects, they were experts in studying the true act of being a swordsman. They regarded their swords as their lives and trained hard to cut everything with their swords.

The sect leader of the Purevoid Sect was called Keanne Krueger. He used to kill a beast in a level eight. royal paragon when he was a level six royal paragon.

People gave him the title, The Best Swordsman of Southsky.

Before Oskar arrived at the sacred lake, Ferland had told him Severin had also understood the swordwill. There was a possibility that Severin would join the Purevoid Sect to become a swordsman. Not to mention, the Marvair Sect was also aiming to recruit Severin.

Most of the members of the Marvair Sect were beautiful women. The sect concentrated on the attainment technique of tantric sex which attracted many male cultivators to join the sect. Thus, Oskar was unsure if Severin would be attracted to join the Marvair Sect too.

He looked at the others around him and back at the sky island with a solemn expression while he waited for the sacred lake to close.

Time passed quickly. Today was the day the sacred lake closed. Severin exhaled deeply. His breath shot up the sky like a sharp sword and tore apart the sky.

After he had concluded his training, he grasped tightly to feel the magnificent power in his body. He was excited and delighted with it. Then he looked into his energy core. It was pretty like the Milky Way and powerful like the ocean tide.

He mumbled to himself, "My body has changed drastically and I can feel the power that I have. I can In the later part of his training, he did not manage to progress to level four supreme saint. However, after condensing the power of heaven and earth, he had reached the peak stage of the level three supreme saint. Just a little more was needed for him to become a level four supreme saint Most importantly, he finally understood how terrifying and insane was to have a Divine Constitution now that he possessed the Chaotic Constitution. After the reformation of his blood, his body was as tough as a dragon scale. Any spiritual weapon below level five would not penetrate his body. His body was so much tougher and stronger than it used to be!

Most importantly, his training speed was faster than before too.

As he exhaled one last deep breath, he calmed down and walked out of his space. There were many people who were waiting for him outside. Wulricht and the others knew today was the closing day of the sacred lake and had ended their training earlier.

Severin walked out and saw them. He quickly glanced over to check their attainments. Selene who was only a level two royal saint when she entered the sacred lake had become a level five royal saint. Other than her and Rourie, the others had become supreme saints.

Among them, Wulricht and Felipe who had activated Element Constitutions were the first to become level two supreme saints. His wives who had the Spirit Constitutions were not too bad either. They had reached the peak stage of the level one supreme saint and were waiting for the next breakthrough to make them level two supreme saints.

Wulricht chuckled when he saw Severin, “Hey, Severin, you are the most gifted among us. Have you become level two supreme saint yet?” Back when they were in Skyblue Sect, he had personally witnessed how insanely Severin could progress.

in a short period of time.

During this training, he activated the Element Constitution, the Ancient Armor Constitution when he became a supreme saint. With the help of the constitution, he was able to progress further and became a level two supreme saint by the end of the training.

Anyone would be jealous of how fast his improvement was.

Life After Prison Chapter 1888-“I’m at the peak stage of level three supreme saint,” Severin answered while he saw how happy Wulricht was.

Wulricht who was combing his moustache was stunned and looked at Severin with surprise. “What did you say? The peak stage of level three supreme saint?”

“I’ve become a level two after activating the Element Constitution! How did you progress so quickly?” He said feeling baffled.

All of a sudden, he remembered something and asked, “Severin, were you the one who created the crazy phenomenal vision?” Severin nodded, “Yes.” He had nothing to hide. Even if he did not admit it now, the elders who were waiting for them would reveal it too. Besides, Wulricht was no outsider.

Wulricht was in shock again. The phenomenal vision that happened was stronger and more insane than the time he activated his Element Constitution which meant the constitution Severin activated was the strongest and rarest constitution, the Divine Constitution.

He was hit with another shock as he came to the conclusion but he did not tell the others. As he regained.

his senses, he was delighted. “Hahaha! Good! You are truly the most gifted among us...” Felipe saw Wulricht’s reaction and had figured something out too. Then they quickly gave Severin their blessing.

Just then, Severin heard Selene’s voice.

“Dad! Congratulations on becoming a level three supreme saint. Look at me. I have improved too!” Selene smiled cheerfully. Severin walked over to stroke her head and advised her, “Selene, I know you are a level five royal saint now but remember you shouldn’t be arrogant.” As the obedient girl she always was, she nodded her head, “Don’t worry. I won’t feel proud or arrogant.” After seeing that, Severin smiled and said to the others, “Come on, we should go. The sacred lake is about to close.” He took the lead and flew up into the sky to leave the sky island. From there, they could see many streaks of light shooting in the sky. They were all the cultivators who had finished their training.

While everyone on the island had left the island, the island gradually disappeared from their sight.

Out of the blue, there were five people heading toward Severin. The leader of the pack was Ferland and- Oskar. Seeing how everyone was targeting him, he figured out what was going on.

He smiled, “Hi, Mister Ferland.” Ferland laughed out loud, “Good! After so many years, we finally have another person with Divine Constitution appearing in Southsky again!” He was getting more fond of Severin. From the time he first met Severin at Nontwo City, he had been noticing Severin after Severin defeated Jangard. At that time, he already started to think he should recruit Severin to be a member of the Grandiuno Sect.

At first, he wanted to monitor a while longer to see how much Severin could improve after entering the sacred lake. What a big surprise Severin had given him.

Ferland could not express just how much he liked Severin. He pointed around him and said, “Look around. The sect leaders from the four major sects of the Southsky are here to see you.” After that, he introduced them to Severin.

Right beside Ferland was an elder with grey hair. He had an extraordinary aura as if there was scripture of philosophy circling around his body that gave people a feeling that he could be a deity. One look at him and your heart would skip a beat.

He was none other than the sect leader of the Grandiuno Sect, Oskar.

As Severin looked over, he returned with a friendly smile and a nod.

Severin nodded back and listened carefully to Ferland.

Moving t to the side, it was Jason Vega, the sect leader of the Deifirm Sect. He was a middle-aged man with a squared face, a tall body, and lightning sparkling on his body.

Then the one next to him was Roman Hanna, the sect leader of the Purevoid Sect. He had a giant sword behind his back and wore a green robe with embroidery pattern embroidered in front of the robe. His temple hair had turned grey.

Lastly, it was Cecily Parrish, the sect leader of the Marvair Sect. She looked very elegant and had done a good job maintaining her beauty.

Life After Prison Chapter 1889-our major sects are here?" "I heard they are either level six royal paragon or above!" "I'm so jealous. Didn't you hear what Mister Ferland said? A guy by the name of Severin has successfully possessed the Divine Constitution!" "Divine Constitution?! There is less than a handful of people who possess it.

Rumor has it, anyone with that gift would definitely become a supreme paragon!" "Why didn't it happen to me?" "Tsk. Maybe he got the weakest Divine Constitution. There are many different Divine Constitutions and. the weakest was the same as having an Element Constitution." Oskar who was at the front decided to look at Severin's attainment first but his focus was slowly attracted by the constitution Severin had, Something was weird and different about his constitution.

His skin was tough like a rock. His blood was like the lava from the volcano and his body was hot like the oven and emitting a faint chaotic pressure. Overall, it had a golden glaze and flickered with a faint divine radiance.

Oskar exclaimed in shock, "Is this the Chaotic Constitution that ranks among the top ten?" "What? The Chaotic Constitution?" The other three sect leaders quickly used their divine sense to glance around Severin as if they discovered a hidden treasure.

After a while, they gasped and looked shocked.

“Oskar is right! It is the legendary Chaotic Constitution!” “I can’t believe he actually activated this legendary constitution! Once he has gotten used to the constitution and can maneuver it freely, he can easily kill a celestial being!” It created a ripple effect where the others started to exclaim shockingly +15 BONUS “What did I just hear? A top ten Divine Constitution!” “The last Divine Constitution that appeared in the Southsky was around thirty– something and now that person is already a royal paragon!” “Damn it! Why wasn’t I the one who activated the Divine Constitution?” Many cultivators looked at Severin with envy and jealousy.

Oskar snapped back and said, “Mister Severin, it’s an honor to be here to witness this legendary constitution. I’m so excited. Before I see you, I have thought of many to tell you but now I don’t even know where to start...” “If you don’t have a place to go after this, why don’t consider joining the Grandiuno Sect?” he decided to send out his invitation immediately after trying hard to compliment Severin with every word he could think of.

The rest of the sect leaders heard it and scolded Oskar in their hearts.

‘And he dares to call himself the sect leader? How shameful!’

‘I feel so shameful to be a Southsky cultivator with him!’ Regardless of that, they were not about to back down or let Oskar be the only one to recruit Severin. They did not want to let go of this chance to make Severin their members so they also started to shower Severin with compliments.

“Mister Severin, what a young, gifted, and talented person you are. I heard you defeated Thorold and Jangard before the opening of the sacred lake.” “What a nice guy you are. Yet, you are so powerful and humble. You have really shown me something very different and extraordinary!”

Life After Prison Chapter 1890-“Haha. Mister Severin, would you be interested in joining Marvair Sect? Most of our members are beautiful, young, and attractive females. The same goes for the elders too. You are free to pick anyone you like. If you decide to join us, I will personally teach you myself!” At this point, their dignity was no longer important. To them, it was worthless when there was a person with a Divine Constitution standing in front of them.

Their first priority was to make a connection with Severin first.

Severin, the exceptionally gifted person who had activated the Divine Constitution. As long as he remained alive, he had a high possibility of reaching the supreme paragon level.

Heck, they would even believe he had a chance to ascend and become a celestial being!

Any sect that recruited Severin successfully could guarantee a prosperous and bright future for the sect for at least ten thousand years.

Seeing how the sect leaders continuously gave him compliments, Severin found it amusing. He shook his head and said, "Thank you all for the compliments." Oskar was very pleased to see Severin did not show any arrogance despite receiving many compliments. Mister Severin, if you are willing to join my sect, you will be our core disciple and the most respected disciple. I guarantee that you will be provided with resources to help you reach the supreme paragon level.

Upon hearing that, Severin was a bit moved. After becoming supreme saint, he could feel it was becoming more and more difficult to advance. Every step forward required a massive amount of resources.

Many cultivators were stuck in the supreme saint stage for the rest of their lives unable to advance to the paragon stage.

Other than that, Oskar made it hard for him to reject when Oskar offered him to be the core disciple of the sect.

In the Grandiuno Sect, the disciples were categorized into four different ranks.

Naming, the outer disciple, the inner disciple, the elite disciple, and the core disciple.

If a core disciple had any trouble with his training, he could get advice from the sect leader or the grand-elder. The core disciple also had a very big different benefit than other disciples. Not only could the core disciple choose any place to live in the sect, but the core disciple could also choose the highest ranking of attainment technique and combat technique, and the core disciple would be given sixth-grade However, Severin was not in a hurry to accept the invitation despite Oskar looking very excited and awaiting his answer. Because he knew the other sects were going to offer nothing less than Oskar.

As expected, Cecily did not waste any time and took the opportunity once Oskar finished talking. She winked and said gently. "Mister Severin, I don't think I need to tell you how good it is if you join our sect. If you decide to join my sect, I will give you a Star-grade attainment technique and combat technique, ten sixth-grade alchemical pills, and one medium-rank spiritual weapon." Oskar and the others were shocked to hear that. Cecily did present a very good offer. Jason and Roman felt the pressure and were afraid Severin would accept the offer and join the Marvair Sect.

Jason quickly proposed, "Mister Severin, if you are willing to join my sect, I will also give you sixth-grade alchemical pills, medium-rank spiritual weapon, and Star-grade attainment technique. For your information, the Deifirm Concept is the strongest combat technique our sect has. It's a Star-grade medium-rank combat technique. Once you learned it, you could use lightning and thunder to strike and destroy anything.

Roman used his sharp eyes to look at Severin and said, "Mister Severin. I heard that you are also a swordsman and you have already acquired the swordwill which is a very rare thing at your age. The Purevoid Sect is the place for every swordsman. We have the Great Infinite Sword Act. Once you learn it, you can cut heaven and earth in half with just one sword attack. And you will be invincible!" "If you join my sect, I will be your teacher and give you all the resources needed to make you a level five paragon!" Roman was determined to attract Severin into his sect.

Those cultivators were jealous of how the sect leaders fought against each other just to invite Severin to their sect. They wished they too could become like Severin.

"Why is the difference between each person so big?" "So this is how it feels like to be a genius. Being offered to be the core disciple and learn directly under the sect leader. All Severin needed to do was accept the offer and he would be given sixth-grade alchemical pills, numerous training resources, and a spiritual weapon." "That's not all. The sect leader of Purevoid Sect also mentioned that Severin did not need to worry about the training resources he needed to advance to level five paragon." "Why am I not the one who activated the Divine Constitution?"
