Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1411 Nightingale

Chapter 1411 Nightingale

It had been raining for several days in a row.

Selena stood on the steps, looking at the misty garden in the rain.

Leia ran down from upstairs with a coat, "Madam Selena, it's getting dark. It's time for dinner."

Selena turned her head and looked at Leia, "Leia, do you know where the young master has been these days?"

Since Osvaldo said he wouldn't be back these days, Selena had never seen him again.

Although she received his phone calls every day, but...

Leia looked at the hint of longing on Selena's face, and the words she was about to say got stuck in her throat,

"Madam

Selena, do you miss the young master?"

Selena smiled slightly, "Shall we go and bring him some food?"

In other words, she not only missed him, but also wanted to see him.

Leia widened her eyes.

For Selena's safety, she should refuse.

But Selena was showing concern for Osvaldo.

If she missed this opportunity, who knows when there will be another one?

Leia immediately said, "I know where the young master is. Madam Selena, wait here, I'll go ask the chef to prepare the food."

As she spoke, she ran towards the kitchen.

Half an hour later, Leia drove Selena away from the villa.

At the same time, a black BYD car stopped at the largest commercial center in the capital.

The car door opened and a young woman with a curvaceous figure in black leather walked out of the driver's seat.

The woman wore sunglasses, and her flawless lips and chin were exposed. Her walking posture was charming and alluring, attracting the covetous glances of many people along the way.

The woman seemed used to it, ignoring those hot gazes and went straight to the top floor, pushing open the door of a private room.

The people waiting inside the room looked up, their eyes skimming over the woman's full chest, showing a hint of covetousness.

Smiling, they pushed a file towards her, "This is the most relevant information about 'that person' that we have collected in the whole H Country."

The woman opened the file and looked at it, "Is this the only one?"

"Yes!"

The woman sneered and after glancing at it a few times, she casually tossed the file aside and turned to leave.

"Wait!" the person behind her spoke up, "This person has a special identity and is not easy to deal with. We need to plan carefully--"

Before he could finish his sentence, a cold light suddenly flew in from the door, grazing the man's scalp and embedding into the wall.

A woman stood at the door, elegantly took off her sunglasses, revealing a pair of bone-chillingly indifferent eyes. "Who do you think... you're talking to?!"

The man's forehead broke out in a cold sweat.

"Of course, you're the ace of the assassin world," he stuttered, "but the target has a different identity. If we kill the wrong person, we might get into big trouble..."

The woman put her glasses back on and turned away, disappearing at the door. "If we kill the wrong person, it's just their bad luck!"

In the world of assassins, it's either you win or you lose. As for whether the other party is innocent or not, what does it matter to her?

Selena got out of the car wearing a mask.

Leia stood beside her, holding an umbrella and the two walked into the mall.

Suddenly, they heard crying up ahead. Selena looked up and saw girl in a raincoat sitting on the ground, crying pitifully, while a cold-looking woman with sunglasses stood in front of her.

A young mother hurried over, picking up the crying girl and scolding the woman, "Why don't you look where you're walking?!"

The woman stepped forward to the mother and daughter, towering over them. "What did you say?"

Through her sunglasses, the young mother suddenly felt a bone-chilling coldness.

It was as if a sharp knife was at her neck, and if she said something offensive, the other party would immediately slit her throat...

The woman hugged the child who was crying from being bumped and held her tightly in fear.

Selena's gaze fell on the woman, and a glint of darkness flashed in her eyes as she called out, "Leia." Leia handed Selena the umbrella and stepped forward.

The young mother and daughter were frozen with fear and did not know what to do when suddenly a pair of warm hands reached out and lifted them off the ground.

Leia pulled out a can of candy from her pocket and gave it to the girl. "Stop crying, I will give you candy..."

The little girl saw the rainbow-colored candy, which was a shape she had never seen before, and instantly stopped crying,

"Mommy, candy..."

Although she really wanted it, she knew she had to ask her mother for permission.

The young mother looked at Leia, stuttering, "Th-thank you..."

Leia put the candy in she's arms and pinched her tender cheek. "It's okay. It's cold outside. You should go inside."

The young mother thanked Leia repeatedly and then hurriedly walked into the mall with her daughter.

The black-clad woman stood arrogantly on the side, witnessing the whole process, with a murderous look in her eyes fixed on Leia.

Leia seemed to be unaware of the woman's malice and calmly walked back to Selena's side. The black-clothed woman's gaze naturally fell on Selena.

In the drizzling rain, the girl wore a mask and held a beautiful and exquisite rainbow-colored umbrella, giving off a delicate and harmless vibe.

The woman didn't seem to notice her and walked into the mall with her beside her. Watching Selena's back as she entered the mall, the black-clothed woman sneered and left.

Once inside the mall, Selena glanced at the woman's departing figure and asked Leia, "Go get me a cup of milk tea."

Leia hesitated and looked behind her, "Madam Selena..."

Selena shook her head, "It's fine."

Leia left to get the milk tea. Selena found a seat, took out her phone, and made a call, "Margot, help me check on someone..."

After the black-clothed woman left the mall, she drove to a standalone villa in the outskirts of the city.

By this time, it was completely dark outside.

The woman looked at the villa not far away, took out her computer from the driver's seat, and began to hack into the villa's surveillance system.

Ten minutes later, it seemed that she had successfully taken control of all the surveillance cameras in the villa. She took out a gun from her pocket, got out of the car, and walked confidently toward the front gate of the villa. However, she soon noticed the infrared device at the gate.

The woman sneered and put away her gun, turned around, and went to the back of the villa. Using a steel wire in her hand, she climbed onto the rooftop of the villa without making a sound.

At the same time, Selena received a call from Margot. "Selena, I found out. If everything goes as expected, the one you encountered should be the eighth-ranked assassin on the hit list, code-named 'Nightingale.'"

"Just a small fry," the girl said, changing her tone, "Did she bully you? Wait for me, I'll tear her apart!"

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1412 Assassin

Chapter 1412 Assassin

After listening to Margot's introduction, Selena tapped her slender fingers on the table. Instead of being curious about the other party's identity, she was more interested in why they suddenly appeared in the capital.

"Can you find out what she's doing in the capital?"

Selena asked.

Margot searched for information on her computer while answering Selena's question, "It's hard to say. I've been locked up here by Mr. Chambers for almost a year now, and I haven't been paying attention to external news for a long time."

"But don't worry, Selena. Once I'm out, I'll beat up all those guys who bullied you!" Margot exclaimed.

Selena laughed. Even if Margot were outside, she probably wouldn't pay much attention to anything other than fighting.

she wasn't very good at anything other than brawling.

"It's okay. I'll have someone keep an eye on her,"

Selena said. "If she really has ulterior motives, Margot can go help me take care of her!"

"Selena, wait for me!" Margot cheered.

When Selena hung up the phone, Leia came back with a cup of milk tea and a hot water bottle.

Selena got up and said as she walked out, "Leia, find someone to keep an eye on that woman from earlier."

"Yes, Madam Selena," Leia replied.

Meanwhile, a woman named Nightingale silently sneaked into the top floor room of the villa.

The luxurious and elegant bedroom had a classic black and white tone, and it seemed like it was not often inhabited by the owner, with a chilly atmosphere in the air.

Nightingale looked around and walked into the bathroom, hiding behind a cabinet, quieting her breath. Not long after, the bedroom door suddenly opened. Footsteps sounded.

Someone walked in and stayed in the bedroom for a moment. They seemed to make a phone call, then pushed open the bathroom door.

The woman held her breath and suppressed her breath.

She caught a glimpse of a black-haired man wearing black clothes walking in, his eyes shrouded in shadows, his chin and the corners of his mouth in the light, breathtakingly beautiful.

The woman couldn't help but be stunned by his beauty, but in a flash, her expression turned into a dead calm. The man seemed to be preparing to take a shower, walked to the bathtub, and reached out to turn on the faucet.

The woman stared at the man's back and raised the gun in her hand.

Like an excellent hunter, she patiently aimed the gun at the man's vital organs.

And the man in front of her still remained oblivious.

The woman's lips curled into a cruel and proud curve, her finger fell on the trigger, and she pulled it fiercely.

There was a loud bang -

The sound of rushing water masked the moment when the silenced gun was fired. The woman had a smile on her face, ready to reap the fruits of her victory.

Just as the bullet was about to pierce the man's heart, he suddenly tilted his head, revealing a pair of deep, sinister black eyes. The deadly bullet didn't even touch the edge of his clothes and was embedded in the wall.

The woman's pupils shrank as she suddenly realized something was wrong. She pounced on the man, shooting at him with the gun in her hand.

The man dodged the bullets, lifted his long leg, and kicked the woman into the bathtub with force.

As soon as the woman entered the water, she felt a bone-chilling coldness.

She struggled and tried to get up, but the foot on her head felt as heavy as a thousand pounds, making it impossible for her to move.

She thrashed violently in the water, but the foot showed no signs of moving.

In the splashing water, the man lit a cigarette.

By the time he finished smoking, there was no movement from the person under his foot. The man removed his foot with an expressionless gaze and turned to leave the bathroom.

At that moment, the person who was thought to have died suddenly sprang up, holding a gleaming knife and lunged at the man's throat with a vicious expression.

The man didn't even blink his eyes and took a small step back, evading the woman's desperate attack.

The woman, now kneeling on the ground with a pale face, gasped for air. The man standing at the bathroom door calmly lit his second cigarette and didn't look at the woman once.

Nightingale stared at the man opposite her and smirked, "Don't you want to know who wants to kill you?"

The man took a drag of his cigarette, and finally raised his eyebrows. Nightingale shuddered, feeling a coldness run down her spine. The man's side profile was impeccable, but when she saw his face head-on, she realized that his eyes were even more enchanting and seductive. However, the look in his eyes was icy, devoid of any emotion, as if she was just an annoying fly.

Nightingale, who was accustomed to being proud and aloof, couldn't stand someone looking at her with such disdainful eyes.

Furthermore, the man had blocked all of her escape routes, and she knew she couldn't escape without killing him. But she also knew that she was no match for this man. The speed of the other party just now clearly revealed the gap between the two.

A strange light flashed in Nightingale's eyes.

She suddenly restrained the killing intent on her face, and a hint of glamour could be seen through her cold eyes.

She had just climbed out of the water, and her black long skirt was wet and tightly attached to her proud figure, outlining her hot and curvy body without any reservation.

She smiled, cold and glamorous, dropped the knife in her hand, and walked towards the man gracefully.

"If you let me go, I promise not to trouble you anymore, okay?"

"As long as you let me go, you can do whatever you want to me."

"Or even better, I can be of use to you and help you deal with those who want to kill you."

As the woman spoke, she took off her clothes to show her sincerity and harmlessness.

She was very confident in her appearance and figure, and there were almost no men who could resist her seduction.

The man watched her approach, his delicate eyes showing no ripples.

The woman twisted her waist and looked at the man with a hint of charm in her eyes.

Just as she was about to throw herself onto the man, she was kicked out by a heavy foot.

The man's foot showed no mercy, and the woman screamed in pain.

Half-kneeling on the ground, holding her body, her face turned pale with pain, she looked at the man across from her as if she was looking at a monster.

The man showed a hint of impatience in his eyes, and took the initiative to walk over.

The woman clearly saw the killing intent in the man's eyes.

He wanted to kill her!

This thought flashed through the woman's mind clearly, making her shiver with fear.

Large beads of cold sweat appeared on her forehead, and in the face of the useless beauty trick, she could hardly imagine what else she could do.

The man seemed extremely disgusted and unwilling to touch her, and casually picked up a toothbrush from the table.

Just as he was about to take action, a voice suddenly came from outside the door.

"Madam Selena, the young master is inside..."

Chapter 1413 Selena Injured?

The man's footsteps suddenly stopped in their tracks. What a great opportunity!

Nightingale's fingers flicked out a silver needle laced with poison, aiming for the man's vital points, and her semi-exposed body followed suit, pouncing forward.

The man's lips curved upwards, but his gaze towards the woman was extremely terrifying.

He took a step back, dodging the silver needles, then grabbed the woman's hair with his slender, fair hand, lifting her up like a piece of garbage.

The woman's expression was filled with fear as the man threw her out of the window.

The sound of the window closing and the sound of the door being pushed open almost happened at the same time.

Selena walked in carrying a thermos.

Oswaldo leisurely drew the curtains shut, completely cutting off the darkness outside the window.

The eerie and cold atmosphere disappeared completely the moment the man turned around.

The man looked at his wife walking towards him, his gaze becoming extremely gentle.

When Selena saw the man, she was stunned.

Oswaldo was still wearing her familiar black clothes.

The only difference was that he had unbuttoned two buttons of his shirt, revealing a small section of exquisite and fair collarbone.

The fine black hair on his forehead was covered with tiny water droplets.

His exquisitely handsome face was filled with a hint of restraint and a sickly beauty.

Selena's cheeks turned red, and her throat inexplicably became a bit dry. "Did I... come at the wrong time?"

She seemed to have disturbed something...

Oswaldo looked at her crimson cheeks, his Adam's apple rolling up and down, walking towards her.

As Selena met the man's charming yet dangerous gaze, her back tingled and she unconsciously began to retreat.

She took a step back, he took a step forward.

Until she had nowhere left to retreat.

Oswaldo pushed her against the wall, lifted a strand of her black hair to tuck it behind her ear, his voice low and hoarse,

"Selena, what are you afraid of?"

Selena met the man's desire-filled gaze, his eyes revealing a hidden yearning and excitement.

Selena was so nervous that she didn't know what to do, and spoke softly, "Nothing."

The man stared at her without moving, like a dragon eyeing its delicious prey, ready to pounce at any moment and devour his precious treasure, leaving not even a scrap of bone behind.

His eyes were tinged with red, his lips curved in a faint smile. "Really nothing?"

Selena had never seen her gentle and gentlemanly husband show such an expression before, and she inexplicably felt weak in the legs. She forced herself to remain calm and pushed the insulated lunch box in her hand forward, "I brought you food."

The man stared at her intently. The young girl's charming red lips, like coated with honey under the light, made the man's heart itch and scratch uncontrollably.

Driven by a murderous intent, a long-suppressed evil nature boiled up uncontrollably. He casually placed the insulated cup that was blocking the two of them on the table beside them.

Under Selena's wide-eyed gaze, he suddenly grasped her delicate wrist, clasping the young girl's hands above her head.

Then, he lowered his head and approached her.

Unlike his usual restrained gentleness, this kiss was filled with strong desire, and it was rough and barbaric to the extreme.

Selena was trapped in the man's embrace, with no power to protest, and even her breath was taken away.

It wasn't until she was out of breath and her vision began to fade that the man finally withdrew his lips slightly.

Before she could even speak, the man kissed her again, unwilling to be refused. She had no idea how long it lasted, but Selena felt suffocated and her eyes were blackening.

Finally, the man left her lips.

Selena gasped for air, her eyes watery and painful, and her lips numb as if she had been tasted inside and out by the man. But it wasn't over yet.

The man was like a starving shark who had finally tasted a bit of delicious prey, and couldn't wait to nibble on the tender neck. With one hand on her slender waist, he groped downwards along the delicate and graceful waistline.

Selena's heart was pounding violently, and she couldn't even stand still. Trembling, she cried out in pain, "...It hurts."

The sweet and trembling voice entered the man's ears, and his movements suddenly paused. His somewhat stranded rationality suddenly returned.

Oswaldo looked up and saw the young girl's slender body pressed against the wall, trembling all over. There were drops of blood on her lips that had been scratched. The man stared at the spot of red and suddenly regained his senses.

He bent down and gently licked away the spot of red, his voice hoarse and terrifying, "Wait for me a moment."

After speaking, he turned and walked into the bathroom.

Selena finally managed to control her weak body and ran out of the room, opening the door and rushing out. Leia was waiting bored in the hallway, and when she heard the door open, she looked up and saw her mistress rushing out almost at an escape speed.

Leia hurriedly went forward and supported Selena. Seeing Selena's appearance, she's eyes widened in shock.

Selena's clothes were disheveled, her eyes were wet, her delicate red lips were cracked, and her neck was covered in red marks.

She couldn't even stand steadily. It was obvious that she had been bullied!

And there was only her master in the room!

She had an urge to beat up her master for allowing this to happen. "Madam Selena!"

Selena's face was dark and her voice sounded hoarse, "Go."

If she didn't run now, she felt like the man would drag her back and torture her.

Leia helped Selena put on her coat and supported her as they walked to the door.

The people in the villa saw that their mistress had just arrived and was leaving so soon, realizing that something was wrong but not daring to stop them.

Selena took the elevator down to the first floor, and just as she was about to get into the car and run away, a pair of hands suddenly reached out from behind her, grabbing her soft waist and pulling her back.

Selena saw Osvaldo's familiar face, her breathing paused, and she stuttered, "I suddenly remembered that I have something to do, I'll come see you in a few days..."

Osvaldo's dark eyes fell on her face, looking at the blood on her lips, his eyes darkened, and he hugged Selena and headed back.

Leia, sitting in the driver's seat, wanted to stop him but was afraid to, and was so anxious that she stomped her feet,

"Master, you can't bully Madam Selena!"

The man in black ignored the voices around him, and took Selena back into the elevator.

Selena looked at the man's remorseful and unhappy face and realized that he didn't have the intention to attack her or devour her, and breathed a sigh of relief.

She whispered, "... Osvaldo?"

Osvaldo's gaze fell on her face, and he met her cautious eyes, gently kissing her lips, "Yes."

Selena was relieved when she realized he had returned to normal, and her heart rate slowed down.

She tried to speak, but every time she moved, it hurt her lip wound, making her eyes turn red.

Osvaldo looked at she's battered appearance and pursed his lips.

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1414 Explanation

Chapter 1414 Explanation

Oswaldo carried Selena back to another room. He put Selena on the bed, took out some medicine, and sat at the bedside to apply it to her wound. Her delicate neck and shoulders were covered with bite marks, some of which even broke the skin. As the cotton swab with the medicine touched her skin, Selena trembled with pain and nestled into Oswaldo's chest, whimpering in distress. Oswaldo's thin lips pursed tightly, his usual gentleness replaced by gloominess and irritability.

He carefully applied the medicine to all the reddened areas on Selena's fair skin and finally pulled her into his embrace.

He whispered softly, "Be good, it won't hurt anymore soon."

Selena was used to his indulgence. When he kissed her, he guided and controlled her intentionally to make her enjoy the intimacy with him.

But he had lost control and gone too far just now.

As a young girl with no experience in this area, she was scared.

Selena blinked her misty black eyes and snuggled back into his shoulder, hugging his long neck tightly and refusing to look up.

It was clear that she was throwing a tantrum.

He needed to coax her!

Oswaldo held Selena's waist and chuckled, "Bite me back, okay?"

Selena opened her mouth and bit his chin, but she accidentally tugged at a wound, causing a sharp pain that made her hiss. Her pretty black eyes instantly filled with tears.

Oswaldo pinched Selena's chin and forced her to lift her head. He looked at her bloodied lips with his dark, bottomless eyes and asked, "Are you hurt inside too?"

The young girl's long lashes trembled and her face blushed. It was unclear whether she didn't want to speak or couldn't speak.

With his eyes dark and deep, Osvaldo gazed at her rosy cheeks and curved his thin lips. "What do you want me to do to make you happy again?"

His fair fingers gently brushed over her cheeks. "Just tell me, and I'll do it."

As Selena looked at the tender look in his eyes, her pain suddenly subsided.

It was only then that she noticed that Osvaldo's clothes and shoes were mostly wet, his hair was damp, and his clothes had wrinkles that would never have been there on any other day.

It didn't look normal at all.

Selena reached out and gently wiped away a few drops of water on his cheek. "You should go change your clothes first."

As she spoke, the movement pulled at the wound on her tongue, and the young girl let out a pitiful hiss.

Osvaldo lowered his black butterfly-like eyelashes and whispered in Selena's ear with a light laugh, "Are you going to run away again?"

Selena was stunned for a moment, then shook her head, indicating that she wouldn't run away again.

She was afraid that the man would capture her again and continue to nibble on her, so she ran away.

Since he stopped nibbling on her, she no longer needed to run away.

Oswaldo smiled, took Selena's hand, kissed it again, and then got up and walked into the bathroom.

Selena sat on the bed, listening to the sound of water coming from the bathroom. She coughed and suppressed some embarrassed thoughts.

Then she frowned and began to ponder Oswaldo's abnormal behavior just now.

Not only was Oswaldo's behavior unusual, but there was also something off about the room they were in just now.

Selena had been living with Oswaldo for almost half a year, and she knew a lot about men's habits.

Oswaldo, like her, had a serious obsession with cleanliness and couldn't stand any disorder in the room.

As a perfect detail-oriented person, Selena's ability to memorize was self-evident.

She carefully recalled the room she had just seen, and there were many water stains on the floor near the bathroom, and there were also several marks on the walls.

Most importantly, she had just smelled a hint of a woman's perfume on Oswaldo...

Selena's dark eyes glanced towards the bathroom, suppressing some inexplicable emotions in her heart. The more she thought about it, the more uneasy she became, and she finally decided to go and check it out herself.

Selena quietly lifted the quilt, put on her slippers, and walked out of the room.

Leia squatted outside the door, feeling worried. When she heard movement, she looked up and saw the main lady walking out.

Leia was about to shout, but Selena shook her head and gestured for her to be quiet. she immediately covered her mouth, looking puzzled at Selena.

Selena walked towards the room where Osvaldo had just been staying.

Leia followed her with a confused look on her face.

Selena arrived at the door and saw the thermos cup she had brought still on the table. Whether it was the water stains at the bathroom door or the new marks on the wall, they were almost the same as when she left.

This proved that no one had cleaned up the room yet.

Selena breathed a sigh of relief.

She was most afraid that these marks would be destroyed and covered up.

That would make her unable to resist her wild thoughts.

Selena walked to the bathroom door and began to examine it carefully.

Leia was shocked to see the messy scene in the bathroom.

The bathtub was filled with water, overflowing onto the ground, and there was even a toothbrush on the floor...

It was not difficult to imagine that there had been a mess here not long ago.

Upon realizing that this was Osvaldo's room and recalling his abnormal behavior when Selena first arrived, Leia suddenly shuddered.

Catching sight of the mistress' increasingly cold expression, Leia hastily explained, "Madam Selena, please don't overthink it. The young master could never be hiding a woman here behind your back! He has a serious case of germaphobia and has never even touched another woman's hand, apart from you and Madam Laurence, his whole life!"

"I'll go ask the guys outside what just happened here..."

Leia said, brimming with determination as she ran out.

Selena's mouth was sore and she couldn't speak, so she didn't stop her.

She wandered around the bathroom before finally walking out and standing in front of the wall, staring at the new marks on it.

They were very shallow and faint, like pinpricks, and if it weren't for her innate sensitivity to details, she would never have noticed them.

Selena searched the room but couldn't find the murder weapon, it must have been taken away.

But with these marks and the information Margot had given her, she knew who the woman was who had just come here!

Selena's black eyes were filled with dangerous hostility. Footsteps were heard outside the door.

Selena turned her head and saw Osvaldo, wearing a black bathrobe, standing at the door. Seeing her standing in front of the wall, the man seemed to frown slightly, then walked over and pulled her into his arms.

Seeing Selena's stunned expression, Osvaldo's eyes flashed with a hint of strangeness. He leaned in close to Selena's ear and whispered softly, "A woman came here just now."

Selena's expression froze for a moment, and she slightly widened her eyes.

Osvaldo lowered his butterfly-like eyelashes and whispered in a very soft voice, as if revealing a difficult secret, "She drugged me..."

Selena couldn't control the surge of violent hostility in her heart.

She knew it - the man who was usually so gentle and kind suddenly changed because someone was messing with him!

She looked at his cold, white complexion and leaned in to rub his cheek, saying softly, "... I know you didn't..."

Wrong With Your Mouth?

Chapter 1415 What's Wrong with Your Mouth?

Selena hadn't finished her sentence, and Osvaldo walked over and took her hand.

Her slender fingers slipped into his, and the man leaned over, his hot breath spraying in her ear. "No, Selena... I have it."

The words that Selena hadn't said yet suddenly got stuck in her throat, and her face turned red as blood. The man rubbed against her gently, his hoarse voice as if it contained a handful of hot sand. "Help me."

Selena's face turned blushing, and she was so embarrassed that she didn't know what to do. "I don't know how."

Osvaldo smiled and looked at her with deep, dark eyes. "I'll teach you."

Forty minutes later, Selena sat at the dinner table, the fork slipping from her hand for the countless time.

She looked at her hands, which were so sore that she couldn't hold anything, and then at the man next to her, who was perfect in every way, with a strange expression on his face.

Why was he the one who was supposed to be tricked, but in the end, the person who became limp and unable to stand was her?

Osvaldo laughed softly, picked up the spoon, and lifted the porridge that had been set aside to feed her.

Her mouth was hurt, and she couldn't eat anything that was too hot.

The young couple ate their dinner warmly, and it was already eleven o'clock in the evening.

Osvaldo personally escorted Selena downstairs, holding her face and kissing her lips. "I'll be back to accompany you in two days."

Selena bit her lip.

She originally thought that, at this late hour, the man would let her stay.

She kissed his eyes and said fiercely, "Don't let any other women get close to you!"

Osvaldo's mouth twitched. "Okay."

His slender hand went through her knees, and he carried her horizontally and placed her on the back seat.

The car door closed.

Leia stepped on the accelerator and drove Selena back to the villa, with two cars following behind.

The black-haired man in black stood on the side of the road, watching the car carrying Selena disappear from his sight, and the warmth in his eyes disappeared with it.

"Where is she?" The man asked, his tone so dangerous that it was chilling.

The person behind him respectfully replied, "No body was found, so she should have escaped."

To attract the attention of those killers, the defense system around the villa deliberately left many loopholes.

And he added, "The killer who came this time should be on the ranking list, but his rank is not high."

Although they didn't rank well, it's better than nothing.

At least those who didn't make the leaderboard didn't dare to get involved easily after the other party's mission failed.

Thinking back to the past few days, the killers came one after another like locusts. Even those who were used to bloodshed were scared.

This man was using himself to buy time for his beloved wife.

The deterrence created by the blood and corpses was enough to make those people hesitate to approach the area of the capital city.

With such a chilling and dazzling presence, who would have the energy to deliberately pay attention to a woman who lives under the sun and is pampered?

Osvaldo tilted his head slightly and looked at the pitch-black rainy night above, his tone thick with the smell of blood,

"Find them and kill them!"

...

At the same time, in a warm car, Selena suddenly spoke up, "Find a place, let's go sit inside."

Leia was surprised and felt it was not appropriate, "Madam Selena, it's too late. If we are late, Noah will worry."

Selena smiled and under the warm yellow light, her expression was somewhat blurry, "It won't take long." Leia couldn't resist her and looked through the rearview mirror at the two cars following closely behind them, then relaxed.

She found a café, stepped on the brake, opened the umbrella, and went in with Selena to buy a cup of hot coffee.

They finally returned to the villa.

Before going to bed, Selena took a shower in the bathroom and looked at her lips and beautiful face in the mirror, which suddenly turned black.

The next day, when Selena went to Capital University, she wore a mask.

She walked into the laboratory, where Black Crow and White Crow were waiting for her, having received the message in advance.

Selena sat on the sofa and went straight to the point, "Has the Federation received any news about me?"

White Crow poured her a cup of tea and spoke gently, "Not yet."

Selena frowned, but her eyes were full of suspicion.

Black Crow hugged his arms and spoke with disdain, "What's that expression on your face? The Federation is thousands of miles away from the capital, and it's normal that no news has been sent yet."

"Besides, there are many people with the same name and surname in the world. Who would specifically come to investigate you based on just one name?"

Selena was stunned by the last sentence.

Her suspicion was dispelled in an instant. Yes, her "body" had already been buried in the Monument of Heroes.

With that thing in place, even if her name were to be passed to the federation, no one would connect her with the deceased Selena.

Selena breathed a sigh of relief.

She had asked specifically because she suspected that Nightingale had come for her. But she hadn't expected the other person to approach Osvaldo instead.

She was worried that she had brought danger to Osvaldo.

It wasn't until she heard Black Crow's words that she was able to relax.

"Last night, the woman who ranked eighth on the international assassin list went to kill..." Selena paused suddenly.

She remembered Osvaldo's words. It seemed that the other party wasn't there to kill Osvaldo but to "seduce" him...

Could it be that the other party was simply there for Osvaldo's "beauty"?

With the man's face in mind, there was indeed a possibility!

If the other party really went to kill Osvaldo, they wouldn't have drugged him!

Selena dangerously narrowed her eyes, and her beautiful face took on an unprecedented coldness.

Black Crow and White Crow exchanged a glance, worried that Selena had discovered something.

This girl looked pretty and obedient, but she wasn't easy to fool.

They watched as Selena's expression changed rapidly, and she was completely shrouded in a layer of gloom.

She looked as though she could take out a knife and kill at any moment.

While Black Crow and White Crow were nervous, they suddenly heard the girl say softly, "That woman went to seduce my husband last night!"

"Originally, I was planning to capture her and force her to reveal her purpose for coming to the capital," beautiful red lips curved into a cruel smile. "But now, I've changed my mind!"

Selena's

"I'm going to kill her directly!"

Since it had nothing to do with her identity, there was naturally no need to investigate further.

How dare she use underhanded methods to covet her husband? She would kill her without hesitation!

After a few seconds of eerie silence, White Crow smiled without changing his expression and asked, "Do you need me and Black Crow to help?"

"No need," Selena said with a murderous look in her eyes. "I'll take care of this woman myself."

Black Crow frowned as he listened to her muffled voice and looked at the mask on her face. "What's wrong with your mouth?"

Chapter 1416 Accidentally Bit

Selena coughed and said casually, "I accidentally bit myself, it's okay."

Black Crow wanted to ask more, but Julian took over the conversation calmly, "We don't need to worry about the Federation for now, we will notify you if there is anything."

Selena felt relieved and asked about the progress of the underground virus with Eden. When it was almost dark, she finally walked out of the laboratory.

Leia drove Selena back to the villa.

On the way, Selena wanted to drink bubble tea, so the two girls walked into a bubble tea shop in the drizzling rain.

While Leia was queuing for the bubble tea, Selena went to the restroom.

Just as she finished washing her hands, a knife suddenly pressed against her throat from behind.

The young girl's face turned pale in an instant, her curled eyelashes trembling as she asked in a trembling voice, "Who are you? What do you want?"

A blood-stained woman walked out from behind her, her face cold and distressed, staring at Selena with a murderous look in her eyes.

The icy blade was pressed tightly against the girl's delicate white neck. With a slight force, her throat could be cut open.

The girl tried to stand firm and said with a misty gaze, "It's you..."

Nightingale stared at the woman in front of her. If it weren't for this woman who suddenly appeared last night, she would have already been killed by that man.

But she wasn't grateful to this woman.

From last night until now, she had been running away. If the person chasing her didn't care about the lives of ordinary people, she would have died long ago.

Nightingale carefully observed the woman in front of her. She was about eighteen or nineteen years old, with black hair flowing like a waterfall, pure and clear black pearl-like eyes, exquisite features, and a slender figure.

She looked like fragile and harmless.

She thought of the man from last night again.

Even if Nightingale wished to tear him to pieces, she had to admit his strength and beauty.

A dominant and powerful man like a king, but he likes a fragile woman?

Nightingale looked at Selena with disdain and disgust in her eyes. She applied force with the knife in her hand, almost cutting the girl's soft and smooth skin.

The girl seemed extremely scared, with misty eyes showing moisture, but proudly didn't beg for mercy, "What do you want?"

Nightingale sneered, "Naturally, I want your life!"

The girl trembled in panic and gritted her teeth. "Do you know who I am? If you dare to harm me, my husband and family will never let you go!"

Nightingale viciously pinched her chin, using great force that caused the girl's delicate and pretty chin to turn red almost instantly.

Due to the existence of the Enforcement Hall, all assassins only receive the target's information and are forbidden to harm their family members.

If anyone dares to kill innocent people, they will be immediately expelled from the assassin world and face the pursuit of the entire Enforcement Hall.

This woman is that man's wife, and her information has naturally been hidden by the Enforcement Hall and placed on the protection list.

If it weren't for an accident, she wouldn't have discovered her relationship with that man.

With her as a hostage, she had a chance to escape from the capital.

The girl clearly felt pain from the pinch, her eyes turning red, but her expression became even more stubborn.

"You can't just come after me for no reason... Who is behind the person trying to harm me?!"

"I am the eldest daughter of the first military and political aristocratic family in the capital. My uncle is a high-ranking official in Zone Six, and my husband is the leader of the top four families!"

"I can pay you ten times the reward promised by the other party!"

Nightingale's eyes trembled slightly, but her expression became even more ferocious and disdainful. "You're just bird that I can kill with a snap of my fingers, you don't have the qualification to negotiate with me!"

Damn it! She had originally planned to use Selena's hand and then kill her directly. She didn't expect that Selena would have a relationship with the H Country military. If she killed her, she would face the pursuit of both the underworld and the white side.

Thinking of this, Nightingale's gaze towards Selena became even more disgusted. She pinched Selena's chin and threatened arrogantly, "Listen, little bird, from this moment on, listen to me carefully. If you dare to disobey even bit..." A sharp blade moved from Selena's delicate neck to her cheek. "Then you won't need this pretty face anymore."

She could spare this woman's life, but she had to destroy this face that she found annoying. This woman who grew up in a privileged environment, if she lost her uterus and fertility, she would surely suffer for the rest of her life.

Seeing the envy and malice in the woman's eyes, Selena's butterfly-like long eyelashes trembled slightly, and she lowered her eyes.

Nightingale did not see the fear and weakness she wanted to see. Her gaze turned cold, and she was about to slash Selena's face, but suddenly she spat out a mouthful of blood.

She widened her eyes in disbelief, convulsing and falling backward onto the ground with her chest bleeding profusely.

Meanwhile, the young girl she had taken hostage was holding a small and delicate silver pistol in her hand. Glancing casually at her own fallen body, the girl's face showed no signs of panic or vulnerability. Instead, she exuded coldness and arrogance from her every feature.

In a calm tone, she said, "Come in."

Leia immediately rushed in from outside the restroom, glaring at the woman on the ground who was spitting up blood with a murderous intent.

Looking at the bruise on Selena's chin, Leia pitifully said, "Madam Selena..."

This was such a dangerous situation. They couldn't let Selena get away with this next time. Otherwise, the young master would have her killed.

Leia had been trembling outside, afraid that Nightingale might say something she shouldn't, arousing Selena's suspicion.

Fortunately, the woman on the ground was not very bright and was disgusting to Selena, who had no intention of interrogating her.

Selena wiped her fingers with disinfectant alcohol and said calmly, "Go find someone to clean up."

Leia immediately went to make the phone call.

Selena faced the mirror, carefully disinfecting every part of her body that Nightingale had touched. Finally, she took out her phone and dialed Margot's video call.

The call was answered soon.

"What's up, Selena? I'm packing up. Mr. Chamber has been very busy these days. We'll leave as soon as we're done. Don't miss me too much."

Selena smiled and turned the camera towards Nightingale lying on the ground.

She had deliberately missed the heart by a few millimeters with the bullet she had fired, so Nightingale had not died yet.

She curled up on the ground like a dying fish, glaring at Selena with resentment in her eyes.

Looking down at her, Selena asked in a light tone,

"Margot, are you sure this woman is the eighth-ranked assassin, 'Nightingale'?"

She couldn't believe that such a stupid and toxic person could climb to the top ten in the international assassins' ranking, which would make her doubt the morals and abilities of this generation of assassins.

Margot's voice came from the screen, full of disdain,

"It's her. But she only managed to climb to the top eight by taking advantage of the exhaustion of the previous eighth-ranked assassin, sneaking up on him from behind and taking advantage of him. The assassin world doesn't have many people who think highly of her..."

Chapter 1417 Companion

"Only someone like her, with weak abilities and no brain, would take on a job that obviously has a catch..." The identity of "that person" in the Federal Empire has not been exposed even a tiny bit in all these years. At this critical moment, a wanted poster suddenly appears, and anyone with brain would know that there must be something fishy going on.

Only someone like Nightingale, who desperately needs to secure her own position, would take on such a shortcutseeking job with a lucky mindset.

The other big shots on the hit list remain silent.

As Nightingale lay on the ground, her gaze fell upon the person speaking on the phone screen, and the anger in her eyes was suddenly replaced with fear. "... how is this possible..."

"I understand now, thank you, Margot."

Selena got the exact answer and hung up the video call.

She calmly put her phone back in her bag, looked down at the woman who was still spitting blood, and arrogantly smiled, "How could my husband, who has me, a beautiful and talented fairy, be interested in someone like you?"

Nightingale stared at her with regret and pleading in her eyes.

Selena smiled, "I don't like other people coveting my man and trying to harm him, especially using such despicable means."

"So, your death can only be considered self-inflicted!"

After saying that, Selena picked up her bag from the table and walked out in her exquisite high heels, her beautiful skirt fluttering with a fragrance in the air.

Nightingale's eyes showed ferocity as she took out a silver needle from her hand to protect herself and tried to pull Selena down with her.

But at the moment she turned around, a bullet lodged precisely into her heart. The dying woman, with two silver needles still in her hand, froze completely in place, her eyes wide open and the glimmer of hope gone. She had been killed in an instant!

Selena glanced back at the woman behind her who had been left for dead, and coldly snorted, "Those who do not repent will be punished even more severely!"

As soon as Selena arrived at the door, Leia immediately came up to greet her.

The young girl weakly said, "Madam Selena, Young Master just called and asked you to come home early..."

In order to prevent Osvaldo from knowing what she was up to, Selena had instructed Leia beforehand to say that her experiment would continue until 8 pm if Osvaldo called today.

The man had made two calls today, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, and both times he was told that his wife was still in the lab and had not come out yet.

It was now 7 pm, and obviously the man's third call had already come in.

Selena's dark eyes turned anxiously as she said, "Has someone been arranged to clean up the mess?"

Leia nodded, "Madam Selena, don't worry, no one will know what happened here."

After all, when it came to cleaning up, Osvaldo had plenty of professionals under his command.

After all... cough...

Selena was relieved and took two steps forward, but then reminded Leia again with unease, "Don't let the young master find out about this."

After all, she was used to being a beautiful and gentle wife in front of her husband. If he found out she had killed someone, even if she didn't care about her reputation, she couldn't help but feel guilty.

She was even more worried that the man would develop a sense of alienation towards her, thinking that she was cruel and ruthless, and eventually not liking her anymore...

Leia didn't dare to remind Selena that this was already the fifth time she had reminded her. She obediently replied,

"Okay!"

Deep down inside, however, there was a voice screaming that there was no way this could be kept hidden!

She even suspected that the woman inside was deliberately sent to Selena by Osvaldo. If she didn't know that Selena didn't kill her herself, she would have died last night.

There was simply no chance that she could have ended up in front of Selena.

She had to admit, in order to satisfy his wife's wishes, her master was really going to great lengths!

With the hidden danger in her heart resolved, Selena returned to the villa and took a bath in the bathroom before going downstairs to have dinner.

After dinner, Selena went to the basement to train for three hours, then returned to her room, washed up, and lay down in bed with her eyes closed, but had trouble falling asleep.

She thought about the past, never telling Osvaldo that she had killed many people.

From Osvaldo's perspective, based on what she had done since meeting that man, Selena should be kind, obedient, confident, and beautiful...

Selena bit her lip in frustration, and the curve of her lips was reminiscent of someone crying.

Suddenly, there was a knock at the door. "Madam Selena."

Selena sat up. "Come in."

Leia walked in with an iPad and handed it to her.

"Young Master's video."

Selena took it and looked at the man sitting in front of the computer on the screen. She couldn't help but smile.

Osvaldo looked at his wife, who had a look of obedience and sadness on her face. He pursed his thin lips and said, "It might rain tonight, I'll be with you."

Selena had gotten used to this kind of companionship since she met Osvaldo. Ever since she married him, he had developed a habit of checking the weather forecast. Whenever it rained, he would accompany her. He would be by her side when she went to bed. If he wasn't by her side, he would be with her on video. So Selena didn't think there was any problem and smiled sweetly, "Thank you, honey. Goodnight."

The man looked at her gently. "Goodnight." Selena lay down and obediently closed her eyes. Osvaldo looked at the delicate and beautiful girl on the screen. Although his wife was afraid of blood, she still made an exception and helped him deal with someone who had an ill intention toward him... He smiled, "Selena, don't be afraid.

I'll be by your side no matter what happens." The little bit of sadness in Selena's heart disappeared instantly when she heard this. She smiled slightly and soon fell asleep.

After she fell asleep, Osvaldo's eyes fell back on the computer, and he began to focus on his work. The night passed calmly.

Selena woke up on time and saw a familiar figure. Osvaldo was still in the same position as before she fell asleep. He smiled at her when he saw her open her eyes, "Selena, good morning."

Selena smiled sweetly, "Good morning."

Remembering that he had stayed with her all night, she reminded him, "You should go get some rest."

Osvaldo carefully observed Selena's expression and didn't relax until he was sure that she had returned to normal.

"Okay."

After ending the video call, Selena walked downstairs with a radiant glow.

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1418 Unexpected Visitor

Chapter 1418 Unexpected Visitor

Leia saw the smile on Selena's face and knew that her mistress was in a good mood today. She said with a smile, "Madam Selena, Lady Laurence called earlier and asked you to come back to the mansion when you have time."

Selena was taken aback for a moment before realizing what Lady Laurence meant. She was going to be engaged to Oswaldo soon, and it was highly likely that she would return to the Anderson family in the capital.

Lady Laurence had been busy preparing for the engagement banquet recently, so she wanted Selena to come back and see if there was anything else that needed to be added.

Selena's mood improved even more. "I'll go back in a while."

After breakfast, Leia drove Selena back to the Anderson family. As soon as Selena entered, she noticed that the entire mansion had been redecorated and had a new and festive atmosphere.

Lady Laurence personally led Selena around, asking the young girl if there was anything she was not satisfied with and if there was still time to rearrange things before the engagement banquet.

The villa where Selena had lived before had been demolished by Vivian after her tantrum. Lady Laurence had then connected it to the place where Oswaldo lived, creating a beautiful garden.

It was to be the place where the young couple would live after their marriage.

Selena stayed at the Anderson family for the whole day and only returned to the villa in the evening. The butler was standing in the garden and greeted her with a smile, "Madam Selena, you're back."

Selena asked, "Noah, is there anything wrong?"

The butler seemed to want to say something but changed his mind when he saw Selena's expression.

"Nothing, it's just getting late. Madam Selena, you should come back earlier in the future."

Selena didn't think too much about it and smiled.

"Thank you, Noah."

The maid helped her take off her coat, and Selena changed her shoes before walking upstairs. She had planned to go straight to her room, but when she stood at the top of the stairs, she suddenly saw that Osvaldo's study door was open.

Selena was stunned for a moment and instinctively walked over. Osvaldo's study was very private, and the villa's servants generally did not enter.

Selena thought to herself, wondering if the wind had blown the door open. After all, the two floor-to-ceiling windows in the study were large, and when the wind was strong and no one was looking after them, they tended to do this.

With this thought in mind, Selena walked up to the door, ready to close it. But as she raised her head, she saw a man standing inside.

He was a man with black hair and black clothes, and his lips were curved upwards. His deep black eyes were locked onto her, emitting a familiar warmth and a faint trace of heat.

Selena blinked, and when she realized what was happening, she immediately rushed towards him with joy. "You're back!"

she exclaimed.

Oswaldo raised his hand and embraced she who had leapt into his arms.

Holding onto the man, Selena looked up at him and asked, "Are you going out tonight?"

Oswaldo hugged her slender waist and his lips curved into a deeper smile. "Work is over, and before the engagement banquet, I'll be with you."

Selena's smile grew wider as she stood on tiptoe to kiss him.

At the same time, all her doubts disappeared. It turned out that the man's overtime work during this period was all to make time for their engagement banquet.

Oswaldo looked at his joyous wife and picked her up, turning to walk into the study.

He sat in the office chair and held Selena in his arms, letting her sit on his lap, and casually pressed a button on the computer.

Selena saw the scene on the screen and her eyes widened slightly. The screen showed various exquisite and beautiful wedding dresses and jewelry, playing frame by frame in 3D projection. Even though they were separated by the screen, she could feel their value and beauty.

"See which one you like, and we'll have them sent over for you to try."

Selena's cheeks blushed, feeling embarrassed. "My mother-in-law has prepared a lot for me..."

When it came to wedding dresses, she couldn't help but think of the one she gave to Aurelia.

Oswaldo's lips curved up. "What?"

His tone was light, but it made Selena even more nervous.

Her long eyelashes trembled and she didn't dare to look at the man's faint smile. Instead, she focused on picking out wedding dresses and jewelry.

Under Oswaldo's "high-pressure policy," Selena eventually picked out eight dresses and ten sets of jewelry, and arranged for them to be delivered in two days.

By that time, it was already dark outside.

It was time for her training.

Oswaldo had been away for several days, and no one was there to guide Selena. Knowing the girl's temperament, the man didn't argue with her anymore and took her to the basement.

They didn't come out until eleven o'clock that night.

The next day was the day of the Soo family's wedding day.

Nicholas was probably so eager to beat the Turner and Anderson families that he even set his grandson's engagement date before theirs.

Or maybe they wanted to put pressure on many prominent families in the capital by holding Alfie and Aurelia's engagement banquet hastily.

But after all, they were one of the four major families in the capital and had to maintain a certain degree of dignity.

The Soo family had many strict and traditional rules, and they placed great importance on punctuality. They believed that dusk was the time when the sun and moon changed, and it was the time when yin and yang were combined.

Therefore, the Soo family's engagement banquet was scheduled for the evening.

As the night fell, the Soo family mansion, which had been silent for many years, gradually became lively.

Countless luxury cars came and went at the gate, and glamorous and wealthy nobles appeared one after another.

The entire mansion was brightly lit, and festive red decorations could be seen everywhere. Exquisitely crafted red lanterns extended from the outside of the gate all the way to the inner courtyard.

Nicholas sent out countless invitations to showcase the Soo family's power. Almost all the wealthy and prominent families in the capital received an invitation from the Soo family.

Tonight's Soo family could be described as bustling. With so many people, there was naturally a lot of gossip.

Especially in recent days, the conflict between the Riddle family and the Soo family had caused the entire capital to be on edge.

"Do you think the people from the Riddle family will come tonight? Who will it be if they do?"

"Who knows for sure? Although Leon has a good relationship with Mr. Soo, Mr. Soo doesn't like Miss Bennett. Leo probably wouldn't congratulate Mr. Soo..."

"But if Leon doesn't come and it's the old master of the Riddle family or the second mistress of the Riddle family who comes, doesn't that mean the Riddle family has the final say?"

"Unless everyone in the main branch of the Riddle family has a brain problem, this situation shouldn't happen. It's too absurd to let a illegitimate daughter and son represent the entire family..."

Almost more than half of the people in the hall were discussing the Riddle family's affairs.

And just as a group of young ladies were gossiping, someone suddenly walked in through the gate.

The young ladies were stunned when they saw the person, and their expressions became extremely difficult to describe.

"Why did she come?"

"No, the question should be, how does she still have the nerve to come? According to reason, the Soo family would never have sent her an invitation..."

"She just came uninvited..."

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1419 Do You Want Him?

Chapter 1419 Do You Want Him?

"She just showed up uninvited, Miss Shaw's shameless behavior is already well-known, isn't it?"

"The Shaw family has already fallen out of the four major clans and is now just a second-rate family. They have no qualifications to attend such a banquet. I don't know what the Soo family is thinking, actually letting such a person in. It's really unlucky!"

Countless sarcastic and mocking voices reached Vivian's ears.

She clenched her palms, her body trembling slightly with anger. In less than a month, she had lost a lot of weight, and her heavy makeup couldn't hide the fatigue on her face. Vivian used to rely on her power and had been quite arrogant in the socialite circle, offending quite a few people. Now that the Shaw family had fallen, those who had been stepped on by her and her family would naturally come back and step on her hard.

Vivian listened to those hateful jeers, concealed her emotions, and turned to walk to the side. She had just found a quiet corner to stay in when she heard a commotion at the front door.

Vivian looked up and saw Selena walking over with Osvaldo's arm linked with hers.

Selena was wearing a red silk dress with diamond-like sparkles, her tender skin shining in the night. Her curly hair fell to her waist, swaying gently with the movement of her skirt, like a blooming red lotus.

She was linked with the man's arm, with a smooth face, red lips slightly raised, eyebrows curved, and dazzling brilliance, complementing the man beside her perfectly.

Anyone who saw them would have to praise them as a match made in heaven.

Vivian watched Selena, who was welcomed in by the crowd, with a look of crazy resentment in her eyes, and the corners of her lips curved into a malicious arc.

Nicholas looked at the couple walking towards him, a smile appearing on his sullen face. "What a rare guest, Selena and Mr. Anderson actually have time to attend Alfie's engagement banquet..."

"It's rare for the Soo family to entertain guests, even if we're just looking at the "emotional bond" between the two families over the years, the Turner family cannot be absent."

"Isn't that right, Nicholas?"

Nicholas looked at Selena meaningfully. "Young people should be humble. Those who speak arrogantly usually don't have a good ending."

"Perhaps you will regret coming to this engagement banquet soon..."

Selena's smile didn't change, but there was a sharpness hidden in her eyes. "Why isn't it you who regrets sending an invitation to the Turner family?"

"After all, whether it's twenty years ago or twenty years later, the Soo family has never won in front of the Turner family...," Selena said with a derogatory tone.

Nicholas seemed to have not caught the meaning and chuckled, "In that case, Selena, you must have a few more drinks tonight." After speaking, he ordered the servant behind him, "Take Mr. Anderson and Miss Turner to the garden."

Vivian stood at the back of the crowd, watching as Osvaldo led Selena away. She gritted her teeth and followed them silently.

The Soo family was a traditional and elegant garden building. In the garden, pavilions, towers, rockeries, and pools were arranged one after another. It was easy to get lost inside, especially at night.

Selena looked around curiously and then withdrew her gaze. The wind was a bit chilly at night, and Osvaldo took off his coat and draped it over Selena's shoulders. He picked up some pastries that Leia had brought and fed them to her with his long fingers.

Vivian hid behind a rockery, gripping a tree tightly with both hands as she watched the loving couple with eyes full of hate and venom.

"Do you want to get him?" A voice suddenly came from behind her. Vivian was startled and turned around in a panic.

Christ appeared behind her without her realizing it, his gaze fixed on the lovers who were smiling and chatting in the distance at the lake pavilion. He had a smile on his face, but his eyes were dark and cold.

Sweat broke out all over Vivian's back, and her heart began to beat wildly.

Christ smiled, his cold voice tinged with temptation. "If you get this man, you can become the mistress of the Anderson family and be high and mighty for the rest of your life.

And the Shaw family will also rise again. No one will dare to bully, trample on, or ridicule you anymore."

Vivian's throat was dry, and she struggled to speak.

"Will you help me?"

It wasn't that Vivian didn't want to do it. She just didn't have the opportunity. Not to mention that she hardly had a chance to see Osvaldo, even if she did, she didn't have the ability to approach him. Both Selena and Osvaldo were closely guarded by those around them, and outsiders had no chance to plot against them.

But if this man in front of her could help...

Vivian looked greedily at Christ.

Christ smiled and agreed as she wished, "Yes, I will help you."

Vivian did not doubt Christ's words.

This man likes Selena.

As long as she can take Osvaldo away from Selena, he will have a chance to get that woman.

Vivian's heart was beating so fast that it almost jumped out of her chest.

She stared at Christ, her eyes flashing with craziness, "Let's work together."

She wanted that man.

She wanted to become the most prestigious woman in the capital.

She wanted to step on Selena's feet.

She wanted to give Selena back the pain that the bitch brought to her, a thousand times over!

As if she had already seen the scene of Selena suffering unbearable pain, Vivian's face twisted into a smile.

Christ looked at the woman who had been completely consumed by jealousy and vanity, sneered inwardly, but said,

"Okay."

In the pavilion, Osvaldo coaxed Selena to drink half a bowl of bird's nest soup. Just as he put down the bowl, his phone suddenly vibrated.

Oswaldo glanced at it, and a trace of light flashed in his eyes.

"Wait for me here, I have to meet someone."

Selena blinked and smiled, "Okay."

Oswaldo touched her hair, stood up and left. After turning a corner, he took out his phone.

There was only one sentence on the screen.

Madam Selena's wanted person may be in the capital.

Oswaldo stared at the words for a moment, then put the phone away and walked away.

Selena sat in the pavilion, watching the scenery and listening to the gossip of the surrounding daughters of wealthy families.

Leia was checking the flowers and plants around her, preventing any mosquitoes from biting Madam Selena. Selena had delicate skin, which attracted those things the most.

The garden of the villa was well maintained by the gardener, and there were no insects to be seen in the whole villa.

But outside was another story.

Especially with so many flowers and plants around, and lights everywhere.

While Leia was busy, she suddenly heard a cheerful voice, "Selena!"

Selena looked at the twins standing outside the pavilion, and was stunned for a moment.

The Cooke sisters had come happily on their own. Selena looked at the two girls and asked with a smile, "Did you come by yourselves?"

Although the Cooke family was a wealthy family, it was not among the aristocracy.

Especially according to the current approach of the Soo family, how could they send invitations to the Cooke family?

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1420 Could That Person Be Her Enemy? Chapter 1420 Could that person be her enemy?

Upon hearing Selena's question, Candy nodded and said, "Dad received an invitation for us to come and play."

Seeing Selena frown in deep thought, Leia explained, "Madam Selena, the Soo family has invited many people this time, all the big and small noble families in the capital, anyone who is well-known and has a reputation has been invited."

Selena relaxed and instructed Leia, "After the banquet, you personally send them back."

Leia was taken aback, looking at Selena's eyes, she suddenly understood the reason why Selena had always kept her distance from others. Her special identity could potentially bring danger to innocent people. Therefore, Selena had not made any deep connections with anyone.

Thinking of this, Leia felt depressed, "Madam Selena, rest assured, I will safely send them back."

The Cooke sisters looked at each other, not understanding what was going on. But that did not stop them from being happy.

They had few friends here, so it was rare to see familiar faces. Nova happily said, "Selena, shall we go play together? The scenery at the Soo family is so beautiful. I just heard that there are blooming orchids there..."

Seeing the excited eyes of the two girls, Selena turned to Leia and said, "Send a message to the young master."

Then she stood up and was surrounded by the Cooke sisters as they left.

Seeing Selena leave with the twins, the young ladies present looked at each other, and their expressions became subtle.

While Selena was listening to gossip, these young ladies were also paying attention to her.

However, she was not easy to approach due to her usual demeanor. Those who were not familiar with her had mentally given her a high and unapproachable label.

Now seeing her being easily taken away by a pair of low-born twins, many of the noble ladies present couldn't help but have some different thoughts.

It seemed that Miss Turner was not as difficult to approach as the rumors had it.

If those two girls, whose status was inferior to theirs, could be friends with her, then they might also have a chance.

Following the route pointed out by the Soo family servants, the Cooke sisters led Selena to a secluded courtyard.

As soon as they entered, the sisters exclaimed, "It's so beautiful!"

Even Selena, who was used to beautiful scenery, was stunned for a moment at the sight before her.

The courtyard had no extra decoration, only a pond, a rainbow bridge over it, and a small building in the middle of the bridge. In front of the building, there were blooming orchids.

They came at the perfect time, as the orchids were in full bloom.

The Cooke sisters pulled Selena up onto the bridge. One by one, the large as a plate orchids bloomed in front of them. In the tranquil night, the fragrance of orchids filled the air.

The Cooke sisters watched without blinking.

After a while, the orchids finally finished blooming, and a refreshing fruit scent wafted in the air. Nova's nose twitched,

"What's that smell? It smells so good..."

"It's fruit wine brewed in the kitchen," a maid walked in from outside the garden with a tray in her hands, carrying a jadewhite wine pot and four cups. She crouched down in front of the girls and said with a smile, "Miss, you can try it."

She also brought out a plate of beautiful green fruits, "If you're interested, you can try to make it themselves."

The Cooke sisters felt a bit uncomfortable with such humble service attitude, but they had already seen it in the hall with all the servants of the Soo family.

Nova, unable to resist the fruit fragrance, poured herself a cup and after taking a sip, her eyes narrowed in sweetness, "It's delicious!"

She then poured a cup for Selena, "Selena, do you want some?"

Selena remembered the embarrassment caused by the drunken incident last time and immediately shook her head, "I'm not thirsty."

The maid didn't receive any other instructions and respectfully left the garden.

The two girls from the Cooke family happily drank for a while and then curiously started making fruit juice themselves.

Selena leaned her chin on her hand and admired the orchids in front of her, while Leia sat next to her, looking around with her big eyes.

Suddenly, a vibration came from Selena's bag. Leia opened it and saw Selena's phone. "Madam Selena, it's your call."

Selena took the phone and unlocked it. After seeing the message on it, her expression suddenly changed. She clenched the phone in her palm and turned to Leia, "Leia, go and see why Young Master hasn't come back yet."

Leia frowned, "But, Madam Selena..."

"Even if Nicholas can't stand me, he shouldn't want to ruin Alfie's engagement ceremony," Selena interrupted. Leia thought to herself that Osvaldo was in the Soo family, and the Soo family wouldn't dare to do anything to her in front of him.

The most important thing was that she could tell that Selena was clearly trying to get rid of her.

Leia was always obedient as long as Selena wasn't in danger. "Alright, Madam Selena."

Leia finished speaking and turned to run out, determined to immediately help Madam Selena find her young master and bring him back home.

After Leia left, Selena glanced at the twins who were indulging in the wine and walked to the middle of the bridge, picking up her phone to look at the message again.

"The person you're looking for is very likely in the capital city."

Selena's heart raced, she steadied herself and called the number.

In the dark of night, her voice was very low, "Are you sure?"

The voice of Ace of Hearts was particularly solemn, "If I tell you the message came from inside 'Divine Love', do you believe it?"

Selena's heart suddenly tightened.

"'Divine Love' knows you're looking for him, so they deliberately released this message. Be careful."

The current ruler of 'Divine Love' wouldn't do such a good deed for no reason.

There was only one explanation.

That person had really come to the capital city, and he was convinced that that man would become her weakness.

But even knowing that it was a trap, Selena had to jump into it.

"I will do everything I can to find him as soon as possible!"

After hanging up the phone, Selena's expression was heavy.

She should have thought of this earlier.

The person who could use "Divine Love" to resurrect her must have a close relationship with them.

Who was that person?

Selena suppressed her mixed emotions, turned around, but the sisters from the Cooke family were no longer on the flower platform.

Instead, there was another figure.

Selena stared at the person who was standing in front of the orchids, bending down to pick the flowers, her eyes sinking.

Leia had just left the garden, and she suddenly heard a soft call from behind her.

"Leia."

Leia turned around and saw "Selena" following her under the dim yellow street lamp.

Leia blinked in confusion, "Madam Selena..."

"Selena" walked over, handed her something, and smiled, "I just made this myself. Please take it to the young master and ask him to come back early."
