

After Prison 807

Chapter 807

Manny gritted his teeth and said, "You're right. Unless Severin is stupid, he wouldn't have let such a beautiful woman slip through his fingers. They're probably a true couple then. It's time we let both the grand-elder and the second elder execute the plan ahead of schedule."

After saying that, Manny immediately led the bodyguards back to the car in anger.

"Sheila really is Severin's girlfriend?" Yacob had a rough idea of what transpired after seeing Manny return with a gloomy expression.

Manny nodded. "Just tell our grand-elder and second elder to execute the plan. Sheila might end up marrying him if we take too long to get it done, and I don't want to marry a widow."

"Sure thing." Yacob nodded, then walked up to the car behind and relayed to the grand-elder and the second elder. He instructed them to find the best possible opportunity-preferably at night when Severin went out alone-to kill him.

After Severin, Diane, and Sheila finished shopping, the three of them decided to go to lunch. It was not until the next morning that Severin went out alone.

"Sir! Our opportunity is here! Severin just left the house all by himself!" The grand-elder and second elder had been secretly following Severin, and they called Yacob right away when they saw Severin leaving the house.

"Is that so? Well, that's perfect! I'll leave it to you to decide when's the best time to act." Yacob was overjoyed after hearing that.

However, not long after, the grand-elder and second elder called.

"How did it go?" Yacob asked nervously as soon as he answered the call.

"Sir, he's leaving for Drackham. We followed him until he arrived at the airport, and after our investigation, we discovered that he had bought a ticket to Drackham. He's already on the flight too," the grand-elder brought Yacob up to speed.

"Perfect! There could not have been a better opportunity than this." Yacob was even more excited after knowing that Severin went to Drackham alone. "You two can head to Drackham right away. Now that he's alone, all you need to do is find an isolated place where you can kill him. Make sure to do it stealthily though. If he dies in a place as far away as Drackham, there's even less of a chance for us to trace it back to us. He's probably a level five or level six warrior king, so since you're both level seven, killing him shouldn't be an issue. You'll both be rewarded well after everything is settled."

"We'll do our best, sir. Right now, we can only buy tickets for the next flight, but once we go there, it might not be easy to locate him in such a huge city." The grand-elder smiled wryly. Despite successfully following Severin to the airport, they were unable to proceed any further because they did not have any tickets for a flight to Drackham. Since Drackham was about as big as South Link City, it would not be easy for them to locate him either if he was only there for a day or two.

“How about I call a friend of mine who works there? He’s the boss of Drackham’s smaller forces, so I’ll ask him to pick you up once you arrive. I’ll also give them a heads-up so they can send their men to follow Severin before you arrive. I believe it will be much easier that way,” Yacob said to them after some thought.

“That sounds great, sir. We’ll have some good news for you soon,” the elder remarked before ending the call.

Yolanda was lost for words at that moment, but she eventually said to Earl, “Are you nuts, Earl? Why are you paying such a high price for just one seat? Do you think it’s worth paying that price just to sit with me. for a while?”

From Yolanda’s point of view, Earl was a lunatic whose personality bordered on the radical. It was one of the reasons she did not like him.

Earl smiled and said, “Miss Yolanda, this just goes to show how much I truly love you. I have no issues parting with a hundred thousand dollars just to sit with you because you’re priceless to me!”

He was already expecting Severin to hand over the seat to him when Severin said, “Hehe, you two are interesting people. Did you even think to ask whether or not I’m willing to sell this seat before you started negotiating the price?”

When Earl heard that, his face soured and he said to Severin, “You’ll get a hundred thousand dollars if you just switch seats with me. It’s not always that you come across a chance to get free money.”

To Earl’s surprise, Severin smiled and said, “Mister Earl, I’m really sorry, but this seat is mine, and I don’t want to switch seats with you.”

Curiosity got the better of Earl, who stood up to look in front. He would have been better off minding his own business, because he noticed that the ice-cold Yolanda had taken the initiative to chat with Severin, and the two of them were talking and laughing heartily too! He was too far to hear what they were talking about, but the smile on her face made him feel even more upset.

“Damn it! That dude must be a pervert. He probably knows that Yolanda’s family is well-off, so he refused my offer of a hundred thousand because he wants to marry her! If he succeeds, he won’t have anything else to worry about for the rest of his life.”

Earl clenched his fists tightly and gnashed his teeth.

“Benny? Benny! What’s happening to you? Don’t you scare me, Benny...” a woman shouted all of a sudden, drawing everyone’s attention.

A boy who was about seven or eight years old had passed out. His face was blue, and his body was twitching non-stop, as if he had lost all control over his bodily functions. The flight attendant ran over as soon as she heard the voice.
