Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1431 The Reason For Spitting Blood Chapter 1431 The Reason for Spitting Blood

White Crow smiled gently and replied, "The bleeding has stopped, and now all we need is rest. As for the reason for spitting blood, Black Crow and I need some time to investigate. Before that..."

His gaze fell on the wound in front of Osvaldo, "You should focus on yourself first."

No matter how strong Osvaldo was, he was still human. In any case, Selena couldn't let this man die.

Rather than letting him use a tactic of pretending to be injured to win Selena over, it would be better to heal his injuries as soon as possible, so as not to soften Selena's heart when she woke up.

To let Selena become like this, how could they try to reconcile without understanding the cause and effect of the matter?

Oswaldo's dark gaze returned to Selena's face, and turned into a bone-deep tenderness.

She slept quietly, her pale face like a withered flower.

The man's face was half-hidden in the shadows, handsome yet cold, "You can begin now."

White Crow smiled playfully.

Black Crow looked at Selena who was in a coma, wanting to say something, but in the end, he didn't speak when he saw the ambiguous look in White Crow's eyes.

He stood to the side, holding his arms tightly and frowning.

...

When Lady Laurence and her people arrived, Oswaldo's surgery had just ended.

Apart from looking even paler with more vibrant lips, the man showed no sign of change.

But the bullet on the tray indicated what her son had just experienced.

Lady Laurence's heart tightened and her gaze fell on Selena. She asked gently, "How is Selena?"

White Crow took off his blood-stained gloves and spoke in a gentle tone, "There's no danger."

Lady Laurence breathed a sigh of relief and looked at Oswaldo, "You owe Selena an explanation."

Regardless, it was a fact that Oswaldo had made Selena sad and injured.

Oswaldo looked at Selena like a statue, and there was no reaction to Lady Laurence's words.

Lady Laurence naturally knew what her son was worried about and said softly, "I promise you that I will take care of Selena before you come back."

"If she wakes up, I will call you immediately."

Oswaldo's fixed gaze flickered.

Lady Laurence said to Black Crow and White Crow, "Selena has spit up so much blood and her body can't take it. I have prepared some blood-supplementing soup. Can you two help me see if there are any taboos?"

White Crow raised an eyebrow.

Black Crow glanced at the unconscious Selena and reached out to catch her.

With Selena injured like this, even though they were two big men, there were some things they couldn't handle no matter how well-intentioned they were.

Moreover, Lady Laurence would not harm Selena.

Lady Laurence gently patted Oswaldo's shoulder and said, "Go, son."

Oswaldo's gaze lingered on Selena's face, and even bystanders could feel his tenderness and restraint.

After a long while, he finally moved.

He stood up, lowered his head and gave Selena a kiss on the lips, then turned around and left silently.

Lady Laurence personally saw Oswaldo off.

She stood in the cold night wind, watching her son gradually disappear into the distance, took a deep breath, and took out her phone. "Joanna..."

...

Inside the RV.

Black Crow frowned at White Crow and said, "What are you up to?"

Ordinary anesthesia would indeed make people fall asleep.

But this was not a problem for them.

Both he and White Crow had countless ways to keep Osvaldo awake.

But White Crow chose the most painful method.

If Selena found out that they were treating the man she liked like this, who knows how she would punish them.

White Crow carefully observed a tube of blood just drawn from Osvaldo's body, and said casually, "No matter what the cause and process of tonight's events, that man is definitely not innocent."

Black Crow's face suddenly turned cold. "Did he do it on purpose?!"

"Not exactly," White Crow put the tube of blood into a container at random, and his gaze fell on Selena's face with deep meaning. "He probably didn't expect her to really get hurt."

There were too many doubts about tonight's events.

Whether it was Selena suddenly vomiting blood or Osvaldo's unexpected coma, everything was strange. With the abilities and methods of these two people, who could have calculated them to this miserable extent?

Black Crow's gaze fell on Selena's pale face, and he narrowed his eyes slightly.

After a few seconds of silence, Black Crow suddenly spoke. "White Crow."

"I am your brother."

Black Crow's face darkened. "... What do you think about her sudden vomiting of blood?"

"It's not her fault," White Crow's gaze was deep. "The cause is not with her."

If it's not Selena's fault, then it must be someone else's. As for who that person is... that should be their main focus.

Black Crow didn't say anything, apparently agreeing with the other person's point of view.

Although rare, there are cases where one person's pain can spread to another.

In medical history, there is a well-known example of this.

Black Crow also has a similar curse in his possession. Fortunately, Selena is neither poisoned nor cursed.

So, only the first possibility remains.

A somewhat indescribable silence spread throughout the carriage.

Finally, White Crow spoke up and broke the silence, "This situation has never happened before... the other person probably has no ill intentions towards her, so there is no need to worry too much for now."

After White Crow finished speaking, he turned around and prepared to study the blood that had just been drawn. Black Crow's voice came from behind him, "She asked us before-"

"Black Crow," White Crow suddenly turned his head and interrupted him, "The underground virus has reached its final stage. This is the biggest sin of her life, and nothing unexpected can happen."

Black Crow looked at him calmly, disapproving.

White Crow sighed, walked over, and patted his brother's shoulder, "If there really is such a person, he can come forward himself, but we cannot reveal his identity."

If the other person really was the one who gave Selena a second life with the "Light of God," then his position would be a big problem.

Black Crow clearly remembered the feud between "Divine Love" and Selena.

The leader of "Divine Love" was beheaded by her seven years ago.

But that leader was also her beloved uncle.

Now, with the uncertain status of that man's death, there is suddenly an unclear enemy or friend, whose identity and gender are unknown, and who is likely to have a close blood relationship with Selena and even had an impact on her physical condition.

Black Crow suddenly felt a lump in his chest. He was clearly only suitable to be a "weak" virus expert.

Such brain-burning and exhausting matters should be left to those cunning and malicious guys to solve.

Black Crow turned around and walked away.

White Crow looked at his brother's face, which was cold enough to freeze someone...

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1432 Why Is It Useless?

Chapter 1432 Why is it useless?

White Crow looked at his brother's face, which was so cold that it could freeze people to death, shook his head, and lowered it to study the blood in the tube.

The room was silent, and the air was filled with a strong smell of blood.

The man leaning on the sofa had his eyes closed quietly.

On his snow-white clothes were large, shocking bloodstains, like blooming roses.

That beautiful, almost surreal face was surrounded by those bright, ominous colors, giving off an indescribable and eerie feeling.

There was a slight movement outside the door.

The young man's eyelashes trembled, and he lifted his eyelids to reveal a pair of beautiful eyes that were deep, cold, and seemingly like a black hole in space.

He wiped the blood from his lips with a handkerchief, and his clear voice flowed out of his thin, elegant lips, "What happened?"

The person guarding outside didn't expect to disturb him, and couldn't hide it, panicking as he replied,

"Young Master, it's Miss, she's in trouble..."

The man's already cold eyes became even more mysterious and chilling.

He stood up from his seat and walked to the clothes rack, taking off his blood-stained coat to reveal his naked chest.

His body was as beautiful as his face, slender and straight, like the peak of artistic beauty.

But in the center of his chest, on his translucent skin, there was a grotesque scar that destroyed his once perfect and flawless appearance.

The snow-white clothes wrapped around his slender body, and the man turned around and walked out from behind the curtains, extremely noble and elegant.

His sharp gaze looked down, and his voice was cold and bone-chilling, "Speak!"

...

In the warm carriage, Lady Laurence gently wiped the bloodstains off Selena's body. Suddenly, a small whisper came from the quiet space.

Lady Laurence immediately looked up at the person lying on the bed.

Selena, who was in a daze, seemed to be having a nightmare, speaking anxiously with cold sweat on her forehead.

Lady Laurence leaned closer to listen carefully.

"It hurts..."

"Brother... run away..."

"Run away quickly..."

Brother?

Was it Patrick?

Lady Lauren remembered Selena's background and held her hand lovingly, soothingly saying, "Good girl, it's alright..."

Your brother is back with you and he's well now. He won't leave you again. Don't be afraid..."

This seemed to calm Selena down, and her complexion improved as she fell back into a deep sleep.

At the Riddle residence, a woman sat elegantly on a brightly colored sofa in a grand room, listening to someone on the phone reporting about the Soo family.

Like a witch awaiting the fruits of her victory, the woman didn't want to miss any juicy details, listening carefully to every word.

But when she heard about Osvaldo got drugged, Vivian being locked in a room, and Selena losing control and vomiting blood, the woman suddenly looked up and burst into insane laughter.

"Hahaha... Nevaeh! Nevaeh!! Did you see that?!"

"The pain that you didn't get to experience back then is now all being visited upon your daughter!"

"Having to witness your loved one cheating, being betrayed, ignored, and hurt... Your little slut is suffering to the point of vomiting blood..."

"This is what you owe me! Owe me!!"

"Nevaeh, Callum... Hahaha..."

The woman's crazed and piercing laughter sent shivers down the spine of the person on the other end of the phone.

When she finally finished laughing and venting her anger, she quieted down and smiled, saying in a graceful voice,

"Continue."

The person on the other end dared not hide anything and continued with what happened later.

But when the woman heard that Osvaldo may not have touched Vivian at all, and he didn't harm Selena, and even went to hug Selena the moment he came out, the smile on her face froze.

In that instant, her face contorted like an evil spirit, and she demanded, "What did you say?!"

The person on the other end didn't dare to panic and replied, "It's true. The young master of the Anderson family hugged

Miss Turner the moment he came out. He didn't have any trace of falling in love with Miss Shaw, nor did he harm Miss Turner. He didn't even touch that woman..."

The air became terribly still in that moment.

The woman's voice was cold and chilling, "Are you sure?"

"Sure," that person said, her breath becoming thin and sparse. "Mr. Anderson didn't have any special feelings towards Miss Shaw, he even almost strangled her..."

"Lady Lauren detained Miss Shaw until Mr. Anderson returned to deal with it, with the Turner family watching over it, even the Soo family couldn't intervene."

The woman's fair and delicate face convulsed heavily, unable to maintain her composure any longer.

Oswaldo didn't betray Selena, didn't fall in love with anyone else, and didn't harm her in the past...

He didn't even touch Vivian...

The woman's smug expression disappeared without a trace and turned into a crying-like expression.

She violently threw her phone against the wall, shattering it.

"Ah!!!" The woman crouched down, holding her head, tears flooding her face.

Jealousy and unwillingness surged overwhelmingly, tearing her apart.

Why didn't it work?!

It didn't work...

Hunter had just returned from the hospital and heard the crying, rushing in with a look of panic and worry.

"Manny,
what's wrong with you?"

Manny looked insane, grabbed him by the collar, and stared into his face. "Why didn't it work?! It couldn't have not worked..."

No one knew better than her what she had put in the pill for Vivian.

It was something she had spent more than ten years preparing specifically for Callum.

As long as that pill was in his system, she could control all of his emotions and desires, turning him into her puppet.

With just a small dose, he was already groveling at her feet.

Why didn't it work on Osvaldo?!

If it didn't work on Osvaldo, could it work on Callum?!

Hunter's face turned white, but he was like a doll that would never refuse or cry out in pain, always obediently asking,

"Manny, what didn't work? What's wrong with you?"

"Ah, ah, ah!!!" The woman stared at him, suddenly screamed, turned around and grabbed a teacup from the table, smashing it to the ground.

She screamed and cried, grabbing everything in the room and fiercely throwing it to the ground.

She hated it!

She hated it so much!!!

She threw everything that could be destroyed, including mirrors, vases, and lamps, to the ground.

The sound of smashing objects, along with hysterical crying and screaming, echoed through the brightly lit villa.

Chapter 1433 Clarification

Even though Lady Lauren had left, the atmosphere on the scene did not relax at all.

The guests who attended the engagement banquet looked at the standoff between the Turner family and the Soo family, realizing clearly that tonight's matter was absolutely impossible to be resolved peacefully.

Nicholas made a mistake by targeting Selena instead of anyone else, which thoroughly angered both the Anderson family and the Turner family. Everyone was curious as to what kind of price the Soo family would have to pay next.

While feeling tense, many people also had doubts.

Nicholas was not a foolish person, so why did he insist on working with someone like Vivian and using such despicable means to harm Miss Turner?

Others were unaware of the special nature of that medicine, thinking that both Nicholas and Vivian were courting death with this action. Especially since they not only destroyed the relationship between Osvaldo and Selena but also caused Selena to vomit blood, the anger of the Anderson family and the Turner family could be imagined.

In the huge Soo family, not a single person spoke. If Nicholas was full of anger and fury, Vivian was left with only fear in her heart and eyes.

She knew better than anyone else that once Osvaldo appeared, her lies would be exposed. What should she do?

Trembling, Vivian covered her head, tears streaming down her face. "Brother, come and save me..."

Now, all she could do was pray that Freddie would arrive soon, and that Osvaldo would spare her because of Freddie.

Unfortunately, her prayers were not heard.

When she saw the man returning from the darkness, Vivian was drenched in terror.

The man had a slender figure and a delicately handsome face with no expression. His deep black eyes were never before seen as eerie and sinister.

Everyone who saw him was like being cursed and stepped back one after another. Facing the crowd dodging like a tide, Vivian watched the man step by step towards her.

The image she had once hoped for countless times had now become the biggest nightmare of her life.

Thoughts flashed through her mind like a frenzy. "Run, run, run..."

She had just run a few steps, crawling and stumbling, when she saw a pair of feet in her lowered line of sight. Vivian shuddered as a chilling sensation crawled up her spine, and before she could blurt out any more words that confirmed their relationship, something equally cold pressed against her neck.

Vivian trembled violently, raising her head in panic to see what was pressing against her vulnerable spot. It was a knife!

Her pupils suddenly shrank, and every nerve in her body tensed up in an instant.

The next second, a woman's piercing scream echoed in the darkness.

"Ah-ah-ah-ah---!!!"

Fresh red blood, accompanied by fragments of white clothing, scattered from the woman.

"Hiss--"

The sound of gasping spread through the scene.

The young ladies who were slightly timid fainted on the spot when they witnessed this.

Although everyone had noticed Osvaldo's anger early on, no one expected him to refuse to let Vivian say a word.

Vivian was left with only her underclothes, a gory wound that extended from her neck to her abdomen, and she lay there like a dying fish, white-faced and paralyzed.

So everyone present saw clearly that except for a few marks on her neck, there was nothing on Vivian's body that indicated any kind of intimacy.

Blood foamed from Vivian's lips as she begged for mercy from the man's murderous eyes. "I shouldn't have lied or hurt

Selena..."

"I clarify that I have never touched you. It's all an act I put on myself..."

"Please spare me, I won't dare to do it again in the future..."

The darkness in Osvaldo's eyes grew more and more intense, as if it was about to overflow.

He was about to tear Vivian apart when a ghostly figure suddenly appeared beside him, handing him a surveillance footage. "Madam Laurence asked us to find this for you."

"She reminded us that if Madam Selena knew you killed her, she might be afraid."

Lady Lauren knew her son too well.

Even though Vivian deserved to die, she still hoped that her son wouldn't reveal his murderous intent in public.

It

wouldn't be good for him or Selena.

Nicholas saw the surveillance footage and a hint of fear crept onto his gloomy face. He intentionally left it in the room, just in case Osvaldo refused to admit what he had done.

Little did Vivian know that she was so incapable that she couldn't even seize such a great opportunity. What an idiot!

The man with black hair tilted his head slightly, his black eyes were so dark that they almost turned red. The surveillance footage was exposed to the public, and everyone could clearly see everything that happened in the room.

When Selena was banging on the door outside, Osvaldo was in a coma.

Vivian did have some crooked ideas, but all she got was being thrown out again and again.

All the sounds, from beginning to end, were all orchestrated by Vivian herself.

Even the marks on her neck were made by her own hands.

The dead silence spread in the air.

Everyone looked at Vivian with disbelief, feeling that this woman had gone insane.

Where did she get the confidence to believe that she could succeed in climbing up the ranks with just a few lies?

Especially after the door was opened, she was so eager to show off her behavior in front of Selena, which was extremely foolish.

This stupid and malicious woman was truly disgusting. Vivian felt countless disgust, disdain, and contemptuous gazes on her.

This surveillance footage exposed all of her ugliness and shame to the public.

However, at this moment, she had no energy to be angry or ashamed. She just wanted to escape...

Vivian begged for mercy and crawled out with a broken body, crying and convulsing.

Osvaldo stood still, watching Vivian crawling out step by step.

Just when everyone thought he had let Vivian go and was relieved, the man walked up to her and tore the wound on Vivian's neck with the tip of his knife.

Vivian's neck was like a broken blood vessel, spewing out crimson liquid in all directions.

After the ultimate silence, piercing screams echoed throughout the entire Soo family mansion.

Many young ladies fainted on the spot in fear.

Nicholas' face was extremely unpleasant.

The Turner family didn't change their facial expressions much.

Selena was carried out covered in blood, and as the mastermind, how could Vivian shed less blood than Selena?

If Osvaldo didn't deal with her, the Turner family would have.

Only Christ knew that Vivian could not leave here alive tonight.

There was no other reason.

Because Selena wanted Vivian dead.

She said she would kill Vivian.

Therefore, Vivian was doomed to die.

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1434 I Have A Beloved Girl

Chapter 1434 I Have a Beloved Girl

After Vivian's disposal, Osvaldo turned his head and fixed his cold gaze on Nicholas, who was trembling in fear.

Nicholas had thought that the joint forces of the Anderson family and the Turner family would only cause great harm to the Soo family, but he never expected that the man in black standing opposite him would announce with such coldness and determination, "From tomorrow on, there will be no more Soo family in the capital!"

Boom!

Nicholas' mind exploded with anger. "Osvaldo, the Soo family has stood tall in the capital for a hundred years, and how can you just make it disappear with a word?"

Vivian was going to die because the Shaw family was weak and had no one to support her. But what about him? What kind of retaliation would he face for his involvement?

The Soo family was an ancient and powerful clan with deep roots and a strong heritage. It was unthinkable that it would be destroyed overnight.

Oswaldo's expression remained unchanged. "You shouldn't have let my wife shed so much blood in the Soo family."

This place was stained with so much of Selena's blood that it had lost its right to exist.

Nicholas' face paled. "Miss Turner's illness has nothing to do with me. I didn't harm her!"

He had done nothing to Selena except for teaming up with Vivian and drugging Oswaldo. But everyone knew that Selena was Oswaldo's lover. By plotting against Oswaldo with Vivian, wasn't he harming Selena as well?

This sentence seemed to prick at an unspeakable point in Oswaldo. His eyes grew darker, and he struggled to restrain the rage that threatened to tear everyone involved into pieces. "The Soo family... ends here."

Nicholas' defense came to an abrupt end. After confirming that Oswaldo was truly going to take action against the Soo family, he shouted fiercely, "The Soo family has committed no crime. Even if you are the young master of the Anderson family, you have no right to attack the Soo family openly!"

"If Mr. Anderson insists on doing so, the Soo family doesn't mind suffering alongside the Anderson family!"

"No crime?" Oscar's indifferent voice came from the darkness. "Nicholas, do you know what this is?"

Nicholas heard Oscar's voice, and a wave of fear swept over him from the inside out.

Compared to Osvaldo, he was actually more afraid of Oscar.

After all, the Soo family and the Anderson family didn't have a big grudge except for Selena, but it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that the Turner family wouldn't rest until they destroyed them. With a grudge from twenty years ago and Oscar's means, once the Turner family retaliated against the Soo family, it would definitely not be a small matter.

Nicholas turned his head tremblingly and met Oscar's gaze on the thing he held in his hand.

It was a stack of arrest warrants stamped with seals.

There were too many to count at a glance, and the first one was his own name, densely recording all the sins he had committed throughout his life, including murder, tax evasion, smuggling antiques, and trafficking national treasures. Each one was enough to put him in prison for life.

Nicholas' calm demeanor was completely shattered.

How could Oscar have these things in his hands?!

As if he felt that he had not been stimulated enough,

Patrick sneered and took the things from Oscar's hand, flipping through them one by one to show Nicholas.

The names of one Soo family member after another jumped off the paper, each one clearly recording their sins.

At this moment, all the members of the Soo family present were ashen-faced.

Mrs. Soo looked at the arrest warrant with her name on it and stepped back, "How could this be..."

She had accidentally killed one of Mr. Soo's lovers in the past, but she had long since settled the matter.

Who had the ability to bring it back to light?

Not only were the members of the Soo family shocked, but also the people from other major families present.

Although every family had its own dirty secrets, it was extremely rare for a family like the Soo family to be so rotten inside.

For outsiders, this situation was unimaginable, but for the Soo family, it was too normal.

In Nicholas' view, only those who were beneficial to the Soo family had the right to control their power.

The Soo family members would do anything to climb the ladder of power, and those who were unwilling to abandon their conscience were long ago excluded.

This survival rule directly led to the fact that there was not a single clean person in the hands of the Soo family's ruling class.

Once this group of people was caught, it would be no surprise if the Soo family collapsed.

Nicholas stared fixedly at each familiar name and crime, his face changing from shock to distortion, to fear, and finally settling into a ferocious rage.

He turned around suddenly, his eyes blazing with fury as he fixed his gaze on a certain spot in the crowd behind him, and roared out, "Alfie!"

His shout, filled with endless resentment and anger, drew everyone's attention to the corner at the back of the crowd.

A classical-looking young man stood there quietly, his black eyes devoid of any emotion, facing Nicholas' fierce and ferocious face.

Mrs. Soo looked at Nicholas, then at Alfie, seeming to have realized something, and her lips trembled as she said, "Alfie, it's you... it's you..."

All of these things were the Soo family's secrets, even the Turner family's methods couldn't have possibly uncovered them all.

The only explanation was that the Soo family had a traitor, someone who knew all of their secrets, had the ability to investigate them, and could make both Nicholas and the entire Soo family let down their guard.

The only person who met these criteria was Alfie.

When Mrs. Soo realized this, she collapsed and roared in anger, "Alfie, I am your mother!!!"

Alfie met Mrs. Soo's resentful gaze, his face devoid of any joy or sadness, and simply said, "The girl you buried in the garden was only twenty years old when she died."

Mrs. Soo trembled with hatred as she stared at Alfie, "You are my son, yet you harm your own mother like this. Aren't you afraid of retribution?"

Alfie lowered his eyelashes, remaining silent.

Mrs. Soo cried out in despair.

At this moment, everyone else finally realized what had happened.

They all looked at Alfie with an incredulous gaze, as if they were looking at a madman.

How could such a absurd thing happen?

The Soo family's young master had personally invited the wolf into the house, and had helped the Turner family destroy their own family...

Alfie was the grandson of the family head, even if he did nothing, the position of future head of the Soo family would have fallen to him.

But this one person had destroyed the family that had raised and cultivated him, sending the vast majority of his relatives, including his own mother, to prison.

Why?!

This question echoed in the minds of everyone present as they glared at the Soo family with extreme hatred.

Alfie closed his eyes and said softly, "I had a beloved girl, but you... made me lose the right to have her."

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1435 I Don'T Like You

Chapter 1435 I Don't Like You

Since the Soo family betrayed the Turner family and stabbed them in the back, Alfie had lost his qualification to compete with Osvaldo for Selena.

Selena could be Osvaldo's wife, Christ's savior, but she would never be Alfie's fiancée.

As the crowd listened to this answer, they were shocked yet also not surprised.

Osvaldo offered his kingdom as a betrothal gift.

Christ cut off his own arm.

Alfie was even more ruthless, uprooting his entire family.

At this moment, the people didn't know whether to curse Selena as a bringer of misfortune, or to marvel at the sheer ruthlessness of these three men.

Nicholas was so angry that he was gasping for breath.

"Alfie--"

He lifted his cane and was about to rush over to hit Alfie, but was grabbed by the soldiers who had come out from behind Oscar.

At the same time, there were screams of terror coming from all over the Soo family mansion.

Nicholas knew full well that any blood relative of his who had ever been given a position of responsibility by him would not be able to escape.

The capture of these people was just proof of what Osvaldo had said earlier: From tomorrow on, there will be no more

Soo family in the capital!

Under the watchful eye of the Anderson family's secret guards, all of the Soo family's resistance was crushed without any use.

The power, glory, ambition, bloodline, and identity that he had sought after for his whole life were destroyed in an instant.

Nicholas' aged face was completely twisted, every inch of his expression steeped in resentment and regret.

"Alfie, I curse

you that you will never find love in this life!"

Alfie quietly watched as those blood relatives connected to him were taken away one by one. He met the twisted and resentful faces, his expression silently disappearing into the darkness.

He stood in the half-light and half-darkness, incredibly lonely, but also incredibly persistent.

No one spoke.

Until Nicholas and his group were all taken away.

Alfie finally emerged from the darkness. The vermilion between his eyebrows was so red that it was dazzling.

His voice was indistinguishable between being cold or gentle.

"The engagement banquet is cancelled. You may all leave."

Everyone looked at the outstanding man with mixed emotions, and upon hearing his words, those who reacted immediately turned and left.

Nicholas and all the leaders of the Soo family were arrested, and the Soo family was sure to fall from the ranks of the four major families. The capital would soon usher in another round of great cleansing. Tonight's excitement was just beginning.

Patrick looked at Alfie with complex eyes and lowered his head to Oscar, "Father, I'm going to check on Selena."

By the time the Turner family arrived, Selena had already been taken away by Osvaldo.

Patrick still didn't know how Selena was doing.

Oscar nodded, "Go ahead."

Patrick turned and left.

Oscar looked in a certain direction and said, "Let's go back."

The Soo family was in chaos, and the Turner family had to seize the opportunity to retrieve everything that had been taken away from them by the Soo family in the past.

Oscar led the Turner family to leave, leaving only Christ and Alfie behind.

Osvaldo was the first to leave.

He was concerned about Selena and immediately went to find her after witnessing the collapse of the Soo family.

However, his actions were too fast, and no one noticed him.

Therefore, no one heard Christ ask him a question with a sneer when he passed by Christ, "Do you really not know that the drink was poisoned?"

The three of them knew what was going on tonight. It was not so much that Nicholas and Vivian conspired against Osvaldo, but rather the result of the three men taking advantage of the situation.

Christ wanted to get Selena, Alfie wanted to destroy the Soo family with the help of the Turner family and the Anderson family, and break free from his puppet-like life.

How could Osvaldo not want to make Selena permanently hate them before his engagement banquet with her?

Everyone had their own purposes.

However, no one expected Selena to have an accident. If Selena had not had an accident and Osvaldo had not passed out abnormally, tonight's events would have taken a completely different course.

Osvaldo paid no attention, but his dark eyes became even darker, and his slender figure disappeared in the blink of an eye.

Both Osvaldo and Christ knew that the Anderson family and the Poole family couldn't afford to fight each other while the Soo family was still in a precarious position.

If they really took action, the entire situation in the capital would completely collapse.

The people from Zone Six couldn't let such a situation happen.

Oscar left with his people only after making sure that Osvaldo had left.

Looking at Christ who stayed behind, Alfie asked, "What else do you want to know?"

Christ stared at him coldly and asked, "She suddenly spit blood, was it the doing of the Soo family?"

Alfie replied confidently, "No."

Christ seemed to have confirmed something, looked at Alfie meaningfully, and walked away.

In an instant, the once bustling Soo family mansion became extremely quiet.

Alfie walked in a direction amidst the dead silence.

In the night breeze, a young man's voice sounded cold and emotionless, "I will send you back to D City. Don't come back to the capital again."

Aurelia, who was trembling behind a pillar, couldn't hold back her tears anymore. She ran out and cried to

Alfie's back with genuine feelings, "I don't care if you are the young master of the Soo family or not, I like you... I just want to marry you..."

She was still wearing the engagement dress she had chosen, the bright red color contrasting with the empty Soo family mansion, making it all the more ironic.

Alfie didn't even stop walking, "I'm sorry, I don't like you."

Aurelia burst into tears, crying hysterically in the pitch-black night.

The entire Soo family became extremely quiet.

The struggling ancient buildings that had been pushed to the ground exuded the vicissitudes and desolation that only a hundred-year-old family could have.

Black clothes silently dragged across the ground as the young man stepped elegantly into the withering flower platform.

He looked down at the pure white withering flower.

What Selena didn't know was that this flower platform, even this courtyard, had only been open to her tonight.

When he was young, he had heard that her father had planted the most beautiful rose garden in the world for her mother.

So he personally planted this withering flower for the girl who was destined to belong to him from the moment she was born.

He imagined that she would be as white, beautiful, and dazzling as he had imagined, and that all the beauty would belong to him alone.

In fact, she was indeed white, beautiful, and dazzling.

Only... she didn't belong to him.

Alfie's slender fingers brushed over the remaining petals, his eyes becoming extremely gentle.

This year's withering flower, she had seen it with him.

Finally... it didn't disappoint him, the only time in over ten years that the flowers bloomed.

A child's cry came from outside the courtyard.

Alfie took one last look and turned to leave.

Chapter 1436 I Can't Let Her Leave Me

Lady Lauren sat by Selena's bedside, and suddenly heard familiar footsteps behind her.

She turned around and saw Osvaldo.

He was looking at Selena, his gaze unwavering.

Lady Lauren had learned about what happened to the Soo family through her dark guards. Osvaldo had avenged Selena using the Soo family's century-old heritage and Vivian's life.

Since he declared the downfall of the Soo family, the Anderson family had unleashed its full power and was determined to swallow up the entire Soo family.

Tonight, the capital was destined to be in turmoil.

Lady Lauren stood up and walked over to Osvaldo, helping him straighten his collar. She spoke softly,

"Selena is fine. The two doctors said she won't wake up until tomorrow at the latest. I will watch over her. Why don't you go rest?"

Osvaldo had been shot and had undergone surgery without anesthesia. If it were anyone else, they would have already collapsed. His deep, black eyes grew dimmer, and his first reaction was to refuse. "I can't let her leave me..."

"Selena won't leave you," Lady Lauren said with sadness and tenderness. "She's just tired and needs rest. When she wakes up, she'll forgive you."

Lady Lauren trusted her son's judgment.

She also believed that she wouldn't misjudge people.

Although Osvaldo's punishment of Vivian was too cruel for a normal person to bear, Selena wouldn't be one of them.

As for what happened tonight, Osvaldo would have to explain it to Selena himself.

She knew that Osvaldo wouldn't want Selena to be hurt for no reason, and there must be some things that were unknown to others.

Oswaldo didn't want Selena to leave his sight, and Lady Lauren couldn't help but call Benjamin. Benjamin came to the scene in person and forced people to take Oswaldo away.

The Riddle's building.

Leon received the news about the Soo family as soon as it happened. When he hung up the phone, he rubbed his forehead wearily, "Another one..."

It had only been a few days, and the Soo family had followed in the footsteps of the Shaw family.

Apart from the Anderson family, the other major families were not peaceful. The whole capital was in chaos, and the smaller families were trembling in fear, as if they were walking on thin ice.

And for those ambitious noble families, such changes are rare and extraordinary opportunities.

Leon was not surprised by the downfall of the Soo family, as he had known Alfie since childhood. If Alfie had really followed Nicholas' arrangement and got engaged to Aurelia, Leon would have found it strange instead.

What really shocked him was Selena suddenly spitting blood.

Many people in the capital wanted to harm Selena, but with the protection of the Anderson family and the Turner family, who had the ability to really hurt her?

The incident in which Osvaldo was nearly plotted against also shook Leon to the core.

No one knows what is really going on with the young master of the Anderson family, but the heirs of several major noble families have heard something.

Ordinary medicine couldn't do anything to him.

Nicholas must know this fact, yet he still chose to join forces with Vivian.

There is only one explanation: he and Vivian are both confident that the medicine will make Osvaldo give up Selena and choose Vivian.

Something flashed through Leon's mind as he pondered the matter.

He had a hunch that tonight's events were related to the woman hiding in their Riddle family...

While he was thinking, there was a panicked knocking at the door.

"Brother! Brother!"

Leon frowned and opened the door, seeing Hattie standing there in a panic. She looked up at him and said, "Brother, they said Selena is spitting blood and unconscious, is it true?"

Leon took his sister inside and touched her icy cheek, saying, "She's fine."

If Selena really had something wrong, Osvaldo wouldn't have left her to retaliate against the Soo family and Vivian.

But this explanation did not comfort Hattie.

She sat on the sofa, extremely frightened but with a glimmer of hatred in her eyes. "It's her who's hurting Selena, it must be her..."

Except for Nicholas, the people of the major noble families, even if they were to choose a partner for cooperation, would never choose someone like Vivian.

The only person who would resort to such means to disgust people was that woman.

Suddenly, Hattie looked up and said coldly, "I must kill her!"

As long as that woman is not dead, she will stop at nothing to harm Selena.

Leon looked at his sister's eyes, filled with bone-deep hatred, and his brows furrowed. He patted her shoulder.

If this had happened before, Hattie would have long since gone to kill Manny upon hearing that Selena was in trouble.

But at this moment, she was sitting here quietly, neither rushing to disturb Selena nor going to kill Manny.

It's not that she doesn't hate, but she's learned to endure.

Within the Riddle family, there is a split between two factions. Lately, they have been fighting to the death, and if they act impulsively, they could give their enemies an opportunity to strike.

This is the lesson that Leon has been teaching she recently. If she had known how to be patient, she wouldn't have fallen into Manny's trap, been sent to juvenile detention, or developed mental illness. Manny wouldn't have had a chance to enter the Riddle family openly.

Leon hugged his sister and said, "Once she wakes up, I'll take you to see her."

Her mother had died, and her father was worse than dead.

Selena and Leon were the only family she had left. Now, with Leon trapped, Selena unconscious and bleeding, and Hattie's panic and fear, it's easy to imagine the situation.

At the same time, in the capital university, Joanna walked out of the lab wearing a white dress. She stood in the cold wind of the night and smoked a cigarette quietly. Then she threw the cigarette butt on the ground and crushed it with her high heels, before getting into a car parked by the road.

In the darkness, her smile was alluring and mysterious.
"To invite me over... there is a price to pay."

The driver laughed and spoke respectfully, "Master mean no harm, miss."

Joanna sneered, "Let's go."

The car sped away from the university an hour later and stopped in front of a mansion.

A servant approached and opened the car door.

Joanna walked into the luxurious living room with grace, holding a cigarette between her fingers. She glanced at the person sitting on the sofa and asked, "Where's my disciple?"

Cassius approached with gentlemanly manners and lit her cigarette with a lighter. "Joanna, don't worry. Your obedient disciple is safe and sound."

Joanna exhaled the smoke. "Cut the crap and hand her over."

Cassius looked at Joanna with a hint of regret in his eyes and spoke casually, "I never planned to do anything to her, but my people found something interesting while fighting your disciple..."

Joanna lifted her eyes, and the smoke blurred her expression...

Chapter 1437 Unexpected Events

Joanna raised her eyes, the smoke blurring her expression. She vaguely felt a cold light flicker in the woman's eyes. "Oh?"

Cassius smiled, his lips curling. "I have a subordinate who found that she resembles someone he once had a brief encounter with. If that child hadn't died back then, she would be about this age now."

Joanna stared at Cassius, a dangerous emotion gradually rising in her eyes.

"Joanna, there's no need to be angry," Cassius said calmly, rubbing a dark gold cuff on his wrist. "I won't harm an innocent girl."

"What exactly do you want to say?" Joanna asked coldly.

Cassius spoke in a gentle tone, but his eyes were inscrutable. "If that boy knew you had placed such a dangerous person next to him, what would he do?"

Joanna's smile was extremely cold. "Did you call me here just to cause trouble for your own nephew?"

Cassius smiled and gestured with his hand. "You can take her now if you want."

Joanna ran her slender fingers through her hair and followed the servant to a room where Leia was being held.

Leia saw Joanna and immediately rushed over happily.
"Master!"

Joanna checked on her apprentice and saw that she was unharmed. Her expression improved.

She tapped Leia's forehead with her finger. "Let's go."

Leia followed her, her expression wary, as they walked out of the heavily guarded estate.

Cassius stood in front of the hall and watched as the master and apprentice left. A faint mocking smile appeared on his lips. "Interesting..."

...

Leia followed Joanna into the car. As soon as she realized they were out of danger, she became anxious.

"Master, did something happen to Madam Selena?"

After she handed Osvaldo the drink, she began to feel that something was amiss. When she went back to retrieve the drink, Cassius' men blocked her way and brought her here.

Those people only took her away and didn't do anything to her, so their target must be Selena.

Leia had been worrying about Selena for the two hours she was held captive.

Joanna drove the car without any change in her voice.

"Nothing major, just a failed relationship that made her cough up some blood."

Leia's eyes turned red with anxiety and guilt. "It's all my fault..."

A piercing sound rang out--

The speeding car suddenly came to a stop, the tires screeching against the ground, making a piercing sound.

Leia was caught off guard and bumped her head against the car seat. She didn't even have time to attend to the pain and looked up at the front seat, "Master?"

Joanna remained silent.

There was a chilling coldness lingering in the air.

Leia was scared and rubbed her arm, her voice unconsciously softening as she asked, "Master, what's wrong with you?"

In the darkness, a woman's voice sounded extremely cold, "You don't need to apologize to her."

Leia widened her eyes.

In the darkness, she couldn't see Joanna's expression, but she could feel a kind of chilling coldness. "She owes you..."

Leia didn't understand, but she vaguely sensed that her master's emotions were not quite right. She leaned forward and asked softly, "Master?"

The sound of the girl's soft and puzzled voice stunned Joanna.

She looked at the innocent and clever face that had come close to her. After a few seconds, her expression returned to her usual charm and laziness.

Joanna restarted the car, "I said you don't need to feel sorry for your Madam Selena. It's your young master who's to blame. At most, you can just consider it as an oversight."

Leia saw that her master was fine and sat back in her seat, holding her chin in her hands, looking worried, but she didn't forget to speak up for her grandfather, "Master, you're wrong. Young Master would rather hurt himself than harm Madam

Selena..."

Joanna snorted and asked about something else, "Did anyone from Cassius say anything strange to you?"

Leia thought carefully and shook her head, "No, they seemed to have caught me on a whim and then just threw me aside, and then you came."

Joanna's tone seemed to relax, "Madam Selena is in the hospital now. If that man wants to punish you, tell me."

Leia sensed that Joanna didn't seem to want to talk about Selena. She couldn't help but speak out her concerns about

Selena and her master, "Master, do you not like Madam Selena?"

As soon as the words were spoken, Leia immediately denied them.

She remembered that when the young master asked her to take care of Madam Selena, Joanna seemed very happy and even told her to protect Madam Selena. There was no reason for her to stop liking her now, especially since Madam

Selena was such a good and beautiful person...

Joanna glanced at her disciple's expression through the rearview mirror, but didn't answer the question. She drove directly to the villa with Leia.

Before getting out of the car, Joanna said to Leia, "If you encounter danger again next time, come back to my side."

Her disciple was not raised to be a bodyguard to protect Selena from the executioner who had nearly killed Joanna.

Leia thought Joanna was dissatisfied with her skills and not qualified to protect Selena. Her eyes turned red in disappointment as she said, "I understand, Master..."

Joanna patted her furry head and said, "Go inside."

"Goodbye, Master." Leia waved her hand and turned to skip back to the villa.

Behind her, Joanna watched her leave and lit another cigarette, taking a deep drag. "Callum, you fucking..."

If she had known that the other person was not Callum's real daughter and still had that identity, she would never have sent Leia to her.

...

Selena was sent back to the villa in a coma, which made the butler and a group of servants relieved. After Lady Lauren learned about Leia's disappearance, everyone became extremely depressed.

Therefore, when they suddenly saw she running back from outside, everyone in the villa immediately breathed a sigh of relief. They rushed over to check if she was injured and notified others in the villa.

"Butler, I am back!"

While Leia was being surrounded and checked by a group of maids, Lady Lauren walked out of Selena's room.

Leia ran over with teary eyes, "Madam Laurence, how is Madam Selena?"

Leia was raised by Lady Lauren, almost like her own daughter. Seeing she come back unharmed, Lady Lauren was immediately relieved. "Selena is fine, she will wake up tomorrow."

Leia blinked and lowered her head.

Lady Lauren knew she was blaming herself...

Lady Lauren knew she was blaming herself and comforted her, "When Selena wakes up, remember to apologize to her."

Leia sniffled and walked upstairs to check on Selena.

Selena woke up the next day at noon.

Lady Lauren was by her side and helped her sit up as soon as she opened her eyes. "How are you, Selena?

Do you feel

any discomfort anywhere?"

Selena raised her hand to touch her chest.

The pain that had threatened to tear her apart before had disappeared, as if it had never existed.

But Selena didn't feel happy about it. Instead, there was an indescribable sense of loss.

She rubbed her forehead and said, "Thank you, Madam. I'm fine."

Lady Lauren looked at Selena's listless expression, wanted to say something, but swallowed it back and stood up. "You've slept for a day. I'll go get you something to eat."

After Lady Lauren left, Selena picked up her phone from the table and dialed Black Crow and White Crow's number.

Shortly after, Black Crow and White Crow walked in one after the other.

Selena had already changed into clothes and was sitting on the sofa by the floor-to-ceiling window. She didn't turn around when she heard the commotion and only asked, "What's wrong with me?"

Although Selena was not in good health, she didn't have any serious illnesses. If she were still the Miss Riddle of the Riddle family, the pain from last night would have been enough to take her life.

Black Crow glanced at White Crow.

White Crow told the truth, "We can't figure out the cause for now."

Selena picked up a strand of hair beside her cheek with her slender fingers and spoke in a tone that didn't reveal any emotions. "So, does that mean I might have the same situation in the future?"

White Crow's answer was even more concise, "Maybe."

There was silence for a while.

After a long time, Selena asked again, "If you can't find the cause, you must have a guess in your hearts, right?"

White Crow was about to speak when Selena suddenly turned around and stared sharply at Black Crow's face.

"Black

Crow, you tell me."

Black Crow hesitated for a moment before saying, "... Maybe the 'Divine Love' organization has come up with some new harmful tricks again."

This was the phrase White Crow had taught him before they entered.

Selena's eyelashes trembled, and it was unclear if she believed him or not. "Why do you say that?"

Black Crow replied, "... Last night, not only were you affected, but your man was affected even worse than you."

Selena lowered her eyelashes and after a moment said, "I understand, you guys can go back to what you were doing."

Black Crow and White Crow exchanged a glance and both saw the shock in each other's eyes.

They had talked this far, but Selena hadn't asked about Osvaldo's situation... Was she planning to break up with him?

Black Crow and White Crow had no intention of interfering with Selena's personal love life.

If Selena liked Osvaldo, then they approved of him.

Of course, if Selena decided to go back to Stanley, they would be even happier.

After making sure the young girl was not seriously injured, Black Crow and White Crow returned to the Capital University laboratory.

They were at the final stages of the underground virus vaccine, and if it wasn't Selena who was in trouble, no one could make them leave.

A few minutes after Black Crow and White Crow left, Lady Lauren walked in with a tray in her hands.

On the tray was a bowl of fragrant and thick porridge and a few appetizers.

Selena watched as Lady Lauren put the things on the table and said, "Thank you, Madam."

Lady Lauren looked at the melancholy expression on the girl's face and sighed softly.

As a woman and an experienced one at that, she could probably guess what Selena was thinking at the moment.

A nineteen-year-old girl, experiencing love for the first time and being so loved by Osvaldo, made her taste the best of love.

However, the bitterness of love was also experienced for the first time, and Selena couldn't help feeling lost and confused.

She did care about Osvaldo, but she didn't know how to face him.

Lady Lauren looked at Selena, hesitated for a moment, and then said, "Selena, my son... has been tasting drugs since he was a child."

Selena looked up in shock, as if she hadn't understood the meaning of Lady Lauren's words.

Lady Lauren's eyes were filled with bitterness, and her tone was tinged with a hint of heartache. "Osvaldo was always a child who was different from normal children. When other children were still cuddling with their mothers and being cute, he had already learned to be independent. When I wanted to hold him, he would get upset."

"When other children fell and got hurt or sick, they would cry and make a fuss, but he wouldn't. Except for when he was born and cried once, he never cried again from childhood to adulthood."

"Other children would have toys they wanted, hobbies, people they wanted to be close to, and they would get angry when they were unhappy and laugh when they were happy, but he wouldn't..."

"I took him to see a psychologist, and the doctor said my son isn't sick, he's just like that by nature."

With a high IQ, exceptional talent, mental resilience, both parents, and a strong background... he was born at the top of the human pyramid and passed with flying colors. That's what those psychologists said about Osvaldo during his childhood.

Lady Lauren still remembers the stunning yet pitying look those people gave when they said those words. He was too perfect, to the point where he couldn't be happy or sad, didn't feel love or hate, didn't even know how to cry or laugh, let alone the desires and emotions that normal people have.

He lived like a machine, following a set pattern. Nothing and nobody could truly move his emotions, he didn't even know why he was alive...

At this point, Lady Lauren's eyes turned red. Selena listened intently, feeling a touch of emotion in her heart.

Lady Lauren continued speaking, her expression unclear whether she was happy or scared, "But things changed when he was twelve."

She looked into Selena's eyes, her tone extremely gentle, "The year when he turned twelve, he experienced a kidnapping."

"Although he was rescued later, until now, his father and I still don't know what he went through during that kidnapping."

"I asked him, but he only said it was nothing."

"But since then, my son has changed," Lady Lauren's eyes revealed a hint of joy, "Although it was a very small change, it was enough."

"He learned to daydream. Whenever he was alone, he would always be lost in thought, as if missing someone. Occasionally, he would unconsciously search for something..."

"On his twelfth birthday, he spoke for the first time to my husband, asking for a birthday gift."

A child who had never asked anyone for anything suddenly spoke out... what did he want?

Selena widened her eyes slightly, her heart beating inexplicably unbalanced.

At this moment, Lady Lauren's expression was indescribable, with a layer of something like joy and sadness in her eyes,

"He asked for..."

Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth by Olivia Marsh Chapter 1439 Fate

Chapter 1439 Fate

"He asked for a knife."

A knife?

Selena was shocked.

Knives were sharp weapons, both for killing and for guarding.

What was Osvaldo's knife used for?

Lady Laurence looked at Selena and smiled gently, "At first I wasn't sure what he picked up that knife for, until he met you."

"I understood the meaning of my son taking the knife from the way he looked at you."

"He should have had someone he wanted to guard, though he probably didn't understand it, at that time."

Selena shook his head, "Madam, I didn't know Osvaldo before."

When Osvaldo was twelve years old, she was only five years old.

Never having been to H Country before.

Not to mention meeting Osvaldo.

The only teenage boy she had seen when she was five was the one she had met in the mercenary den.

But that teenager, at the moment, was sitting on the largest dark empire in the Union, cruel and bloodthirsty, an existence that even the Empire was afraid of.

Lady Laurence smiled, "Selena, do you believe in the existence of destiny in this world?"

"Do you believe that in this world, there is that one man who, even though he may not know of your existence, will still strive to have you."

"He is destined to meet you, to fall in love with you, and then, to keep you."

Selena was bewildered.

She had been emotionally frustrated for the first time, and this was the moment when she was at her most bewildered, she seem to understand Lady Laurence's words, yet seemed to not understand.

Lady Laurence met Selena's blank eyes and soothed her with a soft voice, "It doesn't matter if you don't understand now, in the future, you will understand."

Knowing that Osvaldo was not good at explaining himself, Lady Laurence simply spoke up, "Last night, the reason why Osvaldo did not appear in front of you at that time was because he had been drugged."

"My son has tasted a few poisons every year since he was twelve, and after he has contracted them, he then quits, and over the years, his body has long since developed a strong resistance to them."

"It's hard for ordinary medicine to have affect on him, but last night, there was something special about the medicine he drank that put him in a perverse coma."

"I'm telling you all this not to make you forgive him."

"It's true that Osvaldo was wrong this time. It doesn't matter how you punish him if you're angry with him."

"But I'm begging you, don't easily say that you're leaving him or don't need him."

This is not only for Osvaldo's sake, but also for Selena's sake.

Selena lowered her eyelashes, and her somewhat pale face showed no emotions.

Lady Lauren looked at her quiet expression and knew that Selena needed some alone time to think. She stood up and said, "Rest well, I'll come see you tomorrow, my dear daughter-in-law."

After Lady Lauren left, Selena sat in front of the table for a long time, and finally took out her phone and made a call.

Black Crow, who was on his way to the Capital University, looked at the flashing screen and frowned. White Crow saw that his brother wasn't answering the phone, and laughed, "Just answer it, honesty is the best policy."

Selena is a person who never forgets her priorities. This call can only be to ask about that man.

Thinking of what was found in the blood taken from Osvaldo last night-

A hint of despair flashed through White Crow's eyes. Black Crow pressed the answer button, and Selena's quiet voice came through, "How is he doing?"

Black Crow frowned, displeased, "You're planning to forgive him so soon?"

Really Not Want To See Me Like This?

Chapter 1440 Do you really not want to see me like this?

Selena remained silent.

Black Crow sneered, "What a disappointment."

Selena rubbed her forehead with her slender fingers and asked, "Is he in danger?"

She hadn't forgotten that Osvaldo had been shot after she passed out.

"He's not hurt too badly, so he won't die," Black Crow replied.

Selena's fingers froze, and her dark eyes stared out of the window at the garden for a long time without saying a word.

After waiting for a while and not hearing the sound of the call being hung up, Black Crow added, "The medicine is quite special, so I need to study it a bit more. I'll give you an answer in a while."

Selena lowered her eyelids and said before hanging up, "Make sure he's okay."

After hanging up, Selena sat in the quiet room with her legs hugged to her chest, staring blankly at the green plants outside the window.

After an unknown amount of time, the door was gently pushed open from the outside.

Leia walked in and crouched behind Selena. She twisted her skirt nervously and whispered, "Madam Selena..."

Selena turned her head and smiled at the young girl. "It's okay."

Leia didn't show up last night during the incident, which was unusual. She didn't have time to think about it at the time, but it was clear now that something must have happened to the girl.

Leia crouched in front of Selena and said, tears welling up in her eyes, "Madam Selena, it's all my fault. If I hadn't brought that drink to the young master and told him that you made it, he wouldn't have been tricked..."

Given Osvaldo's character, even if he had suspected that the drink was tainted, adding the fact that Selena had made it for him would be enough to make him take the risk.

How could he miss the chance to try something his wife had made for him?

Even if there was only a one percent chance of it being true, he wouldn't easily let it go.

Selena looked at Leia's self-blaming expression, blinked, and reached out to pat her hair. "What happened last night was not just your fault. It was my fault too, and Osvaldo's fault too..."

It couldn't just be blamed on one person.

Leia had made a mistake, but Selena had also lost her cool completely.

If she had even half of her usual rationality, she wouldn't have lost control to that extent.

Is it because... she cares too much about that man?

At the mere thought of him possibly getting into trouble, belonging to another woman, or losing him... all her calm and rationality disappear.

Leia looked at Selena's misty eyes and her nose felt sour. She took out the surveillance footage she had been holding in her hand and said, "Madam Selena, you have to believe the young master, he really didn't do anything wrong to you."

"The young master has experienced countless dangers since he was young. Even if he is unconscious, he would not allow strangers to approach him."

This is an instinct honed in countless life-threatening situations.

If Osvaldo were really that easy to be taken advantage of, he wouldn't have survived until today.

Selena's gaze fell on the surveillance footage, but she didn't move.

Leia looked at Selena's pale brows and eyes, and sniffled.

The Selena she knew was always beautiful, confident, dignified and powerful. It was the first time she had seen her look so pale and weak.

The young master must regret and feel distressed when he sees this...

Leia placed the surveillance footage on the table and looked at the untouched porridge on the table, worrying, "Madam Selena, don't you want to eat this? I'll go find the chef and have him make it again..."

Selena smiled and touched her hair, "No, I just got injured last night and my body hasn't fully recovered yet, but I'll be fine soon."

After Selena finished speaking, she picked up the spoon on the table and lowered her head to drink the porridge.

Oswaldo was not mentioned throughout the whole conversation.

Leia looked at Selena, her face full of conflicting emotions, but in the end, she didn't say anything and quietly snuggled up next to Selena.

They stayed like that for the entire afternoon.

In the evening, Selena finally walked out of the room.

As soon as she moved, everyone in the villa followed suit.

Seeing Selena walking down the stairs, the old butler hurriedly asked, "Madam Selena, why did you come out?"

"Go back and rest well. If you need anything, tell Leia, we'll prepare it right away."

Selena wore a black windbreaker, her beautiful hair trailing behind her. Other than her overly pale complexion, there was nothing out of the ordinary. "Noah, I'm fine. I just want to go out for a walk."

The butler looked at her with concern, "But it's getting dark, and it's going to rain soon..."

Selena walked to the umbrella stand and stared at the rainbow umbrella Osvaldo had specially prepared for her for a long time. Finally, she raised her hand and picked up a black umbrella beside it.

She opened the umbrella, and her slender figure walked out the door, leaving only one sentence behind, "I won't go too far, I'll be back soon."

Leia watched Selena's figure disappear from her sight, and subconsciously wanted to follow her, but then remembered Selena's earlier words forbidding her from doing so. She was extremely conflicted.

In the end, she still dared not anger Selena at this time. She remembered that neither the Anderson family nor the Turner family would allow Selena to be outside alone at night. So she could only anxiously wait in the hall.

Selena held an umbrella and stepped onto the sidewalk under the dim streetlights.

She lowered her head and pondered where the problem with her Osvaldo came from and how to solve it.

She had ignored him for a long time, but she couldn't keep doing that.

These past few days felt like years to her.

Osvaldo hadn't shown up in front of her, but that didn't mean he wouldn't show up. But to forgive him... she couldn't bring herself to do it.

Selena took a few steps forward, and suddenly felt a strange sensation in her heart, as if someone was following her closely.

Her eyes turned cold, and she instinctively touched the gun on her body.

She regretted running out alone at night.

The pain of her first "breakup" had clouded her judgment, and she had forgotten how many people in the capital wanted her dead.

Running out alone like this was not a wise move, and she would never do something so stupid in her normal state.

Selena reflected on this in her heart, but her face showed no trace of emotion.

She tightened the gun in her hand, turned around to look behind her, and suddenly froze.

The rainy night was hazy, and under the dim streetlights, a slender figure held a rainbow umbrella and stood silently at a distance from her.

He lowered his head, and half of his face was hidden in the shadows, giving off an eerie aura that made people shudder.

Selena couldn't describe the shock she felt when she saw him.

Her long eyelashes trembled, and she suppressed her emotions as she looked at him carefully.

Oswaldo came over silently and enveloped her in his aura. "It's raining," he said.

Selena's gaze fell on the rainbow umbrella in his hand.

So he came specifically to give her the umbrella?

She murmured, "I have an umbrella..."

Oswaldo's gaze darkened for a moment, and he lowered his black butterfly-like eyelashes, looking disappointed. "Do you really not want to see me?"
