

Life After Prison

Life After Prison Chapter 2136-They knew about Severin refining alchemical pills. After all, it was not that long ago that the sky above Pearl Light Isle was filled with dark clouds and lightning.

“Severin, what are you doing outside?” asked Diane softly.

“I just made a batch of alchemical pills, so I’m just going to rest for a few days and try to break through the paragon realm,” replied Severin lightly.

Everyone was shocked when they heard that. Gilda, in particular, looked at Severin with curiosity, and her eyes finally focused on the two glowing purple alchemical pills in his hand. She could feel the extraordinary power of those two pills. They exuded a stronger aura than the first batch of seventh grade low-rank Nimble sense Pill that Severin refined last time.

She opened her mouth slightly and asked with surprise, “Are those, seventh grade medium-rank alchemical pills?” Everyone immediately turned their heads to look at Severin when they heard Gilda’s question. It was obvious that Dianer and the others were also curious about Severin’s alchemy level.

Seeing tats, Severin nodded with a smile. “That’s right! I’ve been promoted to a seventh-grade medium-rank alchemist today!” Everyone was shocked at the news.

“Oh Severin, that’s great!” said Diane happily.

A seventh-grade medium-rank alchemist was surely something! After all, Daniella and the elder of Alchemist Hall only got to seventh-grade medium-rank after cultivating for gods knows how many years оту +25 BONUS 3841-84”u IUI 1111 ITIL JCal.

Severin smiled dotingly at the happy Diane. He then took out a rocking chair, laid down on it, and proceeded to have a leisurely chat with Diane and the others.

It was not until evening that Severin returned to the training room again.

After returning to the training room, he adjusted his breathing and sat cross legged.

He did not immediately start to cultivate. Instead, he stabilized his mind and after holding his breath, his mind began to wander.

Severin knew very well that breaking through to the paragon realm was no small matter. Some people tried to forcefully break through, and ended up stuck there, wasting decades of their lives or even a lifetime!

Thus, he decided to take his time as usual by slowly coaxing the spiritual energy in his body. Occasionally, when he had free time, he would lie on the rocking chair outside the training room and read various biographies of cultivators in Southsky.

Soon, several days passed. Severin suddenly felt a strange feeling while he was cultivating in the training room. He was immediately overjoyed when he realized what was going on; he knew that his opportunity to break through had arrived. In an instant, he held his breath and eliminated all distracting thoughts from his mind.

Severin closed his eyes and recalled the description of the paragon state. 'What is a paragon? Body like gold, blood like mercury, methods that are divine. Only those who are extraordinary can enter the realm of paragon.' At that moment, the three 365 meridian points located in his body lit up at the same time, turning into surging rivers and converging in the 213 +25 BONUS PPTTt-9) ritiyy cvic.

Since entering the realm of supreme saint, Severin's understanding of power emerged in his mind like a memory.

Life After Prison Chapter 2137-After Severin finished contemplating everything he had experienced since entering the supreme saint realm, a strange aura gradually emerged from his body.

Located above his energy core, a scene like a galaxy gradually condensed and took shape. Countless powers of heaven and earth flowed out this small galaxy.

A unique mighty force belonging to heaven and earth rushed toward him from all four directions.

At that moment, he was halfway in breaking through to the paragon realm. Next, he would only need to draw the power of heaven and earth on the starry sky in order to completely enter the realm of paragon.

Thinking of this, Severin did not hesitate in taking the Nimblesense Pill he had refined before! The seventh-grade pill would greatly increase his physical power if taken. Although his body was already extremely strong, he did not mind a little boost. After all, he was still a supreme saint. Even though his body was comparable to a real dragon, and his blood as dazzling as diving light, the pill would still do wonders for him.

Upon ingesting the alchemical pill, it immediately transformed into a warm stream of power surging into every limb and bone of Severin's body! An immense influx of spiritual energy from heaven and earth tirelessly swept through his organs, transformed his meridian points, and expanded his energy like a piercing rainbow. His aura emitted a growing intensity, and anyone close could feel a surge of masculine vigor!

After swallowing several pills, his physical body gradually became more robust.

His bronze-colored skin shimmered with a faint metallic luster, akin to a spiritual treasure, and at the same time it was цц ушу жжк по отушу пи спетуу топеи ир like billowing smoke, enough to make any supreme saint feel scared to the point of finding it hard to breathe when faced with Severin.

At that moment, Severin felt that his physical strength alone could easily kill a level nine supreme saint. In fact, only the legendary body of a true dragon would be able to go head to head with him.

A few days later, when all the Nimblesense Pills were digested and absorbed, Severin opened his eyes. The physical body played only a small part in breaking through to the paragon realm. More importantly, he would also need to transform his primal spirit and birth the power of heaven and earth.

'Now that the physical part is done, I have to get a work on my primal spirit,' thought Severin as he looked at the golden sea of spiritual energy within his body.

The three treasures of paragon were essence, physical body and primal spirit! It was comparatively easier for the essence and physical body to break through.

After all, they could be made stronger by just taking alchemical pills. However, it was difficult to transform the primal spirit into a solar spirit and survive the sea of suffering.

Fortunately, The Book of True Void Enlightenment-which Severin had cultivated contained the methods for turning primal spirit into solar spirit. Recalling the introduction in the book, he suddenly seemed to understand something. His eyes gradually brightened and they showed an unprecedented look of determination.

“Transcendental and holy, only then can one call oneself a true paragon. The energy and blood are like the furnace of heaven and earth, and the body is like a raft, carrying the primal spirit to cross the sea of suffering to confirm one’s own path!” Severin shook his head slightly, a light smile appearing on his lips. He had his own understanding of the path he was on, and finally saw the Life After Prison Chapter 2138-The next moment, Severin took out two purple alchemical pills from the spatial ring. He then opened his mouth and swallowed them. In an instant, a massive amount of spiritual energy from heaven and earth enveloped his body. The spiritual sea within his energy core bubbled continuously like a simmering pot.

Wrapped in this spiritual energy, Severin’s aura grew increasingly intense. He frantically activated his cultivation techniques, tirelessly refining and absorbing the spiritual energy in the energy core spiritual to transform it into the power of heaven and earth condensed from the meridian points in the starry sky.

Severin maintained this state for a half a month. As the power of heaven and earth increased around him, he felt as if his primal spirit had been purified, and mixed into the fervent power of blood and energy.

An indescribably terrifying pressure instantly exploded out of Severin and spreaded beyond Pearl Light Isle.

“What’s going on?” Wuhlricht, who was playing chess with the Great Elder in the courtyard of Pearl Light Isle, opened his eyes wide in shock as he looked at the direction of the training room where Severin was in.

His eyelids kept twitching as he wondered, ‘This... this aura is simply powerful!

Is Severin finally going to break through?’ Even though Wuhlricht was only a level four supreme saint, he could nonetheless sense that Severin was different from before. The aura Severin emanated before felt like a divine weapon hidden in a sheath, but at that moment the aura he gave was like that of a more advanced life form. This aura, derived from the evolution of life, was 𐄂𐄂THtCi) TIŲ· 𐄂UIICIII𐄂 𐄂𐄂1 ummary revtimme sup achieve.

e Sam Cou Opposite Wuhlricht, the Great Elder snapped his head up from the chessboard and looked in the direction of Severin’s training room with his mouth slightly open in astonishment. He had also sensed the terrifying aura emanating from the training room, causing him to involuntarily tremble. ‘It has been less than a month and Severin has already broken through? It’s simply preposterous!’ Diane and the other women, who were in the courtyard, felt the aura become increasingly intense to the point of suffocating as it spread over the entire island.

One day, a crackling sound suddenly resounded within Severin’s body, and almost simultaneously, he opened his eyes. In an instant, a very pure aura rose from him, turning into a brilliant column of light, shooting straight into the sky for thousands of miles.

Darkness fell instantly above the nine heavens as a vast expanse of dark clouds covered the sky. The entire sky took on a strange dark red hue, as if it had turned into a giant furnace. A purple tribulation cloud was floating in the sky, and below it were countless flickering lightning serpents.

A purple lightning thunder with the power of destroying everything in its path crashed down on the proud figure below, who was none other than Severin.

Seeing that the lightning was about to strike him, Severin swiftly activated the skill he had learned from The Book of True Void Enlightenment, and the power of heaven and earth immediately burst out from his body to shield him from the impending destruction.

Severin-who was sitting cross-legged-suddenly erupted with a dazzling divine light and the next moment the light collided with the thunder.

The Thunderbolt Tribulation clouds in the sky were instantly dispersed, and Severin heard the delightful and enchanting melody of the divine path interweaving in his ears.

Life After Prison Chapter 2139-A bright divine light burst out of Severin's body as the dark clouds dispersed. In an instant, thousands of billows of purple mist appeared in the sky above Pearl Light Isle. The purple mist began condensing in mid-air to form dancing auspicious clouds, as visions of dragons and phoenixes danced in the glowing sky. There was also a vision of a goddess scattering flowers and golden lotuses emerging from the ground.

After surviving the Thunderbolt Tribulation, Severin's aura instantly surpassed that of a level nine supreme saint; he had firmly established himself in the paragon realm!

A surging and majestic momentum, like towering mountains, erupted from his body and reverberated across the air. An invisible aura of terror soared into the sky and pierced through the clouds! The aura of a paragon spread from Pearl Light Isle to the surrounding areas in just a few seconds.

At the same time, upon entering the paragon realm, Severin's Chaotic Constitution seemed to be completely activated, unleashing numerous visions.

There was one of a celestial maiden scattering golden flowers from the sky. As each flower-which was condensed from the spiritual energy of heaven and earth, touched the ground-it-rapidly rejuvenated the somewhat withered grass and trees scorched by unforgiving sunlight, restoring them to their original state in an instant. The next moment, a heavenly vision of earth, water, wind, and fire appeared in the sky. Suddenly, the vision burst into brilliance, as if a whole new heaven and earth were being created, before they dissipated with a loud boom.

Following that, a vision of a giant full moon rose from the sea; it was a canopy over མཁའ་ལྷོད་ཀྱི། unca by umuny བཟང་པོ་ལྷོ་ཕར་བུ་ LITUL 1 Severin's head. Soon after, visions of dancing golden dragons and shrieking phoenixes emerged! These phenomena numbered more than a dozen in total, and all of them were orbiting around Severin.

There were visions of chaos opening up heaven and earth, the birth of a bright moon over the sea, the golden lotus in the energy core, and so on and so forth.

Each of them presented itself in the sky one by one.

Needless to say, all the cultivators of the Grandiuno Sect were stunned by this spectacle.

At that moment, the plaza in Seventh Mountain, Myles was assiduously explaining his insights on the way of swordsmanship to a crowd of disciples when his lecture was interrupted by a shout.

“What... what is that?!” Myles frowned when he realized the person who shouted was actually an elder next to him.

‘What is he making a fuss about? What could possibly cause a dignified paragon like him to go pale in the face like that?’ The next moment, his expression instantly froze, and his eyes widened. He saw a burst of seven-colored divine light soaring from Pearl Light Isle, piercing through the sky. Following that, multiple visions erupted out of thin air – a majestic dragon’s roar, golden lotuses blooming, and streams of flowing light.

Auspicious signs descended from the heavens, and countless streams of light falling like ribbons from the sky. The people of Seventh Mountain were instantly drawn by this splendid light.

“Look over there!” shouted one of them.

Numerous disciples turned to look at what he was pointing, only to see the entire sky.

I can Liyi sie, my we “It’s the vision, Auspicious Sky Veil!” “Only those with terrifying talents will have such visions when they achieve breakthroughs in cultivation!”

He was aware that Severin had recently broken through to level nine supreme rank, which was just one level below that of a paragon.

For a core disciple like Severin, breaking through to the paragon did not pose much difficulty! After all, reaching a bottleneck was reserved for mediocre cultivators! That being said, even prodigies like Riley and Spencer had to spend several months of arduous efforts to break through to the paragon realm!

“It’s been less than two months since Severin broke through to level nine supreme saint and now he has broken through to the paragon realm too...?” Myles was completely stunned, thinking that Severin was truly a monster.

As soon as everyone learned that Severin had made a breakthrough, they could not help but tremble while their scalps went numb.

In the plaza, everyone was in an uproar.

“I can’t believe it’s Severin who made the breakthrough!” “D*mn! Just how powerful is Severin to actually cause so many 2/3 +25 BONUS VISIO113 4TCT DIan-9 Inuu9T:

“One vision is already amazing enough. Even those with slightly better talents could achieve it. But he actually caused more than a dozen different visions to appear in the sky!” “Even Riley didn’t manifest the Chaotic Blue Lotus, the Sea Moon, and the other visions during his breakthrough!” “He’s absolutely terrifying! I wonder what level of strength he has reached now that he has broken through.” At the same time, Daniella-who was refining pills in Sixth Mountain- suddenly looked toward the direction of Pearl Light Isle. Staring at the countless visions in the sky, she exclaimed in astonishment, “Did someone in the sect break through the paragon realm again?”