Chapter 1451 Their Promise

Chapter 1451 Their Promise After all, as the first aristocrat of the Federation Empire and the ruler of the entire Federation, the complexity of the relationships within the Riddle family was beyond the imagination of outsiders.

The fact that both he and Selena shared the same surname, coupled with that person's attitude towards Selena and Selena's unconscious thoughts, indicated that he was unlikely to be an enemy.

Selena looked at Osvaldo in surprise. "Aren't you angry?" She thought Osvaldo would be angry, after all, she couldn't bring herself to encourage him to go find another woman.

Osvaldo locked eyes with her, his voice devoid of any emotional fluctuations but filled with tenderness. "If it makes you happy, then it's fine." He couldn't possibly become his love rival.

So, Osvaldo didn't mind being generous on occasion.

Mainly because Selena had only seen that person once, and yet she was already so worried about him. The more he tried to stop her, the more she would think about him, and the more unhappy she would become.

It wasn't conducive to the recovery of her recently injured body.

Selena's lips curled up slightly as she leaned on Osvaldo's shoulder and said, "I don't plan on going to find that big brother right now." Although Ace of Hearts didn't explicitly say it, Selena could tell that he didn't want her to look for him. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She could feel the concern and kindness that the big brother had towards her.

Although she had only met him once, Selena was sure that he liked her very much.

But in the situation where he liked her so much, yet didn't want her to approach him further, there must be something she didn't know about.

If she were to rashly approach him, it would likely cause him trouble.

"If he's really the person I think he is, then I'll definitely have the chance to see him again," Selena's eyes were filled with anticipation and warmth, her eyes curved. "The next time I see him, I'll know his name." That was their promise.

Osvaldo looked at Selena, her eyes filled with longing, and after a moment of silence, he suddenly asked, "Do You have any other siblings?" Selena turned her head to look at him, not knowing why Osvaldo suddenly asked such a question, but still answered, "No. My father and mother only had me as their daughter." As if she had remembered something, a bone-chilling coldness flashed in her eyes. "But I do have a cousin, my aunt's daughter, who's two years older than me." The Riddle family's main line only had two daughters in this generation.

If not, she wouldn't have been promoted at the age of five while her other siblings, who were not in the direct line of succession, had to align themselves with other factions in order to gain any power.

After her "martyrdom," everyone knew who would inherit the throne.

Selena's eyes turned icy and she clenched her fingers in anger.

Osvaldo saw her expression and immediately dispelled a thought.

He had not told Selena the person's name, but had told him instead, obviously not wanting Selena to know his name.

The reason he had told him was probably to avoid any unnecessary trouble caused by misunderstandings.

As for the cousin Selena had mentioned, a hint of resentment flashed through Osvaldo's eyes.

He gently held Selena and looked at her lovingly, "You will definitely get what you want." Selena's eyes lit up, "Yes, I believe my big brother has his reasons for avoiding me. Once things are settled, I will be able to see him." If all else failed, she could use the strategy.

After all, if the person who had given her a second life with the "Light of God" was really that person, he would not be able to bear to see her hurt.

What Selena feared most was not knowing who the other person was.

Now that someone had finally appeared who made her feel so warm and familiar, her excitement and hope could be imagined.

No matter what the other person's motives were, she would eliminate all obstacles.

Her enemies were none other than those few people.

A glint appeared in Selena's eyes, "As long as I completely eliminate all the obstacles, he will have no reservations and I will naturally be able to see him." At this moment, Selena was filled with hope.

Oswaldo looked at his girl and his eyes grew dim.

The sudden appearance of this person had not only resolved Selena's doubts, but had also given her back her edge and confidence.

Even if that person was her relative...

He hugged Selena tightly without leaving any gaps.

The internal struggles within the Riddle family had been going on for half a month, gradually intensifying. Especially after the downfall of the Soo family, the situation in the capital had become even more chaotic, with more forces getting involved.

Leon is the legitimate heir of the Riddle family and has exceptional means, while Manny has been preparing for twenty years and is coming on strong. Both sides have their own gains and losses in the conflict.

Manny was taken away by the people behind her, but after running back with serious injuries, Leon originally thought that the other side would calm down for two days, but he did not expect them to become even more aggressive.

She returned to the Riddle family, not even taking care of her injuries, and crazily nibbled away at the Riddle family's power.

She even didn't hesitate to die with the Riddle family.

She handed over countless industries under the Riddle's name to the Riddle family's opponent. If she couldn't grab them, she would destroy them directly. The things she grabbed were thrown out ... For a while, the large Riddle family was torn apart by her, and the stock price plummeted several times, showing a trend of disintegration.

Even the industry's economy was greatly affected by this.

Manny was crazily destroying everything of the Riddle family, but Leon had to consider the foundation of the Riddle family.

In this struggle, he fell behind.

Three days later, Manny appeared publicly as the mistress of the Riddle family, announcing that the Riddle family will hold a board meeting to re-establish a new heir.

Selena heard this news from Leia.

Due to her previous unexplained blood vomiting, she was ordered to stay at home to recuperate. Today, after confirming with Selena many times, Leia dared to tell Selena about this matter.

After all, it involved Hattie, and Leia was afraid that Selena would be angry afterwards if she didn't tell her.

Selena was lying on a lounge chair, holding a furry toy in her arms. After listening to Leia, she opened her eyes.

Those dark and clear eyes were shining.

She sat up.

Leia looked at Selena with worry and said, "I don't know if Miss Hattie can handle such pressure..." It's easy to imagine that once Manny successfully controls the Riddle family, the fate of Leon and Hattie will definitely not be good.

Especially Hattie, Manny will definitely not let her go to revenge Selena.

Selena smiled without warmth, "The Riddle family is on the verge of collapse because of that woman. What is Maddox doing?" Leia frowned and said the information she had received, "Maddox has never appeared. People outside are suspecting that he is being held captive by that woman..." After all, even if Maddox is unreliable, he cannot just watch a woman destroy the entire foundation of the Riddle family, right?

Chapter 1452 Why Should I Care About The Riddle Family?

Chapter 1452 Why Should I Care About the Riddle family? Selena remained silent and didn't speak.

Leia carefully observed her mistress' expression and asked, "Madam Selena, do you think there's something going on?" Selena rubbed the cat in her arms and said, "Don't you think something is off with the Riddle family?" She had suspicions about this a long time ago.

She just didn't like the people in the Riddle family and didn't bother paying too much attention to them. But now that things had developed to this point, she didn't mind getting involved, even if it was just to cause trouble for Manny.

Because of Selena's relationship with Hattie, Leia had no good feelings towards the Riddle family. When she heard Selena's words, she blinked and said, "Those two old folks from the Riddle family weren't good people twenty years ago. Isn't it normal for them to be worse now?" Selena smiled wryly and said, "I believe that Daphne would sacrifice the entire Riddle family and all of her grandchildren for those two women. After all, she never did anything good for Nevaeh and me." "But Maddox is still surnamed Riddle. Even if he values those two imposters, he can't be so foolish as to let them destroy the Riddle family. No normal person would do such a nonsensical thing..." Leia asked in confusion, "Isn't it that woman who has imprisoned Maddox and threatened him?" Selena rubbed Leia's head and said, "I don't think so. Maddox would not be ignorant of the fact that Manny's crazy actions would ruin the entire Riddle family." "As the head of a family, Maddox is not a weak and hopeless person. Even if he is trapped, Manny might not be able to force out what he doesn't want to give up." "Especially since Manny doesn't have any leverage over Maddox." Leon and Hattie were at the Riddle family company and Kaitlyn and Ache were Manny's children. What else can make Maddox assist in destroying his own family?" Without the strong support of Maddox, how could Manny shake the foundation of the Riddle family in such a short time? Selena's eyes glinted with a cold light. "Besides, if something really did happen to Maddox, Leon would not sit idly by." "Don't forget, the Riddle family's patriarch and matriarch are still in the Riddle family. Although Manny is powerful, she has only been in the Riddle family for less than a year and cannot compare to the Riddle family's main branch that has been rooted in the Riddle family for decades." After ruling out all the impossible scenarios, the remaining one, no matter how impossible, must be the truth.

Maddox was not being imprisoned. He was actually helping Manny and Leon to fight against and swallow up the entire Riddle family. Search the Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leia reacted to the implications of Selena's words and her eyes widened in shock. "Is Maddox crazy?!" Selena smiled mysteriously and said, "Maybe he is crazy. After all, the Riddle family has more than just one crazy person..." The first one who went crazy is still working like a slave for that woman.

Leia's mind was full of absurdities. "Madam Selena, I don't understand... What are they after?" How crazy must someone be to help a madwoman destroy their own family? Selena put the cat in her arms down on the ground, stood up from the lounge chair, and walked outside the pavilion to gaze in the direction of the Riddle family.

After a while, she suddenly spoke up, "Last night, before going to bed, Black Crow called me. He found something very interesting in Osvaldo's blood..." Coincidentally, Leon also called her yesterday and secretly sent her a tube of blood, which was taken from Hunter's body.

It seems that Maddox's complete betrayal has greatly angered the young master of the Riddle family.

Selena smiled slyly, with an expression of waiting to see the unfold.

Leia heard Selena's words and shrank her neck, not daring to say anything lest Selena remember Osvaldo's "dark history." But she seemed to remember something and said to Selena, "Madam Selena, the Tribunal also gave news earlier that the person in prison is indeed a fake." "That woman from the Riddle family was rescued a few days ago and her whereabouts are currently unknown." The person who gave the drink to Leia that night had a face exactly like Selena's. Leia mistakenly identified the person, which caused conflict between Selena and Osvaldo.

This incident had become a heartache for Leia.

But later, she carefully thought about it and found flaws even in the sophisticated disguise technique. However, that woman that night was too similar to Selena, not only in appearance but also in height and even in the demeanor of a young lady from a prestigious family.

It seemed that the other party was specially trained to imitate Selena.

And throughout the capital, the only one who resembled Selena in appearance was Penelope.

The Tribunal had found out that the person in prison was a fake that night.

The real Penelope was rescued while Osvaldo took Selena to find Black Crow.

It was easy to imagine who had Penelope now.

Selena's eyes flashed with a hint of coldness.

She had promised Master Antonio that she would spare Penelope's life as long as she stopped her evil deeds.

But obviously, Penelope didn't cherish this hard-won opportunity.

"She can't escape," Selena said indifferently.

This time, not only Selena, but Osvaldo would never let her go either.

Leia cautiously avoided this topic and brought up another issue, "Madam Selena, should we intervene in the Riddle family's affairs?" In the current chaotic situation of the Riddle family, the whole city was waiting to see Selena's attitude towards them.

After all, Selena was the granddaughter of the Riddle family, and she had a good relationship with the Riddle family's young miss. Many forces were afraid to offend the Anderson family and the Turner family and were currently in a wait-and-see stage.

It could be imagined that once Selena made it clear that she wouldn't intervene in the Riddle family's affairs, the already precarious situation of the Riddle family would become even worse.

Selena didn't turn back and spoke in a cold and indifferent tone, "Why should I care about the Riddle family?" She had helped Leon kick Manny out of the game, which was already a favor to Hattie. Asking her to help the Riddle family defend their territory... Leon probably wouldn't even dare to dream about it.

Selena's lips curved into a cold arc, "Compared to that, I'm more looking forward to seeing the expression on Maddox's face when he 'wakes up' and sees the Riddle family fall from one of the four great families to its current state... It will be quite a spectacle." She had promised to make the Riddle family regret abandoning Nevaeh and her, and this was just the beginning.

Leia instantly understood Selena's meaning, and her expression became serious.

What she didn't tell Selena was that Osvaldo had also secretly fueled the rapid downfall of the Riddle family.

Chapter 1453 The Riddle Family Conflict

Chapter 1453 the Riddle family Conflict Of course, in order to prevent Selena from being accused of being unfilial, Osvaldo kept everything very secret.

He was originally worried that Selena would be angry, but seeing her attitude towards the Riddle family, she might have gone to step on them herself if it weren't for Hattie.

Leia felt relieved and went out to pass on the message.

Selena's voice came from behind her, "Tell the people protecting Hattie to keep an extra eye on her for the next two days. " From within the Riddle's building, a heavy atmosphere pervaded the air.

Leon had been in meetings for three days straight and had finally managed to acquire some of the core industries that Manny had tried to take away.

He had a moment of respite and threw the documents on the table, scanning the room and frowning, "Where's Hattie?" Hattie had been sticking to him like glue lately, and her absence made Leon uneasy. His assistant said, "Miss Hattie just went out, but she said she'll be back soon." Leon thought for a moment and instructed his assistant, "Keep an eye on Miss Hattie for the next few days, don't let her wander around, especially not outside the Riddles building." The assistant was surprised, but then remembered that tomorrow was the day of the board of directors meeting. Leon was clearly trying to protect Hattie, so she immediately called the front desk to give instructions.

If Hattie tried to leave the Riddle's building, they were to stop her.

After putting down the phone, the assistant looked at Leon, who appeared tired, and hesitated before speaking, "Young master..." Leon picked up the coffee on the table and took a sip, "What is it?" The assistant tentatively suggested, "Given the current situation... why don't we try to cooperate with Miss Selena?" "No matter what, she's still a member of the Riddle family, and she cares about Miss Hattie too. She also has a common enemy with you..." If Selena was willing to lend a hand, the current predicament of the Riddle family could be resolved easily.

Leon held his coffee cup and his face remained calm, "Don't mention this again in the future." The assistant wanted to continue persuading him, but then saw Leon glance towards the door, "Otherwise, young miss will be the first to object." According to the way the Riddle elders treated Nevaeh and Selena, Selena not taking the opportunity to step on the Riddle family was already considering Hattie.

Compared to the Soo family and the Shaw family, at least the Riddle family was only severely wounded, and with proper management, there was still a chance to recover.

Following Leon's gaze, the assistant saw Hattie standing at the door, looking cold and expressionless. She didn't know how long she had been standing there.

Meeting the assistant's embarrassed gaze, Hattie walked in and raised her chin, asking seriously, "Why does Selena want to help the Riddle family?" "Does she owe anything to the Riddle family? Or has anyone from the Riddle family ever helped her or shown her any kindness?" The assistant had no answer.

It was well known that the Riddle family not only had no gratitude towards Selena, but also held a deep grudge against her.

Setting aside the incident with Hattie, Selena's relationship with the Riddle family was so weak that it was not even as strong as a piece of paper.

Hattie snorted, "Since there's no reason for her to help the Riddle family, why should we demand her assistance?" The assistant begged for forgiveness, "I know I was wrong, Miss Hattie. I won't bring it up again..." Hattie finally relented and sat down on the sofa next to Leon.

Leon rubbed her hair and asked, "Where did you go just now?" Hattie looked down at her fingers and replied softly, "I went to my room to get a glass of water." Leon gazed at her for a moment and said, "Don't wander around these few days." Hattie sullenly replied, "I know, brother." Manny lay in bed, her face wrapped in bandages. Her expression was calm, but her eyes were filled with resentment and madness.

After so many days, the wounds on her body had started to scab over, but the cuts on her face were still bleeding profusely because they were too severe. Even if they healed, they would leave ugly scars. She had no choice but to undergo plastic surgery.

But this kind of injury did not stop her ambition. Instead, it made the woman even more insane.

Over the years, she had been lurking in the capital and had harmed many people. If she were to count her actions when she was younger, there were countless more.

Manny didn't know why that person suddenly attacked her with such fury, and who he was doing it for, but she knew that he would only spare her temporarily. Once he had the chance, he would kill her.

Moreover, deep within her heart, there was a speculation that made her resentful and insane to the point of wanting to destroy everything.

She had been planning to attack Selena recklessly after failing to break up her relationship with Osvaldo. It was only then that the other party suddenly appeared.

If that person had really come for Selena...

For Nevaeh's daughter...

The woman's scarred face contorted in an instant.

Jealousy was like a venomous snake, devouring her heart.

Manny covered her head and let out a wailing cry that sounded like a ghost and a wolf, "It's all theirs... everything is theirs..." The identity of the Riddle family's young miss is Nevaeh.

Callum belongs to Nevaeh.

All the honors and praises belong to Nevaeh.

All good things belong to Nevaeh.

So Nevaeh deserves to die! The woman's eyes oozed endless venom. "Nevaeh, you're already dead, why do you have to leave that little slut behind to cause trouble..." If only she hadn't left Selena behind back then.

But if she didn't leave Selena, what would she have to threaten Callum with? So Nevaeh died, and Selena lived.

But she didn't spare the child.

She raised Leah.

And let the Riddle family of three torture and trample on that child.

She wanted Nevaeh's daughter to live every day and every second of her life as if it were worse than death.

She wanted Nevaeh to never be able to close her eyes, even in hell.

That way, even if her medicine experiment went wrong, she could still use that little slut to force Callum to submit.

But why did everything suddenly change? The little slut who grew up under her control and abuse suddenly broke free from her control for no reason.

She destroyed her carefully cultivated Leah, made her way to the capital, not only helped Nevaeh and Callum reclaim their glory, but also took back the research institute, destroyed the Shaw family and the Soo family, and was about to dig up all her secrets...

All her preparations were in vain, and Manny wouldn't have been forced to take such risks and act ahead of Callum's return.

If it weren't for Selena's sudden rise, she wouldn't have been pushed to this point.

What made Manny despair and jealous the most was that not only were the men in the capital protecting Selena, but even the noble young master in the "Divine Love" organization might also be protecting Selena...

All the excellent men liked Selena and were protecting her...

Just like those people who liked and defended Nevaeh back then.

Manny was so jealous and desperate that she said, "Die! Everyone should die..."
"Nevaeh deserves to die, and the little slut deserves to die too!"

Chapter 1454 Embarrassing!

Chapter 1454 Embarrassing! The next day, the shareholders' meeting of Riddle Corporation was officially held.

Riddle Corporation's current situation was worrying, and no matter who the final winner was, it was destined to suffer a great loss in the short term. The major families had no reservations, and on that day at the Riddle's building, the media gathered, creating an unprecedented buzz.

Inside the meeting room, all Riddle Corporation shareholders gathered, sitting in three groups. The atmosphere was extremely tense.

Amidst the noise, Manny, wearing a fitted long dress and an exquisite hairstyle, was escorted by a group of media and bodyguards, like a star surrounded by the moon, walked in.

Except for her extremely pale complexion, there was no trace of injury on her body.

Behind her were also many members of the Riddle family, all looking arrogant and conceited.

Among them were even Maddox and Daphne.

When the people at the scene saw Maddox and Daphne, there was an uproar.

These days, many people outside had been speculating whether Maddox had been held captive by Manny, but at this moment, seeing his intact appearance, everyone felt it was unbelievable.

He was actually helping an outsider and going against his own grandson, destroying the foundation of Riddle Corporation...

Everyone felt that Maddox had gone crazy.

Leon wore a snowy white suit, with noble eyebrows and sharp eyes. Sitting in the first seat, he coldly looked over when he heard the commotion.

Hattie sat next to him. When she saw Manny walk in and didn't see Hunter next to her, a cold glint flashed in her icy eyes.

Manny's gaze fell on the faces of the Riddle siblings, her eyes filled with hatred, but she said with a smile, "Leon, Riddle Corporation has been in turmoil recently, suffering great losses, and it's all because of your poor leadership." "After deliberation by the board of directors, we've decided to hold a re-election for the successor of the Riddle family today. Do you have any objections?" Leon didn't even look at Manny. Instead, his gaze fell on Maddox and Daphne behind her, and his eyes became extremely cold.

Hattie sneered, tilting her chin up and saying, "It's not your turn to speak about Riddle Corporation's affairs, you disgusting thing.

Go to the side and let our Riddle family members come out and talk!" She raised her chin and stared at the group of Riddle family members, "Who wants the power of Riddle Corporation? Come up and talk to me and my brother. Hiding behind a nameless mistress is just embarrassing!" Hattie's words not only made the faces of the Riddle family members turn ugly, but also made Manny's face contort in pain.

Her face had just been stitched up, and she had to apply several layers of makeup to cover the wound. Every movement caused her intense pain.

She stared at Hattie with a fierce look in her eyes.

The daughters of the Riddle family are always so disgusting! Nevaeh, Selena, and this little slut are all the same! Hattie's words reminded everyone present that although everyone knew Manny was the leader of this storm in the Riddle family, she and Hunter had not officially registered their marriage, and she was still just a mistress.

What qualifications did a third party who had nothing to do with the Riddle family have to participate in their power struggle? Especially since the Riddle family's followers looked up to her, it was all like a joke.

The group of Riddle family members who sided with Manny couldn't bear the mocking looks from others and looked at Manny with questioning eyes.

They naturally knew that Manny's status was not legitimate, but she had promised them before that it was not a problem.

Manny walked up to Daphne and reached out to hold her arm. "Hattie, you're wrong. Hunter and I have registered our marriage, and now I am the legitimate second mistress of the Riddle family." "According to seniority, you should call me mother." Daphne avoided Leon's cold gaze.

As for Hattie, she didn't dare to even look at her.

This action represented the fact that Manny and Hunter had registered their marriage, and she and Maddox knew about it.

Hattie didn't show any sadness in her eyes, and she held her arms and sneered, "A woman who has been married and has given birth to children by two men, do you deserve to be compared to Aunt Nevaeh... so dirty!" Manny's cheek twitched.

Although others didn't understand the meaning of Hattie's words, they understood Manny's words.

They looked at the Riddle family's elderly couple with a sense of admiration. "the Riddle family's old couple is going to any lengths to help outsiders harm their own descendants..." "I even suspect that Leon and Hattie are not really the Riddle family's biological children, but those two illegitimate children are..." "With Daphne and Maddox as their grandparents, Leon and Hattie are simply unlucky for eight generations..." Daphne's heart was sorely pierced by these accusations, and her face became extremely dark.

She didn't want to go against her own grandchildren, but Leon wanted to strip her of her position as the mistress of the Riddle family and kick her out. He even wanted to kill Ache and Kaitlyn...

With the shortage of Riddle family heirs, what else could Daphne do but help Manny protect Ache and Kaitlyn? Daphne looked at Leon's cold face and advised him earnestly, "Leon, if you release Kaitlyn, we can pretend that none of this ever happened." "Why bother when there are only four Riddle family heirs left?" Leon ignored Daphne's plea and stared at Maddox. "Grandpa, are you sure you want to support this woman and go against me?" All eyes, including those of the media, were focused on Maddox.

Maddox looked at Leon and only said one sentence, "Ache is also my grandson." There was a commotion.

"My God! Maddox has gone crazy..." "I thought he was being held captive, but turns out he really is crazy. Is he sick? Ache is a heart patient and a bastard child. Leon is an outstanding heir and should be chosen by even a blind man, right?" "What kind of is Riddle family performing? I'm so confused..." Maddox faced countless strange or gloating looks without any expression on his face. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Inside a villa, Selena held a cat while watching the live broadcast.

Upon hearing Maddox's words, Selena's lips curved into a playful smile. "This scene is really interesting..." Maddox had worked hard for the Riddle family his whole life, but in his old age, he had to destroy the economic empire he had built with his own hands...

He had pursued wealth and fame his whole life, but now, just before he stepped into the coffin, he had trampled on his own face and reputation.

When he regained consciousness and saw this scene, she only hoped he wouldn't die of anger.

Leia, who was also watching the live broadcast, was startled by Selena's laughter and asked curiously, "Madam Selena, what are you laughing at?" mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO& 1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWL1i10fif10&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO&1

Chapter 1455 I Will Definitely Come Back Alive!

Chapter 1455 I will definitely come back alive! "I laughed at Maddox and Daphne. They are just jokes in this lifetime..." A joke that had been played on for half a lifetime.

The Riddle's building.

After Maddox openly supported Manny to represent the second branch in the power struggle, many people within the Riddle family who were previously undecided became agitated and looked at Leon and then at Manny, causing many to sway in their thinking.

Leon noticed the fluctuating thoughts of the group and sneered, retracting his gaze.

Manny stepped forward with a malicious glint in his eyes and looked at Hattie, his lips curved with a smile, "Since no one objects, let's begin." Hattie clenched her fists in response to the venomous look in the woman's eyes.

She looked at the arrogant and malicious faces behind Manny and her eyes showed sharp coldness.

Just then, her phone in her pocket suddenly vibrated.

Hattie lowered her head to look at it and her pupils suddenly contracted upon seeing what was on the screen.

She immediately raised her head and stared at Manny across from her.

Manny sat dignified in his chair, his pale face curved with a malicious smile, whispering something to Hattie with his lips.

Hattie's slender body began to sway.

She glanced at Leon, who was watching the board vote calmly, and quietly stood up, moving stealthily towards the back.

Hattie's body tensed as she retreated all the way to the door, then turned around and rushed out.

Everyone's attention was focused on the upcoming shareholder vote, and no one noticed Hattie's departure.

Even Selena, who was watching the live broadcast, didn't notice Hattie's disappearance, as directed by Manny.

Manny watched as Hattie's figure disappeared at the door, licked her lips and smiled, her eyes full of malice.

Hattie left the conference room and took the elevator to the first floor. She didn't go through the main door, but turned to the side fire exit and came to an inconspicuous side door.

The side door was locked, but because it was a black railing lock, the small and slender Hattie could barely squeeze through by tilting her body.

Hattie had been practicing dance since she was young and had great flexibility. She carefully crawled out from inside.

Hattie was about to hail a taxi after leaving the Riddle's building when a hand suddenly reached out from behind and grabbed her collar, pulling the young girl back.

"Where are you going--" The cold voice abruptly stopped upon seeing Hattie's tear-streaked face.

Fraser furrowed his brow and spoke more slowly, "What's wrong?" Hattie's face was full of anger as she murmured, "I want to kill him... kill him..." Fraser realized that something was wrong and took her phone from her hand. There was a picture on it: a newly excavated box with a dark black color and fresh soil on it...

Fraser instantly recognized what it was and his expression changed accordingly. Search the FindNøvel.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

There was a message below it: "If you want to get your mother's ashes back, go to XX hospital. If I don't see you within half an hour, I will destroy it! Remember, you must come alone! If I see you bring anyone else, I will destroy it immediately!" Fraser took a deep breath and suppressed his anger in his chest, speaking with the softest voice he could muster, "This is a trap.

If you go, you might not come back..." Hattie looked up, her eyes red and frightening from the tears, "They killed my mother, dug up her grave, and even took her ashes away..." Fraser choked up.

Hattie didn't say something, but Fraser knew what it was.

The person who did this was the one who should be called her father.

Then, he heard Hattie say, "My mother died in that hospital..." Fraser estimated the distance between the Riddle's building and the hospital and promptly threw Hattie onto a motorcycle on the side of the road.

He returned her phone and, with one swift motion, got on the bike and revved the engine. "Call her!" he shouted.

In the villa, Selena had already noticed Hattie's disappearance and was about to call someone, but she received Hattie's call first.

She could hear the wind whistling past through the phone, and Hattie's voice was hoarse but resolute. "Selena, I'm going to find the evidence of how they killed my mother!" "Don't worry... I will definitely come back alive!" She promised Selena that she would live her life better and more exciting than Selena and another Selena. So, she would not die! Selena held her phone and listened to the resolute and somewhat crazy voice of the young girl in silence for a long time before responding, "... okay." Leia looked anxiously at the hung-up phone and said, "Madam Selena, Miss Hattie is just girl. We can't let her go alone and take risks..." Selena was afraid of accidents, so she even sent Fraser, who had always protected her, to watch over Hattie. Why would there still be accidents?! Selena stared coldly at Manny on the big screen, whose eyes were full of malice and smiles, "If there is something that even Fraser cannot refuse Hattie, it means that it is something that cannot be stopped." It's not that it can't be stopped.

It's that it's impossible to stop.

Leia was furious and stared at Manny with gritted teeth, "Madam Selena, please don't let this vicious woman go!" Selena's eyes were filled with coldness, "If Hattie really finds the evidence, we can openly expose all the villainy and ugliness of this woman and-" "Cut her into a thousand pieces!" After hanging up the phone, Hattie wiped her face with her hand.

All the tears were wiped away, revealing a pair of eyes full of deep hatred.

Fraser parked the car in a blind spot of the surveillance cameras two kilometers away from the hospital. He looked down at the girl in front of him and handed her a gun, "There is a risk of being discovered by the other party if you go further... You have to walk alone from now on." Hattie clenched the gun and said, "I know, thank you, Fraser." She hid the gun in her clothes and got into a taxi on the side of the road.

Fraser watched Hattie get in the car and took out his communicator to check it.

The moment Hattie finished the call, he received a message with only one sentence. "Protect her back at all costs!" In other words, as long as he could protect Hattie, he would do anything, even if it meant turning the capital city upside down.

It was like a "kill order" with the highest authority! Fraser stared at the words for two seconds.

A sense of mission that was familiar to his bones boiled up uncontrollably.

It was like the feeling he had when he received his first official task after graduating from the United University.

Everyone knew that the opponent was just girl.

Chapter 1456 I Will Never Make Mistakes With You Again

Chapter 1456 I will never make mistakes with you again Those who didn't know might have thought this was an order from some high-ranking military commander! Fraser put away his phone and observed the surroundings. He made a gesture and disappeared from the street in an instant.

At the same time, at the board of directors' meeting, Leon noticed that Hattie was missing. But he couldn't spare any energy to deal with her now and could only instruct his secretary to find her.

Manny was aggressively buying up more than half of Riddle's shareholders and, coupled with those loyal to Maddox, it was clear to everyone that the situation was not favorable for Leon as the votes piled up against him.

Leon remained expressionless as he watched the names of those who betrayed Riddle and joined Manny, and his eyes grew colder and colder.

Manny seemed to sense Leon's impatience and suddenly turned his head, his lips curling in a provocative smile as he silently said, "That little slut is as good as dead..." With a "crack," Leon crushed the water cup in his hand.

At the same time, Hattie finally arrived at the hospital. She got out of the taxi and looked up at the hospital hidden in the old town, emanating a sense of decay and ruin.

The dilapidated doors were wide open, and there wasn't a single soul in sight. All the buildings exuded a sense of decay and ruin.

A bone-chilling cold seeped out from inside, as if an evil spirit with an open bloodthirsty mouth was waiting for prey to fall into its.

trap.

The thirteen-year-old girl stood outside the door, looking at the place that had appeared briefly in that video, driving her to madness but that she had been unable to find, remembering her mother who had died there...

A glint of light flickered in her dark eyes, and Hattie looked up. All her fears were instantly assuaged. "Mom, you must bless me..." After saying that, the girl seemed to be filled with endless courage, clenched her fists, and took step by step into the hospital. The darkness swallowed the slender figure of the girl.

Almost at the same time that Hattie entered the hospital, Selena obtained the exact address of the hospital. She coldly ordered, "Let everyone go there, relocate all the residents around there at any cost, and spare no effort to keep Hattie safe." Manny had already gone insane.

A madman doesn't care about anyone's life, including her own child.

Except for Callum, there is probably no one or nothing in this world that can threaten her.

Leia immediately conveyed her orders.

Selena watched Manny on the live stream with a sneering expression and coldly laughed.

Suddenly, a pair of hands appeared around her waist, and a familiar scent came from behind.

Selena turned her head and saw Osvaldo standing behind her.

Selena smiled, "You're back." Osvaldo stared at his wife for a moment. Even though Manny was so shameless, and Hattie was in danger, Selena's face didn't show any worries or anger.

This person who had carved calmness and restraint into her bones, but lost control for him...

Selena cared so much about him. If it were usual, he would certainly be happy and excited.

But remembering the blood that Selena had vomited and the heartbreaking calls outside the door... Osvaldo's face suddenly turned pale, and he held Selena's waist tightly. He wanted to make sure that she was really back in his embrace.

Selena felt pain from his grip and looked at his pale face. She asked softly, "What's wrong?" Osvaldo lowered his head and rubbed her forehead. "Selena, don't do this so easily in the future..." Forgive him.

Osvaldo didn't explain to Selena immediately, nor did he touch her emotional wound. He did not fail to make Selena feel punished.

He was afraid that if Selena couldn't vent her anger, even if he coaxed her back, this incident would still leave a scar in her heart.

Unexpectedly, another person couldn't bear it and broke the ice first.

Osvaldo was able to coax his wife back as he wished, but at the same time, he was also worried that the incident would leave a shadow in Selena's heart.

Selena noticed that something was wrong with him and was about to say something, but suddenly saw Osvaldo kneel on one knee in front of her.

Selena's dark eyes suddenly widened.

She looked at his gentle and devout expression, and her heart suddenly beat faster. She was about to reach out and pull him up, "What are you doing..." Osvaldo grabbed the hand that was reaching out to him and kissed it cherishingly on his lips.

He looked up at Selena with his deep black eyes fixed on her without moving. He took the initiative to bring up the night's events for the first time. "I know there was something wrong with that drink." Selena's breathing hitched, and her words suddenly choked in her throat.

Osvaldo stared at her slightly pale face, his voice hoarse, "But Leia told me that you made it for me with your own hands. Even if there was only a one percent chance, I didn't want to miss it." Selena looked at the man's incredibly handsome face.

She knew he wasn't explaining himself.

This kind of man never bothered to explain his actions.

He was undoing the knot he accidentally tied in her heart.

He was very serious and devout... asking for forgiveness.

Selena's throat was choked, her eyelashes trembled, and she said nothing.

Osvaldo held her delicate hands in his palm, remembering how she had banged on the door so violently before. These precious hands had hurt him so much at that time...

But he was damned and hadn't heard it...

The man's deep gaze fell on those hands, exuding a gentle and willful breath. "It's all my fault..." Aman who had never apologized to anyone before lowered his noble head in front of his lover.

His voice became lower and lower, revealing a hint of indescribable restraint, "You can punish me however you want." "As long as it's given by you, I'll accept it willingly." "Except... don't abandon me." Since that night, the phrase "she doesn't want him anymore" had been haunting the man's nerves day and night, becoming his nightmare.

Hearing Osvaldo's sincere apology, Selena felt a touch of indescribable emotion in her heart.

She looked at those gentle and deep eyes and finally asked the question that had been buried deep in her heart for a long time, "Why didn't you pay attention to me when I was so worried, so hurt, and calling your name?" "You said that if I was in danger and called your name, you would appear before me..." "But you broke your promise..." Osvaldo's face turned pale, and he stretched out his hands to pull her into his arms, placing a knife in Selena's palm.

He leaned against her ear, the familiar cold fragrance instantly entangling Selena's entire body.

She heard the man say, "From now on, I will never make a mistake with you again."

Chapter 1457 My Queen

Chapter 1457 My Queen "If I ever make you sad again, you can use this knife to dig out my heart." Selena's heart skipped a beat, and she instinctively wanted to drop the knife in her hand.

Osvaldo gently stopped her, wrapping his slender hand around her wrist and placing her hand over his heart.

Selena could clearly feel the man's strong heartbeat, and she heard Osvaldo say, "It belongs to you forever." Selena was on the verge of being drowned by the man's passionate and almost crazy feelings. She looked at his gentle and mysterious eyes, and finally asked the deepest and most hidden fear in her heart, "Will you betray me, forget me?" Osvaldo locked his gaze onto hers, shaking his head firmly. "Never." His white fingertips gently stroked her eyes. "Even if my memory doesn't remember you, my body, my breath, my blood... will never forget you." He hugged his wife and lover tightly, pressing his thin lips against her ear and speaking each word with devoutness, "I will always be your most loyal knight, everything I have belongs to you, my Queen." Hattie walked into the ruined and decayed hospital.

Almost the second she entered, the heavy door slammed shut.

There was no one around.

The already dim light suddenly became darker, making it almost impossible to see anything. The wind blowing from the depths of the corridor gave her goosebumps.

This hospital was built many years ago, and it was very old. The only sound that could be heard was the sound of dripping water, coming from somewhere.

Selena's dark eyes were fixed on the stairs.

As a beloved daughter of the Riddle family, in such a dark and dangerous environment, fear was almost instinctual.

But she thought of her mother who died here. She was so gentle and loved her so much. She must be in heaven, blessing her.

And she had a powerful and beautiful sister outside who would protect her.

So... don't be afraid.

Be brave and you can avenge your mother! The girl stepped confidently and climbed to the second floor.

Hattie observed the terrain markers.

Manny sent her intermittent videos to drive her crazy, revealing a lot of things.

She endured endless pain and torture, watching it over and over again, remembering every detail.

So, she knew her mother died on the operating table.

Blood stained the white sheets and flowed all over the floor.

A red glow appeared in the misty eyes of the girl, as she followed the map in the first-floor hallway and made her way to the operating room.

The man who killed her mother was waiting for her there, holding her mother's ashes.

The sound of the girl's light footsteps echoed through the empty space.

She came from the second floor to the third floor, and finally to the fourth floor.

The girl stood at the stairwell and looked at the operating room at the end of the corridor. The door was open, and the pale light oozed out silently and hideously, telling her that it was the place she had been looking for.

Hattie stared hard in that direction, and the red in her eyes almost overflowed.

She knew what was waiting for her inside.

If she failed, her life would be frozen at thirteen forever, and she would never be able to come out again.

The girl stepped forward, and her figure was engulfed by the pale light.

In the top-floor monitoring room, Hunter watched Hattie walk towards the operating room, his heart beating uncontrollably.

"Damn it! What is she doing there?!" The man got up from his chair and walked back and forth uneasily for a few rounds. He ordered the person behind him, "You go and grab her!" The person behind him raised an eyebrow and glanced at him with vague disdain. He respectfully said, "Master, calm down."

Leon has captured Miss Kaitlyn. With his methods, who knows what she has been through lately. Although Miss Hattie is also your daughter, you can't be biased, can you?" Hunter's brow furrowed deeper and deeper.

Usually, he wouldn't think there was anything wrong with how others treated Hattie.

But that place-- Perhaps out of guilt, or perhaps due to some deeper intuition, he subconsciously felt that he couldn't let Hattie go in.

He was about to speak up to stop them, but he heard the person behind him say, "Don't worry, Master. Madam is just preparing 'lesson' for Hattie. She won't actually harm her. You can rest assured." Hunter's words got stuck in his throat instantly.

By the time he thought of speaking up again, Hattie had already walked in.

Hunter watched Hattie's figure disappear completely before his eyes, heard the words of the person behind him, and Manny's face flashed before him. The emotions that had just begun to stir inside him calmed down once again.

He walked back to his chair and sat down with a cold and indifferent expression. "Since she's looking for trouble herself, we don't need to care!" At the Riddle's building. Leon's voice, as he crushed the teacup, instantly attracted the attention of everyone present, including those who were in the middle of voting.

Everyone turned their heads and looked at the suddenly emotional young master of the Riddle family.

Leon stood up from his seat, stared at Manny with a frosty expression, and spoke with a hint of viciousness in his tone, "If anything really happens to Hattie, I guarantee that the two children you produce will disappear from this world as well!" His words, filled with unconcealed killing intent, shocked everyone.

Whether it was those present or those watching the live broadcast, they were all stunned by Leon's sudden emotional outburst.

Immediately after that, everyone realized that the young lady of the Riddle family who had just been present was nowhere to be seen.

The next second, everyone's gaze was fixed on Manny.

Manny's face twitched heavily, and she forced a smile, "I don't understand what you are talking about." Leon stared at her with a cold and disdainful expression and said, "Hattie is right. No man in the world would like a disgusting and vicious creature like you." When Leon said these words, his whole body exuded the sense of superiority that came from being a member of a prestigious family.

It was this sense of superiority that pierced Manny's heart.

She clenched her fists tightly.

What she hated most was the sense of superiority that the Riddle family showed in everything they did.

Whether it was Selena or Hattie, they always looked down on her with disgust and disdain.

And even Leon had never looked at her directly before she mentioned Hattie's imminent death.

It seemed like these little bitches knew exactly what she cared about the most, and they all deliberately stepped on her pain.

Manny raised her hand and brushed her hair away from her cheek, with a smile that was both alluring and terrifying on her face.

Chapter 1458 I Forgive You

Chapter 1458 I Forgive You "According to our seniority, you should call me Aunt," Manny said.

"As for what you said about no one liking me," Manny's lips were red, "Your uncle 'loves' me so much that he doesn't care about anything and everyone knows it." "Is that so?" Leon suppressed his anger and sneered, "Unfortunately, the one you love the most finds even looking at you disgusting." Manny's face twisted for a moment.

Daphne was extremely distressed when she heard that Leon was going to kill Kaitlyn and Ache. She was about to speak, but suddenly saw Leon look at her.

That look was never before seen as cold! Daphne's heart trembled, and her old face turned pale, and she didn't dare to speak at this time.

Leon sat back down, his face full of frost. "Continue!" The people on the scene looked at each other in confusion.

Leon's sudden loss of control had attracted the attention of all the shareholders and the media, focusing on Manny for a moment and sparking countless speculations.

It was obvious that this woman had targeted Mrs. Riddle.

First it was Hattie's mother, then Hattie, and finally Leon... what a vicious woman! Feeling the countless frightened and suspicious glances on her, Manny remained expressionless. "What are you all standing around for? Haven't you heard the young master say to continue voting?" After the people came back to their senses, they continued to vote.

As the saying goes, no matter how many doubts there are, without evidence, it's all useless.

And Hattie's disappearance was a good thing for those who had already sided with Manny, because it meant that Manny held a fatal handle on Leon, and their chances of winning increased.

Thinking of this, some people looked at Leon with a hint of gloating in their eyes.

The shareholders of the Riddle family were divided into three factions: Leon's loyalists, Manny's bribed faction, and a small neutral faction.

Because of Maddox's unexpected rebellion, many of the neutral faction turned to Manny, leading to a very unfavorable voting result for Leon.

Leon looked at the final voting result with no expression and smiled.

Selena's eyes widened at the last four words, and an extreme shock rose in her heart.

That title was like a spell, freezing all of her emotions.

My Queen.

She was his queen... SEAR*ch the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

There was no title that could touch Selena's feelings more than this.

This title encompasses the greatest honor and beauty a girl can possess, and represents the most precious power and pride.

Selena's heart was beating wildly as she stared at Osvaldo, wondering if she might have misheard him...

Osvaldo kissed her forehead, a very gentle kiss that carried a sense of tender solemnity. He chuckled softly, "To me, you are the most noble queen, born high and lofty, incomparably honorable." "Everything and everyone in this world must come after you." "You are..." Selena's frantic heartbeat gradually returned to normal under the man's warm reassurance.

She didn't ask whether this title was simply an expression of affection or had a deeper meaning. She just shyly covered her eyes and buried her face in his chest, "Osvaldo, I... forgive you." A hint of seductive laughter escaped Osvaldo's throat.

He held Selena in his arms, gazing into her eyes and singing to her in a tender, pleasant voice. "Even if my eyes were gouged out, I could still see you. Even if my ears were blocked, I could still hear you... Even if my memory were erased, I would still only love you..." It was a creepy love song that sent shivers down one's spine even in broad daylight. Only Selena could sense the tenderness hidden within it.

This man was using his own way to comfort her anxiety and worry.

He was telling her not to be afraid.

A gust of wind blew by, causing Selena's eyelashes to tremble. She raised her hand to hug the man in front of her.

Hattie entered the operating room.

The light was as bleak as a stage curtain.

In the silent space, there was nothing but a blood-stained operating table.

Hattie walked up to the table and gently touched the old bloodstains with her slender fingers.

The scene of her mother being pressed onto this operating table and cruelly cut open to remove her heart echoed in her mind.

A glimmer of light shone in her black eyes.

Hattie thought she would go insane, scream, and hysterically weep, but when she was faced with it, she became abnormally calm.

It was a calmness she had never experienced before.

She stroked the bloodstains, and tears flowed down like a small stream, as if all the sadness in the world had accumulated on her slender shoulders at this moment.

However, in such a heart-wrenching pain, there was also a deep tenderness that penetrated into her bones.

How could she be afraid of where her mother was? Her mother was so gentle, and she loved her deeply at all times. Her mother would protect her and never harm her. That's why she wouldn't go insane.

The girl looked at the large bloodstains and gently said, "I'm sorry, Mom. Hattie has only found you now..." She remembered that in the video, at the moment when her mother died, she was still calling out her name. There was no resentment or hatred in her eyes, only concern and reluctance for her daughter.

The girl continued, "Mom, once I have avenged you, I'll take you away from here." Her mother liked to sunbathe. She wouldn't like this cold and bleak environment.

Hattie gently put the bedsheet stained with blood into her backpack, wiped her eyes, and turned to leave.

In the top-floor monitoring room, everyone was surprised to see that she didn't go insane or collapse. While Hunter was dissatisfied, he inexplicably breathed a sigh of relief. "Alright, let her come up quickly. As long as Leon returns Kaitlyn, we'll give her that cursed thing..." The person behind Hunter, however, frowned.

What's going on? Normally, people who are even slightly stimulated would go insane, but at the place where their mother died, this girl appeared to be so calm...

Seeing that Hattie was about to leave the operating room, the man suddenly waved his hand, "Show her the video!" What they wanted was to completely destroy this girl, not to let her leave unscathed.

Hunter didn't react at first, but when he realized what the other side was talking about, he suddenly exclaimed, "Stop it! Are you crazy?! Once it's exposed by this little animal..." Hunter shouted for his assistant, but no one paid attention to him at the scene.

He angrily yelled, "Deacon, how dare you disobey my orders?!" mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO& 1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWL1i10fif10&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO&1

Chapter 1459 I Won

Chapter 1459 I Won The man named Deacon glanced indifferently at Hunter and said, "This is what Madam wants." Manny wanted Hattie dead, not an easy death, but a death in excruciating pain and despair after enduring torture.

As for the consequences of the video being exposed, it was not Manny's concern.

Selena had ruined Manny's plan that she had been plotting for more than twenty years. She was one step away from revealing all of her secrets.

With the Riddle family no longer safe, Hunter was now useless as a pawn.

Hunter's expression suddenly turned ugly. He wanted to refute but was hesitant because it was Manny's order, and he couldn't speak up in rebellion.

Deacon sneered at the man's struggling and uneasy expression, and a hint of malicious playfulness appeared in his eyes.

"Madam has given you another choice." "If you don't want Miss Hattie to expose the video, then just kill her." "Didn't you promise Madam that you would kill her with your own hands and avenge Madam?" "Now is the best opportunity. As long as you kill her, no one will know about what's on that video." "As long as she's dead, she can no longer threaten Madam..." Along with the instigation filled with malice came a gun.

Hunter looked at the gun that was forced into his hand and shivered at the cold iron texture. Hearing Deacon's words, he broke out in cold sweat.

He looked at her in the monitor who was turning her head, and instinctively refused, "No..." Deacon's face suddenly darkened, "Don't you love Madam anymore? Would you rather watch this little bastard hurt Madam than kill her to avenge Madam?" A hint of struggle appeared in Hunter's eyes, "But..." Deacon took out his phone and played the voice message Manny had sent just now.

"Kill that little bitch!" "You do it yourself, and I want her to die a miserable death!" The struggle in Hunter's eyes gradually died out as he stared at Hattie on the screen, his face filled with disgust and murderous intent.

In the operating room, Hattie heard a noise and turned around to see the video that had tormented her countless times appearing on the wall again.

This time it was a panoramic view.

The video not only featured her mother, but also the executioners who had killed her. She watched as Hunter signed a document with disgust on his face, and then a group of men dressed in surgical attire entered the room.

They stripped her mother's clothes off and, ignoring her struggles and cries, cut open her heart with a knife...

The girl trembled all over, her crimson eyes fixed firmly on the screen. The "electronic eye" in her palm was almost deformed from her grip, even though she was screaming in pain, Hattie didn't look away.

She widened her dark eyes and stared at every frame and every detail on the screen, memorizing the despair, screams, and brutality deep in her heart.

The cold and ruthless look in her eyes made Hunter, who was watching her from behind the screen, shiver even though they were separated by the distance.

Deacon patted his shoulder with a playful smile. "See that? You can't let this little bitch leave alive, or else you're finished..." Hunter tightened his grip on the gun in his hand, turned around, and walked downstairs.

Leon looked at the final vote count on the big screen and smiled expressionlessly. The scene fell silent. No one spoke.

Manny elegantly smoothed her hair, with a deep smile on her lips. "Leon, it seems that in the minds of the Riddle family and everyone here, you are not a qualified leader." The shareholders looked at the vote count. Some of them dared not look at Leon, while others had a gloating expression on their faces.

One shareholder spoke up, "Leon, don't blame us. Manny promised us much more benefits than you did." "In business, the winner takes all, and the loser is left to fend for themselves. If anyone is to blame, it's because you don't understand the importance of respecting the elderly." Most of the shareholders who supported Manny were elderly, and many of them were from the same generation as the old Maddox.

After Leon came to power, he took away a large portion of their rights and gave them to the younger generation.

If it weren't for Manny's sudden emergence, they would have been expelled from the Power Center by Leon sooner or later.

Leon just sneered and didn't say a word.

The others present looked at the voting results with sighs.

Before the Riddle family's vote came out, everyone thought Leon would win.

After all, this young master had been in charge of the Riddle family for many years, and his foundation was solid. It was impossible for him to lose to a woman who had risen to power as a mistress.

Maddox's "rebellion" was a fatal blow to Leon. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The group looked at Leon with complex eyes.

No one expected that the Riddle family, a century-old aristocratic family, and the clear and bright young master of the Riddle family would end in this way.

Maddox still stood expressionless in place.

Daphne seemed to want to say something, but her mouth moved and she didn't speak in the end.

Manny saw that Leon was not speaking with a frosty face, stood up, walked to the podium, and smiled as she looked at the live camera.

She seemed very happy, with a smile that came from the heart.

She looked at the big screen and seemed to be looking at someone who was watching the live broadcast.

She smiled, her red lips moving, her eyes full of pleasure as she silently said, "Nevaeh, I won..." In the villa, Selena recognized this lip language clearly.

She knew that Manny said this sentence specifically for her.

She was telling Selena that she had finally won against Selena's mother.

Twenty years ago, Nevaeh was a real wealthy young lady, and Selena, who was known to be a fake wealthy young lady, had never even entered the Riddle family's door.

Now, she had become the true person in charge of the Riddle family, while Selena, as Nevaeh's daughter, had not even set foot inside the Riddle family's gate.

Manny was flaunting to Selena, showing off the plan she had been preparing for more than twenty years, which had finally succeeded.

If Selena were present now, Manny would definitely not hesitate to show her how successful her plan was and how clever her methods were.

Making Maddox betray the Riddle family and his descendants, and unexpectedly stabbing the real bloodline of the Riddle family at the most unexpected moment, personally pushing her, an outsider, to the top... How could such methods not be clever? Selena looked at the complacent Manny, her lips curved, and asked Osvaldo in confusion, "How did she become my mother's opponent?" Osvaldo's slender fingers gently combed Selena's hair, and he didn't even lift his head when he heard the words. Chapter 1460 A Joke

Chapter 1460 A Joke Selena was taken aback at first, but after understanding what Osvaldo meant, she blinked her eyes.

The person who could be regarded as Nevaeh's opponent was someone who truly had the strength to compete with her on the field and was worthy of respect for their character.

What was Manny worth? Other than being as ruthless and unscrupulous as Leah, was there anything about her that was worth respecting? Perhaps it was because of this "disdain" from Nevaeh that made this woman so obsessed with her identity.

Selena looked at Manny, who was so pleased with herself on the screen, and thought of Hattie, who was suffering in agony at the moment, with a hint of coldness in her eyes.

Manny had shown off enough, and her arrogant and cold gaze returned to Leon. However, he spoke to Mr. Riddle, "Father, as you can see from the voting results, Ache is clearly more suitable than Leon to be the next heir of the Riddle family in the hearts of the shareholders." "For the future development of the Riddle family, I have to trouble you to take back the power from Leon and hand it over to Ache." In front of everyone, Mr. Riddle stepped onto the stage and announced expressionlessly, "I declare that from today onwards, Ache will be the next heir of the Riddle family." One sentence could be said to have shocked the whole audience.

Some shareholders who had hoped that Leon had some hidden cards were instantly heartbroken.

Those shareholders and Riddle family members who had turned to support Manny, however, breathed a sigh of relief and no longer concealed their arrogance.

They looked at Leon and laughed one after another.

"Leon, did you hear that? From today onwards, this is no longer your territory. You can pack up and leave!" "The formerly powerful young master has come to this, it really is a great pleasure to everyone!" "Leon, how does it feel to be reduced to a stray dog? Take your spoiled and wilful sister and leave immediately!" In the face of the mocking and ridiculing remarks all around him, Leon put down the cup in his hand.

He stood up, his hands in his pockets, looking directly at Maddox on the high platform. "Grandpa, are you sure you want to hand the Riddle family over to a sickly bastard with an illegitimate background?" Maddox had yet to speak, but Manny spoke first, "Ache is the eldest son of the second branch of the Riddle family, a legitimate young master, and also the designated heir of the Riddle family. As for the sickly bastard..." She had a vicious and sneering smile in her eyes as she looked at Leon. "I forgot to tell you that a year ago, Hunter and I found a suitable heart source and gave Ache a heart transplant. He will recover from his illness soon." "Father and mother have already known about these things," Manny said, holding the Maddox with one hand and Daphne with the other, with a triumphant look in her eyes. "Ache will be the most outstanding successor of the Riddle family!" Maddox still had no expression.

Daphne was so guilty that she dared not look at Leon, but she did not push away Manny's hand holding hers, nor did she deny that Ace's condition had improved.

Leon looked at the warm and harmonious scene on the stage, lowered his eyes, and smiled.

He ignored Manny, took a cigarette leisurely, looked at Maddox with mockery in his eyes, as if he was watching a joke. "Even if they have no blood relationship with the Riddle family, you still want to hand over the Riddle family to them, right, grandfather?" Everyone in the conference room was stunned by Leon's sudden remark.

The proud smiles of the Riddle family members who were laughing suddenly froze on their faces.

Even the shareholders who had joined Manny were shocked and stood up from their seats.

Even Daphne was stunned by the shock.

The whole room was silent.

"What... what does he mean?!" "Leon means that the twins gave birth by Manny are not related to the Riddle family at all. They are bastards born to her from an unknown man..." "What kind of joke is this? Those two children are not from the Riddle family?! They are not related to the Riddle family. Where does this woman get the nerve to fight for the power of the Riddle family for her son?!" After realizing what Leon had said, everyone looked at Manny with incredulous eyes.

Manny's smile also froze for a second or two. But then, she smiled again. "Leon, I know you are unhappy about losing the position of the heir, but this is not the reason for you to threaten Ace and Kaitlyn!" Her face suddenly turned dark, "If you don't apologize to Ace and Kaitlyn for this matter, I will definitely sue you for slander and expel your lineage from the Riddle family!" Since Manny had been preparing for Riddle Group for twenty years, how could there be any loopholes in Kaitlyn and Ace's background? Although their birth was somewhat special, Ace and Kaitlyn were the real Riddle family bloodline. This fact could not be changed by anyone. Therefore, Manny was not at all panicked. Leon ignored her and said calmly, "Take her out!" As soon as Leon finished speaking, several people walked in from outside and brought girl up. The group stared at her, and soon someone recognized her as Kaitlyn.

Since Leon took her away from the Riddle's building last time, Kaitlyn had been locked up until today when these people brought her out.

Kaitlyn was both scared and frightened, and when she saw Manny and Daphne, she cried out in fear, "Mom, grandma, save me..." Daphne subconsciously wanted to step forward, but Leon's eyes turned cold, and someone immediately pushed Daphne away without hesitation.

Manny stared at Leon with a cold face, "Leon, even if you captured my daughter, it doesn't change the fact that they are the Riddle family bloodline!" Leon stretched out his hand and took the stack of paternity test certificates handed over by his secretary, and sneered, "A total of 108 paternity test certificates from major hospitals in the capital, surrounding cities, and major international hospitals! Not one of them proves any blood relationship between this girl and me or Hattie!" After he finished speaking, Leon threw the stack of paternity test certificates out. Everyone looked at the fluttering pieces of paper and exclaimed, reaching out to pick them up. After reading the contents, everyone was stunned.

As Leon had said, these were one by one paternity test certificates from major hospitals at home and abroad, with the seal of each hospital representing authority. They showed the information of three people: Leon, Hattie, and Kaitlyn. However, neither Leon nor Hattie had any blood relationship with Kaitlyn.

Seeing the reactions of the group, Manny's confident smile suddenly froze.

Chapter 1461 Leaving The Riddle Family

Chapter 1461 Leaving the Riddle family Manny snatched one of the papers, which turned out to be a paternity test from an international hospital. It clearly stated that Kaitlyn and Leon had no blood relationship with Hattie.

Manny angrily tore the paper apart. "Leon, you bought off so many hospitals just to slander your own siblings for the sake of seizing the power of the Riddle family?!" But her words failed to dispel the suspicions of others.

If Leon could buy off one hospital, he could buy off a hundred and eight more.

Moreover, many of them were international hospitals that had no connection with the Riddle family.

Leon glanced at Kaitlyn and casually said, "Does she look anything like a member of the Riddle family?" His words immediately drew everyone's attention to Kaitlyn.

The gaze of the members of the Riddle family was particularly sharp.

Indeed, Leon, Hattie, and Selena, who were well-known members of the Riddle family, bore some resemblance to each other.

Although they had different personalities, they all had the toughness and nobility of a distinguished family.

On the other hand, Kaitlyn had no trace of the Riddle family in her appearance or demeanor.

She didn't look like a member of the Riddle family, and her twisted personality was evident from her previous behavior.

Kaitlyn and Ache were twins, but since Kaitlyn didn't resemble a member of the Riddle family, it was natural that Ache wouldn't either.

The Riddle family did have someone who looked similar to her, who was Penelope, but it was widely known that she was a fake.

At this moment, the faces of all the members of the Riddle family present darkened.

It was one thing for them to fight for power and profit within the family, but if an illegitimate child with no blood relationship to the Riddle family became the heir of the Riddle family, the whole family would become a complete joke.

Facing the hateful gazes from the Riddle family, Kaitlyn was extremely scared. "Mom, grandma, save me..." Manny's face twitched uncontrollably. "Leon, you're talking nonsense!" Kaitlyn and Ache are Hunter's children, there's absolutely no mistake about that! Daphne looked at the miserable crying Kaitlyn and thought of Ache, who had suffered from heart disease since childhood. She couldn't bear it. "Nina, there must be some misunderstanding. Kaitlyn and Ache did a paternity test with your second uncle when they came home. They must be the children of the Riddle family..." Leon gave her a cold sneer and mocked, "Feel free to check. If she can establish a relationship with the Riddle family, I will give the Riddle family's power directly to the second branch!" As soon as Leon spoke, Manny and Daphne were about to defend themselves, but the Riddle family members present couldn't hold back any longer and erupted in anger.

One of the highest-ranking neutral elders shouted angrily, "Enough! Find a doctor and check it now!" Daphne looked at Kaitlyn's pitiful crying appearance and couldn't bear it. "No, if their blood relationship is checked on the spot, what should Ache and Kaitlyn do in the future?" "Shut up!" The elder glared at Daphne furiously. "Compared to the century-old foundation of the Riddle family, what is their reputation worth?" "Daphne, I warn you to straighten out your identity and position. If you can't distinguish right from wrong and continue to be biased, you don't have to wait until we open the ancestral hall. Get out of the Riddle family right now!" Daphne's face changed. She had been the mistress of the Riddle family for so many years, and no one had ever dared to be so rude to her except for Selena, the troublemaker.

She was about to reprimand the speaker, but she raised her head and saw all the Riddle family members, including those who had previously supported Manny, staring at her with extremely angry and dissatisfied eyes.

Daphne felt a jolt in her heart. "I am the mistress of the Riddle family. How dare you..." "So you know you are the mistress of the Riddle family!" The elder snorted heavily. "If you hadn't said that, I would have thought you were one of these insidious creatures sent to undermine our Riddle family's bloodline!" As he said this, his gaze swept fiercely over Manny.

Obviously, Leon's words had left a huge shadow in the hearts of all the Riddle family members.

If Kaitlyn and Ache were really not of the Riddle family bloodline, the scene today would be enough to make the entire Riddle family feel disgraced and become the laughingstock of the entire capital city.

If it really came to that point, the Riddle family members would definitely tear Manny apart alive! Daphne was so angry that she had a heart attack, but in the face of those cold and dissatisfied faces, she ultimately didn't dare to speak out in opposition again.

After lecturing Daphne, the elder turned around and looked at Maddox.

Maddox stood there with a blank expression, showing no extra emotions towards Leon's words.

It was as if Ache wasn't a descendant of the Riddle family, and he had no effect on him.

A strange emotion flashed in the heart of this elder of the Riddle family. "To be fair, neither the first nor the second branch of the family should interfere with the doctor's affairs. Let us handle it ourselves. What do you think?" Daphne showed no extra emotions on her face. After a moment, she spoke like a machine, "If it is proven that Ache is really a blood relative of the Riddle family in the end, then Leon is slandering his own brothers and sisters. Such a person with a corrupt character is not worthy of being the young master of my Riddle family!" "The first branch of the Riddle family is expelled from the Riddle Group!" As soon as this was said, there was another uproar on the scene, and some people couldn't contain their anger anymore.

"He's crazy! Maddox is really crazy!" "... Does Maddox have a brain tumor? Does he know what he's saying?!" "Stupidity is contagious. I used to think that Daphne was inhuman, but now I suddenly feel that compared to Daphne, Maddox is the devil..." "The Riddle family is insane. I don't know why, but I have a feeling that even if it is proven later that the illegitimate child is not a blood relative of the Riddle family, Maddox will still say something like, 'even if Riddle Group has a bastard, it won't be given to the young master of the Riddle family...' "Has he been cursed?! I sincerely suggest that the Riddle family find a doctor to check Maddox's brain carefully and see if he has been controlled or replaced. Otherwise, he won't be able to such a thing..." The Riddle family looked grim.

Leon was indifferent, lazily sitting on the side and asking in a low voice, "Grandpa, there's no need for you to expel us. I announce now that the first branch of the Riddle family is officially leaving the Riddle family." "From now on, whether the Riddle family is good or bad, it has nothing to do with me." The crowd was in an uproar.

The Riddle family was in a panic.

"Leon, don't be impulsive--" "Young master, the matter is not yet concluded. Don't rush to leave the Riddle family. If it is proven in the end that the illegitimate child is a fake, the Riddle family is still yours..."

Chapter 1462 Face Slap!

Chapter 1462 Face Slap! The members of the Riddle family were in a state of panic, especially after Leon's rise to power. The entire Riddle family had become the supreme power in the unpredictable capital city, sitting firmly in one of the four major family seats.

The precondition for their support of Ache's rise to power was that the Riddle family would remain the leader of the influential and wealthy families.

However, if Leon were to leave the Riddle family with his first branch, this outcome would not be guaranteed! Leon's ability, both in terms of reputation and connections, was unmatched in the entire Riddle family. If he were to leave, he would undoubtedly take away a significant portion of the Riddle family's foundation.

Even if they supported Ache's victory, the Riddle family empire would still fall apart entirely.

Moreover, there was a looming threat from Selena in the background! Everyone knew that Selena had not acted against the Riddle family because of Hattie.

Once Hattie left with Leon, Selena would not hesitate to strike at the Riddle family.

At that time, it would not be a question of whether or not they could maintain their status as an influential and wealthy family but whether or not they could even survive.

What was even more infuriating was that the Ache they supported was likely not even related to the Riddle family by blood! All the members of the Riddle family present had extremely ashen expressions on their faces.

One of the elders who had been pushed out advised, "Leon, we understand that you're upset, but don't say anything rash. No matter what, you're still the eldest grandson of the Riddle family. The Riddle's has relied on you all these years to get to where it is now. You can't just leave like that." Leon's tone was indifferent. "Do I look like I'm joking, Uncle Sam?" The members of the Riddle family were immediately frozen in place.

Even Daphne was panicked. "Leon, what are you talking about? The Riddle family only has you and Ache as sons. The entire Riddle family's future is in your hands. Why take things to the point of separation...?" Leon sneered, losing all interest in talking to Daphne.

Daphne's words had completely angered the Riddle family.

"Enough! It's all your fault with this woman!" Uncle Sam glared fiercely at Manny. "Who do you think you are? How dare you try to be the master of my Riddle family?" "What makes you think you're qualified to expel the legitimate young master of the Riddle family?!" "I'm telling you, if Ache is not truly a blood family of the Riddle family, I'll skin you alive!" "Go up there and bring her down for me!" "A despicable person with an improper identity dares to act on behalf of the Riddle family. Are you all a bunch of idiots?!" Manny's face twisted in an instant.

She clearly heard Leon let out a cold laugh, which made her tremble with anger. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

But the Riddle family members who had previously supported and endorsed her did not regard her as highly as before.

It's a joke. Once Ache is proven to be a fake, Manny will be lucky to escape being torn apart by them, let alone successfully taking over and becoming the new ruler of the Riddle family, fulfilling the promises of benefits she made to them? That's a joke! Some people were afraid of being hated by Manny and wanted to speak up for her, but when faced with the gloomy expressions of the elders in the Riddle family, they ultimately remained silent.

It must be said that Leon's move was too ruthless.

Even though the matter had not been finalized, the power of one hundred and eight paternity tests was undeniable.

He directly and permanently sent Manny from heaven to hell! In front of everyone's eyes, Manny was dragged down from the stage by the security guard.

The woman's already pale face turned even whiter, she was staring at Leon's eyes as if she wanted to eat him alive.

Or maybe she was staring at another person who was watching the live stream through Leon.

She knew that this was definitely Selena's doing! That little bitch always liked to unexpectedly drag them down from their moment of triumph.

Leah, who she had nurtured, was gradually destroyed by Selena in this way.

Now, Selena was using the same method on her.

At the moment when Manny was about to succeed, Selena kicked her down from the joy of finally realizing her obsession over the years.

Using the most painful and crazy way that made Manny suffer the most! Selena destroyed her ambition, shattered her obsession, and trampled on her self-esteem...

Selena wanted her to never turn over! Selena! Through the screen, Selena looked at those crazy, cold, and devilish eyes and smiled coldly, "What a beautiful expression..." Unfortunately, because her body was not fully recovered yet, and she didn't like to get involved in the internal struggles of the Riddle family, she didn't go to the scene. Otherwise, she could have enjoyed it and trampled on Manny again.

Selena felt regretful.

Leia sat aside making tea and heard Selena's laughter. Curiously, she asked, "Madam Selena, are those two children really not from the Riddle family?" Given Manny's cruel and scheming nature, she would not likely use two fake Riddle family descendants to deceive the Riddle family members. It would be too easily discovered. She does not seem like someone who would leave such a big handle.

Selena lightly laughed, "They are indeed the Riddle family's children." Leia paused in making tea and was dumbfounded, "What?" Ache and Kaitlyn are descendants of the Riddle family? Leia's big round eyes widened, "What about the paternity tests..." Could they all be fake? But it doesn't make sense. Manny would never easily give up and would definitely demand an immediate test. What if the plan gets exposed then? The young girl became anxious, "Madam Selena..." Selena lowered her eyes and elegantly sipped her tea, "They won't be able to find out." Leia unconditionally trusted Selena, so when Selena said they won't find out, the young girl immediately calmed down. She then remembered that Selena had once asked her to deliver a letter to Leon.

This was the only time Selena had contacted Leon after the conflict within the Riddle family had arisen. It was likely that Selena had teamed up with Leon to plan this scheme.

"Madam Selena, I still don't understand. They are clearly the Riddle family's children, so why won't they be able to find out..." As far as she knew, Selena was not someone who would threaten others to make false testimonies.

However, she was confident that the only result she got from others was "Ache and Kaitlyn are not descendants of the Riddle family." Selena smiled and looked at Manny's resentful face on the screen. "I only told the young master of the Riddle family that our Lab 717 has a drug that can temporarily change a person's blood type within two years..." The rest was up to Leon.

After a second or two of daze, Leia immediately praised loudly, "Madam Selena, you're getting smarter and smarter to come up with such a method!" Selena, "...". She inexplicably felt a strange taste in the young girl's praise.

Selena's hand supported her chin...

Chapter 1463 Evidence

Chapter 1463 Evidence Selena propped her chin up with her hand, her gaze fixed on Manny in the live broadcast, her eyes deep and contemplative.

After Manny was expelled from the stage, Uncle Sam took a deep breath and looked at Maddox sternly. "Although the Riddle family is currently headed by your clan, it does not mean that you can wantonly ruin the foundation of the Riddle family!" "If Ache is a descendant of the Riddle family, we can refrain from participating in the succession battle." "But if Ache is not of the Riddle family's blood, we old folks will never allow the Riddle family to fall into the hands of a bastard, even if we have to fight to the death!" "Use your brain, it's uncertain whether Ache is your grandson or not, but Non-Leaving is definitely the eldest grandson of the Riddle family. To shake the foundation of the Riddle family for a illegitimate child and to expel your own grandson from the family, you are truly stupid!" In the face of this stern reprimand, Maddox remained firm in his views. "If the paternity test proves that Ache is a descendant of the Riddle family, then the heir of the Riddle family must be Ache!" Facing Maddox's stubbornness, the group of elders in the Riddle family felt a sense of despair, thinking that Maddox was beyond saving.

Manny stared at Leon and smiled smugly.

Leon remained unmoved and only let out a deep breath upon hearing the assistant's report that the monitoring showed that Fraser had taken Hattie away.

Now all he could do was pray that Selena would be able to protect Hattie.

Uncle Sam glanced at Leon's cold face and heavily tapped his cane, saying loudly, "The Riddle family has some connections with several military doctors from Zone Six, and I will invite three of them to come and do the paternity test on the spot!" He cast an unfriendly gaze at Kaitlyn, making her tremble. "Let everyone see whether these two children are truly of the Riddle family's blood!" In the lull of the paternity test being conducted nervously in the Riddle's building, Hattie stared fixedly at the video in her hand.

Her dark eyes were filled with blood, her body shaking uncontrollably as she witnessed her mother being brutally killed, gradually dying in a horrific manner, but she never flinched or looked away for a moment.

The "electronic eye" she held in her hand recorded all the scenes she saw clearly.

She had obtained this "electronic eye" from Selena in advance.

As long as there was a signal, Hattie could send out the video she had captured at the fastest speed possible.

But the other party had clearly been aware of her and had already cut off the signals in the entire building in advance.

Hattie recorded the video, but she couldn't immediately send it out.

Moreover, the only recognizable culprit in the video was Hunter, not the woman! She stared at the screen tightly, trying hard to find evidence that could identify the woman.

Suddenly, heavy footsteps echoed in the silent space.

The girl's hair stood on end instantly.

Her intuition told her that danger was approaching and that she should avoid it at this moment. But she couldn't give up...

She had worked so hard to find this place and was so close to uncovering the truth about her mother's death.

Hattie was like a stone, motionless in place, allowing the demon's grim footsteps to gradually approach her.

The video, which had been on the wall for half an hour, was now at a critical point.

If it were an ordinary person, they would have gone crazy countless times in the short half hour.

But this thirteen-year-old girl did not lose her mind.

She stood straight in place, her dark eyes wide open, staring motionlessly and firmly.

Except for those eyes, which were bloodshot, no one could see her pain. The sharp and cold gaze made the group of people who were watching this scene through the monitor, as if it were a joke, shudder.

At this moment, they had a clear understanding: they absolutely could not let this girl leave here alive! Otherwise, someday, she would hold the revenge blade against their necks.

Deacon, who incited Hunter to kill Hattie, opened the intercom and said harshly, "What are you waiting for? Go in and kill her now!" Hunter was standing outside the operating room at this moment. Perhaps it was because he remembered that his wife had died in this place, and he had personally signed the consent form to give her heart to Ache, and he even stood at the door and heard her crying and screaming... Hunter suddenly shuddered.

When he hesitated, he heard Deacon's voice.

Hunter snapped out of those haunting dark memories and looked at the door oozing with cold air, feeling a heavy, cold, and painful sensation in his heart.

His eyes cleared for a moment.

Deacon noticed his strange expression and said coldly, "That little bitch has a recording on her. She recorded all the videos.

Even if you don't care about your life, she will soon see the image of your wife." "Once she sends the stuff out, it won't be just you who dies. Your wife will also become a killer, be cursed, and sentenced to death..." Hunter heard this and the momentary clarity in his eyes disappeared again.

He had only one thought in his mind.

Hattie would harm Manny, so she couldn't be allowed to live! The man pushed open the door in front of him.

In the dim light, Hattie stared at the video in front of her, finally seeing the image she wanted to see the most.

After her mother died, someone pushed open the door of the operating room from outside.

A woman walked in gracefully, took a glance at the people lying on the operating table with wide-open eyes, and said, "What a bad omen!" Then she turned and left.

Hattie stared at the woman's figure, her eyes almost oozing blood.

Behind her, Hunter raised the gun in his hand and mercilessly aimed the dark barrel at the girl's head.

"Click." Hattie's "electronic eye" finished recording the entire video segment.

At the same time, Hunter pulled the trigger.

Inside the Riddle's building, the three doctors invited from Zone Six took Kaitlyn and Leon's hair for a paternity test.

As a precaution, the Riddle family also used hair samples from other members of the Riddle family.

Everyone was waiting for the final results.

Leon's expression became increasingly anxious, worried about Hattie.

Manny, on the other hand, stood calmly in place, with a look of humiliation on her face.

She looked at Kaitlyn, who was crying in her arms, and smiled, "No matter what means you use, Leon, you cannot change the fact that Ache and Kaitlyn are of the Riddle family bloodline..." To Manny, this was an unshakable fact.

In her opinion, Leon's final move would be those 108 paternity test reports.

Chapter 1464 Missing

Chapter 1464 Missing Furthermore, these three doctors were all arranged by Leon.

Manny's gaze swept heavily over the three doctors who were invited by Uncle Sam, and he sneered, "Call Dr. Johnson and ask her to bring Hunter's hair to the scene for a DNA test with Kaitlyn on the spot!" "Also, send someone to bring the young master over!" Manny's voice was not lowered, causing a lot of people to look over.

"Is she suspecting that the military doctors in Zone Six will cheat?!" "This woman, who is accustomed to conspiracies and tricks, thinks that everyone is as ruthless as her..." "But she is so sure, could it be that these twins are really from the Riddle family?" The elders of the Riddle family had dark faces in response to Manny's actions, but they didn't say anything.

Leon remained calm and didn't bother to look over.

It was the nurses who came to help from Zone Six who were dissatisfied with Manny's behavior.

Inside the villa, Selena calmly put down the bowl in her hand and said in a soft voice, "Let the people outside the hospital take action. Ache cannot appear in public before the shareholder meeting is over." Leia immediately conveyed Selena's order.

Selena walked to the front of the pavilion and picked a flower.

The only one who had their blood relationship changed was Kaitlyn.

Ache's heart was fragile and couldn't withstand that kind of drug. In consideration of him saving Hattie and not doing anything evil, Selena didn't use the drug on him.

After this DNA test meeting, the whole of H Country would know that Kaitlyn and Ache were not of the Riddle family bloodline.

They were destined to be illegitimate children without a known father for their whole lives and would be gossiped about wherever they went.

Perhaps this was cruel to the two children, but for Hattie's sake, they couldn't be the Riddle family's children.

Only when these twin's existence no longer posed a threat to Hattie could Leon and Selena tolerate their existence.

Kaitlyn has a twisted personality. If she were to hold herself as a miss from the Riddle family, she would be as determined as Hattie and it would be difficult to ensure that she wouldn't become the second Manny.

Ache has the heart of Hattie's mother in his body.

Selena remembered the reason why Ache had a heart disease.

A chill passed through Selena's eyes. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leia's voice interrupted Selena's thoughts, "Madam Selena, the people guarding the hospital said that the child is missing..." Selena suddenly startled.

As the bullet was about to hit Hattie's forehead, a figure suddenly rushed over and just managed to push Hattie away.

With a bang, the bullet grazed Hattie's cheek and embedded itself in the wall.

Hattie fell heavily to the ground.

She put the "electronic eye" in her hand into her pocket.

Before she could get up, someone grabbed her wrist and ran towards the door.

Hunter looked at the person who suddenly appeared here to save Hattie and froze in place. "Ache... what are you doing..." The people in the monitoring room also stared in amazement at Ache who had suddenly appeared from nowhere.

The person who was about to press the remote control looked at Deacon with suspicion, "If they escape from this room, we won't be able to kill this little bastard with the bomb..." The operating room was filled with explosives.

If Hunter failed to kill Hattie, they would press the button to blow up this place and let the father and daughter die together.

It's a perfect way for the family to reunite in the underworld.

In any case, Hattie must not be allowed to take that evidence out.

Chapter 1465 Extreme Good And Evil

Chapter 1465 Extreme Good and Evil But no one expected Ache to run out in the middle.

Regardless, Ache was Manny's child, and without orders, they dared not blow him up along with the others.

Deacon's face turned dark, and he took out his communicator and dialed Manny's number.

In the meantime, Ache had already pulled Hattie and ran out of the operating room.

Hattie looked at the person in front of her.

He was a boy she had never seen before, and his blue hospital gown was visible under his coat. Because of his rapid running, his pale face was sweating profusely.

Even just holding his hand, she could feel his restraint and anxiety.

Hattie looked at his somewhat empty black eyes, her heart beating uncontrollably. A certain sense of palpitation and discomfort rushed through her body and limbs.

Unconsciously, tears streamed down her face as she murmured, "Who are you?" The person in front of her suddenly stiffened.

He didn't answer her question or even dare to look back at her. He just held her hand tightly and said hoarsely and intermittently, "The main entrance is a dead end. Go up..." The entire first floor was filled with bombs. As soon as Hattie showed up, she would meet a gruesome end.

Even if they leveled the entire building, they would not allow Hattie to take the evidence out.

Upon hearing those words, Hattie instantly snapped out of her sudden emotions, turned back and grabbed the person's hand, accelerating her speed as they ran up the stairs.

Manny received Deacon's call and almost went crazy upon hearing that Ache suddenly appeared and saved Hattie.

In her plan, Hattie was never going to walk out of that operating room alive.

And if Hattie died, Leon would not be stable.

At that time, even if there were loopholes in the blood relationship on Kaitlyn's side, she still had Ache as her backup.

Ache was the most important piece in her plan to obtain control of the Riddle Group, and she had kept the child locked up all this time, never allowing him to show his face in public.

Leon and Selena have a chance to go after Kaitlyn, but they absolutely cannot touch Ache.

When Hattie died, Leon became disoriented. Hattie was using Ache to kill in her place, and at that time, the power of the Riddle family would definitely fall into her hands.

However, she didn't expect that her quiet son would give her such a big "surprise" at this critical moment! "Damn it, damn it..." Manny was almost going crazy. Her eyes fell on Kaitlyn with a somewhat crazy look.

Kaitlyn was frightened by her mother's twisted and ferocious face and trembled, "Mom, mom..." Manny stared at her coldly, with no warmth that a mother should have in her eyes. Kaitlyn was trembling under her gaze.

Manny stared at her for a long time before whispering into the phone, "Catch him and send him to the Riddle's building as as possible. As for that little bitch..." There was a strange malice in her tone. "I'll leave it to you to deal with!" As long as she couldn't be sure that everything was foolproof on Kaitlyn's side, she couldn't give up Ache temporarily.

Deacon seemed to smile, "What if the young master insists on protecting her?" After all, Ache was Manny's own flesh and blood. They had to be cautious and discuss the extent of their protection in advance.

A cold and ruthless look flashed in Manny's eyes, "Then kill them both!" Once Hattie brought out the evidence, all of her secrets would be exposed, and years of planning would be ruined. At that time, she might not even have time to wait for Callum to come back.

Anyone who threatened the person who could help her find that man should die, even if it was her own son! There was no need to keep anything that stood in the way of those two bitches.

Kaitlyn couldn't hear what her mother was saying, she just looked at Manny's cold and chilling eyes and felt a bone-chilling fear from the inside out.

Even though they knew that Manny was ruthless, the people who heard this order still felt a chill down their spines.

Deacon put down his phone, looked at Hattie running up from downstairs on the monitor, licked his lips, and a somewhat sick excitement appeared on his face. He picked up the knife next to him and walked out.

He had originally wanted to blow up she, but it would be even more satisfying if she came to him.

The beloved daughter of the Riddle family, who had been pampered and spoiled, must taste good.

Selena heard the news of Ache's disappearance and remained silent for a long time.

Leia stood quietly by, waiting for Selena to finish her thoughts.

Leia's feelings towards Ache were complicated.

He was Manny and Hunter's child, so he wasn't expected to be a good person.

However, when Leia recalled the last time they were at the villa and the young man who woke Hattie up from her coma, she didn't know whether to be happy or sad for her young apprentice.

She was so preoccupied with thoughts of her unfortunate apprentice that she was startled when she suddenly heard Selena's voice say, "White Crow told me something before." Leia looked up and asked, "White Crow?" White Crow was the dean of the International League Medical School. If he had something to tell Selena, it must be related to the Riddle family.

Selena looked in the direction of the hospital, her eyes ice-cold. "Ache's heart disease is not congenital but was caused by deliberate damage." This was something Selena had discovered when she investigated the truth about Hattie's mother's death. Search the FindNøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leia blinked and, after realizing the meaning of Selena's words, took a sharp breath. Her face turned pale, "But that's... her child..." Selena smiled coldly, "Compared to a grandson who has been suffering from heart disease since childhood and has been living on the streets, and a grandson who has been spoiled since childhood and has never suffered, the former is naturally more pitiable..." It was precisely because Ache, who needed a heart transplant, was physically weak and could die at any moment that the Riddle family could ignore and cover up Hattie's mother's death. Those two children were tools that Manny used to seek power within the Riddle family. Tools... were meant to be used without scruples.

This was also the reason why Selena had made an exception for Ache and Kaitlyn.

After the situation in the capital was resolved, Leon should send them abroad. As long as they no longer appeared in front of Hattie, Leon would naturally ensure that they live a stable life.

But Ache disappeared suddenly at this time, and given what had happened last time, he was likely trying to save Hattie.

Someone who could disappear without a trace under the eyes of Manny and his people...

Leia recovered from her fright and felt cold. She hugged her legs and asked softly, "Madam Selena, I heard that the heart has memory. Does Ache treat Miss Hattie well because he received her mother's heart?"

Chapter 1466 I Have To Stay Alive

Chapter 1466 I have to stay alive After a long time, Selena's calm voice came from the garden, "... perhaps." Only Ache knew the answer as to why he was so determined to protect Hattie.

Hattie dragged Ache and ran up to the fifth floor, only to run into someone blocking their way.

The person aimed their gun at Hattie and was about to pull the trigger when Hattie threw the micro-bomb in her hand.

Boom...

Amidst the smoke and dust, Ache pulled Hattie and ran in the opposite direction.

The person blocking their way was instantly killed by the explosion, with only one left with a ferocious expression, wanting to kill Hattie.

Hattie pulled out the gun that Fraser gave her, aimed it at the person, and without hesitation, pulled the trigger.

With a "bang," the man's forehead had a hole in it.

He probably didn't expect to die at the hands of a thirteen-year-old girl, his expression was shocked as he fell to the ground.

In the moment that Hattie killed the man, Ache took out a mini computer, and his pale fingers operated it quickly.

At the same time, the signal in the top floor monitoring room suddenly became unstable, with crackling noises, and the screen flickered on and off.

"What's going on?!" "Someone is hacking into the monitoring system..." "Damn it! It's the young master! When did he learn this?!" "The intercom signal is also being disrupted, where are they now?!" "They are still on the fifth floor, go catch them!" Ache briefly cut off the monitoring screen on the fifth floor, then pulled Hattie into a storage room.

Locking the door from the inside, they didn't have time to catch their breath. Ache worked on destroying the monitoring system throughout the building with his computer.

After about three minutes, Ache took his hands off the keyboard and turned to look at the person next to him.

Hattie sat on the cold floor, hugging her knees, her face was pale, and there was not a drop of blood on her.

She stared at a point in space with a blank expression, after seeing that scene, she had killed someone for the first time...

Ache was pressed against the girl's icy body, his voice hoarse as he struggled to sound gentle. "... It's not your fault." Hattie turned her head with a wooden expression.

When Ache met her gaze, he recoiled as if he had been electrocuted. "... They wanted to kill you, so you killed them. You're a good kid, and the ones who tried to kill you were bad people." Hattie looked at the boy's pale profile, clenched the e-cigarette hidden in her pocket, and said with a trembling voice, "I have to stay alive." "Okay." "No matter what, I have to live. That's my promise..." "Okay, you will definitely live." Suddenly, footsteps approached from outside the door, and two teenagers who had been whispering quietly stiffened their backs.

Inside the Riddle's building, concerning the hundred-year foundation of the Riddle family, the family members were anxious to know the truth and borrowed the world's most advanced technology from Zone Six.

As a result, the results came out quickly.

Three military doctors walked out of the room almost at the same time, and the Riddle family and various media present all focused their attention on the results in their hands. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

the Riddle family members anxiously asked, "What's the result?!" "Is that child really from our Riddle family?!" Uncle Sam gestured for the Riddle family to be quiet, approached with a solemn expression, and asked, "Dr. Campbell, what's the result?" Manny looked at the Riddle family's angry reaction with a sneer.

It's a fact that Ache and Kaitlyn are Hunter's children, and Selena and Leon can't change that fact even if they're resourceful! The doctor being asked pushed up his glasses and looked at the Riddle family present. "Are you sure you want to announce it now?" After all, this privacy matter concerned the face of the large family. Generally, such events would not be made public unless necessary.

Manny looked at Leon coldly and sneered, "Ache and Kaitlyn are blood relatives of the Riddle family, and I am absolutely confident about this! Doctors, please announce the results publicly!" Seeing Manny's confident stance, Daphne, who had been nervous, felt relieved.

She walked to Leon and advised him with a sad tone, "Leon, stop making trouble. Your second uncle promised me that as long as you don't harm Ache and Kaitlyn, he won't shake your position in the Riddle family." "He only did those things to protect Ache and Kaitlyn." "The Riddle family is so big, and you and Ache are only two brothers. Why bother to make it to this point?!" "You two are brothers after all..." Leon just called Selena and learned about Hattie's situation. His face looked anxious. When he heard Daphne's well-intentioned advice, he couldn't help but laugh in anger, "The bastard is my own brother. Who is the one that is not related? Selena?" Daphne choked, recalling the recent turmoil in the Riddle family. The humiliation of Kaitlyn and Ache being suspected not to be of the Riddle bloodline couldn't be suppressed any longer. "Isn't that right?" "Before Selena returned to the capital, you didn't have such great hostility towards Ache and Kaitlyn, let alone the cruelty to kill your own brother and sister!" "But what about after she returned? Penelope was thrown into prison, Hattie hated me to the bone, and even you began to blame me..." "The Riddle family used to be so well-off. Now, brothers have turned against each other, the foundation is in chaos, and they have become a laughingstock of the entire capital. Isn't it all because of her?!" Daphne became increasingly sad as she spoke, shouting with a resentful face, "What did that scheming woman say to you and Hattie? Why did she make you both so unrecognizable, unable to distinguish right from wrong?" "Leon, how can you bring yourself to do such a wicked thing to your own brother?" Leon looked at Daphne's eyes, without any warmth, not even a hint of disappointment, "So, in your heart, you have never acknowledged Aunt Nevaeh as your own daughter." "Your daughter has always been Kiera." "Aunt Nevaeh was just a revengeful enemy who snatched away Kiera's identity and favor. If it weren't for her being the true bloodline of the Riddle family, you wouldn't have driven her out. You wouldn't even allow her to return to the Riddle family to bother Kiera." "You don't like Aunt Nevaeh. You resent her, detest her, just like you hate her daughter." "Whatever she does, it's wrong in your eyes." "She should have given up her identity and her man to Kiera since she was born. Since she didn't, she should die." "Not just Aunt Nevaeh, but all of the Riddle bloodlines, Hattie, me, even Father, are inferior to Kiera and her children in your heart. Any Riddle bloodline that affects Kiera and her children should die..." Daphne's face suddenly turned ugly, shaking her head in panic, "No, I never thought that way. It was Selena who did something wrong..." mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWL1i10fif1O&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO&1

Chapter 1467 All Efforts Wasted

Chapter 1467 All Efforts Wasted Leon suddenly reached out and grabbed Daphne's chin, forcing her to raise her face. "Is that so? Then listen carefully. Are the two illegitimate children you have been protecting really the children of my Riddle family?" Daphne was struck with fear by his eyes, which had never been so cold before.

Uncle Sam took a deep breath. "Please speak." The Riddle family had been humiliated enough, so she didn't care about this one more thing. However, when it came to the issue of the bloodline of the heir, there could be no mistakes! Under the tense and anxious gaze of everyone present, the several doctors from Zone Six looked at each other, and one of them picked up the test results in his hand. "According to the test results..." The military doctor paused for a moment and looked at Kaitlyn and Leon's faces before continuing, "Miss Kaitlyn and Mr. Leon do not have a blood relationship!" The atmosphere on the scene suddenly became frozen.

The members of the Riddle family all looked defeated.

Daphne's old face suddenly stiffened, and her body shook. Search The FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Manny's proud smile also stiffened, and her vicious gaze stared angrily at the military doctor. "This is impossible! Kaitlyn must be the Riddle family's child!" Such a direct refutation was already an open statement. This doctor had been bought by Leon.

The old military doctor looked at Manny coldly, threw the things in his hand to the media present, and turned and left.

The other two military doctors glared at Manny dissatisfiedly. One of them said, "The test results from my side show that Miss Kaitlyn and Mr. Riddle Tianhua are not related by blood!" After speaking, Maddox threw the results to the Riddle family members and left.

The last doctor didn't hesitate to throw the test results directly at Manny. "The test results from my side show that Miss Kaitlyn and Miss Hattie are not related by blood!" Upon hearing the three negative test results, Manny's certainty suddenly cracked.

She suddenly looked up at Leon and glared at him. "This is impossible! Kaitlyn and Ache must be the Riddle family's children!" After a moment of frozen silence, the atmosphere on the scene exploded.

"Oh my god! These twins are really not the Riddle family's children..." "Hunter harmed his wife and daughter for them, but in the end, they turned out to be two illegitimate children..." "Just for these two illegitimate children, the Riddle family has driven out the eldest young master and the eldest young miss, destroyed their foundation, and gave them the position of the Riddle family's heir. There is no bigger joke than this..." "The Riddle family of the capital, a century-old prestigious family, has promoted two illegitimate children with unknown fathers.

What kind of absurdity is this..." As the members of the Riddle family heard those shocking and mocking words, their faces twisted collectively.

Everyone glared at Manny and Kaitlyn with angry eyes, wishing to skin and pull out their tendons, and tear them apart.

Kaitlyn was so scared by those faces that she hid behind Manny. Manny's face also twisted, and she shouted sharply, "This can't be true! There must be something wrong with the test results! Kaitlyn must be the child of the Riddle family!" "She must be the child of the Riddle family!" She designed Hunter years ago, stole his sperm, and artificially gave birth to a pair of twins. They couldn't be anyone else's children but the Riddle family's! Manny grabbed Dr. Johnson, who had just walked out of another conference room, and shouted frantically, "Tell them! Kaitlyn is the blood of the Riddle family!" Dr. Johnson looked at her hesitantly, trembling, "Madam..." Manny looked at her dodging eyes and suddenly had an extremely ominous premonition in her heart.

She snatched the test results from his hand and saw the final result at first glance.

Kaitlyn and Hunter did not have a parent-child blood relationship! Manny suddenly went black in front of her eyes.

Dr. Johnson was her person, and he wouldn't dare to deceive her about this issue.

It must be Selena! She has Lab 717! She must have used some means to change Kaitlyn's blood type! Manny dragged Kaitlyn out from behind her and shook her arms frantically, "Tell me! What did Leon do to you?! What did they do to you?!" Leon took Kaitlyn away from the Riddle family before.

They all thought he took Kaitlyn away to restrain her and not let her go after Hattie. But protecting Hattie may be just a cover.

His real purpose was to manipulate Kaitlyn's blood type! Kaitlyn looked at her mother's twisted face and was scared to tears, "Mom, I don't know, I don't know..." After Leon took her away, she was only locked up in a villa and not abused.

Besides being frightened, she ate and slept normally and didn't know what had happened. Therefore, Kaitlyn couldn't say anything...

Manny was crazily tearing Kaitlyn's clothes and tearing her sleeves apart to check her arms, trying to find any unusual wounds on Kaitlyn's body.

But Kaitlyn was clean and there was nothing on her.

Manny went insane and kept tearing at Kaitlyn, shouting, "Tell me! What did Leon and that slut Selena do to you?!" Kaitlyn was bruised all over and her voice was hoarse from crying, "Mom, I didn't do anything, I don't know..." The hoarse crying of she made many women present show their compassion. They looked at Manny's crazy expression and some of them angrily rebuked her, "Madwoman! Even if you tear your daughter into pieces, it won't change the fact that she's not a member of the Riddle family bloodline!"

"You did this ugly thing yourself, but you're pushing the blame onto your daughter, you lunatic!" "This woman doesn't have any motherly traits at all. These two children are just tools for her to gain power in the Riddle family.

The real person who wants to plot the Riddle family's power is this crazy woman who has nothing to do with the Riddle family!" The Riddle family members couldn't bear it anymore. An elder picked up his cane and smashed it towards Manny's head, shouting, "Bitch!!!" Manny was caught off guard and was hit on the head, and her face was immediately covered in bright red blood.

She fell to the ground with a "thud", looking like an evil spirit, glaring at Leon, "Kaitlyn and Ache must be Riddle family's children.

Leon, what did you and that slut Selena do to her?!" She turned her head and shouted uncontrollably at the people behind her, "Bring Ache over here! Bring Ache over here now!!" She had planned for twenty years to become the real owner of the Riddle family. She even endured the disgust of giving birth to a useless man like Hunter... It was not easy for her to get to this point today. Seeing that she had already touched the edge of victory, how could she tolerate failure at this moment?

Chapter 1468 Shattered Obsession

Chapter 1468 Shattered Obsession Manny pulled out her phone and ordered, "Bring Ache over here! Spare no effort and bring him here immediately!" After tossing her phone aside, Manny glared fiercely at Leon and said, "I don't believe it! Kaitlyn and Ache must be children of the Riddle family. There must be something wrong with these test reports!" "What did you and that slut Selena do to Kaitlyn?!" she shouted.

The people from Zone Six who had come to help were already unhappy with Manny's attitude. They never expected that even after the results were out, she would still accuse the reports of being wrong. Their faces turned cold.

"What do you mean?! Do you think that all the doctors who are busy with their work have been bought by Leo and Miss Turner just to frame you?!" they retorted.

Because of her extreme resentment, the wounds on Manny's face that had not yet healed burst open, and a large amount of bright red blood seeped out. She glared hatefully at everyone present.

"Ache and Kaitlyn must be the Riddle family's children!" "Selena tampered with Kaitlyn's blood, and you useless people can't even find out! Useless! All of you are useless!!" Everyone who heard this was so angry that they laughed.

The several military doctors from Zone Six immediately dropped what they were doing and their expressions turned cold.

"Not only are we useless, but all 108 hospitals are useless!" "The threshold of the Riddle family is too high, we are not skilled enough to testify. We will take our leave!" the Riddle family watched as the angry military doctors left, and their anger reached its peak.

They had worked hard to establish some sort of relationship with Zone Six, but it had taken a lot of effort to get these doctors to come.

It was well known that as an excellent doctor, you could question anything about them, except their medical skills.

Manny's "useless" remark had destroyed the relationship that the Riddle family had painstakingly established.

The elders of the Riddle family covered their hearts, trembling as they pointed at Manny and shouted, "What are you all waiting for?! Arrest this slut for me!" After it was exposed that Kaitlyn was not of the Riddle family bloodline, the entire Riddle family was filled with hatred towards Manny.

Upon hearing this, several people who were closer to Manny immediately approached to grab her.

Manny's eyes were like a cold venomous snake, staring at the Riddle family, screaming with a voice that was almost hoarse from anger, "Ache and Kaitlyn are the Riddle family's bloodline! They must be the Riddle family's bloodline!" Seeing this, even those who were enjoying the spectacle of the Riddle family couldn't bear it anymore. "Enough! With so many paternity tests, not a single one has proven that the child you gave birth to is of the Riddle family's lineage. The facts are right in front of you, yet you still refuse to admit it. It's simply insane!" "This woman is crazy! Even an outsider like me can't stand it anymore. The hospitals that issued the 108 paternity tests that you've been questioning have all issued statements vouching for the authenticity of their results with their own reputation!" "One hospital is wronging you?! Do you mean to say that all 108 hospitals, including the military hospitals in Zone Six and the doctors you hired, are all wronging you?!" "This woman is a top-notch mistress in the world of third parties. She's managed to earn the 'honor' of being shameless and having so many world-renowned hospitals vouch for her reputation. It's truly a unique 'honor' throughout history!" "Instead of shouting these useless words here, why don't you hurry up and reveal who the biological father of these children is? You gave birth to a bastard with some wild man and made the Second Master of the Riddle family take the blame. It almost became the leader of the Riddle family. We can't bear to watch anymore..." Each word of questioning and denial felt like countless knives torturing Manny's heart.

Everyone was saying that Kaitlyn and Ache were bastards! Not a single person believed that they were the Riddle family's children! After years of planning, it was all destroyed in an instant! Manny completely fell apart.

Her eyes were red as she stared fiercely at Leon.

The gloomy and resentful look in her eyes made the Riddle family members who were about to grab her shudder. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leon looked at Manny, whose face was gray and defeated, and his icy gaze fell on Daphne, whose face was equally cold and old.

"Do you see now? This is what you sacrificed your granddaughter, your grandson, and the entire Riddle family's legacy to protect..." It seems that until now, she couldn't believe that Kaitlyn and Ache, whom she had been wholeheartedly protecting, were not actually descendants of the Riddle family...

"This can't be... this can't be..." She had been taking care of Kaitlyn and Ache for so long, only to find out that they were not blood-related to the Riddle family...

Leon was not surprised by her reaction.

He sneered, "Twenty years ago, you sacrificed a daughter of the Riddle family for that bitch Kiera." "Fifteen years ago, you sacrificed a granddaughter of the Riddle family for Penelope." "Twenty years later, you sacrificed a granddaughter and half of the Riddle family's power for Kaitlyn and Ache." "Your whole life has been about sacrificing the Riddle family's blood for outsiders!" Leon's grip on her jaw tightened, almost crushing it. "How can you, someone who eats from both sides, be worthy of being the lady of the Riddle family?!" After he finished speaking, Leon pushed Daphne hard.

Daphne stumbled back several steps and only managed to stabilize herself with the help of her maid.

She looked up and met Leon's cold and angry eyes.

Those icy eyes seemed to be looking at a heinous criminal...

Daphne's body trembled uncontrollably.

Leon's words were like the sharpest knife, piercing deep into her heart.

She instinctively wanted to deny it, to say that she didn't...

But the words got stuck in her throat.

Did she not? Did she not sacrifice Nevaeh for Kiera? Did she not sacrifice Selena for Penelope? Did she not sacrifice Hattie for Kaitlyn and Ache? She had always believed that her actions were for the good of the Riddle family's future generations. She had sacrificed Selena and Hattie only when she had no other choice...

So she had always felt justified and at peace with herself.

But in the end, she had been protecting two bastards who had no blood ties with the Riddle family...

All along, she had been hurting the Riddle family's blood for outsiders.

And now, her granddaughter hated her so much that she refused to set foot in the Riddle family's house for the rest of her life.

Her grandson hated her so much that he looked at her with such cold and lifeless eyes, despite having been the most respectful and accommodating towards her in the past.

Daphne suddenly realized that all of her grandchildren seemed to have left her...

Chapter 1469 The Final Result

Chapter 1469 The Final Result An unprecedented panic suddenly struck Daphne. She covered her face and cried out in pain, "I didn't mean it, Ache and Kaitlyn..." She never imagined that Kaitlyn and Ache were not children of the Riddle family.

The elders of the Riddle family glared at her with anger. "Because of a few illegitimate children, you have harmed all the legitimate daughters of our Riddle family and destroyed half of the Riddle family's foundation!" "For such a foolish and malicious person, there's no need to wait for the ancestral shrine ceremony. I announce now that Daphne is expelled from the Riddle family!" "From now on, she has nothing to do with the Riddle family!" Daphne was stunned, and in a panic, she looked up and said, "No--" As the mistress of the Riddle family for most of her life, once she was driven out of the Riddle family, not only would she feel disgraced, but she would also lose her livelihood.

However, what she faced were angry and disgusted faces.

the Riddle family members at this moment looked at her with eyes that wished they could torture her.

No one had any objections to this decision.

Daphne looked at Leon and cried, "Leon, I am your grandmother. I have loved you the most since you were a child. You cannot treat your grandmother like this..." Leon walked coldly to Daphne's ear and whispered, "Aunt Nevaeh died, her daughter died too, Hattie may never come back again. Do you think you deserve the Riddle family's protection and forgiveness?" Daphne looked bewildered, as if she didn't understand the meaning of Leon's words.

What does he mean... Ache's daughter died? But Leon had no intention of explaining. After he said these words, he didn't even look at Daphne and turned around by himself.

Daphne wanted to explain, but the elders of the Riddle family had lost their patience. "Daphne, if it weren't for your bias and indulgence, how could the Riddle family lose three young ladies in a row?" They didn't talk about Nevaeh's matter, as almost everyone in the Riddle family had agreed to give up on her at the beginning.

But Selena, if it weren't for Daphne and Maddox's concealment, they could have had a powerful and talented young lady.

Finally, they had Hattie, who had a good relationship with Selena and had hopes of repairing their relationship, but because of Daphne's malice and stupidity, they lost even Hattie, the bridge between them.

Now, the Riddle family has become a laughingstock, and Leon wants to break away from the Riddle family...

Thinking of this, the Riddle family members couldn't conceal their bone-chilling anger.

"Since you have harmed the blood of our Riddle family like this, what qualifications do you have to be the mistress of our Riddle family?!" "What are you waiting for?! Drive her out now!" The security guards of the Riddle family received orders and went forward to capture Daphne. Daphne had lived a luxurious life for most of her life and never thought that she would one day be publicly expelled from the Riddle family. She immediately burst into tears and cried out, "Stop! Have you all gone crazy?" "Leon, are you just going to watch as they treat your own grandmother like this?" Unfortunately, no matter how she shouted and scolded, Leon remained unmoved.

In front of everyone, Daphne was humiliated and expelled from the Riddle family.

From this moment on, everyone in the capital would know that Daphne was no longer the mistress of the Riddle family.

However, when people remembered what she had done in the past, there were not many who could sympathize with her.

Manny watched as Daphne was driven away, and her heart sank.

She suddenly realized that this grand paternity test had completely nailed Kaitlyn and Ache to the shame column of illegitimate children! Even if Ache was brought to the scene, no one would believe that they were the Riddle family's children.

For the rest of their lives, they could only be illegitimate children of unknown fathers, and she could never become the real master of the Riddle family.

Manny's face suddenly turned cold, and she rushed up to the stage like a crazy person, grabbing Maddox and shouting hysterically, "Tell them! Ache is the rightful heir of the Riddle family! Ache is the legitimate inheritor of the Riddle family!" She wanted to seize the power of the Riddle family, and be the true master of the Riddle family, even if it meant exposing everything! Everyone thought Manny had gone mad.

Maddox, who had always been biased and useless, could never let an illegitimate child become the heir of the Riddle family.

However, after Manny finished speaking, Maddox, who had been in the background, suddenly spoke up and declared, "I announce that Ache will be the next heir of the Riddle family!" There was an uproar on stage and off.

"He's gone mad! Maddox has gone mad! He must have been cursed by this crazy woman! Quick, go check his brain!" The Riddle family members were completely driven crazy by anger. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The elder who was in charge of the situation shouted angrily, "Arrest this crazy woman! Take her down immediately!" The scene immediately became chaotic.

Leon looked at the expressionless Maddox and his gaze fell on Manny. He sneered, "From today onwards, the Riddle family's main line officially secedes from the Riddle family! The Riddle Corporation and the Riddle family's main line have no relation whatsoever!" Manny lifted her head abruptly upon hearing this and stared at Leon intensely.

Leon coldly looked down at her and said, "What is the Riddle family without the Riddle family young master and young miss who are part of the Riddle Corporation? You are nothing but a worthless thing. And it's not just you who threaten people with their power!" "Even if I destroy the Riddle family, I will never leave it to you!" Manny let out a scream of anger and unwillingness. Even if she used all her means and became the owner of the Riddle Corporation, what did she really have? Leon would leave her with a broken and shattered Riddle Corporation that Selena could easily destroy with a push.

It was a far cry from the power and status that Nevaeh had obtained back then. Even with this Riddle Corporation, she could only have it for a short moment.

This was the result she had obtained at the cost of everything she had for over twenty years.

Manny's face twisted into a fierce expression, "You little bastard! You and your damned kind!" Leon gave a chilly smile, adjusted his collar with his hand, put his hands in his pockets, and turned to walk towards the door.

the Riddle family members were horrified. "Leon!" "Young master!" Leon left the building of The Riddle's with the most elite members of the Riddle Corporation, without looking back at the building that had controlled several major industries and stood in the capital city for decades.

After leaving the building, Leon looked up towards the direction of the Turner family.

Half of the Riddle Corporation's power was his tribute to the Turner family for Nevaeh and Selena back then.

Although this tribute may not be worth mentioning in Selena's eyes today, it was still a partial payment for the Riddle family's sins.

The Riddle Corporation had suffered severe losses, Maddox regretted his past actions, and Daphne was expelled from the Riddle family. Would such punishments be enough to appease the sins hidden behind that doll? mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1

Chapter 1470 Time'S Up

Chapter 1470 Time's Up Leon had no idea.

He just looked at the distant sky, thinking of Selena's dark and profound eyes, hoping deeply that his only remaining sister could return safely.

Inside the villa.

As soon as Leon left the Riddle's building, Selena stood up from the pavilion with a graceful movement.

Her slender fingers brushed over her dress, shaking off the scattered flowers on the ground.

She walked towards the hall, and her icy voice came through the wind, "Tell them, from now on, I don't want to see the so-called 'the Riddle Group' in the capital city!" Leia was startled.

This order from Selena meant that there would be no more Riddle family in the capital city, except for Leon's line, and the Riddle family would face complete destruction.

It also meant that the four major families would come to an end.

The Shaw family was expelled from the research institute, the Soo family, except for Alfie, were all in prison, the Poole family lost half of their power, and the Riddle family had only Leon's line left...

The power struggle in the capital city had come to an end.

Even though Leia didn't like the people of the four families, she couldn't help feeling complicated when she saw this outcome.

When Selena first arrived in the capital city, no one probably expected that the once-powerful four major families would come to an end in this way. Search The (website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Those slender hands had turned the world upside down.

Leia looked at Selena's slender figure and suddenly felt a deep awe rising from the bottom of her heart.

So much so that the usually lively girl spoke with extra restraint, "I understand, Madam Selena." Selena sat down on the sofa in the hall, picked up the teapot with her delicate fingers, and poured herself a cup of tea.

She looked at the clear blue tea in the bone china cup, her eyes deep.

As a Manny, that woman had only committed a moral mistake and could only be condemned, but not punished.

But if the skin was peeled off, and the evil face hidden inside was exposed, they could openly judge all her sins! At that time, the people behind her would not be able to escape either! Inside the small storage room, Ache and Hattie held their breath and listened to the footsteps approaching the door outside.

Hattie almost instantly recovered from the fear of the blood on her hands for the first time, and clenched the gun in her hand.

Ache's hollow eyes were fixed on the door.

Under the vigilant gaze of the two, the door in front of them was pushed open from the outside, and Hunter stood at the door with a gun in his hand, his face gloomy.

Hattie's hand, which was about to pull the trigger, froze in midair, and she stared at the person outside the door with hatred.

Ache, pale-faced, stood behind Hattie to protect her. Before Hunter could speak, he spoke first, "She's your daughter. You killed her mother, do you want to kill her too?" Hunter was suddenly stunned. He knew Hattie was his daughter and that killing his own child was wrong. But he had just received a call from Manny, who had hysterically demanded that he immediately kill Hattie at any cost. The crazed and distorted voice had made Hunter's heart palpitate and made him more unable to resist.

If it weren't for Ache, he would have shot Hattie the moment he found her. Thinking of Manny's insane and painful voice, Hunter's face darkened, "Move aside!" He had been indoctrinated that Ache and Kaitlyn were the "fruits of love" between him and Manny, and although he loathed Hattie, he could not harm these two children.

Ache gently grabbed Hattie's hand and didn't move.

Hunter lost his patience and raised his gun, aiming it at Hattie.

Just then, Ache suddenly pounced on Hunter's gun hand and shouted, "Run!" Hattie watched in amazement.

She didn't know who this boy was who had suddenly come out to save her, but an inexplicable feeling made her unable to abandon Ache.

Moreover, the scene of Hunter harming Ache made Hattie feel endless, sharp, and cruel emotions from deep within her heart.

It was as if she had seen the scene of this man killing her mother all those years ago.

At that time, she had failed to protect her mother, so her mother died...

Hattie trembled all over, suddenly raised her hand, aimed the gun at Hunter, and pulled the trigger straight away.

Bang...

The atmosphere fell into a dead silence in an instant. Hunter lowered his head and looked at the bleeding gunpoint on his body, his eyes blank. It was as if he couldn't believe that Hattie would shoot at him...

The man looked up and met the girl's red eyes.

she, with a terrifyingly pale face, was trembling all over as she stared at him with eyes full of hatred and resentment. "Go die..." "You killed Mom, you deserve to die..." "Why wasn't it you who died..." Hunter looked at those fearful and hateful eyes, and his heart twitched slightly. He was about to say something when a sudden and intense pain struck his heart.

Something in his mind was trying to surge out, but it was suppressed by another force.

He raised his hand to his head, his brain throbbing. The sudden and excruciating pain caused him to convulse all over.

His face twisted in agony, and he let out a scream before collapsing heavily to the ground on both knees.

Meanwhile, inside the villa, Selena put down her teacup and said, "It's time." Leia had been waiting quietly for news. When she heard Selena's words, she turned to her and asked, "Madam Selena, what's going on?" Selena replied coldly, "Last night, Black Crow delivered the antidote they developed to Leon. It's about time it took effect." "The two crazy people from the Riddle family should be waking up now." It was a pity that it was all too late.

Yun's second lady had died, and there was no way to make up for the harm Hattie had suffered.

The Riddle family's power had been destroyed as well.

Waking up at this moment was undoubtedly cruel for Maddox and Hunter.

But Selena wouldn't sympathize with them.

As men, the effect of the drug on Osvaldo was dozens of times stronger than theirs. Other than being unconscious for a few minutes, he didn't do anything heinous.

On the other hand, Maddox and Hunter had become puppets in Manny's hands, helping that woman harm so many people.

But on the other hand, their awakening meant that no one in the Riddle family would ever help Manny again.

Hunter had been with Manny for so long, and even with a puppet without consciousness, Manny couldn't help but reveal some secrets.

That man was ruined by that woman, losing all his dignity and happiness. When he was disoriented, he was protective of Manny, but when he recovered, he hated Manny just as much.

He was the sharpest knife to turn on Manny.

If the evidence Hattie found could prove that Manny had intentionally killed someone.

But what Hunter had in his possession could completely tear off all of Manny's skin.

Chapter 1471 Recovered?

Chapter 1471 Recovered? Of course, the premise was that Hunter could still walk out of the hospital alive.

Hunter knelt on the ground, his hands tightly grabbing his hair, a surging and uncomfortable emotion constantly attacking his mind.

The man's forehead heavily smashed onto the ground, as if enduring some kind of torture, emitting a scream of extreme pain one after another.

Hattie trembled as she watched his painful and grim appearance, and almost couldn't hold onto her gun.

Ache's face turned pale, and suddenly he heard footsteps approaching. He grabbed Hattie and ran.

At the same time, there was a "click" sound, and it seemed that a barrier in Hunter's mind shattered in an instant.

Countless overwhelming images, wrapped in bloody nightmares and shadows, rushed into his mind.

Hunter covered his head, and in that moment when he lifted his head, he saw his daughter's panicked figure running away, "Hattie, come back..." He staggered to stand up, wanting to catch up, but fell heavily to the ground again after being shot.

As Hunter was preparing to stand up for the second time, he suddenly saw a pair of hard leather boots in front of him.

Following the boots upwards, he met Deacon's seemingly smiling eyes. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Hunter's eyes turned red in an instant, roaring, and the gun in his hand was just raised when Deacon kicked it away.

Deacon kicked Hunter's face and looked at the man's eyes full of hatred and anger, somewhat surprised, "Has he... recovered?" Hunter roared angrily, "You bastard..." Deacon's face immediately sank.

Although it was a bit unexpected, it didn't affect anything.

Deacon stepped on Hunter's face and sneered, "A waste like you is just a waste of food. I'll send you on your way now." Hunter knew too much about Manny's secrets. Manny's initial order was for Hunter and Hattie to die here together.

Anyway, she had Ache, and whether Hunter, the so-called husband, was alive or not would not affect anything.

Not to mention that he has regained his sanity now. Once he let this man leave here alive, all of Manny's secrets would be exposed.

At that time, not only Manny herself, but also the forces lurking behind her, would be uprooted by Selena.

Thinking of this, Deacon raised the gun in his hand, and the black muzzle was aimed at Hunter's heart.

He stared at the bleeding wall hole on Hunter's body and smirked maliciously, "The charge of patricide is enough to make that girl you fathered suffer insults and ridicule for a lifetime..." Hunter glared at him, "You animals! You'll never have a good death!" Deacon approached him and spoke with a sticky and evil voice, "We won't die, but I can offer you a free reunion with your daughter." He laughed, "Don't worry, I won't make you wait too long." Hunter understood the look in Deacon's eyes and his own eyes turned bloodshot as he fought back like a madman.

Deacon sneered, raised his gun at Hunter, and pulled the trigger without hesitation.

Ache was running with Hattie in the corridor.

The girl's hand was icy cold, shaking even as they ran for their lives.

She had just shot her own father, Hunter. If he really died...

Ache's heart suddenly ached and he tightened his grip on Hattie's hand. He comforted her as they ran, "It didn't hit any vital organs, he'll be fine..." mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIOfiflO&1 mmMwWL1i10fif1O&1 mmMwWLIIOfiflO&1

Chapter 1472 Saving...

Chapter 1472 Saving...

"It didn't hit any vital organs, he'll be fine..." Ache saw it clearly, the bullet Hattie fired was far away from Hunter's heart, and it wouldn't cause his death in a short time.

Hattie blinked and instantly regained her senses from being dazed. She also heard the approaching footsteps of the enemy and tightly held the gun in her hand.

Leia had trained her for almost a year, and Hattie's physical fitness and agility were already much better than before. Moreover, knowing that she was in a dangerous situation lately, Selena had prepared many life-saving mechanisms for her.

The mechanisms Selena made by hand gave Hattie the courage to come here alone and face so many enemies.

As the enemy's footsteps approached, Hattie threw a "Crystal Ball" in the middle of the corridor.

With a loud "bang," the corridor was cut off in the middle, and the three people who had just chased after her didn't even have time to react before falling straight down from the fifth floor.

Without looking down at the result, although she killed three chasing people, Hattie also revealed her position.

A dense rain of bullets immediately shot towards Hattie. She grabbed Ache and rolled to the ground, huddling under the railing.

Ache's face was pale due to the intense exercise, and he was gasping for air.

Hearing his suppressed breathing, Hattie turned her head and suddenly asked, "Do you know where the control room is?" Ache was stunned for a moment and whispered, "It's in the second room on the top floor." The sound of the enemy's footsteps approached again.

Hattie lowered her eyelashes and said, "If you follow me, you'll only burden me. I'll escape on my own, and you should find your own way out." Although she didn't know why he suddenly appeared here to save her, those people seemed to have no intention of harming the young man.

It wasn't very obvious, but those bullets that were attacking her were deliberately avoiding the person beside her.

A thought flashed through the girl's mind for a moment, but it was denied.

It couldn't be the person she was thinking of.

The two people's son would probably hate her to death and want her to die a miserable death, so it was impossible for them to come and save her.

Hattie knew better than anyone else that once this young man left her side, her situation would definitely be more dangerous than before, but she was already in this state, why should she involve a stranger? Ache's pale face became even more transparent. "I'm sorry." "No need to apologize to me. You don't owe me anything. Thank you for coming to save me, whoever you are, but... I don't need it!" After Hattie finished speaking, her slender body rolled to the ground, took out a "blade" with a sharp tip and a shimmering blue light from her arms, and shot it towards the corner.

The enemy who had just walked out of the corner alertly had no chance to shoot before silently falling down.

Taking advantage of this gap, Hattie's slender body rushed up to the fifth floor.

Behind her, Ache watched her slender and tenacious figure, and the light in her eyes became unstable.

Hattie rushed to the staircase on the fifth floor. In the dim light, even the air smelled of decay and dampness.

She looked down at the hospital from the old and rundown building, which was built by the moat. From here, she could see the rolling lake water clearly.

Hattie looked at the blue-green lake water and suddenly took out the "electronic eye" from her pocket.

She had asked Selena, and this thing was wrapped in special materials. It would not be destroyed unless it was baked at a high temperature of several hundred degrees and then soaked in ice water at a negative temperature of several hundred degrees.

Otherwise, no matter what method was used, the core would not be destroyed.

As long as she found a signal, the image inside could be instantly received by the nearest signal tower.

Hattie tightened her fingers and raised her hand without hesitation, throwing the "electronic eye" out of the window.

The small "electronic eye" fell straight down from the air and into the lake, disappearing in an instant.

Looking down from the fifth floor, not even a ripple could be seen.

But Hattie knew that even with the evidence holding all of its hatred, there was no way it could flow with the tide and drift out of this place where the signal was blocked. Selena must have a way to find it.

Her powerful and beautiful sister would reveal everything inside, exposing all the darkness and sin buried in layers of ashes. She would punish those two sinners and help avenge their mother! Hattie took one last look, clenched the gun in her hand, and fearlessly charged up to the top floor.

She was going to snatch her mother's ashes back! As Deacon's bullet was about to hit Hunter's heart, the glass behind Hunter suddenly shattered from the outside. A figure suspended in mid-air leaped in from the window, and with a swift kick of his long legs, he kicked Hunter's body over and narrowly avoided the fatal bullet.

Deacon was splattered with broken glass and cursed, blocking his face with his hand and stepping back warily.

After lowering his hand, he saw a handsome young man with black clothes and black hair standing opposite, looking cold and expressionless, freezing people with his gaze.

Fraser lifted Hunter aside and frowned at the bleeding wounds on his body. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At the same time Fraser broke in, there were intense battles coming from several directions.

Deacon glared fiercely at Fraser and drew the knife in his hand. "An obstruction!" Although Manny had been hiding in the capital for twenty years and had some foundation, it was still far inferior to the Anderson family and the Turner family. The capital is now Selena's territory.

If they were discovered and unable to escape in time, they might get into big trouble.

Fraser coldly hummed and picked up a steel pipe, facing the opponent's knife.

Hunter lifted his head from the ground and looked at the two people in the difficult-to-resolve battle in front of him. He spoke to Fraser, "Go save... Hattie..." Fraser kicked Deacon away.

Deacon didn't want to be entangled too much and turned around to run.

Fraser didn't immediately chase after him. He walked up to Hunter and looked down at the man on the ground with a light tone.

"Changed your ways?" If it wasn't for Selena calling and telling him to save Hunter's life as much as possible, he might not have bothered with this person.

Hunter grabbed his pants, pleading in his eyes. "Go save... Hattie..." Fraser stared at the man's eyes for a moment and suddenly understood why Selena asked him to save Hunter.

After seeing the blood on him, Fraser left some simple hemostatic tools and immediately went to find Hattie.

With the help of Fraser and his team, Hattie's pressure suddenly decreased, and she finally found the monitoring room according to Aches directions.

Although Selena had done her best to leave her with the greatest protection net, Hattie was still young and it wasn't easy to make it all the way up.

Chapter 1473 Long Time No See, Mr. Anderson

Chapter 1473 Long time no see, Mr. Anderson Hattie who had made her way through the smoke and fire of war had many wounds on her body, and her fair face was stained with blood and dust.

Hattie stood outside the control room, wiped her face fiercely with her hand, clenched the gun in her hand, and pushed open the door to walk in.

Deacon stood in front of the black surveillance screen, playing with a green urn in his hand. When he heard a sound, he looked up.

Hattie's gaze was fixed on the urn in his hand, her eyes filled with red blood vessels.

Deacon grinned maliciously. "Listen, little lamb, throw away everything you have hidden on your body right now, or your mother won't rest in peace..." Hattie trembled, clenched her fists, and threw the mechanism hidden in her hand onto the ground.

Deacon sneered, opened the lid of the urn, and said, "Don't make me say it a third time!" Hattie looked at the wobbly urn, her whole body became frightened, and she hurriedly took out all the remaining mechanisms from her clothes and threw them onto the ground.

Seeing that she had obediently complied, Deacon no longer concealed the sticky malice in his eyes. He casually picked up the urn and walked step by step towards Hattie.

"Listen, little lamb, from now on, keep your mouth shut. If you dare to make any noise..." Hattie was still young and could not understand the malice flowing in the man's eyes. It was just his gaze that made her extremely uncomfortable.

She stared at the urn in the man's hand and said, "If you dare to smash my mother's urn, I will definitely tear you apart!" Deacon sneered.

The people brought by Fraser had surrounded the hospital, and many of them had been killed here. Without a hostage, he might not be able to leave here.

But with this girl, everything would be different.

Deacon stood in front of Hattie, raised his hand, and was about to touch Hattie's face when a bullet suddenly shot out from the doorway and hit the hand that held the urn.

Deacon screamed in pain, and the urn fell from his hand.

During this gap, Hattie suddenly pounced and grabbed the thing tightly before the ashes fell into the urn.

Then she rolled to the side.

Deacon's face turned pale as he looked up and saw Ache helping Hattie up. No wonder Manny went crazy with anger. Seeing this scene, Deacon was also angry.

A child who had been obedient for more than ten years and treated as a tool to be used at will caught everyone off guard and took them by surprise.

Fifty percent of the responsibility for Manny's plan's failure was due to Ache's unexpected "betrayal".

It was hard to imagine that a woman like Manny could give birth to such a son.

Is it true that extreme conditions breed the opposite result? At this point, Deacon suddenly raised his gun and aimed at Ache and Hattie, firing wildly.

Ache had just helped Hattie up when a barrage of bullets flew towards them.

He had no agility or speed to dodge, and in that instant, he instinctively reached out and used his body to shield Hattie.

Hattie opened her eyes wide and let out a miserable scream.

As Ache was about to die at Deacon's hand, a powerful gust of wind suddenly came from outside the door, and Ache and Hattie felt something suddenly appear in front of them, blocking all the bullets.

After a series of loud bangs and a clanging sound, the scene fell into a dead silence.

Hattie looked up and saw a steel plate falling in front of her.

Such dilapidated things were everywhere in the messy corridor, as if they had been kicked to her feet by someone.

But it was this thing that fell from the sky and saved her and Ache's lives.

Unconsciously, Hattie grabbed Ache's hand and looked up towards the direction of the door.

At this moment, Deacon was not in a hurry to kill Hattie and Ache.

He squinted his eyes slightly and looked in the direction of the door as well.

Under the gaze of the three people with different expressions, a slender figure walked from outside the door.

The man had black hair and was dressed in black, and there was no expression on his noble and handsome face.

In his slender hand, he held a knife, and the blood dripping from the blade was chilling.

Hattie looked at the familiar person who walked in with a strange aura, and after a few seconds of daze, her eyes suddenly lit up, "Brother-in-law!" She originally wanted to call out "Uncle Osvaldo" as usual, but somehow, at the moment the words came out of her mouth, it inexplicably became the brother-in-law she was not fond of calling.

Osvaldo glanced at Hattie and felt dissatisfied with she's battered appearance.

Selena loved Hattie the most, and seeing she covered in injuries running out would make her worry.

"There's an ambulance downstairs." Upon hearing this, Hattie instantly understood what she should do.

She hugged her mother's urn, grabbed Ache, and ran towards the door.

Deacon did not stop her.

At this moment, all his energy was focused on the man in front of him, with a hint of fear lurking beneath.

The young master of the Anderson family in the capital, rumored to be the emperor of the Dark Alliance Empire... for everyone walking in the dark, his name was well-known. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

If it weren't for him always standing behind Selena and the Turner family, Manny would not have been forced into a corner and exposed early.

They would not have suffered such a crushing defeat! The Turner family would not have been able to return to the peak in such a short period of time, despite Selena's exceptional abilities.

The downfall of the four major families in the capital was undoubtedly due to Selena's extraordinary skills, but more so because of the man's push.

Without this man, the Turner family, Selena, the Shaw family, and the Poole family would not have been defeated so quietly and quickly.

He even masterminded the outcome of the Soo family's annihilation! Deacon knew why Osvaldo was here.

He came specifically to avenge Selena! The medicine that Manny gave to Vivian last time caused him to fall into a coma, which made Selena suffer.

This man came to settle the score! Manny was useful to Selena, so Osvaldo could not touch her for the time being. Thus, he and those who helped Manny were his prey.

He would kill all of Manny's men, leaving her as a lonely and helpless person... for this man, it was not a joke.

Deacon looked at the man's deep, dark, and eerie eyes, and a deep sense of fear rose uncontrollably from the depths of his soul.

To cover up his fear, he smirked maliciously, "Long time no see, Mr. Anderson." Osvaldo's face still showed no expression as he walked towards Deacon.

Deacon felt a compelling pressure...

Chapter 1474 Rage!

Chapter 1474 Rage! Deacon felt a tremendous pressure and gritted his teeth, raising his sword and rushing forward.

With a terrifying clash of blades, Deacon stumbled back several steps.

He steadied himself, his expression turning fearful as he swung his sword towards Osvaldo's vulnerable spots.

But no matter how fast he moved or how hard he fought, the man in front of him effortlessly blocked his attacks.

His deep, black, otherworldly eyes showed no hint of killing intent.

Deacon was once again forced to retreat.

He looked at Osvaldo's expressionless face and suddenly had a clear realization.

He couldn't do anything to this man! The reason why the other party had not directly killed him yet was because he was waiting for the two children to run away.

Once Hattie and Ache left this floor and the killing intent and bloodshed didn't disturb them, he would be immediately killed by this man.

He didn't even have a chance to escape! After realizing this fact, Deacon's expression became ferocious.

He took out a remote control from his pocket and looked at Osvaldo with resentment, fiercely pressing down on the button. "With someone like you accompanying me to my death, it's worth it!" The first floor of this hospital was filled with explosives. Once it exploded, the entire hospital and surrounding buildings would be leveled to the ground.

If he couldn't live, then nobody could! As he was about to press the red button, a line of sharp cold light suddenly exploded in front of him.

Deacon's movement suddenly paused.

As if someone had pressed the pause button.

The next second, a head flew high into the air, with a malicious and excited face still on it.

The bright red blood splattered, and a drop landed on Osvaldo's eye corner.

The bloody color on his extremely handsome face had a hint of seduction.

With a "plop," the headless corpse fell to the ground.

Osvaldo destroyed the remote control with an emotionless expression, turned and walked away.

Under the cover of Fraser and the others, Hattie and Ache easily escaped.

At the moment when they ran out of the dark door, Hattie looked back one last time and deeply engraved this place in her mind before running towards the sunny side.

"Miss Hattie!" Looking at the approaching doctors and nurses, Hattie completely relaxed her body and instantly collapsed to the ground. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She carefully held the urn in her arms and looked at the sunlight overhead and the lively crowd that showed concern for her. It wasn't until this moment that she felt like she had escaped death.

She wiped her eyes, looked down at the urn in her arms, and couldn't help but choke up a bit, "Mom, we can go home now." She had finally saved her mother intact from the hands of the devil, and had fulfilled her promise with Selena to make it out alive from here.

"Miss Hattie, can you hand over..." The nurse cautiously glanced at the urn in Hattie's hand and said, "Give it to us, and we promise to send your mother back intact." Hattie looked up. These people were all sent by Selena. She recognized many of the faces from the villa. She was covered in injuries and couldn't even stand up straight, so it was impossible for her to send her mother back on her own.

Hattie was stunned for a long time before finally handing the urn in her arms to the nurse and said hoarsely, "Mom, I'll come to see you soon." The nurse took the urn and brought it to another car, while another nurse led Hattie to the ambulance.

Before getting into the car, Hattie suddenly remembered something and turned to look behind her. Ache was standing some distance away from her. The moment their eyes met, he averted his gaze and disappeared into the crowd.

Hattie turned to the nurse beside her and asked, "He's injured too. Can we take him to the hospital together?" The nurse looked at her, hesitated for a moment, but ultimately didn't say anything, only replied, "Okay, Miss Hattie." With Selena coming to see her soon, even if Hattie knew Ache's identity, she should be able to handle it.

Ache had just taken a few steps when a doctor stopped him.

Due to his intense running, his face was so pale that it was about to disappear the next second.

The doctor saw that he was in bad shape, so he sternly ordered someone to take him to the car.

In the end, Hattie and Ache were sent on the same car.

The nurse and doctor went to find other injured people, leaving only the two of them in the quiet compartment. Hattie looked at the pale and hollow-eyed boy beside her and finally asked the question that had been bothering her, "Who are you?" Ache's lips moved, but he lowered his head and didn't say anything. Hattie looked at the boy's obvious evasive action and softened her tone, "It's okay if you don't want to say. Thank you for saving me." Ache looked at the light that had finally gathered in her eyes and said, "I'm sorry." Hattie asked softly, "Why are you apologizing to me?" The young man who saved her seemed to be apologizing to her all the time, even though he didn't owe her anything and had even saved her several times.

Hattie stared at him intently.

Under the girl's gentle gaze, Ache froze.

He saw from her sincere and kind eyes her instinctive closeness and tolerance towards him.

If she knew the truth...

Under the afternoon sun, Ache's face turned pale and transparent, and he stared at Hattie blankly, unable to deceive her no matter what.

He spoke hesitantly, "Because I am..." Ache's words stopped suddenly.

Perhaps because he had been weak and sickly since childhood, Ache's sixth sense was far more sensitive than that of an average person.

The heart that had been peaceful and quiet in his chest suddenly began to beat violently, emitting a sharp warning sound.

Take her and run away...

Run fast! Run fast! It seemed that someone was telling him this over and over again.

His body acted faster than his consciousness.

Before he could react, Ache threw himself at Hattie and rolled the both of them off the car.

The next second, with a loud bang, a fierce blaze shot up into the sky, and the ambulance exploded in place.

Inside the villa, Selena had just heard all the news.

Hattie had been rescued, and she was not in danger of losing her life, though she had been injured and was now being taken to the hospital.

The enemies in the hospital had also been almost completely eliminated.

Selena put down her heart that had been hanging in her throat and picked up a chess piece, playing with it on the table.

She had just moved two steps when she suddenly heard Leia rushing in from outside with a pale face, "Madam Selena!" At this moment, Selena seemed to sense something and turned her head to look at Leia with her black eyes, giving off a chilling aura.

Leia was trembling and in a panic she had never experienced before, "We just received news that the ambulance Hattie was in exploded..." "Miss Hattie..." was dead.

In that instant, everyone present kneeled subconsciously and no one dared to look up at Selena's face.

Chapter 1475 The Fate Of The Riddle Family

Chapter 1475 The Fate of the Riddle family Even Leia, who had always been lively and active, fell silent completely.

An unprecedented fear gripped her. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Suddenly, a cold breeze swept past her. Leia looked up and caught a glimpse of a pure white dress disappearing from sight.

Osvaldo had just descended the stairs when he heard an explosion outside the window, accompanied by numerous panicked screams.

Abad feeling instantly rose in his heart, and he rushed downstairs as as possible. What he saw was a chaotic scene of firefighters rushing to put out the flames, and faces pale with despair.

When everyone saw that Osvaldo's gaze was fixed on the car that had been blown to pieces, all the doctors and nurses present shivered in fear.

"Miss Hattie... is in the car..." At the moment when they heard this news, everyone thought Osvaldo would fly into a rage.

But to their surprise, the black-haired man turned around and got into a car. The black sports car disappeared from view in an instant.

The group of people watched in amazement as the man left, realizing for the first time how fast a car could go.

Leon had just returned to the Riddle family in his car when his phone in his pocket started vibrating.

He looked at the number and saw that it was Alfie calling him.

After the Soo family incident was resolved, Alfie had never contacted him again. Given the man's uninterested nature, he would never call unless there was something important.

Looking at the call, Leon suddenly had an extremely bad premonition.

He didn't answer immediately. Instead, he walked to the side of the road, lit a cigarette, and smoked it leisurely before finally answering the phone, which he had yet to hang up.

The man's voice was hoarse and he asked, "What's wrong?" Alfie's gentle and cold voice came through the phone. "The Riddle family can't be saved. Leave there." Leon's fingers tightened, and he raised his hand to pinch his brow bone. "She promised that she wouldn't hurt anyone." Selena had promised him that she wouldn't harm anyone in the Riddle family.

Alfie hesitated for a moment before saying, "Hattie is dead." Leon froze at once.

He stood still for a long time before asking, "What did you say?" "Hattie is dead," Alfie repeated, "she died in the ambulance after being rescued." Leon's expression froze for a moment before he regained his composure. "They can't tolerate such a mistake..." Neither Selena nor Osvaldo would send an untrustworthy person to pick up Hattie.

"They won't make mistakes, but some people are born without humanity," Alfie said softly, "Hattie was with that illegitimate child at the time, they would have guarded themselves against their own people, but they didn't have a chance to guard against that illegitimate child." Leon choked up.

He had received a phone call earlier and knew that Ache had saved Hattie.

Perhaps it was because Ache had her mother's heart in his body that she would instinctively trust, be close to, and like the stranger who suddenly appeared...

Selena and Leon both felt that as long as Ache's identity was not exposed, he would not harm Hattie, since he had saved her so many times.

So they temporarily let the other person approach Hattie.

Hattie had just gone through the painful process of her mother's death, and having her mother's heart with her at this would make her happy and joyful...

Had that woman been guarding against this day all along? To prevent Hattie from bringing out the evidence, she could even kill her own son without hesitation.

Leon suddenly closed his eyes.

Alfie on the phone was also silent.

After a long time, Leon opened his eyes again, his face no longer showing any sadness but instead an even colder expression.

He said a "thank you" to the phone and hung up.

Leon looked up at the Riddle family's grand and ancient gate, which had stood for hundreds of years.

This place was once the most dazzling and prestigious place in the capital, where ordinary people did not even have the qualifications to step inside.

But today, with Alfie's phone call, Leon suddenly saw the looming fate of destruction silently enveloping the entire Riddle family.

Under the sunlight, Leon's eyes were colder than ever.

Perhaps the moment Daphne and Mr. Riddle hurt and gave up Nevaeh for Kiera years ago, the fate of the Riddle family's tragic ending had already been determined.

Leon took out his phone and made one call after another.

"Father, don't ask anything, take mother and leave the Riddle family as as possible." "All members of the Riddle family's main branch, evacuate immediately." In the laboratory of Capital University, Black Crow and White Crow were busy with their work when they suddenly heard someone say next to them, "I suggest you both call your master immediately." The sudden sentence made Black Crow and White Crow both stunned.

Black Crow frowned and looked over at Joanna.

White Crow had already decisively turned around and left to find a phone.

The three of them had been busy in the laboratory for so long, and they had sunderstanding of each other.

Joanna wouldn't speak easily, especially when they were doing experiments. Her sudden request for them to call Selena could only mean that something had happened.

It was probably something serious.

However, Joanna's next sentence abruptly interrupted White Crow's movement towards the door.

"Just received news that the young lady of the Riddle family has died, and her body is missing. Your master..." Black Crow and White Crow suddenly froze in place.

Although they had never met Selena before, they could be considered to have "accompanied" her since childhood.

Others might not understand Selena's significance to Hattie, but Black Crow and White Crow could understand it to sextent.

If Hattie were just an ordinary girl who looked similar to Selena, Selena would never have spent so much tand energy caring for and nurturing a stranger.

Selena treated that girl as another version of herself.

Now that she was dead, Creephia's Selena was also dead, and even that girl was dead...

White Crow and Black Crow looked at each other and saw a hint of heartache in each other's eyes.

White Crow suddenly turned around and went back to continue his own experiment.

Black Crow's face was so cold that it was terrifying, and his whole body exuded a murderous intent. "As long as she is happy, she can kill all the people in the capital, and they deserve to die!" Joanna looked at the expressions of the two and fell silent.

No one would want to see such a tragedy happen.

If Selena were to slaughter that woman, Cassius, and their power behind them in a fit of rage, all of their long-term restraint and efforts would be in vain.

But at this moment...

It was a legendary situation where no one could be relied upon. Now they could only hope that Oscar could find a way to calm Selena's anger and temper.

Joanna's face was cold as she took a deep drag from her cigarette.

With such a big incident happening in the capital, the Turner family could not ignore it.

Patrick received news of Hattie's accident as soon as it happened.

When he heard that Hattie had died, he immediately wanted to see Selena. However, Oscar, who walked out of the building upstairs, stopped him.

"Now is not the tto see her," Oscar said.

Patrick was taken aback when he saw his father cout. It had been a month since Oscar had performed surgery on Selena's leg.

He had been recovering and doing rehabilitation exercises during this time. This was the first tPatrick had seen his father standing up in a true sense.

But the excitement in his heart was short-lived as news of what had happened to Selena cfrom the other side.

According to Selena's previous instructions, Oscar's leg needed to be rested for a while longer. Oscar was not a person who did not take care of his body, so if he suddenly got out of his wheelchair early, it meant that something big was likely to happen in the capital.

Patrick fixed his gaze on Oscar's eyes. "Father, Miss Riddle means something different to Selena. I have never seen her care about anyone as much as she cares about Miss Riddle..." Although Selena had never said it, everyone could see that Selena's affection for Hattie was not because of their blood relationship. Leon was also Hattie's cousin, but Selena was not as close to him as she was to Hattie.

Apart from Osvaldo, Selena's affection for Hattie had even surpassed that of the Turner family.

Now that Hattie had died, it was clear how bad Selena's mood would be. At this time, the Turner family could not suppress her for the sake of the greater good.

Oscar walked but steadily. "I have no intention of stopping her." Not to mention that there was no precedent for the Turner family to force their own people to swallow their anger, Oscar, as a commander with a keen mind, knew better than anyone that no one could stop Selena at this critical juncture.

If they bumped into her now, she would only see them as enemies. What the Turner family needed to do now was to guard against the "Divine Love" behind Manny making a move.

Fortunately, the timing was ripe.

It was tfor the Turner family to officially declare war with "Divine Love"! Oscar's eyes flashed with a sharp glint as he looked at Patrick. "Don't go looking for her. Take people to protect the Capital University laboratory thoroughly." Joanna had just called him, and if everything went smoothly, they would be able to see samples of the underground city virus vaccine in two days.

This was an exciting yet dangerous signal, especially since the woman from the Riddle family had just completely angered Selena.

After another two seconds of bewilderment, Patrick finally understood the meaning behind Oscar's words.

The underground city virus vaccine was about to be released! No wonder Oscar had forced himself to stand up early! And unless Selena and Oscar both stayed put, Cassius and the people behind him would definitely not be kept in the dark about this news.

But in order to save people, they couldn't stay put.

At this moment, compared to stopping Selena, the Capital University laboratory was the place that needed more attention.

Chapter 1477 You Must Repay Your Debts

Chapter 1477 You Must Repay Your Debts After Patrick made sure there would be no problems with Selena, he took the Zone Six team straight to the Capital University.

As Selena stepped out of the villa, countless shadows silently and orderly cut, naturally surrounding her like stars surrounding the moon.

Each one of these people had a solemn expression, occasionally gazing at the woman with eyes that revealed deep respect and eagerness.

Even though the weather was sunny, there seemed to be a chilly and cutting atmosphere in the air.

The woman with an ancient and noble appearance elegantly and coldly stepped onto the car, her exquisitely embroidered skirt hem almost touching the ground. As she walked, it seemed that black mist was surging.

Several black sports cars, like furious dragons, rushed towards the Riddle family. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Inside the Riddle family at this moment, there was also a dead silence in the vast hall.

From Manny seizing the Riddle family's power with two illegitimate children, to Leon taking the main branch of the Riddle family out of the Riddle family, to Maddox suddenly falling ill and fainting, it hadn't even been an hour yet.

But for the people of the Riddle family, this hour was earth-shattering and felt like years.

Everyone from the Riddle family's collateral branches was staring at Maddox, who had just woken up, with undisguised anger and dissatisfaction on their faces.

Finally, someone couldn't stand the oppressive silence and burst out.

An elder with the highest seniority stood up, pointing at Maddox, "Maddox, if you don't want to sit in the position of the head of the Riddle family, then get out and let someone else sit! I'd rather give the Riddle family to a lowly and cheap woman than to our own bloodline. You're not worthy of being the head of the Riddle family. I'm demanding a change of the head of the family now.

Does anyone object?" "No!" "I second!" "The duty of the head of the family is to maintain the bloodline and honor of the family. Maddox and Daphne's actions are visible to all, and they are unworthy!" the Riddle family still clung to their last hope. It was the couple who had made the mistake, and as long as they were dealt with, perhaps Leon would return to the Riddle family and Selena would not harm them. Therefore, replacing Maddox's position was necessary! Maddox listened to the angry reprimands with a terrifyingly dark expression. He stared at his eldest son and asked, "What about Leon?!" Issac looked at his father with sarcasm in his eyes and replied, "Father, have you forgotten? You have publicly expelled Leon from the Riddle family and the main branch." "Since he is no longer a member of the Riddle family, how could Leon possibly return to the Riddle family?" With a loud bang, Maddox slammed his cane heavily on the floor of the hall and shouted, "Bring him back to see me!" Issac stood up and smiled tiredly, "Leon will not cback to the Riddle family." Maddox was furious, "He is a descendant of the Riddle family!" Issac stared fearlessly at Maddox and said, "Father, I have already reminded you and mother. Nevaeh is your daughter, and she is better than Kiera in every way. She is more beautiful than Kiera and treats you better than Kiera. Why do you and mother treat your own children poorly for someone unrelated to the Riddle family?" "You and mother sacrificed Nevaeh, her daughter, and Hattie successively for outsiders. Do you want to wait for Leon to bec the next sacrifice?" This statement was undeniably ironic coming from Issac's mouth.

Mainly, Maddox's and Daphne's previous crimes had thoroughly disappointed everyone.

Issac was not a blind follower. It was right for Leon to withdraw from the Riddle family in the current situation.

Maddox wanted Leon to cback merely to use him to save the Riddle family and prevent Selena from harming them.

Maddox's temple was pulsating with veins, and his hand holding the cane was trembling. "Tell him that as long as he comes back, the Riddle family will still belong to him alone. No one can take it away from him!" "As for those two illegitimate children, I will personally 'handle' them!" The last sentence was almost ground out from between Maddox's teeth, revealing an undisguised killing intent.

Everyone in the Riddle family was extremely surprised to hear this and found it extremely ironic.

"You only know to be anxious at this time?! If you had shown this attitude earlier, would the Riddle family have fallen into this situation?" "The reputation and foundation of the entire Riddle family have been ruined by you and Daphne!" "When I cback just now, someone had already started to take action against the Riddle family. At this rate, in less than half a month, the Riddle family may completely disappear from the capital... How could you be so confused?!" Despite the stern rebuke, hopeful eyes looked towards Issac one after another.

Maddox had already said that he would deal with those two bastards. If Leon cback, the Riddle family would not collapse.

Issac naturally knew what the Riddle family had in mind and felt extremely ironic. "Father, Leon will not cback, and the Riddle family is destined to decline." Maddox shouted angrily, "Issac!" Issac calmly said, "Leon is saving you, mother, and the whole Riddle family. Can't you see that?" "What did you and your mother do to Nevaeh back then? What did you do to Nevaeh's daughter? Do you not know it yourselves?" "You have sinned and must repay it." "The Turner family and the Anderson family cannot tolerate the existence of the Riddle family. Can't you see this fact until now?" Ignoring whether Nevaeh's death was related to Maddox and Daphne, the selfishness of this couple caused Selena to suffer so much abuse from childhood to adulthood. Both the Anderson family and the Turner family would not let this matter go.

Maddox's veins burst on the back of his hand, and Issac looked at him with a sorrowful and incredible look. "Why, father?" "Even if you and your mother don't like Nevaeh's daughter, and are afraid she will offend Penelope and hurt her feelings, even if you only make a phone call to notify the Turner family, you would not have cto this point today..." "Why are you and your mother so fond of Kiera and her daughter, but so stingy with your own granddaughter, and unwilling to show even conscience and goodwill?" "Have you not heard how that child has been living in Creephia all these years?" "With such deep hatred and resentment, what makes you and your mother think that the Turner family and the Anderson family will not retaliate against you?" "The Riddle family should also thank her. If it weren't for her, the Turner family and the Anderson family might have destroyed the entire Riddle family when they learned the truth." Maddox listened to these heart-wrenching questions...

Chapter 1478 Slap For Those Who Disrespect My Young Lady!

Chapter 1478 Slap for those who disrespect my young lady! As Maddox listened to these cutting accusations, his face twisted in anger.

Why didn't he like Nevaeh? At first, it was because Nevaeh did not grow up with him from a young age, she had a too headstrong personality, and was difficult to control.

Later on, it was because the Turner family had encountered a great disaster, and being associated with their daughter would bring trouble to the Riddle family. S~earch the FindNøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

As for Selena...

Regret flashed in Maddox's eyes.

If he had known that the child would reach this level today, the person who should not have existed might have been Penelope.

Maddox's voice became solemn as he said, "Let Leon tell her that as long as she spares the Riddle family, everyone in the Riddle family, including and Daphne, will let her deal with us as she wishes!" the Riddle family cannot be destroyed in such a disgraceful manner.

When Issac heard Maddox's words, he furrowed his brows, about to speak, when his phone in his pocket suddenly vibrated.

He looked at the number, answered the call, and before he could say anything, he heard Leon's voice.

"Father, don't ask any questions. Take mother and leave the Riddle family immediately." Issac's expression turned serious.

If there was nothing significant, Leon would never say such words.

Suddenly, Issac had an extraneous sense of foreboding, and he turned to find his wife.

As he took a step, his phone, which had just stopped vibrating, started to shake again.

Issac looked at the number. It was from Erica.

"Don't go anywhere, wait for me--" "Hattie has had an accident!" Both the husband and wife's voices sounded at the same time.

Erica's job nature meant that she would get news earlier than the average person.

Issac's heart sank, and he instantly understood the deep meaning behind Leon's words.

Hattie had an accident.

The Riddle family cannot be saved.

Ignoring the opposition of the Riddle family and Maddox's angry roar, Issac headed towards the door. However, just before he left, he looked back at Maddox.

"Father, the Riddle family's legitimate line now only has one person left, which is Leon. Please have mercy and spare him!" After speaking, Issac's figure disappeared in front of the crowd.

The hall fell into silence.

Maddox sat on his black chair, his face turning pale with anger and trembling all over.

Before the crowd could recover from the sudden turn of events, an assistant rushed in, sweating profusely, "Sir, the security guard from the foot of the mountain called, saying that many people are coming towards the ancestral home... It seems to be Miss Turner..." Under the gaze of everyone present, the security guard forcibly swallowed the words "dangerous visitors".

All the people were stunned.

Since Selena had returned to the capital, she had never visited the Riddle family. Why did she know? Because of their surprise, the group didn't have to think deeply about the meaning behind Issac's words. They immediately walked towards the gate of the Riddle family with hope that Selena, after all, was a blood relative of the Riddle family, and perhaps she wouldn't really be so heartless as to destroy the Riddle family.

At this moment, outside the solemn and ancient gate of the Riddle family, Daphne got out of a car.

She had been kicked out of the Riddles building in front of everyone, penniless and unwilling to be driven out of her own home, so she decided to return to the ancestral home.

However, the Riddle family driver refused to listen to her and when she tried to hail a taxi by the roadside, no one would help her.

Ignoring her pleas, most people cursed her for being heartless and conniving, helping the outsider and harming her own child.

It seemed as if everyone in the capital knew that she was no longer the mistress of the Riddle family.

In just a short hour, Daphne experienced the warmth and coldness of human nature.

This made her feel unprecedented panic. She finally met an old lady she used to play cards with, and the lady had the driver send her back to the Riddle family.

However, the Riddle family's courtyard was precious and heavily guarded, so the driver could only park the car at the farthest gate, leaving her to walk the rest of the way on her own.

Daphne held her chest and walked towards the gate.

Even now, she still couldn't believe that Leon would dare to kick her out.

Daphne was out of breath as she arrived at the gate, where she was stopped by the security guard.

Daphne was furious, "I am the mistress of the Riddle family, how dare you stop me?" The security guard was indifferent, "But we have received orders that you are no longer the mistress of the Riddle family and have no relationship with them, so naturally you are not qualified to enter the Riddle family." "The old masters have ordered us, if you come, we don't need to be polite!" After speaking, several security guards forcibly pushed Daphne out.

Daphne was shaking with anger and shouted Leon's name loudly. At the stalemate, the movements of the security guards suddenly froze.

The group looked up in the direction behind Daphne, their expressions shocked.

Daphne turned her head to look and saw Selena walking down from the car in a calm and imposing manner.

As soon as she saw Selena, all the anger she had been suppressing on her was suddenly released.

Until now, she had blamed all her mistakes on Selena, thinking that Selena had destroyed the harmony of the Riddle family and caused her to be kicked out by the Riddle family.

Extranger made her ignore the people beside Selena, and she raised her hand to hit Selena, "You unfilial brat, who allowed you to enter the Riddle family?!" Standing beside Selena, a hot-bodied woman with cold eyes suddenly grabbed Daphne's hand, lifted it, and slapped her face hard twice.

"For disrespecting my lady, this is what you get!" After speaking, she slapped her twice more.

Daphne immediately spat out a mouthful of blood, and many of her teeth fell out.

She widened her eyes, seemingly unable to believe that Selena's people would dare to attack her.

The woman's cold eyes fell on Daphne's face, and a fierce killing intent flashed in her eyes.

Their majesties had been exiled to this godforsaken place, and even this ignorant and malicious thing dared to insult her! If Mr. Soo knew, the whole Riddle family would not be spared! A strong murderous intent was visible in the woman's eyes, and she pointed her gun at Daphne's temple.

The cold muzzle was pressed against her skin, and Daphne could clearly feel the threat of death, and her whole body stiffened.

Just as the woman was about to pull the trigger, a man next to her suddenly spoke up, "Clementine, bring her in!" If they were in the Empire, with just that person action from the woman, it would be enough for her to die ten times over! But now she was carrying the title of Selena's "grandmother", and they couldn't kill her in public! Clementine snorted and dragged Daphne with one hand, striding towards the Riddle family's interior.

Daphne trembled and looked up to see Selena's back as she entered the Riddle family. Her figure was very slender, but excessively cold.

She didn't even raise her head to look at the Riddle family's door, completely unlike a girl who had just entered the family.

Chapter 1479 The Only Chance

Chapter 1479 The Only Chance Inside the Riddle family's luxurious villa, Manny, who had just returned from the press conference, was sitting on the sofa.

Two maids were helping her wipe the bloodstains off her face.

She held her phone and her face turned ghostly when she heard the news that Ache and Hattie had died in a fire.

She didn't feel any heartache for Ache's death, only regret that she had sent them out and now couldn't contact any of them. It meant that those people were probably gone.

Thinking about it made Manny tremble with pain. Those people had occupied at least half of her power.

One little bastard had caused her to lose her most important chess piece and half of her subordinates... Manny closed her eyes darkly.

The only consolation was that Hattie had died and the evidence on her body could not be taken out. As long as there was no evidence, Selena could not target her no matter how angry she was.

Manny was thinking about how to kill Selena and turn the tables, when suddenly someone stumbled into the room.

"Something's wrong, Madam!" "Miss Turner and a group of people have brazenly broken into the Riddle family, coming in strong!" Manny's heart sank.

But in an instant, she smiled, raised her chin, and gracefully stroked her hair. She instructed the two maids, "Hurry up, as the master of the Riddle family, how can we not personally greet our distinguished guests?" The two maids trembled and their movements sped up in an instant.

At the stime, Maddox and other members of the Riddle family rushed to the entrance and met Selena who had broken in.

As soon as they saw the young woman in the white dress with black hair, everyone in the Riddle family was stunned.

Nevaeh's daughter was well known throughout the capital, and everyone knew that this woman was extraordinary. But at the moment they saw her face to face, they were still stunned.

They watched as the woman walked towards them with a flowing and elegant gait, her deep and gorgeous eyes cold and black.

She was not just a beauty, but a noblewoman.

The dignity and atmosphere she exuded in her every move even made people momentarily ignore her stunningly beautiful face.

The people of the Riddle family had intended to threaten and plead with Selena when they saw her, but at the moment they looked into her eyes, they couldn't say a word.

They stared at her blankly, feeling a sense of intimidation that made them unable to meet her gaze.

Even Maddox, who had met Selena before, couldn't speak.

Someone behind them brought a chair, and Selena sat down gracefully, crossing her legs and propping her head up with her delicate hands.

Despite her lazy posture, her imposing presence was not diminished, she was like a fierce tiger lying in wait, capable of making all beasts retreat without even opening her eyes.

Furthermore, she was still looking at the Riddle family members with a cold and sharp gaze.

Her other hand lightly tapped the armrest of the chair. "You have ten minutes to leave the Riddle family on your own, except for my mother and anyone unrelated to Hattie." Her voice was calm and direct, and the meaning directed towards the Riddle family was unreserved.

The hearts of the Riddle family members sank.

An elder bravely spoke up, "Miss, you are still a daughter of the Riddle family, we have something to say--" The unfinished words were stuck in their throats when they met Selena's eyes. "This is your only chance to stay alive." Everyone's faces turned pale.

They only then realized that Selena not only had an air of nobility, but also a sense of killing intent.

Looking at the group of people behind her who made everyone's heart tremble with a single glance, their hearts sank to the bottom.

No one thought Selena was joking, and no one doubted her ability to do it.

The Riddle family members immediately thought of the call Leon had just made to Issac-- Most of the peripheral family members and servants immediately walked towards the gate.

There were also many opportunists who wanted to leave with the crowd, but they were kicked back by the people guarding the door.

A maid screamed, "I'm just a servant of the Riddle family and have nothing to do with them. Why can't I leave?" The person who stopped her looked at her with sharp and experienced eyes and said coldly, "Twenty years ago, you and Kiera conspired to frmy lady's mother." "Eight months ago, you targeted Hattie Miss in private to please the twins." The maid was shocked and never expected the other party to know about these things.

In the end, only half of the people successfully left the Riddle family mansion.

The remaining half stood pale-faced beside Maddox, looking at Selena with fear in their eyes. SEARCH THE FINDNOVEL.NET website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Selena had never visited the Riddle family before, but she was able to dig up every person within the Riddle family who had targeted Nevaeh and Hattie for persecution.

Many of these things happened even twenty years ago.

As one of the four major families in the capital, the Riddle family's investigation could not be so clear and transparent even for the Anderson family. With the hidden meaning behind it, everyone present couldn't help but feel nervous.

Maddox stared at Selena tightly, and after a few seconds, suddenly knelt in front of Selena in public, "Daphne and I, and these people are all at your disposal!" "Please... spare the Riddle family!" Daphne, who was originally watching the chaotic scene of the Riddle family running away in surprise and doubt, was stunned when she saw Maddox's actions. "Are you crazy?!" "She is Nevaeh's daughter, our granddaughter. It is only right for us to teach her a lesson. How can you kneel down to her?!" "Selena, don't you fear divine retribution for disrespecting your elders?!" The reason why she dared to complain and accuse Selena was because she relied on the fact that she was Selena's grandmother. In Daphne's eyes, as long as there was a blood relationship, Selena would never dare to seek revenge against them.

Just as Daphne finished speaking, Maddox slapped her in the face and sternly ordered, "Shut up!" Daphne was slapped and fell to the ground. She raised her head angrily but met with pale and frightened faces.

Daphne didn't know if it was because of fear or denial, but she shook her head and said, "You're crazy. She's just an unrecognized granddaughter of our Riddle family. What right does she have to target the Riddle family?" "I am Nevaeh's mother. Without me, there would be no Nevaeh, let alone her. The grace of giving birth is greater than heaven.

How dare this little bastard..." Another slap hit Daphne's face, and this time she was sent flying. Clementine drew her knife with a fierce expression on her face, "Let's start with this old woman. I'll knock out her teeth, pull out her tongue, and cut off her mouth..." Daphne instantly turned pale with fear and didn't dare to speak about their blood relationship anymore.

Chapter 1480 Regret!

Chapter 1480 Regret! Daphne lifted her head in horror, only to find that everyone who had cto the Riddle family with Selena was now looking at her.

The looks in their eyes were as though they were looking at a dead person.

Joking aside, Selena was their master, the most respected and beloved person in the entire empire. She embodied all their concepts of beauty and nobility, and no one could show her any disrespect or mistreatment.

Setting aside Selena's inexplicable grudges with the Riddle family, Daphne's words and actions today were enough to bring about the downfall of the entire Riddle family. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

the Riddle family members could naturally feel the change in these people's eyes, and they hated Daphne to the core.

Even now, she still couldn't see reality clearly and still tried to use her blood ties with Selena to suppress her. It was simply looking for death! "It's all Daphne's fault! Kiera was the one she brought back from the orphanage, and she was also the one who treated Mrs.

Nevaeh badly! You can take her away and do whatever you want with her, just spare the Riddle family..." "We disrespected Mrs. Nevaeh and Miss Hattie at Daphne's instigation, and the servants always act according to the master's wishes. She likes Kiera and the twin dragons, and ignores Mrs. Nevaeh and Miss Hattie, so we naturally..." Daphne became the scapegoat of everyone's criticism.

Daphne fell into panic and confusion, watching as everyone in the Riddle family begged Selena for mercy.

It was only at this moment that she realized a fact very clearly! Selena had to destroy the Riddle family! If she dared to destroy the mighty Riddle family, how could she care about the so-called blood ties? Daphne's face turned extremely pale, trembling, and dare not utter a word.

Selena lazily propped up her head and did not deny what the old Maddox said, nor did she pay attention to the frightened pleas.

Instead, Clementine coldly shouted, "Shut up!" The scene instantly fell into silence.

Everyone covered their mouths and looked at Selena in horror.

The people Selena brought with her guarded all the doors, and no one could escape or get in from outside.

An indescribable fear spread throughout the Riddle family.

Just as everyone was guessing what Selena was up to, Manny arrived with a group of people, walking towards the Riddle family's main entrance. She was wearing a luxurious gown, with an exquisite hairdo, and a dignified smile on her face.

Manny originally intended to show off her new position as the head of the Riddle family to Selena, but when she arrived, her smile froze as she saw Selena, who was lazily leaning back in her chair, exuding an air of aristocracy that made people hesitant to even glance at her.

Manny had to use all her strength to maintain her composure in public.

In a corner out of sight of others, Manny's fingertips were deeply embedded in her palms, and her body trembled slightly.

Even if she be the head of the Riddle family, so what? In front of Nevaeh's daughter, she could never hold her head up high! Selena's beauty and dignity were like something innate, engraved in her bones. On the other hand, Manny's achievements were only what the other party did not want, and were obtained through scheming and effort! Manny's soul seemed to scream out in protest at this moment! In her life plan, this should have been the happiest and proudest day of her life, but everything was ruined by this little bastard in front of her! Selena's noble aura was something that Manny could never attain in her lifetime, no matter how much she schemed and used all her means! Manny's self-esteem underwent another torture. She forced a smile and said, "Miss Turner, what brings you to my Riddle family?" Her words were spoken as if she were the mistress of the house.

The Riddle family members present wished they could chop her to pieces.

Selena's black eyes flickered lazily, and she raised an eyebrow. "The Riddle's is suspected of treason and collaboration, take them all down!" As soon as Selena finished speaking, the Riddle family members present were shocked.

The next moment, screams and fierce fighting sounds erupted from countless corners of the house.

Manny was also stunned, and then her heart sank suddenly.

She continued to smile, but anyone could see the darkness and distortion in her eyes. "Miss Turner, without evidence, are you going to break into someone's hand kill people?" The reason why Manny dared to oppose Selena so blatantly was because of the grudges between the Turner family and "Divine Love".

She was extremely confident that as long as "Divine Love" did not appear behind her, Selena, no matter how much she hated her, would have to swallow her pride.

It is because of this that she dared to repeatedly target Hattie recklessly.

Compared to the deep-seated grudge between the Turner family and the entire the Turner family, girl like Hattie is insignificant, isn't she? But she did not expect that after Hattie's death, Selena would brazenly break into the Riddle family and directly accuse the Riddle family of colluding with the enemy and selling out the country! Doesn't she fear that if she kills Selena, she will never be able to find out who was responsible for the destruction of the Turner family all those years ago? If Manny was panic-stricken, then the Riddle family was unparalleled in their fear! Until today, the worst scenaththey had prepared for was nothing more than one side losing power.

But if Manny lost power, Ache was a bastard, and after Leon took the main branch of the family and left the Riddle family, they thought that the worst outcwould be the Riddle family suffering significant damage.

However, after Selena and her men broke in, it becethe Riddle family being destroyed.

They thought that this was already the worst outcome, but after Selena spoke those words "colluding with the enemy and selling out the country," everyone in the Riddle family turned ashen! Under layer upon layer of blows, sof the weaker-willed Riddle family members were almost driven crazy! "No! the Riddle family did not collude with the enemy or sell out the country. This is a slander! This accusation must not fall on the Riddle family!" "Selena, you can kill everyone and destroy the Riddle family, but you absolutely cannot allow such a charge to fall on the Riddle family!" Once this charge is established, even if the Riddle family members die, they are destined to be infamous for eternity! This is a shthat can never be washed away for the Riddle family, who are known for their nobility.

Even if the Riddle family members die, they will be ashamed to face their ancestors and descendants! Maddox stared at Selena's eyes tightly, but unlike the others, he did not angrily retort.

He suddenly kowtowed to Selena heavily, "Killand all the Riddle family members to avenge your mother, but I beg you, for the sake of Hattie... do not let the Riddle family's reputation be tarnished..." Selena smiled expressionlessly. It was no wonder this old man suddenly knelt down so readily to her. He must have regained his senses and learned of Manny's identity.

Selena's icy gaze fell on Manny's pale face, "The Riddle family colluded with the enemy and sold out the country, the evidence is conclusive..."

Chapter 1481 Admitting Mistakes!

Chapter 1481 Admitting Mistakes! "Riddle family colluding with the enemy and selling out the country, the evidence is conclusive, and this is an unchangeable fact!"

"Besides..." Selena paused, looking down at Maddox with a chilling gaze in her eyes.

"You have already lost the qualification to use Hattie to talk toabout emotions." Maddox raised his head and looked Selena in the eye. "After all, Hattie is a member of the Riddle family. Once Riddle family is accused of such a crime, she will not be able to escape the fate of being despised by others!" Selena smiled, but did not speak.

Maddox was about to say something, when a voice suddenly cover, "Enough, Grandpa!" Maddox looked up and saw Leon walking in from outside the door, with several bodyguards pushing a wheelchair behind him.

Someone was sitting in the wheelchair.

Hope lit up in Maddox's eyes. "Leon, as long as you are willing to bring Hattie back to the Riddle family, everything in Riddle family belongs to you!" "I will take care of those two bastards myself and guarantee that they will never cout to hinder your relationship with Hattie again!" "As long as you are happy, everyone in Riddle family is at your disposal!" Upon hearing Maddox's words, Manny suddenly felt a sense of unease deep inside.

Ache had completely destroyed the signal of the hospital, making it impossible for Deacon to pass on the message.

One small misstep led to Manny not knowing the fact that Hunter and Maddox had already regained consciousness.

She just listened to Maddox's unusual words at the moment, her eyes becoming suspicious and uncertain.

Leon looked at the scene of Maddox kneeling on the ground and begging Selena. He remembered the twhen this old man was unbeatable. A few traces of exhaustion and sadness surged in his eyes. "Grandpa, don't you understand? It's too late..." Maddox glared at Leon, "No matter what, you are still Riddle's descendants. How can you watch Riddle family be burdened with such a notorious name?!" Leon looked at Maddox's eyes, which were crazed with anger, and remained silent for a moment before saying, "Hattie is dead." "What did you say?" Maddox was stunned.

Daphne was also stunned. "What do you mean Hattie is dead?!" Leon walked step by step to Daphne, squatting down, looking at the terrified and disheveled face of the old woman, and the nervousness and fear in her eyes. He sneered sarcastically, "Hattie is dead, killed by the snake and scorpion that you and Grandpa raised." "She is dead without a whole corpse, and from now on, you don't have to worry about her returning to Riddle family and taking away Ache and Kaitlyn's things." "She will never appear again to bother you." "After you and Grandfather caused the death of her mother, you also caused her death... are you satisfied?!" Daphne's aged face turned pale, tears welling up in her eyes. "How could this be..." Leon looked at her sorrowful expression and felt an intense sense of hatred and disgust. "Oh, I forgot to tell you. Not only did Hattie die, but also your beloved Ache." "When you gave him auntie's heart, did you ever think about how kind of a person she was..." "Hattie was her daughter. How could she just stand by and watch her own daughter die?" "So her heart, along with your beloved Ache, died together with Hattie. You tell me, is this not retribution?!" Daphne's soul trembled in an instant. "No... no..." "Grandmother, are you happy?" Leon gripped Daphne's chin, staring at her gray and pained face. "Aunt Nevaeh is dead, her daughter is gone, Hattie is also dead, and the Riddle family has made you angry. The daughter who you find annoying will never exist again." "The direct bloodline of the Riddle family is gone. Only I am left, and all the rest were killed by you and Grandfather." "From now on, there will be no more Riddle family in the capital." "The Riddle family is destined to carry the stigma of a family of murderers and traitors forever and will never be washed away." "The offspring is cut off, the family falls apart, and the stench will last for thousands of years." "Are you and Grandfather satisfied?" Daphne saw the bone-deep hatred in Leon's eyes, her eyes widening in panic as she shook her head. "No, I never wanted to harm Hattie. I just..." She wanted to say that she never thought of harming Hattie except for bit of favoritism, and she never thought of harming Selena either.

But facing the cold and disgusted gaze of Leon, she couldn't say those words of defense. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Hattie was dead.

And she really couldn't guess who killed Hattie? Who in the whole capital couldn't tolerate girl? There was only one person.

All the eyes of the Riddle family were filled with rage and fell upon Manny.

Manny had caused Hattie harm more than once.

In the beginning, Hattie almost died in the detention center. Although no one investigated, everyone in the Riddle family knew that it was Manny's doing.

While fighting Leon for power, she killed Hattie so that the entire Riddle family would be hers alone! At the stime, the Riddle family finally found out why Selena suddenly attacked the Riddle family, wanting to destroy the Riddle family completely! Hattie's death meant that the Riddle family lost its biggest protector, which led to their current fate.

Extranger swept through the entire Riddle family.

"You despicable woman! Miss Riddle is just a child, and you have your own son. How could you do this?!" "You crazy woman, you even killed your own son. You are inhuman!" "Maddox, Daphne, open your eyes and see. You brought a twisted monster into the Riddle family. The Riddle family was destroyed by you two who have no eyes!" Manny clenched her teeth with hatred as she faced those faces that wished to cut her into pieces. Although it was somewhat unexpected, Manny didn't care about the Riddle family's accusations. She looked at Selena and coldly smiled, "Miss Turner, what you said is really interesting. Miss Riddle is dead, what does it have to do with me?" "Just like you said, not only did Miss Riddle die, but my son also died!" "Ache and Hattie died by your side. Can't I also say that you killed them and framed me?" "Miss Turner, you killed my son. Shouldn't you give an explanation?" As long as there is no evidence, this woman cannot do anything to her! Selena ignored Manny and only looked at Maddox, who was ashen-faced. "The Riddle family's power, bloodline, and reputation have all been destroyed by you and Daphne, Maddox. Do you regret it?" Maddox trembled all over, looking at Selena, and with difficulty, admitted his mistake, "Yes, I regret it!" "It was my fault. I shouldn't have adopted Kiera and mistreated Nevaeh. I shouldn't have raised Penelope and left you alone in Creephia for more than a decade without any care."

Chapter 1482 They Just Wanted To Live

Chapter 1482 They Just Wanted to Live "I shouldn't have sent Hattie to the juvenile detention center because of those two bastards." "I shouldn't have let the wolf into the house and destroyed the Riddle family's foundation, caused the deaths of their descendants, and ruined their reputation." "The biggest mistake of my life was agreeing to adopt Kiera back then!" "I am the sinner of the Riddle family!" As Maddox confessed each word, everyone from the Riddle family was shocked. He had always been so powerful and authoritative. Perhaps he himself could not have imagined that person day he would kneel in front of his granddaughter, whom he had once despised and abandoned, and confess his wrongdoings and ask for forgiveness in front of everyone.

Selena listened to his sincere confessions with cold eyes. "I like what you're saying, but unfortunately... neither you nor the Riddle family are qualified to be pardoned!" Nevaeh died at the age of 24.

She died at the age of 18.

Selena in Creephia died at the age of 19.

Hattie died at the age of 13.

Even if she was guilty and deserved punishment, what had those three kind and beautiful women done wrong? They just wanted to live.

Was it really that God didn't allow it? No-- Selena stared at the Riddle family present with cruel and cold eyes. Search the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

It wasn't that God didn't allow it, it was that this group of wicked creatures was too malicious! Sensing the killing intent emanating from Selena, the people standing behind her all touched their guns at the stime.

Those who made their queen angry and sad did not deserve to live! In an instant, the killing intent from the entire Riddle family surged! Those who remained in the Riddle family looked at the cold and contemptuous figures, and the Riddle family members collapsed in despair on the ground.

More people were scared to tears.

"Miss, it was Daphne who orchestrated the incidents that hurt Lady Nevaeh and Miss Hattie. We just... did sbad things and never took a life. Please spare us..." Manny's expression changed completely when she saw this. She didn't have tto investigate Maddox's transformation and angrily said, "Selena, even if you're Miss Turner, without any evidence, you're not qualified to openly attack the Riddle family!" She narrowed her eyes coercively and sneered, "Once news of Miss Turner's abuse of power and rampant killing in the Riddle family spreads, it will cause a sensation. By then, the entire Turner family's reputation will be ruined!" "The things that the Turner family has accumulated over generations, if they are destroyed by you today, will your uncle, your cousin, and the members of Zone Six let you go?" The last sentence was a blatant threat.

She was telling Selena that if she went on a killing spree here today, she would never know who the killer of the Turner family was! Selena finally turned her gaze to Manny, with a sharp killing intent. She curved her lips and said, "The criminals who hoard stolen goods for the Riddle family, who are suspected of collaborating with the enemy to harm loyal and righteous people, and who harm the interests of the country and the people, will be punished by all!" "As for evidence--" Selena paused, looking at Manny with a playful expression. "Hunter, do you have nothing to say to your beloved wife and mother?" Manny's ominous premonition reached its peak at this moment. She looked around and then realized that Hunter was sitting in a wheelchair.

After Leon brought him here, he was thrown to the side, and at first she didn't even recognize him as Hunter.

This waste didn't die?! Manny bit her lip, forced a smile on her face, and walked towards Hunter. "Hunter, what's wrong with you?" She pretended to be worried, and tears welled up in her eyes. "Hattie and Ache are both gone. Selena killed them..." She walked step by step towards Hunter, and knelt down in front of him, touching his face with affection.

Manny naturally wouldn't have a good expression towards a puppet, but she had to nail the blfor Hattie and Ache's deaths on Selena.

Therefore, she rarely spoke kindly to this waste that she had always looked down on.

Hunter had been bowing his head since he was brought in, and no one could see his expression.

As Manny's hand was about to touch Hunter's face, the motionless man suddenly lunged at her.

Manny was caught off guard and was thrown to the ground.

The next moment, a sharp pain suddenly from her ear, and she let out a piercing scream.

The people who with Manny to the scene instinctively raised their guns and aimed them at Hunter, but before they could shoot, the people Selena brought with her had already killed them.

The intense battle was accompanied by the smell of blood, and all the people present screamed in fear.

But all of their screams combined couldn't match Manny's sharp and mournful voice.

The woman was rolling on the ground, and the man on top of her was like a desperate beast, biting her fiercely.

Manny, despite her malicious nature, was still a woman and couldn't match men in physical strength.

With Hunter's extractions, she couldn't escape and could only scream in despair.

Everyone present was stunned to see this scene. Everyone in the Riddle family knew how much Hunter loved Manny. He cherished her, obeyed her every word, and even killed his own wife and daughter for her.

Countless people in the Riddle family envied Manny because of this well-known "deep love." It was precisely because of this "deep love" that everyone was shocked to see Hunter tearing and biting Manny like a crazed animal. He looked so ferocious, with strong hatred in his eyes, as if he wanted to devour Manny alive and torture her to death.

Even Manny's screams sounded twisted.

Daphne, watching this scene, subconsciously wanted to step forward to stop it. "Hunter, what are you doing..." But Leon said coldly, "If you want to die, then go ahead!" Daphne looked at Hunter's crazed appearance and her heart trembled slightly. She was scared and stepped back several steps.

At one point, Manny's screams suddenly stopped, and Hunter finally lifted his head. He spat out something from his mouth.

Everyone looked closely and saw that it was a bloody ear! He had bitten off one of Manny's ears! Everyone present was terrified, and they all stepped back when they saw Hunter's bloodstained face.

Hunter stared at the bloodied Manny on the ground, laughed heartily, then turned his gaze to Daphne.

Chapter 1483 Does She Really Not Know?

Chapter 1483 Does She Really Not Know? Daphne looked at Hunter's crimson eyes and felt a chill run down her spine. "Hunter... what's wrong?" Hunter sneered at her. "My daughter is dead. Are you happy about it?" Daphne shook her head, crying. "Hattie was my granddaughter. Her death has been hard for me, more than anyone else. Why would I be happy...?" Hunter laughed hysterically. "You're not happy? How could you not be? When my wife died, you and father immediately sent my daughter to juvenile detention center and happily welcomed that whore and her bastard into our home..." Daphne's lips trembled. "I thought..." She had thought that Ache and Kaitlyn were Cloud's children, which was why they were given preferential treatment at the expense of Hattie.

She never expected that Ache and Kaitlyn had no relationship with the Riddle family at all.

Hunter laughed even louder. "You thought... no, it's not that you thought. You just like that whore on the ground." "You love her more than your daughter, your daughter-in-law, your grandchildren. You're willing to sacrifice everyone in the Riddle family for that whore..." Daphne widened her eyes, looking at Hunter's furious gaze, her heart twisted in pain. "Hunter, what are you talking about? I just thought they were your children..." Hunter glared at the old woman across from him with hatred. "Hattie is also my child. Why weren't you kind to her?" "She was sent to juvenile detention center and tortured into insanity by that whore's people. If you really cared about her, why didn't you go see her once?" "You protect that bastard and whore, but let my only daughter suffer abuse, torment, and persecution by that whore. How dare you say you love my child?" "You don't love my child, you love the child that whore gave birth to!" "Her child is your precious one. In your eyes, my child should just die..." Daphne's face turned pale, and her body swayed. She looked at Hunter in heart-wrenching disbelief.

She couldn't believe her son would accuse her like this...

She was indeed at fault and biased, but she never had the heart to harm her own granddaughter.

"Hattie's death was just an accident. I only wanted to send her abroad..." This was Daphne's most sincere thought deep down.

After all, Hattie was her own granddaughter. She never thought of harming her.

Hunter laughed more and more crazy, "Accident? Until now, my daughter's death is just an accident in your eyes." "You hit my daughter, cursed and abused her, but you never blamed that bitch and the child she gave birth to..." Hunter grabbed Manny's hair and dragged her up, facing Daphne with a completely distorted face, his eyes bloodshot, "It's not an accident! This bitch killed my daughter!" "She deliberately broke the bastard's heart and dug out my wife's heart, transpLola it to that bastard!" "She cto Riddle with a bastard from God knows who, slandered my daughter and killed her child. With your help, she sent Hattie to a juvenile detention center and let her abuse and beat Hattie, driving Hattie crazy." "She repeatedly showed Hattie the process of her mother's death, stimulating Hattie to madness..." "She repeatedly tried to kill my daughter, a fact that everyone knows, but you and your father always turned a blind eye..." "You dare to say that you never thought of killing my child..." Facing Daphne's stunned expression, Hunter suddenly beccrazy, "It was she who killed my wife! It was she who killed my daughter! And it was she who killed your beloved bastard, hahaha..." As Hunter laughed, he suddenly burst into tears, "No, it wasn't her who killed them, it was me, I killed my wife, I killed my daughter..." Everyone in Riddle was stunned.

Although they had expected it, when they really heard these truths, they still felt shuddering.

It's too cruel! The people of Riddle stared at the woman who was dragged by Hunter with a distorted face, and as soon as they thought that she had even killed her own son, they all retreated in fear.

"Monster! What kind of dirty monster is this..." "Daphne, you poisonous woman with eyes but no beads, you brought something into Riddle..." Daphne looked at Hunter's crying and laughing appearance, her face blank.

Sthings can be easily ignored by hypocrites as long as they are not exposed. However, once the ugly truth is revealed, it becomes devastating.

Daphne's body trembled again.

She could no longer claim ignorance or innocence.

She had lived in high society for decades, was she really unaware? No, she always knew.

She just selfishly refused to think deeply about it.

As long as she didn't think about it, she could pretend that nothing had happened.

She just chose the latter between a granddaughter and a pair of twins.

Daphne covered her face and burst into tears.

Manny stared at Hunter and screamed, wanting to rush forward and tear the man apart to stop him from speaking. But Selena's men stood by, and wherever she moved, bullets hit the corresponding parts of her body.

The woman's angry screams and shouts made everyone shudder.

Hunter heard Manny's screams and Daphne's tears, and his eyes flashed with delight and a cruel smile.

Daphne screamed and tried to step back when faced with Manny's bloody face, but Hunter caught her head first.

"Don't you like this bitch the most? Don't you love her the most? I brought her to you, what are you hiding from?!" "Open your eyes and look carefully. She is your favorite and most beloved person..." Daphne was almost scared crazy by Hunter's madness, and his words made her even more terrified...

Chapter 1484 She Is Kiera!

Chapter 1484 She is Kiera! Daphne looked at Hunter's distorted face with extrshock and cried, "Hunter, what are you talking about?" "I indulged that woman and those children because of you..." Hunter laughed even harder when he heard Daphne's explanation, but his soul was crying.

This was his mother, who had done so many wicked things, yet always found a way to justify herself.

Manny's face was twisted with anger as he struggled to speak. "How dare you..." If Hunter revealed her secret, everything would be ruined! He grabbed Manny's hair and forced her face in front of Daphne, mocking her while laughing. "You've always been making excuses for yourself. Don't you think it's your fault that the Riddle family was destroyed? You don't even admit to killing so many members of the Riddle family..." "Do you still think that everything is Selena's fault? That she framed the Riddle family and was trying to destroy it out of revenge?" Daphne stared at Manny's bloody face, completely shocked and unable to refute him. But her expression clearly told everyone that she thought this way.

In Daphne's eyes, everything that had happened to the Riddle family was Selena's fault.

Selena watched the internal strife of the Riddle family coldly, even as she was being condemned by Daphne's gaze. Her expression did not change.

She just looked at Daphne's grim face and wondered, how could a woman like this give birth to a daughter like Nevaeh? Hunter, who had not repented, continued to laugh maliciously. "What if I told you that there was no slander, and that someone in the Riddle family really did commit treason?" "And that traitor was the person you brought into the Riddle family." "You and grandpa were both helping that treacherous person, helping her steal from the country, helping her kill, helping her cover up the evidence!" Daphne's eyes widened suddenly.

Before hearing this sentence, she had never heard the accusation of Riddle family colluding with the enemy and betraying the country.

She thought all of these were deliberately fabricated by Selena against Riddle family! However, upon hearing Hunter's words, Daphne suddenly trembled and denied, "No, no, no! I didn't do it! I didn't!" She was ignorant and confused, but she knew the consequences of being involved in such a crime.

At that time, not only the entire Riddle family, but also the entire H Country would have no place for her! Hunter admired the panic on her face, and his smile was full of twisted pleasure. "No! You did it! You not only did these things, but also raised the spy with your own hands..." Daphne trembled uncontrollably and denied, "No, no, no, I didn't do it, I didn't know anything, I just had sbias..." She frantically pushed Manny's face full of blood, and finally, fear and disgust appeared in her eyes. "This vicious woman deceived with those two children. I had no idea, I don't know her..." Manny's face twisted even more upon hearing Daphne's words.

She tried every means to stop Hunter from continuing, but Selena's people had surrounded them tightly, leaving her no chance to escape. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Separated by layers of people, Manny stared at Selena with resentment on her face.

Selena leaned elegantly on the chair, overlooking the scene from a high position, watching her being stripped of her last layer of skin, watching her crawl on the ground in a mess, watching her lose everything...

Manny let out a series of sharp and resentful screams.

Upon hearing Daphne's words, Hunter seemed to have heard the funniest joke in the world, and his tone was so severe and ironic. "You don't know her? Hahaha, how could you not know her? She is the daughter you raised with your own hands, your most beloved and precious daughter. The one you didn't hesitate to abandon your own biological daughter for and held in the palm of your hand. And you dare to say that you don't know her?" "Hahaha, this is so funny..." Daphne's expression suddenly became blank upon hearing Hunter's words.

Other members of the Riddle family were also stunned.

What did it mean... that Manny was the daughter Daphne raised with her own hands, her most beloved and precious daughter? It was well known that Daphne had only two daughters.

One was Nevaeh, but Nevaeh had died long ago, and Daphne didn't like her anyway.

The other one was...

Everyone in the Riddle family widened their eyes at this moment.

They stared fiercely at Manny's ugly, almost unrecognizable face.

Daphne was frozen in place like a stake, her gaze fixed on Manny's face, filled with confusion and blankness.

Hunter looked at her maliciously, laughing cruelly, "Mother, she is Kiera, your beloved Kiera, hahaha..." Manny's eyes were about to burst, and he glared fiercely at Hunter.

Daphne's body trembled, all the warmth and color drained from her body at that moment.

She stared fixedly at the stranger's face in front of her, Hunter's insane words ringing in her ears.

This was Kiera... who she had raised with her own hands... who she had sacrificed her own daughter and granddaughter for, just to keep in her palm.

Daphne shook her head in disbelief, "It's impossible, Kiera died a long tago... she can't be Kiera..." Hunter's face was as dark as a ghost, "Of course she had to die, how else could she use Hunter to help her kill so many people from the Turner family? How else could she use you to kill Nevaeh? How else could she hide in the shadows and send all the children she gave birth to into the Riddle family for a life of luxury, and then secretly abuse Nevaeh's daughter? How else could she re-enter the Riddle family and kill Hattie? How else could she use this layer of skin on her body to collude with those inhumane things and harm the entire Riddle family? How else could she act as a spy for those people and help them harm H Country? With you and Grandfather as free and foolish accomplices, how could she not die even once? How could she justify your unfairness and malice, without distinction between right and wrong?"

Chapter 1485 He'S Gone Mad

Chapter 1485 He's gone mad Hunter's words were like a bombshell that exploded over the heads of the entire Riddle family.

Manny is Kiera! Her "death" years ago was a complete conspiracy! It was all for revenge against Nevaeh and the Turner family...

Both Cassius and the Riddle family were her tools to eliminate dissidents.

Everyone was stunned.

In the minds of the Riddle family members, one phrase kept echoing back and forth: It's over! Everything is over! If Manny is Kiera, then she must have been involved with an organization that conspired to kill the entire Turner family, and she must have had a hand in it.

And that organization was related to the Arctic laboratory and the underground virus from years ago.

This heinous crime well-known and is an undeniable act of treason! What was Kiera's relationship with the Riddle family? Although she was only an adopted daughter, she had already been given the surname Yun and was the most beloved daughter of Maddox and Daphne.

The couple even sacrificed their own biological daughter for her.

Even after Kiera's death, Daphne still kept a memorial tablet for her and even raised her daughter as a precious gem in the Riddle family.

Not only her daughter but even the illegitimate children she bore were openly welcomed back into the Riddle family! Maddox even ridiculously passed on the position of family head to her.

In such a situation, can the Riddle family still deny their connection to Kiera and claim innocence to others? It turns out that Selena did not slander the Riddle family... Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The Riddle family actually raised a snake that colluded with the enemy and committed a heinous crime.

Everyone in the Riddle family collapsed in despair on the ground.

Daphne's mind was buzzing.

She looked at Manny's scarred face and murmured, "Kiera... Kiera..." Manny was the Kiera that she had raised from a young age and had always thought about.

The so-called death was to use her to hurt Nevaeh.

Kiera faked her death, killed her daughter, abused her granddaughter, caused the death of her own daughter, and even caused the downfall of the entire Riddle family...

Daphne couldn't accept such a result and shook her head, "It's impossible! My Kiera was so obedient and kind, how could she do something so malicious..." Perhaps Hunter had already revealed the biggest secret, and Manny no longer hid it. She stared at Daphne with bone-deep hatred in her eyes and said, "It's all your fault, you old hag!" "If you don't bring back that bitch Nevaeh, the position of the Riddle family's young lady will be mine!" "Callum is mine too!" "It's you who made lose everything and be the way I am today!" Daphne was shocked when she heard these words. "But..." Nevaeh is her daughter Everything in the Riddle family originally belonged to Nevaeh.

As for Callum - Even before Nevaeh appeared, Callum didn't like Kiera...

Manny saw what Daphne wanted to express and his eyes became even more twisted. "The position of the Riddle family's young lady belongs to me! Since the moment I arrived at the Riddle family, it belonged to me!" "You keep saying that you love the most, that I am your most beloved daughter, then why didn't you strangle that bitch Nevaeh when she was born?!" "Why didn't you kill her when you found her?!" "Why did you let her return to the Riddle family, taking away the identity that belongs to and the man I like?!" "It's all your fault, you old hag!" Watching Daphne gasping for breath with anger, Kiera's expression changed and she suddenly laughed. "But I have to thank you." "Without your help, how could I have killed Nevaeh so smoothly?!" "Without your help, how could I have treated her daughter Selena like a dog and abused her for more than ten years?!" "Without your help, how could I have smoothly sent my three children into the Riddle family, making them the high and mighty masters of the Riddle family, torturing and trampling on all the daughters of the Riddle family?!" "Without your help, how could I have become the real master of the Riddle family and personally bury the entire Riddle family?!" "Hahaha! Since I am destined not to get it, let it be destroyed!" "Die! Damn Riddle family, go cry in hell and regret it! Hahaha..." The woman's sharp and piercing laughter rang out, making everyone present dizzy.

Of all the people present, Daphne, who was closest to Kiera, was undoubtedly the most shocked.

She listened to Kiera's words with a face like ashes.

It was her who killed Nevaeh.

It was her who abused Selena.

It was her who caused Hattie's miserable death.

It was her who destroyed the Riddle family.

She harmed all the daughters of the Riddle family, causing the entire Riddle family to bear the stigma and be irretrievable.

And she, Daphne, was the biggest accomplice.

Daphne couldn't take the stimulation anymore and cried out in agony, falling backwards onto the ground.

But she didn't faint comfortably.

Hunter dropped Manny from his hand and grabbed Daphne's collar.

He pulled her up to his face and looked at her aged face, which was finally filled with deep regret. "Mother, how could you faint so easily at this critical moment?" he asked. "You haven't even seen the downfall of the Riddle family! You haven't seen your son become a scum dog that everyone in H Country wants to kill, with a tarnished reputation. You haven't seen all your descendants fall into the mud and live on with a bad reputation forever. You created all of this, how can you not see the result and just faint?!" "You can't faint, or in no tyou will hate the daughter of the Riddle family again for the sake of your beloved Kiera," he continued.

Daphne looked at Hunter with an abnormal expression in his eyes, and a bone-deep fear rose from deep within her.

She trembled all over and wailed, "Hunter, I was wrong, I regret it, don't scare me..." Hunter smiled at her, "Mother, you must open your eyes wide and watch this scene carefully! Never ever forget it!" "I curses you with my life, that you will not have a peaceful death, no one will send you off, no one will pay their respects, you will go to hell after death, endure all the cruel tortures in the world, and be a lonely ghost forever!" Under Daphne's staring eyes, Hunter laughed wildly. He ran out of the door while crying and laughing, "My wife, I'm sorry, I'm coming to find you..." "Hattie, cto daddy..." "I killed my wife, I killed my daughter..." His expression was crazy, his eyes were crazy, and there was not a trace of the clarity that a normal person should have.

He was insane.

Daphne watched Hunter's insane appearance in disbelief, her eyes dull. After a few seconds, she suddenly reacted and crawled after him.

Chapter 1486 A Transaction

Chapter 1486 A Transaction "No! Hunter--" Daphne frantically chased after Hunter, feeling a fear like never before. Her son hated her so much that he was willing to curse her with his own life! But Hunter was completely insane, and no matter how much Daphne shouted and cried, he would never hear her again.

Daphne looked at her mad son, remembered Nevaeh and Hattie who had passed away, looked at the mess that was the Riddle family, and saw the faces of those who hated her to the bone...

A delayed sense of remorse finally took hold of her.

All her previous regrets and fears had only been on the surface, never penetrating her soul. But Hunter's curse and insanity had finally plunged the knife of revenge into Daphne's heart. Only when the pain truly fell on herself did she feel the pain and regret! Daphne let out a scream of despair and frantically pounced on Kiera, tearing at her on the ground. "You bitch! I raised you! I loved you so much, I favored you so much!" "You even dared to harm my son!" "You harmed so many of my children!" "The Riddle family raised you like a precious jewel, how could you destroy the whole Riddle family..." Why did she adopt Kiera? If she hadn't adopted Kiera, she wouldn't have lost her son, her daughter, her granddaughter, her great-granddaughter...

She wouldn't have fallen from being the mistress of the Riddle family to a dog that everyone hated and cursed.

Everyone hated her, everyone resented her! There won't be anyone to take care of her in her old age, to see her off in death. After she dies, she will only become a lonely ghost that no one worships.

Daphne finally felt the true pain and regret.

Her elderly face was twisted, crying out in agony, accusing Kiera frantically. "You heartless and despicable creature, you were born to be a wretched existence, it's your fate to be thrown into an orphanage when you were born..." Kiera's whole body was covered in blood, but she was laughing.

She laughed at Daphne's foolishness, laughed at the Riddle family's fate, laughed that she had finally destroyed the Riddle family.

The only regret was that she couldn't destroy Selena! Kiera glared at Selena with a full expression of hatred, her eyes filled with resentment.

Selena watched the whole farce with cold eyes, and only now did she lazily speak up. "Take them down!" For a moment, there were cries of surprise inside the Riddle family.

Except for the branch of Leon that had already left the Riddle family, all the Riddle family members present were put in shackles and were no longer the high and mighty, shining and glamorous people they used to be.

They will be sent to prison, investigated and tried, even those who did not collude with Kiera, but anyone who did wrong will not escape! The young people of the Riddle family cried so much they nearly fainted.

"No, I'm scared, I don't dare to go to prison, save me..." "Daphne, you bitch! I curse you, you will not have a good death!" Leon closed his eyes.

Daphne was also naturally among those arrested. search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She was pinned down by two fierce people, her old eyes watching familiar people being arrested, seeing familiar homes being sealed, and hearing the surrounding cries and screams...

At this moment, she finally experienced the malice in Hunter's words.

Her favoritism and stupidity had sent the entire Riddle family to their doom! Daphne cried out in terror, "No--" Maddox was escorted by two people, his spine had completely collapsed.

He looked at Selena.

In that girl's eyes, there was not a trace of pity and compassion, only endless coldness and nobility.

Maddox suddenly smiled, "Anyway, you are a member of the Riddle family, your glory will always have a share of the Riddle family!" Selena sneered at the old man's delusions, "Maddox, I am Nevaeh's daughter, not a member of the Riddle family." Callum had his daughter take the Nevaeh's surname to give her a home.

"And as we all know, Nevaeh has long been expelled from the Riddle family." "My glory belongs to Nevaeh, belongs to the Turner family, but it will never belong to you." Maddox finally completely collapsed, and in an instant, he aged ten years.

Clementine personally escorted Kiera, dragging her up from the ground.

Kiera was covered in blood.

But this woman had a tenacious vitality. Such injuries on others would be unbearable, but as long as she had a breath, she would get up and do bad things.

Selena looked down at Kiera, "Hand this woman over to Quinn, let her spit out everything she needs to, no matter what happens." Clementine respectfully said, "Yes!" No matter how hard and strong-willed the master was, they would not be able to hold on when they were in Quinn's hands.

Just as they were about to take Kiera away, someone suddenly walked in outside the gate.

Selena squinted her eyes slightly.

The man walked calmly into the Riddle family, with a playful smile on his face.

At the same moment, another man walked towards him from the opposite direction.

He was a young, handsome man carrying a knife, and there was a hint of lingering blood on his black coat.

He walked gracefully to Selena's side, his slender and attractive hand pressing down on her shoulder as he faced the staring eyes of Clementine and others.

The atmosphere became tense immediately.

Cassius looked at the beautiful couple sitting and standing opposite him with a meaningful smile. "Don't get me wrong, I don't have any malicious intent coming here. I just want to make a deal with you, Miss Turner. You should be interested." A sharp killing intent flashed in Selena's eyes.

Since she was planning to kill Kiera, she didn't mind killing the man in front of her as well.

As Selena's killing intent emerged, Cassius was immediately surrounded by countless guns. He glanced at Osvaldo, who had an expressionless face, and sneered, "You give me that woman, and I'll tell you where Miss Riddle is." Selena's killing intent slightly subsided.

Leon's gaze shifted to her.

The Riddle family members who had not been taken away from the scene lifted their heads with hope in their eyes.

Cassius smiled, "You can ask the boy next to you." Selena suppressed her killing intent. She didn't need to ask, it was true what Cassius said.

Osvaldo's failure to immediately dismember Kiera was the best proof.

Selena lightly tapped on the armrest, "I can find her even without catching you." According to Cassius, Hattie had only disappeared and was not in his hands. With Selena and Osvaldo's power, it was only a matter of time before they found her.

"I just received a message," Cassius spoke in a calm tone, "The Turner family has sent many people to the the Capital University laboratory. Your Highness, are you sure you want to ruin everything for a woman who has no value anymore?" mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1 mmMwWL1i10fif10&1 mmMwWLIIIfiflO&1

Chapter 1487 Boyfriend Who Suffered Grievances

Chapter 1487 Boyfriend who suffered grievances A murderous intent flashed in Selena's eyes. The others were stunned.

What did Cassius just call Selena? Your Highness?! What... Your Highness? It was well known that Selena was Nevaeh and Callum's daughter, Miss Turner. They must have misheard.

Except for a few, this doubt flashed in everyone's mind, but they were attracted by the other meaning in Cassius' words.

Several upper-class families in the capital knew about the laboratory in the Capital University.

If the Turner family sent people to the laboratory, it meant that the things that had been researched for more than ten years with the investment of H Country were finally coming out! And what was inside was related to the Turner family's tragic demise, the forces behind Kiera and Cassius, and almost everyone present could smell the scent of unrest. But compared to this, the Riddle family was more concerned about Hattie's whereabouts.

Selena attacked the Riddle family because of Hattie's death.

If Hattie was really alive, would there still be a chance for the Riddle family to redeem themselves? Selena smiled coldly, looking at Cassius, "No one can threaten me!" Cassius publicly revealed her identity, which meant that if she didn't agree to release Kiera, he would make her identity known to everyone.

The people in the capital knew.

The same goes for the empire! But at this point, was Selena still afraid? Cassius stopped there, "You don't have to worry. She will cause trouble for you and Miss Riddle in the future." He glanced at Osvaldo standing next to Selena, "Besides a disabled body, she has nothing left to hold on to." Kiera, who had been lying silently on the ground, suddenly raised her head upon hearing this. She still had half of her power left, so how could she have nothing left? Selena narrowed her eyes slightly, her expression extremely unfriendly.

A woman like Kiera will always harm others as long as she is alive. Only when she's dead can she finally find peace.

Cassius looked at Selena and then at Osvaldo, who was standing expressionless by her side. He spoke maliciously, "Before you came to the Riddle family, that boy by your side had wiped out all the power under this woman's control with bloodshed. Do you understand what I'm saying?" Kiera was initially stunned, but then she went mad.

All the efforts she had put into building her power for the past twenty years had been for nothing? Then what would she use to find Callum? Selena's expression froze for a moment, and then she looked up at Osvaldo by her side.

Osvaldo leaned in, pinching Selena's chin, and placed a gentle kiss on her lips. "She shouldn't have hurt you." If Kiera wasn't useful to Selena, that woman would have been dead by his hands a long time ago. Selena was surprised to see a strange hint of killing intent in the man's eyes, despite his gentleness.

Was it because Kiera had used him and hurt Selena that he was angry and guilty, leading to this change in him? Selena's heart softened, and she reached up to touch Osvaldo's face, gently reassuring him, "It's alright." It was only at this moment that Selena realized the incident had not only left a serious shadow on her, but also had a significant impact on Osvaldo.

He was already feeling guilty and sad, yet he still had to soothe her temper in a low voice. Her sadness could be vented on him, but as another victim, he could only swallow it himself.

Selena blinked her eyes and became overwhelmed with tenderness. She said with a smile, "Osvaldo, it's alright." After staring at her for a while, Osvaldo lifted Selena off her chair and said, "That girl is in his hands." After the explosion was cleaned up, Hattie and Ache's bodies were not found. Someone had already informed him of this news.

Otherwise, Osvaldo wouldn't have chosen to kill someone first.

Hattie meant something different to Selena, and she couldn't just watch her die. Selena suddenly realized where Cassius' confidence came from.

Facing the glaring gaze of the subordinates, Selena obediently stayed in Osvaldo's arms and looked at Cassius with a smile. "I pity you, you couldn't find anyone better than this one..." Cassius looked at the lovebirds in front of him, his eyes flashing with a trace of deep jealousy. He said with a smile, "Miss Turner, we'll meet again soon." After speaking, Cassius turned and left without even glancing at Kiera on the ground. The Anderson family's loyalty prevented him from watching her die, but it didn't mean he didn't hate her. Kiera would never receive the same treatment as Selena and Lady Lauren. She didn't deserve it! Kiera watched Cassius' back as he walked away, screaming in despair.

Under the hopeful gaze of the Riddle family, Osvaldo calmly carried Selena out. The Riddle family watched as Osvaldo took Selena away, their eyes going from hopeful to gradually shattered, and finally to a look of utter despair. Having experienced another fall from heaven to hell, the Riddle family completely gave up and collapsed to the ground in despair.

Daphne, however, was unwilling. She didn't want to fall into the trap Hunter had set and confronted Selena, "Hattie isn't dead, so why did you have to arrest the Riddle family?!" Selena destroyed the Riddle family in anger over Hattie's death. Hattie wasn't dead now, so shouldn't she release the Riddle family? Everyone was stunned by Daphne's bold questioning. The Riddle family couldn't believe they had such an ignorant and foolish mistress of the house... How blind was Maddox to marry such a woman? Selena ignored Daphne's words, her dark eyes fixed on Osvaldo's exquisitely handsome face, thinking about how to comfort her boyfriend who had also suffered. Osvaldo put Selena in the passenger seat and fastened her seatbelt before leaving with her alone. After Osvaldo left with Selena, her entourage also left, and the Riddle family members were all taken to prison. Soon, only Kiera, lying on the ground covered in blood, remained at the scene. She lifted her bloody eyes and looked at the ruined Riddle family, laughing maniacally with every inch of her body filled with resentment.

Half an hour after returning to the villa, Selena received a call from Leia. Hattie and Ache had been brought back, but both were in bad shape and were being taken to the hospital.

Leia asked, "Madam Selena, should we tell Miss Hattie about the child's identity?"

Chapter 1488 I Want You

Chapter 1488 I Want You At that moment, Selena was standing in the garden, pondering how to comfort Osvaldo and Leia's problems, when she was startled by their conversation.

Selena's slender fingers were holding a flower, "The child's situation isn't good?" Leia lowered her voice, "Yes, when the explosion happened, they were too close. Miss Hattie just passed out, but Ache was seriously injured. Plus, his heart wasn't good to begin with. Dr. Steward said... there's only a fifty percent chance he'll wake up." Selena said calmly, "Let Eden help out and let him make his own decision when he wakes up." Leia agreed and was about to hang up the phone when she suddenly remembered something and said, "By the way, Madam Selena, Mr. Jordan is back. He's asking if you have time to take Miss Hattie to the awards ceremony for 'Breaking Ground.'" Selena was stunned, "Awards ceremony?" It had been a while since the ending of "Breaking Ground". Selena only knew that it was popular, but she didn't have any idea how popular it was.

Now that she heard the news, she was shocked at first. But winning an award was undoubtedly a good thing. Selena smiled, "Let's go and take a look then." Both girls would want to see it with their own eyes.

Leia blinked.

Luke really wouldn't make any unnecessary phone calls.

Selena actually agreed.

"Okay, Madam Selena, I'll go tell Mr. Jordan now." After hanging up the phone, Selena went inside to find Osvaldo.

Osvaldo was busy in his study. When he heard the noise, he looked up and saw Selena standing in front of the desk, looking at him with raised eyebrows.

Osvaldo reached out and pulled her into his arms, gently kissing her tender red lips, "What's wrong?" Although she had been spoiled, Selena hadn't been spoiled to the point of being willful and disturbing him.

Selena lay on the man's chest, looking at his handsome face, "Tomorrow night, I want to take Hattie to the awards ceremony for 'Breaking Ground.'" Osvaldo gently stroked her long hair, waiting for his wife to continue.

Selena looked into his eyes and asked shyly, "Do you want any gift?" She had been thinking for a long time about what to give him, but couldn't come up with anything, so she decided to ask him directly.

Osvaldo tapped his fingers and gazed at her face for a moment before saying, "Yes." Selena's face lit up with anticipation and her eyes sparkled as she asked, "What is it?" Osvaldo smiled warmly and indulgently, "You." Selena blinked.

Osvaldo's gaze was deep, fixed on her eyes, and he repeated, "I want you." The words rolled off his tongue like an electric current, making the young girl blush.

Selena widened her eyes and her pretty face turned almost red with blush.

Osvaldo's slender fingertips lightly brushed over her delicate eyes, looking at the young girl who had finally blossomed into a woman.

She had grown up.

The man's slender hands held her slender back, leaning in to whisper in her ear with a low voice, "Selena, I have been waiting for a long time." Selena not only felt weak in the legs but also in her whole body. Her face was flushed, and she stuttered, "But we... haven't..." She wanted to say they weren't married yet, but suddenly remembered that strictly speaking, they had already obtained a marriage certificate.

Osvaldo looked at the young girl's nervous and fidgety appearance, and chuckled softly, soothingly patting her back, "Selena, you've grown up and can do naughty things now." Selena's dark eyes looked at him, and she whispered softly, "You can't bully me..." Osvaldo kissed her eyes and chuckled, "Is this considered bullying?" He kissed her lips again, "Is this considered bullying?" Selena lifted her hands to embrace his slender neck, shyly hiding her face in his arms.

Osvaldo gently stroked her tense spine, "Then I'm probably... going to bully you hard." The young girl was so embarrassed that she couldn't even lift her head.

Osvaldo lightly stroked her silky hair, his eyes filled with tenderness and indulgence.

Luke had already returned to the capital.

Spencer would arrive in a couple of days.

Her news was spreading in the Federation and couldn't be contained anymore.

Before Stanley arrived, he always wanted to completely make her his own! The man's eyes were dark as he gently embraced his wife and whispered, "Selena, at the engagement banquet, will you be my wife?" Selena looked at the man's exquisite and handsome face and remembered that she had promised to reveal everything to him after the affairs in the capital were over.

If he was willing to face it with her at that time, being his wife wouldn't be impossible.

Selena blushed and looked at the man's eyes, smiling softly as she whispered, "Okay." In the afternoon, Hattie woke up from her coma.

Selena went to the hospital to see her.

In the quiet hospital room, Selena walked in and she sitting on the bed turned to look at her.

A smile appeared on her pale face. "Selena." Selena walked over and hugged she, gently saying, "Hattie, you did well." Even though Cassius saved Kiera's life from her, the video that Hattie brought out completely pinned Manny on the charge of being a murderer.

The video had been recorded and made public, and Manny was currently being detained by the police.

Selena promised Cassius not to kill Kiera, but it didn't mean that the woman could escape legal punishment.

From now on, as Manny, she was no longer welcome in H Country, just like Kiera. SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Hattie snuggled in Selena's arms and rubbed her head. "My brother already told me, Selena." Selena patted her hair. "Are you happy, Hattie?" Hattie nodded heavily. "Yeah!" For she, her mother being exonerated and the revenge being taken were the happiest things.

Both of them tacitly didn't mention Hunter.

Selena asked, "The awards ceremony for 'Breaking Ground' is tomorrow night. Would you like to go with me, Hattie?" Hattie nodded. "Yes." Selena gazed at the relaxation and abandon in the girl's eyes and felt relieved. She gently patted her shoulder and spoke of another matter without waiting for Hattie to ask. "That young man has left." Hattie raised her head in surprise.

Selena gently said, "He said he was entrusted by Hattie's mother to protect you and doesn't need Hattie's thanks..." Hattie lowered her eyelashes and remained silent for a long time before finally looking up and smiling. "I understand, Selena." Selena gently patted her shoulder.

Perhaps Hattie had guessed the identity of that young man, or perhaps she hadn't.

But it didn't matter anymore.

Chapter 1489 She Only Needs To Live For Herself

Chapter 1489 She Only Needs to Live for Herself From now on, she would grow up carefree and live a peaceful life, just like any other kind-hearted and beautiful girl in the world, without any more hardships.

On the second day after the downfall of the Riddle family in the capital, a grand television awards ceremony was held in the city.

That night, on the glamorous red carpet, famous stars gathered and the media swarmed. It was extremely lively.

As the largest entertainment company in the country, nearly half of the attending artists were from the Emperor Entertainment.

The award-winning actors and actresses, dressed in magnificent attire and accessories, entered one after another, causing fans to scream in excitement.

Estrella and Matthew, as the popular actors of the year, were naturally invited to attend the banquet again as nominees for the Best Supporting Actor and Best Supporting Actress Awards.

Both of them became popular because of the hit "Breaking Ground," so they naturally held hands and attended the feast together.

The handsome and beautiful couple made their appearance and almost caused the fans to riot.

Matthew gentlemanly held Estrella's hand, and the two of them smiled and waved at the fans. Just at this moment, a car arrived at the end of the red carpet.

Luke, who had not shown up for a long time, stepped out of the driver's seat, wearing a burgundy suit and a devilish smile on his face.

Whether it was the media or the actors, they had not seen this CEO for a while, and seeing him suddenly appear at the awards ceremony, they were all stunned.

Immediately, the media swarmed up, crazily taking pictures and conducting interviews.

Estrella and Matthew heard the commotion and turned around to look. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Luke smiled at the camera and then made a pause gesture, turning around and opening the back seat door, gentlemanly extending his hand.

Seeing his actions, whether it was the photographers or the restless fans, their movements instantly froze.

As an industry bigwig, Luke was famous for never having any romantic scandals with actresses, so who could qualify to let him personally help them out of the car? A group of people seemed to have thought of something, staring at the car door without blinking, and their hearts began to race.

Under the intense gaze of everyone, a slender hand was placed in Luke's palm, and then a young girl wearing a black and white dress jumped out of the car.

Her shoulder-length black hair was tied up, revealing her entire face. The exquisite long dress showcased the beauty and youthfulness of the young girl. With a bold smile on her pure white face, her eyes were wild and free, beautiful and innocent.

After a moment of dead silence, a deafening scream erupted throughout the entire venue.

The fans collectively rioted, becoming so excited that they were almost going crazy.

"Ah ah ah!! Phoebe!!!" After the huge success of "Breaking Ground," Hattie, the lead actress, became the hottest new star in the entertainment industry.

She was beautiful and had such superb acting skills that person could say that if she were to enter the entertainment industry, the entire domestic entertainment scene would be willing to wait for her to grow up.

Except for her appearance in "Breaking Ground," Hattie had never appeared at any press conferences. Therefore, when everyone suddenly saw her, they all felt surprised.

After Hattie got out of the car, Luke did not immediately take her away by holding her hand, but instead turned around and opened the other car door.

When everyone saw Luke's action, whether it was the media taking pictures or the screaming fans, they all gasped.

All the commotion on the scene disappeared in an instant.

Everyone stared in that direction without blinking their eyes. The next second, a slender figure, holding Luke's hand, elegantly walked out of the car.

Selena was wearing a long red dress with her long hair down to her waist, stunning and elegant, with a smile on her face, as beautiful as the enchanting night.

Not to mention the fans on the scene, even the organizers did not expect that the ancestor who had a reputation throughout H Country would appear at the TV awards ceremony.

After realizing this, the organizers immediately deployed more security guards to prevent fan riots, which would be bad if there were casualties.

But surprisingly, even though everyone was so excited that they could hardly faint on the spot, there was no overexcited behavior.

All the fans just stood quietly outside the red line, watching the Riddle sisters hold hands and walk up the red carpet, with tears in their eyes, full of awe and admiration.

Even the media only stayed at a safe distance to take pictures of the sisters. No one approached them for an interview.

Wherever Selena went, everyone willingly avoided her. Selena led Hattie, wearing high heels, smoothly walking down the red carpet, but as they approached the door, a burst of warm blessings suddenly came from behind.

"Miss Selena, Miss Hattie, soar with your "Breaking Ground"!" Selena turned around and smiled at the fans in the audience.

In an instant, the fans collectively erupted, almost screaming with excitement, "Ah--" "Oh my, she smiled at me..." "This side profile is too amazing! Enough for me to watch for a lifetime..." "This is the true limit of our entertainment industry's beauty and temperament!" The leading and supporting actors and actresses who were overshadowed on the scene, saw this scene and all showed reverence, not a hint of dissatisfaction or jealousy towards the sisters who suddenly appeared on the scene.

When a person's height is far above everyone else, jealousy will be transformed into respect and admiration.

For Selena to attend this award ceremony is a honor for the entire entertainment industry.

Luke stood by the two beautiful girls and led them to their seats.

As expected, "Breaking Ground" with explosive ratings and super high word of mouth, was destined to sweep all the major awards this year.

When Hattie stood on the stage holding the "Best Actress" award, she looked down at Selena sitting in the front row, applauding for her with a smile. Suddenly, she felt an unprecedented warmth.

She knew why Selena brought her here.

Like Phoebe, she was a sweet candy that had gone through darkness and pain, and what awaited her was a bright and beautiful future.

Hattie suddenly smiled, raised the trophy in her hand high, and at that moment, applause thundered on and off the stage.

Selena looked at the dazzling girl on the stage and thought of the deceased Selena. She would be happy if she saw this scene.

"Breaking Ground" became popular all over the country, successfully winning all the major awards, fulfilling Selena's wish.

Now, she only needs to live for herself.

At the same time, on the streets of the capital, countless screens were playing this scene.

When the trophy was handed over to the young and tender hands, countless people cheered.

This was probably the most undisputed TV awards ceremony in history.

The cheers of the two girls were particularly loud in the crowd...

Chapter 1490 Twins

Chapter 1490 Twins Among the crowd, the cheers of two girls were particularly loud. Candy and Nova, the twin sisters, were dressed in festive red dresses, shaking glow sticks and screaming wildly.

In a street corner further away, a boy in a black jacket stood, watching the girl on the big screen with a dazzling smile. A faint smile appeared on his pale face.

"I wish you a carefree and joyful life in this beautiful and youthful age. I will protect you from all troubles and enjoy the ups and downs of life with you." The whole city seemed to be celebrating this award ceremony. Just then, colorful fireworks lit up the square. In the midst of the fireworks, the boy took one last look at Hattie on the big screen, put on his hood, and disappeared into the darkness.

At the award ceremony, after Hattie received the Best Actress award, Selena unsurprisingly won the Best Director award.

When she stood up to go on stage, the screams from the audience suddenly lowered and all eyes were on the beautiful and elegant young lady.

The host looked at her with awe, "Miss Selena, can you say a few words?" Looking at the audience and meeting their expectant eyes, Selena smiled slightly and said in a cool and pleasant voice through the microphone, "Let the fire continue, good will triumph over evil. May you all have a bright future, soaring to the top and meeting at the summit!" After a moment of silence, the entire city erupted in exciting applause and cheers.

After the awards ceremony, the two sisters from the Cooke family walked home holding bubble tea and grilled skewers.

It was eight o'clock in the evening, and the whole city was brightly lit. The two girls leisurely walked down the street.

Nova happily counted the autographs on her hands, "I have two autographs from Phoebe and four from Selena, all with big hearts..." She was probably the happiest fan in the world.

Candy looked at her little sister who had recently gained some weight and rolled her eyes, "Nova, you should lose some weight.

You eat, drink, and play all day without studying. What if you become a fat ball in the future?" Candy looked at her little sister's face, which still had a bit of baby fat, with deep concern.

Nova was currently not focused on her figure, chattering away while counting the signatures on Candy's hand. Suddenly, she seemed to think of something and her eyes lit up. "Candy, Selena didn't promise to come to our birthday party last time, but she didn't refuse either. Do you think she'll come if I invite her again?" Candy hesitated as she looked at her sister's hopeful expression. Nova's young mind couldn't handle anything too complex, and she invited Selena to their birthday party purely out of admiration and liking.

However, Selena's identity was too precious and there were too many forces involved. She didn't agree to come to their house for her birthday party because she was probably doing it for their own good.

Candy could feel that Selena had a kind of ambiguous indulgence towards her little sister...

The young girl's expression was a bit serious as she was about to deny it, but she couldn't bear to see her sister disappointed when she looked into Nova's shining eyes. Candy stood with her hands behind her back, lifting her chin haughtily, "You can text her and ask." Nova immediately smiled happily, took out her phone, and was about to send a message to Selena when a car suddenly sped by them and stopped beside the two sisters.

The car door opened and someone reached out from inside, grabbing Nova who was typing on her phone and dragging her into the car.

At the same time, someone in the car sneered, "If you want this idiot back, let Selena trade something from the Capital University lab!" "If I don't see the goods by tomorrow morning, you can prepare to collect her body!" With that, the car door closed and the car drove away, leaving Candy with no time to react, only able to watch her sister disappear before her eyes. All that remained was the phone that had fallen to the ground, and the unsent text message on the screen.

After coming to her senses, Candy's face suddenly turned pale, and she let out a sharp cry, "Nova--" After Selena attended the award ceremony and walked out of the venue with Hattie, Leia approached her with her head down and said something in Selena's ear.

Selena's eyes suddenly turned cold as she said to Leia, "Take Hattie back to rest." Hattie's wounds had not yet healed and she needed to go back to the hospital.

After Selena spoke, she got into the car with a flick of her skirt.

Leia looked at Selena's expression and knew that something had happened, but she didn't ask anything and obediently followed Leia back to the hospital.

Luke probably had already received the news and didn't ask anything, taking Selena back to the villa.

As soon as Selena walked through the gate, Candy grabbed her hand.

Candy's face was full of tears, looking disheveled and almost crying, "Selena, please save Nova... She's the dumbest and most foolish, she's afraid of the dark, afraid of pain, afraid of everything, she'll be scared, she'll cry... Those people will hit her, abuse her, hurt her... Please save Nova..." Selena looked into Candy's tearful eyes, remembering another pair of innocent and naive eyes, and her expression momentarily became confused.

Was this the feeling between twins? Even if they couldn't see each other, when one was hurt, the other would suffer even more...

This was a feeling that no one else in the world could understand.

In many twins, if one dies, the other often doesn't live for much longer...

Luke stepped forward to support Candy, to prevent her from hurting Selena in her excitement. "Don't worry, Candy, we will definitely bring Nova back safely." Candy was so soft that she couldn't even stand, she was just girl who had just turned twenty and hadn't experienced any hardship or harm. When she came to find Selena just now, she had already used up all her courage and strength.

Hearing Luke's words, she wailed and cried.

Selena looked at Candy's collapsing and terrified state, her voice gentle yet firm, "I will bring your sister back safely." Candy looked up, staring at the elegant and beautiful face in front of her, and in the next second, broke down in tears again.

Selena instructed the maid to take care of Candy and walked towards the living room. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Osvaldo was standing in the room, his features deep and beautiful, his black coat fit his waist, making him look tall and slender like a bamboo in the night. The air was filled with his alluring and enchanting cold fragrance.

As Selena walked in, he took her hand and helped her take off her beautiful evening gown and high heels...

Chapter 1491 One Person

Chapter 1491 One Person He took her hand and helped her remove the beautiful evening gown and delicate crystal shoes, replacing them with a white shirt and black pants, covered by a black windbreaker.

Selena walked out with her hair down and coldly ordered Leia, who was standing outside the door, "Have someone bring Cameron from the prison." "Contact Cassius and have him tell Penelope that if anything happens to Nova, I will dismantle Cameron!" Leia looked at the haughty and fierce expression on Selena's face and knew she was truly angry. Her heart grew cold.

So far, there had been no contact from the kidnappers of Nova, but Selena was already convinced that Penelope was responsible.

Leia thought of Penelope's malicious personality, which was as evil as Kiera's. She immediately said, "Yes, Madam Selena!" and turned to handle the matter.

Selena hesitated for a moment, then turned to Osvaldo beside her and said, "Hubby." Osvaldo seemed to know what she was going to say and hugged Selena into his arms, kissing her brow and eyes. "Yes?" "I want you to personally go to the Anderson's and invite Grandfather over." She had promised Antonio that if Penelope stopped causing trouble, she would spare her life. But obviously, Penelope didn't cherish this hard-earned opportunity.

Or perhaps Penelope had learned of Selena's identity and was relying on their blood relationship with the Anderson family to act with such impunity.

A cold smile played at the corner of Selena's lips.

What punishment could be more punishing than making Penelope watch helplessly as the thing she relied on was cruelly treated and callously abandoned? Selena was truly a kind-hearted person, but no one could make her back down once her bottom line was touched.

Osvaldo rubbed her hair and a hint of tenderness flashed in his eyes. "Wait for me to come back, and don't act recklessly." Selena obediently agreed.

The couple walked out of the villa gate together, and Osvaldo personally escorted Selena into the car. After watching Selena disappear from sight, his demeanor suddenly turned cold, and he made a gesture with his hand.

In the darkness, several ghostly figures followed him silently.

It wasn't until Selena's car had completely disappeared from sight that Osvaldo turned around and got into another car alone.

In the night, there was silence within the campus of the Capital University.

Vigilant and sharp figures held guns outside the gate, guarding the laboratory behind them. With such tight defense, even a fly would have a hard time getting in.

Suddenly, the sound of a car sliding on the road was heard in the quiet night, and orange lights shone through the darkness from the front. The person patrolling in front of the gate immediately raised the gun in alertness and shouted, "Who goes there?!" More than a dozen sports cars stopped in front of them, and a slender figure stepped out of the leading car, exuding a noble aura.

When the people holding guns saw the figure clearly, they immediately put away their weapons and saluted, "Miss Turner!" Selena nodded.

The gate opened, and Selena, escorted by a group of people, walked in slowly. Patrick received news of Selena's arrival and welcomed her with his people. "Why did you come at night?" He glanced around Selena and did not see Osvaldo's figure. His brow furrowed. "Where is he?" At this critical moment, Selena's safety was of utmost importance, but Osvaldo let the young girl go out alone at night.

Selena replied as she walked towards the laboratory, "There's something going on. Osvaldo went back to the Anderson family." From Selena's tone, Patrick knew that something unexpected must have happened, but he did not ask further. He just accompanied Selena into the basement.

However, the basement was surprisingly quiet at the moment. search the \(website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

In the hall, Selena saw Black Crow, White Crow, and Joanna gathered together. Except for Hamish, who stood on the side, looking excited, the other three had serious expressions. Hearing footsteps, the four turned their heads to look.

Black Crow and White Crow's first reaction upon seeing Selena was to observe her expression. Selena's expression was neither good nor bad, but overall it was calm. She sat down on the sofa and asked, "What's going on?" Black Crow and White Crow turned to look at the thing on the table together.

In fact, when Selena came in, she noticed the things on the table at first glance.

It was a transparent reagent.

The pale blue crystal clear liquid inside was very eye-catching.

Patrick's eyes revealed a hint of excitement. "This is a success?!" Joanna held a cigarette in her mouth but did not light it. "It's a success." Before anyone else could get excited, Joanna added, "But it didn't work." It was like a bucket of cold water poured over the heated atmosphere, bringing it down to freezing point in an instant.

Selena looked at Black Crow and White Crow, raising an eyebrow. "What's going on?" "If it didn't work, we'll just have to keep researching," she thought.

But judging from the performance of these three, the medicine had already been successful. However, Joanna had just said that it didn't work. That left only one possibility: the problem was elsewhere.

"Something was missing," White Crow explained to Selena. "We just proved this hypothesis ourselves. The rumor was that the origin of the underground virus was due to someone pouring a batch of specially cultivated leeches into the water, causing the entire city to be exposed, and many people died. But from subsequent research, we may have all been mistaken about one thing: the origin of the virus may not be the water source, but a person." "You mean..." Selena's eyes widened.

"We need to find this person and extract the original source of the virus from his body, integrate it into a vaccine, and cure everyone completely," White Crow said, looking into her eyes. And undoubtedly, this person must belong to the underground city.

"What if that person is dead?" Selena's heart sank. So many people died in the underground city. If the person who was originally infected with the virus had died, wouldn't all their efforts be in vain? White Crow shook his head and gave Selena a calming pill. "That person is probably still alive. The success of the Turner family back then is the best proof. I even suspect that he didn't leave there directly back then just to keep that person alive." Looking at Selena's eyes, White Crow smiled slightly. "As long as we find him, we can save everyone." Selena's eyes lit up slightly.

As long as there was a glimmer of hope, she would tear apart anything that stood in her way.

"So," Selena looked at the test tube, "it's not enough just to get this thing, is it?" According to Callum's caution, if he chose to stay in the underground city, he would definitely not let that person die.

Chapter 1492 Guessing

Chapter 1492 Guessing And what she had to do was take this thing and go to the underground city to find that person and save him! White Crow nodded, "That's right." He paused and looked at Selena. "Did something happen outside?" Selena was puzzled and couldn't ask such a question. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

And almost everyone present was ready to face the storm.

Selena said in a low voice, "Something happened, but it's not a big problem." After speaking, her gaze slid over the four people on the scene and finally fell on Hamish. "I want to take a sample of the reagent. Until the matter is resolved, it's best for Senior Hamish to stay at Capital University and not go out." The vaccine for the underground city virus was developed by Black Crow, White Crow, and Joanna working together. They would become the primary targets of "Divine Love," but all three were strong enough to protect themselves.

"Divine Love" would not target them unless absolutely necessary.

Except for Hamish, who although didn't know much, had been staying in the basement for these days. It's hard to guarantee that those people won't target him when they're desperate.

Hamish nodded, "I understand, Miss Selena." After Selena finished speaking, she stood up.

Leia stepped forward, picked up the reagent on the table, put it into a sealed safe, and finally picked up the box, following Selena out.

A group of people watched her slender figure and frowned.

It's clear that someone has taken action.

But from Selena's attitude, the other party should not be "Divine Love" or Cassius.

It's also unlikely that such an impatient person would appear inside "Divine Love" or beside Cassius without confirming that the vaccine is foolproof.

Who would be so stupid as to rashly come forward at this critical moment? It seems that the means used have completely provoked Selena.

Leia carefully observed Selena's expression. Before leaving, Osvaldo instructed her to watch Selena and not allow her to act alone before he returns.

Therefore, she was trembling with fear, fearing that Selena would run off "solo" again without Osvaldo.

After walking a few steps, Selena suddenly asked, "Have you found it?" Upon receiving the news that Nova had been kidnapped, Selena immediately ordered her people to investigate her whereabouts.

Despite the vastness of the capital city, Selena's team would find those responsible in no time.

Leia cautiously replied, "We don't have any leads yet." Selena stopped in her tracks, a hint of something flashing in her eyes. "Penelope alone couldn't have done this. There must be other forces involved." Even if Penelope was ruthless and cunning, she couldn't evade the people under Selena and Osvaldo's control. Leia blinked uncertainly and asked, "Could it be Cassius?" "It's highly unlikely," Selena continued to walk forward. "Even if he wanted the vaccine for the underground virus, he wouldn't use an innocent girl. And if he did take action, it wouldn't be so small-scale." After all, Cassius was Osvaldo's uncle and Benjamin's brother.

Selena still had faith in him.

It seemed that Penelope didn't inherit her father's style and tactics, but instead took after Kiera completely.

Chapter 1493 Take Responsibility For Yourself

Chapter 1493 Take Responsibility for Yourself Stupid and venomous.

Selena's eyes glittered with coldness as she got into the car. "Let me know if there's any news." As for who was working with Penelope, she would find out when she found the person.

Over a dozen black sports cars left Capital University in the middle of the night.

The black sports cars parked outside the gate.

Osvaldo got out of the driver's seat.

Lady Lauren and her entourage walked out of the gate. Her brow furrowed slightly as she saw only Osvaldo return alone, and she let out a sigh of relief in secret.

She raised her hand to straighten her son's collar and said softly, "I've prepared something for Selena. Bring it back for her later." Osvaldo looked at his mother in a cold tone, "Where's Grandpa?" Lady Lauren said, "In the study," then paused before continuing, "Your father is there too." With no emotion on his face, Osvaldo said, "It's late, go back and rest." It was almost a consensus among the Anderson family that women should not be involved in the family's internal conflicts.

Lady Lauren watched her son's retreating figure with a few worries in her beautiful eyes.

The maid beside her said, "Madam, Miss Selena didn't come back with the young master, maybe there's still a chance..." Lady Lauren shook her head. "The fact that Selena didn't come back means that there's no turning back on this matter." If Selena had been willing to accompany Osvaldo back to ask Antonio for help, it would have meant that the other party had not yet touched her bottom line.

But Selena didn't come back and left the matter to Osvaldo to deal with.

This meant that if this matter was not handled properly, not to mention Selena and Osvaldo's relationship, the engagement banquet between the Turner family and the Anderson family that was about to take place was likely to be a mess.

The maid worriedly said, "The old lady passed away early, and after the second master was expelled from the family, the old man's health deteriorated greatly. If he's subjected to more stress..." Those within the Anderson family had both regret and hatred towards Cassius, who was once the pride of the capital.

It was all because he loved the wrong person...

And this person is not someone he can stop loving just because he says so.

The Anderson family's bloodline has turned his life into a tragedy.

To the youngest son, Antonio has been sad and disappointed for so many years, not without guilt and heartache. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Cassius is already destined not to return, and if he doesn't even have any descendants in the future...

Remembering Penelope's actions, Lady Lauren coldly said, "She is just like Kiera, one hundred percent!" If Penelope had just held back a bit and not been so malicious, Antonio wouldn't have had to face this situation.

But now it's all too late.

Since Penelope escaped and helped Kiera harm Selena in the Soo family, Penelope has been dead to Osvaldo in his heart! As disaster looms, she still dares to come out and harm others openly, who else should die if not her?! Even Lady Lauren, who is broad-minded, was laughing when she received this news. How could the Anderson family's bloodline be so foolish and malicious?! Cassius probably wouldn't even want to save this foolish daughter if he heard about the stupid things Penelope did.

Lady Lauren's worry disappeared when she thought of this, and she suddenly laughed and said, "But thinking about it another way, if Selena really killed Penelope, I could make her compensate me for my grandfather's grief... does this mean I can hold a grandchild earlier?" The maid thought: Madam, your imagination is quite unique.

But thinking about it carefully, it doesn't seem possible...

Lady Lauren thought of her grandchild, and her mood improved. She snickered, "I wonder what kind of child my son and Selena will have..." Osvaldo walked into the study.

Antonio was sitting in the main seat. When he saw Osvaldo walk in with a dark cloak, his face visibly darkened.

Benjamin was sitting on the sofa with a nearly expressionless face.

Osvaldo seemed not to notice the tense atmosphere and walked up to Antonio, speaking in a flat tone that was tinged with coldness, "Grandfather, Selena needs your help." Antonio tightened his grip on his cane and remained silent. Osvaldo met the fierce and aged eyes of the old man straight on, his lips curling up in a cruel arc. Even his breath became violent as he said, "My patience has reached its limit!" If it weren't for the Anderson family, Penelope would have died in prison long ago.

She never had the chance to harm Selena! Although Osvaldo took most of the blame for the Soo family incident on himself, it didn't mean he would let Penelope off the hook.

The expression on the old man's face darkened to the extreme. "You love that girl so much, but have you ever thought about your grandfather?!" "Your second uncle... will eventually die at the hands of the Turner family. If you can't even leave behind a descendant..." Osvaldo stared at the old man coldly. "So you still want to indulge her, let her go, until more people are killed by her..." The old man gritted his teeth. "I can send her away immediately-" Osvaldo interrupted him coldly. "She must die!" The old man shouted, "Osvaldo!" Osvaldo smiled emotionlessly and his eyes were chilling. "If you insist on protecting her, that's fine, but from now on, you won't have any more grandchildren." "But unfortunately, even then, you won't be able to save her!" After speaking, Osvaldo turned and walked out without any hesitation.

Antonio watched Osvaldo's back as he left, trembling with anger.

Benjamin, who had always been transparent, glanced in the direction of Osvaldo's departure and said lightly, "Father, you went too far." Antonio suddenly seemed to age tenfold. "I just..." Benjamin's tone was extremely light. "Once or twice is acceptable, but not three times. This kid has already shown enough filial piety and brotherhood.

This is the third time Penelope has harmed Selena. The first time, she almost killed Selena. The second time, she made Selena spit out so much blood. The third time, she kidnapped an innocent person to threaten Selena. It's obvious that she wants to kill her. At this point, if they still want to force Osvaldo to let her go, do they think he's a philanthropist?! "After returning to the capital this time, how much has this kid suffered because of family ties and brotherhood by harming the daughter of the Turner family?" Benjamin's tone was very cold. "What he hates most now is others using family ties to threaten him. Father... take care of yourself." Benjamin put down the cup and turned to leave.

Antonio watched the figures of his son and grandson leaving one after the other, a deep sadness flashing in his eyes...

Chapter 1494 What Are You Thinking About?

Chapter 1494 What Are You Thinking About? After leaving the study, Osvaldo left on his own.

The servants of the Anderson family couldn't help but sigh when they saw this scene.

Although their young master had not come home frequently in the past ten years, he usually stayed at home when he was in the capital.

But in the past year, although Osvaldo had spent most of his time in the capital, he had been coming home less and less frequently. In fact, he would not come back unless he had something to do.

Even Mrs. Anderson found it difficult to see her son. Although the Anderson family was his home, Osvaldo's thoughts were almost entirely on Miss Turner.

Fortunately, Mrs. Anderson had long been accustomed to her son's "unfeeling and ungrateful" behavior, otherwise the Anderson family might have caused a "domestic violence" incident...

Osvaldo drove back to the villa.

Selena had just returned from the university not long ago and was sitting on the sofa in the living room, lost in thought.

Knowing that her mistress was in a bad mood, the servants had all retired to their rooms early. The villa was very quiet.

Osvaldo walked into the living room, stepping on the silent floor. He saw his wife lazily holding a pillow, nestled in the soft white sofa.

His eyes darkened, and he walked over to hold her in his arms, asking softly, "What are you thinking about?" Selena didn't ask about the situation of the Anderson family, but said with a smile, "I'm thinking about who is collaborating with Penelope..." She had a vague guess in her heart, but she needed to meet those people to confirm it.

If it was really what she thought...

Selena narrowed her eyes slightly.

Osvaldo's long fingers gently brushed a few strands of hair away from her cheek and behind her ear, and he said softly, "Those people are targeting me." Selena blinked, not looking too surprised.

What Osvaldo said was exactly the same as her guess.

When she was in Creephia before, Selena had asked Margot to investigate. Many people were secretly targeting Osvaldo.

He had even been injured because of it.

"Sacred Pearl" had fallen into her hands because the other party wanted to kill Osvaldo.

And this kidnapping was too sudden. The people who really wanted the underground city vaccine would not choose to act at this time.

So their goal was not the vaccine, it was people.

There were many people in the capital who wanted to kill her, but with the presence of the Turner family and the Zone Six town, no one dared to act rashly. As for the federal side, if her identity were exposed, the commotion caused would be no less than that of the underground city virus vaccine.

Therefore, it is most likely that those people's target is Osvaldo.

A hint of coldness flashed in Selena's eyes as she looked at Osvaldo with raised eyebrows. "They want to kill you, Penelope wants to kill me, it's a perfect match..." Maybe Penelope's target is not just her, but also Osvaldo.

Osvaldo is the only young master of the Anderson family. Once he is gone, she will be the only bloodline of the Anderson family.

The entire Anderson family belongs to her.

With such a great temptation, how could she not be tempted? It has to be said that Penelope is really too similar to Kiera, the only difference is that Penelope is much more foolish than her mother.

Selena didn't ask why those people wanted to kill Osvaldo, most likely it had something to do with her.

Selena had noticed some abnormalities, but out of trust, she didn't ask.

Everyone has their own secrets.

She herself has many secrets hidden from Osvaldo.

When Osvaldo wants to tell her his secrets, she will naturally know.

Feeling the girl's protection and thoughtfulness, Osvaldo bent his thin lips and patted Selena's back gently. "Sleep, I'll tell you if there's any news." Selena snuggled in the man's arms and obediently closed her eyes.

Meanwhile, in an abandoned factory, Penelope's face turned pale as she put down her phone.

The people under Cassius just contacted her and coolly relayed Selena's words before hanging up.

Although no words of blame were spoken, Penelope could feel the contempt and ridicule in the other's tone.

Penelope thought of the attitudes of Cassius' people towards her, and she trembled with anger.

She was Cassius' biological daughter and the only young lady of the Anderson family, but why was she abandoned in an orphanage since childhood? Cassius had no love for her as a father, treating her as a subordinate, a tool, but not as a daughter. Although she was the bloodline of the Anderson family, no one from the Anderson family recognized her, leaving her to grow up in the Riddle family.

Although she was born to be more noble than Hattie, Winnie, and Selena, Penelope has suffered from their disdain since she was a child-- every time she thinks of this, she grits her teeth with hatred.

She hates Cassius, the Anderson family, and Selena even more! If Selena and Osvaldo could both die, that would be great! When Penelope had this thought, she suddenly turned her head and looked in a certain direction.

The abandoned iron factory was dimly lit, and the air was filled with a cold breath.

A dozen or so people were scattered around, sitting or standing, of different ages and genders. The only thing they had in common was the cruelty and fierceness in their eyes.

Although Penelope had been trained by Cassius since childhood and was skilled, she had been pampered for more than ten years in the Riddle family, so she had not experienced much hardship and was a spoiled rich girl.

As soon as she saw these people, she knew they were professional killers.

Their target was Osvaldo...

When Penelope thought of this, a smile couldn't help but appear on her face.

As long as Osvaldo died, she would be the only bloodline of the Anderson family, and she would be the most noble person in the entire capital.

Penelope sneered and walked to the corner, where she saw Nova, who was tied up and thrown on the ground. She looked into the girl's eyes, which were shining with tears and fear, and thought of Selena's threat.

She felt a hint of malice in her heart.

The Cooke sisters had never liked her before. Especially Nova, who gave her the nickname "viper". Penelope had to restrain her temper before, but she secretly resented her.

But now- Selena wants to protect this woman, right? She could spare Selena's life, but what's wrong with torturing her? Most importantly, if she destroyed Nova, it would make Selena feel guilty and uncomfortable! Penelope suddenly turned her head and looked at the people around her with a smile, "It's a dark and windy night. Don't you all feel cold? There's a beauty to warm up the bed. It would be much better if you could have her..." In the empty abandoned field, the group of people turned to look at her when they heard this. Chapter 1495 Go Back

Chapter 1495 Go Back Aman with slightly bent posture walked out of the crowd with a cold and sticky gaze. "You're right, it's still a long time until dawn, it's good to have some fun..." The group of people glanced casually and then shifted their gaze away.

Nova looked at the nightmare face with terror in her widened eyes, tears streaming down her cheeks as she cried out loud.

Penelope watched Nova crying in fear with a malicious and delighted expression in her eyes. search the (website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

As the man's hand was about to touch Nova, something suddenly appeared from the dark corner and knocked on his hand.

A smiling voice followed.

"Go back." The plain voice, tone, and smile made everyone present turn pale in an instant.

Penelope also looked over and met the man's gaze. Her back shuddered as she suddenly moved her eyes away with a buzzing sound in her head.

Penelope was shocked. What was happening? She had carefully scrutinized each person in the group of more than ten people, but she had no impression of this man.

Penelope suppressed her frantic heartbeat and turned her head to look again.

She saw a man in a black cloak lying lazily on the ground. His face was so plain that it was easy to forget. He held something wrapped in a black cloth and stopped the man's hand.

Although the knock had no force, it twisted the man's face with evil thoughts.

The man held his trembling hand and stared at the other person with a snake-like gaze. "Elijah!" The man named Elijah smiled with a curved brow. "Yes?" The man met Elijah's overly soft eyes, and his eyes leaked with deadly venom. Although his body was tense, he did not dare to move.

The atmosphere became tense in an instant.

Penelope's forehead broke out in a cold sweat.

Finally, a female spectator broke the stiff atmosphere. "Enough! Kidnapping innocent people has already broken the rules. If the hostage has any accidents, Enforcement Court will pursue it. Tonight, everyone here will be monitored!" After speaking, she looked at the man holding his hand. "Albie, don't forget, who is our target! If you mess things up because of your lust, the boss will not spare you!" The man's gaze changed and he walked back sullenly.

The woman glanced at Penelope with disgust. "If you dare to cause trouble again, I'll kill you!" Penelope was frightened and shivered. The resentment in her eyes grew deeper.

Aren't the members of the assassin organization all ruthless and unscrupulous scum? Although these people were indeed indifferent, they always seemed to be wary of something when they acted...

In the midst of Penelope's seething anger, Elijah walked up to Nova and tore off the duct tape covering her mouth. He looked into the girl's bright eyes and asked, "I heard you have a good relationship with his wife?" Nova trembled in fear as she looked at the young man in front of her.

Although he had just saved her, there was not a hint of human emotion or warmth in his sinister eyes. He looked at people the same way one would look at ants on the ground.

"I... I don't know," Nova couldn't hold back her tears.

Elijah stared at the girl's eyes for a moment, then clicked his tongue after confirming that she was not lying. He casually slung the item wrapped in cloth on his shoulder and turned to look at the night sky outside the door.

Although he was laughing, there was a hint of beastly madness and cruelty in his eyes. "What a lively place..." At four o'clock in the morning, Selena suddenly opened her eyes in the villa.

She drowsily approached the man and rubbed her cheek against his face. "Did you find them?" she asked lazily.

Osvaldo had originally intended to let the girl sleep while he went to check, but he didn't expect Selena to wake up on her own.

Selena completely woke up and sat up from Osvaldo's arms. She let the man help her put on clothes and asked, "Where are they?" "In an abandoned yard in the southern part of the city." Selena smiled emotionlessly. "Any movements from Cassius?" "No." Selena didn't ask further. It took her five minutes to freshen up, and by the time she walked out of the door, there was no trace of laziness on her face.

Osvaldo took her to a car.

In the dawn light, the black sports car left the villa like a bolt of lightning.

Forty minutes later, they stopped outside the entrance of the abandoned yard.

In the gray morning light, the surroundings were silent and cold, as if they were covered in frost. The abandoned yard was brightly lit.

As soon as Selena got out of the car, she sensed that there were several snipers lying in ambush on the high ground around them.

The terrain was difficult to attack and easy to defend.

No wonder they hid people here.

Almost instantly, Selena analyzed that the people here were all experienced and ruthless. From a distance, the lights pouring out of the abandoned yard were extremely eye-catching in the cold night.

Selena looked cold and arrogant, her eyes fearless as she stepped forward.

Osvaldo stood by her side, his gaze deep, holding the box that Selena had brought out of the Capital University laboratory for Leia.

The two walked side by side into the abandoned field, with one person following behind them.

As soon as they entered, a gloomy atmosphere hit them, and dozens of fully armed people stood within the hundred square meters of the abandoned field, with cold and ruthless expressions.

Nova was tied up and thrown on the ground, with tears in her eyes and a pale face.

Penelope held a gun and stood in front of her, aiming at Nova's head. When Penelope heard footsteps, she raised her head with a smug smile, but her face suddenly froze when she saw the person who followed Selena and Osvaldo in. "Cameron..." Cameron's face was pale as he looked at Penelope, who was dressed in all black and had aimed the killing weapon at her former classmate, with undisguised resentment and cruelty. He closed his eyes suddenly.

Penelope's stiffness and guilt only lasted for a moment before she regained her coldness and resentment. She sneered at Selena and said, "Selena, you are here." After Selena confirmed that Nova was only frightened and not physically harmed, she no longer paid attention to Penelope. She was more concerned about who wanted to kill Osvaldo.

Selena's cold gaze fell on the other people in the abandoned field, and as she looked at them, she dangerously narrowed her eyes, with a hint of fierceness in her eyes.

These people were all skilled, well-trained with a sinister aura, definitely not ordinary mercenaries. Who was targeting Osvaldo?! While Selena was observing them, the other group was also watching Selena and Osvaldo closely.

Chapter 1496 Margot!

Chapter 1496 Margot! To be exact, Osvaldo beside Selena was being stared at with nervous tension. search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The man had a handsome face and a pair of demonic eyes that appeared gentle but his standing posture with his hands behind his back was proud and elegant, faintly revealing a terrifying nobility.

Compared to the legendary figure, his aura was vastly different.

However...

Ever since it was rumored half a year ago that he was in the capital of H Country, the entire dark world had been in turmoil, with assassinations pouring in like locusts.

In such a situation, the fact that this man was able to survive unscathed until today proved that he was not a simple character.

What was even more infuriating was that even though so many people had been sent to fill him, no one knew whether he was "that person" or not.

And their task this time was to kill this man! Even if they couldn't kill him, they had to confirm whether he had any relationship with "that person"! Thinking of this, the eyes of the group of people staring at Osvaldo revealed a chilling killing intent.

Many people glanced at Selena, a beautiful and delicate young girl, and ignored her directly. After all, Selena wasn't their target to begin with.

They just needed an opportunity to get close to Osvaldo, and coincidentally, Penelope could create that opportunity for them.

Their cooperation was just that.

Penelope looked at Selena viciously and said with a smile, "Selena, hand over what you have in your hand, or I'll kill this stupid girl right away." She not only wanted Selena dead but also wanted her to become a sinner in the whole of H Country, disgraced and discredited.

Selena disdainfully glanced at her and said, "You make it sound like if I gave you what I have, you wouldn't kill innocent people." Penelope was caught off guard by her words and choked, only able to change her mind. "If you hand over what you have to me, I'll let her go!" Selena coldly smiled, "Are you someone who keeps their promises?" Penelope became furious and aimed her gun at Nova, pulling the trigger.

The bullet grazed Nova's foot and Penelope's eyes were filled with resentment, "The next shot, I'll shoot her in the head!" Selena's face was cold, and suddenly she raised her hand and fired a shot at Cameron's shoulder. "You can go ahead and do it, strictly speaking, I am only acquainted with her, and her life is not as important as what I have in my hand." "Consider this a favor for Penelope, who likes the man you are after." Cameron grunted, his body wavering and falling to the ground.

Penelope looked at Cameron's bleeding shoulder, her face turning pale. "Selena!!" Selena sneered, "Do you think I was joking when I asked Cassius to pass on a message to you?" Penelope's face twisted in anger.

Despite her own madness, she still had some genuine feelings towards Cameron, who had cared for her for over a decade.

She grabbed Nova and scolded her fiercely, "See this? This is the idol you worship, a hypocritical and vicious woman!" Nova was gagged and tears streamed down her face.

Selena's ruthlessness made Penelope furious.

She had thought that by holding Nova captive, she could control Selena and make her obey. But she didn't expect that Selena didn't care about Nova's life at all! She could even hurt Cameron without hesitation! If Selena and Osvaldo were allowed to leave alive and she didn't get what Cassius needed, would Penelope have any way out in the capital? Penelope's eyes were cold and sinister. "Selena!" Selena stood there coldly, completely unaffected by Penelope's threats. Their conflict had dragged on for too long, and the onlookers were losing patience. This was the man's territory, and the longer they waited, the more disadvantageous it would be for them.

A woman looked at Selena and said coldly, "I promise you, as long as you hand over what we want, she will be able to leave here unharmed." Penelope was stupid and couldn't see through Selena's thoughts. These old hands who had been on the road for a long time, how could they not see through it? If Selena really didn't care about that girl, she wouldn't have appeared here in the first place, given her identity.

However, Penelope was too wicked and not only wanted to get what she wanted but also wanted to kill the hostage, trying to have her cake and eat it too. This made negotiating with her not worthwhile.

Selena's gaze fell on the woman's face and she smiled. "You've come all this way to kill my husband, surely there must be a reason." The woman hugged her arms and said coldly, "This is between us and your man. Don't ask what you shouldn't ask." "We don't shed the blood of innocent people. Once you've achieved your goal, take that girl and leave immediately." Apart from Penelope's unwillingness, no one opposed this decision.

The underworld and the government had always kept their distance, and with Selena's sensitive identity, the eldest daughter of the H Country's top military and political family, a descendant of loyalty and martyrdom, and a super genius of Lab 717, if anything were to happen to her, these forces would chase them to the ends of the earth.

It's not worth it to cause such a mess just to test someone's identity.

Osvaldo, who had been silent all this while, suddenly lowered his head and kissed Selena on the forehead. "Wait for me at home." Selena looked up at Osvaldo, seemingly considering something. After a moment, she nodded obediently. "Okay." She took the box from Osvaldo's hands and casually threw it on the ground. "Give Nova to me." Penelope's eyes lit up with excitement when she saw the box.

Although the people she was working with didn't know what was inside, she did.

It was what Cassius and his mysterious organization had been trying to get their hands on.

Once she got it, she would have made a great contribution.

Even if something unexpected happened on Osvaldo's side, Cassius wouldn't dare to ignore her.

Penelope smiled with joy as she picked up Nova and handed her to Selena, then bent down to pick up the box.

Selena caught Nova and watched as Penelope's hand reached for the box. However, another hand reached out and snatched the box away.

At the same time, Osvaldo suddenly rose up and shielded the two young girls behind him. His hand flashed with cold light as he caught the long knife that had been abruptly swung at him from behind by Penelope.

The clash of the blades sounded painfully loud to the ears.

Everyone was shocked as they watched the two figures in the center of the scene fighting like ghosts.

As soon as they realized what was happening, everyone raised their guns and aimed at Osvaldo without hesitation, pulling the trigger simultaneously.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Dozens of people fired their guns at the place where Osvaldo was.

At the same time, Selena used all her strength to push Nova out of harm's way and shouted, "Margot!"

Chapter 1497 Those Who Bully Selena...

Chapter 1497 Those who bully Selena...

Selena pushed aside Nova and turned her head to see Osvaldo surrounded by countless killers, causing her heart to panic.

With such dense firepower, unless one has the extraordinary skills of Margot, it is impossible for an ordinary person to avoid it.

Selena was so flustered that she forgot Osvaldo's warning and rushed into the battle.

Penelope saw the vaccine slip away from her grasp and her face suddenly turned cold. She looked up and saw that Osvaldo was being held back by a strange man named Elijah. And Selena, ignoring the danger, broke the agreement on her own initiative.

Even if she died like this, it was her own fault! Penelope's eyes flashed with joy, and she pulled out a gun from her body. The black muzzle was aimed at Selena's heart without hesitation, and she pulled the trigger.

Selena, with her back to Penelope, sensed the danger and hesitated for a moment.

At the same time, Osvaldo, who was fighting with Elijah, sensed Selena's danger and suddenly changed his breath.

The black-haired man in black raised his head from the shadows and saw Selena running towards him. His eyes were even deeper than the darkest night.

His whole person seemed to merge with the darkness in an instant. The overwhelming aura overflowed from him, as if he was the biggest disaster in the world, the source of all evil thoughts.

Suddenly, there was a terrifying and low breath in the air.

The killers who were collectively attacking Osvaldo suddenly trembled in their hearts, showing horror. This was-- They opened their mouths wide, wanting to scream, but their throats seemed to be stuffed with cotton, and they couldn't make any sound out of fear.

In the next breath, the man's figure suddenly disappeared from the original place.

The group of killers didn't even have time to see his movements clearly, and fell down with blood gushing out of their throats.

The killers in the abandoned yard were instantly knocked down.

And at this moment, the ghostly figure had returned to Selena's side. He hugged Selena's waist with one hand, avoiding the deadly bullets, while the other hand with a blood-stained blade confronted another breath approaching Selena.

The blades collided.

But strangely, there was no sound.

The terrifying aura was as sharp as a knife to the throat.

All living creatures around seemed to fall into an endless panic and chaos, sinking into a dead silence.

Selena looked at the man in front of her with surprise, raising her hand from behind to embrace him and whispered, "He's one of us, don't lay a hand on him." Osvaldo's dark eyes were so intense that they seemed to overflow with darkness. Blood dripped from his knife and pooled on the ground.

Upon hearing Selena's words, Osvaldo lowered his eyes and grabbed her hand around his waist, lowering the bloodied tip of his knife and turning to embrace her.

It wasn't until this moment that the people still alive in the abandoned yard could clearly see the person Osvaldo had been fighting with.

Their faces, already filled with horror, became even more unsightly.

It was a young girl who had just turned eighteen, wearing a tight-fitting pink and white dress that resembled armor, with delicate floral embroidery on her chest, knees, and hem.

She had a lollipop in her mouth, and her shoulder-length hair shook playfully on her shoulders. Her pink lips were slightly curled, as if she was always smiling.

Her fresh and charming appearance and temperament were indescribable.

At this moment, the young girl was holding a large knife, and her clear eyes were filled with a hint of sharp and coldness, staring straight at Osvaldo.

It wasn't until a light call rang out, "Margot," that the pretty eyes of the young girl instantly softened, and she happily pounced forward. "Selena, I missed you so much..." Feeling the long-awaited warm embrace, Selena smiled slightly. "I missed you too, Margot." Margot was even happier and looked at the man, Osvaldo, who had been pushed aside, and complained with a pout, "Selena, he's bad..." She was about to hug Selena, but this man suddenly rushed up and disrupted her plan to "save the heroine." She had to convince herself several times that this was Selena's boyfriend, and if she hurt him, Selena would be angry, so she refrained from fighting Osvaldo.

Selena turned to look at Osvaldo and met his gaze, sensing a mixture of patience and displeasure in his eyes. She cleared her throat and patted Margot's shoulder. "Margot, let go of me." Margot stood up straight, but didn't let go of Selena.

She happily wrapped her slender arms around Selena's neck, and approached her to carefully examine the person she hadn't seen in almost a year.

Her eyes lit up, "Selena, you've gained weight, and you look even more beautiful..." Selena chuckled.

Compared to the girl who spent most of her time in bed with a pale face and deep eyes in the past, her transformation was indeed significant.

Selena patted Margot on the shoulder and turned to the person opposite, who was full of fear and alertness. Her gaze focused on the man who had suddenly emerged and attacked Osvaldo. "Who are they?" Margot looked over, and her big eyes immediately became more curved. "Elijah, long time no see." Elijah stared at Margot, then at Osvaldo who was standing next to Selena with a gloomy expression, and his lips twitched heavily.

He looked at Margot and raised the knife in his hand. The cold tip of the knife was aimed at the girl's excited eyes. "Why are you here?" Margot finally let go of her long-lost girlfriend and played with the knife in her hand casually. She walked towards Elijah with her red lips curved and her footsteps light. "Elijah, you're not being good. Haven't you been told that anyone who bullies Selena will die?" In the abandoned yard, the remaining assassins looked at the girl who walked towards them in a relaxed posture and felt a chill down their spines.

Although the other party looked like a girl who had not yet reached the age of twenty, her clean and immaculate eyes were chilling.

Even the most pure and beautiful person in the world could not possess such eyes. It was like a devil who had lost all emotions and only knew how to kill.

And her attitude towards Elijah made them even more desperate. Elijah was ranked second on the international assassin rankings, and he was their biggest trump card on this mission. But the way this girl looked at him was like teasing an interesting little mouse.

Looking at the girl's appearance, her small body, her girlish voice, her love of laughter, and her fondness for sweets...

In an instant, all the assassins on the scene were ashen-faced. One person who had already made them despair, and now another...

They looked at the three people opposite them.

Osvaldo was gently helping Selena fix her hair, not worried at all about their counterattack or escape. This powerful confidence came from the moment when his identity was thoroughly confirmed.

Chapter 1498 Destroy It If You Have To

Chapter 1498 Destroy it if you have to From the moment they confirmed his relationship with that person, everyone knew that they would never have a chance to leave here alive again.

And now, there was another person added to the mix.

The assassins still alive in the abandoned yard stared at Selena with an incredulous look in their eyes.

The two giants of the Dark Empire's domains were both protecting this girl... who was she? Despite the countless doubts in their hearts, they had no more chances to ponder on those things as Margot's footsteps drew closer.

The gazes of everyone became fierce.

"Aren't we all going to die anyway? As long as we can get the message out before we die, our mission will be considered accomplished!" a woman said harshly.

The surviving people exchanged glances and instantly turned their cold eyes on Osvaldo.

"Elijah, she's been entrusted to you!" It was worth it to witness the life-and-death struggle between the first and second international killers with their own eyes, even if they had to come this far.

Elijah stared at Margot, who was getting closer and closer, his smile growing bigger and bigger, and his sword descending.

Until it landed on Margot's forehead.

The cold light reflected in the girl's clean eyes, frosty and cold.

Just when everyone thought Elijah was going to make a move on Margot, he suddenly turned around and ran towards the door without looking back! Are you kidding? Facing the two of them alone was a long-awaited, exhilarating life-and-death struggle, but facing two of them at once was suicidal! He liked killing, fighting, and seeking excitement, but that didn't mean he was stupid.

The sudden turn of events shocked everyone.

Even Margot didn't expect her opponent to abandon her at this moment, blinking her eyes.

If it were any other time, Margot would have chased after him.

But Selena was here.

Margot had finally found her best friend and couldn't bear to leave her, so she turned her head and stared dangerously at the people still in the abandoned yard.

Elijah's sudden retreat was a further blow to the assassins, already in despair and fear from Margot's pure and terrifying gaze.

"Let's fight them!" they roared, stirred up with ferocity and brutality.

Margot gave a bell-like laugh and went forward with a knife in her hand.

Selena heard some noise behind her and subconsciously wanted to turn back to look, but Osvaldo held her head down.

He looked into her eyes and said, "Don't look." In the place where he was, he would never allow anything bloody, dirty or disturbing to disturb her. Selena felt the man's thoughtfulness and smiled. She turned her gaze and saw Penelope next to her.

When Penelope saw the murderous intent on Osvaldo, she was so scared that she collapsed on the ground. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Due to Margot's appearance, Selena had not paid attention to her. Penelope wanted to take advantage of the situation to escape, but she encountered a deadly attack as soon as she walked out the door.

Obviously, Selena had already controlled the situation outside.

If it weren't for Cassius training her skills well, she would have died just now.

Penelope had no choice but to snatch the box with the vaccine from Cameron.

Now she was holding the black box in a disheveled manner and staring angrily at Selena. "Let me go now, or I'll destroy it immediately!" Selena smiled brightly, looking relaxed and unrestrained. "It's up to you." Penelope turned pale suddenly.

She stared at Selena with terror and despair on her face, and even had no courage to look at Osvaldo standing next to her.

She actually tried to Kill this terrible man by herself and seize everything of the Anderson family...

Penelope realized her delusion without others having to say it.

She gritted her teeth, trembling all over, and looked at Osvaldo.

The only young master of the Anderson family, the young master who everyone in the capital feared, and whose name was spoken with awe and envy by everyone.

Although Penelope grew up in the Riddle family since she was a child, her status as an adopted daughter destined her to be inferior to others.

Osvaldo was too noble and powerful compared to her.

They were never on the same level...

Even every time she saw someone from the Anderson family, she had to bow and fawn to please them! But why?! She was also the blood of the Anderson family, and she was the only princess of the Anderson family. If she grew up in the Anderson family since she was a child, whatever Osvaldo had, she would have too! Extreme indignation and anger broke through her fear, and Penelope stared at Selena and Osvaldo with a ferocious expression.

"Selena, I will make you regret it!" Penelope picked up the box and smashed it heavily on the ground, but she didn't succeed.

A figure suddenly rushed over and stopped her.

The black box smashed heavily on Cameron, who was already injured and became even paler.

His lips were bleeding, he looked up and stared at Penelope, "Penelope, do you know what's inside the box?!" Penelope was furious and shouted, "What does it have to do with me whether those people live or die?! Get out of my way! If you dare to stop me again, I'll kill you too!" Cameron was full of sorrow in his eyes.

He finally had to admit a fact.

Penelope was not misled or threatened by anyone, she was just such a selfish and vicious person.

Like her mother, she had a deformed and vicious heart.

The lives of others were as cheap as dust in her eyes.

Even those who had been good to her for more than a decade would be discarded without hesitation if they didn't go along with her.

Cameron was tired.

He looked at the familiar face in front of him, and the last glimmer of light in his eyes was shattered.

He looked at Penelope without any warmth in his eyes and said, "Penelope, this is the end between us." Penelope looked at Cameron's cold and desolate eyes and felt a sudden panic in her heart.

It was like something important was about to leave her.

But in an instant, she laughed again.

After all, Cameron was in jail because he had helped her escape, what else could he do for her? Was there any need to care about a useless person? She was the only heiress of the Anderson family, and she didn't care about the concern of a fallen young master! Thinking of this, Penelope ignored Cameron and looked at Selena with a resentful expression, "Selena, it's your stupid selfishness that has harmed so many people in the underground city! If you want to blame someone, blame yourself!" After speaking, she smashed the box in her hand heavily on the wall.

Penelope thought she would see Selena's sad and regretful expression, but she didn't expect Selena to look extremely calm, not even blinking her eyes.

Selena looked at her as if she was watching a clown, "I can have as many of these things as I want, and I can destroy them all." "As long as it doesn't fall into Cassius' hands, it poses no threat to me." Penelope's face suddenly stiffened.

Chapter 1499 I Am The Daughter Of The Anderson Family.

Chapter 1499 I am the daughter of the Anderson family.

Penelope's face suddenly stiffened at the mention of the Anderson family. The disdain in Selena's eyes made her grit her teeth in hatred.

After realizing that she couldn't threaten or harm Selena and Osvaldo, Penelope's face softened, and she raised her chin, showing a confident expression. "Selena, even if I kidnap this idiot, threaten you, or want to kill you, what can you do to me?" Her gaze slid from Osvaldo to Selena again, and she looked smug as she asked, "Do you know who I am? Do you dare to lay a hand on me?" Selena looked at Penelope's malicious expression and couldn't help but think that Kiera's cruel genes were too strong. But even if that was the case, Selena had no intention of letting Penelope go. Regardless of whether she was Osvaldo's cousin or her own cousin, she wouldn't hesitate to deal with someone with such a vicious heart.

She raised her eyebrows and asked, "Is that so?" Penelope said with a smile maliciously, "If you still want to enter the Anderson family's door, you must let me go. If you dare to touch me, the Anderson family will never let you go!" Penelope thought that Selena would be shocked or puzzled by her words. But Selena remained calm, and there was no hint of emotion in her eyes. She simply looked up at Osvaldo and asked, "Are we there yet?" Osvaldo lightly responded, "Yes". Selena hadn't slept well last night, and if it weren't for Antonio, Osvaldo would have dealt with Penelope and taken Selena back to rest.

Penelope couldn't see the reaction she wanted from Selena's face, and she felt even more hateful. However, she put on a more radiant and malicious smile and said, "Selena, I am the daughter of the Anderson family. If you dare to touch me, Antonio will never let you go!" The bloodline of the Anderson family was thin, and there was only Osvaldo in this generation.

The daughters of the Anderson family were especially precious, with no one born in several generations.

Penelope was confident that with this relationship, no matter what she did to Selena, Selena wouldn't be able to do anything to her.

This was her greatest reliance and source of pride.

Penelope spoke with a sense of pride, but she didn't see any shock or anger on Selena's face, let alone anyone else, including Osvaldo, who didn't even look at her.

Penelope's smug smile couldn't be sustained and she angrily shouted, "Selena, I am the daughter of the Anderson family, can't you hear me?!" Selena casually glanced at her and said, "The Anderson family doesn't have a daughter, that's well known." Penelope's face twitched heavily and her voice became sharp, "I am Cassius' daughter, the only princess of the Anderson family!" Selena's expression became even more indifferent, "Has anyone from the Anderson family acknowledged you as a princess?" Penelope was struck in the heart and her smile disappeared completely.

Has anyone acknowledged her as a princess of the Anderson family? No! Neither Antonio, nor Osvaldo's family, nor even Cassius, who had been expelled from the family, had acknowledged her! Compared to Osvaldo, she was nothing! This was the part that Penelope hated and was most unwilling to accept. She gritted her teeth and said, "Nevertheless, it doesn't change the fact that I am the bloodline of the Anderson family!"

Chapter 1500 The Anderson Family Has No Daughter.

Chapter 1500 The Anderson family has no daughter.

"Is that so?" Selena looked deeply at Penelope, then looked up at the door and said, "Grandpa, come in." As soon as Selena finished speaking, the door to the abandoned lot was instantly pushed open from the outside.

Candy was the first to rush in and ran to Nova, hugging her tearful sister and crying, "Nova, it's okay, it's okay..." Nova had been holding back her tears, but when she was in her sister's arms, she could no longer contain her fear and burst into tears.

Candy held her sister tightly, crying with her. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Then, with a group of people accompanying him, Antonio walked in, with a terrifyingly dark expression.

When Penelope saw Antonio, she was first panicked, then overjoyed.

Selena had made it clear that she wouldn't let Penelope go, but with Antonio's arrival, it was good news for her.

Penelope softened her voice and cried out, "Grandpa, Selena wants to kill me, please save me..." Antonio stared at Penelope with a dark look.

He thought she only wanted to deal with Selena out of jealousy and resentment, but he never expected her to conspire with these people to actually try to kill Osvaldo.

Even though Antonio was still grieving and guilty over Cassius, after hearing about Penelope's malicious intentions, it all disappeared like foam.

He finally had to admit that perhaps he was wrong.

As long as she was alive, driven by ambition and jealousy, she would never feel wrong or give up trying to harm Osvaldo and Selena.

"She wants to kill you because you did something wrong and deserve it. What can I do for you?" Antonio said coldly and ruthlessly.

Penelope had thought that Antonio had come to protect her, but she never expected to hear such a cruel and heartless remark.

Her eyes widened in disbelief, and tears welled up in her eyes as she trembled and shouted, "Grandpa..." Antonio looked up and his gaze fell on Nova, who was crying in her sister's arms, about the same age as Penelope. Because of Penelope's wickedness, the poor girl had suffered an unwarranted disaster.

Was Penelope's life worth more than anyone else's? Deep sadness flashed in Antonio's eyes. "You are not a daughter of the Anderson family..." Penelope's whole body went cold, and she froze.

Antonio's gaze returned to Penelope's face, and he spoke coldly, "The blood of the Anderson family is proud, strong, and loyal.

We may be ruthless and cruel, but we never stoop to despicable and malicious acts, nor do we harm the innocent. What part of you resembles anyone from the Anderson family?" Penelope's face turned pale, and she suddenly softened, "No... no, grandpa, I..." Antonio stared deeply at Penelope, trying to find a trace of Cassius in her, but in the end, he was disappointed.

Penelope had neither the arrogance of Cassius nor the loyalty of the Anderson family.

After more than a decade of being open and sincere with Cameron, she used him and then abandoned him without hesitation.

This girl took after her mother, with a naturally selfish and vicious heart! This thought pierced his heart, and Antonio's eyes showed disgust as he looked at Penelope.

He felt as much heartache and guilt for Cassius as he felt disgust for Kiera! If it weren't for that wicked woman, Cassius wouldn't have gone down a path of no return! Penelope not only looked like Kiera, but her character and morals were also identical.

Antonio said coldly, "Don't call me grandpa. In this generation of the Anderson family, Osvaldo is the only son, has no daughters!" Penelope felt like she had been thrown into hell and was suddenly chilled from head to toe.

She was full of fear and crawled toward Antonio, crying, "Grandpa, I know I was wrong. I won't dare again in the future. Please save me..." Kiera had never cared for her, and Cassius only treated her as a tool. Penelope knew that if Antonio didn't help her, no one else would.

Selena wouldn't let her off the hook! But no matter how pitifully Penelope cried, with her intention to kill Osvaldo, Antonio couldn't show her any mercy.

Antonio pushed her hand away coldly, "Although your father didn't acknowledge you, he didn't completely neglect you either.

Without him, do you think you could have lived so carefree in the capital for so many years?" "Could you have received so much love and favor?" "Do you think that your mother, who is so malicious and heartless, would take care of you and spend effort teaching and nurturing you?!" Antonio pointed at Selena, "Do you see her? She's the one who truly hasn't received any love from her parents! Compared to her, haven't you received enough?!" Antonio became angrier as he spoke, "Your father spent so much effort protecting you and raising you, but you didn't remember his kindness at all. Instead, you developed a greedy and vicious heart, wasting all of his teachings!" Penelope was crying uncontrollably, crawling towards the Anderson patriarch and grabbing onto his pants. "Grandfather, I know I was wrong. I promise to be obedient from now on and never harm anyone again. Please save me, please..." The Anderson patriarch pushed her away without mercy.

Penelope tried to crawl towards him again, but was stopped by two men behind the patriarch. They held her down as she cried desperately, "Grandfather, I know I was wrong. Please give me another chance..." Selena tugged on Osvaldo's sleeve.

Although he was reluctant, he let go of Selena and walked up to the Anderson patriarch. "I will take you back," he said.

The Anderson patriarch glared at him and stormed out of the room. Osvaldo glanced back at Selena and ordered coldly, "Take care of Madam Selena," before leaving with the Anderson family.

After they left, Selena walked calmly up to Penelope and looked down at her. "How does it feel to fall from heaven to hell?" she asked.

Penelope glared at her with bitterness. "Selena, you did this on purpose. You wanted me to regret, you wanted me dead..." Selena elegantly adjusted her hair and did not deny Penelope's accusation. She spoke calmly, "Your fate was in your own hands." Penelope's face twisted in anger. "It was you! You hate me! You hate the Riddle family! That's why you plotted against us and destroyed all of us! You're a vicious woman!"
