

Life After Prison Chapter 2141

Life After Prison Chapter 2141-As soon as she finished speaking, she felt Severin's aura, causing her eyes and mouth to widen slightly.

"It's... it's him!!" She initially thought it was some outer elder who made the breakthrough, so imagine her surprise when she found out it was actually Severin who made the breakthrough.

In her impression, Severin just broke through to level nine supreme saint some time ago, so she did not take him into consideration. No matter how monstrously talented Severin was, there was no way he could have broken through to the paragon realm since the bottleneck between level nine supreme saint and paragon realm was unimaginably huge.

Thus, she did not think of Severin just now. However, after learning that it was him, she was so shocked that she did not even notice that the alchemical pill in the cauldron was starting to burn. Ignoring the cauldron that was emitting black smoke, she stood up and flew toward Pearl Light Isle.

Daniella and Myles were not the only peak masters who were shocked! The peak master of Eighth Mountain, Rowan was so stunned that he forgot he was refining a spiritual treasure and it ended up damaged.

The peak master of Ninth Mountain, Lyka Minetta, was answering questions about cultivation from her disciples when she stood up suddenly and looked toward Pearl Light Isle. Fifth Mountain, Fourth Mountain, Third Mountain... all the peak masters of the nine mountains of the sect became uneasy after sensing Severin's aura. They all set off to Pearl Light Isle.

All the disciples in the sect were dumbfounded as well when faced 1/3 WILI LIC сомуу чита +25 BONUS ཅ་བཅུ་1. 1||。 aura was like a wild and ferocious beast, forcing the countless disciples who were training in seclusion to wake up in shock.

Initially, those disciples were upset at being woken up. However, their upset changed to shock after learning that Severin had broken through the paragon realm. It took them a while to come back to their senses.

“Has Severin broken through the paragon realm?” “Holy crap! Didn’t Severin just break through to level nine supreme saint some time ago? How is it possible that he achieves another breakthrough again so quickly?” “I’m beginning to think he’s not human at all! If not, how can he be so unbelievably powerful?” “I’d be happy if I could have half of Severin’s talent!” At the same time, Oskar—who was handling the sect’s affairs in the main hall—was slightly surprised when he sensed the aura of Severin’s breakthrough.

“Huh! That kid actually broke through to the paragon realm before the sect tournament!” Oskar had been observing secretly and looking forward to Severin breaking through to the paragon realm ever since he joined the sect. He hoped to see Severin’s growth with his own eyes. After all, he had to face off immense opposition when he broke precedent by naming Severin as the sixth core disciple. Although he rarely appeared in front of Severin, it did not mean that he did not keep tabs on Severin’s training progress.

He remembered that it was only two months ago that Severin had broken through to level nine supreme saint, so how could he not be surprised when the latter had broken to the paragon realm in such a same feat.

+25 BONUS Oskar raised his head and looked in the direction of Pearl Light Isle with a relieved smile.

“It seems that I have chosen the right person.”

Life After Prison Chapter 2142—“I may be able to return to Grandiuno Sacred Land this year now that the sect has Celeste, the reincarnation of the ancient power, and Severin, the monster!” Both Celeste and Severin possessed overwhelming power that was unparalleled in the entire Southsky. Even in a place like Grandiuno Sacred Land where prodigies abound, they would still come out at the top! In fact, they might even have a chance of competing for the saint sequence.

Thinking of that, Oskar casually took out an alchemical pill that exuded a strong medicinal fragrance from his pocket, and said to a disciple stationed outside the door, “Deliver this alchemical pill to Pearl Light Isle and make sure Severin gets it.” “Yes, Mister Oskar,” responded the disciple immediately with a nod. After that, he looked at the alchemical pill with passion and envy because it was the most precious alchemical pill among the seven grade alchemical pills! Once ingested, it allowed paragon cultivator to achieve breakthroughs.

At the same time, Severin—who had just survived the Thunderbolt Tribulation—felt his connection to the world had deepened after breaking through the paragon realm. This link not only made his perception of the spiritual energy of heaven and earth around him more acute, but also allowed him to control and absorb the power of heaven and earth in the air.

Originally, Severin had to manually absorb the spiritual energy from heaven and earth on his own. However, since he had connected the bridge of heaven and earth and connected the meridian points in his body with the outside world to form a great circle, all the spiritual energy +25 BONUS In other words, without Severin having to activate any cultivation techniques, the massive amount of spiritual energy would rush toward him, causing the spiritual energy in his body to skyrocket. An influx of the power of heaven and earth that emitted glowing rune words poured into Severin's energy core which was originally as golden as the sun.

The meridian points throughout the body transformed into countless stars, hanging upside down like a galaxy, with silver brilliance cascading down. With each flicker of these stars, a massive amount of spiritual energy from heaven and earth entered Severin's body from the outside, causing his cultivation to increase with every breath.

Even though his cultivation had not increased much, compared to the supreme saint realm, the difference was already like night and day. After all, cultivators in the supreme saint realm could not increase their cultivation level all the time like him.

In addition to connecting his body with the outside world, forming a great circulation of heaven and earth, which allowed spiritual energy to enter the body at all times to increase his cultivation, the most significant change was his primal spirit within his energy core. After reaching the paragon realm, it had also become vastly different from before.

Severin's primal spirit was blooming with golden light, like a miniature version of a god. The golden primal spirit was no longer as fragile as it was in the supreme saint realm. He even had a feeling that he could not only emit divine sense, but also achieve primal spirit separation. Even when exposed to the sun, the primal spirit no longer felt afraid! It was akin to what humans called a spiritual out of body experience.

Of course, the biggest change was Severin's physical body. After breaking through the paragon realm, his body became stronger and 2/3 +25 BONUS και το πιο καμ ५ ལྷན་ལྷན་ལྷན་ ས་ pover um neuveri Strony and earth.

His bronzed skin shimmered with a faint divine light. Although his muscles were not strong and developed, they still gave off a strong sense of power. His blood and energy were burning hot, and with just the strength of his physical body, he could strike down with a force of fifty million pounds. In fact, he felt like he could crush a low-grade spiritual treasure with just the wave of his hand or raze everything to the ground within a several miles radius with just a stomp of his foot.

His blood, energy, and aura were so powerful that he looked like a wild and ferocious beast just by standing still. Anyone would have found it hard to breathe if faced with him! Even the body of a true dragon could not compare to him.

Moreover, because a lot of the power of heaven and earth had been generated in his body, coupled with his terrifying body, the aura on his body became more and more immortal-like, giving people an unfathomable feeling. This was because after a cultivator entered the paragon realm, his life would go through an evolution from bottom to top, and he would no longer be an ordinary cultivator.

Severin was filled with joy when he felt the huge changes in his body.

Life After Prison Chapter 2143-t could be said that compared with the time when he was in the supreme saint realm, the difference was like heaven and earth! This was not only reflected in the mind, body, and spirit, but also put him in a higher plane than all the rest of the mortals.

Thinking about this, Severin could not help but exhale heavily. Clenching his fists and feeling the surging power within his body, he felt he could easily kill a cultivator of the same realm.

Even if the other party was a level two paragon, he reckoned that he might be able to rely on his powerful physique and spiritual treasures to defeat them. As for a level three paragon, he was confident that could last for dozens of moves without falling behind! He was not only a genius for being invincible in the same realm, but also a prodigy for being able to take on those above his levels.

. Someone like Severin, who had just broken through to the paragon realm and whose combat power was comparable to a level three paragon, was still a rarity! There were very few in the entire history of Southsky! Even someone as famous as Karl, a prodigy who was the reincarnation of an ancient power, could not fight those above his level.

Needless to say, Severin was filled with joy at the realization. In a joyful mood, he slowly descended from the sky and arrived next to Diane and the others, who looked somewhat dazed.

Everyone in the courtyard watched Severin slowly descend from the sky. At that moment, he was radiating a dazzling divine light, as if he had descended from heaven itself. Deep shock riddled everyone's faces when they sensed the paragon aura emanating from Severin.

"Paragon... paragon realm!" T +25 BONUS "Severin has succeeded!" After recovering from the shock, Diane and the others were all filled with joy and happiness! Although everyone was well aware that, given Severin's monstrous talent, reaching the paragon realm was only a matter of time. After all, as a core disciple of the sect, it was impossible for him to be mediocre! Moreover, they had been with Severin for so long, and witnessed his remarkable talent.

The reason for everyone's astonishment was that no one expected Severin to break through so quickly. For an ordinary cultivator to break through the Paragon realm, they must first condense the power of heaven and earth! Later, they would need to undergo the transformation of the primal spirit and refine the physical body! process could take anywhere from a few years to more than a decade.

Based on the information Diane and the others had gathered, even for the other core disciples-prodigious as they may be-it would take them several months to break through the paragon realm.

As for Severin? It had just been over half a month since he had entered the training room. Such a short period of time was truly beyond everyone's expectations. Thus, it was no wonder everyone was so surprised, especially Diane and the rest of the wives. After recovering from their shock, they rushed toward Severin with shouts of astonishment.

and admiration. Only after entering the paragon realm did he realize the differences between that and the supreme saint realm.

These differences were not just reflected in the amount of spiritual energy, his physical strength, the transformation of the primal spirit, and the power of heaven and earth, but more importantly, in the evolution of existence.

Even in the paragon realm, there was still much to explore. As for the royal paragon realm, Severin did not even dare to imagine what it would be like. He chuckled and shook his head. After snapping out of his reveries, he looked toward the women in front of him.

At that moment, Great Elder and others nearby also approached. The elders all congratulated Severin happily and respectfully.

“Congratulations, Severin! You’re now the first among us to break through to the paragon realm,” said Great Elder with a heartened expression on his face.

He harbored nothing but deep admiration for Severin. After all, they had both entered the sect at the same time, and yet he was still only a level four supreme saint while Severin had already broken through to the paragon realm. Moreover, Great Elder’s cultivation was considered quite fast in the sect.

Even so, Great Elder’s progress in cultivation within the sect was not considered slow. Achieving level four supreme saint within a year of joining was impressive and he could be deemed as talented.

However, it was nothing when compared to Severin. Great Elder could only look up to him in admiration, shedding silent tears. Sometimes, true immortal. Otherwise, rapidly?

After shaking his head to dispel the thoughts, Great Elder looked at Severin with a heartened expression, and said with a smile, “As expected of a cultivator who possesses The Chaotic Constitution. The gap between us seems to be widening more and more.” On the other side, Wuhlricht stroked his long beard, and casually remarked, “It’s a good thing you managed to break through before the sect’s grand tournament begins. With your current strength, you’re bound to come out on top in the tournament!” Severin nodded with a smile at everyone’s praises. “I hope so.” Winning the sect’s tournament would mean he would get to enter the Grandiuno Sacred Land in Middlebridge and to become a sect leader. To say that Severin was not moved would be untrue! The opportunity to enter the Grandiuno Sacred Land alone was enough to tempt him!

Grandiuno Sacred Land was definitely a giant-level super power in Middlebridge since Grandiuno Sect-a top sect-dared to call it a sacred land.

Life After Prison Chapter 2145-Just as the Grandiuno Sect held an unassailable position in Southsky, the Grandiuno Sacred Land was equally unshakeable in Middlebridge. Not to mention, Middlebridge boasted a greater number of advanced cultivators and more abundant resources.

Southsky was merely an outlying region in Bluerealm, with the most powerful cultivators reaching only level eight in the royal paragon realm. Whereas, in Middlebridge, royal paragons were aplenty, and the true powerhouse was a supreme paragon. Many sects in that region had a considerable number of individuals who had ascended to immortality, showcasing an astonishing depth of heritage. This was something Southsky could not compare with.

Severin had not forgotten why he came to Bluerealm! It was precisely to ascend to immortality. He had been striving towards this goal, hoping that one day he could reunite with the old eccentric in the immortal realm.

Suddenly, he raised his head and looked toward the outside of Pearl Light Isle.

In the sky, there were dozens of incoming rays of light. Among the lights were the nine peak masters and the elders of the sect.

Seeing this, Severin raised his hand to deactivate the protective barrier in the sky above Pearl Light Isle. He then soared into the air and arrived at the entrance to greet them.

The first person to reach Severin was Myles. After Myles arrived, he looked Severin up and down in amazement before saying with a chuckle, "Severin, we haven't seen each other for a few months, and yet you've caused quite a sensation again!" The dozens of celestial visions that occurred when Severin broke 1/3 VI LIIC 𐄂 uto⊖PI⊗, Especially the disciples of Seventh Mountain; their shouts of astonishment filled the air after witnessing visions like the Sea Moon and the Chaotic Blue Lotus. It made Myles feel a bit inferior. He only had two or three celestial visions after breaking through to the realm.

Moreover, it took him decades to reach that point whereas it took Severin only half a month.

Not to mention, Severin had only been in the sect for a year. When Myles was at his age, he was still stumbling around in the realm of supreme saint. Thus, it was no wonder that Myles would curse in his mind when he found out that the person who made the breakthrough was Severin.

Upon hearing that, Severin lightly shook his head. "You're being too kind, Mister Myles." "No. You're being too modest," Myles responded with a wry smile. His nose would have been pointed so high up the sky if he had reached the paragon realm at Severin's age. In other words, he would not have been as modest as Severin.

Thinking of this, he immediately reached into his spatial ring, took out a high-quality alchemical pill, and tossed it over to Severin. "This is a congratulatory gift from me." Severin was overjoyed to receive a seventh-grade spiritual herb. After the last alchemy session, he did not have many seventh-grade spiritual herbs left. He was just worrying about where to find more when Myles unexpectedly gave him one. However, before Severin could express his gratitude, another figure descended from the sky. Daniella, the peak master of Sixth Mountain, appeared in Severin's line of sight.

After arriving at Pearl Light Isle, Daniella fixed her eyes on Severin. Her mouth opened slightly in surprise when she sensed the profound
