

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1341 Selena'S Arrival

Chapter 1341 Selena's Arrival

Hunter was taken aback.

The woman, however, smiled, as if she thought her impulsive idea was brilliant. She spoke with seduction, "Don't you love me? Willing to do anything for me?"

"The existence of your daughter makes me extremely unhappy. So why don't you go and kill her to please me?"

The man broke out in a cold sweat on his forehead. "But..."

The woman's face suddenly turned cold. She grabbed the man's tie and squeezed it hard, causing him to roll his eyes. "Or are you saying that you don't love me at all?!"

"You'd rather watch me suffer than protect those two little bitches?!"

The man looked at her bleeding fingers with a pained expression on his face. He panicked and said, "Manny, I promise you, I will kill that little bitch to vent your anger. You need to take care of your wounds..."

The woman suddenly laughed and leaned in affectionately. Her voice was sweet and cloying. "I knew you wouldn't deceive me."

"Remember, just like killing your former wife, you must do it yourself!"

"Record the process and send it to the other little bitch for her to enjoy!"

...

In the conference room, after Nevaeh and Callum's marriage certificate was publicly released, those who had criticized Selena's background suddenly fell silent.

Freddie urgently needed to deal with the fact that the Shaw family had been scolded on the hot search, and Selena needed to know the true meaning behind Freddie's previous words. With the mutual consent of both sides, the meeting was temporarily paused.

In the lounge, Patrick placed a cup of warm water on the table in front of Selena.

He glanced at Selena, who was sitting on the sofa, looking down at the two marriage certificates in her hands, and then sat down beside Oscar.

Patrick didn't even know that Nevaeh and Callum had received their marriage certificate.

He had never seen this marriage certificate before.

Selena looked at the date on the marriage certificate, which was the day before Callum left the capital.

On that day, the man had taken his beloved girl home and they became a real couple.

Selena looked at the certificate for a long time before putting it down and looking up at Oscar.

The butler couldn't have kept such an important thing from her.

Especially since there had always been rumors about Selena's identity in the capital.

If the butler knew about this marriage certificate, he would have taken it out a long time ago.

Unless even he didn't know.

Seeing the date above, Selena probably guessed the reason.

At that time, the Turner family's sons were about to go to the battlefield, and they were probably prepared not to return, so they naturally sent innocent people away in advance.

Oscar looked into the girl's deep and quiet eyes, and a rare hint of a smile flashed in his eyes. "Your father was tied up by your mother and taken to the Civil Affairs Bureau."

Selena remembered the video where Lady Nevaeh beat up Callum until he was covered in injuries, and suddenly became calm.

"My younger brother had already arranged for someone to protect your mother and leave the capital, but Nevaeh gave him two choices: either marry her, or she would marry someone else while pregnant with you."

"My younger brother has never been afraid of anything or anyone else, but when it comes to your mother, he is always helpless."

"Or..." Oscar's dark eyes fell on Selena's face, paused for a moment, and then continued, "it was for you."

"The people outside didn't know that your mother was pregnant, but everyone in the Turner family knew that Nevaeh was carrying you."

"You came into this world amidst the joy and anticipation of your grandfather, father, and younger uncle... all the members of the Turner family."

Selena looked at Oscar's gentle eyes, and ripples began to form in her heart.

Although she knew that Oscar wasn't really looking at her, he was using her to see the real Nevaeh.

The girl who should have been showered with endless love, but was prematurely withered by cold treatment.

Selena knew this fact, but she wasn't jealous.

She also came into this world amidst the care and nurturing of her parents, and the Turner family's care for Selena was definitely not less than that.

Moreover, Selena also knew that Oscar was helping the real Selena to untie her knot.

The girl who had never felt the care and nurturing of her family when she was alive, and was always cursed by wolves and tigers as an unpleasant jinx. Why didn't she die earlier? Nobody cared about her, so it was only natural for her to die...

Selena had heard too much of such words, and even if her will was firm, she could not have no knot in her heart.

And when Oscar told her that she came into this world surrounded by love, Selena clearly felt a sense of comfort in her heart.

Looking at the girl's calm gaze, Oscar continued, "Your father loves your mother very much, and he wants to give the best of everything to their daughter."

The Turner family has a scarcity of girls.

Not even one in several generations.

When Wilfred was alive, his biggest wish was to have a lively and lovely granddaughter.

If it weren't for him pushing things along, Nevaeh wouldn't have been able to get pregnant with Selena before getting married.

After Selena was conceived, the Turner family began to plan their wedding.

However, an unexpected event occurred at that time.

Selena looked at the handsome man on the marriage certificate and closed her eyes slightly. Suddenly, she stood up and said, "Uncle, Patrick, I need to go out."

After speaking, she walked out.

Patrick thought that Selena needed time to calm down after hearing about her parents' situation, so he didn't think much of it.

Oscar looked at Selena's back and his eyes showed a hint of something.

He looked at Leia, who was about to follow Selena, and instructed her, "Take good care of her!"

Leia was taken aback.

Her task was to protect Selena.

Why did Oscar need to specially remind her?

Leia keenly sensed something and her expression became guarded. She hastened her pace to catch up with Selena.

Patrick's suspicious gaze turned to Oscar, who stood up and said, "Father, Selena..."

"Don't follow her," Oscar shook his head. Seeing his son's worried expression, he added, "She'll be fine."

Without complete certainty, Selena wouldn't have taken this trip.

...

Selena walked out of the lounge and waited outside for a moment. When Leia caught up with her, she said, "If someone from the Shaw family comes later, tell them I'm waiting for them."

After speaking, she walked out the door.

Leia blinked.

At this critical juncture, if the Shaw family came to find Selena, it was clear they had bad intentions.

Then why did Selena agree to meet them?

Leia was puzzled, but Selena always had her reasons for doing things, and Leia just needed to follow her orders.

Remembering Oscar's instructions, Leia became even more guarded in her expression...
